Moved by Councillor DENNE, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD.—That the Street Inspector be instructed to have the railway crossings of the Cobourg railway in this town removed to more favorable accidents.—Carried.

THE TEMPERANCE DEPUTATION.

On motion of Councillor YELLAND, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD, Col. Haultain on behalf of the temperance delegation was allowed to address the Council.

COL. HAULTAIN in addressing the Council said he was one of a deputation from the promoters of the passage of the Temperance Act of 1864 in this town. He along with many others were greatly surprised to learn that the By-law was not being enforced, and that the sale of liquors was being carried on as openly as when sold under license. This was not the time to discuss the merits of the measure—there had been ample opportunity to do that during the submission of the By-law. The opponents had done everything in their power to defeat the measure, but they had suffered a defeat. The victory had been honorably and fairly won. He had hoped the opponents of the Act as lawabiding citizens would have conformed to the law, but he was sorry to say he was informed that most flagrant violations of the law were taking place, and that nothing was being done by the officers of the law to have it enforced. It was the duty of the Inland Revenue Officer to look after it; and the Constables who were employed by the people to carry out the law should see that this By-law was the same as any other property enforced. He asked the Council to see that the By-law was enforced—it was certainly the duty of the Council to do so—and the deputation of which he had been appointed speaker, came to them to-night, asking respectfully that the Council take measures to enforce the law. After a fair fight a large majority of the ratepayers by their votes have said it is in the interests of the community that the law should be carried out. It seems to be a very serious question that twelve or fourteen men should be allowed to openly break the acknowledged law of the land. Are these men to be above law? Are they to be allowed to set law at defiance? These are high interests at stake, and in view of these interests we ask that the By-law be enforced. We desire that no violence may take place. If it does I hope the offenders will be brought to justice. He concluded by reading a portion of the charge of Mr. Justice Burton of Owen Sound.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought this By-law was one which the Council should support. It was not altogether a By-law of the Council but one of the voice of the people, and it was the duty of the Council as representatives of the people to see that the law was enforced. He would therefore submit the following:

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor YELLAND.—That the Constables be and are hereby authorized to see that a By-law, known as the Dunkin By-law, passed by this town, be at once strictly enforced.

Councillor SMITH could not agree altogether with Councillor RUTHERFORD. The By-law was not the opinion of the Council, but was brought in by the Clerk by requisition, and by laws substituted to the ratepayers. Some of the leading citizens and most supporters of the By-law were now opposed to enforcing the By-law, seeing that it would not be in force in the County. He would therefore move in amendment, second, ed by Councillor CHISHOLM.—That the application of Col. Haultain and others, be referred to to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Paterson, Denne, Douglas, Rutherford and Cahill, with instruction to report, and that the same committee be authorized to commit the Town Solicitor.

Councillor HELLAR while approving somewhat of the amendment would like to have a conviction before the Police Court to test the rights of the Council to protect the By-law.

Councillor PATERSON said if stated reasons were correct, the Constables had given the liquor dealers fifteen days to sell, and in that time to file a petition against the By-law and have it quashed. He advised caution, and thought we should not act too hurriedly. He had heard a caucus had been held between the Dunkinites and Anti-Dunkinites, and that the former had agreed to allow the leasing of Hall.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the Council sisters had no right to make any such offers.

Councillor DENNE said Mr. RUTHERFORD must, like other people, have heard the rumors on the street. It was stated that a deputation of both parties had met and arranged that no action in enforcing the By-law should be taken, now that it would not be enforced in the County. Why do not these gentlemen who are so enthusiastic in the cause, be honorable enough to defend the By-law themselves?

Col. HAULTAIN said so far as he was aware of he knew of no collusion between the two parties. He did not think private parties or their private capacity should be called upon to enforce the By-law.

Councillor CAHILL thought Councillor SMITH's amendment a good one.

Col. HAULTAIN—Then it is a very good one.

Councillor CAHILL—I was going to make some remarks, but as Col. HAULTAIN has expressed his approval of the amendment I will not say anything.

Councillor RUTHERFORD—If the amendment suits the deputation, then I will withdraw my motion.

Councillor SMITH said an understanding had been arrived at between the two parties in this matter—in fact it was agreed upon that time should be given the liquor dealers to move for a rule to quash the By-law. This had been obtained, and he thought it was not fair that this agreement should be broken.

Rev. Mr. WILLOUGHBY said not intended to have said anything. He was glad that the By-law was not immediately enforced, to see if the tavern keepers would respect the law. He believed they were now abiding citizens, and if the By-law were enforced they would respect it. If any person had attempted to compromise matters they were playing truants to the temperance party, as that party were determined to enforce the law, should they have to defend it through private funds.

The original motion was withdrawn, and Councillor SMITH's amendment was declared carried.

WORK ON PARK STREET.

Councillor RUTHERFORD brought forward the resolution of which he had given notice of motion at the last meeting, in reference to proceeding with the work on Park street, as reported upon by the Inspector in his first report.

After a long, hy and disconnected discussion, in which legislating for Wards took a prominent part, the motion was carried.

WATER CART.

Moved by Councillor DENNE, seconded by Councillor MCBAIN,—That the watering cart being the property of the corporation, in which all ratepayers have an equal interest, and no tenders having been received for the use of the same as an advertising medium, be it resolved that the advertisements thereon be obliterated.—Lost.

PETITION OF CHAS. ORMOND.

Councillor DENNE moved, seconded by Councillor MCBAIN,—That the prayer of the petition of Charles Ormond and others be granted.—Lost.

CHARITY.

Mr. BEAVIS was instructed to procure a ticket to Quebec for a young Frenchman who was in a very destitute and deplorable condition.

Council adjourned for two weeks.

TRADE NOTICES.

A Sensible Nomination.—A suit of clothes at Madison & Greens.

Ladies, call and see Larmour's three N. Boots. Best and Cheapest in the market.

Madison & Green make suits to order only, keep best of workmen and sell cheap.

Boys have you seen W. J. Larmour's new style of Buckle Shoe? Call and get a pair. Form $1.00 up.

I. Robinson & Co. are showing a lot of new straw and Felt Hats—Men's, Women's and Children's—which they are offering very low. See them.

W. J. Larmour has a special line of Boys Buckle Shoes, which he is selling at a less rate than they can be purchased for at the factory. Call and get a pair.

A Mournful Reflection.—Solomon was probably a well dressed man, but those who have their garments made by Madison & Green are much more splendidly arrayed.

Going, when you want to get a neat, stylish Shoe, go to W. J. Larmour's. The finest in the market.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stanton & Son.

Housekeepers in want of Lace Curtains, Table Linnens, Oil Clothes, Napkins, Towels, Window Hollands, Sheetings, Pillow Cottons, Carpet Warps and Weaving Cottons, should see Wallace's new stock which is very complete and low in price. 12-21ins.

A Good Mission.—"What you do do it well" is a good maxim, and we are informed that Mr. Cole of the City Laundry is determined to live up to it, and for that purpose will leave for Rochester in a few days to procure improved machinery for the laundry business, as well as obtain some first-class laundresses. This action is, we believe necessitated by the constantly increasing patronage enjoyed by Mr. Cole since he has secured the management of the City Laundry. We have pleasure in stating that a first-class laundry is being sustained in this town. 19-1in.

—Cornwell Temple has leased the old Temperance Hall, corner of Simcoe and George streets and will remove thereto in a few weeks.

LINDSAY.

BURGLARIES.—Lately burglaries have become of frequent occurrence in town, but as yet the thieves have not succeeded in making much of a haul. Thursday night of last week Mr. John McLennan's hardware store was entered and goods to the value of about $75 taken. Another and more barefaced robbery took place on Monday night when Mr. Wm. White, shoemaker, Kent st., was relieved of a couple of pair of boots and two black valises. Mr. Bowen's stable near the Queen's Hotel in the East ward was entered and a set of harness taken therefrom. No clue to the thieves.—Post.

MILLBROOK.

CIRCUIT DIVISION.—At the last meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the Millbrook circuit in connection with the Methodist Church of Canada, it was decided to divide the circuit and form the four Northern appointments into a new circuit, to be known as the Cavanville circuit. In connection with the resolution it was moved by Wm. Eyres, Esq., and seconded by Anthony Garnett, Esq., and unanimously resolved,—That the Stanley Committee of the Toronto Conference at its coming sitting be requested to appoint the Rev. J. W. Witcher as the Superintendent of the newly formed circuit.

FAIR DAY.—The quarterly fair was held on Tuesday, and a very large number were in the village. The Dunkin Bill is in force here, and in consequence there were no drunk men, so he seen in the village except a couple, imported from Port Hope.—Cor.

SMITH.

DEATH DOINGS.—It is our painful duty this week to chronicle the demise of a talented, amiable and highly respected young lady, third daughter of Mr. John Kay, of the Township of Smith, at the early age of twenty three years. About noon on Friday there was a rumour that she was fast failing but no one was willing to believe the sad news. Shortly after noon, however, conjectures was silenced by the dread event had transpired, and a deep feeling of sorrow overspread the community. For some time past Miss Kay had been employed in the office of the Division Court here as a writer, but on Mrs S. Sherin's sickness took her place at the bedside of that lady—a place whereover left till the ruthless hand of unknown laid her on what proved to be her death bed, which was on the Thursday evening, a week previous to her death. She was a much loved and talented teacher in the Presbyterian Church Sunday School, and an active member of Selwyn Temple, I. O. G. T. Her life was such that her friends have a sure hope of her glorious resurrection. The funeral which took place on Monday afternoon was notwithstanding the rain, one of the largest ever seen in this section. There were over seventy-five carriages in the funeral cortege.—News.

CONCORD.

THE CANTERBURY SHOOTING CASE.—Miss Bertha Wynn, who was recently shot by John Shannon, school teacher at Meyersburg, has addressed the following communication to the Campbellford Herald:—DEAR SIR,—You have been wrongly informed about me. I never thought Shannon cared anything more for me than a pupil, nor never did I think that he paid me any more attention than he did the other girls of my age. My parents did not forbid me going to school to Shannon. On Thursday morning I started for school, and on my way I heard something that Shannon had said about me, and I turned around and came home and told my mother that I never would go another day to Shannon. At noon my mother and I were alone. I was upstairs. Shannon rapped at the door and mother opened it. He handed her my mental arithmetic and said, "This is Bertha's Mental," and then he asked if I was in. Mother said yes, and then he asked why I was not at school. My mother said from all she heard, she thought it was better to keep me at home. Then he [illegible] to say another word until he was done talking, he was telling her what was not the truth, and I contradicted him, and then he came upstairs, never speaking to me and shot me. He never spoke to me after he came upstairs. Mother followed him upstairs and screamed "murder," and then he said he would shoot her, and shoved down stairs. He followed her to the back door, and turned and went out of the front door.

BERTHA WYNN.

Very few of the Tory papers have recovered sufficiently from the shock to fully realise what happened in Quebec on Wednesday. But they'll come to gradually, poor things. Don't crowd them too much.

Mr. Plumb complained the other evening that the air of the House was very impure. There can be no doubt there are some impurities there, which we trust will be removed by the renovating process incident to the next general election.

The distinguished patent medicine man, Hemboid, has become insane again, and is now reposing in the arms of a strait jacket. The folly of manking gave him business, and his business made him crazy. The true relations between idiocy and insanity are not always shown so clearly.

Hamilton Times:—The Hon. Isaac Buchanan is too speechless by half. In his last manifesto to the young Tories of Hamilton, in referring to the best-room movement, he says: "I have often, in the last 30 years, proposed the same thing, and found that the time had not come for it; these suggestions of Industrial Leagues being made generally on the back of my election," &c., &c., Just so. The Tories have never troubled themselves about Canadian industries except "on the back of an election" when they are on the hunt for votes. Then their promissaries made with the same generous ease with which they are afterwards broken. They are much wilder in their promises this time than ever before, because their prospects never before were so desperate.

Peculiar People

Old bachelors who never smoke. People who will suffer from chronic indigestion, constipation, and torpid liver, or "biliousness," when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are known to be reliable and speedy remedies for these diseases. Old maids who do not love cats. People who have catarrh, annoying and disgusting everyone around them, when Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known to be a potent remedy for this disease. Women who do not love babies. Women who will suffer from all those painful diseases to which the sex is heir, when Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is admitted by every lady who uses it to be an efficient remedy for these maladies. People who believe their progenitors were apes. People who will read about "Helen's Babies," and "That Husband of Mine," and "That Wife of Mine," and "That Mother-in-law of Mine," and "That Son-in-law of Mine," and yet fail to read about Shemuckers in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." Christians, quarreling with each other on their way to Heaven. People who will seek health at fashionable watering places, smothering at Saratoga or "Long Branch, or sacrificing themselves to "Graham diet" at Water Cures and Health Institutes, when the magnificent Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, offers all the elegant comforts of the finest hotels, combined with the best sanitary advantages,—Russian, Turkish, and plunge baths, gymnasium, etc.,—and is situated in the most genial clime of the finest natural scenery in the Empire State. The most peculiar of all are the people who read these paragraphs and fail to profit by them.

Very Natural.

When a person has proved an article and found it good, and answering the purpose for which it is intended, he will not readily abandon it for one of doubtful reputation, or concerning which he knows nothing. We are led to make these remarks owing to the course always pursued by those who have tried that celebrated and valuable horse-medicine known as "Darby's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." All are so well pleased with it that they will not use any other: many have waited several weeks until the agent could obtain a new supply. There is nothing equal to it as a condition medicine, or for any complaint affecting the wind of horses. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package, Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

No Wig.

To often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchia and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

A Card

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c. I will send a receipt that will cure, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D. Bible House, New York City. 46-1y.

BIRTHS.

BLEZARD.—At Otonabee, on the 30th April, the wife of Thos. Blezard, Esq., of a son.

MARRIED.

KIDD—BESKETT.—By the Rev. Francis Andrews, Keene, on the 2nd of May, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Alexander Kidd, eldest son of Alexander Kidd, Esq., Dummer, to Miss Catherine Beskett, eldest daughter of Mr. James Beskett, Otonabee.

McPHERSON—ANDERSON.—On the 15th instant, by the Rev. J. A. Chapman, M.A., at the residence of the bride's mother, Thomas McPherson, Esq., to Miss Irene, eldest daughter of the late Alexander Anderson, all of the village of Omemee.

DIED,

MATCHETT.—At Otonabee, on Monday, the 7th instant, Sarah Jane Matchett, youngest daughter of the late Alexander Matchett, Esq., aged 27 years.

The funeral will take place to-day at 2 p. m. from the family residence, Lot No. 25, 15th Concession of Otonabee.

ROBB.—At Stony Lake, on Sunday, the 5th instant, Thomas Arthur, son of James Robb, Esq., aged 6 months and 16 days.

RAY.—On Friday, 26th ult., Lottie, third daughter of John Ray, of the township of Smith, aged 23 years.

PETERBOROUGH

Gold and Silver Plating Works

WM. LANGFORD

Having secured the services of a competent workman, is now prepared to do all orders for Replating all kinds of Table-ware, such as Spoons, Knives, Forks, Tea Sets, &c.,

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

The following beautiful piece is said to have been written by King Robert First, though by some it is ascribed to Bishop Andrewes.

If any be distressed and fain would gather
Some comfort, let him hasten unto
Our Father

For we of hope and help are quite bereaven
Unless you succour us
Who art in heaven.

Then shewest mercy, therefore for the same
We praise thee, singing
Hallowed be thy name.

Of all our miseries cast up the sum,
Show us the joy, and let
Thy kingdom come.

We mortals are, and alter from our birth,
Thou constant art:
Thy will be done on earth.

Thou send'st the earth, as well as planets nerves,
Thy name in blessed here,
As 'tis in heaven.

Nothing we have to sue, or demandingly,
Except thou givest it us,
Give us this day

Wherewith to clothe us, wherewith to be fed,
For with out Thou we want
Our daily bread.

We want, but want no faults, for no day passes
But we do sin—
Forgive us our trespasses.

No man from sinning ever lived free—
Forgive us, Lord, our sins
As we forgive.

If we repent our faults, then spite
We pardon them
That trespass against us.

Forgive us, that is past, a new path mend us,
Direct us always in thy faith
And lead us.

We thine own people and thy chosen nation,
Into all trials, but
Not into temptation;

Thou that all good graces art the Giver,
Suffer us not to wander,
But deliver

Us from the fierce assaults of world, and devil,
And flesh, so shalt thou free us
From all evil.

To these petitions, let both church and laymen,
With one consent of heart and voice say,
Amen.

Answer to "A True Granger."

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I notice in your issue of April 18, a letter from a man styling himself "A True Granger," and trying to refute a letter which appeared in an issue of the EXAMINER of March 14th. Now, sir, I write of your readers fail to see that he has in a single instance refuted any arguments in that letter of March 14, which appears to have given him so very much trouble. What a pity to thus trouble a man who professes to be one of the elect—one alone of the number who constitute the whole bone and sinew of this great Dominion. I feel that it only remains for me to answer this man according to his folly. It is easy to show this Clerk of Eusiemore (?) that it was this country that made him, and not he the country, as he knows very well that there are many middle men, as he calls them, in our own county town, who came here about the same time he did, and many of them a long time after him, and just as poor as he was, who have by their thorough business principles, energy and stability, attained a position to keep from 5 to 75 families in employment the whole year round. I ask your many intelligent readers whether does this wonderful Clerk of Eusiemore, who spends but a few dollars in a whole year on farm labor, or the middle man do the most to increase the value of our own county property, or farm produce in particular; or in his own words, who are the bone and sinew of the country. What I believe about the whole matter is, the farm is the great foundation of our own country, as it is from the earth we all have sprung, and to it shall soon return. But well it is that Providence hath so arranged the whole machinery of earth, that we are all nothing more or less than a set of middle men, but some are blessed with a little more brains than others. I wonder if this wonderful man can remember when he used to saw wood and break stones, or any other corporation job he could get a hold of in the town of Peterborough, as this is where he earned a little money to enable him to settle on a piece of land across the lake. Now, sir, I admire very much this trait in his or any man's character—not being above any legitimate work—and I believe in giving and helping any man who is willing to work in every possible manner, but I don't want him to forget the hand that fed him and quack like the duck that was raised by the hen till it could cross Mud Lake, and clap his great wings and cry, "Quack! quack! I don't care for you now, Peterborough, as I can paddle my own canoe. Yours truly,

A FRIEND OF GRANGERS.

GRANGEISM.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I do not intend at present to occupy any more space of your valuable paper by writing on Grangeism, because I consider such matter is not appreciated by your general readers, and few I believe ever take the trouble of reading them; however as "A Farmers Son," in your late issues has attempted to make himself conspicuous by his great logic and wit, I would consider it a great favour, while I will be as brief as possible not in answering a modern Demosthenes, but in asking him a few common place questions. If the Grange in the Western States came into existence for no selfish purpose for what purpose were they originated? And what is the difference, if any, between those of the United States and those of the Dominion? Did the Grangers through their Local Legislature or through their combined pressure on the different Railway Companies, obtain the object in view, namely, reduction of freight; or did the farmer pay a higher scale of freight to the Railways than business men? Can you give the highest figures ever obtained in membership in the United States, and what is the present membership of the order? Not sub Granges or divisions, because a great many have amalgamated the same as we are doing now, finding it more beneficial. Whether are the farmers of Ontario, or "A Farmers Son" the best judge whether we have grievances or not? Has not the farmer the same means of judging goods received from wholesale merchants, as from the storekeeper in Peterboro. Our grain dealers have made nothing, but lost largely instead. Can you name one grain dealer who is poorer to-day, than the day he commenced purchasing, or can you name one who has failed in Peterborough. Is there no combination among the business men in Peterborough, from the learned profession down to the working class? Or in other words, has God made so many to be men of business trade or calling, and a large percentage to be tillers of the soil, fit for nothing else, and to be contented to occupy their own place, and fulfil the duties there imposed on them, and to labour within their own domain. Oh what an idea! Does not the Grangers purchase largely in Peterborough? In working for each other, or for themselves, has the farmer for his labours and investments in property, the same special returns as those occupied in mercantile pursuits, and charging them from 30 to 40 per cent for goods; is that what "A Farmer's Son" calls a small advance? Was there not a better Market in Peterborough 20 or 25 years ago than now? When a farmer could "hawk" as he calls it, and not be hampered by a host by-law. If Peterborough was wiped out of existence as he states to, would the Dominion collapse, or it would go on as usual? Now "Mr. Son of a Farmer," if the farmers are not building up Peterborough, why at all find fault with them associating together for their mutual benefit? Has not the merchants of Peterborough been exercising their tax well for the last fifty years by the cream of the farmers brew? Is there not enterprise enough in the farmers to elevate themselves from the state of bondage into which "A Farmer's Son" would place them? And could you purchase so cheap in Peterborough as the present day, only for the Grangers? As for the "Sour" second letter, whether he calls it an advice, a caution, or epistle, is of small consequence. I think there will more laugh at him than give him anything. How many Mechanic's Institutes are in Peterborough with its 7000 population? You say not one established in every rural School Section. Have you got him established in your own School Section? A word of caution to our "Sour," you have put yourself to great trouble and inconvenience for nothing. I think you are one of those farmers "Sour's" who are too lazy to work, and like it that well that you could lay down beside it.

The largest pie-nic ever held in Central Canada will take place in Peterborough in the beginning of June until 500 who of course was brought the good of the human family, consult with the grain buyers in Peterboro' and advise them to join hands on that day with the Grangers, and hold a jubilee instead of a pic-nic, and throw bother, robs and all to the Grangers, wishing them God's speed as they are taking a loosing business out of their hands.

One word more and I am done. Are you aware the Grangers in the South Western States and California, have now [illegible] running from San Francisco [illegible] to Europe, with their produce, and bringing back goods in return, and intend soon to add two more steamers, making a fleet of thirteen steamers.

A FARMER WHO HAS RAISED A SON.

Emilsmere, April 17 1878.

Liberal Conservative! Who is He?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The name "Liberal Conservative" is a delusion. It was taken up to delude. To conserve means to preserve intact, to prevent change or innovation. The Medes and Persians were Conservatives in a political sense, for their laws were unalterable, however bad they may have been. Our modern Conservative occupies the same position, for he is always an opponent of progress. The old laws, the old precedents, the old regime, is always the right thing with him, however inapplicable they may be to modern wants and circumstances. But the wise men of the Conservative party, put the term "Liberal" before the word "Conservative," thinking probably that by so doing, they would draw after them some of the liberal element. The signification of the word "liberal" as given by our lexicographers, is "Not mean," not low in birth," "becoming a gentleman," "munificent," "generous," "bountiful." Thus you see that a "Liberal Conservative" is one who munificently, generously, bountifully, preserves intact, and prevents change; or who in a manner becoming a gentleman of high birth stands in the way of innovations demanded by the base herd. Change is the law of nature, Nothing stands still. Either in the material, moral, or mental world, everything undergoes change. If it were not so, the universe would be in a state of stagnation. But the "Liberal Conservative" generously, munificently, and as becomes one above the grovel'ing crowd, oppose himself to all political progress, or in other words sets himself to liberally keep things as they are. And if he could only get them back to the position "as they were" he would be thrice happy. There never was, and there never will be, a Liberal, Conservative. The two names are antagonistic; they destroy and annihilate each other.

But why this seeking after a change in their name, by these people of the Conservative persuasion? Every one knows that their old name of Tory is a true appellative. They are not true Conservative in their seeking after a change of name. Why alter their old appellation of Tory? Is it because they are ashamed of it? Is it because they know that the traditions connected with it, are distasteful to enlightened men? Is it because Tory is indissolubly connected in Canada with that governmental abomination called the "family compact?" Or is it because Tory and Toryism are especially obnoxious on this American Continent? When we glance back at their history, we need not wonder at their persistently and assiduously endeavouring to find a sobriquet, that will appear more respectable, and less odious in the minds of the people. But whatever their name, they are the same genuine Tories still.

Our Liberal Conservatives are the same as their fathers were before them. They have the same distrust of the people, the same hatred of political progress. They still believe that they have a Divine right to rule the people. This is why Tories out of office lose control of themselves. They become exceedingly illtempered and irritable, and devoid of all calmness and decency. The slanderous ravings, and lying ebullitions of their brain sufficiently prove this. For the Tories to get back again to power, would be a public calamity. We firmly believe that their return to office in Canada is a thing of the distant future. We know however, that they are making every effort to accomplish that object. We are not ignorant of their strength, of their tactics, or of their caliber. We know by experience, that they were never by any means scrupulous as to the means whereby to gain their ends. But notwithstanding the tall talk, and rhetorical flourishes of their Davins and Boultbees, and the volumes of abuse, slander, and misrepresentation poured out by their truculent press; the great Liberal and Reform party of Canada, will march again to a glorious victory at the next elections. Yours, &c.,

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

A DISGUSTED CONSERVATIVE.

Mr. Daniel Horan, of South Grenville, has published a letter in the Toronto Tribune, which, we have no doubt, will be read with interest by his co-religionists in this section of the Dominion. Mr. Horan thus defines his political status:—"I had always been an active supporter of Conservative candidates and a staunch advocate—so far as my ability would allow—of Conservative principles. I supported Mr. Shanly, Mr. Clarke, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Cairns and Mr. Irving. I lost time and money in the interest of the Conservative party, and had never been, like some, repaid from the depths of the party pocket. As far as I knew, I had never done anything to forfeit the confidence of those with whom I had so long been politically connected, and I hold in my possession a receipt for the payment of my dues as a member of the Conservative Association for the year 1877." Mr. Horan had, it appear, expressed his intention, in view of the then approaching Conservative convention, to nominate an Irish Catholic as a candidate for the approval of the convention. This brought him the following letter:—

PRESCOTT, 6th April, '78.

D. Horan, Esq., Jr.

DEAR SIR,—I am instructed by the Central Committee to warn you not to intrude yourself in Brady's Hall, to-day during the session of the Conservative Convention. The Hall has been hired for a special purpose, and all persons will be excluded except those who are acceptable.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. BRADY,
Brig. S.G.L.O.A.

Mr. Horan concludes an indignant letter in the following language:—"Whatever the Conservative leaders throughout the Dominion may assert, whatever promises they may make on the hustings, on the stump or through their organs, whatever inducements may be held out to the Catholic vote of other constituencies, it is plain that in South Grenville "no Papist need apply." "Not since shall Catholics be debarred from nomination by Conservative Conventions in this riding; even those who propose to nominate them shall be insulted and disabused." This is, apparently, the means of the "Liberal" Conservatives of South Grenville, and I leave it to them Catholics who have investigated the record of Toryism in Great Britain to trace the similarity between the intolerance that would ostracise Catholics in South Grenville, and that which invented and enacted the Penal Laws of Ireland."

AN UNDERGROUND FOREST.

The authors of the newly published book named "Two Thousand Miles in Texas on Horseback," tell a wonderful story about the subterranean forests which they observed on the prairies lying near the River Concho, in the western part of the State. Riding over these vast prairies, thus the story runs, though you will see no trees, yet you will often see a tender little switch of the mesquit shooting a few feet above the ground. Now, stop at one of these and strike at its root with a pickaxe, you will expect nothing but tender, fibrous roots; but instead of these, the pick comes in contact with a heavy, solid body.

"Surprised, you remove the thin covering of earth, and you find a living log as thick as a man's leg, extending you know not how far. Exploring further around the same little shoot, you find many logs of the same size, and an infinite number of branches extending from them. Trace each little twig yields you from a quarter to a half cord of fuel-wood not equalled for that purpose by any other wood within my knowledge. Thus the treeless plains are filled with fuel, almost equal in its supply to the heaviest forests. These shoots do not increase in size, but after attaining a certain dimension, too small to be dreaded by an arabia, they either stand at that or die and give place to others. The branches of the large roots left in the ground speedily supply the loss by other roots as large as those taken away."

Various theories are put forward to account for the existence of these underground forests but none cited by the narrators of the story are satisfactory. It is said by some that the burning heat of the sun has prevented the growth of the trees above ground. Others urge that the scarcity of rain in the region induced the phenomenon, and again, that it is owing to the frequency of the prairie fires which consume the vegetation exposed to its effects. But the same inflocence have nowhere else produced the same remarkable results.

WILD'S TALK.

The Rev. Dr. Wild, of New York, who believes that the Lost Tribes of Israel went to Ireland, and that the Saxon and Celtic races are the descendants of the Lost Tribes, sees in the signs of the times indications that the hour is close at hand when the races are to be reunited. Russia, Dr. Wild believes, has been chosen to lead the Gentile hosts against Israel in the great campaign, that the reunited tribes are to win before they establish their kingdom. In his sermon last Sunday evening he said that through Russia as Armageddon God is to work a great purpose. He did not suppose Russia would go to war now, for she is not ready, but when she has completed her domination of the Gentile tribes the great battle will be fought, and with Israel's victory is to begin the reign of universal peace. The times are now ripe for these wonders. England stands in the way from very instinct, she knows not why. That is the fulfillment of a prophecy, for Israel, the prophet said, should be partially blind in these days. England knows not how good a title she has to the Holy City. She is certainly blind to maintain the cause of the people who tread down her own property as the Turks do. Turkey is ripe for death, and he should name the figure of her remaining days as four years. He found his authority for the statement in Daniel and John, "who named forty-two months as the duration of Gentile rule in Jerusalem, Months in prophetic speech mean cycles of thirty years each, making forty-two months, 1,300 years. Mahomet dates from 622 A. D., and the figures added make 1883 as the period of termination of Mussulman rule.

According to Dr. Wild's theory England is to lead the hosts of Israel, and the new Israelitish confederation is to be founded upon the economic plan of England.

THE TEMPERANCE ACT.

Owing to the delay in proposing the second reading of the Temperance Act, some of its opponents have began to hope it will not be proceeded with, but will be slaughtered among other innocents before the close of the session. There is, however, no ground for this belief, as the Government is understood to be determined to press it through.

Mr. Dixon, Secretary of the Ontario Brewers Association, is here lobbying, not so much against the Act, which is preferred to the Dunkin Act, but in order to induce the Commons to exempt from it the manufacture and sale of ales and beers in those counties where it may go in force. The Association alleges that the sum of $30,000,000 have been sunk in breweries in Ontario, and that of those only four or five have more than a purely local market. They hold that if the Act passes and is enforced in the counties where those small breweries are situated, the counties should compensate the brewers for their loss by purchasing their establishment and plant at a fair valuation. The Association asks for the following amendments:

1. That the Act shall not be deemed to have passed unless the majority of votes polled for it is one-third more than they hold against it. 2. That an attempt may be made at the end of the first instead of the third year, to repeal it. 3. That the manufacture and sale of light wines, ale and beer be permitted in the counties where the act is adopted. 4. That the Act be submitted to the electors of the County at the expense of the County and not of the Dominion. 5. That compensation be allowed for loss sustained by brewers. If they are not exempted the Association will pledge itself if these amendments are carried, to assist in the enforcement of the law.

It is understood that none of these propositions are favorably regarded by the temperance element in the House.—Hamilton Times.

INDORSEMENTS.

The following old authors should be profitable to any who are inclined to indorse the notes of their friends: Beware of suretyship for thy best friend. He that payeth another man's debt seeketh his own decay. But if thou can't not otherwise choose, rather lend thy money thyself upon good bonds, although thou borrow it; so shalt thou secure thyself and preserve thy friend.—Lord Burleigh. If any man desire thee to be his surety, give him a part of what thou hast to spare; if he press thee further, he is not thy friend at all, for friendship rather chooseth harm to itself than offereth it. If thou be bound for a stranger, thou art a fool; if for a merchant thou puttest thy estate to learn to swim.—Sir Walter Raleigh. Such as are betrayed by their easy nature to be ordinary security for their friends leave as little to themselves, as their liberty remains over after arbitrary at the will of others; experience having recorded many whom their debtors had left other room enough, that by suretyship have expired in a dungeon.—F. Osborn. Be thou not one of them that strike hands, or them that are sureties for debts. He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it, and he that hath suretyship is sure.—Bible.

There is no one medicine in the world that will so successfully relieve pain and cure disease as the Mexican Liniment (nothing like Liniments) used internally and externally. No family should be a moment without it in the house in case of accidents. Large bottles only 25 cts. Full directions for use on each bottle. Go to your druggists and get a bottle—it may be the means of saving your life. Prepared by J. Dows & Co., Perth. For sale in Peterborough at Dr. Taylor's Drug Store. 54-1y

Cox's General Insurance Agency.
ESTABLISHED 1858.
GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occured during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.
He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Nineteen Millions of Dollars.
THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of Edinburgh established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-three Millions of Dollars.
THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, and which for nearly one hundred years has paid losses averaging $1,344 per day.
These companies have all passed through the great fires of Quebec, Chicag Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and the enormous losses were promptly paid without affecting their stability in the least degree.
Rates as low as consistent with absolute security.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,
—FOR—
Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.
The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.
Its remarkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamac and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

ELECTRICITY.
Thomas' Eclectric Electric Oil Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold—Pain Cannot stay where it is used.
It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied, often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description as man or beast.

The Game of Checkers and Life.

FOR THE EXAMINER.

First the board is our earth with positions marked out,
The checkers, ourselves, that are moving about;
Our opponent, misfortune, with whom we do strive,
And time that tries all things tells how we may thrive.

Now some who engage in the great game of life,
With forethought and courage do enter the strife;
Their various schemes and plans are laid down,
And success at the last all their efforts does crown.

Some with little to cheer yet a stout heart and true,
Defy all the ills their opponent can do;
They struggle on manfully until they attain,
The position that's sought which to them is a gain.

While some who engage have all that can lend
Them assistance and strength to further their ends;
Encouraging friends who lighten the task,
Yet with all these advantages are cornered at last.

Some with vicissitudes long long have fought,
Still each move moves them farther from that which is sought;
Until all plans are useless in clearing the way
They yield to misfortune and give up in dismay.

Then some are indifferently concerned in life's game,
And carelessly move without any aim;
No arts for distinction in their natures pervade,
But silently into the grave they are laid.

—JOHN McLAURIN.

"Quebec is about to pass judgment on the Union of Ottawa." So says the Montreal Gazette. Very well; here it is. The judgment was unfavorable. To-morrow, if not to-day, the Mail will have it that the contest was decided on purely local issues.

HILLBROOK.

CAVAN SPRING FAIR.—Monday was Fair Day. There were not so many horses as are usually present, but those exhibited were of superior appearance, especially Silver Dust and L. H. Davis, the property of Messrs. Howden & Seaples, of this village. There was a great many persons in the village, while the localities of the hotels did not present the customary gathering about their premises, owing to "Dunkin" being about. It was generally observed that there was more than double the number of persons in town than there has been on former Fair Days. Mr. John Gillott's new Temperance House had a good run, considering the short time he had

PUBLIC MEETING.

A public meeting of the friends and supporters of the present Reform Administration will be held in the Good Templars' Hall, on Monday evening next, at half past seven o'clock. We hope to see a full attendance, as John Bertram, Esq., M. P., will be present and address the meeting.

THE LATE PARLIAMENTARY SESSION.

The last session of the third Parliament of the Dominion has lasted for more than three months, and has been less creditable than any other in the matter of decorum and Parliamentary order. From first to last the Opposition has pursued the policy of obstructing the public business, in order that they may at the approaching elections, cry out that in spite of the long session comparatively little real work has been accomplished. But the public will readily perceive from the character of the debates who is at fault for the prevention of more being accomplished. Indeed had the session been closed at a time commensurate with the duration of others, there would have been next to nothing to show in the way of work, so long and profitless were the debates raised on every conceivable opportunity by the Opposition. In order therefore that the necessary work of the country might be carried out and the programme of the Government gone through, the session, had perforce to be prolonged, although to the last the obstructionist tactics of the Tories were discernable. Not only in the House of Commons was this seen prominently; for the Senate particularly at the later stages of the session showed that its Tory majority was at the command and obedient to the obstructionist whims of the leader in the lower House.

The first contest of the session took place on the Speakership, the re-election of Mr. Anglin, as presiding officer, being opposed on a technicality so weak that the objectors had their own precedent cited against them. The debate on the Speech from the Throne occupied the whole of a week, and was very bitter in tone; so much so in fact as to meet with general condemnation. The latitude offered was taken advantage of by Opposition speakers, to import into the discussion any personal charges they deemed foundation for a party cry at the elections. In this way much valuable time was wasted, and a deal of ill-feeling engendered over wholly irrelevant matters. As soon the debate on the address was ended the Departmental Reports were presented, and the Finance Minister promptly delivered his Budget Speech, in which he clearly demonstrated the financial condition of the Dominion, and stated the Government's intention of adhering to the present tariff. Then followed another long debate, and it was a month from the opening of the session when the leader of the Opposition presented his "amabus" resolution, said to embody what he and his followers call the "national policy". On this the debate was continued for two weeks longer, when Sir John's vague and general amendment was defeated by a vote of 114 against 77. Subsequent votes were taken on motions to protect flour and wheat, oats and corn, and coal, all three being rejected by votes of 140 to 88, 114 to 54, and 135 to 37 respectively. So the agricultural and mining industries may be said to cast from them the suggestions that they need or want protection. This is but natural, seeing that a protective tariff would enhance the price of the farmer's and miner's necessaries, such as teas, clothing, &c., and the want to restrict the market for their productions, and thus destroy their value. This is the simple and incontrovertible argument in favor of protection in the affects on all producers, whether agriculturists, miners, lumbermen or artizans at work in the shape of improved manufactures. To talk of taxes from such sorts, and at the same time give them less opportunity to make money. It is from their double loss the non-producing class hopes to snatch a corresponding gain. In this, however, they will be disappointed.

Another opportunity was seized on by the Opposition to prolong the session, by dragging in a discussion over the political crisis in the Province of Quebec, by means of a wholly unjustifiable and really important motion of censure against the Lieutenant Governor of that Province. The Ministry held to the common sense view that the Quebec electors had a right to attend to their own affairs in the manner furnished them under British institutions. The Opposition insisting on adjoining a practically useless debate, the Premier determined on a vote without an adjournment that would lead to the waste of another day, and perhaps more. For this he was accused of trying to choke off discussion and the Opposition proceeded to talk against time, keeping the House sitting for twenty-seven hours. Instead of using this period for talk on the question they professed so great a desire to discuss, their speakers indulged in all sorts of nonsensical remarks, a scene of uproar was the result, and the night did not pass without a display of drunkenness on the floor of the House. A truce was agreed upon and by fixing a time for the taking of a vote without further discussion, and the result was the rejection of the Opposition resolution on a division of 70 to 112. A resolution similar in character was carried in the Tory Senate by a vote of 37 to 20. The best commentary on this point is the result of the late Quebec elections.

As amendments to motions for going into Committee of Supply, thus precluding further amendments, the Opposition brought in other merely catch questions, whereby they carried on their policy of obstruction, and the attempted manufacture of electioneering capital. On every division the Government secured good majorities in the Commons. To the Senates votes we have already made some reference. Its foolish partizanship also had the effect of burking several measures, until a future renewal for their passage will carry them through, backed by the loud popular voice in their favour. Of such was the Bill for the lease of the Pembina Branch of the Pacific Railway, a necessity to insure the lowering of the exorbitant freight rates on goods going down Red River into Manitoba. The Senates action on this Bill has greatly disgusted a Conservative member of that body from Manitoba—Hon. Mr. Sutherland, who knew the interests of his Province too well to vote with the partisan fanatics who defeated a measure for the public good.

THE CANADA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

Shortly before the close of the late Parliamentary session, the Premier, who is also Minister of Public Works, detailed the history of the Canada Pacific Railway and the policy of the Ministry in regard to that great work. His speech was long, comprehensive, and most interesting, and showed plainly the care and attention he has devoted to this, as to other matters coming directly under his Departmental control, And not only is Mr. Mackenzie watchful of what concerns him as a Departmental chief; for he masters with almost equal breadth of grasp the various affairs that come to him as head of the Government, and go to make up the whole work of the administration. Only confidence in efficient and honest colleagues, and reciprocal confidence from them could enable him to thus get within his personal knowledge such a vast amount of diversified details. But it is in the very important Department of Works he shines. Here he seems to be ubiquitous. No matter what may be asked of him by questioning critics of the Opposition, he is always ready to answer intelligently and with evident knowledge of the subject, be it great or small. He knows and feels his responsibility; and works and acts in accordance with that knowledge and feeling. In the care of such a man even so gigantic an undertaking, as the building of a transcontenental railway by four millions of people, is safe to be conducted with foresight and discretion. How very different has been his cautious yet firm prosecution of the task, from the preposterous promises and premature procedure of his predecessor. Not only did he find it necessary to fulfil an obligation laid upon the country by the late administration; he had also to unmake as far as possible some of the impossible promises made by that reckless and unprincipled Cabinet. They agreed with British Colombia before any surveys had been made, to build the road in ten years; he had to get a fair understanding and an honourable compromise with the Pacific Province. This he did with the intervention of Earl Carnarvon; and he has been trying faithfully since then to fulfil the Carnarvon terms with our fellow-citizens on the western coast. There is no need to here institute a comparison of Mr. Mackenzie's open and honourable conduct in connection with all the contracts, on Sir John Macdonald's secret dealings with Sir Hugh Allen, further than to mention them. Our readers can readily fill up the two pictures from their recollection.

The insane way in which the late Government treated this vast question may be judged from the fact that the surveys alone have cost three and a half millions of dollars, and have not altogether been completed yet. About half the amount has been spent in British Columbia, in seeking the most advantageous route through that mountainous region. Here as was expected the work was both difficult and dangerous. In fact throughout the whole extent of the continent there were, as can readily be understood, peculiar circumstances to make surveying hard and expensive. There was Hale or no population; supplies had to be carried along; and so much of a fever incognito was the greater part of the country, that the engineering parties were really the original explorers. In order to be about the work promptly, and to establish as speedily as possible a line of communication across the continent, the Government determined to make use of available water navigation, and build sections of the road in the intervening territory accessible by water. Thus the Georgian Bay Branch will connect the present railway system of the Ottawa Valley with summer navigation on Lakes Huron and Superior, the portion of most unlikely built for more than fifty miles from Thunder Bay will reach well inland; even a thirteen mile tramway from the line of railway to Kettle Falls will, with the completion of the Fort Frances locks, utilize a further course of water navigation for about two hundred miles, to Rat Portage; and from there rail to Red River will complete the communication with Manitoba. It was intended, by the lease of the Pembina Branch to obtain traffic at reasonable rates through American territory, and thus not only by no way. It is from their double loss the non-producing class hopes to snatch a corresponding gain. In this, however, they will be disappointed.

It was intended, by the lease of the Pembina Branch to obtain traffic at reasonable rates through American territory, and thus not only by competition cut down the very high freight rates now charged on Red River, but also afford greater facilities for railway construction form Red River eastwards, and in Manitoba. The partizan opposition of the Tory Senate, however, defeated this object for a time; and will probably cause the defeat of most, if not all, Tory candidates in Manitoba at the approaching election. Saskatchewan River navigation will connect Manitoba with the far west toward the Rocky Mountains, and another section of railway through the mountains will reach the navigable waters by which Kamloops can be gained, and another 125 miles of road will connect with Fraser River navigation 90 miles from the sea, at Yale, where railway construction is to be commenced eastward. Thus is a continuous route across the continent in Canadian Territory will be secured before very long, helping to settle the country, enrich the Dominion, and make it better able to carry on the other portions of the all-rail line from sea to sea. The total cost of the road from Lake Nipissing to the Pacific, including the Pembina Branch, is estimated at one hundred millions of dollars. The total distance from New Westminister (near which city the western terminus is now almost certain to be located) to Montreal by this Canadian line of railway, is 2,730 miles, less by 633 miles than the distance between San Francisco and New York by American lines. The Canadian line is also the shorter to New York, by connection with the New York Central, by 305 miles. To Boston from New Westminister is 335 miles shorter than from San Francisco; to Portland the route through Canada from the Pacific is 521 shorter than that through the United States. There are 238 miles between Thunder Bay and Selkirk now under contract, and the contract for the Georgian Bay Branch has been let to the Canada Central Railway Company. Work will also go on in British Columbia, for there exists a stipulation that a certain sum shall be so spent in that Province each year. The people need not fear that this extensive undertaking will increase their burdens, for it goes on under the main proviso that the taxation shall not be increased thereby. For this too thanks are due Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, his colleagues in the Ministry and his supporters in the House.

ANOTHER FENIAN RAID.

Amid the rumours of war in Europe come reports of a project among the turbulent spirits of the United States, for another invasion of Canada, similar to the Fenian raids of former years. All sorts of stories are afloat of military organisations of a private character, and of preparations for an extensive invasion of the Dominion by way of the St. Lawrence and Niagara Rivers. While there is no doubt a great deal of sensational fabrication in these tales of Fenian activity, their simple recital, all things considered, is at the present time dangerous. There is always a lawless element in the population of a large country, especially one in which demagogueism so extensively prevails, as in the United States. This is plainly evinced by the riots of last year, and by the Communistic movements of the present time; and then as now politicians were found so far forgetful of their country's safety as to ponder to the passions of the savage mob. This element of the American society of to-day can furnish a considerable number of men with both the mind and the courage of wild beasts—ready to seek for prey with persistency, and fall upon it with ferocity. Round these can be mustered a very large following from the army of tramps, that infest every town of every state in the Union, and from hundreds of men whom lack of work have driven to desperation. All that is necessary to implant in the minds of these people a strong desire to make a raid on Canada, is to discuss the subject. The madness of such project did not prevent its attempt before; nor will it again unless stringent measures are taken by the United States authorities, to scatter any gathering on the border, as was done in the case of the last raid, on Manitoba.

While there is a possibility of another raid on Canada, there need be no popular alarm felt thereat. It cannot take place at once, nor without the cognisance of the authorities, both American and Canadian. The movements, if any there be, of an invading force will be pretty generally known, and in plenty of time to make preparations for the restraint, or failing that, the reception of the rabble; —for such it cannot fail to be. In view of the Communism prevalent on the other side of the lakes, it might perhaps be as well to allow any such movement, as an invasion of Canada develops itself, in order that the two governments might have an opportunity of striking a decisive blow; the one against an internal danger, and the other against an apparently recurrent trouble from without. In any case the invaders of Canada will meet with a reception ten times warmer than the most genial welcome.

THE CHIEF ISSUE.

It is rather amusing to witness the frantic efforts of Tory papers in agricultural and lumbering districts, in trying to inculcate protectionist doctrines, the introduction into practice of which could only be productive of disadvantage, and possibly absolute distress, in such communities. Protectionist theories are more naturally attractive to manufacturers, who live in large cities; but on the farm and in the forest they do not take. It is all very well for Sir John Macdonald and his party to talk loudly and incessantly on abstract protection. They utterly fail to show how a protective tariff can benefit the Dominion of Canada. Abstruse speculation is not sufficient foundation on which to base and an issue presentable to the popular mind. It may do as a means for distracting attention from practical comparisons of the two political parties in Canada to-day; but no real issue can be made on a proposition that the common sense of the people reject as anti-British, absurd and mischievous. Try to disguise it as they will, the Tory press cannot hide it from the commonest observation, that the chief issue at the approaching elections is the amount of trust that can be reposed by the electors in the leaders of the respective parties. On the character of our principal public men largely depend the safety of our country's internal interests, as well as our credit abroad, with both of which national progress is directly connected. The very worst that can be said of the present Ministers is that they have fallen into error, and even this is open to question. But those who continually place have been guilty of deliberate wrong-doing in public legislation; have been fitted with the popular talisman; and have been found guilty. Shall we allow dishonest Ministers, and reckless self-seekers? This, we take it, is the Chief Issue.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Peterboro Examiner is said to be among the scandal books to be prosecuted for criminal libel by Sir John Macdonald. This is the sheet that was so assiduous in circulating the story that the Warder and Port Hope Times were to be prosecuted for libel by Geo. Brown some time ago, which assertion was as false as that paper's statements concerning Sir John Macdonald.—Montreal Warder.

An evil conscience needs no accuser. The Examiner did not when referring to the rumoured suits against the Warder, Times and other Tory journals name the person libelled; but the Warder has stated the name correctly. The offence of these papers was in reviving an old scandal that had been exploded years before and disproved to the satisfaction of its originator, who acknowledged his error and withdrew the statement. Perhaps the Warder and the other retailers of this musty falsehood knew nothing of its ancient history, but they should have done so. The Examiner's is a very different case, one appearing in due course, and any mention made was without malice, and with full consideration of our public duty. Would it not be wiser on the part of the Conservative press to cease discussing a painful subject?

The Montreal Star makes a glaring mistake when, in referring to the late Quebec contest, it says:—"The Liberal papers of Ontario contend that the real question at issue was whether the Federal government should be under Conservative or Liberal control for the next five years." The Liberal papers of Ontario, knew full well both before and after the memorable May Day of Quebec, that the Liberal Administration will be sustained in power at Ottawa at the next Dominion elections. But the Conservative press of Ontario did place great stress on the effect on Dominion politics of the Quebec struggle, presumable for the purpose of calling off attention from the real points at issue. Now they are sorry they were so insistent.

The Tory press are coming down gradually. At first they tried to gull their readers into the belief that they had a majority in Quebec, but since that they have been slipping down, and backing out as gracefully as possible. True, some of them still try to keep up the delusion by changing those whom they classed as Ministerialists, the day after nomination to Oppositionists now, but such tricks are too glaring to deceive any but the stupidest. The full returns are now in and except to announce the return of Mr. Price (Tory) for Chicoutimi, and therefore to add him to the Opposition side there is no change to make.

The Hon. Peter Mitchell declares most emphatically that he is not a follower of Sir John or any other man. He is a party by himself. He is like the blank page in the Bible between the Old and New Testaments; it belongs to neither dispensation, and is more ornamental than useful.

On the morning of the Quebec election the Mail said: "Quebec is about to pass judgement on the men at Ottawa." We trust our too sanguine conlemporary is satisfied with the verdict; "the men at Ottawa" have every reason to be.

Boultbee, Rykert and Hawkins make a fine trio of Tory candidates. We don't know that "the Chieftain" was ever more unfortunate in the calibre and character of his standard-bearers than in this contest.

A handsome reward awaits the arithmetic man who can figure up a genuine majority for DeBoucherville out of the Quebec election returns. Apply at any Tory newspaper office.

THE WAR NEWS.

The news from warlike circles gives us to understand that the negotiations which have been carried on for some time past between England, Russia, and Turkey have reached a critical point. The Sultan consented to evacuate several important fortresses on condition that the Russians should retire from San Stefano to Adrianople, but this plan has been disapproved at St. Petersburg, and consequently the Turks now refuse to surrender any of the fortresses except Schumla, whose garrison will do better service in front of Constantinople. The Russians, carrying out their original intension, have reinforced the army at San Stefano by thirty-two battalions. This would seem as if the Czar had still a hankering after Constantinople. The Greeks in New Bulgaria are in a state of excitement on account of an attempt of the Russians to enrol them under the general conscription. The Mussulman insurrection is also spreading to alarming proportions—so much so that while it is exceedingly annoying to the Russians the Turkish Government may be unable to control it. Even in the neighbourhood of Batoum the Turks have fallen upon the Russians and a serious conflict is reported. Incidents of such a grave nature only tend to complicate matters and render the situation more precarious. The Russians are evidently bent upon crippling Roumania, and have cut off communication between Cusharest and the army which is commanded by Prince Charles. An effort has been made to get the Roumanians to dethrone the Prince, but without avail. A telegram from San Stefano says the Russian army there is to be removed to higher ground, two miles nearer Constantinople. This move will cause additional uneasiness, as an impression exists already that an advance will be made on the capital. An unconfirmed report comes to the effect that a British army of 90,000 men is to threaten the Russian army in the Caucasus. In the Hungarian Chambers yesterday, the Premier stated that Austro-Hungary would protect their interests peaceably if they could; but, if not, by other means—a statement which was roared with cheers. Nothing has yet leaked out about the result of Schouvaloff's mission to St. Petersburg. Altogether the outlook is unfavourable.

THE FENIAN SCARE.

Ottawa, May 14.—Further information of an important nature was received by the Government to-day, in consequence of which Messrs. Mackenzie, Jones, and Sir Selby Smith at once visited Government House, holding a lengthened consultation with his Excellency the Governor General. It is stated that the real danger appears to be apprehended in case of trouble in Montreal on the 12th July, as it is feared that gangs of desperadoes from the United States will take advantage of any local excitement to attempt to capture or set fire to some portions of the city. In that case millions of dollars and scenes of lives might be sacrificed. There is hope, however, that the civic authorities will take prompt and active measures to cope with any such contingency as will secure the peaceful march of the Queen's men, if they have not already done so. Other particulars on this matter.

Montreal, 13.—The following from the proceedings of the last meeting of the Municipal City Council is not without interest at present: During the day Mayor his Worship, the Mayor said he had received a letter which he would read for the benefit of the members. It was as follows:—

Hawkesbury, Mass, May 8, 1878.

To the Hon. J. L. Beaudry, Mayor of Montreal:—

Sir,—As there is a Fenian movement in progress, I think it my duty as a British subject to make you acquainted with the fact that I have been told that the greatest preparations are being made for an event of a magnitude as has ever been undertaken in this country. I wish to draw your attention to this fact, knowing that your assistance will be of value to your country and mine. The Fenian Brotherhood is very strong in this city, and they have been going to New York every day for the past ten days, taking their guns with them. They remove the stocks from the barrels, and pack them both in shoe boxes, and then ship them to New York as shoes, that being the headquarters of the great excitement.

Yours truly,

The following postscript is added:

"Since writing the above, I came to the knowledge that they are going to make a bold strike on Halifax, St. John, N. B., and six different places in Canada."

The reading of the letter caused quite a little sensation. Mayor Beaudry said the letter was signed and the address given, but for obvious reasons he thought it his duty not to make them public.

Alderman Clendinning suggested that the letter or a copy of it should be sent to the Dominion Government.

PROROGATION.

Dissolution of 3rd Parliament.

The fifth and last session of the third Parliament was brought to a close on Friday last, 10th inst., with the usual formalities. In length it exceeded its predecessors very decidedly, as will be seen by a glance at the table which we give below:

	Opening.	Prorogation.
1874.....	26th March.	26th May.
1875.....	4th February.	12th April.
1876.....	16th February.	13th April.
1877.....	8th February.	23rd April.
1878.....	7th February.	10th May.

Ottawa, May 10.—A large crowd had assembled in the Chamber of the Senate in order to witness the prorogation ceremonies. The Judge of the Supreme Court and a large number of ladies had seats on the floor of the chamber. The feeling that this was the last occasion on which His Excellency would take part in the pageant seemed to subdue the large assemblage and give the ceremony almost an air of solemnity.

Long before the hour appointed for prorogation a guard of honour of 100 men from the Governor-General's Foot Guards, under command of Captain Tilton, Lieut, C. Graburn, and Ensign R. Surtees, who carried the Queen's Colours, took up a position in front of the main entrance. The men were accompanied by their band, which, when His Excellency arrived, struck up the National Anthem, while the men presented arms. The Vice-Regal salute was fired by a detachment of the Field Battery under command of Capt. Stewart, the Ottawa Brigade Garrison Artillery being defunct.

The members of the Senate being assembled His Excellency was pleased to command the attendance of the House of Commons, and that House being present, a number of Bills were assented to in Her Majesty's name by His Excellency the Governor-General, viz:—

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I am glad to be able to relieve you from further attendance in Parliament after a somewhat long and laborious Session.

I shall take the necessary steps, at an early day after the close of the financial year, to give effect to the measure you have passed for the better auditing of the Public Accounts.

I shall call the attention of Her Majesty's Government to your address praying that all of British America, excepting Newfoundland, shall be, by Imperial action declared to be within the Dominion of Canada.

I rejoice that during the term of my administration this final step to consolidate British interests on the continent of America has been taken with so much unanimity, and that henceforth the Dominion Government will, under Her Majesty, exercise undisputed sway over the northern half of this continent.

I am happy to be able to state that, pending the final settlement of the question of boundary, a conventional line has been adopted by my Government and the Government of the United States, between Alaska and British Columbia on the Stickine River.

The large sums you have appropriated for the great works of internal improvement will be expended with the most rigid regard to economy, and in the expectation that the principal canals under construction may be nearly completed within the next financial year.

The settlement of Manitoba and the North-West Territories has been proceeding this year with unexampled rapidity, and if the efforts of my Government to obtain a railway connection with Winnipeg at a very early day should be successful, I anticipate, next year a still larger increase to the population.

It is specially gratifying to find so many Canadians who had in former years emigrated to the United States now returning to the newly organized territories of their native land.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the various public services.

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate:

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

Nothing could have given me more gratification than the joint address with which you have honored me on the eve of my departure.

My interest in Canada shall not cease when my mission as Her Majesty's Viceroy shall have terminated, and I am glad to know that you have taken so favorable a view of my efforts to fitingly represent our most gracious Queen in this the most important of her Majesty's Colonial possessions.

I now bid you farewell, and earnestly trust you may find in the future the manifold blessings which I shall ever pray may be continually showered upon you.

The House then adjourned after assenting to a number of Acts.

GERMANY.

Villainous Attempt on the Emperor's Life—Two shots Discharged into his Carriage—William's Escape and Capture of the Assassin.

Berlin, May 11.—The city is greatly excited in consequence of an attempt on the life of the Emperor as he was returning from his accustomed afternoon drive. His daughter, the Duchess of Baden, was in the carriage with him at the time. Great crowds assembled in front of the palace to whom the Emperor several times showed himself in acknowledgment. Two shots were fired from the sidewalk without effect. The assassin ran into the middle avenue, followed by a crowd. On the attempt being made to capture him he fired three more shots, and threw his revolver away. He was then secured. The Emperor's carriage was stopped, and a footman sprang from the box and assisted at the capture. A few minutes afterwards another individual was seized in the middle avenue in consequence of an alleged attempt to rescue the assassin. The assassin is a tinsmith named Emil Heinrich Max Hoedel, said to be from Leipsic. He was taken to the nearest police station, where a preliminary investigation was instituted. The accomplice is named Krueger, a laborer belonging to Berlin.

There were unceasing demonstrations before the Palace throughout the evening. Masses are streaming in from the remotest suburbs to manifest their loyalty and sympathy, singing the National Anthem. The Emperor went to the Opera and Royal Theatre to-night, and received great ovations.

Berlin, May 12.—At the official examination Hoedel, the prisoner, stated that he was a native of Leipsic and born in 1857. He denied that he fired at the Emperor. He affirmed that he was without work and intended to shoot himself publicly, to show the rich up the poor condition of the people. He denied that he had gone at himself, and would not account for the other three shots which were wanting in the chamber of the revolver. He thought he might have discharged them in a frenzy of mind. The prisoner was in possession of several Socialistic and Democratic writings, tickets of membership of various Socialistic Societies, and likenesses of two Socialistic leaders. He declined to attempt to explain his was an anarchist, an enemy of all political parties and present condition of society and public institutions. It further resulted, from the investigation, that Hoedel formerly held socialistic meetings near Leipsic. The other prisoner, Kruger, appears to be insignificant, and it is reported he has been liberated. He was arrested because he endeavored to protect Hoedel against the assaults of the excited crowd.

Telegrams congratulating the Emperor on his escape have arrived from all the German princes and European sovereigns. To-day the Emperor received the Royal Family, Ministry and Field Marshals, who came to congratulate him.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—As the handsome building in course of erection at the corner of George and Brock streets, presumably to accommodate our Post Office, will on its completion necessitate the removal of the Office from the premises at present occupied. Allow me to call your attention to a change in the service in connection therewith, which could it be adopted as that time, would I am certain be a very great convenience to a large number of our citizens.

Now it is confessedly due to our present postmaster to say, that no one more affable and obliging has filled that position since Peterborough has had a Post Office, or a daily mail is a certainty. To the business man he is ever prompt, to the hasty applicant exertions, while in the matter of valentines the ladies affirm he is simply perfect, dealing out those amourous missives with an air of utter oblivion as to their tender contents. His assistants are equally obliging, and always prompt to answer all enquiries, unlike the average mail clerk, who is wont to consume his mid-day lunch and read the past scandal newspaper, apparently oblivious to the palpable fact that an exasperated public were flattening their noses against the glass front, and risking their spinal vertebræ in inquisitive efforts to decipher the amount of their neighbours postal indebtedness, which is duly set forth and the bill placed up side down in each box.

That the hours during which the office is at present kept open, from 8 am till 6 p. m. serves the requirements of the greater part of the merchantile community, there can be no doubt, but it still falls short in a measure of meeting the convenience of all comers. The number of mechanics and those employed in manual labour is large, and their opportunities of calling at the office during working hours being very limited. Those who being the heads of families have children old enough to send, and they who disregarding the advice of the elder Mr. Weller have taken unto themselves widows, and consequently in cases have a family to handy-made (so to speak,) do not feel the inconvenience so much, but the majority are not so situated so as to be able to send by deputy. The keeping open of the office for an additional hour, each evening would be a very great convenience indeed, and one which the public would not be slow to appreciate.

Take the position of the average working man who in his anxiety to reach the post before it shuts up, keeps one eye on the clock the other on the exact bearings of his dinner pail; and who starting on the run for the post office on the last stroke of six, does so at the risk of hearing his employer suggest that even the "grindstone will take a turn or two after the belt is thrown off". Headless of the remark he keeps on up street, his hat on his head at an angle of 90 degrees, coat in one hand, pail in the other and his vest in his teeth. Under a strong pressure he pushes along steering clear of perambulators and dry goods cases, coming in view of the office, just in time to see the clerk lock the door, pocket the key, and meander off with all the satisfaction accruing to an employee who feels that he has given a full day's work for a not any too large day's pay.

The office in Lindsay is kept open till eight o'clock p.m, and in Port Hope till the same hour, and certainly our town cannot afford to want any convenience, the places named cannot do without. Would a request to our post master secure it or would a petition to the Hon. Post Master general be necessary.

Thanking you for the space I have taken up, and hoping the suggestion I have made will be acted on.

I remain,
Yours considerably,
SAFETY-VALVE.

GOING FOR SMALL GAME.

(Stratford Beacon.)

The Chieftain's friends in Ottawa are in full chase after a young Methodist probationer who is accused of the serious crime of writing to a Belleville paper that he saw Sir John A. Macdonald in a "how-come-you-so" condition the other week. Jenkins of the Mail tells the world with great pathos that "the young man was looked up," and brought before his ecclesiastical superior, and ordered to publish an apology in the same paper in which his letter had appeared. He is also to be brought before the Conference, Jenkins says, and for anything we know may be hanged, drawn and quartered. Is this "charming spring," as Jenkins calls him, the only person in Canada that has ventured to make the same remark about the Chieftain? It seems to us there are several "charming springs" not many miles from the capital who could have been as easily "looked up" as the young parson, if the Chieftain's friends dared "go for" them. In fact there appears to be one connected with every Independent newspaper from Cape Breton to Manitoba, and if Sir John A. Macdonald would only turn "Grit" for 48 hours, there isn't a Tory journal in the Dominion that would't make the same charge against him a dozen times a day. Why pounce on the unfortunate young preacher for saying what everybody knows to be true and what the Chieftain's own friends admit? Yes, and what the hon. gentleman himself knows right well to be true and often laughs at. Why drag the young man before the Conference for saying what half the journals in the country have said with perfect impunity, because with perfect truthfulness, a dozen times within the last few weeks?

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 16, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

The New Fire Brigade turned out for practice last Monday evening.

Returned from Ottawa.—Mr. Bertram returned home from Ottawa on Friday last, and Mr. Hall on Saturday.

Confirmation.—To-morrow evening, the Bishop of the Diocese of Toronto will hold a confirmation service in St. John's Church, commencing at half-past seven.

May Wild Regatta on the 24th promises many attractions to those wishing to enjoy the holiday out of town. Quite a number of prizes are offered for competition. Full particulars of which can be seen from posters.

Baptist Church Entertainments.—An entertainment in connection with the Young People's Mutual Improvement Society, will be held in the Baptist Church, to-morrow evening, commencing at half-past seven o'clock. Admission ten cents.

Personal.—We have pleasure in announcing that Mr. R. R. Rogers, son of R. D. Rogers, Esq., of Ashburnham, took his degree as a Bachelor of Applied Science, in the course of Mining and Assaying at McGill University, at the recent convocation.

Recommendation to the Mayor.—Notwithstanding the foolish fly sheets circulated so industriously from house to house by Mr. Toole's opponents, the vote to grant him $200, as remuneration for past services was carried by 103 of a majority.

Lamb and Orr Piats.—Remember Ormond & Dixon's new and refined entertainment in the Opera House to-morrow evening. The programme promises to be an attractive one, introducing new music, new songs, new sketches and performers. See programmes.

The Hanlon-Plaisted Boat Race.—The great international sculling race between Hanlon and Plaisted, which has been looked forward to with the greatest interest during the past few weeks, took place yesterday at Toronto, and resulted in a victory for Hanlon by about three boat-lengths. Official time, 14.46.

Wild Riding Liquor Licenses.—In the West Riding the Commissioners have granted the following licenses :—

TAYMOUTH.—J. Hetherman, Bridgnorth; J. C. Kearney, Young's Point; S. Nichols, Buckhorn; J. Young, Eanismore.

SHOPS.—H. O'Dowd, Eanismore.

Duck Shooting Illegal.—We are requested to warn sportsmen that from the 1st of May to the 1st of September, duck shooting is illegal. Persons offending against the law can be prosecuted and fined heavily. Some shooting was heard lately, and, as the parties may not be aware of the regulation, it is here restored to for their information.

License Inspector.—We observe by the Ontario Gazette on Saturday, that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed Mr. Aaron Cox to be Inspector of Licenses for the License District of the West Riding of Peterborough, in the room and stead of Mr. John Ritchie, whose serious and prolonged illness had necessitated the handing in of his resignation.

The Weather has to a large extent gone back on its past self, and instead of the beautiful spring weather of two weeks ago, we have had frosts, snow, hail and cold winds to such an extent as to cause fears for the tender fruit. It is again a little moderated, although many persons who were bragging last week of the advanced state of their garden vegetables, are now in mourning.

Promoted.—The following paragraph appears in the last number of the Canada Gazette:

"57th Peterborough Battalion of Infantry. To be Adjutant: Captain Robert William Bell, M.S., from No. 5 Company, 21st Battalion, vice Rogers, promoted." We congratulate Dr. Bell on his promotion, and feel sure that the members of the Battalion will find in him a competent officer.

Fenian Scares are the order of newspaper correspondents, and orders have been received to have the Volunteers in readiness for any emergency. Fenian leaders value sound bodies and limbs as much as Canadians do, and with a wholesome dread of Canadian bullets we believe they will stay in Uncle Sam's dominions. A few loafers are in want of cash, and wish to raise it without hard labor.

In Town.—Mr. Joseph English, son of our respected townsman, John English, Esq., has been home on a visit during the past week. Mr. English is travelling engineer for the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, and has just returned from a trip through Cuba and Alabama, where he had been overseeing the fitting up of several locomotives shipped by the company to railways in these countries.

A Forward Movement.—The necessary requisition papers for submitting the new Temperance Act to the people are already printed, and we understand, will be sent to the different Temperance organizations of the town and county immediately, with a view to obtaining the requisite signatures to the Governor-General as required by it. Peterborough will, therefore, be the first county in the Dominion to avail itself of the new legislation.

Vigilance Committee.—A meeting of the Vigilance Committee, connected with the enforcement of the Dunkin By-law, was held last Monday evening, in the Good Templars Hall, when it was unanimously resolved to use every legitimate influence to enforce the Dunkin By-law in this town. They also resolved to notify each of the liquor dealers of this intention, and circulars will be sent, in accordance therewith, to all those engaged in the liquor traffic, informing them of the decision they have arrived at. If the Council neglect to enforce the law, the committee are resolved that the By-law shall not go by default.

I. O. G. T.—The following members have been installed officers of Friendship Temple No. 158 for the ensuing quarter :—

Bro. F. Adams	W.C.T.
Sist. Mrs. Heather	W.V.T.
Bro. J. Rennetson	W.S.
Sist. M. Chrow	W.A.S.
Bro. J. Hope	W.T.
Bro. J. Dermo	W.F.S.
Bro. T. Gillespie	W.M.
Sist. M. Mann	W.D.M.
Sist. Ambrose	W.I.M.S.
Sist. Kingston	W.L.M.S.
Sist. M. A. Nethercott	W.L.G.
Bro. J. Munro	W.O.G.
Bro. W. J. Mann	W.C.
Bro. Geo. B. Sproule	P.W.C.T.

Answer to a Correspondent.—A correspondent in Cheddar, writes us, asking where the Inland Letter Office is, and who is the Post Office Inspector? He explains that he sent an open letter to Lakefield, with a one cent stamp upon it, and had it returned in a dead letter envelope with the intimation that a one cent stamp was insufficient to carry it to its destination, and with the information on the matter. For the correspondent's information and as many more as may desire it, we may state, that a letter may have one stamp on it to secure its transportation, the letter in question should have had two. The Inland Letter Office, or in could not have been returned in a dead letter envelope, as they are not supplied to rural post offices. The Dead Letter Office is in Ottawa, and the Post Office Inspector for this district is R. W. Barker, Esq., Kingston.

Queen's Birthday.—The Rowing Club are making extensive preparations for athletic games and sports which are to take place under its auspices in the [illegible] on the afternoon of the Queen's Birthday, when over $150 worth of prizes will be competed for. A promenade concert will be held in the evening for which they have secured the Port Hope Band. After the concert there will be a grand display of fireworks and a large illuminated balloon will be sent up. These have been procured from Prof. Hand, the celebrated Pyrotechnist, at a large expense, and we hope the citizens will turn out to support the club in their endeavour to provide suitable amusement for the day, as this will be the best entertainment of the kind ever given here. The admission will only be 25 cents for both afternoon and evening, and single tickets 15 cents.

A New Lens Company.—From a notice in a late number of the Canada Gazette, we learn that letters patent have been issued, incorporating Thomas Mitchell Hamilton, late Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, late Major General in Her Majesty's Rest Indian Forces; the Reverend Vincent Clement; John Walton, Esquire; John Hall, Esquire; Frederick William Rankin, late Colonel in the Royal Artillery; Adam Hall, Esquire; George Edward Shaw, Banker, all of the Town of Peterborough, Province of Ontario; and Henry John Lefevre, gentleman, of the Township of Douro, County of Peterborough, Province of Ontario, for the purpose of leasing, manufacturing and selling, or on public exposition of the Dominion, or on the security of Dominions of any municipal or other corporation, turned under or in pursuance of any statutory authority, by the name of "The Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Limited)," with a total Capital Stock of two million dollars, divided into twenty thousand shares of one hundred dollars.

A. Daniel.—We have been requested by several members of Prof. Tenney's class, who took part in the late Oratorio at Bethel, to give an emphatic denial of the untruthful accusation made in last week's Times, in reference to that gentleman appropriating ten dollars of the funds of the proceeds of the Saturday night's entertainment, which was intended to defray the expenses of organizing a vocal society in town, and that the class indignantly refused to accept the balance of the proceeds. The facts of the case are these : The class believing that [illegible] had [illegible] the town in charging him a license fee, voluntarily, at a meeting unanimously voted to repay this fee, and on the balance of the receipts was so small they generously handed the whole amount to him. Professor [illegible] did on the understanding that should the Council not refund the license fee, he would repay the class the whole sum voted him. Our contemporary must have some very untruthful informants, who for some object desired to injure Mr. Tenney, or else the writer of the article in question, to gratify a natural desire for misrepresenting facts, passed what he must have known to be an untruth.

Presentation.—On Monday evening last the members of Mr. William Flavelle's Sunday School class, presented that gentleman with a beautiful writing desk, accompanied by the following address, on the occasion of his leaving town for Lindsay, where he is entering into partnership with his uncle, Mr. Joseph Deadon, a well-known and successful merchant of that town. Not only does Mr. Flavelle carry with him the good wishes of his Sunday School scholars, but, we may add, those of a very large circle of friends and acquaintances in this town, who wish him a successful business career. The following is the address, to which Mr. Flavelle replied appropriately :—

PETERBOROUGH, May 13th, 1878.

Mr. Wm. Flavelle :

DEAR TEACHER AND FRIEND.—On the eve of your departure for Lindsay, we, your Sabbath School Scholars, desire to express to you our sorrow in parting with one who has endeared himself to us, not only as a faithful teacher and counsellor in the Sabbath School, but also by the tie of friendship and by the noble example of a consistent Christian life. While regretting that you must leave us, we rejoice that "our loss is your gain," and trust that you may be long spared to enjoy a successful business career. Please accept this writing desk as a small token of our regard, with the prayer that as in the past so in the future, you may more and more show forth the praises of him who has called us out of darkness into his marvellous light : that your light may so shine before men that many others seeing your good works may glorify our Father which is in Heaven ; and that the blessed promises of God's word may inspire and cheer you throughout life's journey, remembering that "he that winneth souls is wise," and "they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

J. F. EMERSON, R. J. KELSO, H. BRENTON, A. RITCHIE, E. MCKEE, GEO. TOOLE, GEO. MCDOLE, R. RECORD.

Harper's Magazine.—Harper's Magazine for June, while it has that largeness in the character of the subjects treated which usually distinguishes this periodical, is exceedingly beautiful in its numerous illustrations and varied printing in its variety. Lovers of the picturesque will read with interest the exquisitely illustrated paper, contributed by S. G. W. Benjamin, "Along the South Shore," showing charming bits of coast and rural scenery between Hull and Plymouth ; also Miss Mitchell's animated description of Heligoland, the "Enchanted Isle." Mr. Benjamin's article opens with a fine picture by Bricher, illustrating the gathering of Irish seaa in the salt marshes by Scituate Harbor. Those interested in ceramics will be delighted with Mr. Rhe's paper on the celebrated Delft Ware, with thirty fine illustrations. For those interested in art and music, the paper on J. Q. A. Ward, and his methods of work, by G. W. Sheldon, Mrs. Dupard's entertaining reminiscences of music in New York thirty years ago, and the "Easy Chair's" defence of the artist against undiscriminating and ignorant critics, will have special attractions. To the distinctively literary field belong the Rev. Mr. Baldwin's contribution. General Jas. S. Brisbin's interesting paper on the poetry of Indians; and Charlotte Adams's eloquent review of the vicissitudes of Russian literature. Science is duly recognized not only in the "Editor's Scientific Record"—but also a paper by George W. Bosman, entitled "How shall our Boys be fitted for the Scientific School?" and in Simon Newcomb's story of "A Manufactured Comet." Of argor and more national interest is Mr. Lossing's able paper on the battle of Monmouth, with fifteen illustrations, one of which—"The Carnival in Philadelphia," by Mr. Pyle—is a very remarkable picture, the engraving of which is as wonderful as the artist's design. In another field—that of religious biography—we have a concise but graphic portraiture of Hugh Latimer, the "Paladin of the Reformation"—from the pen of Charles D. Deshler. Th fiction we have further instalments of the two great novels of the season. The Editorial Departments are full of interesting and entertaining matter in their several fields.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The Dunkin By-law to be Enforced—Funds Subscribed to Carry it Out—The Council should Enforce the Bill.

As announced last week, a meeting of the friends of Temperance, was held in the Temperance Hall, on Thursday evening last, to consider the advisability of enforcing the Dunkin Bill in the town, there being a doubt expressed by some, as to whether it would be judicious to enforce the present Bill, or await the submission of the Temperance Act of 1878. The President of the Blue Ribbon Club, Mr. J. Stratton, occupied the chair, and Mr. Geo. B. Sproule acted as Secretary. There was a large attendance, and quite an interest was manifested in the proceedings.

After the Chairman had explained the object of the meeting, the Rev. Messrs. Watson, Willoughby and Roberts, Col. Haslam, Mr. D. W. Dumble, Mr. Geo. Hilliard, and Mr. Gray, of Hope, severally addressed the meeting, urging strongly the necessity of having the By-law rigidly enforced, and all expressed themselves to the effect that the Town Council should take the matter in hand, and see that the By-law passed by a majority of the electors, was suppported, it being their duty to have all By-laws carried by the ratepayers adhered to. After which the following motions were submitted and carried unanimously.

Moved by D. W. DUMBLE, Esq., seconded by Geo. HILLIARD, Esq.,—That the people of the town deem it of the highest importance that the By-law—which is a By-law of the ratepayers should be rigidly enforced by the Council to whom we look for the carrying out of those laws which the people make for their good government, and that the meeting further desire to request the Council in the most right manner to come to be requested and authorized, a By-law which received such deliberate sanction of the ratepayers.

Moved by Mr. PENTLAND, seconded by T. W. ROBINSON,—That it is necessary in order to enable the efforts of the Council or others who may come to enforce the Dunkin By-law, that we will cheerfully subscribe the sum opposite our names to defray the expenses of all who may thereby be brought to punishment, and that a Committee be appointed to receive subscriptions, and that Messrs. [illegible] be appointed Secretary-Treasurer.

Moved by Geo. HILLIARD, seconded by J. STRATTON,—That the Secretary-Treasurer write to all requesting aid to enforce the By-law, to have the By-law enforced, and that Messrs. Watson and Willoughby wait upon the Council to request them to enforce the By-law if necessary.

A subscription list of a considerable sum was voluntarily subscribed for the purpose of enforcing the By-law if necessary.

The meeting after prayer by the Rev. G. Watson, dispersed.

—Welcome season of spring bonnet Lattices, dandelion greens, Dandelion and juicy beans, Now hail caps and feathers have upset— Whatever of delights— Balmy days and heavy nights— Bobolinks, birds and hearty chills ; Mosquitoes, summer bills.

SCHOOL BOARD.

Special Meeting.—Communications and Accounts.—Reports of Committees.—The Election Fee.—Rules of Order.

A special meeting of the School Board was held last Tuesday evening. Present.—James Stevenson, Esq., Chairman, and Messrs. Hilliards, Donaldson, Saunders, Cash, Hamilton, Hurst, Shaw, Dumble, and Hudson.

Minutes of the two last meetings were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Principal, calling attention to the unsightliness of the electric pan in copying, &c.

From S. Johnston, Janitor, in reference to labor required in caretaking of the School, which would be increased after the new rooms were fitted up, and drawing attention to the insufficiency of his salary.

From the Educational Department, a circular relative to religious instruction in Public Schools.

From the Provincial Treasurer, enclosing cheque for $28.50 on account of Model School.

From F. J. Lewis, returning for amendment the resolution of the Board, passed at a late meeting, and asking that the words "or other chartered bank" be struck out.

The report of the Principal, showing the attendance during the month of April, was read as follows :

	On Roll.	Av'ge.
Collegiate Institute	139	130
Central School	426	416
South Ward	226	172
Third Ward School	197	122
Auburn School	86	64
	1204	904

The SECRETARY stated that he had collected on fees for the month of April, from the pupils attending the Institute the sum of $202.50, and from the Public School $9.60.

On motion the communications were received.

ACCOUNTS.

Cole Barrett (work on 3rd ward school)	$ 4 00
Christopher Lacey (for wood)	5 00
T. R. Fitzgerald (for wood)	35 00
Gas Company (for coal)	25 91
Wilson & Davis (stationery)	3 55

Mr. Fitzgerald's account was referred to the Property Committee with power to pay the whole or whatever part of it they may see fit.

The other accounts were ordered to be paid, having been certified to by the several Committees to which they belong.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. SHAW as Chairman of the Finance Committee read and submitted the following report :—

Your Committee beg leave to report on the following accounts referred to them for approval, amounting to $66.20 correct, also recommend that an order on the Treasurer for their respective sums be granted, viz.:

Geo. Stothers, hardware, &c	$ 7 25
W. Aldridge, mason work	35 00
Edward Green, window shades	22 15
Brown & Hutchinson, coal oil &c.	39 46
	$66 20

Your Committee respectfully suggest that in order to keep in view the amount expended for ordinary requirements, in the several schools, the Chairman of the Property Committee be requested to limit the number of accounts to two or three, and that said accounts be rendered, presented by said committee quarterly, in order that the Board may dispose of them if reached for, without reference to Committee on Finance.

Your Committee have noticed in the several accounts referred to them during the past year, a number of charges for glass and putty, no doubt to replace broken ones, and the charitable presumption is that the damage has been to a large extent the work of a catapult, a species of weapon much in vogue among youngsters at present, and recommend that the Principal take the necessary steps to prevent its use in or near the school grounds.

The library of references having the attention of your Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. E. SHAW, Chairman.

Mr. SHAW suggested the propriety of obtaining coal oil, hardware, &c., from one establishment, wherever they could be obtained the cheapest, so as to do away with the large number of small accounts. He also drew particular attention to the large sum paid during the year for putty and glass, and thought the Principal and teachers should enforce such rules as would prevent its further occurrence.

The PRINCIPAL stated that it was against the rules of the school to have any such articles as those mentioned in the report within school yards.

On motion the report was adopted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. EWART as Chairman of the Property Committee, reported, stating that Mr. Robert Rowe had made a survey of the Janitor's quarters in the Central School for the purpose of making an estimate of the probable cost of the proposed alteration therein, to enable the Board to use them as school rooms—and had also examined and estimated the cost of the fence on College street, and the grading between the two buildings, and repairing the existing fences on Murray street, and estimated the probable cost as follows :

Altering Janitor's Quarters	$225 00
Fence along College street	65 00
Repairing existing fence on Murray street	20 00
Raising platform in front of No. 1 building and grading	20 00
	$330 00

The report stated that to continue the stone wall and existing style of fence all along Murray street would cost at least, five hundred dollars—a sum larger than the Board would be willing to expend this year. The Committee recommend that the existing fence be repaired so as to do a few years longer, at a cost of about thirty dollars. The report suggested that the platform in front of No. 2 School be raised, at least one foot, cost of the grading between the two buildings thereby being lessened.

The report was on motion adopted.

TENDERS FOR WATER PIPES.

Mr. EWART submitted tenders from H. Best, Adam Hall and Brown & Hutchinson for the putting up of water pipes on the school buildings. Mr. Hall's tender being the lowest was accepted.

AUBURN SCHOOL.

Mr. DUMBLE said the committee appointed to look into matters connected with the Auburn School were not prepared to report fully to-night. He stated that the rate to be levied of people living in Dumble for the coming year would be less than heretofore.

REFERENCE OF COMMUNICATIONS.

On motion of Mr. DENNISTOUN, seconded by Mr. DONALDSON.—The communication of Mr. Johnston was referred to the Property Committee to report at next meeting.

In regard to Mr. Lewis' communication it was moved by Mr. DENNISTOUN, seconded by Mr. EMERSON,—That the resolution be amended by striking out the words "or any other chartered bank," and that the Secretary Billings in the Bank of Montreal that seven per cent. per annum is as high a rate as should be charged on the account,—Carried.

Moved by Mr. DUMBLE, seconded by Mr. EMERSON,—That the Committee on School Supervision be instructed to purchase one of the Electric Pens for the use of the school.

In amendment, Mr. EWART moved that the matter be referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Donaldson, Dumble, Hurst and Hamilton to report at next meeting.

The amendment on a division was declared lost and the original motion carried.

The Secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Johnston, Janitor of the Auburn School, asking for a return of the number of Roman Catholic children attending that school.

BY-LAW OF BOARD OF GUARDS.

The third reading of the By-law on Rules of Order was proceeded with, and after making some amendments the By-law was finally passed after a long and tiresome discussion.

The Board then adjourned.

A LAMENTABLE SUICIDE.

On Saturday morning our citizens were more than usually shocked to learn that Mr. F. W. Rubidge had shot himself. For some time, perhaps for over three years, it has been understood that he was more or less prone to mental disorder, but not to such a degree, until lately, as to cause any fear of complete insanity. Indeed, for some time since the first manifestations of disease of the mind, he carried on business as bookseller and stationer, although during that period there were appearances of mental eccentricities. He had to give up business during last winter, and since that time, and evidently during the last month he was in business, he was mentally unfit to carry it on. For however except intimate acquaintances, were aware of the [illegible] disordered imaginations [illegible] him. It is now understood that he has had strange notions of his own state. Sometimes considering himself Anti-christ, the embodiment of evil, at other times fancying himself on the throne of God controlling the world. An acquaintance informs us that he believed that he had been baptized with the Holy Ghost, descending in the shape of fire, and lighting upon him. Amid all these strange notions he was generally quiet, civil and harmless.

About a month ago he went to the drill shed, and asked to be shown through the armory which was done, after which he went away. On Friday morning last he went again, but as Mr. Scully, the caretaker, was from home, he said he would call again, and accordingly on Saturday morning returned, and at his request was shown through the armory, Mr. Scully suspecting nothing ; but while the keeper was looking one door he left him in the other room, which was contiguous, the doors being close together. Mr. Scully hearing a shot ran in and found him lying on the floor and one of the rifles thrown out of its place a few feet, but standing against the wall of the room. He had shot in a minute charged the rifle with cartridge, which he must have taken with him, and sitting down on a box placed the muzzle in the region of the heart against the left breast, and with his toe drew the trigger, having taken off his boot for the purpose as well as taking the precaution to cut the toe out of his sock to enable him to do so easily. Alarm was immediately given and Dr. W. H. Burritt was very soon there, but although there were gurglings of the heart life was about extinct. The ball entered a little below the apex of the heart but close to it, and is believed to have severed either the aorta, or the leading vein to the heart, causing immediate death, on examination it was found to have passed out in the back of the neck or shoulder and lodged in the ceiling of the room, where it was discovered. An inquest was held by Dr. Kincaid, coroner, and a verdict rendered to the effect that deceased shot himself while in a state of temporary insanity. We are informed that on Friday (his birthday) he appeared much more cheerful than usual, and was to all appearances in better spirits. On Saturday morning he rose early and visited his mother's, where he procured some medicine for his wife who was unwell at the time. Shortly afterwards he left the house and it was [illegible] had again gone to his mother's but instead had repaired to the drill shed where the rash act was committed. Deceased was 30 years of age, and was grandson of the late Capt. Rubidge, formerly Registrar of this county. He leaves a wife and three children for whom the greatest sympathy is expressed. His remains were followed to the Little Lake Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, by a large concourse of friends and relatives. The Members of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellowship turning out in large numbers to pay the last tribute of respect to a departed brother.

THE INQUEST.

On Saturday afternoon an inquest was held on the body when the following jury was empanelled :

J. Saulter, Foreman, F. Miller, E. Dunford, J. Mitchell, J. Glendenning, John McCombe, W. Brownscombe, J. C. Kennedy, W. Taylor, James Martin, John Frith and W. Langford.

After the Jury had been duly sworn, the Coroner, Dr. Kincaid, addressed them, and said it was their duty to enquire freely into the melancholy death of the deceased, who had been brought up amongst us, and was well-known to the citizens of Peterborough. Of late he believed that he was not compos mentis, and was under the impression that he should not be at large. The first witness called was

W. SCULLY, sworn said,—Have been acquainted with the deceased. Have known him for about 10 or 15 years. Deceased had been a member of the Volunteer force. Have not seen deceased for several months until this morning, when he came to the Drill Shed. I was out at the time. This was about nine o'clock. My wife sent my little boy for me, and when I returned the deceased was in the Drill Shed. Deceased asked me to show him through the armories—there are four—after we had been gone through them, and when in the last, I went out to look the one that we had been in previous, and when in the act of looking it I heard the report of a gun. When I came back to the armory that I left the deceased in I found the door closed. I opened the door and went in. Found the deceased lying on his right side with his feet towards the door. I put my hand on deceased and spoke to him. He was then breathing. He made no answer. I then went and told Mr. J. Delaney that Mr. Rubidge had shot himself in the armory. Mr. Delaney came over with me. I think deceased was dead when I returned. I then sent a messenger for Dr. W. H. Burritt, on whose arrival deceased was removed from the armory to the Drill Shed. Deceased did not ask for a gun, and spoke no rationally to any man could. I noticed nothing unusually in his appearance. He seemed to give me no reason for asking to go through the armory. There are no cartridges in the guns or in the armory. When I opened the door I saw deceased lying on the floor with his hat off. His left boot was also off. I discovered no blood on the floor. I did not look for the boot. I heard the air escaping out through the bullet hole in his coat, which was torn. This is all I know about the death of the deceased.

To the Jury—There is no ammunition in any of the armories. Did not know that the deceased was of unsound mind. It is customary to show people through the armories. Deceased made no particular mention about any of the guns. I was not over a quarter of a minute from I left deceased until I heard the report. He could lend the breech-loading rifle in that time. Deceased was at the Drill Shed yesterday and enquired for me, but I was out. Deceased was not in the room when the report was heard. The caretaker is kept in a room with the shutters and not with the guns.

Dr. W. H. BURRITT, sworn, said—I was called to about nine o'clock this morning by a student of Dr. H. C. Burritt's, who told me that Mr. Rubidge had shot himself in the Drill Shed. I proceeded to the Drill Shed after I obtained my box of instruments. I found deceased as described by the previous witness. I put my hand on his wrist to feel his pulse, but my fingers being cold I could not say whether his pulse was beating or not. As the nurse was too dark to make an examination I had deceased removed from the armory into the Drill Shed. I then laid my hand on his heart and thought I heard a murmur. There was blood coming from the mouth and nostrils. I asked Scully where deceased had shot himself ; Scully said he thought in the abdomen ; but I found on examination that the wound was in the chest. I then probed it and found that the wound commenced about two inches below the apex of the heart and extended upwards and backwards. At the time I was under the impression that it had cut off the arteries going to, or coming from the heart. I thought I heard a murmur of the heart, which could not have taken place had the bullet entered it. The injury of these vessels would be sufficient to cause the death of the deceased.

The rifle was here produced when the shell of the cartridge was said to be that of a government cartridge of this year, but there was no evidence as to where the deceased obtained it. The bullet was found by Mr. Lamb in the cutting of the room, and was much bruised.

T. B. CLEMENT sworn said,—I am acquainted with the deceased. Was in the habit of seeing him frequently for over a year. I noticed of late a change in his mental condition. He was particularly affected on religious points. He imagined himself the Anti-Christ. He was vague and peculiar in all his conversations, and would exclaim, "this is nothing, hold on until the second book opens." Know of no particular cause for this state of mind.

TO THE JURY.—He would talk incoherently on music, but particularly on religion. I am perfectly satisfied that he was mentally deranged.

This being all the evidence adduced, the Jury after a few moments deliberation, brought in a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death by his own hand, while in a state of mental derangement.

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

(From the Ottawa Herald. Roman Catholic)

The defeat sustained by the Conservative party in the Province of Quebec, is without exception, the most disagreeable and disheartening reverse of fortune that has overtaken them for a number of years. The returns from constituencies, which they regarded as theirs, then and forever, rolled in upon them with appalling effect, as they proclaimed victory after victory for the hated and much maligned Rouges. The result was scarcely anticipated by the most sanguine friends of the Liberals, and its effect on the Conservative party throughout Canada is all the more depressing, since it has been narrowed grounds on which to build their hopes for the Federal elections. For our part we regard Provincial politics as being entirely independent of Dominion politics, and along with every well-wisher of the Province of Quebec, we heartily rejoice at Mr. Joly's success, and at the severe rebuff given to a party, that had done all in its power during its tenure of office, to reduce the [illegible] bankrupcy, and to corrupt [illegible] system. The Bleu party was, in the fullest sense of the word, an "organised hypocrisy." They claimed to be more virtuous politically and socially, than the Rouges, whom they held up to the unthinking masses, as the enemies of religion, persecutors of the clergy, and haters of the Catholic Church. They succeeded admirably in their role of dissimulation : and instead of relying upon their merits as men or as statesmen, they never failed to resort to the contemptible policy of intimidating [illegible] to aid them in their political besides. The true Bleu candidate fortified himself with certificates and divers documents to prove that he he was an bon Catholique, and then went into the field, not to prove by certain items of administration were correct or incorrect, but to convince his hearers that his opponent was an abominable Rouge, an enemy of the Church, and a man who, had he the power, would hang, draw and quarter every priest in the country. Of such a style of political warfare we entertain an ineffable horror and detestation ; such a stereotyped system of pharisaical hypocrisy we abhor and for the party who played the cowardly game throughout so many years, we do not feel any sympathy in their downfall and destruction. Clerical influence was very generally complained of, and not without good reason, but in nineteen cases out of twenty, unprincipled politicians were to blame, and not the clergy whose names, were often used with unwarrantable impunity. Nor did Bleu candidates hesitate to resort to the ministers of the Catholic Church the most damnable calumnies against their opponents, who never deigned to stoop to so unmanly a manner of conducting a contest. Retribution has at length overtaken them, and they have fallen in the midst of their iniquity, "unwept, unhonored and unsung."

Signs.

People who still adhere to the look-at-your-tongue-and-feel-of-your-pulse doctor sometimes express not a little curiosity in regard to Dr. R. V. Pierce's original method of diagnosing all forms of chronic disease without personal consultation. Some even suppose that he accomplishes this through clairvoyance, or some other species of professional jugglery. All this is utterly false. He claims to determine disease by the rational method. [illegible] Cyclopedia, New York State, speaking of this distinguished physician : "He perceived that in each of the natural sciences the [illegible] according to a system of signs. The geologist in his cabinet accurately determines and describes the diet of rock, he has never seen, from the minute specimen on his table. And the chemist in his laboratory notes the constituents of the sun with the same precision that he analyses a crystal of rock salt. The analogous system developed by Dr. Pierce in Medical Science is worthy of his genius, and has made his name justly celebrated." For a full explanation of this ingenious system of diagnosis, see the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent, post-paid, to any address on receipt of one dollar and fifty cents. Two Questions Easily Answered.

Why should men wear beards ? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Brown's Pulmonic Wafers ?" Because when used for coughs, colds, hoarseness in the throat, bronchitis, &c., they not like a charm. Ministers and lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25 cts. a box.

A Bachelor's "Psalm of Life"

AFTER LONGFELLOW—A GOOD DEPARTS.

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Single blessedness' a dream.
For the man is mad that marries
Girls that are not what they seem.

Life is real, as soon then learnest,
And the altar's not its goal;
Feed then art in very earnest,
If to wed then seek'st thy soul.

Calm enjoyment and not sorrow,
Is the bachelor's end and aim;
If he marries, each to-morrow
Finds him deeper still in pain.

Girls are false, their beauty fleeting,
Tho' our hearts be stout and brave;
Wives, our every wish defeating
Soon would lead us in the grave.

In this wretch hymal field of battle,
In tame free and-dreamy life;
Wife-pin, like-dumb drummer-cattle,
We're not slave to any wife.

Trust no woman, howe'er pleasant,
She will soon deceive our heart;
Be not like some simple peasant,
Victim to her cunning arts.

Lives of married men remind us
We can make our lives a curse,
And departing leave behind us
Widows who have modern purse.

Widows, that perhaps another
Wandering o'er life's ocean,
Foolish and mistaken brother
Struggles to escape in vain.

Oh, young brethren! heed this warning
Hear it ere it be too late,
Now on you in life just dawning
Now perhaps you think to mate.

Hear the words of those who've tried it
Those who have been there' the mill;
They will teach you to decide it
By remaining single still.

He, who trusts the best, discerneth
Finds no vows not born to wed,
In thy soul it love chose beneath
Crush it leave it still wanted.

Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate.
Save of life to make a ruin;
By entering on the married state.

CHRIST'S SECOND COMING.

The Twentieth Chapter of Revelations Explained—The Whole Book the Record of a Vision—The Language Highly Symbolic—The First Resurrection is from the death of Sin and not from the Grave.

On Sunday evening, 5th instant, Rev. Mr. Bell, of St. Andrew's Church, delivered his promised sermon on the 20th Chapter of Revelations. His text was as follows:—

"And I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was given unto them; and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their forehead or in their hands, and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in first resurrection; on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years."—Rev. xx. 4, 5, 6.

Rev. Mr. Bell spoke as follows:—On previous occasions we established clearly and conclusively, we think, from the words of Jesus and His apostles, that Christ's Second Advent shall not take place before the general resurrection and judgment at the last day; and that there shall be only one resurrection—that general resurrection including both the righteous and the wicked—when Jesus comes. The only portion of the inspired word which seems to stand in the way of these conclusions is that before us to-night. On it others have built up theories and drawn conclusions, which are directly opposed to the views we have already advanced concerning both the time and the attendant circumstances of Christ's coming. From it is attempted to be shown that the martyrs and saints shall rise from their graves and sit on thrones, living and reigning with Jesus; that that resurrection shall be at Christ's Second Advent, when He comes to set up a personal reign on the earth and occupy a literal throne in Jerusalem; that the length of that reign shall be literally a thousand years; that this thousand years shall constitute the Millennium, and consequently the Second Advent must be pre-millenial. Now let it be observed here that there is not a single syllable in the passage that connects the "living and the reigning" of the saints with the Second Advent, and not a syllable to show that the living and the reigning, whatever the terms may mean, are to be personal, individual, after-resurrection experiences of the martyrs and saints in the presence of the personal Lord seated on an earthly throne, either in Jerusalem or any where else. Don't let us forget that this book of Revelation is the record of a vision in which the great outlines of the church's history and experience in the world—her constant conflict with darkness, and their respective reverses and successes at different times, from the first planting of the gospel till the kingdom is complete—are passed in scenic representation before John.

THE LANGUAGE THROUGHOUT IS HIGHLY SYMBOLIC,

the symbols representing other and very different things in actual life, and their times representing greater times in their actual fulfilment. To dogmatize on the apparent teaching of symbols, and then to support that dogma, to isolate and press into the same mould the pain, direct and unquestioned utterances of Jesus and His apostles, is a course of interpretation as useless as it is unsafe, and where adopted can only confuse, if not altogether pervert the scriptures. It is always safer to let Jesus and His apostles interpret the symbol, than that the symbol should interpret them. We prefer the safer course, and hope that when we have done we shall have no reason to believe that there is anything in the words before us to shake our faith in what we have already established, namely, the Second Advent at the end of the world, and one general resurrection then for both the "just and the unjust." Turning now to the verses before us, the fourth begins: "And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them." Here are thrones—

THE SYMBOLS OF POWER,

authority, power, and government—brought before us, and they are occupied by them to whom the right of judgment is given. But when we come to ask, who are they who sit on these thrones? the passage does not tell us. It only answers they, and we are left to find an answer for ourselves. Some learned men, such as Alford, say "the saints;" others like Fawcett say "the twelve apostles;" and others again say "the martyrs." Which of them are we to believe? There is no word in the original for saints, the apostles are not once named and because the souls of martyrs are mentioned further down the verse, are we to conclude that the martyrs are meant? This is all mere conjecture—wrong it emphatically—have assumptions, and without one solid reason to support it. It is opposed to the commonest usage of all spoken and written language. In speaking or writing we invariably use the pronoun as a substitute for some noun previously expressed or already understood. Therefore, [illegible] shown the nouns for the noun to which the pronoun "they" refers, and here represents, we must look back to something already stated. And looking back into the previous verse the [illegible] the verb sat will admit of a nominative, and for which the pronoun is here the substitute, is the word ethos, translated—nations. So that the nations no longer under the influence of the dragon—no longer deadened and ruled by the power of darkness rise up to take their place on Christ's side, and have authority and government committed to them, and they rule and judge for Christ. And then who knew anything of the history of the world and the church, knew that, since mediæval days subsequent to Christ, Christ first—the beast—and the mail of the dragon and beast under the gospel, and so nearest to Christ, have hitherto had, and have now, the highest and the foremost places in honour, and authority, and power in the world; and sit on thrones, not only as regards the church, but as judges and assessors also, on the civil governments of the earth. And as the history of the world advances it is true that, as nations are freed from the presence and the influence of the agents of error and superstition, and apostacy and permit and encourage the kingdom of Christ, they in proportion rise to places of honour and influence among the nations round them. Then instead of the words before us, giving countenance to a literal resurrection, and thereafter an earthly reign of the martyrs and saints with Jesus for a thousand years, they teach us that living nations [illegible] from the dragon's yoke—shall rise up on the side of Christ, and exalted to places of authority and judgement shall rule and reign for Him. This fairly indicates a time of great prosperity for the Church. The verse goes on "And I saw the souls of them that were beheaded, for the witness of Jesus and the Word of God." There is not a word here either about the Second Advent or the resurrection of the martyrs. These souls, as plainly as the words can, tell us that they are neither in this life nor in the resurrection state. They simply and plainly speak of the souls of them that were beheaded, [illegible] nothing more—of souls still in that condition in which souls exist after death, and in which they have neither a body of flesh, nor a resurrection body. The next words, "And which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years," are it must be confessed, a little mis-leading to the ordinary reader. They seem to be governed by the verb saw, the relative which having for its antecedent the word souls. The word translated which (ethines) is in the Greek a compound relative, and is in the nominative case, and ought to be translated who soever. With this change, which we cannot disregard, this clause gives the widest application to the privilege and the honor of living and reigning with Jesus. Not only the nations converted, and the souls of the martyrs, but also

ALL WHO DID NOT WORSHIP THE BEAST,

nor receive his mark—all who remains faithful to Jesus in spite of the influence of the beast, whatever period he may occupy—shall share the honor here accorded to the triumphant martyrs. In the sixth chapter of this book we have the church represented as in distress, and, persecuted—the martyrs blood flowing—and from beneath the altar we hear the cry of the souls that were slain: "How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?" In this chapter we have an advanced state of the church represented—the dragon is chained, and the faith for which the martyrs suffered now triumphs. The blood shed for Jesus sake is now avenged, and the souls no more, not beneath the altar, but reigning with Jesus. From beginning to end then of this verse, there is nothing to support either the resurrection of the saints or the Second Advent, or the personal reign of Jesus on the earth. It plainly tells us of gospel triumphs. The time indicated by a

"THOUSAND YEARS"

we do not wait to discuss here, as that is not pertinent to our present enquiry, and we pass on to the next verse. "But the rest of the dead lived not again till the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection." It must disappoint those who rest their theories on this verse to know that the oldest Codex of the New Testament in existence, the "Codex Sinaiticus," and the oldest version known, the "Syriac" and twenty other copies, have not the words "the rest of the dead lived not again till the thousand years," and the Codices which have them vary in the words used, so that there is, to say the least considerable doubt gathered round them, and if we do not reject them altogether, we must receive them with caution; and certainly no wise man, would, in the absence of plain, direct, and unquestioned teaching elsewhere risk his case on their authority. We have only to read the verse to see that there is a break in the sense. The words "this is the first resurrection" can only intelligibly refer to the state of things represented in the fourth verse, and by looking back there we may be able to learn something of the nature of this first resurrection. Let us fix our thoughts:

"THE FIRST RESURRECTION"

is predicted of that state of things represented in the fourth verse—rather it is the event from which that state or things has evolved—from which, as a consequence. The triumphant state of the nations, the martyrs, and those who did not worship the beast, has come. But the nations to sit on thrones and to have judgment committed to them have only to be freed from the power and influence of the dragon, consequently their honor is one to be enjoyed in this life; and if the results of the "first resurrection" are to be enjoyed in this life, then the resurrection itself is a change which must take place in this life—a change in, and through, and on account of which nation's renounce Satan's authority, and turn to Christ, and rule for Him. And if nations can thus undergo the "first resurrection," so also individuals, and hence martyrs and all who refused honor and worship to the beast. The "first resurrection" and the living and reigning with Christ then, are not by any means experiences to be confined to a period after men have put on the resurrection body and left behind them their empty graves. They are experiences to be enjoyed here, and if so, what can the "first resurrection" be? The word here translated resurrection is anastasis, and is used elsewhere in the New Testament to denote a rising from the death of sin to newness of life in Jesus Christ, so that the man who is quickened by God's grace and spirit and who stands by faith in Jesus Christ and has passed from death to life, has experienced the anastasis. Luke ii 34, John xi. 25, Eph. v, 14, are examples. Moreover, both Jesus and Paul make a distinct reference to the one from the death of sin, and the other from the state of the dead. In John v. 25, Jesus tells us "that the hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear shall live." And not only the words themselves, but the previous connection require the interpretation to be of the dead in sin hearing and being converted unto God. It is the man's first anastasis,—a rising from the death of sin to life in Jesus. In the 28th and 29th verses of the same chapter Jesus says again. "The hour is coming when all that are in the graves shall hear His voice and come forth." This is future, and shall not be experienced till the Son of Man shall come with a shout for judgment. That is the second resurrection. Paul again, in Phil. iii. 10, 11, tells of his longing desire to know Christ and to be found in Him, and to have an His righteousness, that he may know the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings, if by any means he might attain unto the resurrection from the dead. The "having our Christ's righteousness, the knowing Him and the power of His resurrection are evidently spoken of as the present privilege, for the Apostle is striving after them with the view of making sure his interest in the future resurrection of the dead. He wanted to know the anastasis then that by any means he might attain to the exanastasis to come. From this united testimony of Jesus and Paul we are entitled to accept the conclusion that the "first resurrection" is a spiritual one—it is of the soul from the death of sin to end of the body from the grave. And who can deny that this rising from the death of sin is then by whosoever are united unto Jesus' life and made such in Him—that by which the martyrs were led to faithful to the death, and by which to-day, too, from the multitude of the [illegible]

TWO RESURRECTIONS,

Jesus changed, are turned to the Lord and exalted to places of honor, and authority, and judgment in the earth? The next verse, read in the light of 1 Peter ii, 5, 9, 10, establishes what we have just advanced on the authority of Jesus and Paul beyond controversy. The sixth verse reads,—

"Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him a thousand years."

That from Peter reads,—

"Ye also as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light," &c.

In the one portion we are told that those who have part in the "first resurrection" are blessed and holy, and on them the second death hath no power, and they shall be priests of God and Christ; and in the other we are told that those very blessings and honors which belong to them who have had part in the "first resurrection" belong to all believers; from which plain statements we conclude that all who are blessed, and holy, and on whom the second death has no power, and are priests of God and Christ, have had part in the "first resurrection;" but all true believers in Christ are blessed and holy, and are priests of God and Christ, and on them the second death hath no power; therefore, all true believers in Christ have had part in the "first resurrection." And again—all who have had part in the first resurrection share the holy reign and happiness of the millenium period; but all true believers in Christ have had part in the first resurrection: therefore all true believers in Christ share the holy reign and happiness of the millenium period. And if all true believers in Christ share the reign and happiness of the millenium period, the irresistible conclusion is—and the Second Advent instead of preceding shall follow the millenium, and there shall be but one literal resurrection of men from their graves, including saints and sinners alike, when the Lord comes in His glory for judgment, and to deliver up the completed kingdom to the Father. Thus we think it clear that this portion of the word, when fairly interpreted, gives no countenance whatever to the notion that Christ Second Advent shall be pre-millenial, and none to the notion of a literal resurrection of the martyrs and saints apart from the general resurrection at the end of the world, and not a letter that will afford the shadow of an excuse for saying that Christ will reign personally with His saints on the earth for a thousand years. The "first resurrection" is a rising from the death of sin to a life of righteousness and holiness in the Lord, and those who have had part in it need have no fear of the second death, whether they rise from their graves to reign with Jesus for a thousand years in Jerusalem or not; their life is now in Christ, and they shall live in Him and be glorified with Him. They may wait His coming with perfect confidence, and whether it be in a week or a year, or a thousand, or three hundred and sixty-five thousand years, with them it shall be well. Meanwhile we believe the church has a glorious time before her, and generation after generation shall rise higher in faith and holiness than the one preceding, and shall increase as saints never before increased in holy fellowship and communion with God, and for anything we can tell, men more favored than either Moses, or David, or Paul shall yet appear—their lives being fuller reflections of the Saviour's life than has ever yet been known on earth or but of heaven. May the Lord hasten it in His time.

[The above sermon was unavoidably held over from last issue.—Ed.]

GOOD WORDS OF CANADA.

The London Daily Telegraph has the following editorial reference to the resources of Canada:—

It would be a curious subject of inquiry how many Englishmen really understand all that is implied in the phrase "the resources of Canada," and whether any Englishmen are aware that these resources include nearly everything which England wants to complete and supplement her own materials of prosperity. As to a field for emigration that is wanted for the surplus of our home population? Then here we have in a purely British dependency an extent of territory almost equal to the whole of Europe, containing in its centre province alone one hundred and sixty millions of acres available for farming or grazing purposes, but embracing altogether "a marvellous breadth of fertile and unoccupied land, with a healthy invigorating climate," enjoying free institutions, and already the home of a peaceful, loyal, industrious, and contented people. Is it sources of food supply for the mother country? The rich and easily cultivated soil of Canada now yields a large surplus for export, which is capable of indefinite extension; its cattle are shipped over to English markets in thousands tending to amount to millions; it has ready means of internal communication by its rivers and railways; and it has inexhaustible fisheries in the lakes and streams. Are minerals, metals, timber, or the raw material of many manufactures wanted? We are officially told that, besides immense deposits of coal, there are iron ore, petroleum, salt, and the precious metals, not only in the vast undeveloped interior, but also on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards. We have but to put a laborious people in possession of these elements of agricultural and industrial prosperity, we have only to increase tenfold the present population of four millions, and we shall then have a source of imperial strength and a constant market for our manufactures which would enable us to look with comparative indifference on hostile or discriminating tariffs in foreign States. The facts upon which such speculations may be founded were detailed at length in a most interesting paper from the pen of Mr Sandford Fleming, the engineer-inchief of the Canadian Pacific Railway, read at the Royal Colonial Institute on Tuesday evening; and they were supplemented by the remark, now happily too familiar to require enforcement, that the Canadians "are proud to be British subjects, and by no means unwilling to join in the trials and struggles of the mother country." Canada is growing rapidly; the greatest part of its vast extent will ere long be connected by a railway which will one day reach the Pacific; and the very best service Englishmen can render to the Empire of which they are so justly proud is to replenish, strengthen and build up, that North American Britain which will guard their interests loyally in one hemisphere, and add, by material power and moral influence, to their safety as well as grandeur.

Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.

The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamic and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive, Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and sanitizes the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c., should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PETTIT'S EYE-SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye such as chronic, Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of the most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, com, pounded with elaborate care and exactness—safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. Ringworm and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the American Eye-Salve. It is used successfully for Piles. It is used successfully for Piles. It its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

DE OLD CAMP MEETIN'.

(From the Lansdowne Journal.)

Come, brederin', git in de golden car,
Pack's room for you an' you an' you dar;
Come, not down on de numbers neat,
Kase dis am sure an' 'tisfien's sweet.

Chorus.—Run scrape an' 'Jinwright now in de ban',
An' take de chicken by de han',
We bound for glory in de happy lan'
Ain't no sufferin' dar, up dar.

Put down slippers on your feet
When you walk along in de golden street,
Kase de angles always on de square;
Dey'll k'lect you out ob dar lobby sight,
If you're full ob sin, and your soul ain't right.

Shout, sing, kase de time am nigh
When you put on wings for to fit to fly,
An' dem what prays an' de lowdes' sings
Am de ones w'ot w'ars de biggest wings,

Brederin' sisterin' ! lif your eyes
An' fix dar guns on de starlight skies,
Kase de Lord am good an' de Lord am kind,
If you can't see it you must be blin'.

Don't set down upon your seat,
But rise up, brederin, to your feet,
An' shout for glory 'till you're sick,
An' git dat 'ligion—cure you quick.

ROWDYISM RAMPANT.

Closing Scenes of the Dominion Parliament—How the Tory Rowdies Conducted Themselves—Disgraceful Proceedings.

(Ottawa Correspondence London Advertiser.)

On Thursday night, when Mr. D. A. Smith was not in the House, Sir John Macdonald charged that the Pembina Branch Bill had been introduced merely in order to reward a member of the House for his servile support of the Government, and that this member had been compelled to admit that he was interested in this monopoly. Consequently, when the House met next day Mr. Smith rose to a personal explanation. He characterised the insinuation as most unfair and unjustifiable, and showed that what the Government had done was in the interest of the country and that his act is reference thereto was in the interest of the Province and not himself personally. He took up the various statements made by Sir John and Dr. Tupper, reflecting upon himself, and dealt with them at length. He denied most emphatically that he had ever asked a favor from this or any Government for himself or anyone else, and said it was cowardly on the part of hon. members opposite to go hawking charges of that character about the country. He declared that he was approached prior to the defeat of the Government of Sir John Macdonald, but denied that he had ever promised to give them his support after the circumstances had become known to him. He had proposed a very different course and had stated that the Government should confess their fault and go to the country, and that if the country condoned it, and the House condoned it, it would be a very different thing. This is what he proposed to the hon. gentleman.

Sir John Macdonald—Hear, hear.

Mr. Smith—The hon. Gentleman is altogether in the wrong. He had seen the hon. gentleman himself in the room. He (Smith) had been sent for. Mr. Mitchell was in the room, and in justice to Mr. Mitchell he would state that he (Mitchell) at public meetings had stated that he was perfectly justified in doing as he had done.

Dr. Tupper asked the hon. gentleman to refer to a single meeting in which such a statement was made.

Mr. Smith said he could bring any number of gentlemen—gentlemen who were highly respectable and whose word would be taken all over this country and all over the world too. On the occasion he spoke of he thought it was in room No. 6 or 5. The hon. gentleman did try to persuade him to vote for him (Sir John), and the hon. gentleman did not dare to say that he (Smith) had said he would support him. The hon. gentleman had said that if not supported now he would appeal to the country. The hon. gentleman had said on another occasion, speaking of Selkirk, that it was a rotten borough, but on this occasion he had stated that Ontario was a rotten borough, and that his whole system had failed him if Ontario was not with him. (Cheers.)

Sir John rose excitedly and denied that there was a word of truth in the whole statement.

Mr. Smith,—The hon. gentleman says he did not say so. Well, if he did not say it, it was the spirit within him that said it. (Laughter). These were the words uttered by the right hon. gentleman, as sure as he (Smith) was alive. Did not the hon. member for Cumberland tell him that he (Sir John) was not competent to know what he said when speaking to him (Smith)? Would the hon. gentleman deny this? Would the hon. member for Cumberland deny saying that as soon as the right hon. gentleman was capable of—

Order, order, was heard on all sides.

Mr. Smith said he did not look upon it as a private conversation. He was not for as a member of the House by the right hon. gentleman who was leader of the House. Did the hon. gentleman say that was a private matter? Would the hon. gentleman deny that when he met him the next morning, when in company with Mr. White, he was going to the Minister of Customs' house, he had not said to him that as soon as it was possible to make the right hon. gentleman understand right from wrong the world—

Dr. Tupper interrupted and asked if the hon. gentleman would allow him five minutes in which to reply to the statement that he (Smith) had never asked for a favor from the late Government.

Mr. Smith—I never asked any favor and never yet asked any favor from the late Government.

Dr. Tupper (amid great laughter) stated that the late gentleman had entered into a compact with Privy Councillor [illegible]

[illegible] got a great deal [illegible]

A Lady Badly Burnt at Blairton.

Mrs. Aunger, wife of Mr. J. L. Aunger, of Blairton, was the subject of a most painful accident at that place, recently. While she was melting on the stove a compound, with which to polish furniture, it took fire, and in her endeavors to remove the vessel containing it, or to extinguish the fire, the flames ignited her garments, with which it is supposed a quantity of the mixture came in contact, and in a few moments she was enveloped in flames. Her son, a boy who was present, threw a pail of water over her and put out the flames, or she would have soon perished. Her hands and arms were terribly burnt, and her chest, neck and part of her face shared the same fate, though not so seriously. To make her condition still worse, in her fright she fell over chairs, and bruised herself, and tore away the skin and flesh from the parts affected. Her injuries it was at first thought, would prove fatal; but we are glad to learn there are hopes of her recovery. The unfortunate lady suffered most intense pain, and is as helpless as an infant.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

A petition signed by the ratepayers of the village is now ready for presentation to the Village Council asking for the submission of a By-law granting $30,000 to the Bobcaygeon and Lindsay Railway.

A preliminary conference was held on Wednesday, at Dunsfordville, between a few of the residents in that neighborhood and a deputation from this village consisting of Mr. Read, Mr. Snowden, Dr. McCamus, and Mr. Howson. The object was to consider the best means of bringing the claims and advantages of the Bobcaygeon and Lindsay project before the ratepayers, with a view to obtaining a bonus from the section. It was resolved to call a Public Meeting at the Corners for Wednesday next. The station will be on the most suitable portion of the line nearest to the village, and Mr. Snowden is ready to erect a steam Grist Mill at the station as soon as the line is open. It is proposed to ask the ratepayers to give a subsidy of about two mills and a half on the dollar, or $2 50 on the thousand dollars of assessment.

We understand that the Bobcaygeon By-law will be submitted at once, and it is proposed to take votes on the Sheriff's By-law and the Lindsay By-law at the earliest date convenient. The Verulam and Harvey By-laws will be submitted later. Lindsay, Dunsfordville, and Bobcaygeon, being on the line, will be taken first.—Independent.

MEN WHO MAKE JOURNALISTS

It has been remarked that very few men who get into journalism start out with such intentions. They drift in accidentally, are promoted as they develop capacity. Money, wealthy parents, and influence are of no sort of service in getting a young man a place on a newspaper. There is no business that is so entirely independent of all these considerations as this. A wealthy father can easily get his son a location to read law or medicine, or push him forward in almost any rank in life he may select: but he is utterly powerless to do anything for him in a journalistic way. To be sure he may buy a newspaper, and set up in that way, but unless there is is something in him called "journalistic knack," a natural knowledge of what to write and how to write it, he will be a failure in that line, and all the money and influence of wealthy and perhaps powerful relatives will count for nothing. Some fond parents educate their sons with the special view of making journalists of them; but it is rare that we hear of these young men after a few years. Meanwhile, some scrub, born among the hills, having nothing more than a common school education, and the knowledge scraped up in a country printing-office, will advance to the front rank in the profession. He has the journalistic knack, and forces recognition because he has it. He goes into a good position, not because he has wealthy parents to influence the proprietors of leading newspapers, but because he knows what to write and how to write it. His articles go in because they supply a demand, while perhaps the elaborate essays of a man educated on two continents are cast into the waste-basket.

The Examiner,

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 23, 1878

MR. BERTRAM FOR WEST PETERBOROUGH.

At a large and influential Public Meeting of the Reformers of West Peterborough, held on Monday evening, Mr. Bertram, agreed to the urgent request of his fellow electors and therefore is again the standard bearer for the representation of the constituency in the House of Commons. Since his first election, made memorable by an attempt by the Returning officer to defraud him of his seat and the people of their chosen representative; his public career has been an honourable one, though modest withal. A good speaker, he has not attempted to waste the time of Parliament, and the money of the public in the mere gratification of a desire to be heard, as the case with too many of the members of the House of Commons who have an overweening opinion of their own personal greatness. Whenever Mr. Bertram rises to address the House, his fellow members know he has something to say worth listening to; and the reports of his speeches prove not only that he has brought his subject under the light of strong common sense and practical illustration, but that he also knows how to present his points in a compact and incisive manner. He is just the kind of representative West Peterborough wants, as far as ability, sensible modesty and honourable dealing are concerned. His support of the present administration is another reason for his acceptance, with the electors, being given, on the strong ground of conviction for which he is so well known among his fellow electors in the County of Peterborough. For the political faith that in in him he is able, as he has ever been willing when called on, to give plain and particular reasons. First and foremost as advocate of British connection he feels that it can the more easily be maintained by the retention in power of a Ministry having the confidence of the Home Government; and that it would be endangered by any sign that the people of Canada could be so forgetful of their honour as to even look to a return to power of those men who in 1872 proved recreant to the public trust and degraded so deeply the position of a British colonial Cabinet. Then too, Free Trade England could hardly smile sweetly on a child that preferred Protectionists to places of power, and thus strained the commercial connection between the now pleased parent and her loyal child—a material bond that helps to cement the tenderer and deeper sentied political union. For reasons of justice to the various parts of the Canadian Confederation, and looking to the closest relationships of the Provinces, the present—and we believe future—representative of West Perborough cannot but oppose Protectionist doctrines as mischievous to Canada internally as well as externally. Not only does he recognize the cleanion of the provinces in a protection policy; he sees in it the laying of an unequal burden of taxation on the great producing classes—the farmer, the mechanic and the labourer—the hope of the country, as they are the main constitution and basis of the capabilities of his Country. Intelligent regard for their interests has begotten such confidence in Mr. Bertram, in the minds of his constituents, that they will show him his confidence in them is not misplaced when he appears for re-election.

TORY TURBULENCE.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a description of the scene which disgraced the last hour of the formerly disgraced session of the Dominion Parliament, just closed. In it the ex-Premier appears, as he has appeared before. His battle-holder, Dr. Tupper, strongly seconded him in his shameful conduct, and others of the Tory party present showed that they too possessed the peculiar party spirit of intolerance and crookyism. Instances of the display of this characteristic among Tories when they were being ejected of the gifts or influence, will [illegible] the contemplation of most of our readers. Just what can be expected from a party, the leader of which strikes a fellow-citizen on a public hustings, threatens on the floor of Parliament to "rip the ——— stripe" of another member, and places his fist under the nose of a third gentleman and threatens to "kick" him "quicker'n ——— could scratch a feather!" These and other discreditable acts of their "Chieftain" must Conservatives are too ready to imitate; and all to overlook; while the Tory papers one and all defend the shame, not by apology, but by attempted justification of what is cognizably wrong.

As [illegible] last, [illegible] of admitting even a tittle of Tory error, the party papers pretend to look on each word and gesture of Sir John and his companions with admiration for the virtue they displayed; and poor old Donald A. Smith, at whose head the epithets "cowed" and "liar" were flung, receives all the subsequent Tory blame, as well as the original Tory abuse. We do not greatly wonder at this, for Mr. Smith is earnestly hated by Sir John Macdonald and his present following, though they all expressed great admiration for him when he was one of themselves. But he, like a good many more Conservatives of that day, could not swallow the Pacific Scandal, and, in spite of all the prayers and promises of Sir John and his fellow-sinners of the Cabinet, refused to vote with them more, till they acknowledged their offence and asked the forgiveness of the country they had dishonoured. For this he has never been forgiven; and he is at all times an object for the bitterness of Tory orators and Tory writers. He was assailed repeatedly during the pic-nic campaign; and has in season and out of season been the target for all sorts of accusations and innuendoes from tongue and pen. In spite of his great coolness and generally gentle bearing, Mr. Smith could not stand this sort of thing forever, especially from men so open to attack as those who pestered him with their vindictive attentions. So, when Dr. Tupper made a mean reference to him in the House, during his absence, the persecuted deemed patience no longer a virtue, and opened out on those who, as the sequel proved, were so unable to bear his revelations. He touched on a tender spot when he told of the attentions and offers he received from the Pacific Scandal sinners at the time they were tottering to their well-deserved fall; and those who had barked at his heels so long as to draw punishment on themselves, began to howl like veritable whipped curs. Now that they have once felt and shrank from the lash of the member for Selkirk, they may expect to experience further applications of it during the next Parliament, of which Mr. Smith is pretty certain to be a member—more so at least than Sir John Macdonald on a first vote.

THE SENATE AND THE PEMBINA RAILWAY.

We have in former articles made reference to the importance of securing railway communication from Winnipeg through Minnesota to Lake Superior, in order to facilitate the construction of that portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Red River eastward to join with the part now under construction from Port William westward. As the line from Thunder Bay to Winnipeg cannot be completed in less than four years, in any case, it is very desirable that a road be provided the Manitobans whereby they may secure more rapid and cheaper communication with the outer world than they now possess. To this end the Government sought to make some arrangement with an American line to connect at the boundary with the Pembina Branch of the Canada Pacific road, which is next to useless till such connection be made. An offer was made by the St. Paul and Pacific Railway, to lease the Pembina Branch for ten years, and the Government entered into negotiations looking to an arrangement to secure the desired object. A Bill was introduced in the House of Commons to permit the lease of the Pembina Branch in the same way as the Georgian Bay Branch—the terms to be approved by the House. This measure was adopted by the Commons, with some objection by Opposition members, the nature of which we shall notice presently. The Senate majority then took up the policy of obstruction and a Tory member of that House first introducing a resolution providing for a five year's term of the lease, instead of ten. This was plainly a defeat of the Bill, as there could be no lease effected for a less term than ten years as stated plainly by Mr. Mackenzie from his place. This plan of the Tories in the Senate was finally dropped for what they considered a better and equally sure one; and the time resolution was dropped for one calling for the submission of the terms of the lease for the approval of the Senate as well as the Commons before being agreed upon. This was carried in the Senate, the arrogant assumption of which was of course rebuked by the Commons, which popular branch re-affirmed its sole right to deal with such matters by a vote of 92 to 32, the vote being taken only on the call of Ministerialists, as the Opposition would fain have shunned the record of such an attempt to curtail the powers of the chamber directly responsible to the electors, and place an unprecedented power in a wholly irresponsible body. The Senate holding to their position the Bill fell through, to the great dissatisfaction of the people of Manitoba in whose particular interests it was framed.

The position of the Senate on this question is an utterly absurd one. It assumes a right never conceded to the House of Lords in England, the practice being that the approval of the people's representatives is sufficient authority for the Executive to enter into contracts. It would be preposterous were the Upper Chamber, completely free from popular control as it is, to have the power to deliberate upon, and through any mistaken idea or mere pretence, defeat the desires of the people so expressed by their representatives in the House of Commons. By the Canada Pacific Railway Act of 1874, the Executive was authorised to make contracts for the construction of that work, subject to the approval of the House of Commons alone. The same principal was recognised in the matter of contracts for the Georgian Bay Branch, and in support of it the Commons could not submit to the arrogant assumption of the senate, no matter how badly the Manitobans may want a railway outlet in the meantime.

Indeed the most diligent apologists of the Senate's action do not attempt to defend its position constitutionally; but content themselves with totally misrepresenting the case. Thus the Review last week stated that "Mr. Mackenzie "declined to give the details of the lease," when as a matter of fact no lease had been prepared, and a previous remark in the same Review prints distinctly told the truth[illegible] lease of the Bill "provided "that the lease should be submitted to the House." The Review's knowledge of the subject may further be judged from its statement as to the "St. Paul and Northern Pacific Railway," whereby it evidently means the St. Paul and Pacific, the Northern Pacific Railway being an entirely different road—on which travellers to and from Manitoba have reason to remember by reason of its charges.—The Review also asserts that Mr. Donald A. Smith, member in the Commons for Selkirk, was in the Conspiracy, and that he, "with characteristic want of decency, spoke in support of "this bill in which he had a direct pecuniary interest, refusing to give the names "of those associated with him." This is considerable of a creation from nothing; but from nothing it is made, as we shall see. In the debate on this question in the House of Commons on the 4th April Mr. Mackenzie distinctly stated that no lease had been prepared; that none would be effected till approved by the House; and that every care would be taken to include such terms as to freight rates, &c., as would protect the interests of the people. Even Mr. Thomas N. Gibbs, one of the Pacific Scandal Ministry, was so satisfied with this assurance of the Premier that he declared it would relieve all anxiety as to the proposed lease. Messrs. Ryan and Shultz, of Red River Rebellion indemnity fame, objected to a lease, and advocated running rights to Minnesota roads over the Pembina Branch. It was these worthies who first made reference to Mr. Donald A. Smith's interest in the proposition for a lease. Mr. Smith distinctly declared that he had no interest in the Company; and with that courtesy for which he is noted, especially towards Mr. Smith, Sir John Macdonald soon after rose and gave that gentleman the lie by stating that he had such interest as he denied. Mr. Smith then challenged a parliamentary demand for a denial; but it is almost needless to say this was not made. Yet the Review re-affirms the assertion so strongly denied, and expresses horror at Mr. Smith's shamelessness in speaking on a bill in which he had a pecuniary interest. So much for its fairness and veracity. But its logic is scarcely sound; for it can make no difference to the merits of the case whether the member for Selkirk be or be not pecuniarily interested. If so and the lease were entered upon, he would simply be disqualified from sitting in Parliament. Indeed with this consequence so plain we very much doubt if the opposition would have been so anxious to back the Bill if they were certain of the hated Smith's connection with the Company. Their whole contention, in Commons and Senate, as well as in the press is decidedly weak.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

As was supposed, the reported despatch, said to have been received from London at Ottawa, on Monday last, announcing that war between England and Russia was inevitable, was without foundation. The situation looks decidedly peaceable, and an early meeting of Congress, now seems absolutely certain. Whether Congress will be successful when it does meet is another, and if it is true that Count Andrassy has lost faith in its power to find a solution, an extremely doubtful matter. Count Schouvaloff is reported to have expressed his hopes to Lord Odo Russell, the British ambassador at Berlin, that a satisfactory arrangement would be reached, and that is good evidence that his mission has not been without result. It is said that he has succeeded in bringing about an understanding on certain points, and that others have been referred to Germany for arbitration. In consequence of the cessate at Constantinople the Turkish Minister of Marine has resigned and other changes in the Ottoman Cabinet are likely. The Turkish Commission to pacify the Musulman insurgents has returned to Constantinople unsuccessful. It is now declared the insurrection will have to run its coarse.

The Fenian excitement on the border has subsided.

The Reformers of the County of Victoria, will hold a Grand Demonstration at Lindsay on Tuesday the 28th of May. The Hon. A. MacKenzie, Premier, Hon. R. J. Cartwright, Hon. W. Laurier, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. S. C. Wood, Mr. J. Bertram, Esq., M. P. and others will address the meeting on the several political subjects of the day. Arrangements have been made with the Midland, Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay, Victoria and Niplssing Railways, to bring visitors to Lindsay and return at a single fair, Mr. MacKenzie and his Colleagues with other distinguished guests will be entertained at a Banquet in the evening.

Tory papers complain of the frequent uncomplimentary allusions made by the Reform press to Sir John Macdonald; and yet they are continually drawing attention to that by no means attractive personage by the most fulsome references to him. Here is a specimen from a paper in our immediate neighbourhood:—"The career "of Sir John Macdonald as a Minister "has been singularly free from any act of "even a doubtful character." After that what wonder is it that we should remind the poor fool who wrote it of the betrayal of Sir Allen McNab by his protege, the Double Shuffle, the payment to Riel, the Pacific Railway Sale, the lie to Lord Dufferin, the Ordnance Land fees, the Meylan payment, the retention of the Secret Service Fund surplus, not to say anything particularly of other instances of dishonesty, drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the part of Sir John A. Macdonald as a Minister.

As we anticipated, the Tory press is now trying to lay the blame of the long session of Parliament lately closed on the shoulders of the Ministry and its supporters. So determined are they to find fault that they complain that the Premier tried to silence discussion. In vain there was the length of the session, for the satisfaction of long-winded speakers like J. Burr Plumb, and Dalton McCarthy, of time-wasting interrupters of the Bogell stamp, and of the inebriate exhibitions of Campbell and others, his compatriots. Surely three months is long enough for the Opposition members of the House of Commons to express their views on the questions referred to Parliament, especially when these same complainants tell us that there were no measures of any importance anyway. What in the world did they want to talk about? The fact, is, that, beginning with the election of Speaker and the Debate on the address, the Opposition strove throughout the session to prolong the discussion. The Ministers were ready with their reports at the earliest possible moment, and as for the delay in voting of the supplies, the many Opposition amendments to going into committee and the long debates that took place on them, are the best proofs of where the responsibility rests. Many still, violent as the attitude of the Opposition was, they were unable to make any imputation against the Government. This is what hurts them sore.

Canada Temperance Act of 1878.

Many of our readers are congratulating themselves and the country upon the passage by the Dominion Parliament of the Temperance Act of 1878, which certainly reflects great credit upon the Hon. Mr. Scott, who proposed the bill on behalf of the Government, and upon those members of both Houses who for the time laid aside their political differences and heartily co-operated with each other and with the Government in perfecting the measure. We are extremely anxious that something better and more enduring than a mere outburst of enthusiastic joy from temperance people should follow the victory achieved in the halls of legislature. Earnest efforts should be put forth to make the country thoroughly acquainted with the provisions of the new Act, with a view to bringing it into operation in all places that are ready for its adoption. The Act is an additional recognition of the necessity for legislative action with reference to the liquor traffic. In its preamble the desirability of promoting temperance in the Dominion is clearly stated. The new Act repeals the Dunkin Act in the entire Provinces of Quebec, except in the Counties of Argenteuil, Missisquoi, Richmond and Brome, and the local municipalities will continue to enjoy the advantages of the Dunkin Act so long as they see fit to do so, but when once repealed it ceases to be applicable to them and cannot again be submitted. The new Act may be voted upon in any of the counties where the Dunkin Act is now in force, and, if adopted, it ipso facto repeals the Dunkin Act as far as that county is concerned. It applies only to cities and counties, a county being defined as including every place, except a city, within the territorial limits of the county, and also a union of counties where united for municipal purposes. The difficulties experienced under the Dunkin Act in consequence of the forms to be observed by officers of municipal bodies are entirely removed, inasmuch as the Act is to be brought into force through the Governor-General instead of through municipal councils. The first step to be taken in any county where the submission of the Act is desired, will be to obtain the signatures of at least one-fourth of the electors to a petition, the petition, when duly signed, to be deposited with the sheriff or registrar of deeds, for public examination for ten days, then forwarded to the Governor-General through the Secretary of State, with evidence that the necessary forms have been complied with. On receipt of such petition His Excellency issues a proclamation naming a date on which a vote will be taken, and giving instructions as to the mode of proceeding. The vote is to be by ballot, and to be taken throughout the county or city in one day. The Act contains most satisfactory arrangements for taking the vote, and provides for the prevention of corrupt practices, and the preservation of the peace in connection therewith; it also prohibits the sale of liquors during the day of voting. A majority of the electors voting decides whether or not the law shall be adopted in any city or county, and the decision so reached is unalterable for a period of three years. In the event of the law being adopted, a petition of one-fourth of the electors and a vote of a majority of those voting is necessary to secure its repeal. Where thought desirable to submit the Act, the vote must be taken at least one hundred and fifty days before the expiration of the annual licenses, at which time, if adopted, it comes into operation. The Act prohibits the common sale of intoxicating liquors, but affords opportunities for obtaining wine for sacramental use, and liquors for medicinal or manufacturing purposes. Even in these respects the sale is stringently guarded, and the number of persons who under any circumstances may sell is very limited. Cider producers, licensed brewers or distillers and licensed wholesale merchants or traders may sell in quantities of either eight or ten gallons (according to circumstances), but only to persons authorized to sell by retail as above, or to those who will carry the same beyond the limits of the county or any adjoining county in which the Act is in force. A person who sells or keeps for sale liquor is liable to a fine of $200 for the first offence, $100, for the second offence, and two months imprisonment for the third. An employee is held equally guilty with the principal. The Collector of Inland Revenue in the district is charged with enforcing the law, but prosecution may be brought by or in the name of any person. Right is given to search places where there is reason to suspect liquors are kept for illicit sale, and the liquor, with kegs, barrels, etc., may be forfeited and destroyed. No appeal from any conviction except such as are made by ordinary justices of the peace is allowed, and several provisions of the Crook's Licensed Act are incorporated to give completeness to the Act. This law is a decided improvement on the Dunkin Act, and we expect its value will be thoroughly tested in several counties before long.

THE HOOP PEEPING OUT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see a letter in the last Review in reference to the "West Riding Candidature"—which plainly shows that Mr. Hilliard was brought out by the Conservatives, with the hope of trading a little on his temperance record. The writer in the Review tries to "ply" the part of an "admirer of consistency" but he shows that he feels the inconsistent position in which Mr Hilliard is placed by his friends. While the writer tries to conceal his real intentions, the cloven foot is too boldly placed forward. At the outset he says:—

"The commotion on our streets last Friday morning after it became known that he (Mr. H.) had the manly courage to stand by his temperance principles, was for a short time intense, but the strong good sense of those most aggrieved soon quieted the commotion, and a feeling of admiration prevailed. That such actions in our representative men are worthy of praise and support, is undeniable."

That there was a commotion, all knew. But it was not among the temperance men. Certain Conservatives on whose influence much reliance is placed, felt intensely disgusted that their candidate Mr. Hilliard should have the "courage to stand by his temperance principles." It was quite natural that the Tory liquor interest should be exated, and that its representatives should demand an explanation. Trouble had been created in the minds of men who have for years been reckoned "stand-bys" in the clique cause in this town; and the commotion may well be described as "intense." But "the strong good sense"—in other words the political passions—of "those most aggrieved" was appealed to; and when the liquor men were shown that the temperance card was the party candidate, and the knowledge of his feelings on temperance. In the declaration, "Every member of the Conservative Association that knew that George Hilliard was a candidate knew he was a temperance candidate." There is a world of meaning, whether you consider the restrictive clause, "every member that knew," or the idea of "a temperance candidate," in connection with certain well-known and busy members of the Conservative Association. From this cause will constitute that either these w. ard b. parade aforesaid were not among those "that knew," or that "a temperance candidate" was agreed to by them merely as a political bait. It is plain that "representative men" of the "stand-by" party in West Peterborough have been deserted in the [illegible] distress; or he is a mere dupe in the hands of "the temperance element"—a party [illegible] linked with Tories. Reform. It will not do to talk of Mr. Hilliard being reckoned on as good both as regards Grit votes; "a feeling of admiration prevailed." Notice the following phrase, "strong good sense!" Surely that will smooth the ruffled tempers of "those most aggrieved," especially as they are immediately referred to as "our Tory representative men," whose actions in this case "are worthy of praise and support." That should fetch the most stubborn malcontent! There is great diplomacy too in the reference to the "non-temperance element" in the Conservative ranks, and its being an "hugely useful in unmasking their concealment in different constituencies in Ontario;" and the delicate way in which all are told of "the cup that not only cheers but intoxicates" is worthy of a Gortschakoff.

Is it really the intention of Mr. Hilliard and his supporters to use the non-temperance element, everywhere so useful to Conservatives to foist a party candidate in "non-temperance men's" interests, while seeking temperance votes to do so! Or is it Mr. Hilliard's desire or that of his friends to use the liquor interests to elect him to destroy itself. Mr. Editor, what in this that appears again in the allusion to the nomination of Mr. Hilliard as Mr. Hilliard's "independent convictions" on the temperance question so long as he is allied to parties recognized as leaders in the liquor interest, and continues to be praised loudly and inordinately by journals noted for their leanings to the License Victualler, and remains the candidate of a party that has done all in its power to oppose and retard temperance legislation!

There must, indeed, have been an "intense commotion" among the "standbys" and fears are evidently still entertained lest the non-temperance representative men" of the party should kick somewhat against the "temperance candidate;" for the writer of the letter in the Review again refers to a split among Conservatives over an act that is appreciated, not condemned." But while deprecating any party secession of the "non-temperance element," the "admirer of consistency" (in others) holds that the question of Mr. Hilliard's "party leanings should be set aside among the warm advocates of the holy and righteous cause of temperance." Mr. Editor, who is this fellow, anyway, who talks about a "holy and righteous cause" in the interests of those whom he runs by implication acknowledges to be unholy and wicked, yet whom he refers to as "representative men" of his party? If he were an advocate of temperance before Toryism he would not be ashamed of his real name. His very nom de plume pronounces him a trickster.

If Mr. Hilliard is the consistent temperance man which his temperance friends claim he is, let him manfully andnobly declare himself. Or if he is seeking to obtain the influence of the temperance men to elect him to represent the liquor interests let Temperance men know it. He can not be in the interests of both as he now pretends to be. Having great personal respect for Mr. Hilliard, I feel keenly the pitiable plight he has been placed in by Conservative wire pullers,—and I think that as soon as he sees his position he will honorably refuse to be made the tool of a party which is so devoid of principle as to destroy an otherwise honorable man, for the basest and most selfish party purposes. If Mr. Hilliard is a temperance candidate he cannot and should not say the opposite to anti-temperance people, and if he is the representative of the Liquor interests how can he ask for temperance support? But if he is party first, then where are his temperance principles?—I am sorry he cannot see where the clique has placed him, and I am waiting an explicit statement of his whereabouts, before I can accord to him the credit of those "honest convictions." If he is a consistent temperance man, let him declare his true position. If he is playing into the hands of an opposite interest let his friends know it, that they may work for him. If he is only a "party man" Reform temperance men should know it too. If however he pretends to be all three in one where is his consistency.

I am yours, etc,
ONE IN SEARCH OF CONSISTENCY.

FALSE WITNESS.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR.—According to a late issue of the News, the Dunkinites held a rather remarkable meeting in the village of Lakefield. Now, Mr. Editor, I am happy to inform you that there was nothing so very remarkable about that meeting after all. Truly the News report of it is remarkable enough on account of the very small amount of candour and truth contained therein. In the first place, Mr. Editor I feel like apologising to you for appearing on the field to refute any thing that appears in that now spurious shreet. Any decent man can well afford to let go unchallenged anything, no matter what that appears in the columns of the "Lakefield Penny Whistle," and if it continues its downward course as rapidly for a very short time longer as it has done since the advent of the present manager, no respectable man should even touch it with anything shorter than a ten foot pole. Mr. J. C. Sherin is reported as saying that he was sorry that he ever voted for the Act. Mr. Sherin said nothing of the kind, he said the very opposite in the plainest and most emphatic language under the following circumstances. In the course of the few remarks that I made, I stated that of the two Acts taken separately that I perfered the Crooks Act, and that I should not have voted for the Dunkin Act alone. Mr. Sherin evidently disagreed with me on this point, for the moment I sat down he rose up and stated that he was sorry that there were difficulties in the way of working the two Acts together, but that he had voted Dunkin, and would do so again every day in the week. Now the News man was guilty of a most flagrant falsehood in reporting Mr. Sherin, if the editor was the guilty party his offence is a most aggravated one, for surely Mr. Sherin allowed him a latitude that few chairmen would have done under the circumstances. He was permitted to spout treason against the good cause of temperance, and to sing the praises of King Dodds as loud and as long as he chose. But Sir, in his report he further stated that there were about twenty-five persons present, and that the speakers were actuated by the most honest motives, except Mr. Hull and myself. Now sir, could he get a single one of those whom he designated as honest speakers to vouch for the correctness of your report respecting the chairman. Now no beating about the bush, the point is a plain one, I have given him a fair chance, to prove the correctness of his report, or otherwise accept the alternative of standing before your readers convicted of bearing false witness against his neighbor, which has always appeared to me to be one of the meanest, most cowardly and heinous offence that a man can be guilty of. His report of my remarks are just as true as his report of Mr. Sherin's, and not one whit more so. They are utterly beneath my notice. But Demosthenes of the News, did you not put your foot in it

Yours etc,
G. J. GALVIN.

The following extract from article 6 of the Treaty of Washington showing the rules which the United States Government has bound itself to observe towards Great Britain is worth quoting at the present time:—

A neutral government is bound

First, to use due diligence to prevent the fitting out, arming or equipping, within its jurisdiction, of any vessel which it has reasonable ground to believe is intended to cruise or carry on war against a Power with which it is at peace; and also to use like diligence to prevent the departure from the jurisdiction of any vessel intended to cruise or carry on war as above, such vessel having been specially adapted, in whole or in part, within such jurisdiction, to warlike use.

Secondly, not to permit either belligerent to make use of its ports or waters as the base of naval operations against the other, or for the purpose of the renewal or augmentation of military supplies, or for the recruitment of men.

Thirdly, to exercise due diligence in its own ports and waters, and as to all persons within its jurisdiction, to prevent any violation of the foregoing obligations and duties.

And the High Contracting Parties agree to observe these rules as between themselves in future, and to bring them to the notice of other Maritime Powers and to invite them to accede to them.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.—The corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church, now in course of erection, was laid here on Friday last with Masonic honours, Mr. R. Popplow, Port Hope, D. D. G. M., Ontario District, performing the ceremony, assisted by Mr. Treyes, P. D. D. G. M., and a large concourse of brethren from surrounding lodges. The church service was presided over by Dr Wardsmoper, of Guelph, assisted by Rev. Mr. Torrance, Peterboro', and others. The beautiful day and general interest in the proceedings attracted a large crowd of visitors. About $175 was realized.

The Prince of Wales was a few days ago re-elected Grand Master of the English Free Masons at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, and in returning thanks, regretted that causes over which he had no control had prevented his attendance at Grand Lodge for some years, and said the brethren might be sure he did his best to uphold their interests, which lay near his heart.

The New York Journal of Commerce gives the following hints to tariff tinkers: To frame a tariff bill requires an encyclopedic information and a practical knowledge of myriad trades and interests, possessed by no one man nor no one committee. It is a task demanding true statesmanship, freedom from prejudice, and plenty of time and patience for its consummation.

PAY YOUR SMALL DEBTS.—If we were asked what single act, involving no personal loss, would bring the greatest good to the largest number we should answer, without hesitation, "Pay your small debts." There is a large class in every community, who, though possessed of ample means, are habitually slow in paying their small trade accounts, who could pay just as well at one time as another who fail to consider what great benefit would result from the very simple act of justice of paying a small bill. They even forget to pay their newspaper subscriptions.—Monetary Times.

Sir John became very excited, and as the House rose to pr ceed to the Senate, said, in tones loud enough to be heard by all: "Smith is the greatest liar in the country." To this Smith retorted: "And Sir John is the meanest scoundrel in the country." The two then met and shook their fists at each other, several friends also joining in the quarrel. Such words as "liar" and "scoundrel," accompanied by other forcible language, now fell thick and fast, and order was only partially restored by the Speaker ordering the Sergeant-at-Arms to "arrest these men." The excitement lasted some time, and only by the greatest diligence on the part of some of the members was an exchange of blows prevented. The action of both parties is strongly condemned by the public.—Ottawa telegram to Chicago Times.

A RECOGNITION.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, of London, Ont., on Tuesday addressed a large audience in one of the churches in Humberstone, near Port Colborne, it being the occasion of the meeting of the County Lodge of Welland I. O. G. T. At the close of the speech the Dr. was made the recipient of a very flattering address from Humberstone Lodge, No. 376, I. O. G. T., together with a gold headed cane on account of his services to the cause of temperance generally and for his fight last year in the Old Country on behalf of Good Templary.

PETERBOROUGH MARKET.

Corrected Weekly by Mr. W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer.

The receipt of wheat on Saturday was about twelve loads; it sold from $1.60 to $1.68. During the week the receipts were light, prices declining; closing on Wednesday at 88 cents to 92 cents. English markets dull and tending downwards. Saturday's market was rather poorly attended. Butter was the most plentiful article offering; it sold from 12½c. to 15c. Eggs brought from 7c. to 8c. Potatoes were in good demand and brought about 60c. per bag. Oats in demand. In poultry there was a fair supply. Turkeys slow sale; chickens mill quicker at fair prices, bringing 40c. to 60c. per pair. Beans and hams were in good supply—the farmer bringing in. There is nothing doing as yet in wool, but as the season will soon open it might not be out of place to say that the prices will be low. The wool market in the United States is in a very unsatisfactory condition, particularly Canada combings, which are scarcely in good demand. This spring it is difficult to sell, quotations being about 15c. lower than last season, with a very dull market, large quantities of last year's wool being held in Canada and the States. Taking everything into account there is a poor prospect ahead for even fair prices here. 20 cents is about the present value, and at that figure there is no margin for shipment.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 23, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

"Township Clerk."—Your communication will appear in our next issue.

New York Styles Felt and Straw Hat just received at Madison & Green's. 21-2t

The Hay Crop.—The indications are that the hay crop will be unusually heavy this year.

Successfully Passed.—Mr. H. Bennett, has successfully graduated as a medical practitioner, having recently passed his final examination without an eral.

New Fire Brigade Soon.—The first supper of the new Fire Brigade is to be held in the Croft House on Friday evening, 24th of May. A good time is expected.

Obituary.—The friends of the late William McKee, Esq., formerly of Smith, lately of Kansas, will learn with much regret of his decease last week, after a short illness of erysipelas.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stinson & Son.

Lily's Wild Reporter.—The Lance Butts will take the place of the Golden-Eye to-morrow in conveying excursionists to the regatta at Lily Wild, where a good days sport is promised.

Open Air Concert.—The Firemen's Band will give an open air concert to-morrow evening, in the Court House Park, commencing at half-past seven. A programme of new and choice pieces will be rendered.

"Lakefield Conservative."—Your communication received requesting the publication of the last part of your previous communication. Owing to its extreme personal nature, we are compelled to withhold it.

Auction Sale of Pianos and Organs.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that Mr. Pentland intends having an auction sale of pianos and organs, on Tuesday the 4th of June. See advertisement.

Peterborough Tide Association.—We understand the members intend having a practice on the range on Friday afternoon, (Queen's Birthday) and hope all who take an interest in rifle shooting will make it a point to be present and try their skill.

Boating Club Sports.—Remember the athletic sports in the Drill Shed grounds, to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of the Boating Club. Also the Promenade Concert in the evening. The Fort Hope Band will furnish music on both occasions.

57th Battalion.—In the last number of the Canada Gazette the following appointment appears:—

"MENYET:—To be Major, Captain and Adjutant, Robert William Bell, M. S., 57th Battalion, from 14th February, 1878.

Buyers of Chester New Young Hyson, Gunpowder, Japan, Black and Orange Pekoe Teas of the finest flavor and strength should inspect the stock of Wallace, Lakefield, which is now complete in all the above lines, and will be sold at bottom prices. 21-2t.

Base Ball.—A match will be played on the Queen's Birthday, on the Ashburnham Cricket Ground, between the "Britannia" Club of Campbellford, and the "Pine Grove" of Peterborough. Game called at one p.m., sharp. The Firemen's Band will be in attendance.

Burleigh Falls.—We find the following mention made in the Mail of Wednesday, in reference to the Exhibition of Painting of the Ontario Society of Artists in Toronto :—

"Burleigh Falls," by T. M. Bell Smith, is a good little sketch in oil, and the figures are happily introduced.

Commercial Notes.—We are informed Mr. R. Purser, of the Rideau House, Lakefield, has leased the Commercial House in this town, and will, in a few days, commence to refit and renovate it. The stand is one of the best in town, and we believe Mr. Purser will give satisfaction to the public.

Stolen.—Mr. Geo. A. Morrison, of this town, while in Toronto last week had his valise stolen from one of the Grand Trunk cars while he was in the ticket office purchasing his ticket. The contents of the valise embraced a large number of valuable papers and a watch. A reward is offered for their recovery.

Confirmation.—On Friday evening a confirmation service was held in St. John's Church by the Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Revd's Messrs. Beck and Clementi. A large number of applicants presented themselves, and the ceremony was witnessed by an unusually large congregation.

Plate Glass Windows.—Several of our merchants are putting plate glass windows in their shops at the present time. Among the number are Mr. H. LeBrun, Messrs. Rank, Elliott & Morrow, Mr. John Elder and Messrs. T. Deane & Co. They make a great improvement in the appearance of the shops.

Musical and Literary.—A very successful musical and literary entertainment was held in the Baptist Church on Friday evening last. Rev. Mr. Muldrew occupied the chair. The proceeds were for the purchasing of a new library for the Sabbath School, and amounted to nearly $20. Admission fee was only ten cents.

Leave of Absence.—The Rev. J. W. R. Beck having received leave of absence from the Bishop, left town on Wednesday for a trip to England. Previous to leaving he was presented by the Church Wardens on behalf of the congregation, with a purse of money. His pulpit will during his absence, be filled by the Rev. V. Clementi.

A Large Run.—Mr. Robert Fife, of Asphodel brought to this office during the week, one of the largest hen eggs we have yet seen. The egg was laid by a Spanish hen, and weighs over 4½ ounces. In circumference it is six and one-half inches one way and eight and three-quarters the other, and forms quite a contrast with the one half have a few week's ago by Mr. J. Reader.

Burglary.—On Monday night the store of Messrs. R. Stinson & Son was entered and a dozen and a half of calf skins, valued at $60, stolen. No other articles are yet missing, but it is quite possible that several pairs of boots and shoes may have been abstracted. The entrance was effected through the rear of the building. No clue of the burglar has yet been obtained.

Middle Man Stuck.—This favorite theme the Globe-ites, met with an excellent rebuke, day, by the breaking of her chair. She had an immense audience from Hungerford for the benefit of the Roman Catholic Church. And as she was returning to the Hastings wharf, the wheel struck a rock and broke the chair. Mr. Horton has kindly placed the Lance Butts at the Globe-ite's disposal to run the remainder to Hungerford on the 24th, in time of the entertainment.

Concert and Dickens Concert.—The concert given in the Opera House last Friday evening by Messrs. Ormond and Dickens, was well attended considering the other meetings being held in town the same evening. The several performers took their parts well—especially Mr. Ormond and Miss Pierce in the German sketch, and Mr. Dickens in ventriloquism—in which he introduced nine voices, and was received with flattering acknowledgment.

Postponed Invitation.—We clip the following from the Cobourg Star of last week :—"The Fire Brigade of this town, previous to the late festal occurrence, had intended to have invited the Peterborough Brigade to come to Cobourg on the 24th of May, and participate in any celebration that might have been arranged for; but on account of the late fatal accident, the Brigade have thought it advisable to defer the invitation to some future period, probably the Civic Holiday.

Weights and Measures.—According to the provisions of the Weights and Measures Act, the penalty for having in possession any unstamped weights or measures or scales is fixed at $20 for the first offence, and $100 subsequently. Half the penalty goes to the informer and half to the Government unless the Deputy Inspector or other officer acting under the Act, lays information, when the whole amount goes to the Government. The only safe way, therefore, is to be sure that all scales, &c., are properly stamped.

The Central Fair.—Mr. Jas. Vick, the great horticulturist and seedsman of Rochester, N. Y., has signified his intention of giving the following prizes at the forthcoming Central Fair, to be held in Cobourg, the Secretary having been notified to that effect, viz.: For the best collection of cut flowers, $10; 2nd do., $6; 3rd do., $3.50; and 4th do., a floral chromo. The offer is made to amateurs only, and the awards will be made by the regular judges. He will also give a prize of $3.50 for the best ornamental floral work.

Concert.—The musical friends of the late F. W. Rutledge, intend giving a concert in Bradburns' Hall, on Tuesday evening, 28th instant. The proceeds of which will be presented to Mr. Rutledge's family, as a slight token of recognition of his untiring efforts in his life time towards the success of all musical entertainments, having a worthy object in view. The Musical Society, the Church Choirs, and a number of other lady and gentlemen friends will take part, and a good programme will be presented. Tickets 25 cents, front seats 50 cents.

Grangers Pic-Nic.—The annual pic-nic of Durham Division Grange will be held in the Agricultural Grounds in this town, on Wednesday, the 5th of June, (not the 12th as erroneously appeared in the advertisement in last week's issue.) Addresses will be delivered by W. Pemberton Page, Esq., Secretary of the Dominion Grange; J. Daly, Esq., of Napanee; T. J. Staples, of Baltimore, Agent of the Dominion Grange, and others. A large number are expected to be present, and very favorable arrangements have been made with the Midland Railway, Calcutt's Line of Steamers and the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway to convey parties to town. For particulars see posters and advertisements.

Temperance Meeting.—Taking advantage of the presence of a number of Methodist Ministers in town, at their annual district meeting this week, a mass temperance meeting was held in the George street Methodist Church on Monday evening. The church was filled, and excellent and instructive addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Barncroft, Baker, Walker, Scott and Thom. All the speakers urged earnestly that the Christian people of the town should assist the temperance friends in enforcing the Dunkin Bill, as to neglect it would materially injure the cause of temperance here and in other places in the country. After a vote of thanks to to the Rev. Mr. Willoughby and the Trustees for the use of the church and for their active temperance assistance, the meeting was closed with the benediction.

Sutes' Advertising Agency.—The partnership heretofore existing between Messrs. Sutes & Locke, of New York, the well-known newspaper advertising agents of New York, has been dissolved, and Mr. J. H. Bates has succeeded to the business, and has rented and fitted up rooms in the Times building, No. 41 Park row. The rooms are situated at the head of the first flight of stairs, and occupy the entire Printing House Square end of the building, together with two large rooms adjoining, on Nassau street. Mr. Bates is one of the oldest advertising agents in the city, having been in the business for a great many years. He was for a long time a partner with Mr. S. M. Pettengill, with whom he continued until 1873, at which time he formed a copartnership with Mr. D. R. Locke, at that time largely interested in the Toledo Blade newspaper, both as editor and stockholder.

Ehrich's Fashion Quarterly.—This interesting fashion journal for the spring season has been received. It is a volume of one hundred pages about the size of Harper's Bazar, of fine paper, well printed and bound. As we turn the pages, beautiful illustrations meet the eye in rapid succession, until we realize that every article of dress suitable for ladies or children is here presented to view. Ladies costumes from the plainest calico wrapper or house dress to the most elaborate silk garments. Children's suits from the cheap summer romp dresses to the most costly party and graduation suits. The ordinary Fashion Magazine gives you no hint as to what a garment will cost when it is made up. This book gives you the information eagerly. Furthermore, interspersed between the fashions this volume contains the most interesting, the most practical and the most instructive reading matter for old and young folks. The writers are the best, every line is original, and every line is worth reading. Instructive articles on fashions, valuable lectures on cooking by Miss Corson, the superintendent of the celebrated New York Cooking School, charming poems, essays, stories, etc., etc., interesting to every age, by Madge Elliott, Paul Long, Kate Tree, Daisy Eyebright, E. E. Rexford, Mrs. Pollard, Church, etc., etc. Published by Messrs. Ehrich & Co., 287 to 295 Eight Avenue, New York City. The subscription for a whole year including four numbers is only 50 cents; for one number 15 cents.

Pedestrianism.—Mr. Jas. H. Henderson the pedestrian, who is at present engaged in the feat of walking 25,000 miles in two years, gave exhibitions in the Drill Shed on Monday evening, Tuesday and Tuesday evening. On Monday evening he walked ten miles in 1 hour 31 minutes and 24 seconds. On Tuesday he walked 50 miles—30 miles in the forenoon, 15 in the afternoon and 5 in the evening, making the last mile in an apparently easy 7.55. On Tuesday evening a silver cup, given by Mr. Henderson, was competed for by amateur walkers, in a mile race. There were eight entries—the time made being as follows :—

William Hetherington	12.09
George C. Rogers	10.09
Wm. Shaw	9.47
S. Hatton	9.39
A. D. Braithwaite	8.59
H. B. Rogers	9.03
Alfred Brown	9.09
J. C. Robertson	8.09

A tie existing between Mr. Brown and Mr. Rogers, and an evident mistake of one minute in Mr. Braithwaite's time, an arrangement was made that these three gentlemen should again walk a half mile to decide who should possess the cup. Mr. Rogers declined to walk, and the contest remained between the other two, and was won by Mr. Brown in 4.30; Mr. Braithwaite making it in 5 minutes. The distance in this race was a little over the half mile, being eight furlongs of a mile. A boys race for two fifths of a mile was then called. The following are the entries and time made :—

Morden Fenwick Kincaid	4.10
George Orde	4.30
David Lasher	4.55
Ross McLeod	4.12
George Clementi	4.40

Hymeneal.—We take the following from the Winona Daily Republican of the 5th instant. It will no doubt be read with interest by many of our readers—Mr. Quincey being for several years a resident of this town :—

A pleasant wedding was celebrated at Masonville on Wednesday evening, the 1st inst., the principals being Mr. T. Quincey, of Winona, and Miss Ada S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Anden, of Masonville. The ceremony had been anticipated with a good deal of interest, and drew together a very fashionable party of friends. Among the others present were Rev. Dr. Creed and Mrs. Creed, Thomas Simpson, Mrs. C. H. Rogers, Mrs. L. C. Porter and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. George Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Chipman, of Chicago, and Mr. Chesley Wilkinson, of Peterborough. The groom from out of town were very handsomely entertained at Mr. Van Anden's, a popular Masonville resort for weddings.

At seven o'clock the wedding party proceeded to the Congregational church, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. A very large audience had assembled to witness the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Creed, of Winona, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Porter, of Masonville. The bridal party looked very handsome as they entered the church, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, and the groom on the arm of the bridesmaid, Miss Lamb. The bride was dressed in white silk, with the usual veil and orange blossoms, and looked very handsome. The bridesmaid was also dressed in white, and looked very pretty. The groom was dressed in the conventional black, and looked very happy. The bridal party occupied seats in front of the pulpit, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of the large audience. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Van Anden, and the ring was handed to the groom by the bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner, and was listened to with marked attention by the large congregation present. The collection was devoted to the organ fund of the church, and was, we are glad to hear, a liberal one. The interesting service was brought to a close by the Bishop invoking a special blessing on the religious work of the day, and by pronouncing the benediction. It is a matter worthy of particular comment in these days of heavy debts on so-called houses of God, that a church which has only been opened to public worship a little over six months, by the perseverance, assiduity and liberality of clergymen and congregation, has been presented to God free from all encumbrance. With undegraed pleasure we extend our hearty congratulations to all interested in the welfare of St. Luke's on the successful completion of their good work, and trust they will go on "prospering and to prosper."

TOWN COUNCIL.

Council met pursuant to adjournment. Present.—His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Cahill, McBain, Smith, Ormond, Paterson, Rountree, Yelland, Douglas, Deane, Carlisle, and Miller.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Town Clerk, giving an official statement of the result of the vote on the grant to the Mayor.—Received.

From the Inspector of Prisons, in regard to the employment of prison labor.—Received.

From John Macdonald, agreeing to furnish cedar scantling for the use of the Corporation at the rate of $6 per thousand.—Received.

From Scott & Edwards, in reference to the removal of the crossings of the Cobourg Railroad in town, stating that as the Act was very stringent in this respect the Inspector could be held liable for trespass if they were removed.—Received.

From Scott & Edwards, stating that they had had an interview with Geo. E. Stewart in reference to the survey of Donegal street, and were convinced that his survey was correct, and that those parties who had built their fences on the street allowance could be compelled to remove them.—Received.

REPORT OF STREET INSPECTOR.

The STREET INSPECTOR reported, recommending that the petition of John Duncan, asking to have a bridge across Rink street be granted, at a cost of $15.00. The gravelling of George street from the Cobourg Railway to Hilliard's Mills was recommended, but cost not given. Richard Hall's petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Rubidge street was recommended at a cost of $30. Jas. Thornton's petition was not granted, but a sidewalk was recommended on opposite side of the street when building to his building and a sidewalk in front of it. T. G. Hazlitt's petition was recommended. The work would cost about three or four hundred dollars.

On motion the report was received.

PETITIONS.

From Peter Gilford and others, again petitioning to have a sidewalk laid on Chamberlain street.

From W. George and others, asking to have a drain south of Paterson street cleaned.

From Edward O'Connor, setting forth the position of affairs in his family, and asking the Council to provide for the maintenance of an illegitimate child of his daughter, who had been seduced.

From Alex. Macgregor, asking to be furnished cedar to make an approach to his lot.

From Thos. Harmer, asking to have the drain on Chamberlain street deepened.

From E. H. D. Hall, on behalf of the Alex. Smith Estate, asking that a sidewalk be laid west from the proposed extension of George street from the railway crossing to the entrance of the said estate.

Moved by Councillor MILLER, seconded by Councillor CARLISLE.—That the request of Mr. E. H. D. Hall be granted.

Councillor MCBAIN objected to the resolution and asked to have the petition referred to the Inspector to report. He afterwards raised a point of order, and the Mayor held the objection good.

From Samuel Hall and others, asking for street improvements in the south part of the town.

From John Bell, asking to be allowed to enclose lands on Wolfe and Townsend streets.

ACCOUNTS.

An account from W. H. Robertson & Co., amounting to $21.66 was handed in and referred to the Finance Committee.

DISPOSALS.

The petition of John Bell was referred to the Councillors from No. 1 Ward with power to act.

The petitions for street improvements were referred to the Street Inspector to report.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Councillor CAHILL submitted the following report of the Finance Committee :

The Finance Committee beg leave to recommend the payment of the following accounts.

George Hilliard, lumber	$250
George Hilliard, "	20 23
Robert White, drawing engine	16 00
J. A. Delaney & sons, repairs to watering cart	2 50

An item rendered with this account for use of Jack screws at Locks Bridge has not been passed, the use of said Jacks not having been ordered by the Council.

Your Committee recommend that a grant of $125 be made to the Fireman's Band for the present year, provided said band remain in connection with the Fire Company—one half to be paid now and the balance quarterly.

We would also recommend that an appropriation not exceeding $25 be made to have "sign boards" placed on the corners of some of the principal streets, such streets to be named by the Street Inspector, and the contract given to Mr. Tighe, at the prices stated in his tender.

Your Committee beg leave also to submit herewith the estimates—being the result of careful investigation, and having kept in view the obligation that rests upon every Council to fully meet the expenses of the current year. There are just few headings of expenditure which the Council can clear, as by far the larger items are outside their control, still there are others which the Council may reduce, but in doing so we think public interests would suffer. Your Committee would remind the Council that in consequence of the Dunkin Act, the revenue from license falls short of the ordinary amount by some $3,000, necessitating an increase of about 1½ mills on the dollar, and causing a rate of 13 3-10 mills in place of 12 mills.

We would further recommend that the above rate be adopted, and that the necessary By-law for that purpose be passed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL, Chairman.

THE DUNKIN ACT.

Councillor Smith read and submitted the following report in reference to the application of Col. Haultain and others, asking that the Council direct the Constables to enforce the By-law :—

"The Committee appointed to consider the application of Col. Haultain and others, asking the Council to have the Dunkin By-law enforced, beg leave to report as follows :

That in considering the said application, it was urged that the Council should not enforce the By-law on the grounds :—

1st.—That although the Clerk had repeatedly applied to the proper party for proof of the due publication of the By-law (without which it was alleged the By-law could not be enforced), such proof had not been furnished.

2nd.—Because the Temperance Act of 1864, under which the said By-law was passed, does not require the Council to enforce any By-law passed under the provisions of the same. There being a difference of opinion among the members of the committee, it was agreed that the opinion of the Town Solicitor should be obtained on the following points; viz :—

1st.—Is it obligatory upon the Council to enforce the provisions of the By-law?

2nd.—Can the By-law be enforced without proof of due publication, in case the same is questioned in the prosecution for an offence under the same?

3rd.—Whose duty is it to enforce the By-law?

To which questions the said Solicitor replied as follows :

1st.—It is not, I think, obligatory on the Council to enforce the provisions of the Dunkin By-law, but is discretionary with the Council. Under the Temperance Act of 1864 it is made obligatory on the Collector of Inland Revenue to enforce the provisions of the By-law. By the Provincial Legislature of Ontario, the duties of the Collector of Inland Revenue are to be performed by the Inspector for the District, in which the municipality is situated. It is therefore not obligatory but discretionary with the Council to enforce the act.

2nd.—If in a prosecution for an offence under the By-law, the accused puts in issue the fact of the By-law being in force, no conviction can take place without the production of a copy of the By-law with the Clerk's certificate of due publication—and this would be the case notwithstanding that the validity of the By-law may have previously been determined by a Supreme Court.

3rd.—By the Legislature of Ontario it is made specially the duty of the License Inspector to enforce the By-law.

Your Committee are therefore of opinion that inasmuch as the request of the Clerk for proof of the publication of the By-law has not been complied with, and because the duty of enforcing the provisions of the By-law rests with the Inspector of Licenses, no action having for its object the enforcement of the By-law should be undertaken by the Council.

All of which is submitted.

H. H. SMITH, Chairman.

Moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor DENNE.—That the report be adopted.

Councillor MILLER said a deputation of the temperance people were present to-night, and he would move, seconded by Councillor YELLAND.—That they be heard.

Col. HAULTAIN on coming forward thanked the Council for this privilege of another hearing. He said when he appeared before them last time a doubt had been raised as to whether the supporters of the By-law were favorable to its enforcement. No such doubt now existed, as he could assure the Council they were all of one mind, and could see but one course, namely, the enforcement of the By-law. He had heard the opponents of the By-law would have, as law-abiding citizens, submitted to the expressed wishes of a majority of the ratepayers. A great deal of indignation was felt, and justly too, that the liquor dealers should be allowed to set all law at defiance. It is intolerable to allow a few men to set the wishes of the majority of the people aside —gentlemen of the Council use the power in your hands as representatives of the people to see the wishes of the majority carried out, and the law enforced. When the By-law was before the electors its opponents had used every means to defeat it. But they had been beaten fairly and honorably by a majority of over 100. Had the voice of the community been taken the majority would have swelled up to 1,000, as 99 out of 100 of the ladies were in favor of the By-law —and surely they were a voice in the community. The young men, too, although not having votes, were willing to give up an indulgence that was detrimental to the community and worked bravely to assist in the passage of the By-law. For the first time he had heard the validity of the By-law questioned. There may be some technical quibble which can be proven, as in the County By-law. But it was not to discuss its validity they came before the Council. The By-law was a town By-law and he appealed to the Council to instruct their Constables to do their duty and enforce it. It was strange that so much aid was tried to be given to those men who did so much to injure the community. He felt no malice towards the liquor dealers personally, and could take any of them by the hand. The question under consideration was not a trifling matter; it was a flagrant wrong that men should be allowed to set the law at defiance. In thanking them for their hearing he pleaded earnestly with them, as men loving law and order and as representatives of the people, that they should see that the law was enforced. They had heard it was not obligatory, but was discretionary—let them therefore use their discretion and carry out the wishes of a large majority of the people.

Councillor RUTHERFORD entered and took his seat and asked to have the report read, which was done accordingly.

Mr. DUMBLE addressed the Council. As to the first point, that of the enforcement of the By-law not being obligatory but discretional, it was their duty to enforce it whether it was obligatory on them or not. The Council is the people. Those representatives were elected by the majority of the people, and it was their duty to carry out the wishes of the electors. It was no discretionary on the people to pass the Dunkin By-law; they passed it in their discretion. They never intended to go through a farce of three days voting and then have the By-law set aside. The By-law is a By-law of the town and has the Corporate seal of the town attached to it, and the town will have to stand by it if it is contested. There was no statute law to compel the Council to enforce the By-law, neither was there any statute law to compel the people to pass the By-law. As to the validity of the By-law it was not a question to be raised here, but he would assure these present that the By-law was a good one. One rule had been obtained to quash it, and had been defeated. Another had been moved for, but no papers had been served. If it is contested it will be defended, and it will be sustained. He called upon the Council if they would do their duty to enforce the law. They were a deliberate body, and as such should formally demand that their officers be directed to enforce it.

Mr. T. G. HAZLITT, who was called upon, said he did appear before them as an opponent of the Dunkin By-law. He was opposed to several of the statements made use of by Col. Haultain. It was unfair to denounce the opponents of the By-law as opposed to law and order. He could tell them that some of those opposed to the Dunkin Act stood head and shoulders above the temperance men as law-abiding citizens and peace men. The passage of the By-law was not the real expression of public opinion, but was a verdict snatched during excitement. The most unfair means had been resorted to, and names held sacred by those same men had been trampled in the dust to carry the By-law. These same men did not hesitate to drag our names out to march on the street, and make a display most humiliating to their innate sense of modesty. If the matter had been fairly and equitably discussed it would have been different. It was introduced in our Sabbath Schools, pulpits and firesides, and heads of families were in fact compelled to vote for it. He was not a preacher nor the son of a prophet, yet he would venture to assert that if the question were again submitted to the people it would be on origin. He strongly opposed the Council assuming the defence of the By-law, thereby compelling men to forfeit money to prosecute themselves, as many opposed to the By-law were as large property owners as those in favor of it. He called upon Mr. Dumble to come forward and show that the By-law was a good one. Was as much in favor of supporting By-laws of the town as any one else if they were properly carried.

Col. HAULTAIN asked the right of reply to Mr. Hazlitt. Many of the assertions made by that gentleman required to be proven. He repudiated accordingly to hear such sentiments coming from a man like Mr. Hazlitt. When the law suits his purpose he will submit to it; when it does not, he will oppose it.

Councillor RUTHERFORD could not tell where Mr. Smith got his report. No report had been recommended by the committee. Mr. Smith, as chairman, never put the question when the committee he instructed to endorse the By-law.

Councillor SMITH appealed to the other members of the committee. When the committee met a deputation was appointed to wait on Mr. Smith and consult him. The questions were written before the committee and written answers were asked from Mr. Smith, which were also read and agreed to by the committee, and the report was drafted in accordance therewith.

Councillor DENNE.—Everything Mr. Smith says is true.

Councillor PATERSON said he thought no report had been agreed upon by the Committee (here Councillor Smith objected to give a report accordingly. He was prepared to go as far as the Police Court with the By-law, but would not take it any further).

Councillor RUTHERFORD wished to amend the report. He was certainly surprised at the report, and could not vote for it. It would be productive more in amendment, seconded by Councillor YELLAND.—That Councillor Hollow be appointed by this Council to assist the Inspector in enforcing the By-law.

Councillor RUTHERFORD was not in favour of putting the by-law on again, but would like to have it tested in the Police Court. If it was worth anything then, let us support it. If not throw it up.

Councillor MILLER was in favour of supporting the By-law.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought it not wise to touch it, as it meddled with. The Council could not fail, where it would end.

Coun. CARLISLE thought it the duty of the Council to enforce the By-law

Councillor ORMOND would support Councillor RUTHERFORD'S amendment. The Council were here to make by-laws, amend by-laws, change by-laws and enforce by-laws. He advocated strongly the enforcement of this particular by-law.

Councillor CAHILL, while desirous of being understood as not in any way opposed to temperance, thought the by-law should be enforced by those whose duty it was to do so by the statute. He would like to know if ever there was a by-law passed to enforce it.

Mr. DUMBLE said the Inspector wanted his efforts supplemented by the officers of the town. Let the Council bring the matter to the Police Court. We don't wish them to carry it any further. They won't have to do it.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said his amendment only asked the Constables to assist the Inspector.

Councillor SMITH wondered why the temperance people did not ask the Constables to enforce the Crooks Law. Under the Crooks Act it was the duty of the Constable, even more so than the Inspector, to enforce the law, but still they were never asked to do it. If it was found that the Inspector under the Dunkin Act was unable to do his duty, then let him get the assistance of the Constables.

The INSPECTOR was heard. He was willing to carry out the law if it was his duty to do so. As yet he was in the dark.

Moved by Councillor ORMOND, seconded by Councillor YELLAND.—That the Mayor is hereby instructed as the executive of this Council to have the Act known as the Temperance Act of 1864, strictly enforced in this Municipality, and that he is hereby empowered to authorize any person or persons to prosecute in the name of the Council for a violation of the aforesaid Act; and that one-half of the penalty be paid to any person so authorized, bringing such prosecution to a successful issue.

The motion was subsequently withdrawn and afterwards given as notice of motion.

Councillor RUTHERFORD'S amendment was then put and declared lost by the Mayor on the following divisions.

Yeas.—Messrs. Carlisle, Millar, Rutherford, Yelland, Paterson, and Ormond.—6.

Nays.—Messrs. Cahill, McBain, Smith, Rountree, Douglass, and Deane.—6.

The motion for the adoption of the report was then put, and also declared lost on the same division.

STRIKING THE RATE.

On motion of Councillor SMITH, a By-law striking the rate for the current expenses of the year, was read a first second and third time, and finally passed.

SALARY TO THE MAYOR.

Mr. ORMOND introduced a By-law to give a grant of money by way of salary to the Mayor. The By-law was read a first, second, and third time and passed.

REMISSION OF TAXES.

The MAYOR handed in a list of names of those whose taxes were remitted amounting to $138.

Councillor SMITH moved, seconded by Councillor ORMOND,—That the By-law prohibiting the use of fire crackers on the streets be enforced by the Constables.

This motion was withdrawn after Councillor RUTHERFORD demanding that the Constables be instructed to enforce all the By-laws of the town.

BORROWING MONEY.

Moved by Councillor PATERSON, seconded by Councillor ORMOND.—That the Finance Committee make the best term they can with any of the banks for money for our current expenses, and open an account where they can make the best terms.

A By-law to enable the Treasurer to borrow money for the use of the town during the year, was passed through its several readings.

THE STREET INSPECTORS' REPORT.

That portion of the Street Inspector's report relating to work on the Dickson race was ordered to be proceeded with, after a prolonged and personal discussion.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

The following resolution was presented as a notice of motion for next meeting :—

Moved by Councillor DOUGLAS, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD.—That all reports of the Street Inspector be adopted at the next meeting.

COBOURG RAILWAY CROSSINGS.

Moved by Councillor DENNE, seconded by Councillor CARLISLE.—That the Town Solicitor be instructed to write to the Managers of the Cobourg Railway, asking leave to remove the railway crossings.

Council adjourned for three weeks.

THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Annual Meeting—Election of Officers—Submission of Reports.

The annual meeting of the Mechanics Institute was held last Monday evening in the Institute rooms, the President Geo. E. Shaw, Esq., in the Chair.

After reading the minutes of the last meeting, the PRESIDENT on behalf of the Board of Directors presented for the Fiscal year ending 1st May 1878. After an expression of sorrow at the loss of their late Treasurer, Mr. George Barlee, the directors congratulated the members upon the general work of the year, and the financial results there being a balance on hand, after paying all liabilities, of $237.67. They expressed regret that the hope entertained at last meeting that more commodious premises would be obtaineded had not been realized. The number of members and Subscribers on the roll this year is 251, an increase of eight over that of last year. The evening classes, although more numerously attended than those of former years had not been patronized to the extent anticipated, and regret was expressed that a larger number had not availed themselves of the instructions imparted. The number of books issued by the Librarian is 4580, an increase of 73 volumes over last year. The total number of volumes in the library is 3621, exclusive of the School library.

THE TENTH ANNUAL REPORT,

The report was on motion received and adopted.

TREASURER'S ABSTRACT STATEMENT.

Mr. E. J. TORRANCE, acting Treasurer, presented an abstract statement, from which we take the following.

The report on motion was adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Being the next order of business the following were elected.

President.—Geo. E. Shaw.
Vice-President.—Rev. V. Clementi.
Treasurer.—W. H. Rand.
Secretary.—W. Hamilton.
Directors.—Messrs. F. J. Lewis, A. H. Dickson, R. Peters, W. J. Smith, H. T. Hall, A. Rogers, Wm. English, W. McLean, Jas. English, J. E. Belcher, Wm. Hamilton, Robert Robertson.

PRESENTATION.

After the Election of Officers, the President on behalf of the members presented Mr. Robert Robertson with a purse containing $34.75 in appreciation of his services as librarian during the past two years.

Mr. Robertson made a suitable reply, after which the meeting separated. The Board of Directors will meet next Monday evening for the election of Secretary, and to strike the Standing Committee of the year.

FIREMEN'S DINNER.

On Thursday evening last, the Old Fire Brigade gave a banquet at Mr. A. P. Morgan's Hotel. For some time past the Brigade did not feel satisfied with the action of the Town Council, who had assumed the nomination and appointment of the Chief Engineer. The Brigade claimed the right of nomination, and when the Council arrogated that right, as well as the appointment, the whole Brigade felt insulted and resigned in a body. In settling up their affairs they found themselves in a position to treat themselves and their friends, and did so as above referred to. The banquet was served in excellent style by Mr. Morgan, and about 40 members and their friends sat down to it.

Captain T. Rutherford presided.

After justice had been done to the good things provided, the usual loyal toasts were given by the Chairman and responded to in a right loy

"YET A LITTLE WHILE."

BY MARY J. H'CHELL.

Beyond the clouds smiles the clear blue sky,
And the sun will shine when the storm blows by.

In the frost bound earth through the winter lay
The flowers that in beauty bloom to-day.

And soon, from the buds on the bare brown trees,
Will they green harbours be spread to the breeze.

Cloud, Sower, and leaf ye are teachers dear
Of the many my Father hath given to me.

The lesson ye teach I can understand;
To me 'tis as rain to the thirsty land.

I know that the sunlight will gild my sky
In the sweet mysterious "bye and bye."

And from chilly realms of dark despair
Will spring Hope's blossoms fresh and fair.

Then my heart will thrill like a wind-kissed leaf,
Though it faintesth now 'neath a weight of grief.

For the bud of patience will break in bloom,
And the stars shine out where I now but gloom.

Oh. Thou who dost clothe the lilies, aye,
In sight, or in shade, may I feel Thee nigh.

May my faith burn bright and my love be strong
Though the tempest rage and the night be long.

Help me to work while 'tis yet to-day—
E'er the twilight falleth, cold and grey;—

Help me with careful hand to sow,
Good seed from whose germs no tares may grow.

May the Lord of the Harvest upon me smile,
When He cometh to reap in "a little while."

CHRIST'S SECOND COMING.

A Review of the Soundness of the Conclusions Arrived at.—The Ancient Prophecies—Their Literal Interpretation Absurd, and their Literal Fulfilment Impossible.

On Sunday evening 19th inst. the Rev. Alex. Bell, of St. Andrew's Church, delivered his 5th sermon on the Second Coming of Christ. He took for his text the following words:—

"Prove all things: hold fast that which is good."—1 Thess. v. 21,

REV. MR. BELL then spoke as follows:—For the last four Sabbath evenings we have been considering the subject of our Lord's Second Advent. And in all we have done we have assumed nothing, nor wasted time in discussing either doubtful or groundless theories. We have been striving to take the Apostle's advice—"prove all things," that we might get and hold that which is good. We have throughout adhered closely to the plain, direct utterances of Jesus and His Apostles, and the conclusions arrived at are every one clearly and fully supported by the categorical statements of these high authorities. And whether we shall hold these conclusions as dogmas of our faith, or surrender them for plausible assumptions, must be determined by our choice in the alternative given us, namely—whether it is safe to let Christ and His Apostles interpret prophecy, or prophecy interpret them; or whether the plain categorical statements of Jesus and His Apostles shall fix the meaning of their figurative language, or the figurative fix the meaning of the plain and direct. We think the man who wants to get at the plain, sober facts, can have no hesitation here. His own common sense will lead him to rest his faith on what is plain and undoubted rather than on what is mysterious and capable of different interpretations—that is, if he wants to have a fixed faith at all. Our duty to-night is to sum up what we have already done, and to bring this subject to a close.

Here followed a synopsis of the four preceding discourses, in which the Reverend gentleman claimed to have established—that there shall be only one future personal coming of the Lord; that there shall be only one future literal resurrection, including both the righteous and the wicked; that both of these events shall take place at the last day, when the Lord comes in His glory for the general judgment of the word; that the "first resurrection" mentioned in Rev. xx. 5, is a spiritual one, and is from the death of sin to life in Jesus, and therefore a present life experience, and not a literal rising from the grave. And as regards the period intended by the "living and reigning with Jesus a thousand years," Mr. Bell went on:—

It is clear that if the first resurrection is a present life experience, the "thousand years" must represent the gospel age, and as to the actual time meant there is no reason why the "thousand years" here should be interpreted in any other way than the seventy prophetic weeks of Daniel, or the 1260 days of the witnesses which find their fulfilment, not by taking a literal day for a day, but by calculating a year of our time for each day mentioned in the prophecy. And doing this we see glorious times for the gospel yet, and all the world has yet experienced of the influence of grace, and the working of the Holy Ghost is no more than the first streaks of the dawn whose fullness shall usher in the richer and ever-increasing glories of the millenium day. And is there anything unworthy in the thought that Jesus, their Creator and Owner, should have the use of this earth and its inhabitants for the purposes of His grace and the honor of His name seven or eight times as long as the usurper Satan has used them for the purposes of his hatred against Jehovah, and the establishment and spread of works that have dishonored God so much and brought to ruin so many souls? Is there anything dishonoring to God or disappointing to the saints in the thought that this earth, so gorgeously furnished for man's abode and pleasure, and so richly stored for man's provision—but cursed, and burdened, and marred by the foot of sin—should, as the nations cast off the dragon's yoke, also cast off the bonds of barrenness, put on the better garments of her first fertility and beauty, and continue for many ages the home of our race, called back to God, living in peace and serving Him in love?

THE ANCIENT PROPHECIES

We have only now to glance at some of the ancient prophecies, which, taken in connection with Rev. xx 1, 10, have, we believe, betrayed many into the belief that the Second Advent shall, to a certainty, be premillenial, and that Jesus shall, with the saints, have a literal reign of a thousand years in Jerusalem. The representation here is that the prophecies in Isaiah lxvi. 22, 23, concerning the new heavens and the new earth, and the seed, and the name of Israel remaining before the Lord and all flesh going up from Sabbath to Sabbath, and from one new moon to another, to worship before the Lord in Jerusalem; and in Micah. iv. 1, 2, concerning the establishment of the mountain of the house of the Lord, and the people and the nations crowding up to the house of the God of Jacob; and in Zacharias, fourteenth chapter, which speaks of the Lord's feet standing on Olivet, and the mountain cleaving, and the Lord coming with His saints and reigning as King over all the earth, and the remnant of all the nations going up to Jerusalem from year to year to worship the King, the Lord of Hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles, and the closing chapter of Ezekiel, are all descriptive of a personal reign and a literal kingdom whose centre of government shall be Jerusalem, and are all so explicit that they must be literally fulfilled. And if they are to be taken as figurative descriptions of the prosperity and progress of the Christian Church under the dispensation of the spirit and then exploded away, then there is no promise and no prophecy in the word that cannot be exploded away likewise, and we shall have nothing sure, but everything uncertainty and doubt. This is simply an appeal to public sentiment; and our answer to it is: that if these prophecies are to be interpreted literally, then many doubt and absurdities mentioned must be literal too; and if so, the world's first to rebuild Jerusalem, [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

THE WORLD AND I.

I've grown weary of life's toiling,
Of life's never-ending care,
Of its ever growing burdens,
Weary of the trivial Bear;
Fame, Ambition, Love, are naught but
Empty promises at the end,
And too oft we learn how worthless
Is the vaunted boon of—friend.

I've grown weary of the falsehoods
At life's every turn I meet,
Of the world, its insolence,
Its injustice and deceit;
Weary of the fleet-nigh fawning
Round us, with the studied smile,
When winged fortune deigns to hover
O'er life's checkered way, a while.

I've grown weary of the schemings
That make up the life we live,
Of man's justice that first teaches
To take all, but nothing give,
Of the world I ask but little;
Fame and fortune? No! A spot
Far removed from Envy's scoffings,
Where Deceit's fair shrine cannot.

CORONER.

BURGLARIES.—A series of burglaries have been committed in this town during the past three weeks. The third one for this week was attempted on Saturday night at Burnett's grocery store. Young Burnett, who was sleeping in the store, was awakened by the breaking of a pane in a rear window, and just as the light-fingered gentleman put his arm in the hole to unfasten the latch, he fired two shots from a revolver, the second one taking effect. After a moment or two he went to the door to follow up his advantage, and was shot through the arm by the fellow who seemed to have been waiting for him. The burglar escaped with his companions and no clue has been found as yet. The Mayor and the constables are quietly working up the case.

FENELON FALLS.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—On the afternoon of Tuesday last a man named William McCoy, a river driver in the employ of Messrs. Greene & Ellis, was brought up before H. Davis, Esq. J. P., on the charge of having, during the forenoon, stolen a silver watch from the pocket of a vest left by the owner, Mr. Henry Brooks, hanging up in the stable of the "Mansion House," Mr. Brooks said that when he missed the watch he suspected McCoy of having taken it he being the only person he had seen in the stable while the vest was hanging up, had pleaded "not guilty," but as he had the watch was found in his possession his between two shirts, and McCoy was committed to the Lindsay Goal to await his trial.
ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last a lad about 12 years old, son of Mr. W. Boadway, fell from a light waggon in which he was riding, and his right arm was broken between the elbow and wrist. He was promptly taken to Dr. Bryson, who set the broken limb.

(From our own Correspondent.)
THE CROPS.—Considering the very wet weather we have had lately the crops are doing remarkably well.
SHEEP KILLING.—Quite a large number of sheep have been killed lately in this neighbourhood, supposed to have been worried by dogs. Mr. Dennis O'Brien lost 4 and Mr. Henry Sheehan 10, besides a number of others.
A NEW SCHOOL HOUSE WANTED.—If there is one thing more than another in this township that needs attention it is matters pertaining to our common school, and especially the school house in section No. 7. It is an old frame building with low ceiling which cannot prove otherwise than injurious to the health of both teacher and pupils—in fact several of the teachers have lost their health through the ill ventilation defects of the building. The maps and other school requisites are also sadly in need of replacement, and it is to be hoped the trustees will insist upon erecting a new building and procuring the necessary maps, &c., required.

BOBCAYGEON.

BOBCAYGEON AND LINDSAY RAILWAY.—The Village Council have given a first and second reading to a By-law granting $20,000 to the Bobcaygeon and Lindsay Railway. The By-law has been very carefully framed, and whilst every precaution is taken to promote the sale of the debentures, and to secure for them the highest market value, the interests of the ratepayers are most effectually guarded. The law requires that the By law shall specify a special rate sufficient to pay the interest and principal without calculating any profit accruing from the reinvestment of the sinking fund. The voting will take place on Tuesday the 28th of June. Proxime.
SALMON.—On Monday last, Mr. W. Eastland the well known sportsman, and President of the Fish and Game Society of Peterborough, assisted by Capt. Bottum, placed 10,000 Salmon Trout fry, in Pigeon Lake, along the shore near Ball Narrows. The fish were from the Newcastle breeding establishment, and were in a most lively and healthy condition, not more than twenty-five being dead. The stocking and protection of fish in our lakes is of the utmost importance to this village, as the surety of good fishing is one of the great attractions we have to offer the holiday makers and sportsmen. Mr. Eastland deserves great praise for the trouble he takes in stocking the lakes of this district.—Independent.

SMITH.

TULLY'S SCHOOL.—On Friday evening last, a sunday school entertainment was held in Tully's school house, second line Smith. The evening being favourable from 175 to 200 persons were assembled in the school room.
Sheriff Hall—president. The meeting having been opened by singing and prayer, addresses or welcome were delivered by the boys and girls of the Sunday School after which refreshments consisting of fruit and sweetmeats were served. The programme was composed of speeches, music both vocal and instrumental, readings and recitations, the last by members of the Sunday School.
The Rev. Mr. Willoughby and Hicks, Fairbairn, Esqrs. of Peterborough did well toward helping forward the entertainment. The music was most appropriate, and was performed in a splendid style. The readings and recitations were good.
The programme being completed a number of resolutions were passed unanimously, thanking those who had taken part in the entertainment. The meeting was closed at about 10.30, all who were present feeling that they had spent a pleasant and profitable evening. The proceeds of the entertainment were $36, to be applied to purchasing a library for the second line Sunday School. There are, however, results which cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents—the encouragement of those who have been labouring in the Sunday School—the awakening in the community of an interest in Sunday School work, and the declaration to all that the people in Tully's neighbourhood are alive.—COM.

HILLBROOK.

ESCAPED.—The prisoner Gray, who was committed for an attempted rape upon Miss Thompson, school teacher, as reported in the last issue of THE EXAMINER, made his escape last Monday under rather slippery circumstances. The prisoner was tried on Saturday before Messrs. Ferguson, Reeve; Hetherington and Sowden, the Reeve presiding, found guilty and committed for trial. For some unaccountable reason the "papers" for committal could not be got ready that night and were put off till the Monday morning following. Gray in the meantime was like our first parents at the freedom of his own sweet will, though nominally he was in charge of Constable Scott, who does not happen to be a sworn officer of the peace. In the meantime various efforts were made to compromise the matter, but the young lady would hear of none—as much as $300 were offered on Monday. Gray was furnished by his friends with a suit of new clothes, two pockets of which were not empty, and everything got into good trim for his escape. About 11 a.m. his mother called Constable Scott to one side and engaged him in conversation out of sight of the prisoner, who at once made the most of his opportunity and bolted across the country to where a buggy was in convenient waiting, and for the present that is all of Mr. Gray. Mr. Thompson, the young lady's father, went to Cobourg on the Tuesday following and put the case in the hands of the county attorney, who atones sent detectives in every direction. A great amount of indignation is the result of the way in which the magistrates have "run the thing."
THE DUNKIN ACT.—The operation of the Dunkin Act don't amount to a "row of peas" as a tavernkeeper eleganty puts it. "Waubaushene bitters" did for the first week but it is a well-known fact that familiarity breeds contempt, and now it is "straight whiskey."
BRIEFLETS.—A. T. Armstrong's agricultural emporium was set on fire Saturday night, but was put out before any damage was done....We are still without any visible means of fire protection, notwithstanding that incendiarism is rife. Between everything the question is asked, "Whither are we drifting?"

PETERBOROUGH.

In a late number of the the Meaford Monitor we find the following in reference to this town:
Did you every attempt to write an essay on "Virtue hath its own reward?" If not, make the attempt, and it will give you an idea of the magnitude of the subject we have undertaken. and if there is a saving ignorance we certainly should be allowed the benefit of it. We may in the first place state, for the benefit of those benighted beings who have not had the advantage of a course in the late edition of "Lovell's Georgraphy," that Peterboro' is situated on the banks of the Otonabee River, and is the county town of the county bearing that name, and contains a population of about 8,000 people. Peterborough possesses some very handsome buildings, among which we might mention a large white edifice on George Street, one portion occupied by the Bank of Commerce, the remaining portion being divided into several handsome stores. This pile, for architectural beauty, would we believe rival any "city block." The opera house is one of the most perfect and elegant of its kind, and is capable of seating about 1,500 people. Among our hotels we have every reason for being justly proud of the "Huffman House," conducted by A. H. Huffman, who, by efficient management and uniform courtesy, has caused it to be so favourably known to the travelling community throughout the Province. Foremost among the many elegant private residences, ranks that of Dr. H. C. Burritt, our leading physican. This handsome edifice is built in the old Gothic style, and is surrounded by spacious grounds, laid out in a most tasteful manner. Then follow the residences of Messrs. Ludgate, Bradburn, Menzies, Dumble and Snider, any of which would be ornaments to our cities if they had the good fortune to possess them. We have three weekly newspapers, whose ably written articles are sufficient evidence of the abilities of their respective editors. The amusements and modes of enjoying oneself are numerous and rather varied. During the summer months the boating and its attendant accessaries indisputable carry the palm. Steamers incessantly ply between Peterborough and Rice Lake, and a constant succession of picnics, excursions, etc., evince the popularity of the route. At the southern extremity, and in close proximity to the town, lies an almost circular sheet of water, yclept Little Lake. This is quite a desideratum to the aquatic portion of the community. Almost every summer evening it is covered with scores of canoes containing parties returning from "pic-nicking" in some pretty and secluded spot with which the shores of our river abound; and with parties of ladies and gentlemen bent on enjoying a quiet sail or paddle. These small boats darting hither and thither on its placid bosom, give an added charm to our small lake and make up a picture pleasing in the extreme. On this historical body of water is held the annual regatta of the Peterborough Boat Club, of which more anon. Among other amusements indulged in by the pleasure-loving portion of the citizens the following is worth to require. One of the elements to engaged in is that of rowing a match in a canoe. Two canoes are selected, and the two gentlemen who are to contend for the mastery are each provided with a paddle. The canoes are then paddled out to the centre of the lake, and at a given signal the race commences. The one who succeeds in upsetting his opponent is declared the victor. This is a very exciting sport, and is generally indulged among the Ladies Don't Read This!

The following paragraph is not intended for the ladies! We call particular attention to this fact in order to avoid any misunderstanding that might arise if any of them should accidentally peruse it. We know they all skip it now, after we have called their attention to the matter, and thus we shall be relieved of a great responsibility:—
IF THERE IS ANYTHING WORTSE A WOMAN
HATES IT'S SOMETHING SHE OUGHT NOT TO KNOW.
NOW, WELL MARRIED LADIES—DON'T READ.
This poem was already read in our Parlours—

But you not being first had it out of your hand
Shut your eyes and don't look at the title
If there be anything worse a woman

WHAT FIRE-CRACKERS COST.

As the time for the annual shoot-off of crackers and fireworks is about over some statistics gathered from American cities in reference to the operations of these amusements during the month of July, 1877, may not be uninteresting. The figures have been taken from the reports of near 3,000 cities, with a united population of over 12,000,000. Of these 126 cities reported 428 alarms from fireworks and fire-crackers; 130 cities report 287 fires, damaging property to the extent of $261,417; 175 cities report 528 casualties, of which 31 were fatal, 106 serious, and 391 slight. That is a pretty good record for patriotic pyrrotechnics across the lines; and there is no doubt that Canada could show its proportion. We can burn up a few houses, and kill a few persons, and have a good time generally with fireworks just as well as other people; and we do it too.

THE ANNUAL DRILL.

The Canada Gazette has a statement of the number of men who are to do the annual drill arranged by regulation during the ensuing summer. In this district the men to do the drilling are limited to 2,150.
The Deputy Adjutant General of each district will notify the commanding officer of each corps detailed for drill, as well as those which cannot be paid, and send a return to Head Qu

PRESERVATION OF FORESTS.

The great sources of wealth of the Dominion are her farms, her forests, her fisheries; and another is growing up in her mines. The agricultural domain is well fenced about by the laws relating to land property, but the others have in every country where they exist required special legislation to preserve the riches they hold from wanton waste and heedless destruction. Thus we have special laws to regulate and preserve our fisheries, both Maritime and Inland, to partition and defend Mining locations, to define and guard Timber limits. All these are most desirable in their intention and necessary in their application. In this part of the country the forest laws are of the greatest interest, and next to them probably the laws relating to fish and game, while the fact begins to dawn upon us that we shall probably yet be deeply concerned in the applicability of mining regulations to certain portions of the country to the North.

Were it merely a question of home consumption Canada need not fear greatly an exhaustion of her timber for years to come, but considering that her pine is known and prized the world over, and that its export is a very considerable item in her trade, she may well look to its preservation from waste. Indeed the importance of preserving our timber supply has long been fully recognized, but the chief trouble has been in adopting practical steps to the desired end. As long ago as 1696 the attention of the French Governor of Canada was directed to the wasteful destruction of the forest, but no action was taken in the matter. Such has been pretty much the history of the question up to the present time; for such restrictions as have been made law, are for the most part inoperative.

The waste by barking and in squaring, as well as by the depredations of timber stealers, are as nothing compared with the destruction of pine forests by fire. Qualified judges estimate that this agency alone has destroyed more pine than has been taken by the axe. When fairly started a fire in a pine forest is perfectly irresistable, it will cross over large streams burning all before it, reducing to ashes that which should go to build up the future riches of the country. And these serious losses arise from causes in themselves insignificant, and easily preventable by the exercise of a little prudence. Lumbermen, hunters and fishermen start many great fires through sheer carelessness. Settlers in pine districts too are sometimes very reckless in their burnings, and cause the destruction of many an acre of valuable timber. In European countries safety strips are cut out of the forests on which nothing is allowed to grow; and in Hanover when a railway passes through a forest the government clears away the coniferous trees from the sides of the track for some distance, and plants hardwood ones instead. In the province of Quebec, precautions are imposed to secure the lighting of fires, care in their management, and their total extinguishment before their place is left. So important is this question of fires in the woods that a paper prepared not long ago for the Dominion Council of Agriculture suggested the propriety of confining settlement to hardwood lands.

At the late session of the Ontario Legislature there was passed "an Act to preserve the Forests from Destruction by Fire", which reflects great credit on Hon. Mr. Pardee for the care and research he has evidently bestowed in its preparation. It limits chapter 19 of the Revised Statutes of the Provincial Statutes; and from an examination of the provisions it will be found that they are, (as is declared in the preamble to be necessary,) stringent. They will not interfere, as has been alleged by some persons eager to find fault, with the operations of all occupants of ordinary agricultural lands; for they are to be applied only to such sections of country as the Lieutenant-Governor may proclaim fire districts till revocation by like authority. In each proclaimed districts fires are not to be started between April and November, except for clearing, land, cooping, obtaining warmth, or for some industrial purpose, and then only under obligations and precautions imposed by the act. If the spot selected for a fire be in the forest or within half a mile of it, or on any island within a fire district, such spot must be where there is the smallest quantity of vegetable matter; a space must be cleared of all vegetable matter for ten feet from the fire; and every reasonable care must be observed to prevent the fire from spreading, and to carefully put it out before leaving the place. Burning matches, ashes from a pipe, lighted cigars, or other burning substances must be completely extinguished, and any person discharging a fire-arm shall take care to leave no burning wadding. Railway locomotives passing through any fire district must be provided with the most efficient means to prevent the escape of fire from the furnaces or ash-pan, and cover the smoke-stack with a wire netting of prescribed quality as to size of wire and the number of wires woven into the square inch, and engine drivers are enjoined by the Act to see that such appliances are properly used.

The penalty for non-compliance with the Act on conviction before any Justice of the Peace is fifty dollars over and above costs, or imprisonment for not more than three months; and any railway company violating the provisions relating to the running of engines, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each offence. Half the fines imposed goes to the complainant, but suit must be instituted within three months after the offence. This Act does not interfere with the right to enter a civil action for damages. The special duty of enforcing the Act is imposed on Crown Lands agents, Woods and Forest agents, Free Grant agents, and Bush Rangers, and every person in charge of any party requiring camp-fires within a fire district is enjoined to provide himself with a copy of the Act, and read it to his men at least once a week during the continuance of their service.

There is nothing in any way unreasonable in the requirements of this Act, while their fulfilment is calculated to save much wealth to the Province. The very fact of their being on the Statute Book will tend to remind persons more directly concerned of the great advantage of care in management of necessary fires in the woods and also prove a warning to the careless hunter or traveller. The mere existence of the law will, we trust, in a great measure lead to its general observance, as it is one of those enactments that appeals at once to the good sense of the people.

MANUFACTURES AND MANURE.

A Mr. Phipps, of Toronto, has made a hobby of Protection, and rides it on all possible occasions. He has published his thoughts on this momentous subject in Grip, the National, the Mail, the Canadian Monthly and elsewhere; and lately he has, with the help of a number of friends, issued a pamphlet "for free distribution," probably because it wouldn't sell. Considering the attention this genius devoted to his pet subject it would be wonderful indeed if he could not present it in the best possible light. This we believe he has done; but if this be the best advocacy, then indeed the case is a hard one to uphold. It is a pity for instance that in adopting his peculiar theories to Canada he should be forced to represent it as a country, "devoted solely to agriculture," in order that he may compare it with one "where agriculture and manufactures go hand in hand." Now Canada has many and comparatively flourishing manufactures, and they of course go hand in hand with agriculture; for does not an authority quoted and indorsed by Mr. Phipps declare that "agriculture is the great basis and foundation on which everything else depends?" But Mr. Phipps while acknowledging this strongly urges the principle of enlarging the superstructure that the foundation may grow. In other words, he pleads for making manufactures a basis on which farming shall depend. Common sense teaches that great additions to the upper walls, without due regard first to the foundation, will injure the latter. So this system of protection to manufactures for the benefit of the farmer is like commencing to build a chimney at the top. As Canada has advanced in agriculture so has she advanced in manufactures and other respects; and so will the order continue in spite of the puny efforts of ten thousand Phippses to change the natural sequence. He is quite right in saying agriculture flourishes best near manufactories; but would he not as a Canadian better express the fact by saying manufactories can best exist where food supplies are easily obtainable. This may be in the immediate neighborhood, or in a region more or less remote, but easily accessible by rapid and cheap communication. Thus, Massachusetts, to the manufactures of which particular reference is made, first grew an agricultural country, and now relies and always will rely, on rapid transit between it and the food-producing West. But manufacturing Massachusetts is far from happy in its condition. Its increased population suffers all the evils of low wages and intermittent work that protection to manufactures bring. The very growth in population means a larger supply of labour and a consequent cheapening of that unit of wealth. The manufacturer gains at the expense of the workman. The manufacturers assisted by a protection tariff are enabled to turn out goods in any quantity, and to cause production when an over supply is reached. Thus they keep up prices, and also are enabled to force men to accept lower wages on resuming. But in the meantime the workmen have been out of work, eating up their savings, or if they have nothing in the savings bank, starving with their families. In such a pass the pressure falls on the agriculturist, who is the foundation of all. It will be seen from this presentation of the case that Mr. Phipps's figures of the Massachusetts population assessed value of property, and deposits in Savings Banks really prove nothing in favour of Protection. An increased valuation of taxable property is no gain to the holder, unless it be correspondingly productive. The artisan who holds a cottage and lot only loses by such increase of taxation; and so does the farmer, to some extent, who holds lands in the vicinity. No wonder then that the workmen prefer to deposit their money in savings banks to investing it in a permanent home, particularly when the strong desire is in them to have cash available when work gives out, that they may have it to live on, or to move elsewhere. But Mr. Phipps could not take these things into consideration, his mind being absorbed in the contemplation of manures! His whole argument depends on the idea that manufactures produce manure for the farmer. To think that the great Protectionist, Phipps, should rest his philosophy on such a foundation!

RAKING HAY.

Against Mr. John Macdonald, M. P. for Centre Toronto, whom the leader of the Opposition was wont to call "that Christian gentleman," the Tories have brought out Mr. Robert Hay, an old man in his second childhood. It matters not that for years Mr. Hay acted with the Reform party. The Tories thought they could make use of him by taking advantage of his weaknesses and playing on his prejudices, and they were more ready to do so because they knew they could not bring out a straight party candidate with any hope of success. They accordingly flattered Mr. Hay's vanity and pressed their admiration of his protectionist views till they succeeded in inducing the poor old gentleman to place himself in their hands. Mr. Hay is a pattern Protection*ist candidate, inasmuch as on* that question he grounds his opposition to the present government. He is a furniture manufacturer and wants protection for his wares. In other words he wants other people to be forced to pay him more for his chairs, tables, &c., that he may grow still richer than he is. He declares in his address that,—"So long as the present "unfair and one-sided tariff relations with "the United States subsist, no Canadian "industries can flourish, exposed as they "are to ruinous competition whenever it "may suit the Americans to make our "country a slaughter market; while we, "through their prohibitory tariff, are "denied the opportunity of legitimate "trade with them." This is the issue on which he has "joined hands with the Opposition!' Let us examine its bearings a little as regards Mr. Robert Hay. He and his industry have flourished without more protection than is given by the present tariff. He has grown rich; so rich in fact that the Conservatives have marked him as a pigeon to be plucked; so rich as to imagine he has influence enough to secure him a seat in Parliament. In this however he is far mistaken as he is in the idea of the Americans making "our country a slaughter market." Taking his own industry again we find that last year $276,383, worth of furniture imported from the United States, to compete with over $3,830,000 worth of home-made furniture actually sold in Canada. As a still further offset to this small percentage of imported furniture, Canada exported to the United States goods of this class to the value of $133,825, thus leaving only a balance of $142,553 of "slaughtered" goods to produce the "ruinous competition," Mr. Hay tells us he turned his cost for. Most of this we have no doubt was composed of special styles not made here, or articles of particular merit either because of peculiarity or other special inducement to the purchaser. With these facts before them people will perceive that the furniture manufacturer in Canada does not need further protection to keep its home market, and a similar analysis of other manufactures for which those engaged in them cry out for more protection will show much the same state of affairs, and disclose that these men only want to gain further riches at the expense of the farmers, lumberers, fishermen, artizans and labourers of the Dominion.

COST TO THE CONSUMER.

Taking tobacco as a subject, the Hamilton Spectator says:—

"The custom duty upon this article ranges from 35 to 50 or 60 per cent., according to the value of the brand, part of the duty being specific, at 25 cents per pound, offset, however, by an excise duty of 20 cents per pound. From the customs duty upon manufactured tobacco the Government receive but $61,108 of revenue, the whole amount imported being worth but $75,189. But what was the quantity and value of the manufactured tobacco used in Canada during that year? An official return shows that the quantity was 8,991,610 lbs.; at 30 cents a pound, which is a moderate estimate, this would amount to $2,400,000 and a customs duty upon it at even 25 per cent, would amount to $840,000, but the Government only $61,108. Did the Canadian consumer of tobacco then pay to the Canadian manufacturer of it the difference between $840,000 and the $61,108 collected?"

The Spectator here drops into an astonishing blunder. It ignores altogether the fact that instead of paying to the Government only $840,000 of customs duty the Canadian consumer paid twice that amount to the manufacturer, and the manufacturer to the Government, in the form of excise duty, the exact figures being $1,507,436. The experience of every civilized nation has shown that tobacco, spirits, beer and other liquors, are proper subjects upon which excise duties shall be levied. The levying of duties which practically exclude foreign manufactured tobacco enables us to collect a very heavy excise duty at home. Thus the duty which is sufficient to exclude foreign manufactured tobacco would, on the Spectator's own figures, only yield half as much as we now get from it. If we were to lower our customs duty on tobaccos we should simply lose two dollars for every one collected, and should put a premium on the consumption of the foreign manufactured article.

The local Opposition "lyre" heads a brief article in last week's issue with the very appropriate words, "The Policy of Slander." It again attempts to lay the whole blame of the disgraceful scene during the last minutes of the late session on the shoulders of Mr. D. A. Smith, in charging that gentleman with defending himself "when a proper reply was impossible,"—as the St. John News puts it. We have not attempted to free Mr. Smith from any share he may have had in the shameful scene; but even if he did choose deliberately a time when "a proper reply was impossible," that is no excuse why the Honorables (?) Macdonald and Tupper should indulge in language so improper as to be fit for a brothel rather than a Parliamentary Chamber. Mr. Smith, considering the length of time he acted with Sir John Macdonald, may not be a saint; nor indeed does he require to be able to bear contempt with those who were his antagonists in the "closing disgrace." It shows what strain the Opposition apologists are put to when they have to rest their case on the hypothesis that Mr. Smith was personally interested in the proposed railway job, though there is no grain or shadow whatever of his connection with the railway spoken of, and though the impossibility of a job is apparent from the fact that no terms were yet entered into, and the bill expressly provided that any lease should be laid before Parliament and approved by the House before ratification. But were is found on production of the lease that Mr. D. A. Smith was a party to it; that would not justify the bitter opposition in the Commons and the Senate, which deprived Manitoba of much needed Railway communication. As we have formerly remarked Mr. Smith's connection with a Government contract would disqualify him from sitting in the House. The Opposition must seek a more plausible excuse than that for their obstruction to this particular measure; and it is only one among many, the progress of which they tried to retard without any apparent good motive in the interest of the people every member pretended to serve.

The opposition scandal mongers certain ly go far out of their way to find charges against the present government. The latest "mare's nest" of this kind is an accusation in relation to tenders for increasing the depth of the graving dock at Point Levis. It is alleged that a wrong was done in allowing an amendment of tenders on a change of specification. It is needless to inquire into the merits of this so far as the charge against the Dominion Ministry is concerned, for that body probably knew little or nothing of the minor particulars of the case, the whole business being the work of the Quebec Harbour Commissioners. The Review had apparently snatched the bait before it discovered this fact, and it has added a supplementary paragraph wherein it affects to believe that it makes no difference if the Quebec Harbour Commissioners are not government officials. It boldly declares "they are the creatures of the Mackenzie administration, having been appointed by an order in Council." This is either a deliberate attempt to deceive, or is stated in ignorance, and the writer of it can take his choice of being reckoned knave or fool. A reference to the Dominion Statutes, 39 Vic., Cap., 39 will show that the Council of the Board of Trade of the City of Quebec elects one member of the Quebec Harbour Commission, the Council of the Board of Trade of the town of Levis another, and that the shipping interest elects two members. So much for that Board being composed of "creatures of the Mackenzie administration." Another fact and we are done. The resolution for the awarding of this particular contract was seconded by a son-in-law of Senator Macpherson, Mr. R. R. Dobell himself, a strong Conservative.

A Comprehensive Motto.—"Tupperism and Toperism—The Tory Plague." The Lindsay banquet committee must have been under the impression that a man is known by the company he keeps when they printed the above mottoe for their banquet Hall. It is certain that it was not inappropriate as referring to Mr. Tupper's associations. It is not our desire to strike too severe a blow at Mr. Tupper and many of his friends, but they should remember that evil associations like evil communication influence the manners of even heaven born politicians, and the Lindsay committee must have felt the wisdom of placing the hand-writing on the wall of the Conservative party, and to some extent the cause of their sorrow. It may be unfortunate for a statesman that his opponents can play so easily on his cognomen, but no one will doubt the appropriateness of the motto of the Lindsay committee. It may convey a useful lesson also.

We are glad to see that the Review acknowledges that the mere quotation of prices is no guide to the cost of an article, and that it admits the principle of "relative values" in considering exchange of commodities. Just let it apply this knowledge to the "balance of trade" humbug it refers to in another place, and see whether the labour represented by our exports is not traded to a very great advantage for the labor consumed in the production of our imports. It will then see probably how England grows rich though the "balance of trade" is against her to the extent of £100,000,000 annually.

The Ottawa Citizen lately said:—"Hon. A. G. Jones, Minister of Militia, leaves for Halifax to-day. This is strange considering the fact that critical circumstances would seem to demand his attention to departmental duties."

To which the Halifax Chronicle replies; "We trust that our contemporary will not feel needlessly alarmed. The Militia Department will take particular pains to protect the Citizen office from the Fenians, should those gentry take a notion to make Ottawa a visit. If Mr. Jones sees fit to leave Ottawa he will not fail to make proper provisions for the direction of the department, and we feel confident that the acting Minister of Militia, whoever he may be, will not be found drunk and incapable of attending to business while the Fenians are shooting down Canadian citizens. Times have changed since the last Fenian raid."

Will the precious pair of Protectionist papers of this County give just one instance in Peterborough of the ruin they tell us is wrought by the present tariff? Where are the bankrupt concerns and those tottering to their fall to be saved by the nondescript policy the Tory party calls "national?" Show us the poor struggling manufacturers who look to Mr. Hilliard or Mr. Burnham for salvation, or stop the iteration of an insane cry.

The Lakefield News has given up the study of electro-biology as elucidated by the DeMontford, and has taken to communing with disembodied spirits. Wonder if it wasn't the ghost of John A. in liquor, that wrote the signature to that Choate-McWilliams letter? But these are mysteries to the uninitated, and must not be spoken of lightly. We therefore pause.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The favourable aspect of the European negotiations remains unchanged, and the general feeling of satisfaction is reflected in the almost unprecedented rise in the prices of securities on the London Stock Exchange and Continental Bourses. Although the invitations to the Congress have not been actually issued, the probabilities all point to its assembling at Berlin on the 11th prox. The names of the representatives of the several Powers are mentioned, and the statement made yesterday that Germany would guarantee the sphinxship of the whole treaty is corroborated. The satisfactory phase upon which the Eastern Question has now entered is said to be largely due to the good offices of Bismarck, who as mentor to no person an understanding which would prove satisfactory to both Russia and England, without entailing humiliation to the one or risk to the other. Russia's concessions, however, are undeniably great, the arrangement arrived at including the reduction of the new provinces of Bulgaria to one-half the size originally contemplated, besides large fleglections in Asia, and possibly entire suppression of the indemnity. Upon the other side of the question it is remarked that the powerful opposition to Schouvaloff which has existed in St. Petersburg for some time past continues unabated, though it has hitherto proved unsuccessful. Doubts are also expressed in Paris—mainly owing to the guarded statement of the Southern Northcote in the House of Commons on Monday—whether England will be satisfied with the submission of the Treaty by Germany, the avoidance of this task by Russia being interpreted as a tacit protest against the principles maintained by England.

Affairs at Constantinople are also beginning to look more reassuring. The recent Russian advance has been disavowed by Tobleden, and the troops have been ordered to fall back. Within the city a Ministerial change has taken place, Rachdi Pasha succeeding Sadyk Pasha as Premier, and resuming the title of Grand Visier.

A CONTRADICTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—As I am informed by good authority that Mr. Aaron Cox is circulating the report that I had lodged information to him against several of the Hotel keepers of this town, I hereby say that if he has said so he has been telling what is not true. I have not given Mr. Cox any information, and I am sorry that he has been guilty of such an apparently wilful falsehood in stating that I have done so. It is his own business to enforce the Law and I hope he will do so without trying to inculpate others.

I am yours &c.,
A. H. R. SPROULE.

Peterborough, May 29th, 1878.

A CONTRADICTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—As some of my "good friends" are making themselves busy in circulating a report to the effect that I am in the employ of the Vigilance Committee for the purpose of informing on those who are in the liquor trade, will you be kind enough to contradict the statement, as I am not in that line of business.

Yours etc.,
JOHN HOLMES.

Peterborough, May 29th, 1878.

THE GRANGE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I observe by recent issues of the Examiner that some of your correspondents are airing their views in reference to the Grange movement in this county. Now, sir, I must say that I am always interested in discussions that concern a large portion of the community. When amicably entered into, and intelligently conducted, they are refreshing, and sometimes invigorating, and in a great measure relieve the dull monotony of farm life. Before saying anything in reference to some of the aims of the Grange, I would say a word regarding your correspondents. The lengthy and laborious efforts of the "Son of a Farmer" does not call for any special reply, the impression left on a Grangers' mind after reading it, is that he knows little of the subject, and Grangers generally look upon his effusions very much in the light of the well known chip in porridge, "no good, and very little harm."

To our friend, I must say we are glad of his friendship, and I would also whisper in his ear that the flush of anger that pervades his last letter, neither adds strength nor zest to his argument—and more,

Depend upon it ear "Granger Friend,"
Few can their family cord ascend,
Without finding it waxed at the other end
By some plebeian vocation.

Any person who enters into discussion is very much mistaken, if he imagines that personalities and abuse are argument, or that low insinuations will pass for wit, and they but injure the cause they attempt to defend, when they introduce such into the realms of controversy.

The Grange is an association specially organized in the interest of the agricultural community—an association of farmers. The farmers' occupation is said to be the most independent, but some have carried their independence so far as to be almost virtually isolated from their brother farmers. I have often heard tradesmen and professional men, commend the independence of a farmers life, because agriculture is self sustaining. I could not help but think these commendations were given more for a selfish purpose than for encouragement. Shrewd calculating tradesmen know it is much easier to impose on an isolated farmer, than a co-operative one, hence one reason for their opposition to the Grange. The design of the Grange is not to overthrow the farmers independence, but to make him truly independent, by enabling him to take advantage of the system of co-operation the order affords. Heretofore the other callings have known all about the farmers business, his crops, his markets, &c., while he knew comparatively nothing of theirs, and this knowledge has been a power to them, and well used as a stepping stone to wealth, while they from the lofty position to which our ignorance have raised them, look down with a kind of contempt upon the tillers of the soil. The Patron in his co-operative capacity is becoming well acquainted with the arts and practices of those who fooled him so long, and is prepared to protect himself—is in less danger of being imposed upon, and his fund of knowledge is far greater than isolated farmers can be. Every farmer should assist and favour Grangeism, the closer he comes to it the more he will be satisfied that it is one of those issues that will bear inspection, and stand the test of analysis. It is also one of those questions that in order to appreciate, you must inspect closely. No farmer can stand afar off and be aware of its benefits, nor feel the advantage that results from connection with it. Hence we find that nearly every one who oppose us misunderstand our aims, and misinterprets our actions, and many blinded by prejudice, and some inspired by ignorance, use most senseless arguments, and make most absurd and unreasonable assertions concerning us, and in reference to the organization. Now, I cannot see why all "this is thusly." Have not all other trades callings and professions, their organizations, clubs and unions? Why then may it not be asked in the name of common sense, and the general intelligence, that sheds its rays over the people of this nineteenth century, should the first greatest and noblest of all, be debared a privilege that usage time and custom have long conceded to the minor professions?

While we are determined to advance and maintain our own interest, it is not our intention to injure or oppose any honest trade or profession. It is our intention however, and one of our fixed principles to prune among the limbs of the many branches of trade and commerce in this country, and by all means lop off the caterpillars that sport among the leaves. For some time it has been felt and is now generally acknowledged that the body commercial of the country is in a state of lethargy and inertia, and great prostration seems to have taken possession of the extremities, while feeble indeed are the pulsations of the centre. To remove the disease and its attendant evils, many practitioners, wise and otherwise, have prescribed their nostrums. Cathartics, astringents and tonics and last of all, the great water cure has been tried but we look in vain for its promised blessings, and is too with all the rest have proved a failure—a significant failure. And now that the "Quacks" have exhausted their experiments and find their grand specifics, has resulted by the observers of the disease, the Patrons have resolved to try their skill, and in view of the fact that many evil consequences are clinging to the body politic, deem it best to commence with a little courtesy, and no doubt their practical common sense way of doing things will accomplish a cure, and hasten the good time coming."

Farewell until after the harvest, as my next I will give you an idea of what a true Patron is.

Yours &c.,
May 22nd, 1878. GRANGER.

COBOURG.

Another Fire.—An alarm of fire took place on Tuesday morning about three o'clock, and it was soon discovered that Mr. Kobold's residence, about one and a half miles distant from the town, was on fire. The steam fire engine and No. 2 went down, but could do no good, as the buildings and the outbuildings and contents were all consumed. It is supposed to have been set on fire by the gang of burglars who have so long infested the town and neighbourhood. It appears that after breaking into the house and taking what the wanted they were alarmed by a son of Mr, Kobold, who was awakened by one of the burglars entering his room. The burglars immediately fled, locked the doors of the main building, and went into the kitchen, which they fired, whether by accident or design is not known. The flames spread with great rapidity, and the inmates had great difficulty in making their escape; the doors being locked from the outside, they had to break open a window to make their way out. The buildings, which were of brick, were insured in the Isolated Risk, and London, Liverpool and Globe for $3,000; the furniture and household goods for $1,700 in the Western. A lot of pork, also burned, was insured for $1,000 in the Hartford and $2,000 in the Phœnix of Brooklyn, New York. Mr. Hembold's loss will be between $2,000 and $3,000 over the insurance. There were four thousand dollars' worth of hams and bacon in the cellar, which were completely destroyed. No trace of the perpetrators of the fiendish act has been discovered as yet. The feeling in town is so strongly excited against them that if found there would be a great difficulty in preventing them being lynched.

DR. J. BINGHAM begs to inform the inhabitants of Peterborough and vicinity that he has opened an office in the brick building directly east of the Market Square, where he may be consulted at all hours, day and night, except when out on professional calls. 22-13ins

LOCAL NEWS.

School Board.—The next regular monthly meeting of the School Board will be held next Tuesday evening.

Found.—The valise stolen from Mr. Geo. C. Morrison of this town, while in Toronto lately, has been recovered by the detectives.

Summer Hats.—Gentlemen desiring a fashionable hat, should call and examine Wm. Loch's stock, which is now complete, and will be sold cheap. 21-in.

The Concert To-night.—Remember the Benefit Concert to-night, given by the friends of the late T. W. Beldidge. An attractive programme is announced.

Mechanics' Institute.—At a meeting of the Directors of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute, held last Monday evening, Mr. Masson, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, was elected Secretary.

Confederation Life.—Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Confederation Life Insurance, in this issue. We may next week refer at more length to the benefits of insuring in this Company.

Orange Pic-Nic.—We would again draw attention to the Durham Division Grange Pic-Nic, which is to be held in the Drill Shed grounds on Wednesday next. Some of the men in connection with the Dominion Grange in this part of Ontario are expected to be present and deliver addresses.

Personal.—As will be seen by a card in another column, Dr. Bingham, formerly of Warsaw, and late of Enniskillen, has removed to Peterborough, where he has commenced the practice of his profession. His office and residence for the present is on Water street, directly opposite the Market.

Portrait of Lord Dufferin.—Mr. B. B. Russell, of Boston, has published a very fine portrait of Lord Dufferin, engraved on steel. It is neatly printed on plate paper 19 x 12, and on the receipt of 25 cents will be sent by the publisher free by post. The portrait is a striking and pleasing likeness of His Excellency.

Grand Orange Lodge B. N. A.—The annual meeting of the Supreme Grand Orange Lodge of British North America opens on Monday next, in the City of St. John, N. B. Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Grand Lecturer of Eastern Ontario, and Mr. W. H. Stephenson, of Norwood, leave this morning to attend the session.

Temperance Excursion.—The members of "Benefort Royal" Lodge of the United Temperance Association intend having a grand excursion and pic-nic on Wednesday, 12th of June, to Idyl Wild and Hastings, per the steamer Golden-Eye. Boat leaves Peterborough wharf at 8.30 a.m., calling at the different ports along the river.

"The Omemee Herald."—Mr. E. D. Pass, more, formerly of the Lakefield News, has resuscitated journalism in Omemee, and this week issues the first number of The Omemee Herald. It is an eight page paper, very creditably got up, and with a larger amount of reading matter than is usually found in village newspapers. It has our best wishes.

The New Firemen's Hall.—The new Fire Brigade have handsomely fitted up the rooms formerly used as Clerks' office and Council Chamber as a Hall. The former as a parlour and reception room, and the latter as a room for holding their meetings in. They have now one of the handsomest suits of rooms of any Brigade in the Province.

New Strawberries.—On Friday last, Messrs Stone & Bailey placed on our table an offering of choice strawberries. This is unusually early, and it is unnecessary to add that the luscious fruit was most acceptable. This firm are receiving strawberries regularly from the other side of the line, and are always to the front with early fruit and vegetables in season. Go and see for yourself.

True Blues.—The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of True Blues was held in Ottawa during the past week. The following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:—W. Fitzgerald, Toronto, Master; George Hunt, Montreal, Deputy Master; Richard Flack, Toronto, Secretary; Thomas McGeachie, St. Catharines, Treasurer; D. Jameson, Peterborough, D. of C.; John McCauley, Ottawa, Chaplain; D. Perry, Kingston, Auditor; F. Farren, Montreal, and P. Brillett, Toronto, Tylers. The Grand Lodge will meet next year in Peterborough.

Death to the Curculio.—We are informed, by one who has tried it, that if a small quantity of salt is sprinkled under the plum trees just as the fruit is forming, it will kill the curculio and preserve the young plums from being stung. The same person says wood-ashes spread underneath the plum trees will also drive the curculio away. He applies both of these remedies, and always has nice smooth plums and a bountiful crop. Perhaps both are effectual; the ashes will, at least, promote a vigorous growth, and the salt can do no harm if it is used sparingly.

Medical.—The Norwood Register has the following in reference to the young gentlemen of this county who so successfully passed their examination in medicine at the late examinations in Kingston:—

Among those we notice the names of Messrs. [illegible] Kidd, of Chemong, and H. Bennett, of Peterborough, both of whom have graduated as M. D's; Mr. J. G. Clark, son of Rev. R. Clark, who passed his second year's, and Messrs. Peter Wakemley, J. F. O'Shea and D. Cumpbell, of Asphodel their first year's examination. We may here remark with justice that Mr. O'Shea's name is all the more creditable to him owing to the fact that he had only three months study at the Medical College, while all the others have had the full session of six months. We understand that the examinations this year were much more searching and difficult than formerly, and with this fact in view we feel justly proud that our county of Peterborough "turns out" so many successful students on the annual list. We congratulate all those gentlemen on the success they have already gained, and hope that many more victories may be long and many.

Rambling Fire Celebration.—For a number of years past the citizens of the town of Peterborough have rendered themselves to a state of apathy in the matter of public celebrations of our national holidays, and no attempt such meeting seems to have been made in any way calculating to provide amusement of a rational manner to bring to the town people from the country, who, on former years were want to repair in thousands to Peterborough to witness the celebrations for which the town had been deservedly celebrated. The Fire Brigade being the only body or society organized by the town was always looked upon as the prime movers and upholders in matters of this kind, but for some reason or other for nearly a decade of years, they too, have lost that spirit of energy and enthusiasm which at one time was a leading part in their composition. With the dissolution of the old companies and the organization of the present Brigade a change has been brought about—and the enterprising new blood of which the present Brigade is composed has already gave evidence that the state of lethargy into which their predecessors had allowed themselves to drift has been removed. Believing that the time had come for a grand Dominion Day celebration in the town of Peterborough a meeting of the Brigade was held on Monday night, and resolutions passed calling a meeting of citizens the following evening in the Council Chamber for the purpose of consideration the advisability of holding a grand monster demonstration on the 1st of July, a report of which will be found in another column. The unanimity and enthusiasm with which this scheme was entertained by the large number of citizens present lead us to believe that the Brigade in their efforts to bring a large concourse of people to the town and to provide entertainment for them will be duly appreciated by the citizens and tangibly endorsed by them, by assistance both monetary and otherwise in carrying out to a successful issue the contemplated programme of the day's sports, which at the present time would be premature to announce, and which will altogether depend upon the assistance received from our Town Council and citizens.

TERRIBLEPHANTASMAGORIA.

Meeting of the Citizens to Co-Operate with the Firemen in Celebrating Dominion Day—A Flaying Procession, Band Tournament and other Sports Proposed—The Council asked for Assistance.

On Tuesday evening a meeting of the citizens was held in the Council Chamber for the purpose of considering the advisability of acting in co-operation with the Fire Brigade in satisfactorily celebrating the anniversary day of the Dominion of Canada. The meeting was largely attended. W. H. Scott, Esq., M. P. P., occupied the chair, and after formally opening the meeting called upon Mr. McNeil, Secretary of the Brigade to state the object of the meeting.

Mr. McNeil said that at a meeting of the Fire Brigade held the previous evening, a committee had been appointed to take steps towards a proper celebration of the 1st of July—Dominion Day. The Brigade proposed to have a grand celebration which was to consist of Physical Procession in the forenoon; a Band Tournament in the afternoon; and a Promenade Concert and Fire works in the evening. Since then it had been suggested by some of the citizens to invite the Governor-General here on that day, as it was understood that he desired to visit this town and the lakes in the rear of this county. The meeting had been called together this evening to ask the citizens to join the Firemen in the day's celebration, and to assist them in raising funds for the purpose.

Mr. James English said the proposed celebration was a big undertaking. The new Brigade proposed having a Burlesque Carnival, or what was generally known as Physiogs. The money asked for by the Committee would be appropriated for the purposes voted, and although the Brigade intended to make some money to create a fund, this would be raised in another way.

Messrs. Jas. H. Dixon and R. W. Thompson thought it was time something should be done in regard to a celebration, and believed the Fire Brigade with the citizens were competent to carry it out.

Lieut-Col. H. C. Rogers would do anything in his power to assist in a celebration that would be a credit to the town. He thought of late years the citizens had been rather lax in such matters.

Capt. G. W. Hall believed there was nothing that would afford so much amusement to the citizens as the sports contemplated. If gone into he believed they would meet with the hearty support of the citizens.

Mr. W. Croft was of opinion that during the past few years all the public holidays were celebrated away from home. It was a good scheme. If we went in heart and hand together it was sure to be a success. A very large crowd would be brought to town, and all the citizens would receive a benefit either directly or indirectly. He wished to see a subscription list opened immediately and he would be neither least nor last in giving.

After favorable expressions from Mr. Robert Elder, Mr. W. J. Fowler, and Mr. R. B. Rogers, the Chairman was called upon to give his views.

Mr. Scott said from the unanimity and enthusiasm shown to-night, the feeling of those present was decidedly in favour of a celebration on the 1st of July,—one of those gala days we had been accustomed to in years gone by. The Physiogs processions were amongst the most pleasing sights he had ever witnessed. Instead of taking people out of town, it would bring thousands to the town. He had thought to-day of bringing the Governor-General to town on that day. He was not aware that Lord Dufferin had ever been in this section, and he (Mr. S.) was led to believe that if an invitation was extended the Governor-General would make a tour through Peterborough, Lindsay, and the back lakes. If this was possible a future meeting of the citizens might be called, and if deemed advisable, he felt sure the Council would deal liberal in the matter. It might be difficult to provide entertainment for His Excellency, but if the proposed demonstration was as good as former ones, he felt sure it would please him.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, being again called upon to express his views in reference to inviting the Governor-General, said that some three years ago when His Excellency was visiting Port Hope, Cobourg, and the Marmora Mines, he had wondered why Peterborough had not extended an invitation to him. It had left the impression that the people were either very supercilious or shabby. Although Peterborough was a backwoods town, it always created a favourable impression on strangers, and the outlay required for the proposed celebration would be more than repaid by the good accomplished. Before taking his seat he must be allowed to express himself as very much pleased with the appearance of the Fire Brigade on the 24th of May.

Mr. Calcutt also favored the celebration, and would aid it in any way he could. Ashburnham too, he thought, would not be behind in giving assistance.

After some further conversation the following resolution was put to the meeting, and carried unanimously, after which the meeting separated.

Moved by Mr. A. McNeil, seconded by R. W. Thompson,—That Messrs. W. Croft, H. Calcutt, J. H. Dixon, R. Rider, F. W. Heather, H. C. Winch, H. C. Rogers, and H. W. Thompson, be a committee of citizens to act with a committee of the Fire Brigade, in making all arrangements for the celebration of Dominion Day, and that the Town Council be requested to furnish such joint committee with the sum of $200.00, for the purpose of such celebration.

Why is It?

The truths of science and progress are thought have always been compelled to batter down the bulwarks of prejudice and disbelief, or remain forever unknown. Why is it that people are so reluctant to receive facts that relate directly to the phenomena of their own existence? Astronomers think discovering a star, being a fixed place at once, and it is forever fixed. The rule by which a mathematical problem is once solved becomes forever an axiom; but no matter how clearly the principles which govern health and sickness be demonstrated, some refuse to believe. Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines, which are now so generally used, had deservedly popular, were, in their early days, very reluctantly received by the people. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for many years the only old-time naturopathic, his Pellets are in great demand for most of the coming ills, diseases and infirmities of mankind, while the sales of his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and his Favorite Prescription are enormous. Where the skin is yellow and covered with pimples and blotches, or where there are scrofulous taints and affections, a few bottles of his Golden Medical Discovery, administered, by its alterative, tonic or blood-cleansing properties, will soon drive the impurities from the system, when the skin will become clear, and the complexion assume a healthy hue. If you are troubled with a cough, cold, or any affection of the throat, lungs or liver, you can be cured by the use of these remedies. Sold by all druggists.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

How the day was Celebrated in and out of Town.

The fifty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Our Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria was loyally celebrated throughout the Dominion on Friday last, and although the celebration in Peterborough was not distinguished by that eclat and enthusiasm for which our town in years gone by became proverbial, yet the citizens were treated to a more varied and attractive programme than they have been for some years. The morning set in wet and gloomy and continued showery till near noon when the sky cleared, and old "Sol" burst out and in all his splendour, making the remainder of the day and evening all that could be desired. The following were among the chief attractions of the day:

THE EXCURSION TO IDYL WILD.

Early in the morning, notwithstanding the rain, a large number started by the steamer Golden-Eye for Idyl Wild. Owing to this steamer breaking her shaft a few days previous at Hastings Mr. Calcutt had arranged for the use of the Isaac Butts, but the engineer of that boat not arriving in time, and to prevent disappointment to the excursionists, Mr. Calcutt started the Golden-Eye with one paddle wheel, to run the trip. She had on board about 400, and left the Locks at eight o'clock, and after several delays in taking on passengers on the way down, arrived at Idyl Wild about one o'clock. A pleasant afternoon was spent here witnessing the canoe races—the result of one being a challenge from Mr. Beauvais of this town, to Mr. Thos. Wallis, of Rice Lake, for $100 a side and the Championship of the Inland Waters. Owing to a light wind the sailing races did not take place. Altogether there were nearly 2,000 people present at Idyl Wild—besides those from Peterborough and Cobourg; a very large number came from Hastings, the Whistle-Wing and two scows being called into requisition to convey the passengers from that port. Taking all circumstances into account, Mr. Calcutt has every reason to feel proud of the opening day of the pic-nic season at Idyl Wild, which is so fast becoming popular as a resort for holiday and pic-nic excursions.

THE YACHT RACE.

The yacht race at Harwood came off as per announcement, but there was not sufficient wind to properly test the qualities of the several yachts. The first prize was won by Mr. Cuthbert's yacht "Wide-Awake" and the second by the "Start."

THE FIREMEN'S PARADE.

At ten o'clock the members of the new Fire Brigade mustered at the Engine House and proceeded to the Market Square, where they were met by the "Maple Leaf" Company of No. 3 Ward. A procession was then formed in the following order:

Union Jack
The Brigade Band,
Brigade Officers,
Maple Leaf Company and Hand Engine,
Hose and Hook and Ladder Companies drawing Hose Cart, Steamer drawn by Horses.

In this order they marched through the principal streets of the town and presented a very creditable appearance—their new uniforms being much admired. The helmets and belts were supplied by Mr. S. Hyman, and the coats by Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. The helmets are of a neat shape, made of black enamelled leather, the seams being piped with red. The front piece is of black patent leather with the name of the company in raised letters on a red background. Those of the Chief and Assistant Chief are of white enamelled leather—the front piece being inlaid with red with white raised letters. The belts are of black patent leather with raised letters on a red ground. The coats are made of a blue English serge, with military cuff, single breasted, buttoning to the neck, with small standing red collar. The seams are piped with red. The buttons used are nickle-plated and are marked "F. D."

BASE BALL MATCH.

In the afternoon the first match of base ball of the season between the "Britannias" of Campbellford and the "Pine Groves of Peterborough, took place on the Cricket Ground, Ashburnham, and resulted in a bad defeat for the "Britannias," the score being as follows:—

Innings.—1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Pine Grove....7 0 5 1 1 0 0 3 0—17
Britannia.....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1

In the Pine Grove team the playing of Toole and Callaghan elicited much applause. Ferris of the Britannia's also played well, but Toole's pitching, backed up by Callaghan as catcher proved to much for the remainder of the Campbellford men. After the game was over the visiting team were entertained at the Steward House to a supper. The Peterborough Band was present on the grounds and enlivened the proceedings by several choice selections.

THE BOATING CLUB SPORTS.

The athletic sports in the Drill Shed grounds, under the auspices of the Peterborough Boating Club, took place in the afternoon and were witnessed by over 1,000 people. The entries for all the events were numerous and keenly contested. The Club deserve credit for the energy displayed by the members in thus providing entertainment for our townspeople—and it must be satisfactory to them to know that their efforts to please and amuse are duly appreciated by the citizens, as was evinced by the large number who turned out to witness and participate in the sports. The O. Y. B's Band of Port Hope had been engaged for the Sports Committee, and played during the afternoon and evening. The following is a list of the sports and the successful competitors:—

Hop, Step and Jump.—1st prize, S. Winters; 2nd, Jas. Dolan; 3rd, S. Cairns.

Quoit Match.—1st prize, F. Mitchell; 2nd, J. —; 3rd, George Mitchell.

THE PROMENADE CONCERT.

In the evening in the Drill Shed was moderately attended, and those present apparently enjoyed the evenings entertainment—one of the features of which was the presentation of the prizes to the successful competitors in the games during the afternoon. The presentation was made by Miss Dennistoun, assisted by Mr. A. D. Braithwaite, Secretary of the club. Upon the conclusion of the concert, those present repaired to the agricultural grounds adjoining, where a creditable display of fire works was made. Thus ended the Boating Club's programme for the days amusement, which was certainly the most successful they have yet held. In a monetary point it was also successful—the visitors amounting to nearly $300.

THE OPEN AIR CONCERT.

At about seven o'clock the Fire Brigade again mustered and marched to the Court House Park, headed by the Brigade Band, where an open air rehearsal was given by the Band. The attendance was the largest that has ever yet been present at the park on a similar occasion. The playing of the Band was much praised, and their rendition of the programme showed a vast improvement in their playing since last season.

THE FIREMEN'S BANQUET.

At about half past nine o'clock the members of the Brigade and a number of invited guests, in all about sixty, sat down to a sumptuous repast at the Bath House, presented in Mine Host "Jimmy" Neville style. Captain Hall occupied the chair and was supported on either side by the Chief and Assistant Chief, W. H. Scott, Esq., M. P. P., Mayor Towle and Councillor Cluff. The Vice chairs were occupied by Mr. W. Hobson, Captain of the Rook, and Lockie Cumming and Mr. A. Bluff, Secretary of the Brigade. After doing ample justice to the very excellent bill of fare, the table was cleared, and the Chairman called upon the Secretary to read any communications which he had in his possession.

The Secretary then read letters of apology from John Bowman, Esq., M. P., Thos. S. Hunter, Esq., W. H. Wrighton, Esq., Geo. C. Ferguson, Caretaker of the Ashburnham Fire Company, and Councillors Downs and Hopkins.

The Chairman then proposed the first toast of the evening, "The Queen" which was responded to by the Company rising and singing "God Save the Queen."

The First Vice Chair then gave "The Prince and Princess of Wales," which was received with cheers.

"The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario" was then given by the Chairman, the Company singing "They are Jolly Good Fellows."

Mr. Scott responded in eulogistic terms Lord Dufferin, he said, had endeared himself more to the people of Canada than any other Governor-General in this country had yet done. It was to be regretted that we were about to lose him, on one ground; on another perhaps it was as well. It was one of the principles of the policy of the British Empire that the representatives of royalty should not remain for too long a term. They would not then become allied to any particular party, or be the tool of either party. Lord Dufferin by his many excellent qualities and abilities as a man, as a citizen, and a ruler in large, had endeared himself to every Canadian in the Dominion. The speeches which he had made through all parts of the Dominion, and which were printed in all parts of Britain, would do more to stimulate emigration to Canada than large sums of money expended on emigration agents by the governments.

Song by Mr. Robert Hamilton—"Tim Flaherty."

"The Parliament of Canada" was next given by the Chair, after which the Second Vice-Chair gave "The Mayor and Town Council." In proposing this toast, Mr. McNeil stated it was well known that our present Mayor had served the town for nearly a quarter of a century, and he believed he had been enabled to keep in office by virtue of his many good qualities. He considered the Town Council a good one—especially that portion comprising the Fire and Gas Committee. In organizing, the Brigade had been treated in the most gentlemanly way by them. The Firemen had now fitted up a Hall that would do credit to any town in Canada, in the furnishing of which they were kindly assisted by the merchants of the town.

Mayor Towle responded, expressing his pleasure at being present with them at their first banquet. He was pleased to see the town possessing such an efficient Fire Brigade as they now had. He was amused upon reading the remarks of some of the speakers at the late supper given by the old Brigade, wherein he was charged with being instrumental in disbanding them, as he had always assisted them and advocated the granting of their requests. He felt confident the town had as good a Brigade now as it ever had, and he promised them his hearty co-operation and support in all their efforts. The Firemen had to sacrifice time and endanger their lives to protect the citizens and their property and deserved to be supported. He hoped, however, that the new Brigade would not turn out like the old one, which acted like a spoiled child—having been indulged too much. After some remarks relative to the annoyance and unenviable position in which both Councillors and Mayor were placed, he thanked them again for the honor done him and resumed his seat.

Councillor Smith replied on behalf of the Council, and regretted there were not more Councillors present at the, the first banquet of the new Fire Brigade. He felt pleased in looking at the Brigade, which was composed of the best of our young men. As to the Band, he had heard that body praised on all sides for the progress they were making, and hoped that arrangements would soon be made whereby the Band could obtain the use of the Court House Park for open air rehearsals during the season. In conclusion he promised the Brigade and Band his services both as a citizen and a Councillor.

Song by Mr. Jas. Thompson—"Good Old Friends."

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers of Canada" was next given and responded to by Capt. Kennedy and Sergeant-Major Burke.

Song—"The British Lion," by Mr. McNeil which was encored and responded to by Dr. Kincaid, Mr. Scott and Mr. Smith.

Song—"Killeen Allanna," by Mr. A. D. Browne.

Capt. Roberts then proposed "The Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests," which was responded to by Mayor Towle, Chief Engineer Mitchell, Messrs. J. Kerr, R. J. Stevenson and G. Mitchell.

Song by Mr. McNeil—"Brown the Tragedian."

Dr. Kincaid in rising to propose the next toast regretted that some one with a more eloquent tongue had not been called upon to do it justice, but none could enter more heartily into the task than himself. He called upon the company to fill their glasses—and drink heartily the toast he was about to propose—"The Health of the New Fire Brigade." Since coming to this town he had been present at several banquets given by the Firemen, and their conduct had been such as to reflect credit on themselves and the town. Although the old Brigade was defunct, a new one had sprung into existence—one that was even more efficient than the old one, and composed of all classes, creeds, and political stripes—and of the most respectable young men of the town. A noble sentiment had been thrown out by the Chairman in proposing "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," when he said that the members of the Brigade would be equally as willing to offer themselves at the disposal of their country, as they had been to protect the lives and property of the citizens. He hoped, however, the day was far distant when occasion should require it. He concluded a stirring address by calling upon those present to drink "The Health, Long Life and Prosperity of the Peterborough Fire Brigade."

Responses were given by Chief Engineer Mitchell, Assistant Chief Kennedy, Capt. Hall, Capt. Roberts, Capt. Rutherford of Maple Leaf Company, and Secretary McNeil. The speakers all expressing their pleasure at the action of the Band in joining the Brigade, and the assistance they had rendered in making the days proceedings a success.

Mr. Fraser, Secretary of the Band, responded.—He was happy to hear the manner in which the Brigade received any mention made of the Band. They had had up hill work since organization. The present Brigade were, from all indications, determined to assist them—and he believed their efforts would be supplemented by the citizens. He spoke the sentiments of the whole Band, when he said they considered it an honour to be affiliated with the present Brigade.

"Our Guests" was then proposed by the Chairman, and responded to by Mr. Scott, Dr. Kincaid, Mayor Towle, and Messrs. Toker, Smith and Borrowman.

"The Press" was proposed by Mr. W. Langford, and acknowledged by Messrs. Burke of the Norwood Register, Toker of the Review, Borrowman of the Times and Jamieson of the Examiner.

"The Ladies" was proposed by Assistant Chief Kennedy, and responded to by Messrs. Moffatt, Dennistoun and English.

"Mine Host" was next proposed by Mr. McNeil, and responded to by Mr. Croft, after which the Company separated, after singing "God Save the Queen."

BRIEF MENTIONS.

—Venner is to be involved to have a fine day on the 1st of July.

—Good intentions are like fainting ladies—all they want is carring out.

—The industrious mosquito is now settling down to steady business.

—Ladies who use powder should be very careful about making a mistake.

—The weather is as fickle as a coquette at times, but not half so nice.

—The bathing season is near at hand, and the Coroner is comparatively happy.

—Miss Catherine E. Boecher, sister of Rev. Henry Ward Boecher, died on Sunday, aged 78, at Elmira, N.Y.

—There will be several circuses visit Peterborough this season. Each one is the only greatest show on earth.

—The principal cause of the hard times may be found in the fact that too many persons are trying to live without working.

—A Town Councillor, after the usual expenses, has come to the conclusion that he can't learn anything by hearing himself talk.

—The lightning-rod men are now busy preparing their waggons previous to starting out on their annual operations. Spare the rod—but kill the agent.

—The "refused" of Ashburnham got up petitions signed by their patrons, and try to melt the hard hearts of the License Commissioners that way.

—To keep your winter clothes free from moths, buy a few yards of tarred felt, with which to line a box or trunk, and you are safe for the season.

—Men are like a cold: Easy to catch, disagreeable to have about, and hard to get rid of. So says Jerusalem Green, on the authority of his married sister.

—To keep flowers from withering, drop a few grains of salt in the water in which they are kept, and they will remain bright and fresh-looking for some time.

—If an Attorney-General can be bought for a diamond ring and a cutter and robes, an ordinary member ought not to be worth more than a breast pin and a book-board.

—"Are de Sun's Manual contains more information of value to advertisers than any other publication. Sun Spa. Address H. W. Ayer & Son, Advertising Agents, Times Building, Philadelphia.

—Perhaps it is not much to hope that the time will come when the discussions of the Town Council may be left to the shorthand, and reported off by the Town Clerk during the next year vacation.

GRAND REFORM DEMONSTRATION AT LINDSAY.

To Messrs. Mackenzie, Cartwright and Laurier, of the Commons, and Hon. Mr. Hardy and Hon. Mr. Wood, of the Local House—Leading Reformers from Peterborough, Toronto, Port Hope and Adjacent Places take part in the day's Proceedings—Lindsay in her gayest.

A Grand Reform Banquet was given on Tuesday, in Lindsay, to the leaders of the Reform party, and was equal to any demonstration yet given by the Reform party of Canada to their leaders. The Hon. Messrs. Mackenzie, Cartwright, and Laurier, of the House of Commons; Mr. Hardy, Mr. Wood, of the Local House; Mr. McClelland, Q.C., of Toronto; John Bertram, Esq., M.P., of Peterborough, and other leading Reformers were present. The Town was beautifully and artistically decorated with evergreens, and the front street, which in width is equal to any of our cities, was spanned by two immense arches, on which were a number of mottoes, but especially noticeable were the mottoes, "Oneal Mills Faithful," and "Vivat Regina"; indicative of the Irish welcome accorded to the Reform Governments by the Irish population of that section of country.

The distinguished leaders were met at Port Hope by several of the leading citizens of Victoria, and the number was increased at every station. The 46th Batallion Band of Port Hope accompanied the party. At the Lindsay station a procession was formed which extended over a mile long, and was preceded by 12 Farmer's Sons on white horses, carrying a large flag, bearing the mottoes, "The Farmer's Sons Act," and "Income Franchise," and were followed by the 46th Batallion Band of Port Hope, the Young Men's Reform Club, of Lindsay, numbering about 150, and the carriages containing the Hon. gentlemen and their friends, which were followed by a very large number of vehicles. Over two hundred young Farmer's Sons, on horseback, met the procession, and separated to let it pass through. This was a grand sight, to see the solid Yeomanry of that county turning out in such large numbers to welcome the leaders of the Liberals of Canada to their progressive and thriving town. The ladies took possession of every available window on the front street, and handkerchiefs were to be seen flying in the air welcoming the leaders of the Reform party to their town. They evidently were as enthusiastic as their large lords in doing honor to a party who have been formost in the great work of every social reform on behalf of the ladies as well as of party.

The grand arch in front of the Benson House was covered with significant mottoes. The streets appeared one immense outspread of flags and wreaths of red, white and blue bunting stretched from building to building across the street, giving a magnificent appearance. The whole procession proceeded to the Drill Shed grounds. Along the way every where were welcomes to Mr. Makcenzie, Mr. Cartwright, Mr. Laurier and Mr. Hardy. "Ontario Reformers Congratulations to Quebec Liberals." "Reform Toleration," "Joly and Mowat," "Connelly will redeem South Victoria," "117" per cent a sufficient tariff. The President of the South Riding Reform Association, W. Cunnings, Esq., presented an address to Mr. Mackenzie and J. A. Barron, Esq., President of the North Riding Reform Association, presented one on behalf of the Reformers of his Riding. Mr. O'Leary presented an address on behalf of the young men, and Mr. Barr, of the Post, presented an address to Mr. Hardy. After the addresses had been acknowledged in suitable terms, the party separated for dinner, which was served at the Benson House in superb style every arrangement necessary having been made by the committee for the comfort of the guests, members of the press and others present. After dinner able addresses were delivered by Hon. Messrs. Cartwright, Mackenzie and Laurier and by Mr. Bertram and Mr. McClelland.

The Banquet in the evening was a sumptuous one, at which Col. Deacon, Mayor, presided. Over 300 persons sat down, and after the cloth had been removed addresses were delivered by Messrs. McKenzie, Laurier, Bertram and others.

The demonstration was a very successfull one. The greatest interest being shown for its success. The Reformers of Lindsay did everything to make it a pleasant affair, and the excellent speeches on the different questions of general and public interest must do much to educate those who were present in sound Reform Liberal principles, and must also satisfy all that the present Reform Government of the Dominion and Ontario are making the most earnest efforts to secure good and wholesome laws for the economical and wise administration of the affairs of the Dominion.

COST OF PROTECTION.

The Experience of American Manufacturers.

The following is an extract from a petition lately presented to Congress by a number of leading merchants, manufacturers and capitalists, of New York. The concluding part of the petition says:—

"We ask you to remember that the mere Custom's duties are only a portion of what the American consumer must pay for the privilege of Protection. The cost of all home productions is increased, and with the average of duties at 40 per cent., it is moderate reckoning to calculate that the American people have had to pay during the last twelve years. 20 per cent. per annum more for the domestic goods they have consumed than they would have had to pay under the tariff of 1857.

"Putting the annual value of the home manufacturers at no more than 600 million dollars—the tax for Protection over 1857, and apart from the Custom's duties must be set down at no less than 120 million dollars a year—that is to say, the American people in the last twelve years have paid the enormous sum of 1,440 million dollars to foster industries which are now in a more distressed condition than ever. Not one penny of this has passed into the United States Treasury."

After reading the above we think that any one who favors protection to native industries will pause, and seriously reflect on the results of protection as pourtrayed in the above extract by men who are thoroughly acquainted with its workings, and who are therefore able to speak with authority.

What you attempt to do with strength. Determination is omnipotent. If the prospect be somewhat darkened, put the fire of resolution to your soul, and kindle a flame that nothing but death can extinguish.

No Protectionist has yet been able to tell how the imposition of an import duty on any article will raise the wages of the artizan engaged in making it. A protective policy will make him pay more for his food, clothing and fuel; and it is apt to lower his wages too by an overflow of workmen in protected lines.

Says the St Thomas Journal: "At the present time there is no usual sensation of business activity, either in the political life of the country. Protection is only a shining name. . . . And the self-interested spheres of certain industries have come to be found to maintain that a dimension which has been left behind with the less enlightened age in which it came into be of any benefit to the country at large. The Conservative party knows this as well as anybody else. They are only paying with it to the hope that it may prevent the party wheels of the enemy from being driven by the locks A. Macdonald. The moral issues now are one of just and equitable administration. If this is kept steadily before the public mind the result cannot for a moment be doubted."

PORT HOPE.

Choked to Death.—On Friday last, Queen's Birthday, a man named John Gibson, well known in town, was choked to death with a piece of meat. He went into Mr. J. Lee's Hotel for dinner on the day named, and sat down to the table. One who was taking dinner with him, noticed, after a while, strange actions on the part of Gibson, and not having any idea of the cause, thought he had a fit of some kind. Others who saw him were of the same opinion. They carried him out to the air immediately, and sent for a doctor. When the latter arrived the man was dead. After hearing the symptoms the doctor put his fingers into the dead man's mouth, and drew forth a piece of beef, nearly three inches long, that had got stuck in his throat, causing strangulation. Anyone present could have saved the man's life had they known the cause of his strange actions, but as no one saw him put the piece of meat into his mouth, as noticed before, they thought he had a fit. An inquest was held by Coroner Maxwell, and a verdict returned of death by strangulation, according to the circumstances related above.—Times.

FIDELITY.

BARRY CORNWALL.

Gone from her cheek is the summer bloom,
And her lip has lost all its faint perfume,
And the glass has dropped from her golden hair
And her cheek, is pale but no longer fair.

And the spirit that lit up her soft blue eye
a struck with cold mortality,
And the smile that played round her lip has fled,
And every charm has now left the dead.

Like slaves they obeyed her in height of power,
But left her all in her watery bower;
And the[illegible]rowds that adored her love to die,
Shrunk from the tone of her last faint sigh.

'Tis woman alone, with a purer heart,
Can see all these ideas of life depart,
And love the more, and smile and bless
Man in his uttermost wretchedness.

FAMILY MATTERS.

OLD PAINT PAILS and cans may be thoroughly cleansed with strong, hot lye.

IT IS A GOOD PLAN for a housekeeper to make a weekly visit to every part of her dwelling, from "garret to cellar."

A SOLUTION OF COPPERAS or green vitriol, sprinkled over the floor from time to time, makes a good disinfectant.

TINNED WARE.—Tinned ware which speedily loses its brightness, should be distrusted. It usually contains lead, which is dissolved by very feeble acids, and is very poisonous. Iodide of potassium is the antidote.

CLEANING SMOKY MARBLE.—To clean smoky marble, brush a paste of chloride of lime and water over the entire surface. Grease spots can be removed from marble by applying a paste of crude potash and whiting in this manner.

VARNISH used in pottery decoration should not be too thin. It will give better satisfaction if it is applied warm. It can be heated by placing the jar containing it into a larger one filled with boiling water. By no means set it on the fire.

CHEAP REFRIGERATORS.—A flower pot wrapped in a wet cloth and placed over a butter plate will keep the contents of the plate as hard and firm as if they were set on ice; and milk will not sour if the can containing it be wrapped in a wet cloth.

A PIECE OF LEMON bound on a corn will relieve it in a day or so. It should be renewed night and morning. The free use of lemon juice and sugar will always relieve a cough. A lemon eaten before breakfast every day for a week or two will prevent the feeling of lassitude peculiar to the approach of spring.

ONIONS ARE USEFUL IN SICKNESS.—Cover two quarts of white onions with soft water; stew them to a jelly, strain through a cloth or fine sieve; weigh the liquid and add an equal weight of dark brown sugar—the commoner the better—simmer all together until it is of the consistency of treacle. Dose, a tablespoonful three times a day. If it causes no pain, more should be taken.

MARKS OF MATCHES.—To clean off the ugly scratches left on paint by lighting matches upon it, cut a sour orange or lemon in half; apply the cut half to the marks, rubbing for a moment quite hard; then wash off with a clean rag, dipped first in water to moisten it, and then in whiting. Rub well with this rag, dry thoroughly, and nine times out of ten the ugly marks will vanish. Of course, sometimes they are burned in so deeply that they cannot be quite eradicated.

THE USE OF BORAX is of great value in domestic purposes. It is perfectly effectual in driving away red ants, cockroaches, etc., if sprinkled around on pantry-shelves, or put in small quantities on paper and placed in the runaways of the insects. Borax is also of great value for toilet use. For reliving dandruff and cleansing the hair it is unequalled. It is also a good remedy for rough face and chapped hands. Its application to wounds sores, bruises, sprains, etc., prove very salutary, and is often the only remedy required even in severe cases.

THE PREVENTION OF SMALL-POX MARKS.—Dr. Bernard recommends the following method of preventing disfiguration after confluent small-pox, and affirms that he has recently employed it with success during a severe epidemic of that complaint. The method is so simple that the constant supervision of the medical attendant may be dispensed with. It consists of opening the pustules with a fine needle as soon as they have acquired a certain size, and washing them repeatedly with tepid water. The object, according to Dr. Bernard, is to prevent any collection of variolous matter in the interior of the pustules. The work requires patience, but will reward those who persevere.—Medical Examiner.

Manufacturers and Protection.

(From the Hamilton Times.)

Boot and shoe manufacturers do not profess to ask for further protection, as they not only supply the home market, but have a large export trade to foreign markets.

Rubber manufacturers have almost absolute control of the Canadian market, and can only increase their business by an export trade, which an increase in our taxes would not help them to.

Our leather manufacturers export more than is imported.

Of sewing machines our manufacturers export more than are imported.

Our agricultural implement makers have a monopoly of the Canadian market.

Our stove manufacturers have no competition from outside, and absolutely monopolise the home market.

Our tobacco manufacturers have the almost absolute control of the home market.

Our manufacturers of ready-made clothing have things pretty much all their own way.

There is not one of these industries the productive power of which would be appreciably increased by any increase in the tariff on the articles they turn out. But all of them would be injured by a tax on coal, on pig iron, and on wool, such as the Tory protectionists clamour for.

Why is it that Sir John did not venture to deal specifically with the case of any of these industries? Why did he refuse to touch upon them in detail and show in what way he proposed to aid them? Why is it that all the speakers on his side, and the journals of his party will talk and write volumes on Carthage and Great Britain, Patagonia and the United States, but will not touch with a forty-foot pole the very Canadian industries that they profess to have a patent life and health pill for? There is only one reason, and that is that he and they are simply quacks and nothing better. They are bold in talking about depressed industries in vague generalities but they dare not come down to an actual examination of the present condition of our several industries. They know that facts give the lie to their generalities, and that the one class of business men in Canada to-day who have come out of trade depression richer than when it commenced, are our manufacturers—that the one class of business that has stood the depression best has been our manufacturing industry.

The Present Duty of Temperance Men.

(From the Canadian Prohibitionist.)

Now that the Prohibitive Bill has received the sanction of the Governor-General and has become law, the temperance men of Canada can congratulate themselves upon this decided advance in the temperance reform. The passage of a law very much in advance of public sentiment frequently results in the defeat of the very principle sought to be advanced. But this cannot be asserted of the present Bill which was really the out-growth of a strong national conviction, that additional legislation was needed to reduce the traffic in strong drink and the consequent poverty, drunkenness, to a minimum if they could not be altogether destroyed. In the House of Commons it was universally admitted that such was the strength of public sentiment demanding the Bill that it was altogether useless to oppose it. The tendency, too, of any law founded upon reason and justice, and supported by a majority, is to win to itself the universal favor. Temperance men have therefore every cause for encouragement, and having now obtained the law should begin to seriously ask themselves, what are the present duties of temperance men? Surely this is no time for relaxing efforts or causing the great agitation that has already produced such grand results. All this agitation in favor of prohibitory legislation will prove useless and worse than useless, if we do not continue the conflict to the end. The passing of Bills in Parliament will never of itself stop the traffic in strong drink or blot out drunkenness. The same public sentiment that has been built up by years of faithful temperance work, and has demanded and received the Permissive Bill, must be strengthened and consolidated to carry out and rigidly enforce the law now that it has been passed.

If the majority of constituencies should fail to lay hold of its provisions and put an end to the deadly traffic in their midst, it will be pretty positive proof that the country has not yet been properly educated in temperance principles. If it be not carried and enforced in a large number of counties, we are persuaded that temperance men will have only themselves to blame. With a law much in advance of that framed by any other national government, with an admittedly strong public sentiment backing up the law, with the powerful aid of pulpit, platform, and the better portion of the public press in our favor, if the Permissive Bill proves abortive, the blame can only rest upon temperance men. Upon the shoulders of the leaders in this great reform rests the responsibility of a united and general effort as wide as the Dominion to pass and enforce the Bill. Some arrangements should at once be arrived at between the Executives of the various temperance bodies and the Executive of the Dominion Alliance for initiating the work of local prohibition in every county where there is a prospect of the new Bill being carried and enforced. The agitation must be kept up. Platform work was never more demanded than at present. Tracts, papers, books pouring their flood of light upon this iniquitous traffic must be put into circulation until the mind of the masses shall become fully saturated with temperance truth and the voice of the sovereign people shall pronounce the death doom of licensed drunkmaking. Let the young men of Canada awake to this conflict and soon the legalised liquor traffic shall become a thing of the past.

PROTECTION.

(From the Barrie Gazette.)

The moment generalities were dropped for the consideration of something specific, the poor and unpatriotic plea for protection was seen in its proper light. The manufacturer's cry for protection was first seized on by the Opposition as of possible party advantage. Soon it was seen that it could not be used while the gains offered the manufacturer were so plainly at the expense of the other people of the country who buy manufactured goods. It was therefore thought necessary to sugar-coat the pill with a mention of protection to "the agricultural, mining and other industries;" and it was thought by this means it would be swallowed without detection by the victims to be entrapped. But our farmers are not so foolish as the Opposition leaders evidently take them to be. They know full well that a duty that would confine them to the Canadian market of four millions would give them next to nothing for their products, which are raised in quantities to supply a very much larger number of people. What the farmers want is the world for a market; and that they can best have by such low duties as will allow unrestricted trade with other countries so that their grain, wool and cattle can be readily exchanged for such foreign commodities as can be profitably imported. It must be evident to all that if Canada by high import duties shuts out customers, she cannot expect to make profitable sales. The farmers can see this; and they also perceive and resent the imputation that they could be caught by the selfish appeal of profit to themselves, when it was offered at the expense of the poor man, by a tax on the very bread on which his life and the lives of his wife and children depend. That was the bribe offered for the votes of the farmers; though even it could never have been gained, because of the losses in the natural course of trade. But such was none the less the bait put before the yeomanry of Ontario. Can it be wondered if their honest indignation rise against those who thought so meanly of them as to imagine they could suffer themselves to profit even a penny at the sacrifice of the blood and tears of the poor and dependent? Can it be wondered at that the honest husbandmen look on Protection, not only as a fraud, but as a damnable thing?

THE PICKERING OUTRAGE.

Commutation of the Sentence of Burke and Macpherson.

On Wednesday last, a deputation consisting of Hon. David Ressor, Mr. Miller, Reeve of Pickering, Mr. F. W. Glen, of Oshawa, and Mr. George Y. Smith, of Whitby, accompanied by Mrs. Macpherson, mother of one of the convicts, arrived in Ottawa, and had an interview with Premier and Hon. Mr. Laflamme in reference to the convicts, Macpherson and Burke, now lying under sentence of death in Whitby gaol, for an alleged outrage resulting in the death of a woman in Pickering township. The deputation presented a petition from the Council of the township and signed by a great number of residents of the county, praying for the commutation of the sentence.

WINTER MAY 23.—A telegram has been received from Ottawa by W. H. Higgins, of the Chronicle, advising him that the sentence of death passed on Burke and Macpherson has been commuted to imprisonment for life in the Provincial Penitentiary.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

BONNETS VS. NEGROES.—The London World whispers (very loud) a word of protest in the ear of English fashion against a new way that Englishwomen of the world are falling into of recognising a gentleman by giving a pert nod with the head and shoulders. It appears that the Princess of Wales has led the fair subjects of her husband's mother in this slovenly habit, without intending so to do, by a little trick she has of recognising intimate friends whom she has seen once or twice before in the day. The practice, we are sorry to say, is not unknown here. Inoffensively is both "manish and inelegant," altogether intolerable, and not to be endured. Women who fall into it will have themselves alone to thank if it leads to their being nodded at in the same half-impertinent fashion by men. It is not so many years ago that no gentleman would have dreamed of saluting even a male acquaintance in this slap-dash and careless fashion.

A DANGEROUS POWDER.—Mothers of infant children will be interested in the statement of the London Lancet that for some time past there has been an epidemic among young children in the neighborhood of London, ending in many cases in the death of the child, the disease presenting every appearance of erysipelas. A person whose child was thus attacked suspected the violet powder in use in the nursery, and sent a package to a firm of analysts for chemical examination. It was found to contain twenty-five per cent. of white arsenic. This poison, it seems, is unfortunately exceedingly cheap—at all events, cheaper than starch, of which violet powder is usually made.

FASHIONABLE FOLLIES IN LONDON.—The follies of fashion, and the extravagance to which a woman is impelled by obedience to certain social laws, has been illustrated in a singular manner in a suit brought in London against Mr. Thistlethwayte by a firm of dressmakers. When Mr. Thistlethwayte was married he was a younger son, with an allowance of about $10,000 a year. A little later his elder brother died, and he became tenant for life of estates which brought him in from $125,000 to $150,000 per annum. It seems that some eight years ago Mr. Thistlethwayte came to an understanding with his wife; paid her debts, amounting to several thousand dollars; agreed to allow her $2,500 a year pin money; and accepted in return her written promise that, upon her word of honor, she would incur no further liabilities. This promise the lady deliberately broke. She has since the date of its execution, incurred debts estimated by her creditors at $150,000 and by herself at from $75,000 to $100,000. Mrs. Thistlethwayte's creditors endeavored to make her husband responsible on block for her liabilities. With this object a test action was brought by Mme. Schwaebe, who, in conjunction with her husband, carries on business at the West End as a court milliner, under the name of "Mme. Rosalie." Mme. Schwaebe, in the course of a few months, supplied Mrs. Thistlethwayte with dresses and various other articles of feminine apparel to the extent of nearly $6,000, and then sued Mr. Thistlethwayte for the amount. The jury, under the direction of Lord Coleridge, decided against her claim, on the ground that throughout her transactions with Mrs. Thistlethwayte she had given credit to that lady exclusively in her own person and not to her husband, and that it was, consequently, to Mrs. Thistlethwayte alone that she must look for payment. This finding was justified by the evidence.

THE DUNKIN ACT IN ONTARIO COUNTY.

(From the Oshawa Vindicator.)

On Friday last a rumour was circulated that the Dunkin By-law had failed, owing to the lack of formality in not notifying the Collector of Inland Revenue, as laid down in the Act. Further, it was learned that the Commissioners were then holding a session with the intention of granting licenses for the South Riding. The Commissioners did meet and did recommend that a large number of licenses should be granted, but, inasmuch as these recommendations had to be laid before the Provincial Secretary, the licenses were not issued. This information took the Dunkin men by surprise. Mr. A. Annis, President of the Association, and Mr. Fielding, promptly determined to go to Toronto and examine into the matter for themselves. At Duffin's Creek they were joined by Mr. S. K. Brown, one of the Commissioners, who had opposed the action of the majority on the issuance of licenses. They first called on the Provincial Secretary, who proved to be out of the city. They found his Secretary, Mr. Totten, who assured them, after discussing the matter with them, that the by-law was perfectly legal, and the point had been decided in a case from Prince Edward county. The Committee next called on Hon. Mr. Mowat, who corroborated the opinion of Mr. Totten, and said that no licenses would be issued in the county of Ontario. He further assured them of the support of the Government in enforcing the Act. He said that the present magistracy must be used, but if it was found difficult to enforce the Act through them the Government would appoint a stipendiary magistrate for the purpose.

The Committee also met with the License Inspector for East York, who, under peculiar difficulties, is enforcing the Act in that county. He said he had met with strong opposition, and every crook of the law had been used against him. He had now been instructed to obtain legal advice whenever he required it to prosecute. He stated that only a few days before one person had been fined $135 at one sitting of the Court, he having proved that he sold three times in one day, and twice the next, and the fine had been inflicted for each. He said the Government had told him to make out his estimate of his costs for the year, and one-third of the sum would at once be placed to his credit, and the balance the county would be compelled to supply.

The point upon which the by-law was supposed to have failed is the section which requires that the Collector of Inland Revenue should be notified of its passage. It appears that a certified copy of the by-law was sent by the late County Clerk to Mr. Godson, the Inspector of Inland Revenue, instead of to the Collector. A similar mistake was one of the grounds upon which the by-law passed in Prince Edward county, on the 25th of June, 1875, was attacked. There the Clerk delivered a copy to a gentleman who never had been Collector, and who, at the time, had no connection with the Department at all. The case was argued before the Court of Queen's Bench, before Chief Justice Harrison and Justices Wilson and Morrison, and on the 2nd of January, 1877: Judge Wilson delivered the judgment, which was concurred in by his colleagues on the Bench. It is conclusive, and as far as relates to the point at issue is:

"The duty of the Collector of Inland Revenue under the Temperance Act of 1864, when the copy of the by-law has been delivered to him, so far as it is material in this case to consider it, is to issue no license within the limits of the municipality to which the by-law extends, and to issue any license when one has to be issued."

"By the 37 Vic., chap. 32, sec. 6, O., the Lieutenant-Governor appoints the issuers of licenses, who supersede therefore the Collector of Inland Revenue under the former Act. '

"It is not provided that they should have a copy of the by-laws of the different municipalities which relate to the sale or prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors served upon them, although by the later Act, 39 Vic., 29, sec. 8, O., these inspectors are to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council 'for each city, county, union of counties, electoral riding or division,' as he may think fit, and such inspector shall also be the issuer of licenses."

"By the 27th section of the same Act, subsection 3, the Board of License Commissioners and the inspector appointed under it are to exercise the powers and duties for the enforcement of the provisions of the Temperance Act of 1864 within the limits of any municipality in which any by-law under the Temperance Act is in force."

"These new enactments show that it was not necessary to deliver a copy of the by-law of the 29th June, 1875, to the Collector of Inland Revenue."

A COMING BOOK.

One of the most interesting works shortly to be issued from press will bear the title of "Canada, under the Administration of Lord Dufferin." Since Lord Dufferin's appointment to this country many questions of weighty importance to the Provinces constituting the Dominion have been broached and settled, consequently this epoch in the history of Canada furnishes materials for an extensive and valuable volume. The preparation of the book has been entrusted to Mr. Geo. Stewart, jr., who stands high as a writer, and having access to an immense collection of state papers a thorough and deeply interesting production may be expected. A feature of the work will be the verbatim reports of all those terse speeches delivered by His Excellency during the years of his rule here. A steel portrait of Lord Dufferin will form the frontispiece. Rose-Belford Publishing Company, publishers.

THE HESSIAN FLY.—The fears entertained last fall that the Hessian fly would cause serious damage to the wheat appear to be groundless, at least we have seen or heard nothing of it this spring. Possibly the early season and the very forward state of the crops may prevent its doing any harm.

FARMERS' TAKE.—If a man owns 70 acres it is a farm for the purpose of giving his sons a vote. If he is assessed $200 he has a right to be put on the list for municipal vote. If assessed $300 he has a Parliamentary vote and can get one son (living with him and of age) added for municipal voting. If assessed $400 qualifies can be added for Parliamentary voting, and an additional son for every $300 additional assessment. Farmers see that your sons are put down on the lists.

Its remprkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamac and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

ELECTRICITY.

Thomas' Excelsior Electric Oil Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold Pain Cannot stay where it is used.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contrion, of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied, often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and, corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25 cts, NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE—Eclectric—Selected and Electrized.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Focus Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition,

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long seated Consumption.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 6, 1878

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

That the change of Ministry in 1872 was the visible result of the punishment meted out for a great public wrong is undoubted Though such wrong was probably not long premeditated it was nevertheless deliberate. It was the outgrowth of their political sins, of lesser magnitude, but of similar complexion—a succumbing on the part of Ministers to the accumulated forces of many smaller temptations previously yielded to. Easily made pledges, and promises of more or less sincerity, pressed for performance; graver troubles of state seemingly justified a tantalising easy solution of minor difficulties; greater apparent troubles were for a time averted by the certain creation of hosts of lesser ones, those pressed thicker and faster from month to month and from year to year, the many combining to force forward the vast and culminating one, till at last there loomed up before the members of the Cabinet the alternative of chosing the gigantic evil, or at once closing their existence as an administration, as might have been expected, they purchased a reprieve destined to be but brief by the perpetration of another and graver offence than the many that had preceded it. That the country contained within it the elements necessary to secure safety from a great national danger was plain proof to its people in all the Provinces that they could rely on each other under trying circumstances. It waked the men of Canada to the gratifying fact that the strong heart of the youthful Dominion was ready to respond to the call of right. Such knowledge more than any other gives to Canadians a feeling of confidence in their Confederation. It also begets esteem from without. We see this in the excellent standing of Canadian securities in the British market, and in the ready way in which various countries invite our trade, with a confidence possible only through strong confidence in the commercial honesty and integrity of our people. This improved position has been maintained by the Mackenzie administration throughout a trying period of depression felt in every country, and in none more lightly than in Canada. Its continuance is assured under the present capable and honest administration, but only disastrous results to the credit as well as the honor of Canada by the return to power of the impertinent perpetrators of the great wrong which shocked the Dominion and the Empire, and well nigh shattered the prospects of our young country.

THE NARROWING DOWN PROCESS.

Nothing seems to stagger the average Tory critic like a direct issue. We see it in the case of the Protectionist resolutions of the Opposition in the former sessions as opposed to the positive tariff questions brought in last session of Parliament. We see it also in the matter of the Tory complaints respecting the expenditure of the Reform Government. At first the charge was that the expenditure rose suddenly on the occasion of the Reformers to power, but that proved a very boomerang to the Opposition, the late Government having been responsible for the increase of something like four millions of dollars in 1873-4 the estimates for which were framed before the new Ministry took office. The Times then charged that the expenditure under the present Government continued to increase; and it was then shown that they were largely to blame for the establishmen of certain fixed charges which first began to be paid by their successors. Not only so. There were a number of debts that should have been paid in former years left unpaid till after the Reform Government came into Office. Opposition then had recourse to the ion of several year's expenditure x the change of ministry and comaring the sum with that of the addition of the same number of years chosen from those before the change. This only directed attention to the fact that the average rate of increase from year to year of late has been much less than the average annual increase. prior to the introduction of Reform rule. So badly were the Tories hit by this that they actually declared the requirements of the growing Dominion demanded the increase in their case thus yielding the principle of necessity that lies at the root of all the expenditure of the present Government. Some of the Tory organs attempted to defend the larger yearly increases of of their party when in power, by saying the larger revenue receipts justified larger outlays. This was probably the plan on which the late Ministry worked, rather than on the plain requirements of the country; for we find that they spent pretty freely the great bulk of their revenue. But for their extravagance with a buoyant revenue, their surpluses might have been much larger than they were. Chased from pillar to post in the manner we have shown, the Tories began to be at their wits end for some way of finding fault with the figures of expenditure. An over-clever fellow thought he had a bright idea, and suddenly asked how it came if the Tories were extravagant that the economical Reformers did not lower the annual expenditure. He too had his answer. It was shown that the greater part of the yearly outlay of the Dominion is so fixed as to be practically unchangeable by any Ministry; and that leaving this fairly out of the calculation, the ordinary expenditure under the late Government had increased from $3,630,000 to $8,324,000 in six or seven years, while the present Government, in spit of obligations left them by their predecessors, and notwithstanding heavy extraordinary calls, have kept it down to something like the figure at which they found it. It was further shown that many items of controllable expenditure showed large decreases. Thus foiled at every turn the Tories now are narrowed down to the petty accusation that the Public Accounts have been manipulated for the purpose of showing such decreased expenditure. The items complained of are such as are charged to Revenue in the early years and to Capital Account in later years. It is held with some plausibility that those items made a charge on revenue under the old Government should be a charge on revenue under the late Government for purposes of comparison. But the whole contention rests at the very best on a difference in book-keeping, as there is no attempt to question the fact that all the items are placed to the right account. But the bottom falls completely out of the charge when it is explained that buildings, rolling stock, snow sheds, tanks and sidings for the Intercolonial railway in 1873-4, may not be, and generally are not the same items as buildings, rolling-stock, snow sheds tanks and sidings for the Intercolonial railway in 1876-7. Strange! Yet nevertheless true: In the first place these works were all new, and plainly chargeable to Revenue; but in the later years the items, though for the same class of works, are not the same as before, for they are for the most part renewals of buildings, cars, &c, worn out or destroyed and in this way become charges on capital.

The inquiring minds of some of these Tories would lead them to learn something of, and to appreciate Reform Economy, if they were not so stubborn as to reject the lesson when made plain to them.

EVIDENCES OF CANADA'S PROGRESS.

From the insane ravings of Tory Potectionist papers anyone not knowing the circumstances of Canada would fancy that the country is going straight to the dogs. Little do these unpatriotic detractors care how they give a wrong impression abroad, so long as they hope to play on the supposed ignorance of electors for the purpose of catching a few votes at the coming general election. But in spite of Tory assertions the Dominion has weathered the late commercial storm better than any other country in the world, and prosperity has been the burden of its history under the present administration. Facts are at hand to prove this. Though the aggregate import and export trade of the Dominion for several, years shows a falling off, chiefly attributable to shrinkage of values, her chief industries have shown unmistakable signs of progress. Trade must be increasing in volume if not in value, and internally if not externally, for we find by returns issued, for the year ending June 30th., 1877, that there were built in the Dominion 44 steam vessels, of 3,176 tons, and 464 sailing vessels, aggregating 124, 121 tons. There were registered 126,160 tons of shipping, and 46,329 tons were sold to other countries, for a little over a million and a half of dollars.

The railway milage of the Dominion has shown a very marked increase. During the last fiscal year 417 miles were added to the length of opened railways in Canada, and nearly two thousand miles were "under construction." Government and municipal aid had been granted to the extent of nearly nine millions of dollars beyond the bonuses of the former year. Further votes have since been passed; and considerable additions have been made to the number of miles in operation, notably fifty and more miles of the Pacific Railway from Fort William westward, the short line between Port William and Prince Arthur's Landing. The Victoria Railway, and the extensions of the Whitby road to Lindsay, and that of the Hamilton and North Western to Port Dover. There has also been a furtherance of other enterprises of this class in Quebec, and New Brunswick, as well as in Ontario.

The growth of the fisheries is another encouraging proof of progress. For the year ending with last December the fish products of the Dominion, exceeded those of 1876 by $682,367, and the export showed an increase of $1,462,381. Improved facilities for the transport of fish in a fresh state, have led to a considerable increase in this branch of the trade both on this continent and to Europe. It is also pleasing to notice that the growth of our fishing industry has been steady from year to year, in strong contradistinction to the fisheries of other countries, which are notoriously subject to serious fluctuations.

Our forest products have, in spite of the great depression shown an increased export of more than three and a quarter millions of dollars within the last official year, and the revival in prices gives good promise that the progress will now be maintained.

The products of our mines do not give such an encouraging exhibit; for though our mineral exports to Great Britain show an increase it is more than counterbalanced by a falling off in the exports to the United States and other countries. Our mining industries, however, are yet in their feeble infancy as compared with the other native resources of the Dominion. With slight exception mining is carried on only at the two extremities of the Dominion; for only on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has any considerable development of this branch been shown. The explorations and experiments that have been made throughout the broad expanse of our territory have been of most promising character, and point to a not far distant, when the earth shall liberally yield its treasures for the enrichment of an industrious, and ever increasing population.

DR. TUPPER AND HIS DEFENDERS.

Having in a late speech in London challenged reference to his having used his public position for his personal advantage, Dr. Tupper has been reminded of the very suspicious circumstances connected with his share in the Spring Hill mining lands, their location and sale. As the Tory journal of this town feels itself called upon to defend Dr. Tupper, and to call the references he brought on himself slanderous, we will take its version so far as it goes:—

"Dr. Tupper was on the other side of the Atlantic when the Order in Council throwing open the lands in question was published, and when the application was made and granted. It was not till about a year after he had ceased to be a member of the Government, that he joined in the speculation and acquired a share in the property, which turned out afterwards to be very valuable."

To those who care to understand the case it may be well to explain further that the Order in Council mentioned though passed on the 25th day of May, 1865, (about a month before Dr. Tupper left for the other side of the Atlantic,) but was not published till a few days after his departure. The application for the mining rights in question was made by a strong friend and supporter of Dr. Tupper, at 10 o'clock on the morning of the very day (June 29) the Order was published, and before the Commissioner of Mines or his Secretary knew of the existence of such Order. Indeed the application was refused till the production of a copy of that day's Gazette to the astonished officials, who then, of course, had nothing to do but grant it. The preparation of the papers put in, and the inquiries as to metes and bounds, must have occupied a good many days, proving that those who prepared them knew of the existence of the Order in Council before Dr. Tupper left for England, where he, strangely and significantly enough tried to sell shares in these very mining properties, acquired after his departure, by a particular friend and supporter of his own. When Dr. Tupper, about a year after he had ceased to be a member of the Government, joined in the speculation and acquired a share in the property, "which turned out to be very valuable," the matter was considered suspicious enough to be made the subject of a Parliamentary enquiry. It is further remarkable that Mr. Black, the prompt applicant for the lands refused to attend the investigation. This is the reminiscence brought out by Dr. Tupper's challenge at London, and which has called forth the apologies and excuses of the Tory organs for the lieutenant of their party.

Who Killed the Tory Government?

The leaders of the present Opposition in the House of Commons feel very bitter towards Mr. Donald A. Smith, Mr. David Glass, and a number of those who at one time were their supporters, attributing the downfall of the Conservative party not to anything wrong done by them, but to the defection of the gentlemen named. On this account they lose no opportunity of venting their rage at these gentlemen because, when the Pacific Scandal was exposed, they could no longer endorse the course of political corruption of which this was the climax. Mr. Glass, in a speech delivered in London on the occasion of nominating Col. Walker as the opponent of the Hon. John Carling at the coming election, showed that Sir John and his friends were altogether wrong in laying the blame of their defeat on Mr. Smith, and those who thus took a similar stand, and proved clearly that they had themselves to blame for their downfall. He said:

"Sir John Macdonald abuses Donald A. Smith or some one else, for busting them—but he was wrong. They killed themselves—committed political suicide. (Cheers.) The devil got into them, and, like the swine possessed, they ran down into the sea and were drowned. (Laughter.) There can be no doubt of that; and the Tories were disgusted that some refused to be drowned with them. (Cheers.) John A. wants to get back to power—that's about the size of it. He may get there if he lives long enough, but as a Tory can't live without pap, his return is unlikely. (Laughter.) The history of the present Ottawa regime for the last five years has been one of honesty and purity. What care we who holds the reins! We want a man who will honestly carry out the will of the people. (Cheers.) He believed the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie was as thoroughly honest and politically pure a man as Canada ever saw—one who would sooner retire altogether from public life than do a dishonest act. (Cheers.) Could this be said of his opponent? The speaker went on to compare the two men, referring especially to the Secret Service money which John A. refused to account for. He believed it unjust, although stated most solemnly by Sir John A. Macdonald, that he had paid this large amount ($170,000) in bribing Irishmen not to engage in the Fenian Raids. The money was spent in electoral corruption. (Cheers.) It was bad enough to use this money improperly, but it was base meanness to malign loyal Irishmen in order to shield himself. (Cheers.) The speaker hoped that this matter would yet be cleared up and this money properly accounted for. It might be just as well for the public to know that those who pretended to distribute the Secret Service fund spent it for their own purposes."

THE QUEBEC LEGISLATURE.

The Jolly Administration, notwithstanding the predictions of the Opposition press, has been sustained by the New House of Assembly. The Government candidate for the Speakership was elected yesterday by a majority of one, which will be sure to increase now that the stability of the Administration is assured. Mr. Turcotte will, of course, be assailed with the most unstinted abuse, the vituperation of Mr. Chapleau serving as the keynote to the criticism of the Opposition journals; but he can afford to ignore all such treatment, as can also Mr. Price, on whose support the "anti-ministry" counted even more confidently than they did on that of the member for Three Rivers. Both men have, in acting as they did, simply accepted the verdict of the people, and their patriotic course will be amply justified by the result. Now that the prolonged agony in our things will rapidly settle down into their normal conditions, and the sooner the better for the much afflicted Province of Quebec.

Moderate Protection vs. Extreme Protection.

RESULT OF THE UNITED STATES POLICY.

"In Fall River Mass, we find that 12,000 out of the 30,000 looms in that city are idle and that 4,000 operatives have been thrown out of work."

RESULT OF THE CANADIAN POLICY.

The Perth Expositor says: "In this county we have eighteen woollen mills, apart from carding mills. They employ nearly 1,100 hands and pay out in wages $250,000 annually in cash, besides $50,000 more in building and repairs."

Like causes produce like effects, and yet we are asked to abandon a policy whose wisdom has been proved, and to adopt in its stead that of the United States which has brought ruin to the capitalist and starvation and destitution to the working classes.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.—There will probably now be nothing strikingly new to chronicle until the Congress meets.

The Tories are apparently very anxious to know when the elections will take place. If, as they say, they are fully prepared for the contest, they need not care for an early election, and they can't complain under any circumstances that they are given a chance to get all their plans in readiness.

THE EXAMINER asked the Protectionist paper for just one instance in Peterboro' of the ruin they tell us is wrought by the present tariff.

The Review points to the Auburn Woollen Mills.

THE EXAMINER asked:—Where are the bankrupt concerns, and those tottering to their fall, to be saved by the nondescript policy the Tory party calls national.

The Review only points to the Auburn Woollen Mills.

THE EXAMINER asked to be shown the poor struggling manufacturers who look to Mr. Hilliard or Mr. Burnham for salvation.

The Review still points to the Auburn Mills.

Perhaps those most directly interested in the Auburn Mills will explain the poor struggling position their bankrupt concern occupies, according to the Review.

As to the municipal bonus to the Auburn Mills, we can confidently say it was not because of any necessity caused by the present tariff. The people here voted the amount as an intelligent investment. Nor did they put their hands in the pockets of others to aid their local enterprize.

WHEN the Review said of the Quebec Harbour Commissioners, "they are the creatures of the Mackenzie administration, having been appointed by an Order-in-Council," we remarked that such declaration was either a deliberate falsehood or was stated in ignorance, and that the writer of it could take his choice of being reckoned knave or fool. He has since shown his knowledge of the numbers and composition of the commission, and thus demonstrated his knavery. The attempt to misrepresent matters has been discovered, and an explanation is called forth, that in justice to the Review's own readers it should have made before, had not the point been suppressed for the dishonest purpose of creating a wrong impression. The changes in the specifications and the amendment of the tenders for the Levis Graving Dock may have been wrong or right, for aught anyone can know who is not perfectly cognizant of the whole of the facts. Anyway, it is childishly vindictive to try and trump up a charge against the Dominion Government upon the action of an independent Board of Commissioners, especially when a prominent actor in the case is a strong opponent, of the Federal Ministry. The matter is only worthy of notice as showing the hard straits the Tories are put to in manufacturing charges against the Mackenzie Administration.

COUNTY COURT AND GENERAL SESSION.

HIS HON. JUDGE DEAN PRESIDING.

The June sitting of the County Court and general sessions of the peace for the County of Peterborough, began in the Court House on Tuesday the 4th inst. His Honor Judge Dean in the Bench.

After the Grand Jury had selected their foreman His Honor proceeded to address to the Grand Jury concerning the various classes of offences to be brought before them, explaining the duty of the Jury in regard to each. There was only one case of a criminal nature brought before the Grand Jury. His Honor then referred to the duties of inspection devolving on the Grand Jury.

GRAND JURY.

The following are the names of the Grand Jury:—

John Rickel, Foreman, Thomas Armstrong, Wellington Boyce, Peter Baptie, Robert Bonar, W. Collins, Silas H. Crowe, Michael Crough jr., W. Clifford, H. Collins, Michael Doherty, Geo. English, Thomas Giles, James Hall, John Rowe, Edward Sawtell, W. Tellford, John Turner, Francis Weir.

CRIMINAL.

In the case of the Queen vs Patrick, Daley for larceny, the Grand Jury brought, in "no bill."

FIFTH DIVISION COURT.

Public notices was proclaimed in open court of the intention of forming a fifth division court in the county limits to include the Townships of Burleigh, Cavendish, Anstruther and Chandos.

NEW CONSTABLES.

The County Attorney reported George Cochrane, and John A. McWilliams and James Howard as having been appointed constables.

CIVIL CASES.

BANK OF TORONTO VS LARKIN.—This was an action against defendant on a promissory note as an endorser. Verdict by consent $464,12, C. A. Weller for Plaintiff and Moore and Sawyers for Defendant.

RICHMOND VS FISHER.

This was an action to recover the price of a Bran Duster placed by the Plaintiff in Defendants Mill at Bridgenorth. The defence was that the Bran Duster was not ordered by the defendant but by one Martin, lessee, who agreed to pay for the same. The evidence in this matter was such that the Judge could not strive at any decision upon it, but in order it do justice, as the machine was in Defendants Mill who was to receive the benefit of it, and become the owner, gave a verdict in favour of Plaintiff for price of machine $162,76. D. W. Dumble for Plaintiff, and J. F. Dennistoun Q. C., for Defendant.

Court adjourned until Wednesday Morning at 6 a.m.

WEDNESDAY.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury presented the following report:—

We the Foreman and Grand Jury have examined the jail and court house, and are pleased to inform your Honor that we have found the jail in unexceptionally good order. And in view of the suggestions from your Honor, we do recommend that the court rooms requires the necessary changes to make it healthier and in a better state to carry out the laws of the Country. The Grand Jury expresses their gratification in knowing that there are no few prisoners in confinement, and congratulate the County under the circumstances.

We have to thank your Honor for the address given to the Jury regarding the different questions of the day especially those referring to the Temperance cause, the Jury under the circumstances have concluded not to dilate on this question, owing to the various and confined opinions which have arisen, but hope the agitation of the question may tend to the general good of society at large.

JOHN BICHELL,
Foreman.

Grand Jury Room, Peterborough, 5th June 1878.

ENNISMORE.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Council met on Saturday, the 1st inst., for the purpose of Revising the Assessment Roll of 1878. All members present, who duly signed their affirmation as required by law. Two appeals of real estate and two of personal property were confirmed, as the parties appealing failed to appear. The following are the most important changes made in the roll. Moved by William Crough, seconded by J. Donoghue,—That Messrs. Reids' names be inserted in the roll in place of George Brownlee, for lot 4 in the 2nd con., and that the name of Thomas Twomey be inserted on the roll for the South half of lot 3, in the 5th con., instead of his father, deceased. Moved by Jeremiah McCarthy, seconded by William Crough, —That Frances Donoghue's name be inserted as owner of the north part of the north half of lot 3, in the 6th con. Moved by Jeremiah McCarthy, seconded by Paul Costello,—That the south half of lot 7, in the 4th con., be assessed at $11.50 per acre. Moved by William Crough, seconded by Paul Costello,—That the south half of lot 9, in the 4th con. be assessed at $12.00 per acre. Some small redictions of personal property were made. Patrick Tagney, and Cornelius A. Sullivan appeared before the council in respect to their assessment. The Council after hearing both sides confirmed the re-assessment, namely: 67½ acres to each of them. David Geary stated that his personal property was assessed in the town of Lindsay, and in this Township. The court claimed the right of holding the personal property, as he was moving from Lindsay at the time. The clerk was instructed to notify the Lindsay Clerk to that effect. The Court of Revision here closed and the council proceeded with other business. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. By-law No. 164, appointing pathmasters, fence viewers, and pound keepers, received its several readings, and the corporate seal was attached to the same. Moved by William Crough, seconded by Jeremiah McCarthy,—That forty dollars be granted on the 11th con. line west of the Bobcaygeon road, provided that Timothy Cadigan guarantees that he will make and build a good and substantial road into his lot in said con. Moved by Paul Costello, seconded by William Crough,—That Daniel Costello and Jeremiah McCarthy be appointed Commissioners to let the contract of making the road in the 11th con. line. The council intended appropriating a certain amount of money on the road this year which will be equally divided among the pathmasters. The council then adjourned until called by the Reeve. —COM.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE HON. EDWARD BLAKE.

We regret to observe that Mr. Edward Blake has found himself compelled to decline the nominations for South Bruce and West Durham severally tendered to him by the Reform Conventions of these constituencies, on the ground that "his "health would not admit of his discharging the duties devolved upon a candidate." We are confident that this announcement will be received throughout the country by men of all parties with great regret. The Opposition press are quite right in stating that the Reform party will lose one of its ablest and most distinguished leaders should Mr. Blake retire from the public arena. But we shall still hope that before the electoral contest bezins in earnest, the illness entailed by over-work may have yielded to change of scene and quiet rest; and that his potent arm shall yet be felt in the fore-front of the battle.

WEST NORTHUMBERLAND.

COBOURG, June 1.—A large convention of the Reformers of West Northumberland met here to-day to nominate candidates for the Commons and Ontario Legislature. Two hundred and thirty-four delegates, besides many other leading Reformers of the riding, were present, the representation from the rural municipalities being specially large. Mr. J. H. Dumble, barrister, President of the Reform Association, occupied the chair, and Mr. Hough, of the World, acted as secretary. Resolutions of confidence in both the Dominion and Local Governments were passed, and there after Mr. Wm. Kerr, M.P., was unanimously re-nominated for the House of Commons. Mr. Kerr accepted the nomination in an excellent speech, in which he defended the Government from the many slanders of the Opposition, and justified the support which he had felt it his duty to accord to Mr. Mackenzie. Messrs. Fisher, Dumble, McCallum, Field, Hinman, Wade, (Port Hope), Patullo, and others also addressed the Convention. No nomination was made for the Local House.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND.

WARKWORTH, May 30.—The Reform Convention of the East Riding of Northumberland met here to-day. There was a large attendance of members. The policy of the Government was discussed and approved, the following resolution being carried unanimously:—

Moved by Dr. Gould, of Colborne, seconded by W. Scott, ex-Reeve of Murray,

That this Convention most heartily approves of the course adopted by James L. Biggar, M.P., and we beg him to accept our united thanks for the honesty, ability, and faithfulness manifested by him since he became our representative; and we take pleasure in again nominating him to contest the Riding in the Reform interest at the approaching election for the Commons of Canada, and we pledge ourselves to use every lawful means to secure his successful return.

EAST YORK.

Mr. Boultbee's candidature does not appear to be exciting much interest in this Riding. He announced a meeting to be held in Gowan's Hall, Leslieville, on Friday evening last, but failed to put in an appearance till nine o'clock, nor did any sign of an audience present itself much before that hour. A few stragglers then gathered together, the Conservative champion being represented by three or four C. E. Club attaches.

Attempt to Shoot the Emperor William.

The Emperor Wounded in the Face and Arm.

The Emperor William was fired at yesterday while driving in the Unter den Linden, and wounded with buckshot in the face, back, and arm. His assailant is one Nobeling, a doctor of Philolog, of Social-Democrat tendencies, who, in pursuance of a previously concocted plan, hired rooms on the avenue named and deliberately fired at the Emperor with a double-barrelled gun from the window of his lodging.

LONDON, June 3.—All accounts from Berlin say the effect of the news that another attempt has been made on the life of the Emperor was astounding. The outburst of public feeling went so far beyond the manifestations of the previous occasion, as Nobeling's attempt exceeded that of Hoedel in seriousness. Vast crowds assembled around the palace, and forced its way into the building. It only dispersed on receiving satisfactory news of the Emperor's condition, and warning that their manifestations might aggravate his suffering.

A Berlin special says:—Nobeling's injuries are fatal. He is neither a Socialist nor an Ultramontane but is a Protestant of good family and position, and fair means. His brothers are officers in the army, and his mother's second husband is a retired major. Nobeling admits that his plan had been formed a long time. He had accomplices who had been in communication with him on the subject of the assassination of the Emperor for six months.

LOCAL NEWS.

Town Council.—The regular meeting of the Town Council will be held next Monday evening, 10th instant.

County Council.—The June session of the County Council will commence on Tuesday, 18th instant.

Counterfeit.—A contemporary gives the following list of counterfeit notes known to be in circulation, which is worth processing: Dominion, $1's, old issue; Bank of British North America, 50's, stamped Kingston; Ontario, $10's. Look out for them.

The "Fairy."—"On Saturday last we were visited by Mr. Poulson's little steam yacht Fairy."—Review. How she managed to sail up George street and enter the sanctum of the Editor of our contemporary is a question yet unsolved by the readers of that paper.

Enterprise.—The Lindsay Post with its usual enterprise last week published in full the speeches at the Reform Demonstration and Banquet which took place in that town on the 27th ult., containing nearly ten columns of close reading matter, besides a supplement of nearly half the size of the newspaper.

Clearing Sale.—As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere, Mr. W. G. Thomson has decided to close up his present business, and for that purpose will commence a clearing sale of his entire stock on Saturday next. The stock amounts to over $20,000, and is well assorted in all the new, fashionable and seasonable goods. Decided bargains are promised.

Cricket Club Concert.—We are requested to announce that a concert will be given in the Opera House about the last week of June, in aid of the Cricket Club. The arrangements are in the hands of a good committee, and we are assured that it will be an entertainment worthy of patronage. The Peterborough Dramatic Company will assist in making the programme an attractive one.

Boating Club.—At a meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club, held in the Boat House on Monday evening last, it was decided to set aside a sum not exceeding $600 for the purpose of erecting a new boat house and bowling alley in connection with the present one. The Boating Club under the present management are prospering and deserve to be encouraged by the citizens generally.

Lumbering.—On Wednesday of last week the first saw log drive of the season passed down the river. The logs belong to Messrs McDougall & Ledgerwood, and are on their way to the mills at Harwood. The height of the water this year enabled the "drive" to pass down easily, a circumstance very acceptable to the men engaged in the work. Several "rushes" of timber have also passed down, being the first for a number of years.

Marked Down.—As will be seen by announcement in another column, Mr. John White has opened out a large stock of boots and shoes suitable for the spring and summer trade, in A. Cox's old stand, sign of the Big Boot, George street. The goods are all marked down to such a low figure that Mr. White anticipates no trouble in disposing of the stock, and only asks intending purchasers to inspect his goods, feeling confident that he cannot be undersold in town.

Fall Rye.—We were shown on Friday last a sample of rye, grown on the farm of Mr. H. Berriam, of Smith. It measured 6 feet 2 inches in height. The sample as a whole, was excellent. Since writing the above Mr. T. G. Hazlitt has also brought to this office a specimen of rye grown on the Beaver Meadow Farm. The stalks measure seven feet four inches in length, and are the most luxuriant in growth that we have yet seen.

An Old Resident Gone.—J. T. Heathorn, Esq., so long and familiarly known in this county, died on the 3rd instant, after an illness of several months. He was born in 1799, and was in his 79th year. Mr. Heathorn was one of the earliest settlers in this county, he arriving in Peterborough when it was merely being surveyed. For over a year he suffered from cancer, which eventuated in his decease. Mr. Heathorn had a large family, but of them only one son and one daughter—Mrs. J. A. Hartley and Mr. D. G. Heathorn—survived him. His funeral took place on Sunday, and was largely attended.

Acknowledgement.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade on Tuesday evening last, the following resolution was carried unanimously:—"That this Brigade tender their sincere thanks to the merchants and friends who so kindly contributed towards furnishing their new Hall." The standing committee appointed by the citizens and Firemen met in the Firemen's Hall every evening to receive reports of the Chairmen of the different committees who are taking the management of the different apartments to form the Physics Procession on Dominion Day.

A Clerical Renegade.—K. D. McDiarmid, lately a Baptist minister at Fenelon Falls, has proved himself a scoundrel of the most infamous kind, by seducing a young lady of the church of which he professed to be pastor. For fear of a coat of tar and feathers he left on Saturday night for parts unknown. The eloped maid was at the same time the husband of a respectable wife, and the father of seven children. The future of his life will be sad to him as well as to his unfortunate victim, and some will be ready to believe that for him there is a dark hereafter. If he is a knave he has also been assuredly a fool, to thus in the guise of a minister of the Gospel become a servant of Satan.

Personal.—The numerous friends of Dr. Bingham, formerly of Warsaw, will learn with pleasure of his settling in Peterborough, for the practice of his profession. Dr. Bingham had a very extensive practice in Dummer, Douro, Otonabee, and the surrounding country. He was also, we believe, very successful in his treatment of the different diseases. His permanent settlement in Peterborough will thus enable his old friends to call on him when they require his services as a physician, or to entrust him at his office, which will be seen by his card, in east of the Market Square. His experience must ensure for him an extensive practice in the town and vicinity. We welcome the Doctor amongst us, and cordially recommend him to all requiring medical advice.

Hasty Glance.—The following paragraph is taken from the Tilsonburg Weekly Liberal of the 23rd May last. The Mr. Bullwood referred to was formerly a resident of Ashburnham, and well known to many in this section:—

"Mr. Jas. Bullwood called at our office on Wednesday, and we availed ourself of the opportunity to take a hasty glance at the crops raised on his farm, near Culloden, this spring. The vines are of unusual length for the season of the year—some of the shoots being fourteen inches long. The appearance of the whole field was pleasing between the rows and hills of Marrow, being commonly early, even for such an early spring as this has been, and Mr. Bullwood will have field peas sooner than the majority of people will have garden peas. He informs us that his other products are in an equally forward condition, and that the frost does not appear to have done any damage to them."

Cricket Match.—A game of Cricket will be played on the Ashburnham Cricket Ground, this afternoon, between an eleven representing the "Learned Professions" and an eleven in the "Merchantile Interests." Wickets to be pitched at two o'clock, sharp. Admission free. The following are the eleven:

Merchantile Interests.	Learned Professions
Retherford,	Hall,
Hartley,	Belcher,
Gilbert,	Stratton,
Gullies,	Rogers,
Montgomery,	Eaton,
Shaw,	Hamilton,
Clarke,	Hamilton,
Hammond,	Weller,
McCabe,	Burnham,
Shaw,	Peck,
Stapleton,	May.

The Governor-General's Visit.—Taking up the suggestion thrown out by several gentlemen, at the public meeting held last week, to consider the best means of celebrating the first of July, the Lindsay Post has the following:—"We observe that at a meeting in Peterborough the other day to arrange for the next Dominion Day celebration Mr. W. H. Scott expressed a belief that if an invitation were extended His Excellency the Governor-General would make a tour through Peterborough, Lindsay, and the back lakes—a district His Excellency has never yet visited. The idea is a capital one and we trust Mr. Scott and our Peterborough friends will lose no time in ascertaining if it can be carried out. If so, the celebration of our national anniversary in Lindsay might take place on Tuesday instead of Monday in order that His Excellency might be here. It might be well for Mayor Deacon to take action in the matter. We are sure the people of this section would give His Excellency a most enthusiastic reception though their gratification would be tempered with regret at his early departure. We have only one more suggestion to make and that is the presence of Lady Dufferin should be secured."

The New Dominion Monthly for June contains the following articles:—"The Waverly Temperance Hotels," by T.; "Good Night" (poem), by M. W.; "Life in Glenaisle" (continued); "Preserved Speech" (illustrated), by G H. F.; "Two Scottish Heroes" (Part II.), by J. D. A.; "Recent Prison Congresses and Their Work," by E. A. Meredith, LL.D.; "Unappreciated Man," by Charles Augustus; "A Monster Animal" (illustrated), by C.; "In memoriam" (poem), by J. O. Madison; "Monograph of the Dene-Dindjie Indians" (continued). "Saying No," by Hiller Loretta; "Jack Granger's Cousin" (continued); "Ten Little Ducks" (poem, illustrated), from Our Baby; Puzzles; "Lost Farwell's Duty" (concluded); "Children's Clothing"; "Papa and Baby," by Mary Blake, in Scribner's Monthly; "La Compagnie Irelandaise," by Captain Kirwan; "More about Birds," by W. W. Smith. Chess, conducted by J. G. Ascher, Montreal. Draughts, conducted by Andrew White, Bolton Forest, Quebec. "Mercedes at Schools." Frontispiece, Queen of Spain.

The "Cruiser."—This favorite little steamer lately placed upon our back lakes by Messrs. Gordon and Sheppee, has now commenced her regular trips for the season. In another column will be found her time table. On Monday's, Wednesday's and Saturday's, she will leave Lakefield for Young's Point, Burleigh, and Mount Julien, connecting with the Midland Railway both morning and evening. On Tuesday and Friday the steamer will be open for charter at special rates. Thursday will be a regular excursion day. The boat leaving Lakefield at 9 a.m., on arrival of train, returning in the evening in time to connect with the 7.20 train for Peterborough. The proprietors have been fortunate in securing Capt. Secrer as master,—a gentleman well acquainted with the lakes, and one we believe who will give every satisfaction to passengers, leaving nothing in his power undone to provide for their comfort. We trust the enterprise of Messrs. Gordon and Sheppee will be fully rewarded by a liberal patronage.

Physiology.—Last week we announced that the Fire Brigade assisted by some of the citizens were endeavoring to make the necessary preparations for a grand celebration of Dominion Day. Since then matters have taken a more decided phase, and from the manner in which the efforts of the Brigade have been supplemented by the citizens we feel pretty confident that unless some unforseen circumstance occurs, the 1st of July, 1878, will be a red letter day in the history of the town. So far as we have been able to learn the programme will be as follows: The Physiogs will file an appearance about 12 o'clock so that parties coming to town by rail or boat will have an opportunity of witnessing what promises to be one of the best masquerade carnivals yet produced in this section. After parading the principal streets they will retire to the Drill Shed grounds where athletic sports by Physiogs in costume will take place, and at the same time it is purposed that a Brass Band contest shall take place for prizes of $100 and $75. In the evening a promenade concert will be held at which the successful competing bands will play, interspersed at intervals with vocal selections by four ethiopian minstrels troupes in costumes. The days proceedings will terminate with a grand display of fire-works.

Concert.—On Thursday evening last a concert was given in the Opera House, by the friends of the late F. W. Rubidge, and was largely attended. The Musical Society met with a hearty reception, and Mrs. Bowman and Miss Nettie Martin in their solos were well received. Messrs. T. O. Rush and A. Elliott met with a flattering acknowledgment after singing "Oh Haste Crimson Morning." The singing of the different church choirs was much admired and the entertainment passed off in good style, realizing about $125. The following was the programme: —Overture, "Calif de Bagdad," Musical Society; quartette, "Evening Echoes." Members of St. Paul's Church Choir; song, "A Leaf from the Spray," Mrs. Bowman; duett, "Oh, Haste Crimson Morning," Messrs. T.O. Rush and A. Elliott; song, "Grave of Bonaparte," Mr. Galletly; quartette, "Do I Wake or am I Dreaming,' members of St. John's Church Choir; ventriloquism, Mr. O. Dixon; overture, "Massinello," Musical Society; chorus, "All by the Shady Greenwood Tree," members of George Street Methodist Church Choir; song, "Bring my Harp to me Again," Miss Nettie Martyn; quartette an chorus, "He's Gone," members of St. John's Choir; Glee, "Awake Aeolian Lyre," members of choirs. Messrs. Heathfield and Bell in their usual good style presided at piano.

THE GRANGE PIC-NIC,

Third Annual Pic-Nic of Durham Grange
—A Pleasful Gathering—About 2000 people present—Prominent men of the Association addresses the Meeting.

Yesterday the third annual pic-nic of the Durham Division Grange, which embraces the Counties of Peterborough and Durham, was held in the Agricultural grounds in this town. The attendance was large—it being variously estimated at from 2000 to 2500. The Managing Committee, accompanied by the band met the visitors coming by train and boat and escorted them to the pic-nic grounds. Shortly after one o'clock T. J. Staples, Esq., Division Grange Agent, took the chair and called the meeting to order and introduced the several speakers.

On the platform we noticed W. Pemberton Page, Secretary of the Dominion Grange; Jas. Daly, Esq., member of the Executive Committee of the Dominion Grange; Jesse Trull, Esq., Master of Durham Division Grange; N. Peters, Esq., Secretary of Durham Division Grange; A. V. Price, Esq., Lecturer of Addington Division Grange, and brother of the lately appointed Judge of Frontenac; Shane Parsons, Esq., member of the Dominion Executive Committee; Thos. Blesard, Esq., Lecturer of Division Grange; Thos. Johnston, Esq., Chaplain of Division Grange; and Messrs. D. D. Henderson, Joshua Smithson and John Garbutt, Members of the Executive Committee of the Durham Division Grange from this section, besides a large number of others whose names we did not learn.

Interesting addresses were delivered by Messrs. Price, Page, Daly and the Chairman, but as we were preparing to go to press before the conclusion of the speeches, we are compelled to lay over an extended report until next week.

After passing votes of thanks to the speakers of the day, the ladies, the reporters of the press and the Band, the meeting separated by giving three hearty cheers for the Queen, the Band playing the National Anthem.

THE DUNKIN BILL.

Our good friends, the hotelkeepers finding that the temperance people were in earnest in their work of lessening the evils of intemperance, and that their appearance in the Police Court on Monday was only the earnest of what was to come, resolved on Monday evening to close up their bars, sheds, stables and hotels, on the following day, Tuesday, which was "fair day." This was done, we suppose, with the view of arousing public sympathy, as they expected then all who would come to town to do business could not be accommodated with out them. The determination became known to the temperance people who in their turn resolved that as the hotels were totally closed as the hotel accommodation for the emergency, and the use of sheds were totally denied at the disposal of the committee. Private parties offered their yards and stables, the sheds of the Agricultural Association were also kindly given by Joseph Walton, Esq., President of the Society, and bills were put up announcing that Mr. Maloney and Mr. Allen could provide meals for 200 persons, if needed. It was however soon found that there was room enough and to spare. The town was very orderly, and hotelkeepers were good natured, and said that they were "holding the fort" in turn. In Ashburnham there was some trouble done, but we cannot speak definitely to what extent, suffice to say that the License Inspector is pledged against them for selling without license. We believe the farming community were amply provided for and we are glad to say that the greatest satisfaction prevailed. Indeed it may yet be found that the hotel keepers made a mistake in the course they pursued, but that is their business. We can say this much for them that they absolutely kept their places shut up, not selling anything to any one. Query,—Is not this closing of the hotels an acknowledgement that the Dunkin By-law is not so bad after all?

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL.

The Ashburnham Council met on Monday evening. Present,—The Reeve, J. Burnham, Esq., in the chair, and Councillors Rogers and Wand.

The minutes of previous meeting read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Jas. Edwards, Esq., Town Treasurer, stating that he had forwarded to the Council of the village an account in connection with the Fire Department, shewing the sum of $148.77 due the Town of Peterborough by the village, and requesting the Council to remit him the amount with their usual promptness, and enable them to go on their way rejoicing.—Received.

From Messrs. Buck, Menzies, Cadigan and others, asking for a new sidewalk and repairs on the road on James street, it being much needed, as in the spring the street is principally flooded with water.—Received.

The Collector for the village handed in the following statement of the abatements of taxes on the Roll for 1877.

Six Firemen	$12 00
Wm. Faint	3 50
D. W. Dumble, tarred on note	53 40
Jas. Stevenson, " "	6 00
Alex. Cope, taxes	3 50
J. McWilliams (Vakie)	5 30
Already granted	26 12
Poll Tax	49 00
Total	$157 32

The statement also showed that the total amount on Roll amounted to $3,857.36.

Mr. S. Fowles stated that he had been requested by the residents at Auburn to request the Ashburnham Council to build a sidewalk from the new bridge in the north of the village to the Douro road. He understood that the town would complete the sidewalk on the west side of the bridge.

The request was laid over till a future meeting.

Mrs. McClean verbally requested the Council to water table Stewart street, as in the spring of the year her property was flooded.

From Narcesse Mercier and 19 others, asking for the stones and other obstructions to be removed from off Sophia street.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

Toker & Co.	$10 61
Collectors Salary	50 00
A. Comstock	1 50

On motion the accounts were ordered to be paid.

Moved by Councillor ROGERS, seconded by Councillor WAND, —That the Reeve and Councillor Rogers attend a meeting of the Otonabee Council with reference to the road from Downer's Corners eastward.—Carried.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Moved by Councillor WAND, seconded by Councillor ROGERS,—That the Reeve call a meeting of the Council about the middle of the month to view the repairs required on the roads and bridges.—Carried.

BATHING.

Moved by Councillor ROGERS, seconded by Councillor WAND,—That the Clerk have some notices printed in reference to boys bathing in public places during the day.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The Separation of the Boards—Communications and Reports—The Janitorship—Miscellaneous Business.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board was held in the usual place on Tuesday evening last 4th instant. Present,—The Chairman, James Stevenson, Esq., and Messrs. Lech, Edwards, Donaldson, Romaine, Menzies, Errett, Shaw, Kincaid, McClelland, and Dumble. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

Moved by Mr. ERRETT, seconded by Mr. ROMAINE, —That the Committee on Appointments be and are hereby requested to consider, and report at the next sitting of the Board, a plan for the separation of the control of the High and Common Schools of this Board and for the appointment of a Head for the Common School, independent of and from the High School; and the Secretary is hereby directed to prepare a list of the teachers engaged by the Board, showing the amount of salary paid each; the qualification or certificate under which they teach, and if a permit from the Local Superintendent, the date thereof, and whether the same is first issued to such teachers, or not; and hand the same to the chairman of said committee as soon as he can prepare the same.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Miss Peck, asking to be appointed as teacher, should a vacancy occur.—Received and referred to Committee on Appointments.

From Miss Panton, asking to have her vacancy lengthened on account of ill health.

From the Educational Department, transmitting extracts from the report of Inspector Buchan on his visit to the Collegiate Institute on the 8th, 9th, and 10th of April:

Accommodation—Good; Equipment—The material equipment is good, and the staff is sufficient and very good. Organization—A Union and the Head Master supervises the public school. On account of the special qualifications which he possesses for this kind of work, the present arrangements work admirably. In district, Residents pay a fee of 50 cents a month. Non-residents $1 per month. The County of Peterborough though very largely benefitted by this school, pays nothing towards its support. Remarks.—This school is in a very satisfactory condition.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

The Secretary read the Principal's report of attendance for the month of May as follows:

	On Roll.	Av'g.
Collegiate Institute	143	136
Central School	491	440
South Ward School	232	197
Third Ward School	177	161
Auburn School	74	51
	1095	985

From J. F. Jeffers, submitting the suggestion of posting trespass notices on the school premises, as after school hours and during holidays the grounds are frequented by boys.

From W. A. Morrow, Secretary-Treasurer, asking for an increase of salary, as his duties had been largely increased.

DISPOSALS.

Miss Peck's communication was received and referred to the Committee on Appointments.

In regard to Miss Panton's communication, Mr. DENNISTOUN moved, seconded by Mr. DUMBLE, —That the communication of Miss Panton be received, and that the request she makes for an extension of vacation for the month of September be granted—she making provisions for a substitute to the satisfaction of the Principal—her salary to go on in ordinary manner, she arranging for compensation to substitute.—Carried.

Mr. Morrow's communication was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. DUMBLE drew attention to the roughstate of the Third Ward School yard, and thought it should be levelled and the stones raked off.

The SECRETARY stated that during the month he had collected as fees from the Institute, the Court on Monday was only the earnest of what was to come, received on Monday evening to close up their bars, sheds, stables and hotels, on the following day, Tuesday, which was "fair day." Mr. Morrow's communication was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. DUMBLE drew attention to the roughstate of the Third Ward School yard, and thought it should be levelled and the stones raked off.

The SECRETARY stated that during the month he had collected as fees from the Institute, the sum of $94.56, and from the Public Schools $9.66. He asked if fees would be required to be collected for the month of July, as there would only be four teaching days in it.

The BOARD agreed without a resolution that no fees should be charged.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. ERRETT, Chairman of the Property Committee reported as follows:—

The Property Committee of the Board of Education for the Town of Peterborough report as follows, viz.:

That Mr. Johnston has made an offer in writing, stating the amount he is willing to accept for his services as Janitor, and finding certain articles required by him in his office of Janitor thereof at his present salary and perquisites. The offer is herewith submitted.

Mr. Fitzgerald having delivered over fifty cords of wood under his contract for one Market Block now completed, the Treasurer was directed to pay him one hundred and twenty-five dollars on account.

Your committee having viewed the Janitors quarters, are of opinion that the stairs leading up to the rear flat should be removed, thereby facilitating circulation of air through the rear flat as thoroughly and perfect as possible, and at the same time affording a cooler and safer passage to and from the north-east room proposed to be opened, and have had the plans amended in that way, and specifications for working out the proposed alterations made by Mr. Rowe, which are hereby submitted.

Your committee advertised for tenders for doing the work and rebuilding fence along College street, and herewith submit tenders received.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

E. W. ERRETT, Chairman.

June 4th, 1878.

Mr. Johnston's offer to perform the duties of Janitor and provide certain articles for school for $550 a year was accepted on motion of Mr. ROMAINE, seconded by Mr. ERRETT.

Moved by Mr. ERRETT, seconded by Mr. MENZIES, —That the tenders be referred back to the Property Committee with power to accept the lowest tender satisfactory to the Committee, and that the work be done under the superintendance of Mr. Robert Rowe.—Carried.

AUBURN SCHOOL.

Mr. DUMBLE, chairman of the Committee appointed to examine into matters connected with the Auburn School, reported as follows:—

In reference to the matter of the Auburn School rate for the year 1877 from that portion of the township of Douro included in the Auburn school section, the committee to whom the matter was referred beg to report:

The number of pupils on the roll for 1877 was 103, of which there were from Douro 47 and from town 55.

Of these a considerable number are children of Catholic school supporters.

The total expenditure on the school last year was $457.22, which was contributed as follows:

From Douro	$266.60
Government Grant	30.10
County Grant	40.39
Balance paid by the town	51.23
	$437.22

We find that the assessment of the Douro portion of the school section for 1876 was $68,775, and for the year 1877 it was $83,774, an increase of about 65 per cent. This explains the reason of the larger amount paid by Douro in 1877 for school purposes as compared with $170.04 paid in 1876.

In 1874 Douro only paid $64.97, and in 1875 only $221.38.

Taking the whole four years into consideration the whole amount paid by Douro in that time is about the correct amount payable, though last year the amount was too great.

The School Act provides that in case of a union section, the heads of the Municipalities interested, together with the County Inspector, shall form a Board to equalize the assessment. We suggest that for the present year such Board shall assume the duty of equalizing it, and thus avoid the irregularity which resulted in 1877.

We think the amount payable for the present year by Douro should not exceed $180.

We find that the larger number of Catholic children on the roll, who are not entitled to free tuition at the school, is from the Douro side, the Catholic children being as 33 to 12. If these children are compelled to pay, as by the rules of the school provided, the assessment for school purposes would be considerably reduced.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE, Chairman.

June 5th, 1878.

Received and adopted.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Mr. ERRETT, said under this heading, he would take up the notice of motion submitted at the March meeting for increasing the fees for tuition in the Institute to non-residents to $2.00 per month.

Mr. DENNISTOUN suggested that in view of the early meeting of the County Council, the matter be referred to a special committee to meet that body in reference to obtaining a grant from the county in consideration of the pupils from the county being admitted to the Institute on the same terms as town pupils.

Mr. ERRETT asked to amend his motion and submitted the following:

Moved by Mr. ERRETT, seconded by Mr. LECH, —That after the mid-summer vacation non-resident pupils in the Collegiate Institute be charged a school fee of $2 per month.

In amendment Mr. EDWARDS moved that town pupils be charged $1 per month, and non-residents $2 per month.

This amendment fell through for want of a seconder.

In amendment, moved by Mr. DENNISTOUN, seconded by Mr. MCCLELLAND, —That in view of the fact that the County Council will hold their regular meeting this month and this board are desirous if the same can be arranged on an equitable basis for a substantial annual grant from the county in aid of the Institute, that pupils coming from the county should be admitted on equal terms with town pupils. Resolved that the question of making the proposed increase be referred to a special committee with instructions to wait on the County Council with a view to seeing what arrangements can be arrived at (if any) and to report on the whole matter at the next meeting. Such committee to be composed of Messrs. Dumble, Shaw, Errett and McClelland.—Carried.

CONGRATULATORY.

Mr. SHAW moved, seconded by Mr. DENNISTOUN,—That the very favorable report of the Inspector, Mr. Buchan, as to the efficiency and state of our Collegiate Institute is a matter of much gratification, and this Board tenders to the Principal and teachers of the Institute their congratulations on the success which has attended their labors during the year.—Carried.

BALANCE SHEET.

Moved by Mr. SHAW, seconded by Mr. DENNISTOUN,—That the Secretary be instructed to procure a book for the purpose of entering the monthly balance sheets from the month of January last, and present at each regular meeting of the Board said book with proper balance entered therein—for the information of the Board.—Carried.

RULES OF ORDER.

Moved by Mr. ERRETT, seconded by Mr. ROMAINE,—That the Secretary be instructed to send to each member of the Board not already supplied, and to each teacher and the inspector a copy of the Rules of Order and By-laws.

Mr. EDMISON entered and took his seat as the Board was preparing to adjourn.

Board adjourned.

IN MEMORIAM.

We find the following lines composed by Mr. J. O. Madison, of this town, in the June number of the New Dominion Monthly, published by Messrs. John Dougall & Son, Montreal :-

How hard it is to say, "Thy will be done,"
And how submissive, when God sends us pain,
We love so well the splendor of the sun,
We are not patient in the gloom of rain;
When the heart bleeds with deep and sore affliction
We do not feel with brighter day's conviction,
"God doeth all things well."

Easy it is to murmur and say
To an afflicted fellow-brother, "Be resigned,
God chast'neth thee in love," But when the day
Of our bereavement comes, when we're consigned
To earth the form of some beloved departed,
We weep and moan and almost broken-hearted,
Forget that God is good.

Through shattered hopes whose ruins crush the heart,
God's love for us we can but dimly see,
We do not cry, while the strained heart-strings part,
"Thy will be done" but "Oh, my God spare me!"
But heaped up ruins of tid hopes unmended,
God's boundless love is seen, and doubts are ended
After His will is done.

We pass through darkness into purer light,
Advance from doubting into strong belief,
Beyond the valley there is Pisgah's height,
After our weeping comes a sweet relief;
Precious this balm which comes to heal our sorrow
Parting to-day means union on the morrow,
Where parting is no more.

Oh, sister Bell, when came that fiat dread
Which gave thee heaven and us heart-rending woe,
My faith grew weak, and trembling, almost fled,
While like rank weeds dark doubts began to grow,
But thy pure spirit grieved that I should murmur,
Taught me such wisdom that my faith grew firmer,
And dark doubts dropped and died.

Perhaps thy spirit breathing upon mine
Gives me this thought which thrills me with delight,
That as my soul approaches the divine,
Ceasing to doubt, and struggling into light
Thy peace and happiness become completer,
And heaven and all therein seems sweeter
And lovelier to thee.

Still my heart yearns for thy dear spirit fled,
And life would be a torture, earth a hell,
But that my faith is strong, my doubts are dead,
And sure my hope that we shall meet to dwell.
When peace is infinite and love supernal
Where all that is, is perfect and eternal,
For God hath promised this.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSE-HOLD.

Household Helps and Hints.

BUTTER TAFFY.—Two cups of white sugar; three quarters of a cup of vinegar, not too strong; three quarters of a cup of butter. Boil until brittle; pour into buttered pans.

DARK STEAMED PUDDING.—To be steamed two and a-half or three hours. One cupful molasses, one cupful sweet milk, two cupfuls butter, four cupfuls flour, one teaspoonful soda, three-quarter cupful fruit; spice to suit the taste; to be eaten with sour sauce.

GEMS.—One cupful flour, one cupful milk, one egg; well beaten; have gem pans hot as a griddle, grease the pans with a cloth swab dipped in warm butter; drop the batter into the gem pans, while on the top of the stove, and bake in a hot oven. If a larger number are required double the quantity of each ingredient.

RADISHES.—Radishes grow rapidly in warm weather and are much better than those which are sown early and grow slowly in cool weather. Radishes sown the first of June will often be fit for use in three weeks, and they will be far superior to those sown in April, which require six or seven weeks for their growth.

A VALUABLE MIXTURE.—A valuable mixture to keep on hand at this season is one of coal ashes, sulphur and hellebore. The ashes should be very fine. It is best after passing them through an ordinary coal-ash sieve. To one pailful of ashes thus sifted add a quart each of flour of sulphur and hellebore and mix together. For current worms, plant lice, cabbage fleas, slug on pear trees, melon bugs, we found this an effectual last season that we confidently recommend it to our readers. It is always best to use it in the cool of the morning while the dew is upon the leaf.

A GOOD CEMENT.—A good cement for mending almost any thing may be made by mixing together litharge and glycerine to the consistency of thick cream or fresh putty. This cement is useful for mending stone jars or any coarse earthenware, stopping leaks in seams of tin pans or washboilers, cracks and holes in iron kettles, etc. I have filled holes an inch in diameter in kettles, and used the same for years in boiling water and feed. It may also be used to fasten on lamp-tops, to tighten loose nuts, to secure loose bolts whose nuts are lost, to tighten loose joints in wood or iron, loose boxes in waggon-hubs, and in a great many other ways. In all cases the articles mended should not be used till the cement has hardened, which will require from one day to a week, according to the quantity used. This cement will resist the action of the water, hot or cold, and almost any degree of heat.

LICE EXTERMINATOR.—W. J. P. Kingsley, in the Rural New Yorker, recommends the use of aloes to destroy parasites on cattle. He says: "Years ago I discovered that aloes in fine powder is a specific for the destruction of lice on all animals, and as it has no poisonous properties, its intense bitterness being what kills, it can be freely applied, and as it is to be used in a dry state its application is as safe in cold as in warm weather, consequently is free from all objections urged against other remedies. My regard for the comfort of animals and the interests of their owners induces me to publish this for the benefit of all concerned, and as this is the season when these parasites are usually most numerous and annoying, an opportunity is afforded for testing its unquestioned merits. Directions:—Fill a large common pepper box with the powder and sprinkle freely into the hair, on the neck, back, sides and rump of the animals infested and rub it thoroughly through the hair and on the skin with the ends of the fingers; leave it undisturbed for a week; then card or curry thoroughly and apply as before, and so continue at intervals of a week until there is not a living parasite. I have used and recommended this extermination in numerous cases without a failure, and two different applications, if thoroughly made, generally suffice."

TESTING SEED.—Mr. Bewick, the English author, urges that where there is the slightest reason for doubting the germinating powers of seed grain it should be tested before sowing. His directions are:—"Draw 100 grains promiscuously, lay them in two pieces of thick flannel, well saturated with rain water, place it in a warm temperature, keep it wet, and in fifty or sixty hours you will have it sprouted. The handy method would give a certainty to what a farmer was actually sowing. Thus if he found the germinative percentage low, he must add more seed to make up for the deficiency."

The horse will eat his head out of every twelve and the hog never knows what it is to be hungry. The crow flies six miles, and the wild pigeon sixty an hour, but the humming bird beats all things on the wing. The wild turkey can run faster than he can fly, and any man who is a good walker can tire a deer out in twenty-four hours. The fox is the hardest animal to catch in a trap, and the muskrat the easiest, and the meadow lark is the shyest of all the birds in the air. The spider is the only creature that catches its food in a trap and a sheep will live without water longer than any other domestic animal.

To destroy bugs on squash or cucumber vines dissolve a tablespoonful of saltpetre in a pailful of water, sprinkle the vines with this mixture, keeping the earth so that it will not be "ad much, and the thing is done.

The Grocery Clerk.

Oh, sweet is the life of a grocery clerk, it is happy and free from care—except that he has to work in the night, and can never neglect his hair. While shovelling sugar he laughs and chats on a questions that may arise, and he knows just how to open the door in a way that is really nice. Sometimes, of course, he must cut salt pork, but swine not do this as well—as he writing poetry, or teaching school, or ringing a milkman's bell. And it's oh, such fun to handle up starch, butter clerk of the high degree, but rarely speaks in the least way stiff—he does the thing up to a tee. When baking powder he sells to a girl, then it must be jolly to say, "My little Miss dough not fail to come up, and purchase, some other day." And if she buys nutmegs, or coffee, or cloves, or spice, she's sure to reply, "I ne'er cin-a-mon as polite as you are; please give me some binening—I dye." Let's soar, the friends, ere we shut up shop, and turn from life's crackers and cheese; we all can be clerks, and wait on the girls, who purchase potatoes and peas. And if it be so lettuce never neglect to open the grocery on thyme, nor artlessly cabbage the wealth from the till, or think a three cent piece a dime.

VALUE OF A BARN CELLAR.

It is a hopeful sign that farmers are beginning to learn that it is good economy to spend a little in the present, in order to save much in the future. With proper care and conveniences, tons of fertilizing material now wasted upon many farms might be saved. The Maine Farmer gives an account of the value of a barn cellar which may prove of interest to our readers:—"Not long ago one of our best and most thoughtful young farmers gave us an account of his method of making fertilizing material upon his own farm which is well worth repeating here in brief. He said that before he built a new barn, under which is a barn cellar, he made about fifty ordinary ox cartloads of manure in a year. And he was not wasteful in the matter, but practiced the best economy with the means at his command. A year or two since he built a new barn, having a manure receptacle in the basement, and with just about the same amount of stock he last spring hauled from the cellar 150 loads of manure, or about seventy-five cords, used on the cultivated crops; and last fall 'scraped up' about the cellar thirty nine loads which was hauled to the fields where it will be wanted early in spring. This, it is true, was not done without close attention and some extra work—but why should not the farmer give close attention and put out some extra work on the details of his business, whereby money may be save? The merchant looks out that the cents and dimes do not constantly waste and leak out from his money drawer, but the waspings and leachings and exposure of the voidings of farm animals, carries right out of the farmer's pocket, not dimes but dollars—dollars worth of plant food which he cannot afford to lose. In the instance above referred to, muck and roadside scrapings were used as absorbents, the kitchen and house slops were all saved, the piggery depositis were attended to—the whole forming a compost of rich fertilising material. During the summer the cattle were housed every night that their voidings might be composted with muck, and every part of both solid and liquid prevented from going to waste. This is the way to farm economically; this is the method all should adopt in order to keep up the fertility of their farms and avoid the heavy expenses consequent upon purchasing commercial manure. In part, one of the chief things in the farmer's business should be the business of making and using the home fertilizers."

TABLE REFUSE FOR POULTRY.

A correspondent of the American Poultry Yard describes as follows his plan of preparing the refuse of his table for chickens:—First, a proper feeding pail is an absolute necessity to successfully prepare the the refuse of the table and kitchen, to make it proper food for fowl. Get a hardwood pail, or ask your grocer for a hardwood butter firkin shaped like a pail. Cut a board to fit into the chine firmly on the whole bottom of the pail, and thick enough to project an eighth of an inch or more beyond the ends of the staves. Fasten it in place by a few nails driven through the staves into this false bottom, which may be of pine, as it is only to keep from bursting out the bottom of the pail by chopping in it. If you cannot get a hardwood pail, put another false bottom of hardwood inside of a pine pail, nicely fitted and secured like the under one. Grind the edge of a common spade sharp and you have an admirable chopping knife, and you will be surprised to see how quickly you can chop fine all scraps and waste of every kind, cooked or raw vegetables, chicken bones, and everything except beef, pork, or mutton, these save by themselves and put into a stock soup kettle, with all pieces of raw meat or clean meat from the market, and keep it on the kitchen stove as much of the day as you can induce you "better half" to let it remain. After boiling several days, some of these large bones will chop up fine with the other waste, and can be used as fast as they become soft. Chop up the waste each morning, adding meal and shorts enough for a breakfast for the flock, scald the whole with the soup from the stock kettle, adding once each week one of the following articles, for each twenty-five hens:—One spoonful pepper, six onions, one half-pint charcoal, one spoonful pure ginger, and two spoonfuls sulphur, etc. The above will produce a breakfast that will make your poultry house and its occupants as lively and as musical as a first-class opera house, and its effect upon the egg basket will be visible to the naked eye, and may gain for your soap kettle more time on the kitchen stove.

Gleanings from Exchanges.

EDUCATION IN JAPAN.—An article in a German magazine on the state of Japan states that 1,800,000 children are receiving instruction on the European principle in 22,000 schools. Newspapers in the vernacular are beginning to circulate largely. Osaka Nippoo has a circulation of 10,000 a day. It is announced that the Japanese Government intend taking the censorship of papers published in a foreign language into their own hands, instead of leaving them as hitherto under the control of their respective consulates.

THE PAPAL ARMY.—Although the temporal power of the Pope is now a thing of the past a Papal army still exists. According to a German military paper, this force consists at the present time of 80 Papal Guards. 450 Palace Guards, 50 Noble Guards. 150 Swiss, and five firemen. The Palace Guards, however, cannot be classed as troops of the standing army, but must be regarded rather as reserves, being only called to the colors on extraordinary occasions—as, for instance, at a grand reception or other ceremony, the majority of them at other times being employed as clerks in merchants' offices, shopmen, &c. The 150 Swiss are either natives of Switzerland or are the sons of Swiss who have grown grey in the service of the Pope. Of the five firemen two are the sole representatives of the formerly existing corps of Papal Engineers."

WITHOUT A NEWSPAPER.—An exchange says: Nothing presents a sadder commentary upon the present condition of society than the large number of families, both in town and country, but more especially in the latter, that subscribe to no paper of any kind. Hundreds growing up utterly ignorant of what is transpiring in the world around them—ignorant of the mighty events of the day. But who can tell the vast amount of the injury that is being inflicted on the rising generation—those who are to take our place in the busy world at no distant day—growing up without any knowledge of the present, and only dimly of the past? this ignorance, too, being infused into them by the assertion of those who should and doubtless do, know better, did they only think of the injurious effects of their insane course. Let the head of every family think of this, and place in the hands of those for whom he is responsible, the means of acquiring some knowledge of the moving panorama in which we act the different parts.

A LAKE OF SODA WATER.—A lake of soda water, known as the Lake of Lonar, in India, has hitherto formed one of the most useful as well as picturesque features of the Hyderabad assigned districts. The salt collected from it has been widely used for washing and dyeing chintzes; and when, in the dry weather, evaporation reduces the level of the water, vast quantities of soda are gathered on the shore. From an official report, however, which has just been issued, we gather that the supply of soda now greatly exceeds the demand, which, owing to the distance of the lake from the line of railway, has always been a local one. The largest consumers have hitherto been the villagers in the territories of his Highness the Nizam, but the prohibitory duties which have lately been imposed on soda by the Curbar have, it is said, checked the trade in this direction. No fresh supplies were taken from the lake in 1876-77, as large stocks of unsold produce remain on hand from the manufacture of the preceding year.

BOILED SEEDS.—The U. S. Government has a department through which Congressmen and Senators supply their constituents with garden seeds at the public expense. The story is told that some time ago a cry came up from the rural districts for tomato seeds: and the commissioner then drawing his pay and earning the nations gratitude, sent to Baltimore for a supply. The agent waited on a commission merchant in the Monumental city, and made a contract for six bushels. They were to be delivered in three days. As soon as the department agent's back was turned, one of the members of the commission firm waited on a large fruit and vegetable packer in Baltimore and contracted for the seeds. They were shipped to the department of agriculture, put up in small packages, and carefully labelled with their high-sounding botanical name. They were duly distributed through members of Congress, with the request to those receiving them to report on the merits of the seed. A year went by. Though planted and watered those seeds never awoke. Curses, not loud but deep, reached the ears of the official agriculturist, and on enquiring into the facts he ascertained that the seeds were from tomatoes cooked for canning purposes, and that the packer who sold them had obtained the seeds out of the boiling contents of the cans.

A CONFIRMED MALTHUSIAN.—"It is a dreadful thing to have to pass sentence on a man in such a plight. The infliction you are suffering surpasses a ny punishment I can inflict, said the humane judge to Mr. Neale, up for horse stealing, who was brought in to court on a litter. Neale when caught was put in Malmesbury (England) look-up, and pretended to have fallen back from a window and damaged his spine. So admirably did this champion malinger play his part that he was kept weeks at Malmesbury, living like a fighting cock, until it was thought that he could be removed to Devizes, the county seat. There he was tried, getting a very light sentence in view of his "affliction sore," and all was going on conformably with his wishes, when, as ill-luck would have it, the Governor of Gloucester jail must needs come poking his nose into the prison at Devizes. "Aha, my boy, at your old tricks, eh?" exclaimed that functionary, and, albeit the poor invalid protested, the galvanic battery was forthwith applied. But to no purpose, not a motion did the leg alleged to be paralyzed make. The doctor was puzzled, and wrote to the doctor at Gloucester, who replied, "Go on; the fellow is an awful humbug." More battery, notwithstanding protestations, and at length that leg began to move and was soon carrying its owner at a rapid rate across the court to join the work gang.

NEW PROCESS OF FLOUR MAKING.—Almost everybody knows of the flour, but not every one understands what it is. Stripped of technicalities, this is perhaps about the story of its manufacture. The best flour used to be made out of winter wheat. Spring wheat yielded either much less in quantity, or else so much of the bran got into the flour in its manufacture that its color was intolerably dark. The wheat would be ground and then bolted. In the refuse—the bran and middlings—would be included a large proportion of the weight of the spring wheat, and this would sell more particularly for feed for horses. Now, the best of flour, and the most expensive, is made of the very refuse of the old fashioned process. It all came out of a discovery of a way to draw out the bran. Under the new process the wheat is ground about as before. The first result is an ordinary flour sold for exportation Then the remainder is taken and put on great horizontal sieves, and, while agitation is going on there, an ingenious system of drafts, rushing up through, carries off the bran. What is left is the glutinous portion of the wheat, the most nutrious and most productive, and out of this, purified now by the drawing off of the bran, we get our new process flour. The result of the discovery of the process has been to make the poor spring wheat of Minnesota and upper Wisconsin the most valuable kind of grain, and to make the fortunes of the inventors of the method.

The Canadian Trophy at the Paris Exhibition.

The Scientific American contains an engraving of the handsome Canadian trophy at the Paris Exhibition, concerning which the same paper gives the following particulars: "The beautiful structure is erected under the northwest dome of the exhibition buildings in Paris. On entering the principal doorway from the left bank of the Seine, one finds one's self in a magnificent transept, over 800 feet long and about 80 feet wide, divided in the centre by a tower 80 feet square, and at each end are towers covered by domes 111 feet square. The ceiling and walls of this immense transept and its domes are profusely and gorgeously decorated with mouldings, gilding and carvings. It is probably one of the largest and richest galleries ever erected. Here the trophy is being put together. It is in the form of a tower, with a high pitched roof. The base occupies a space of 30 feet square, from the centre of which rises the main framework to the height of about 100 feet. The height is divided into four stages. From the angles of the framework, on the ground level, handsome glass cases radiate, designed for the exhibition of manufactured goods. The remaining three stages have projecting galleries, supported by ornamental brackets. These galleries will contain the productions of the mines and forests. Access to them is obtained by means of a circular wooden staircase of novel construction in the centre of the trophy. The roof is divided in the centre of its height by a band, on which the word "Canada" is cut out in fretwork. The roof is covered in part with slates and in part with shingles and bark. The exhibits will be so arranged that the farming timbers, which are of red pine, will be left exposed to view. The woodwork will be finished in oil, to bring out the natural grain of the wood, so that visitors may examine specimens of the different timber grown in Canada."

Effects of Smoking.

The British Medical Journal, in speaking of the effect of the habit of smoking upon the general health of boys under 16 years of age, says: "A celebrated physician took for his purpose thirty-eight boys, aged from 9 to 15, and carefully examined them. In twenty-seven of them he discovered injurious traces of the habit. In twenty-two there were various disorders of the circulation and of digestion, palpitation of the heart, and a more or less marked taste for strong drink. In twelve there was frequent bleeding of the nose, two had disturbed sleep, and twelve had slight ulcerations of the mucous membrane of the mouth, which disappeared on ceasing from the use of tobacco for some days. The doctor treated them all for weakness, but with little effect until the smoking was discontinued, when health and strength were soon restored.

Cox's General Insurance Agency.

ESTABLISHED 1858.

GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occured during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.

He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Nineteen Millions of Dollars.

THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of Edinburgh established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-five Millions of Dollars.

THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, and which or nearly one hundred years has paid losses averaging $1,500 per day.

These companies have all passed through the great fires of Hamburg, Chicago, Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and the most severe losses were promptly paid without affecting their position in the least degree.

Rates as low as consistent with absolute safety.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,

—FOR—

Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.

The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Its remprkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamac and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

ELECTRICITY.

Thomas' Excelsior Electric Oil Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold Pain Cannot stay where it is used.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied, often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas in on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25 cts, NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE—Eclectric—Selected and Electrized.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition,

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long seated Consumption.

a very valuable FARM, containing 100 acres, more or less, within six miles of the Town of Peterborough, on the River Road, and about two-and-one-half miles from Hall's Bridge, being composed of Lot No. 16 in the 15th Concession. There are on the premises a good Log House, Log Barns, Log Stables, and all necessary Outbuildings; also, an excellent Fruit-bearing Orchard, of about 3 acres. The Farm is well watered, and in a good state of cultivation. 80 acres are cleared, without stumps, and the remainder is soft wood. There is a good School House almost adjoining the Farm. This is one of the best farms in the Township. For further particulars apply on the premises to

BEAUTIFUL THINGS.

Beautiful faces are those that wear—
It matters little if dark or fair—
Whole-souled honesty printed there.

Beautiful eyes are those that show,
Like crystal panes where the hearth-fires glow
Beautiful thoughts that burn below.

Beautiful lips are those whose words
Leap from the heart like songs of birds,
Yet whose utterance prudence girds.

Beautiful hands are those that do
Work that is earnest, brave and true,
Moment by moment, the long day through.

Beautiful feet are those that go
On kindly ministries to and fro
Down lowliest ways, if God will's it so.

Beautiful lives are those that bless
Silent rivers of happiness,
Whose hidden fountains but few may guess.

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear
Cheerless burdens of daily care
With patient grace and daily prayer.

Beautiful twilight, at set of sun;
Beautiful goal, with race well won;
Beautiful rest, with work well done.

THE GRANGE PIC-NIC.

Report of the Speeches,

As we were preparing for press last week before the conclusion of the addresses in connection with the Durham Division Grange pic-nic, we were unable to give more than a mere outline of the day's proceedings. Below will be found an extended report of the addresses delivered upon the occasion.

BRO. T. J. STAPLES, Division Grange Agent, occupied the chair, and introduced the speakers.

BRO. A. V. PRICE, Lecturer of Addington Division Grange, was the first speaker. He said it afforded him much pleasure to address so many of those engaged in the same occupation as himself and who were through the agency of the Grange trying to raise and elevate the position of the farmer. He had that day been asked if he thought the society was likely to stand? In answer to that he would point to the large number of farmers who have joined the Grange and look at the strides it has taken. He believed it would go on progressing until the farmers of the whole Dominion were enlisted in this noble and grand work. There is in connection with it a something not to be found in other orders. It brings in the ladies, and when they put their shoulders to it, it cannot fail. (Applause.) It is sure to succeed when they take hold of it. As farmers they were engaged in

A WORK BOTH HIGH AND ELEVATED.

They themselves had made a mistake when they looked upon their calling as beneath them. They had not looked upon their own occupation as they should. It was one equal to any other, and it was their own fault if others had looked down upon them as mere tillers of the soil. Give the farmer his proper place—he did not presume they were better than other men—he asked for one common platform so that farmers might be brought to a level with other men. In one respect the farmer stands above other men. He is the producer of the first essential of life, but it should be remembered that it took all classes of men to make up the whole world and carry on the business of life. The farmer is the moving power; the propelling agency that moves the world, and stands much in the same relations to other men as the engine does to the train. He is the propelling power that drives them all along. All other businesses to a greater or a lesser extent depends upon the success of the farmer. The Grange was calculated to bring the farmer to his true position. It was calculated to bring him out of the antiprogressive state into which he had fallen. There were many things in it

CALCULATED TO BENEFIT THE FARMERS

of the Dominion, one of which was the co-operative system. Co-operation means helping one another, and this was one of Heaven's highest injunctions. Not alone in a financial position was the benefits to be observed, but in other joints. The man who is in distress is relieved; the Grange will assist him. It binds men and women together to minister to each other and relieve their wants. Look at

ASSOCIATED EFFORTS

in other countries and see what it has done. See what it has done for the poor man in England during the past forty years. Then the hard-working man was scarcely able to make a living. Out of every £8,000,000 expended $5,000,000 of it went to the capitalist and £3,000,000 to the laborer. Since they became associated they were able to do something for themselves. The working class are to-day becoming a power that is felt in the empire. In one co-operative store they were able to divide a dividend of $5,000, and the co-operative societies controlled a wholesale trade of $3,000,000. Do not as farmers complain that we have been badly dealt with; we have not dealt rightly with ourselves. Do not blame other people of going to excess when we allowed it. Farmers, you are the great power that drives the financial machinery of the world. Some go to extremes and say drive out all middle men. This was not what was wanted. We must have some middle men, but we want to do away with the surplus ones, so that we may save every dollar we can. It is said we want everything very cheap—sometimes below its value, This is not so. We want to pay every cent an article is worth, but we do not want to pay for work that we can do ourselves. (Applause.) No doubt some in this country have realised the benefits of doing away with some of those agents that infest the country. Some have bought from agents to their disadvantage and now buy through the Grange. Mr. Elder in this town supplies many of you with dry goods, and I believe gives you satisfaction. But it is said by outsiders he has no right to sell cheaper to you than to other people who pay cash. I say he has a right to do it and can afford to do it, because you have associated yourselves and buy in large quantities. Let those who complain avail themselves of the privilege of saving from 10 to 20 per cent by associating and buying from one man. There are many ways in which

THE GRANGE IS CALCULATED TO BENEFIT THE FARMERS.

It helps to avoid litigation. Differences are settled amicably without resorting to lawyers. He did not wish to rail one sided against the lawyers, but it was well known that they never took a case to trial without trying to make something out of it. (Laughter.) The organization is calculated to settle all differences. There are men in subordinate Granges who are quite competent to settle disputes likely to arise among farmers, and when settled in this way it is more satisfactory and at less cost. He then drew attention the social advantages arising from the Grange organization. It was not the rich alone but the poor as well who profited by it. They were improved mentally as well as financially. It is a school for your boys and girls. It takes the wife and places her upon an equality with the husband. It stands as a champion of the ladies, whose influence has a beneficial bearing upon every one connected with the Grange. The greatest enemy to the Grange is the farmer who keeps aloof from it. In conclusion he counselled the members to be firm; to stick to their principles and victory would surely be theirs. (Applause.)

Music—By the Brigade Band.

W. PEMBERTON PAGE, Esq., Secretary of the Dominion Grange, was the next speaker, and was received with applause. He said the kind reception he had received to-day he accepted not alone for himself but for the Association he represented. He had much pleasure in meeting this Division Grange upon this natal day of the Dominion Grange, which was spreading it branches all over the country. Such gatherings as he witnessed to day were of rare occurrence in the past history of farmers—in fact it would have been looked upon as a novelty. Thanks to the Grange, we were here to-day enjoying ourselves socially with the prospects of many such gatherings in the future. He was a farmer and not an orator, and was before them to-day to proclaim the farmers rights, and principles of the Grange, which was spreading so rapidly over the country. Its object was not to interefere with the right of other people—but to obtain equal rights to all. We want to co-operate more fully with the business men—with the merchant, the mechanic and the manufacturer. We want to work together with them. An opinion has gone abroad that is to establish a huge monopoly for the farmers. It has gone abroad to the exclusion of the true principles of the Grange. He was proud to own himself a farmer and a member of the Grange. Through the effects of this society the calling would be enobled, so that instead of being ashamed of being a farmer they would glory in the appellation of "tiller of the soil." A few words as to the history of the Grange in the Dominion. It is but a new thing in Canada—only four years; an infant in years, but a powerful, healthy child, which would soon become a giant. It was bound to grow and spread until it extended from one ocean to the other. It had first originated in Washington—not in the Western States as generally supposed. The gentlemen of the Board of Agriculture has conceived the idea of an association for the improvement of farmers and the advancement of their interests, both socially and intellectually. The Grange is of the greatest importance to the country. Its object, instead of the purchasing of groceries, teas, &c. is to enable the farmer how to intelligently cultivate his farm so that he may be the better able to raise a finer crop. This is a better work than the mere purchasing of a few articles of consumption. (Applause.) If we can grow twenty bushels to the acre now where but ten grew before; or if we can make two blades of grass now grow where only one grew before, then we are public benefactors. Let it then be our object to attain this. The institution was first started in Washington in 1865-6. From there it spread to New York, Chicago, Minnesota, and from one State to another, until it had now become a most powerful institution. It was also gaining the esteem of the people. Some four years ago the Grange was established in the Province of Quebec. In 1874 a few were organized in Ontario. In June of that year a Dominion Grange was organized in the city of London, when he had the honor to be elected Secretary. Each succeeding year it has rapidly increased, until to-day they had 673 subordinate Granges, with

THE OBJECT OF THE GRANGE

A MEMBERSHIP OF 25,000.

These are composed of the bone and sinew of the country, banded together for the interests of the farmers of the Dominion. They now had Granges in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia. Before long he hoped that every province, every county and every township would have its Grange, and that every farmer would be a Granger. (Applause.) It is the duty of every farmer to take hold of it. Many present who saw anything wrong in the principles of the Association let them come forward and help to remodel it. Let them help to roll the stone to success, instead of sitting down on it and preventing its rolling. He asked every farmer to enroll his name and promised them they would never be ashamed of being a Granger. Those who now belonged were happy and felt proud that they were Grangers. There are, perhaps those in town who think we wish to take the bread out of their mouths and keep it for ourselves. There was no such intention whatever. This opposition was only imaginary and would soon die away. He knew of merchants and manufacturers who were once opposed to them that now wished them "God speed." The farmer needed the merchant and the manufacturer, and they also needed some of the middlemen, but not all. Those who had lost their occupation could easily get work upon the farm. He then drew attention to the

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES

of the Order, which is "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things charity. Co-operation or unity of action could be fully appreciated by those old settlers who well knew the benefits of unity in clearing up their farms; how they had their logging bees, and how they assisted one another. Unity of action was now just as necessary, although in other forms, "In non-essentials, liberty." By this they interfered with no man's rights—either political or religious. "In all things charity." They desired to developee a higher state of manhood and womanhood among themselves and to extend charity to all. He would endeavor to impress upon them the necessity of making their homes. They had every facility for making their homes beautiful. But with some he was sorry to say they appeared to care for nothing more than to grub out an existence. This was wrong. Farmers, your sons and daughters must have associations. If they do not get them at home they will look for them at the corner grocery or somewhere else. Give them and we will hear less of the complaints against the monotony of farm life. There would be fewer leaving home to engage in other occupations. He had some years ago thought he would try something different from farming, and had engaged in school teaching, and afterwards in mercantile pursuits, thinking he could dress better, live easier and be more respected, but he had given both up and had risen from the estate of a merchant to that of a farmer. He was not ashamed of being a farmer. for farmers were nature's noblemen. Another duty of the farmer was "to diversify his crops and crop no more than he could cultivate." There was not enough attention given to this subject by farmers generally. They do not think whether their lands are suited for a certain crops or not, but if told by a neighbour that such a crop was satisfactory they would immediately go home and sow the same. We want to know what to apply to certain soil, and how to systemize our crops. This depends upon intelligence. We have some of as intelligent men amongst us as any other profession but in very many cases this intelligence is allowed to lie in a dormant state. We want to bring this out. To

GOOD ASSOCIATIONS AT HOME

CULTIVATE INTELLIGENCE

by mutual intercourse and association. This was one grand object of the Grange; to break up this feeling of anti-progressiveness, and to place the farmer on a level with members of other professions. An American writer has said that in the United States there are 6,000,000 farmers and 41,000 lawyers. Yet 1,000 of the lawyers had more influence than the 6,000,000 farmers. This applied equally true to Canada. Why is it they have this influence? Because they have educated and cultivated themselves, and can bring their views properly before the country. He instanced the benefits from association, by referring to the surplus money set aside

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 13, 1878

SOME OF THE BEAUTIES OF PROTECTION.

The Tory journal of this town last week undertook to criticise Mr. Bertram's speech at Lindsay, and first of all attempted the pedantic by a reference to the [illegible] of the question of Free Trade and Protection," which evidences a belief that he should have said some "phases". Mr. Bertram correctly stated that he had been requested to deal with some phase of the question, and he did so, choosing one that had not been dealt with by the speakers that preceded him. It will be quite evident to those who read his speech that Mr. Bertram knew what he was talking about, which those who read the Review's criticism, will as plainly see that the writer of it did not have that necessary knowledge. Anyway it ill becomes one who talks of "the man whose tastes leads him," &c., to play the pedant.

The Review admits that a duty on coal by itself or on wheat by itself would be an injustice to the country, though it is not very long since the same paper advocated a duty on coal. It now would have its readers believe that it never meant to propose protection to certain commodities, and withold it from others. That would be a manifest injustice! So much the Review appears to have learned. To avoid doing an injustice therefore it would protect everything. But if everything and everybody be protected against everything and everybody else, where is the gain to any? It cannot possibly be to the advantage of any one class of persons that they should be protected in their particular line if the protection of all other lines they have to purchase acts against them. Granted that a protective duty on boots and shoes enables their manufacturer to make a larger profit on his goods; where is the advantage if he has to contribute to the like profits on hundreds of other things he buys? He only gains on the one article, while he loses on the many. It is easy to see where such protection will land him.

But this same advocate of an "omnibus" policy of protection also goes in for a "fair play" tariff so far as trade with the United States is concerned. How the two propositions of retaliation and justice are to be reconciled it is hard indeed to make out. Either we must adopt the same tariff rates as our American neighbors levy, or we must not. If we do, there will come the manifest injustice of heavy duties on some commodities and lighter ones, or none at all, on others, and if we equalize the duties on all things, we must abandon the "fair play" phase of the Protectionist's plan.

The utter meanness of the Review's insinuation in connection with the duty on woollens under the present revenue tariff is so utterly despicable as to recoil, not only in its logic, but also in the feeling of the decent Conservatives of Peterborough, on the person who indulges in it; and to some extent it must prove a weakness to the party for which the paper presumes to speak. Is the present duty on woolen goods too high? How comes it then that but a week before the same paper declared the Auburn Mills to be reined through the present tariff! Or is this duty too low? To what point then would the discontented growler have it raised? There is neither consistency nor common sense in the poor contention, and it certainly looks contrary.

A quotation is given from Mr. Bertram's speech, to be followed by the query "what does this mean". We can only remark that though Mr. Bertram is plainly responsible for what he said at Lindsay, he is not responsible for the look of brains about the Review office. He can speak intelligibly, but he cannot force incompetents to understand his words. Yet, this fellow, who acknowledges his inability to understand Mr. Bertram, has the cool audacity to attempt a criticism of that gentleman's remarks.

Mr. Bertram's declaration of the impossibility of protecting the artizan population is not met at all; but we are told "the supporters of National policy claim that by increasing the population of the country they would increase the demand for the production of these manufactures." There is something very laughable in this view of the "national policy." How on earth is a tariff on everything or retaliation towards the United States to increase the population? Increasing the price of necessaries certainly will not encourage marriages, nor will the continual harping of Protectionists on the pretended ruination of the country induce immigration. Thus the very men who would increase the population stand directly in the way of the only legitimate means of doing it. It is not so much a way to better the artizan's position that the Opposition wants as a stirring up of discontent. The Review surely forgets its Conservatism when it tells the handicraftsman that "no change can make them worse—it may make them better." This is the secret of Tory Protectionism in Canada. "Change!" Any change whereby the sinners of 1872 may get back to power! The hard times that have afflicted Canada less than other countries, gave the idea of stirring up popular discontent and using it against the Government. Thus they are told "no change can make them worse—it may make them better." But is this really so? Would a change to the communism and privation prevalent in the protected United States be for the better? In what country on the face of the earth are workingmen better off to-day than in Canada? And would not a change to the evil-days and the evil Government of Pacific Scandal times be for the worse? Or what change soever in the tariff would benefit the artizan class? None, will be the ready answer of the thoughtful men composing that class, who know full well that no tariff however framed can protect their labour, the one thing they have to sell but that Protection means a discrimination against them in all things they have to buy.

As for the farming interest, it too must lose in its limited commodities for sale, and its comparatively unlimited purchases. Mr. Bertram might well declare that the farmer should be allowed to mind their own business; and the same remark can well be applied to men engaged in other pursuits. Indeed, the cause of the failures of manufacturers in Canada can be generally traced to their stepping aside from their regular business, and dabbling in some speculation, in lands, stocks, or other matters they know little or nothing about. In the same way when the farmer divides his attention by becoming interested in merchantile or other pursuits, he is apt to come out with a loss of everything but a dearly-bought experience. How many rich agriculturalists, for instance, have been utterly ruined through a yielding to the importunities of sons or others, and putting their money into a store, instead of expending it in the extension or improvement of their lands? By all means, therefore, Mr. Protectionist, let the farmer alone. Let him mind his own business, as he knows how; and cease prating to him about a policy that can do him no good, because his riches depend solely on his lands and his labour, which no tariff can protect. He only desires to sell in the dearest market and buy in the cheapest; not to be compelled to buy or sell in any restricted sense, either of price or territory. It would be a manifest injustice to compel him to buy a plough from any particular man, merely because he was a neighbour, when he could get a more suitable and cheaper article from someone else. Indeed he would be a fool not to avail himself of the advantage of quality and price, even if he did employ an agent or middleman to get for him what he wanted at a suitable figure. And if these very elements of distance and an agents commission be not protection enough for the neighbouring plough maker, there's something wrong, and not with the farmer either. It would also be very unjust to restrict the farmer's market for his produce, by shutting down on trade with other countries. The narrowed market would soon be over-supplied, and the ill-used agriculturalist would be forced to take less and less for his grain, animals, &c., till he saw the utter uselessness of raising more than a limited quantity. Both as a consumer and producer would injustice be done to the farmer by a policy of Protection, which indeed can do no good to any one for very long, though it may enable strong manufacturers to grab a considerable sum are over-production lowers prices.

SETTLEMENT OF CANADIAN TERRITORY.

In its wide and wealth promising domain the Dominion possesses a sure proof of future prosperity. The greatest question therefore for the consideration of Canadians is the settlement of their vast territory with an industrious population. The natural increase of the people will not do; therefore we must look to immigration. The indiscriminate bringing in of any and all sorts of people must also be guarded against, so far at least as legislative encouragement goes. Herein has lain the chief fault of all our immigration agencies, that they have induced the influx of persons not calculated to do good for themselves or the country. The old system of granting so much a head to immigrants led enterprising men of less scrupulousness than genius to become promoters of immigration by numbers, totally disregarding the quality. This has pretty well been stopped of late years by a more careful supervision of immigration matters both by the Dominion and the Provinces; and now the agents in Europe have their instructions to send only such immigrants as are needed, or such as may be depended upon to take care of themselves. There has therefore been, if not so great, a healthier immigration to our shores, and now that it shows renewed signs of increase it is to be hoped that it will include more of those whose intelligent enterprise alone induces them, to move to better their condition. The independent immigrant who has made up his mind for himself, determined to do his best in a new home, is a king alongside the assisted immigrant, who only listens to the persuasions and promises of others, and often in the end is paid for more than he is worth by the country receiving him, instead of being paid to leave by the country from which he departs. These are the people we want, whether they come from Britain, from other European countries, or elsewhere, So that they be honest, industrious and decent they are welcome we care not where they come from, or what their colour. Indeed some of our most industrious and frugal citizens are coloured folks, who in spite of the disadvantages of ancestry are becoming valuable citizens of the country that gave freedom to their fathers, when that freedom could be prized by comparison with hopeless bondage in the adjacent land from which they had fled at the risk of their lives. It would be well both for the coloured people of the Southern States and for Canada, if they would but see the advantage of leaving that land in which they have suffered so much, and in which they cannot for years hope to attain a position of equality, and coming to settle on the broad and fertile plains of Canada, where by industry they can raise themselves and their children to a condition they can never attain at the South.

Immigration to Canada of—the healthy and permanent sort—in 1877, shows an increase of more than 5½ per cent, over the former year, while a decrease of over 18¼ per cent is reported in the whole immigration to the United States. Of the 27,082 settlers who came to Canada last year, no less than 11,759 are reported as entering by the frontier, thus showing that the tide is setting from the United States, instead of the opposite ebb that used to raise complaints. Nor is all this due to the repatriation of the French Canadians who had gone in times of Protectionist inflation to the New England States; but who were starved out after the natural consequences of Protection began to assert themselves. The bringing back of these people, and the introduction of the Icelandic and Mennonite colonies were special efforts to fill Canada's territory with a thrifty population; and it is satisfactory to know that these schemes have been so eminently successful.

A special feature in the settlement of Canadian lands is the late migration from the older settled portions of the Dominion to Manitoba and the North West Territory. In that region for the twelve months ending 31st October 1877 there had been entered for actual settlement 225,710 acres, the entries numbering 1,426, and there were besides 837 entries through sales, military bounty &c., to the extent of 175,713 acres, giving a total of 400,423 acres—one-fourth more than the quantity entered in any two previous years combined. Nor has this increase been ephemeral; for though there went into Manitoba in 1877 about 7000 immigrants, of late the rate influx has been ten times that much, being reckoned at 200 per day. Probably the majority are Canadians obeying the inspiration to "go west," but many are from the United States, and the movement has now become so broad as to draw into its increasing current a number from Europe, who will probably prove the forerunners of further accessions from over the ocean to the ranks of Canadian prairie pioneers.

The vast number reported as going into Manitoba do not, of course stay in that comparatively diminutive Province. Hundreds push their way still westward, to locate lands in the fertile valley of the Saskatchewan, or spread themselves along the line of the future transcontinental railway. And they are the men who are doing the first solid work towards the construction of that great highway, though they may never move a hand in the actual building of the road. On them depends the production of food supplies necessary for the armies of workmen to be engaged in preparing the line, grading, bridge building and track laying. The chief drawback to the rapid construction of the Pacific Railway is the difficulty and cost of getting supplies into the interior; and the chief difficulty of settlement in the need of communication with outside world. The settlement of the country and the construction of the road must therefore be naturally dependent on each other; and for the present both, in the interior, must rely on other available modes of communication, however inferior they must in the meantime be.

OUR SCHOOLS.

On reading the Report of High School Inspector Buchan, respecting the state of the Peterborough Schools, we felt like congratulating the teachers and citizens. In the face of the very determined efforts of years to injure the school at any cost, this report comes to relieve the minds of those who have been engaged in calumniating the work done. And it must be satisfactory to Principal Jeffers to find the Inspector complimenting the schools under his charge. The extract from his report refers to Accommodation, Equipment, Organization and Remarks.

The report says accommodation is good.

Equipment,—(a.) The material Equipment is good. (b.) The staff is sufficient and very good.

Under Organization the Report says: A Union, and head master supervises the public schools. On account of the special qualifications which he possesses for this kind of work, the present arrangement works admirably. No district: residents pay a fee of 50 cents a month, non-residents $1 per month. The county of Peterborough, though very largely benefitted by this school pays nothing towards its support.

Remarks: This school is in a very satisfactory condition.

Mr. Buchan also visited some of the higher divisions of the public school and expressed himself highly pleased with the method of teaching pursued, and the answering of the pupils. Their clear and ready methods of solution, and analysis he praised much. We have, therefore, the best authority for stating that both our public schools and Collegiate Institute are in a very satisfactory condition. For some time attempts have been made to introduce disorder into them, by creating two governing powers, and of necessity, then a separation of the schools. This report must satisfy all that a separation would be unwise because uncalled for. The examinations for promotion will come off in July and will afford another proof of the progress of the school, by severe test work. The questions are prepared in Toronto by the Central Examining Board, and are alike in all the schools in the province. Peterboro pupils for years, have been successful in these examinations although submitted always to the Central Board for approval or disapproval; as proof of this, not one pupil passed by the local examiners have ever been rejected by the Central Board at Toronto. Any change in the management must necessarily entail increased cost in carrying the change into effect. It is not too much to say that any change whatever, would cause an additional outlay of $1,000 a year, an amount for which very little concomitant advantages might be expected. Indeed it is generally believed that no advantage but evil would follow the separation. In Port Hope we learn that there is a strong desire to reunite again, if it were possible, but they cannot undo the evil, It is true that in some places it is thought that union retards the progress of the school work, but this may arise from the circumstances in which such Boards are placed, and which do not exist in Peterboro.

It is with feelings of pride, indeed, that we copy the report of Inspector Buchan, because our school has attained to such a satisfactory condition, and further because it has attained to that state under a management that has been advocated in the EXAMINER in the face of a great deal of opposition, that we often felt was called into existence for the most selfish object, self interest. And we congratulate Principal Jeffers and his staff of teachers on the efficiency and standing of the schools under their charge, efficiency that has been declared by no partizan, or prejudiced person, to please or court favor.

THE Irish Canadian denounces the Toronto Mail for applying opprobrious epithets to Mr. H. Macmahon, Q. C.

A contemporary alludes to the Alberton Star, published at Fort Frances, Keewaytin, as "the worst specimen of a newspaper we have ever seen." Surely he has never seen the Millbrook Messenger.

Is it not now in order for the Tory papers to exclaim that the Ministry is afraid to go to the country, now that the rumours of dissolution are subsiding? This Tory game of bluff has a goodly number of phases.

YOUNG'S POINT LOCKS.—The Lindsay Post of last week says:

From a Peterborough County Tory paper we learn that the repairs on these locks were far enough advanced on the 18th inst., to allow boats to pass through. The Review in its attack on Mr. Walters gave its readers to understand that navigation would be stopped for the greater part of the summer. This shows how much dependence can be placed in the statements of the ordinary Tory journal.

TORIES who express delight at the candidature of Mr. Robert Hay in Centre Toronto, against Mr. John Macdonald, and who are also wont to shout "Neebing Hotel" at Reform Speakers, will perhaps be pleased to learn that Mr. Robert Hay was one of the stockholders in the Neebing Hotel Company.

Two justices of the peace in York county have decided that the Dunkin Act is unconstitutional, and the whiskey shops have opened out again. J. P.'s are sometimes thought to be persons of little consequence, but it is evident that this is an unjust estimate of their importance, if they are to be allowed to decide what Acts of Parliament are constitutional. It might perhaps be better to dispense with Parliament altogether and let the J. P.'s look after things.

DOES NOT NEED PROTECTION.—Mr. F. W. Glen, proprietor of the famous Joseph Hall manufacturing works at Oshawa, is in the field and is making it hot for the Hon. T. N. Gibbs. In his speech accepting the nomination for South Ontario, Mr. Glen stated that as a manufacturer he was prepared in this contest to defend the policy of the present Government, as being wise, equitable and just—towards those who are engaged in manufacturing. Such testimony as this is worth more than all the windy assertions of the Tory press and leader on the beauties of protection.

THE Brewers of the United States, in session at Baltimore, state that business is prosperous, the sales of last year only showing a falling off of one per cent. over the most prosperous year the trade has ever known. The President of the Association in his address says: "It remains as much as ever a matter of regret that the Temperance party of this country persists in classing distilled and fermented drinks as equally dangerous to the welfare of society, and to oppose their manufacture, sale and consumption with the same unyielding bitterness."

CANADA'S participation in the present Paris Exhibition, though not so great as it might and should be, will create new commercial connections for our countrymen by discovering to them and to others means whereby they can mutually benefit by interchange of products. In a letter from the Right Hon. Dr. Lyon Playfair, one of the British Representatives at the Paris Exhibition, to Hon. Mr. Mackenzie occurs this sentence:—

"Your exhibition will do much honor to the Dominion, and will, I have no doubt, contribute to its material prosperity."

In proof of this opinion we learn that already have some of the exhibits been selected for purchase, and suggestions have been made for further orders arising out of an inspection of articles displayed.

THE QUEBEC CRISIS.

The absence of Mr. Price, the member for Chicoutimi, from the division on Mr. Molleur's amendment last night left the Joly Government in a minority of one. The vote ended exactly as anticipated, in the Government having a minority of one. Nothing else could be expected from the platform thoughtlessly adopted at the elections by half a dozen or so independent men upon the constitutional question in anticipation of the popular verdict being entirely different from what it really was, and who are prepared, according to their own utterances, to extend a fair and honest support to the Joly Administration. Mr. Price, who was promised to support the policy of the Government, throughout steadily maintained his determination not to vote at all upon the amendment in question. Mr. Watts put the situation before the House in an able and exhaustive manner, and conclusively proved that it was the duty of the House to extend the Government a fair support until its measures could be judged upon their merits, and the duty of the Government to afford this opportunity to the House of extending to them a fair support. In response to this appeal, and in reply to Mr. Chapleau, Mr. Joly stated that he did not intend to resign in consequence of the late adverse vote, which he considered was entirely upon a theoretical question. He believed that he would be wanting in honour if he failed to introduce and place before the House and the country for judgment the measures which the Government had resolved upon. It is now evident that Mr. Joly has the support of the majority of the House in his determination not to resign until judged by the measures which the Province desires to have submitted to the House.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The news from Europe with reference to the Eastern question is meagre and unimportant, consisting merely of the announcement of the departure of the several plenipotentiaries for Berlin, and a prediction that the only points likely to cause any difficulty are the war indemnity and the annexation of Antivari to Montenegro. Austria is believed to be secretly arming, and a strong feeling has grown up in Germany against the pretensions of Roumania on the subject of the retrocession of Bessarabia.

On Thursday afternoon Congress will meet for the first time, and after the transaction of the necessary formalities, such as the verification of the several Powers of the plenipotentiaries and the appointment of officials, the proceedings will be opened by Prince Bismarck as President, by submitting his memorandum of points, or resume of subjects, to be treated directly by the Plenipotentiaries, each of whom will receive a copy of this document. The business of the first sitting will be confined to a settlement of the question whether or not Congress shall invite Greece to participate in its transactions. A State banquet at the castle will be given to the Plenipotentiaries and their suites on Thursday or Friday evening. It is highly improbable that Roumania or Servia will be accorded direct access to Congress, either with full or consultative powers. The original anticipation that Congress would complete its labours in a fortnight is thought likely to be realized. Commissioners will then be sent to Turkey to settle details. The result of the Congress it is anticipated here will not be unfavorable to Russia. She will probably get a portion of Bessarabia and Armenia, the latter including Kars and Ardahan certainly and perhaps also Batoum, but not Bayazid. Wilhelm Strasse is in a great stir of anticipation. Newspaper correspondents from all parts of the world are already at Berlin.

JULY THE TWELFTH.

Intentions of the Montreal Orangemen—The Law to be Strictly Respected—No Weapons and no Party Tunes.

MONTREAL, June 11.—The County and District Masters of the Orange lodges, in defining the position in a letter say, believing that the streets are open to any body of men conducting themselves peaceably and without offence, they mean to proceed to public worship in a body on that day, but they intend, first, to comply strictly with the law embodied in the Blake Act, and will be unarmed; second, while on the streets, they will play no party tunes that can give any annoyance to others, whether it be reasonable or unreasonable for annoyance to be experienced at such demonstrations. They will thus trust themselves without means of personal defence to the protection, which it is the duty of the civic and other authorities to afford to all persons, without distinction, until it becomes the duty of these authorities to interfere with them, which in that case must be done in virtue of and in accordance with the law, and by the hands of legal officials. As they propose to do nothing which will make such interference necessary, they expect the protection which is due to all peaceable persons. This is about the gist of the letter, and the Evening Post, a new Catholic daily paper, edited by Captain Kirwan, calls the proposition a compromise, and closes an editorial on the subject as follows:—

"All good citizens should support the authorities in their efforts to enforce the Blake Act, and then if there is a disturbance on the 12th, it will not do very much harm if the question is fought out in true Irish fashion with the traditional shillelagh and we may be all the best of friends for it too."

Important Canadian Industry.

The Maritime Journal, of Halifax, says:—"We found last week on a flying visit to the Canada Steel Company's Works everything there is a highly flourishing and encouraging condition, every ton of pig iron on its pig-bank is sold, and the rolling mill full of orders for their excellent merchant bar iron; they have lately completed a large contract with the Grand Trunk Railway. The quality of their iron holds fully its own being equal to Lowmoor, which is recognized as the best brand in the world. They employ now over 500 men, and have purchased the Molson Rolling Mill of Montreal, of which they are now erecting the plant." It may be added that Mr. Myles of the Snowdon mines is about erecting works in Port Hope for turning out pig iron, and Mr. Glen is advocating the establishment of similar works in Whitby. Both are confident that these works can be made to pay if they are not National Policied, and Mr. Myles has openly announced that the proposed National Policy tax on coal would put a stop at once to his iron-smelting project. What enterprising men of this kind most want is that their proposed industries shall not be harrassed and hampered by Tory protectionism.

SOUTH DOURO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

THE CROPS.—From all parts of the Township the most satisfactory reports concerning the fruit and field crops are heard. This is a highly pleasing prospect. May nothing occur to mar it.

TALL RYE.—Mr. Dennis O'Brien has a large field of Rye that will compare favourably with any grown in the county for height and prospect of the yield. It measures 6 feet 7in.

Would you be good enough to inform your many readers in Douro, when the Voter's List court will be held?

[It is advertised to be held at the Town Hall, Douro, on Thursday the 20th of June, at 11o'clock a.m. ED. EX.]

LINDSAY.

PRESENTATION OF AN ADDRESS.—On Friday evening of last week a large number of the members of Lindsay Lodge of Oddfellows and their friends, met at a lawn party at the residence of Mr. D. C. Trew. During the course of the evening an address was presented to Prof. C. Fanny, to which Mr. Fanny made a feeling reply, in which he expressed his appreciation of the kind treatment he had received during his stay in Lindsay,

THE 45TH BATT. BAND.—The question of making an appropriation of $100 to the 45th Batt. Band, to meet the Government grant, for the purpose of engaging a leader was before the Council last Monday evening but after a short discussion was dropped without a division.

THE MASONIC EXCURSION to Buffalo on the 24th inst., promises to be all that the promoters could wish. Every detail is being carefully attended to.

Detective Smith is in town, looking after the interests of the Medical, Dental and Pharmacy Colleges of Ontario. Unqualified practitioners had better beware.

FAREWELL SUPPER.—The members of the Lindsay Reform Club to the number of about thirty, met around the festive board at the Osborne House, Wednesday evening, the occasion being a formal farewell to two members. Messrs. J. J. Anderson and W. McDougall who are leaving town for Belleville and Manitoba respectively.

COBOURG.

BURGLARY AND VIOLENCE.—Never before we think in the history of Cobourg has there been such a state of disquietude and alarm, and so many bold and savage attempts at robbery, burglary, arson, violence to the person, and loss of life as has existed in our unusually quiet town for almost two months. The Mayor and Council have offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension of the offenders—we should have been pleased if they had offered $200; in fact the state of matters had become so bad that it was feared the result would be the establishment of a vigilance committee. If the present constabulary of the town is insufficient then we suppose talent may be imported. We must have safety and an assurance of security for life and property, no matter what it costs. We have not heard that the Coroner's inquest on the late fire is closed, but we have heard that pretty strong evidence has been obtained pointing to one at least, and we do most fervently hope that no considerations whatever will prevent the following up of the guilty party or parties with all the strictness and equity which our legal tribunals supply.—Sentinel.

FIRE.—Shortly before six last Friday morning Thomas Bethel's grocery and liquor store was burned. All the stock was saved but badly damaged by water.

SCALDED.—About noon on Saturday half a dozen young men were loafing around the brewing-room of McKenzie's brewery and one of them, James Shearer, aged 23, fell in a vat containing boiling beer, and was very badly scalded. The skin peeled off in large pieces when his clothes were taken off, and he now lies in a very precarious condition.

Sixteen gentlemen presented themselves at the Chapter House, London, on Tuesday morning for examination as candidates for the holy orders. Examination will be held by the Bishop of Huron on Tuesday next.

FENELON FALLS.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday last Mr. Jno. KNOX, of Varulam, fell from the steps of his barn, and his left wrist was not only put out of joint but the bones so badly broken that permanent stiffness is to be feared. Dr Allen was sent for and gave the necessary assistance.

WANTON OUTRAGE.—During the night of Saturday last several acts of wanton outrage were perpetrated by some parties who, armed with a pot of coarse red paint left evident marks of their displeasure upon the premises of persons who it is to be presumed had offended them. Mr. Dewart's shutters were profusely daubed with paint, and grossly indecent words were roughly inscribed upon then. A visit was aid to Mr. Maynard, and his windows were painted over to such an extent that it was a work of considerable time to cleanse them. Mr. Marshall, also had streaks and spots of red all over the lower parts of the new and freshly painted verandah in front of his house, and had the sign from his place of business, took to the lake shore, and broken all to pieces. A reward of $25 is offered for such evidence as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders.

GONE.—The reverend gentleman somewhat pointedly alluded to in last week's Gazette left the Falls on Saturday night, having been smuggled out of the village in disguise.

CHURCH MEETINGS.—On Monday last a meeting of Baptist ministers and deacons was held in the church of that denomination in this village, to take into consideration the conduct of the late pastor, and the proceedings, can be compressed within the limits of a very few words. Rev. D. Mulhern, of Peterboro', acted as chairman, and Rev. W. K. Anderson, of Lindsay, clerk. The charge against the Rev. K. D. McDiarmid was preferred and the evidence heard, and after a brief consultation it was unanimously resolved that the accused was guilty, and "under circumstances which greatly aggravated the crime," that the Church, acted rightly in withdrawing from him the right hand of christian fellowship, and that they, as a council, formally did the same. —Gazette.

DUMMER.

COURT OF REVISION met at the old town hall, on June 1st 1878. All the members present who took the Statutory oath. The following changes were made in the roll. Albert Wigmore, placed on the roll for East half lot 7 in 10th con., and said lot struck off to Samuel Wigmore. East half lots 12 and 13 in 12th con. reduced $250 to N. B. Gould. South West quarter lot 1 con. 4 reduced $200 to Samuel Spence West half lot 28 con. 4 reduced $80 to George Matthews. James Cameron placed on Resident Roll for South West quarter lot 11 con 8. Thomas Ritchie's real property reduced $150 and $190 of personal property struck off. Ira Stevens placed on Resident Roll for East half lot 16 con. 9. Roll confirmed on the appeal of Richard and Thomas Keating on personal property. William Christie's real property reduced $100. West half of lot 30 in 8 con. was struck off the Resident Roll to Wm. H. Wilson and placed on N. R. Roll. West half of lot 30 in 10th con. was struck off the Resident Roll to Winfield Leison and put on N. R. Roll. James McCabe was assessed jointly with Luke Burns. 12 acres of part of lot 1 in 12th con. was struck off to James Logan and placed to his son Patrick Logan. Moved by Mr. Crowe, seconded by Mr. Wigmore,—That the Roll as now revised be the Revised Assessment Roll for Dummer for 1878, and that the clerk certify the same.—Carried. Court of Revision adjourned.

COUNCIL.—Minutes of last meeting read and signed. On motion Egbert Wilkinson was allowed to commute his statute labor for three years. Mr. Robert Wigmore made application for a change of road to concession line opposite lots 1 and 2 in 11th con. On motion the application was laid over for petition from the ratepayers of the locality to be presented asking for said change. Mr. Carveth applied for compensation for a certain road formerly sold to Council by the then owner John Payne off the West half lot 24 con. 2. On motion of Mr. Kelly seconded by Mr. Wigmore,—That T. G. Choate, John Kidd, and David Rose Esquires, were appointed a commission to take evidence on oath and settle the matter, and report at next meeting of council. On motion the Reeve was appointed to attend the court on behalf of the township in the suit of Wason vs. the Municipality. Mr. Kidd's offer to repair town hall fence for $1 was accepted. Orders granted; John Kidd, law expense of Wilson vs. Clysdale, $2.70; John Hunter, as Assessor, $45; Hugh Spence, as Collector $45; Robert Lynn, for fixing Treasurer's desk $3.50; Wilson & Davis, Stationery &c., $2.75; Robert Payne, dog tax refunded $1. By-Laws passed; One to appoint certain Township officers. One to enable the Trustees of S. S. No. 11, and S. S. No. 3 to borrow money. And one to enable the Reeve and Treasurer to borrow money. Council adjourned to 30th August next.—COM.

MR. D. YEOMAN'S in a letter to the Toronto Tribune respecting the manifesto recently issued by a number of Catholics in North Wellington, says:—"In early days we had some experience in the harmonious efforts put forth by Catholic and Protestant Reformers under the political direction of the Hon. R. Baldwin. We afterwards felt deeply the severance of that harmony, and have ever since striven to establish a more liberal feeling among this important branch of the electorate. In 1867 we had the honour of nominating the Hon. M. H. Foley, to represent North Wellington in the Commons, and, later, E. J. O'Callaghan for the Legislature, both of whom did much towards uniting the feeling of Reformers, and both of whom, we are justified in supposing, would have been elected, had it not been for the vote of the Catholic Conservatives. Now, Mr. Editor, what I wish to say is that the Catholic meeting which you report in your last number appears to have been inspired by the same influence that 'prevented us from electing these men for North Wellington, and that it is very unfair to blame Protestant Reformers for a want of liberality towards our Catholic friends."

THE INK with which the report of the Immigration Committee was written was hardly dry when the Tory organs commenced quoting the stale falsehoods coined by the Macpherson and authoritatively negatived by the Committee. The London Free Press had the hardihood to allege that in 1876-7 $209,000 were spent in bringing 7,743 immigrants to the country, or $27 per head, in the face of Mr. Trow's report, which gave the expenditure at $183,672—reduced by refunds, &c., to $110,679—and the number of immigrants 27,082, $4.06 per head! The public can judge whom to believe—the report of a Parliamentary Committee, or the frothy utterances of Tory writers and orators rendered desperate by the certain prospect of a prolonged banishment in the cold shades.

FOR the benefit of the wiseacres who would prescribe protection as a panacea for hard times, and the only means of making work for the unemployed, a contemporary quotes an old story, told of a Scotch fisherman and his daughter, which nicely illustrates the effect protection would have, if carried to its ultimate results: "Eh! father," said the daughter, "I wish a' the folk in the world were dead, and then we would get a' the fish!" "Aye! aye! lassie," said the father, "but who would buy them?"

Fire! Fire!

In consequence of the late fire,

Messrs. McKee & Davidson

will be found in the store known as the Montreal House, almost immediately opposite their old stand where the business will be carried on as heretofore.

BAD TIMES.

People say that times must be very bad, or else S. WHITE must get his goods from people that want money very badly, as he is selling them for 25 cents per pair, as good as some stores are selling at 40 cents.

GOOD TIMES.

The present times must be pretty good, as S. WHITE'S store is more crowded than usual, which shows that there is a large quantity of ready money circulating through the Town.

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 13, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

Social Hop.—The L. C. B. U. Societies of this town will hold their usual social hop in the Opera House, on the evening of Dominion Day.

The New Station.—We are informed by the President of the Midland Railway that the work on the new station is about completed and will be opened in a few days.

Promenade Concert.—A promenade concert and ball under the auspices of the Firemans' Band was held on Wednesday evening of last week, both being well patronized.

New Delivery Waggon.—Mr. T. Laplante has this week turned out a new delivery waggon for the enterprising firm of Rush, Elliott & Morrow, who are doing an extensive trade.

Shooting This Year.—The hotel keepers evidently found that by "holding the fort" did not pay, as the hotels and yards were all open again to the public on Thursday afternoon last.

The Dunkin Cases.—The report of the adjournment case of Cox vs. Huffman, will be found on our fourth page. A further hearing of the case will take place on Monday morning next.

Dyspepsia.—Those suffering from this terrible malady can be cured by a simple remedy within reach of all. Permanent relief afforded when other remedies have failed. F. LANE & Co., druggists.

Liquor Law in Ashburnham.—Three of the liquor dealers in Ashburnham have been summoned to attend a Magistrate's Court on Monday next, to answer to charges of violation of the liquor law.

Boating Club.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Peterborough Boating Club held last Monday evening, the Rev. V. Clementi was elected President, and Mr. George M. Roger, Secretary.

Drowned.—We are informed that on Monday morning a boy named Michael Kinneely, son of the late D. Kinneely, was drowned while bathing in the pond in the brick yard near Mr. Joseph Redmond's, Otonabee.

Bible Class Pic-Nic.—On Friday afternoon last the Bible Class of the George Street Methodist Sabbath School held a pic-nic at Crawford's grove. The pleasure of day was somewhat dampened by heavy showers during the afternoon.

Base Ball.—A match of base ball between the "Dauntless" club of Port Hope and the "Pine Groves" of Peterborough will take place this afternoon in the cricket ground, Ashburnham, game to commence at 3 o'clock p.m. sharp. Admission 10 cents, ladies free.

Pic-Nic to Idyl Wild.—On Thursday last a party of about forty chartered the steam yacht Fairy, built this summer by Mr. Poulson of Cobourg, and proceeded to the favorite pic-nic grounds at Idyl Wild, where they spent a very pleasant day, arriving home early in the evening.

Y. M. L. C. A.—A meeting was called on Tuesday evening last in the Conservative rooms for the purpose of forming a Young Mens' Liberal Conservative Association for the town. Those present were addressed by Mr. Scott and others. After which a membership roll was opened and about thirty signatures obtained.

Father Stafford's Pic-Nic.—By advertisement in another column it will be seen that Father Stafford's Pic-Nic, which is being looked forward to with much interest, is announced to take place in Mrs. Hutton's Grove, Dominion Day. Games and other amusement with prizes in money will be provided.

Personal.—Dr. Miller, son of James Miller, Esq., of Otonabee, has just returned from Edinburgh, where he has been for some time, for the purpose of completing his education, and obtaining a thorough knowledge of the practical part of his profession. He is looking well, the bracing air of old Scotia seems to have agreed with him.

Ashburnham.—A Court will be held pursuant to the Voters' Lists Act, by His Honor the Judge of the County Court, in the Council Chamber, on the 22nd day of June, 1878, at 11 o'clock A.M., to hear and determine the several complaints of Errors and Omissions in the Voters' List of the village of Ashburnham for 1877. All persons having business at the Court are required to attend.

Police Court.—On Friday morning last Mrs. Mary Mahon was brought before the Police Magistrate on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame, and Hattie Lusk and Tilly Fulton with being inmates of same. After a number of witnesses had been examined, they were each fined $2 and cost $2.15, amounting in all to $12.15. They were given till ten o'clock next morning to leave town.

Cricket.—A match at cricket was played in Ashburnham on Saturday last between the second eleven of the "Foresters" of Ashburnham and the second eleven of the "Oak Leaf" of Peterborough, and resulted in favor of the "Foresters" by six wickets and one run. A match was also played on the same day between the first elevens and resulted also in a victory for the "Foresters" by eleven runs.

Lakefield.—We have this week received from Mr. G. J. Galvin a communication in answer to the attack made by the Lakefield News upon that gentlemen, but owing to a pressure of matter and the late receipt of the communication, we are compelled to hold it over till next week. We quite agree with Mr. Galvin when he says it is beneath the notice or that of any gentleman of respectability to pay any attention to the scurrilous and unscrupulous accusations of that journal.

Names on Streets.—During the past few weeks Mr. Tighe has been engaged in placing the names of the principal streets on the corners thereof. The number at first ordered by the Council having proved insufficient, one hundred more were ordered at the last meeting. This will be a great convenience not only to strangers but to many residents of the town who are unacquainted with the names of the streets. The work so far has been completed very satisfactorily and is creditable to Mr. Tighe.

Vacant Seats.—As will be seen by our report of the Council proceedings two seats in the Council have been declared vacant, namely, those of Messrs. Beamish and Miller. The former for number two Ward and the latter for number four Ward. In connection with this, a public meeting of the electors will be held on Friday the 14th of June, at noon, at the usual places in each ward. For the purpose of making nominations for the vacant seats. If more than the required number are nominated, a poll will be opened on Wednesday 19th instant.

For Dominion Day.—If the committee of arrangements for the Dominion Day celebration desire to immortalize themselves and furnish an unusually attractive feature for the day, let them get up a baby show. They are going to have one in Hamilton and another in Guelph, and we know no hesitation in saying that we can put both of them in the shade with our baby show. Those in the shade with our baby stock, judging from the specimens to be seen in the many perambulators we met in different parts of the town. By all means give us the baby show. Incorrigible bachelors need not attend the exhibition.

Mere Rumors.—We are pleased to learn that several of our Peterborough boys attending the Toronto University passed their examinations with honors. Mr. F. W. G. Hamblin, in the third year, stood fourth in Classics. In the second year, Mr. J. M. Lydgate took third position in Modern Languages and History; Mr. W. A. Stratton fourth place in Classics, and Mr. J. Henry eighth place in the same subject, besides good standing in other subjects. Mr. R. H. Myers, of Burleigh, passed a favorable examination in Metaphysics.

Beattie's Work.—The Campbellford Herald of a late issue contains the following:—

"Our citizens were startled on learning of the somewhat sudden death of Mrs. Elmsden, wife of the Rev. T. J. Elmsden, Methodist minister, which sad event took place at the parsonage, in this village, on Monday morning last. While in the vigor of life, bright as the blooming rose, death came to her home, and stole away one, the memory of whom will be long cherished by relatives and friends. Of the good virtues of the deceased lady we need not speak. She was well known in this village, and known only to be a christian,—a faithful advocate of the cause for which she so steadfastly labored. Her presence in the church will be greatly missed, where until a few days previous to her death she was a constant attendant. "Nipped in the bud," she closed her earthly career, at the age of 23 years. Mr. Elmsden, we are sure, has the sympathies, not only of his own congregation, but of those who know he has suffered the loss of a loving and valuable partner.

Methodist Conference.—The following is the first draft of the stations of the Methodist Ministers for the Peterborough district, of the Toronto Conference, which is now in session in Toronto. These are liable to be changed:

Peterborough.—Ephraim S. Harper, M. A., and F. H. Wallace, B. D.
Millbrook.—W. A. Scott.
Cavanville.—F. W. Wicker.
South Monaghan.—R. McElwee[illegible].
Keene.—R. McCormack.
Norwood.—Jas. Tyrer, B. A.
Lakefield.—Isaac Watkins, and W. J. West.
Hiawatha.—Wm. Andrews.
Bethany.—Wm. Scales, and D. N. McCamus.
Ballyduff.—Wm. C. Jelley.
Warsaw.—Wm. Buchanan.
Blairton.—Thos. Fox.
Chandos.—Thos. Mokes.
The Rev. Mr. Willoughby is down for Belleville, Ont., and Rev. Mr. Watson, for Spadina Avenue, Toronto.

Attempted Suicide.—Yesterday morning, David Wheeler, late proprietor of St. George's Hotel on Simcoe Street, attempted to committ suicide while laboring under delirium tremens. He tried to secure a knife for the purpose, but failing in this he used broken glass. He was not however, successful before being detected. The end of those who give themselves entirely away to intoxicating liquors is generally suicide, murder, the gallows, or the penitentiary. Just now while the temperance people are endeavoring to enforce the Dunkin Act, this should bring strong moral support to them. David Wheeler a few years ago was a civil, harmless and unoffending citizen. But strong drink gained the mastery of him, and to-day he is a wreck. Shall this lesson go unheeded, or disregarded, while professing christian men and women are taking sides with this enemy of their fellows of both sexes?

An Almost Fatal Accident.—We regret to learn that on Thursday last, Mr. John Miller, senr., of Otonabee, received severe injuries, caused by his team running away which it is feared may prove fatal. He was drawing gravel on the road when one of the end boards of the waggon fell forward, Mr. Miller stooped to lift it when some of the gravel falling around the horses feet, caused them to run away, the hind part of the waggon in some way became detached, letting Mr. Miller down, and in this way he was dragged some distance, when fortunately the team became entangled in a waggon before them and were caught. Mr. Miller received several contusions about the head, some of the bones of one leg are broken, and one or more of his ribs, and it is feared too that he may have received severe internal injuries in the chest. At latest accounts he was in a dangerous state.

Little Lake Cemetery.—A great deal has been done towards the beautification of this Cemetery, which owing to its fine natural situation, promises to become, one of the finest in the country. Flowers have been and are being planted in profusion, lots have been sodded, and other tendencies of care and good taste have been exhibited by the caretaker, and many handsome and costly monuments have been erected. The regulations are carefully enforced, and many people make their way thither on Sunday afternoon. If the south ward Councillors could manage to squeeze out of the Council a grant to continue the sidewalk along the lake to the Cemetery, they would receive the congratulations of the frequenters. The erection of the Mortuary Chapel has been commenced, and the stone work of the foundation is now completed, notwithstanding public opinion and a majority of the stockholders being to the contrary.

Convention.—A Sabbath School Convention under the auspices of the Presbytery of Peterborough is to assemble at Port Hope, on Wednesday July 3rd, and to continue in session two days. The following topics will be discussed:—

"What we are doing, and what we can do."
"The missing link in the S. S. system, and how to supply it."
"The claims of baptised children upon the church."
"The Sabbath school teachers motives and reward."

Model classes and teachers meeting will be conducted by prominent Sabbath school workers. The Rev. John McEwen, convenor of the assembly's Sabbath School committee, will address the convention on the subject of normal classes. Mr. D. Fotheringham, P. S. Inspector for North York, is also expected to be present, to give the convention the benefit of his large experience in teachers institutes and Sabbath School organization. All interested will be cordially welcomed whether delegates or not.

An Outside Opinion.—The Charlottetown, P. E. I., Patriot says:

"Mr. John Bertram, who represents West Peterborough, Ont., in the House of Commons, made a very sensible speech at the banquet given to Mr. Mackenzie the other day at Lindsay. He, of course, spoke upon the all-absorbing trade question. His utterances are such as we would expect from a gentleman of his independence of thought and uncommon intelligence. His views on the question of retaliation must recommend themselves to every man of common sense in this province."

After a quotation from Mr. Bertram's speech the Patriot proceeds:—

"This is very unlike the contradictory disjointed nonsense contained in Mr. J. C. Pope's electioneering speech on the same subject. On the general question of Protection and government interference in matters of trade Mr. Bertram's views are equally clear and equally sound. All thinking men among us will perceive that the following extracts have the ring of the true metal."

Then follow other extracts from the speech of our member, who is appreciated everywhere, except among Tories hungering for office.

Presentation.—On Saturday evening last the Committee of Management who so successfully carried out the arrangements for the concert given for the benefit of the family of the late F. W. Rubidge, presented Mrs. Rubidge with the following address and a purse containing $100.30, being the amount realised at the concert:—

PETERBOROUGH, June 8th, 1878.

To Mrs. Rubidge and Family:—

The committee appointed to conduct the late entertainment, the proceeds of which were to be presented to the family of our late lamented friend Mr. F. W. Rubidge, in handing to you the accompanying sum of money, desire on behalf of all interested or taking part in the entertainment to convey their heartfelt sympathy in your late and bereavement, and their best wishes for your future welfare.

On behalf of the friends, signed,

JOSEPH MCCLELLAND, A. T. HEATHFIELD,
FRED. W. HALL, DAVID D. GALLEY,
FRED. E. BURNHAM.

Mrs. Rubidge requests us to tender her most sincere thanks to the committee and all those who took part in the entertainment, for their kind remembrance and tangible expression of sympathy towards her in her bereavement.

The Physique.—The executive committee for the celebration of Dominion Day are making very satisfactory progress in their arrangements. Mammoth posters have been issued, and will be sent to all parts of the three counties, and as arrangements have been made with the Midland Railway, Calcutt's and Thompson's lines of steamers, as well as with the northern routes, to issue tickets good for two days, at one fare, it may certainly be supposed that Peterborough will be visited by a large number of outsiders on the first of July than has been seen in town for many years. Owing to the extensive programme proposed and the attractions offered the expenses will necessarily be heavy, and it will depend on a great measure on the assistance and liberality of the citizens whether the now proposed arrangements can be carried out in entirety. The committee for soliciting subscriptions so far has met with good encouragement, and their solicitations have met with a hearty response from the business men and citizens who have already been interviewed. The several parts in the rhyming procession laid down by the executive committee have been nearly all taken up, and the committee's are requested to report progress on Saturday evening in the Firemen's Hall, between nine and ten o'clock. Parties wishing to get up other burlesques than those already set down on the programme, are particularly requested to report themselves at the Firemen's Hall, where meetings of the committee are being held every night. Those who may be desirous of joining the "grand army" are also requested to enroll their names at once so that arrangements can be made for masks, costumes &c. The prospects of a good days sport is now settled beyond doubt, and the committee entrusted with the management, are proving themselves equal to the occasion.

Confidential Advice.—Go to F. LANE & Co's for your Drugs, Medicines, Coal Oil, Paints, Brushes, for Whiting, Varnishes, Parchment, Cigars, Seeds, where you will always get the best goods at the lowest prices.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last Monday evening pursuant to adjournment. Present.—His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Cahill, McBain, Smith, Ormond, Paterson, Yelland, Rutherford, Deane, Carlisle and Douglas.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. W. Miller, tendering his resignation as Councillor.

From W. H. Robertson & Co., calling attention to the fact that although their tender for printing had been awarded to them and Mr. Palmer, the work was being given to all the offices.

From the Secretary of the public meeting in reference to the repairs of Pigeon Lake Bridge, held on the afternoon of Monday, a copy of the resolutions passed thereat, which will be found in our report of said meeting.

From the Treasurer, a statement of the receipts and expenditures for the month of May.

From Edg. Pearse, accounts amounting to $18.40, the town's share of expenditures in connection with the Lock's Bridge.

From E. Pearse, asking that the account for cedar for the Locks Bridge be ordered to be paid.

From E. Pearse, in reference to the repairs of Pigeon Creek Bridge.

STREET INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

The Street Inspector reported on the petitions for street repairs handed in at last meeting, as follows:—

In the matter of the petition of Samuel Hall and others, asking for water tables, he would not recommend them.

The prayer of the petition of Wm. George and others was recommended, cost $4 or $5; as was also that of Thos. Harmer, at about $4 or $5; and Peter Gifford's for a sidewalk, at a cost of about $30.

Alexander McGregor's petition could not be recommended.

E. H. D. Hall's petition was recommended, provided the obstructions on the Cobourg Road are removed.

The matter was referred to the Joint Committee with power to act.

MR. ORMONDS' NOTICE OF MOTION.

Moved by Mr. ORMOND, seconded by Mr. YELLAND,—Whereas a By-law to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors and the issuing of licenses therefor within the town of Peterborough, under authority and for enforcement of the Temperance Act of 1864, was submitted to the duly qualified electors of the town of Peterborough for adoption. And whereas on the 29th, 30th and 31st day of October 1877, the vote of the duly qualified electors were taken on the proposed By-law and adopted by a large majority, the number voting yea, being 564, and the number nay, being 414; majority for its adoption being 150; altogether making the largest number of votes ever recorded in the town of Peterborough on any question requiring the approval of the people. The electors in their verdict thus rendered declaring the sale of intoxicating liquors as tending to demoralise the community, and as such should be abolished by the strong arm of the law. And whereas to carry out the expressed wish of the majority of the people of the town of Peterborough, and to ratify and confirm the same, the Council did on the 10th of December 1877, re-enact the said By-law, and by resolution directed the Mayor and Clerk to sign the same, and attach the seal of the corporation of the town of Peterborough thereto. And the said By-law was so signed and the seal attached as directed, and number of MS. and said By-law so passed has never been repealed and is in force, not only as a By-law adopted by a large majority of the people, but as a By-law regularly and duly passed by this Council. And whereas it is the duty of every law abiding citizen to uphold and maintain the laws of the land in their integrity, so is the bounden duty of the Council to cause to be enforced and respected every By-law of the town so this end be it therefore resolved:—That the Mayor as the Executive of this Council, is hereby empowered to authorise any person or persons to prosecute for an infraction of the said By-law. And that the Constables of the town are authorised and it is hereby made part of their duty to prosecute any person or persons guilty of an infraction of said By-law. And that one moiety of the penalty inflicted, if collected, on any person or persons for such infraction be paid to any or either of the Constables, or any person or persons so authorized, bringing such prosecution to a successful issue. It being understood that in no case will the Council assume to become liable for any suit or suits, so brought further than the Police Court of this town. And that the seal of the corporation of the town of Peterborough be attached to this resolution.

Moved in amendment by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor PATERSON.—That the motion be not now put but that it be read this day three months.

On a vote being taken six voted for the amendment and four against it—the yeas and nays being as follows:—

YEAS.—Cahill, McBain, Smith, Deane, Paterson and Douglas.

NAYS.—Ormond, Yelland, Rutherford and Carlisle.

RAILWAY ORDERMEN.

Moved by Councillor CARLISLE, seconded by Councillor DEANE,—That the Town Solicitor be instructed to get permission to remove the Cobourg Railway crossings in the north part of the town.—Carried.

THE BAND IN THE PARK.

Moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor ORMOND,—That the Joint Committee be instructed to meet the County Council in reference to the repairs of Pigeon Lake bridge, with power to act; cost not to exceed $160, said appropriation not to prejudice the position of the town to the county in reference to this bridge.

Councillor DEANE thought it was only throwing away so much money, as the bridge would have to be rebuilt next summer.

Councillor CAHILL said he believed as the most of the farmers in that section were Grangers it would only be right for them to apply to Montreal and Toronto merchants to make the repairs, those parties now receiving the most of the trade of the Grangers.

Councillor SMITH said he did not advocate the repairs of the bridge for the benefit of the Grangers, but for the towns-people who had asked for it.

Councillor PATERSON suggested that when the bridge is repaired a toll be charged upon it. He had been told by farmers in that part that they would willingly pay toll rather than undergo the inconvenience of doing without the bridge.

Councillor RUTHERFORD favored the expenditure as he believed it money well spent.

Mr. COLLINS, Reeve of North Monaghan, gave a history of the building of the bridge, explaining that it had been built by the town and county jointly; that it was situated in the county of Victoria, and that that county refused to make any repairs. The county of Peterborough had deemed it wise to close the bridge, as they considered it not fair to have to keep a bridge in another county in repair. They could have done nothing to please Victoria better, as it diverted the trade of that section to Lindsay. He felt as the county of Peterborough would at its June session make an appropriation for the repairs. The town was largely benefitted by the bridge. He had no sympathy for the Grangers, but he thought the Anti-Grangers should not suffer for the Grangers. To relay the bridge with planks in the new, he thought would cost about $1,500.

The motion was put and carried.

THE VACANT SEATS.

Moved by Councillor ORMOND, seconded by Councillor SMITH,—That the Clerk be instructed to take proceedings to have the elections held for the vacant seats in the 2nd and 4th wards.—Carried.

WORK ON PARK STREET.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to go on with the work on Park street between Macdonald and Bon Accord streets.—Carried.

STREET EXPENDITURE.

Moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the sum of $4000 having been appropriated for improvements and repairs upon the streets and bridges for the present year, the street Inspector be and is hereby instructed to expend the said moneys so that all streets requiring repairs and improvements may receive an equitable proportion thereof, and all applications for the purposes aforesaid, be referred to the street Inspector, with power to act, subject to the approval of the Council. And the said Inspector is hereby instructed to confine the expenditure on said account during the present year to the said sum of $4000, and in the event of failure on his part to observe this resolution, he shall be personally responsible for such amount as he shall expend in excess of the said sum of $4000.—Carried.

FURTHER STREET REPAIRS.

Moved by Councillor ORMOND, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the street Inspector be instructed to fill up the hole adjacent to Mr. Cook's lot on George street, cost about $4 or $5.—Carried.

RAILWAY MEETING.

Moved by Councillor PATERSON, seconded by Councillor MCBAIN,—That in compliance with the citizens resolution, relating to the Midland R. R. connection with Ormosse and Bobcaygeon that the Mayor and Messrs. Scott, Cox, and Cahill, be a deputation with power to add to their number to attend a meeting to be held at Bobcaygeon on the 14th June 1878, and that the expense be borne by the corporation.—Lost.

THIRD WARD ENGINE.

Moved by Councillor PATERSON, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That the Fire Committee be instructed to procure some suitable place for the Third Ward Fire Engine.—Carried.

APPOINTING A RAILWAY DEPUTATION.

Moved by Mr. CAHILL,—That Messrs. Ormond, Rutherford and McBain be appointed a deputation to attend the railway meeting at Bobcaygeon, and that their expenses be paid.

The gentlemen named refusing to act, it was moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor ORMOND,—That the Mayor, Mr. Scott and Mr. Cox be a deputation to attend the railway meeting at Bobcaygeon and that their expenses be paid.—Carried.

GAS LAMPS.

Councillor YELLAND asked for information in reference to the placing of gas lamps on London street, and after considerable discussion it was Moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That an additional gas lamp be put up on London street near Dickson's Dam, and that two be put up on Aylmer street, one at the corners of Townsend and Wells streets.

Councillor DEANE asked to have one erected on Smith street opposite Judge Deanstoun's gate.

After some further discussion of an irregular nature the amendments and objections were withdrawn and an additional lamp ordered to be put up on London street near Dickson's Dam.

ORDER TO PAY.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor SMITH,—That the Treasurer be instructed to pay W. H. Robertson's account when certified to by the Clerk.—Carried.

Council adjourned for four weeks.

Somebody Says.

"There is something peculiarly attractive in a horse. His handsome appearance, neat set harness, his fine and graceful motion, his vicious propensities, his docility, his patience when unable, all endear him to us. We have to look at it in the proportion, and take in the inspiration of his energy and power," but it is only when the horse is properly cared for—when he is free from disease or in possession of any kind that he will exhibit these points of attraction, and without which he is of little value. A package of "Dunlop's Condition Powders and Arabian Heaves Remedy," should be in possession of every man who owns a horse, ready to send in case of need. A Rewarding Man Will Catch at a Straw.

If he catch it. It will do him no good. THE CATHOLICITY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—This lecture is one of a course delivered during last winter in the Presbyterian College, Montreal, by prominent ministers of that denomination. Whoever may dispute the Catholicity of the Presbyterian Church, no one will dispute the Catholicity of the lecture. It extends the right hand of fellowship to all evangelical denominations. It is well reasoned throughout, contains passages of great eloquence, and proves its author to be a master in Ecclesiastical history. It is in the form of a neat little pamphlet of thirty-two pages, being the first of a series of "Tracts on Presbyterian Topics," which the publisher intends giving to the world; and we must say that he has made a good beginning. A Fun Picture.

A few months, or even weeks, since, her pallid countenance was the very type of ruddy health —the delight of the school and the pride of the household. She was always welcome wherever duty or pleasure led her. Diligent, punctual, and exemplary, in the class-room, obedient and loving at home, she won the hearts of all. But alas! those glowing cheeks and lips are now bleached by consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, hoarse and broken by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch and gently take her bloodless hand in our own. Do not shudder because of its feeble and colorless grasp. The hand once so warm and plump shows its bony outlines, while the chords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped upon its surface. The pulse that beat hurried with repletion, imparting beauty, vivacity, health, and strength, to the system is delicate to the touch. The unnerved heart feebly propels the thin, watery blood. Must we lose her while yet so young and so fair? No. There is relief. But something more is required than the observance of hygienic rules, for enfeebled nature calls for aid and she must have it. Administer this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating. It allays the irritable cough, improves the appetite and digestion, and sends a healthy thrill through her whole being. The blood is enriched, nervous power increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse. Her face brightens—the blood is returning, her voice is clearer, and her raptures are no longer delivered in that peevish, fretful tone to deserve no sympathy. Her step is still faltering, but strength is rapidly returning. Let us take her out in the warm, life-giving sunshine. In a few weeks she will go where we dare not and be able to join her companions in their pleasant pursuits and feel her whole being renewed and expanded into perfect health. The change is so great that we think she is prettier and healthier than ever before. And the medicine which has wrought this transformation, we look upon as a blessing to humanity, for there are thousands who, if they could but learn the secret of the luxurious existence, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has raised her. It will raise others.

PIDGEON LAKE BRIDGE.

Public Meeting of Citizens—The Bridge to be Repaired—The Council asked to Grant $160—Railway Matters.

For some weeks this bridge has been condemned, and notices were put up announcing that it was unsafe for travel. We expected that this would have induced the Town Council to do something to get the repairs done, so as to enable travel to be continued from and towards the northern part of this and adjoining counties, but waiting for something to turn up that august body has been inactive. At length the citizens called a meeting on Monday last, and passed resolutions urging the Council to action. The meeting was not largely attended, but it is satisfactory to know that something was recommended as the following resolution shows:—

Moved by Mr. HATTON, seconded by Mr. GEO. HILLIARD,—That in the opinion of this meeting, it is desirable that a sum not to exceed One hundred dollars be contributed by the Town Council of the Town of Peterborough for the purpose of assisting in repairing the Pidgeon Creek Bridge, and that this meeting hereby request that a sum not exceeding that amount be contributed by the Council, and this meeting would also respectfully request that the County Council be asked to contribute a moiety of the sum needed to put said bridge in repair.—Carried.

It is not complimentary to our City Fathers to have thus to be incited to duty. If some of them could see a vote for the next municipal election in it, it would have been seen to long ago. Would it not be as well for a few of them to spend a little more time seeing after the interests of those they profess to serve, and thus secure popularity in the path of duty?

RAILWAY MEETING.

At the close of the above meeting a discussion took place between a few of the ratepayers who remained, in reference to railway communication with the back country, when the following resolutions were passed.

Moved by Mr. HATTON, seconded by Mr. HOPKINS,—That in the opinion of this meeting the Town of Peterborough would assist liberally in a scheme that would ensure the bringing of the main line of the Midland Railway through this town by way of Omemee, and there connect with the Grand Junction for the purpose of constructing a branch line from the Midland at or near Fowler's Corners to Bobcaygeon.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. HAFFLAND, seconded by Mr. GEO. A. COX,—That this meeting requests the Town Council to appoint a deputation to attend the railway meeting at Bobcaygeon on Friday next the 14th instant.—Carried.

COUNTY COURT AND GENERAL SESSIONS.

HIS HONOR JUDGE DEAN, PRESIDING.

WEDNESDAY, 5th June.—After the Grand Jury had presented their presentment His Honor expressed his gratification that the Grand Jury had found the jail in a satisfactory state as usual, and also that the County authorities were coming to the wise decision to put the Court rooms in a proper state.

J. B. DIXON VS. SPERRY.

This was an action to recover balance of contract for supplying cedar logs. It was disputed on the ground of late delivery, and the measurements and quality of the logs were also in dispute. It appeared that defendant had waived his right to insist upon punctual delivery. Verdict for $130. W. H. Scott, Q. C., for plaintiff; D. W. Dumble, for defendant.

CUNNINGHAM VS. TOWNSHIP OF DUMMER.

In this action the plaintiff said that he overpaid moneys in his hands as collector, and sought to recover the excess. The question was whether a sum of $170 paid to a school section by plaintiff and for which he held a receipt was credited to him by the Township Treasurer. The book-keeping of both officers appeared to be very defective. The Jury found that the $170 was included in a credit of a larger sum of $306. Verdict for plaintiff for $34. Leave to move in term was reserved. W. H. Scott, Q.C., for plaintiff, J. F. Deanstoun, Q.C., for defendants.

QUEEN VS. JAS. MACTAMARA, PETER DUIGNAN, AND THOMAS MERVIN.

This was a charge of assault committed upon Robert Stewart. Prisoner pleaded not guilty. McNamara and Duignan were defended by W. H. Scott, Q. C., and Mervin by G. Edmison, C. A. Weller, County Attorney, appeared for the Crown, and addressed the Jury, describing how the prisoners with two others who had already been tried, assaulted Robert Stewart, and that acting thus together they were each liable to punishment.

The jury after being out some time brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty."

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stenson & Son.

FLY TIME.

Hor- the buzz ng of the fly.
Bumbling buzz;
What a baleful bothersation
In its blubbing we descry!
When the busy day is born—
In the first sray light of morn,
How it bombles
As it tambles
From the ceiling on our face;
Or soaring into space
How it hums,
And it drums,
And it bums! ——
And we sit upright in bed,
Or we cover up our head
With the sheet,
And we lie till almost dead
With the heat.

THE DUNKIN ACT CASES.

The following is the evidence taken before the Police Magistrate on Thursday last, in the adjourned case of Cox vs. Huffman, for a violation of the Dunkin Act By-law:

Mr. D. Haggart, sworn,—He lives in Peterborough. He knew Mr. Huffman's hotel. He had been in the bar room within the last two weeks. He could not say that there was any difference in the way the bar room was run since the first of May, with the exception of the names of the liquors. He could not say that he noticed any difference in the liquors since the 1st of May. He thought the bar tender's name was "Jimmy." He had heard one drink called stewed hops. He could not say what kind it was. He asked for ale in Mr. Huffman's pad was told that they had no ale, but had ginger ale on draught. He told the bar tender that stewed hops would be a better name for it.

To Mr. Dunble,—Did the liquor that you got for stewed hops taste any different to beer?

Mr. Smith objected to the question.

The Witness said that it tasted the same to him as beer. He did not know any difference. He did not know the difference between beer and ale. It appeared to him to be about the same as he got for beer on previous occasions. He took a glass of beer once in a while. What he drank on that occasion seemed to him to be beer. He thought that he knew the taste of beer. He thought that it was drawn out of the pump. He did not order bottled ale. There was a gentleman with him on that occasion —a commercial traveller. It might have been two weeks or more since, but it was in the month of May. He had other drinks in that bar room since the 1st of May. He had a lemonade with a stick in it. The bar tender said that they had no sticks, but would put in some bitters. He understood a stick in it, to mean a little whiskey or brandy in the lemonade. He did not know what was in his lemonade. It might have been whiskey, but he could not say. He had asked for Willoughby bitters since, and had drank it. It tasted very much like whiskey to him. Old rye and malt are both whiskeys. He might of had Willoughby bitters once or twice since. He had what they called ginger ale on draught He could not distinguish John Bull in lemonade. It was the ordinary bar tender, who had served him. There were others with him on that occasion. Could not say who they were. The new liquors were "Dumble on the fence" and "Dumble on ice;" "Stratton sweet" and "Stratton sour;" "Willoughby bitters". Could not say what Wahoo bitters was. He was under the impression that Willoughby bitters was whiskey. One of them paid for the treat. Mr. J. Elder was with him, and had a drink on one occasion. He had been in the Huffman House with Dr. Kincaid. He had met the Dr. there several times during the month of May. He remembered on one occasion having a drink with the Dr. at Huffman's. It was some time in May. Inspector Cox was there at the time. He thought that Willoughby bitters would be a mild drink.

To Mr. Smith,—He met Dr. Kincaid in the Huffman House once or twice during the month of May. He thought that the Dr. was there on professional business. There was a difference in the bar since the 1st of May. It was covered with lemons &c.

To Mr. Dunble,—What he drank on that occasion seemed to be very much like whiskey.

To Mr. Dunble,—To the best of your knowledge was what you drank as Willoughby bitters whiskey?

Witness,—What he drank tasedt to him like whiskey.

To Mr. Dunble,—To the best of your knowledge, was what you drank as Willoughby bitters whiskey?

Witness,—It tasted very much like whiskey

Dr. Kincaid, sworn,—He knew Allan Huffmans Hotel. He had been in the bar room once or twice since the first of May, at least. He thought that it was between the 1st and 27th of May last. He remembered on two occasions being asked to drink. He took on one occasion a cigar, and on the other he took "Montreal Ginger Ale." It was taken out of one of the ordinary bottles. It fizzes out. He could not say whether they had ginger ale on draft or not. On one occasion Mr. Haggart was with him. This was in the bar. Neither Mr. Bradburn nor Mr. Elder was with him at that time. He was not sure whether Mr. Elder was there or not. He heard the bar tender say that he had no liquors. Saw the bar tender serving up Willoughby bitters. He did not remember who paid for the treat, but thought most likely it was him, for he generally had to stand the shot. He tried to fix the date from his books—as he had been attending the family—and he was of the opinion that it was about the 20th of May. He did not know what they drew from the pump. He thought that Willoughby bitters came from bottles. The bar appeared to be conducted about the same as before the first of May. He could not say that there bogus names were called for a purpose or not. He told Mr. Huffman on one occasion that he was being watched and that he would be fined if he sold liquors, and Mr. Huffman told him that he did not care as he sold no liquors. There was a drink called an eye-opener.

Mr. Thomas Bradburn, sworn,—He had been occasionally in Allan Huffman's Hotel since the 1st of May. He asked for whiskey on one occasion and the bar tender gave him Willoughby bitters. It tasted a good deal like whiskey. He had taken Willoughby bitters on several occasions. He could not say how many times he drank Willoughby bitter since the 1st of May. He did not remember who was with him in the bar on the 27th of May. He had been with Mr. Holden in the Huffman House. He was there on another occasion with Daniel Hopkins and Richard Errett. He could not say where the bar tender got the Willoughby bitters. Did not have any Wahoo bitters. He had heard of Stratton straight or something. He had heard of Dumble's cordial. He had seen some parties partaking of it. He had been in the back room or recesses, both before and since the 1st of May. He asked for whiskey and they gave him what they called Willoughby bitters. It tasted very much like whiskey. He supposed that if he took enough of it would intoxicate. He was not intoxicated. He did not drink enough. He never had ginger ale on draft. He had several drinks in the bar. He was served by Jimmy. He did not see anything unusual in the bar-room. He remembered paying for drinks. He thought he paid for the drinks when Mr. Holden was with him. He had not drank lemonade with Willoughby bitters in it, in the Huffman House between the 1st and 27th of May. He thought that it was within two months that he drank the Willoughby bitters, but could not state positively. He did not know what the information was served.

Mr. John Ryan, sworn,—Cannot say when he had the last drink in the Huffman House. He boards there. He was on retiring in and out of Mr. Huffman's bar, not often. The bar has not been run since the 1st of May as previously, so far as the display of liquors in bottles was concerned. Since the 1st of May lemons and glasses were put in their places. He had treated and had been treated in the bar since the 1st of May.

To Mr. Dunble,—Have you partaken of spirituous liquors since the 1st of May in the Huffman House?

Mr. Scott objected to the question.

The Witness continued:—He could not swear whether he had drank whiskey or not. He had asked for lemonade with a little spirits in it, and was informed by the bar tender that they had no whiskey but they had Willoughby bitters, Stratton straight and Dumble's cordial, and as he knew Dumble to be gritty he took Dumble's cordial, expecting that it would be gritty and answer the purpose. He could not say what it was they put into his lemonade. It at all events answered the required purpose. He never drank in his life alone. He thought that it was Dr. Kincaid and Mr. D. Haggart that was with him on that occasion He did not know what it was they partook of. He had some of Dumble's cordial put into his lemonade. It did not stimulate him. He would not drink a mixture of lemonade and ginger ale if he knew it. He expected some spirituous liquors in his lemonade, but could not swear what was given him.

Mr. Robert Irwin, sworn,—He was in the Huffman House on Saturday evening last. He was also there on Thursday the 31st of May. He was in the bar room on that day. Mr. T. B. Tate was with him. He saw Mr. Tate drinking at the bar on that day a glass of beer served to him by what he supposed the bar tender. He could not say whether it was taken from a pump or a bottle. Mr. Tate treated. He had something to drink.

To Mr. Scott—Mr. Tate asked for beer and it was given to him. He saw the beer in the glass. He did not know that he was going to be subpœned here to-day until a few minutes ago. He could not say what the bar tender took the beer from.

This closed the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Scott asked for an adjournment, and said that he had ten witnesses to call, but as one of them was in New York State, near Buffalo, he was not prepared to go on until his arrival here, as he was of the opinion that he would be an important witness.

Mr. Dunble objected to the adjournment, and said that there was a prima facie case, and the defence should be prepared to meet it.

Mr. Scott said that Mr. Huffman would putin an affidavit which would state that Geo Dawson was in the Examiner office and would be able to give evidence in contradiction to that of the Dawson who had already sworn. They asked for a week or ten days to get him here.

Mr. Dunble said they had no means of securing the attendance of such a witness.

Mr. Scott said as to the evidence of posting it was of the most unsatisfactory kind, and if the prosecution wished to get at the truth they would give an opportunity of enquiring into it.

Mr. Dunble complained of the hotel keepers closing their houses and yards as well as their bars. There was strong evidence of the posting of the notices, and he had no doubt but that the By law was valid.

Mr. Hatton said he would not take the responsibility of deciding on it, if further evidence could be obtained by an adjournment for a reasonable time.

Mr. Dunble asked for an admission that liquor had been sold or exposed for sale in all the other cases.

Mr. Scott said that he had not anticipated that the prosecution would be put to so much trouble as in the first case to prove the selling or exposure.

Messrs. T. Cavanagh, W. Croft, A. F. Morgan, and W. Chamberlain, admitted the charge for exposure, as did Mr. Huffman in the other three cases against him for selling spirituous liquors.

The Police Magistrate here granted an adjournment till Monday the 17th instant. Mr. Scott undertaking to go on then, whether the witness was here or not.

COX VS. WILSON.

Mr. Wilson who was charged with a similar offence for exposure, pleaded not guilty, as he did in another charge for selling.

The other cases were enlarged until Monday the 17th instant.

INCREASES.

During the last seven years of Sir John Macdonald's Government the expenditure had been increased $16,000,000, while during the five years the present Government has been in office the increase had been but $300,000 caused in great part by fulfilling obligations of the defunct administration. Electors, how is that for economy? Which Government is the most saving?

It is said that lime dusted over potatoes will prevent their decay.

Potent rubbing with sweet oil will remove finger marks from polished furniture.

ENCOURAGING.

Here is a specimen of a "struggling industry":

"The Journal de Commerce says:—The Joseph Hall Manufacturing Co., Oshawa, was two years ago in debt to the amount of $170,000, all of which has now been paid off. The secured claims have during the same period been reduced to $50,000. The Company buys its stock for cash, and it pays its workmen in full every week."

The manufacturers are doing well—especially compared with other classes, and as contrasted with their own class in other countries. The proposition to tax the whole community for their especial benefit is as gratuitous as it is unnecessary and unfair.

SIR JOHN'S POLICY.

Sir John by his "national policy" is committed to the policy of levying a tax on grain and coal. Such a tax would raise the price of every ton of coal the poor man has to buy, and every loaf of bread he eats. The tax on coal would also increase the cost of production—an increase in the cost of production would reduce the profits of manufacturers—a reduction of their profits would lower the rate of the working man's wages. It at the same time would raise the price of feed to the workingman, as would the tax on wheat raise the price of his bread. Sir John's policy then would weaken home manufactures, lower the rate of wages, and increase the cost of living.

THE WOOL MARKET.

The outlook is bad and sheep farmers in Canada are doomed to a serious disappointment. As the American market commands ours the following quotation from Soul & Gold's circular to Canadian buyers will be read with interest:—

Manufactures have never been so indifferent about supplies, and at the present time they are more disposed to stop their machinery and curtail the production of goods, than to stock up with raw materials. There are some exceptions to this rule, but this is the feeling of the great mass of manufactures at the present time, as they can see no prospect ahead for a profitable sale of goods. The large stocks of wool on hand at the close of the season, larger now than for many years, in connection with the large stock of goods in the hands of the manufacturers, must also have an important bearing on future prices of wool. The productions of some mills are sold up pretty close but it is believed that there are goods enough now in the hands of manufacturers and dealers to supply the wants of consumers for a long time to come, even if not another package is manufactured.

PATCHING.

That patching is a science no one will deny. A lady who has had large experience in the art gives full instruction:

"I will begin with the perhaps original axiom that a patch must be rectangular. A round or a 'crooked' one will inevitably thrust itself into notice, as it is impossible to match the threads. Then, a patch should never be 'laid on,' but always 'set in.' To this end, first cut away carefully by a thread all that is in the least worn, and turn back and baste down and even seam all around The corners may be slashed slightly in a diagonal direction to keep them square. Then to this opening fit the patch exactly with the edges turned and basted, and sew it in over and over on the wrong side with thread of the precise shade and very fine, sewing alternate opposite sides to avoid trouble with the corners. The extra thickness caused by the folded corners of the patch itself should be cut out after sewing and a little fine darning added to keep them secure. Now slightly dampen and press on the wrong side, and you have a neat piece of mending which cannot be seen a few feet away.

"Figures and all striped goods must of course be carefully matched; heavy woollen fabrics, such as men and boys wear, need not have seams turned, the clean cut edge being strong enough to hold.

"My method, when properly followed, will, I think, draw from more than one little boy the surprised question, 'Why! mother, are those new trousers? I don't see any patches."

The above is from the Western Rural. We wonder if the "lady who has had large experience in the art" every patched for four or five boys, of truly arboreal habits, living in the country. We know the mother of such a family who considers herself fortunate if she can find time to apply the various and necessary patches on the outside and use the strongest instead of the finest thread in the operation. At the same time to patch neatly is an accomplishment by no means to be despised.

THE PREMIER.

The reception which has been accorded to Hon. Mr. Mackenzie on his recent trip west gives unmistakeable evidence of his popularity as a Minister of the Crown, and of the probity which has marked his course since he was called to the control of the Government. At Lindsay and Sarnia and Toronto he was greeted with the strongest marks of approval, and his effort at Toronto before 10,000 of the workingmen of that city, was worthy of his ability, and remains, and will remain, unanswered by the organs of Sir John. It admits of no denial, and the opposition know it as well as any one, that compared with Mr. Mackenzie, Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Birke and even with private members of the House, such as Mr. Charlton and Mr. Paterson, Sir John Macdonald, Topper and others of that stamp, cannot on a public platform discuss the affairs of the country in a manner which appeals to the common sense and intelligence of the people. If ever a speech fell flat and unprofitable, it was that delivered by Sir John in Brantford on the Queen's birthday. There were many Conservatives who having never heard or seen the great Chieftain were inclined to indulge in a good deal of hero worship regarding him. But his visit here dispelled a great deal of it most effectually. His remarks were conspicuous by the absence of force or eloquence, and wanted even the sparkling wit and effervescing humour for which he has a reputation. Stale platitudes, egotistical allusions, to what he had done and suffered in the past, rancorous and untruthful allegations against his opponents, and ribald jokes delivered in a not very pleasing style, do not satisfy nowadays even the moderate Conservative, let alone the man who reads and studies and knows the political history of the country. The fact is Sir John is aware his sun has gone down. In an hour of mad infatuation, for the want of a better flag, he nailed up the protection colors, and thus with the late reaction in Quebec, he knows full well will leave him far behind when the polling of 1878 is done. He tries to put a bold front to his opponents, but even in his decimated ranks, bickerings and dissensions prevail, and he appreciates the fact that as a party he and his have few ideas in common. On the other hand the Reform party of Canada never were more thoroughly united in their determination to revenge, and give the lie to, the stand-p which have been poured incessantly from the Opposition organs and from the platforms at Conservative picnics, although their authors and originators have taken precious good care not to breathe them upon the floor of Parliament. The people can appreciate good government and honest statesmen when they have them, and are willing to exercise a little self-denial and exert themselves at the proper time to vindicate that opinion. The feeling evinced towards the Government of the day, and towards its supporters in the House are evidence enough of the signs of the times, and of the success of the Liberal party in their coming appeal to the people.—Brantford Expositor.

Cox's General Insurance Agency.

ESTABLISHED 1858.

GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occured during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.

He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Nineteen Millions of Dollars.

THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of Edinburgh established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-three Millions of Dollars.

THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, has paid for more than one hundred years over $[illegible] losses.

These companies have all passed through the great fires of Chicago, Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and have promptly paid without quibbling their liability in all instances.

Rates as low as consistent with absolute security.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,

—FOR—

Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.

The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamic and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long seated Consumption.

PTITT'S EYE-SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrym Canals, Fits, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

The American Eye-Salve is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness-safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. Ringworm and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the American Eye-Salve. It is used successfully for Piles. Its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

IN JUNE.

O give me a day when Summer is new,
On the earliest edge of June,
When the night comes newly after the sun,
And bringeth a western moon:

When the barries are ripe on the strawberry-vines,
And the roses are red on the bough,
And the young grass springs by the side of the lane,
For the cottager's bleached cow.

In the Winter, the tabby-cat, close by the hearth
May blink, and slumber, and purr,
And the bubbling tea-kettle over the fire
May merrily answer her;

And the mother may knit, and the children may sing,
And the lamp may steadily burn,
And the supper may wait on the generous board
For the laboring sire's return.

But the winds are keen, and the snows are deep,
And the skies are cloudy and dim,
And the poor man is cold on the bottom of the pile,
And life seems cheerless to him.

And the shivering cattle more closely they crowd
As they munch at their mouthful of straw,
And the pitiless nights are so bitter and long,
And the morn cometh tardy and raw.

So give me a day when Summer is new,
On the earliest edge of June,
When a soft light lingers behind the day,
And the dawn cometh rosy and soon:

When the robin has built in the apple fork,
And the catbird under the hedge,
And the broad brown brook at the foot of the hill
Rustles the new-sprung sedge.

The young year is fair with her smiles and her tears,
And her meadows where buttercups shine:
And the full-fruited Autumn is sunny and ripe
When the grapes cluster thick on the vine.

And the brumal air, it is frosty and keen,
And pleasant the coal-fires glow;
Pleasant the home on a wintry night,
Or a sledge on the crisp white snow.

But give me a day when summer is new,
On the earliest edge of June,
When the night comes slowly after the sun,
And bringeth a western moon.

THE GRANGER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In my last I promised shortly to give you an idea of a true Patron. Before introducing to you that important personage and very worthy character I will in as few words as possible give you an idea of the origin of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry.

In the year 1866, the President of the United States appointed O. H. Kelly, (who is now Secretary of the National Grange) Agent of Agriculture, to visit the States lately in rebellion, and ascertain as far as possible the amount of damage done by the late war. Being a man of intelligence and a shrewd observer, as well as taking a practical interest in the welfare of the agricultural classes, during his travels he very soon discovered that in their efforts towards success the farmers were wasting largely of their strength in their isolated condition. A great want seemed to be felt and in order to supply it some fraternal in its character must be called into existence. While thinking on the subject he became satisfied that no other profession—nor in fact all other professions united—would possess such power and influence in the nation if their latent powers could but be moulded into co-operative action. He mentioned the subject to William Saunders, a distinguished agriculturist, who at once entered into the spirit of the movement.

On the 5th of August, 1867, at Washington, D. C., they first talked of the subject and sketched the plan of organization. To O. H. Kelly and William Saunders, therefore, belong the honor of starting the Grange movement. They presented the idea to N. M. Ireland, Rev. John Trimble, Rev. A.B. Gresh and J. B. Thompson. These men were distinguished for their experience in Agriculture, and for their education and great natural ability, and together they moulded the plan which is to-day, with some modification, the basis of the order. Their aim and object was not only general improvment in Husbandry, but to increase the general wealth and prosperity of the nation, and introduce and diffuse that knowledge with a view to its application that will cause two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before.

The idea of a secret society of agriculturists was mentioned to Miss C. A. Hall, a lady of talent and ability above many of her sex. Upon her suggestion ladies were allowed full membership. To her belongs the credit of this important feature of the Order.

The growth and spread of the institution throughout the States was very rapid—in fact too rapid for the health of the organization. Any society that hastens to develope itself too quickly hastens to its death, and in their hurry to embrace the whole farm population of some of the States they got over the ground too fast, and in consequence many weeds got in, whose rank and rapid growth threatenened destruction to the fundamental principles of the Order. In riding the camp of those whose they are now actively engaged, which is causing some trouble and will take a little time. Moral.—Patrons in Canada, allow none inside the gates whose interest is not in every respect identical with our own.

A TRUE PATRON

is an independant tiller of the soil, possessing a firm resolution to labor for the good of the order, his country and mankind, and must adopt for his motto "In essentials unity, in non-essentials liberty, in all things charity." He is a peace-maker by profession and aims to develop a better manhood and increase the comforts and attractions of his home; to foster mutual understanding and co-operation; to act in harmony with his brothers in the order for their mutual protection and the advancement of their common interest; to labor unceasingly for the welfare of the agriculturist, nor rest satisfied until he sees farming in the front rank of most honored professions. In his business relations with the consumer and producer he seeks the common benefit of all, and believes and acts upon the principle that individual happiness depends upon general prosperity. A true Patron of Husbandry is not an office seeking, and solicits no position for himself; ever maintaining that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office. Every attempt to use the Order for political purposes is a violation of its principles, and it is time to use it for the purposes of that party which he thinks will best advance the interest of the greatest number, believing also that true patriots are more essential to the prosperity of a country than pronounced partizans. Yours &c., GRANGER.
June 10th, 1878.

UNSCRUPULOUS JOURNALISM.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I trust you will excuse me for troubling you and your readers again on what may appear to many to be a personal matter, but in reality concerns the public as much as those more immediately concerned, viz: a false report that was given in the Lakefield News of a public meeting relating to carrying out the Deakin By-law, and the false position in which that untruthful report has placed several respectable citizens of this village. Since the News came into existence it has been under what may be termed irresponsible control, placed under the management of ninnies or noncompoops from some obscure corner, whose history has always been of a very doubtful character, generally as fond of beer and fire-water as of doing their duty impartially to the public, all of them but one—who only remained a few weeks—being of the violent, unprincipled Conservative type of noodles, whose only qualifications have been to lounge around bar rooms and concoct the most infamous slanders against any person who failed to be of their stripe of political trickster, or bar room chum. The present nominal manager is no improvement on his predecessors. He is unscrupulous, untruthful and partial, and well qualified in these respects to do anything his employers may require of him. And fully impressed with these facts I feel it to be beneath a gentleman to notice any of his abuse, and would not but that the public who have not the misfortune of his acquaintance might be led away with his ribald weekly trash.

My own character I do not seek to defend I still reside within hailing distance of where I was born, in the midst of my boyish playmates and acquaintances. My every act is known to them, and by these acts I am willing I should be judged. My public and private life will bear comparison with the life and doings of any of my would-be maligners. I have always paid my just debts, which I fear neither the proprietor of the News nor his mentors can truthfully claim to have done; and in my political votes I have not supported corruption nor toadyism, nor do I mean to do so in the future. Out of my residence in Douro, the News tries to cast a reproach upon the people of Douro, but the people of this township know how to resent an intended slander in the proper way. It is a well known fact that the News has become a by word on account of its untruthful reports, and personal abuse of the most respectable citizens of the place. But this will the sooner seal its fate by shutting it out of every respectable dwelling, and office in the place, and by consigning its management to their proper sphere in some back place whence they should never have eminated. The proprietor of the News I can scarcely blame for what appears in the paper. He is too weak minded to direct it, and so completely devoid of the requisite mental training, and of information that he is at the mercy of whatever hack he may have to employ. Pleading that you will excuse my trespassing on your space and patience, and trusting that I may not be again called upon to trouble your or readers over Lakefield degenerate editors.
I am sir, yours &c.,
G. J. GALVIN.
Douro, June 11th, 1878.

BOBCAYGEON.

THE BODY FOUND.—Yesterday Mr. Ball, of Harvey, found the body of Mr. Coatts, formerly tailor of this village, who was unfortunately lost out of a canoe last autumn. The Coroner was communicated with, but did not deem it necessarp to hold an inquest. The remains were greatly decomposed. The body was found near the place where the canoe was discovered.—Independent.

HONMOUTH.

There is a constant stream of settlers pouring into this township. There is no doubt that it is one of the best townships in the whole of the back country. On the 14th, 15th, and 16th concessions there are many good lots claimed by speculators, who have done just a little underbrushing and nothing more. They want to sell the land at an advanced price. The effect of this is to prevent settlement. The Government should interfere. Parties wanting land should locate on those lots, for the pretended holders have no claim on them whatever.—Independent.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

COURT OF REVISION.—The Reeve and members of the Council met as a Court of Revision on the assessment roll for present year, on the 31st May. All the members present, who severally took the oath of office required by the statutes. The following appeals were heard and disposed off. Robert Rowe, for over assessment, confirmed. Thos. Ferguson, withdrawn. Chas. Spilsbury, for over assessment, confirmed. Chas. Brailey, for over assessment, compared with Assessor, confirmed. James J. Brailey, for over assessment on personal property, confirmed. Mr. J. J. Briley, appealed against the assessment of Mr. James Campbell, 13 con. lot 12, 55 acres as being under assessed. Raised from $9,000 to $12,000. Geo. Young, for over assessment, reduced from $9,000 to $8,400. Wm. Collins, for over assessment, and not having the lot finished as on former years, 100 acres to his father and 50 acres to himself, assessment confirmed. After a few corrections had been made the roll as then amended was finally passed.—Com.

HOWARD.

Farm Sold.—Mr. E. Patterson purchased the farm of Mr. G. S. Morrison, in Dummer, for $1,100.
FATHER ARRESTED.—Mr. Thos. Hill, son of a colonial settler in Douro, was arrested on Monday morning, charged with having a piece of his own property in his possession contrary to law, and ordered the left boy and cut through to the instep, inflicting a wound of about five inches in length, and almost cutting the fore part of the foot in two. Dr. Patterson promptly rendered surgical assistance.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.—Building operations have commenced in this village on a lively scale. Mr. D. Carlisle, of Peterborough, commenced work on the new Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Robt. Metcalf on the brick work of Mr. J. Starr's private residence; and Mr. M. Scott, on the basement of Mr. Griffin's residence, which will be very large and imposing structure. The brick work of Mr. P, W. Reynold's residence was finished on Saturday last.
MORE TALL RYE.—Mr. Chas. Buck, brought to our office a stalk of Rye measuring eight feet one inch, and another a little shorter, average length of the crop being well up to seven feet four inches. Mr Buck also showed us some spring wheat stalks two feet eleven inches in length. Very good!

COBOURG.

QUARTER SESSIONS AND COUNTY COURT.—The June Sittings of this court commenced on Tuesday last; both His Honor Judge Boswell and His Honor Judge Dartnell, of Whitby, were on the beach. His Honor Judge Boswell alluded in very proper terms to the burglaries which took place in town, and the manifest failure of justice regarding them. John Shannon, school teacher, of Seymour, was placed in the dock charged with shooting a young lady, a pupil of his, at the common school taught by Shannon. This girl was about 16 years of age. John W. Kerr, County Attorney, prosecuted, and Shannon defended his own case, to the great amusement of the court. We cannot say that he was wise in so doing. Indeed we are very sorry that he was undefended, for we think it was painfully evident that poor Shannon was non compos, and hardly responsible for his acts. At the same time it is also clear that he should have some other means of livelihood than teaching. He was found at the close of the case guilty of shooting with intent to commit murder. There was another case, that of attempted rape, which occurred recently in the township of Cavan, and in which the honor of a young farmer, named Gray, was involved. The Court Room was crowded during the trial, which was not complimentary to the refinement of those who attended ont of curiosity, but rather a display of a corrupt mind. On Friday morning the County Attorney moved for the judgment of the Court on the prisoner Shannon. Poor Shannn took the opportunity of making another long address when the Judge asked him to give a reason why the judgment of the Court should not be pronounced, and in this address it was plainly evident that he was truly insane, and hardly responsible for his actions. He was sentenced to ten years confinment in the penitentiary.

THE NATION AND THE FARMER.

The whole question of Protection was settled years ago by British statesmen, and to the clear condemnation of the policy. There is no need, then, of reviving it in Canada at the present day, and it would not be so revived did not the leaders of the party in opposition think they can conjure with the word to raise in the minds of the people a feeling of discontent with the present Ministry. The more the matter is subjected to pointed discussion, the clearer it is demonstrated that the whole case rests on protection to manufacturers alone, no matter what may be said by the tariff-tinkerers concerning the agricultural, mining, and other industries. In fact, the Protectionist relies in the end, so far as his inducement to the farmer is concerned, on the increased demand for agricultural products to be created by an increased artizan population. But does Protection produce such a result? Turn at once to the United States, and see if the farmers there are rendered so very prosperous through Protection. Do they really get more for their produce? Is it not rather the fact that they get less? If not, how comes it that those agriculturists so highly blessed (?) by a home market sell their produce at such a price in Canada as to make a slaughter market of this country! Tell us this, oh, consistent Protectionist, if you can; and why you cry out for a duty on cheap American produce for the defence of the Canadian farmer? How comes it, in short, that our farmers get more for their produce than those of the tariff-protected Republic to the south of us? The fact is, that the natural producers of a protected country are at a disadvantage in the restriction of the market in which they can dispose of their labor. The country that shuts out foreign commodities can not hope to sell to those whose trade it rejects. No country on the face of the earth can profitably produce for itself more than a very small proportion of its wants. The United States, with its broad territory, diversity of climate, and range of mineral resources, is in a better position to attempt such a thing than any other country in the world. But even the United States has tried and utterly failed. Instead of good, the attempt has wrought great evils to her people and the commonwealth. How absurd, then, would it be for any other people to make the foolish attempt to build up its prosperity by isolation.

And as with the nation, so with the class or person. The farmer cannot grow or make all he wants to use. Far from it. Indeed, so potent is the principle of the division of the labor, that even in agriculture we begin to see our specialists, ranking rich by confining themselves to the high and excellent cultivation of certain products. And on those farms where the greatest diversity of crops is produced, and on which cattle and horses are bred, it is found that to different hands are assigned the particular care of particular branches of the general work. Indeed, this is wherein the farming of to-day differs from that of the early times, when one man, or at most two, had to see to this, that and the other duty on the farm, and when the ladies of the family had to turn in and do a man's work, and sometimes more. Things have changed since then, and our farmers have been prosperous without a protective policy—far more so, we hold, than they could have been with one. The inability of the farmer to supply all his demands directly from his own resources, is the sole basis for other occupations, as dependent on him and on each other as he is on them. Each is to all a help and convenience, and all to each a support, and peace or less of up and grow as necessity begets; and no amount of protection can force into existence a prosperous industry when a natural demand does not exist for it. First come the production of the prime necessities of food and clothing, and after them of the thousand and one requirements that tend to distinguish our civilized life from that of the mere savage. The mutual benefits of various industries cause any one to grow with the growth of others; but no good can accrue from any development that is abnormal,—as, for instance, the forcing into existence of an industry that is not absolutely needed to supply a natural demand. Derangement, and not steady prosperity, is the sure result of such a policy. And especially foolish is such an attempt when the pretended result is the benefit of the primary industry by the unnatural establishment of a dependent one—like the Protectionist plan of making farming rely on manufacturing—food on machinery.

There can be no doubt that the proximity of a consuming population is of some advantage to the farmer in the sale of his produce. So would ready access to the United States as a market be of advantage to Canada. But a protective tariff on imports can gain neither. The less the farmer buys the less encouragement does he give to the establishment of a population to supply his extraneous wants. Therefore the admonition to buy less and produce more, contains a sort of semi-paradox as applied to this question of mutual dependence in commercial affairs, a man will certainly grow rich by increase in the production of that he can sell, but refraining from buying can never increase his wealth, his production remaining the same. By buying within reasonable and steady demands he encourages others to buy from him, and thus the trade goes on. In the same way were we Canadians to "keep our own markets for our own people," as the Protectionist is pleased to put it, we would repel those whom we now encourage to buy from us by buying from them. Producing only for ourselves, the demand would be greatly narrowed, and unthrift and indolence would be soon to follow, just as is the case on those farms off which the workers only care to scratch a living for themselves alone, whose views are limited, their demands limited, and market limited. Either there is or there is not sufficient demand to induce the establishment in Canada of new manufactories. If so they will be started as readily, if not more so, with a low, as with a high tariff, and if not nothing can justify their establishment, especially with the disadvantage of being limited to a narrow market, in which there is no call for them. In either case a protective tariff is a fraud, a delusion and a snare.

WILFUL MISSTATEMENTS.

It would seem that the local Tory journal cannot refer to a political opponent or his utterances without misrepresentation. This is again evidenced in its last week's references to the speeches at the Lindsay Reform demonstration. For instance, Hon. Mr. Cartwright is represented as complaining that his opponents alluded to his "bringing down supplementary estimates to the tune of nearly $3,000,000 a few days before the close of the session, without (mark the complaint well) at the same time stating that his predecessors had in 1869-70 brought down supplementary estimates to the tune of $7,000,000." Now this was not at all the burden of the Finance Minister's complaint, though he did incidentally refer to the absurdity of the Opposition objecting to supplementary estimates so moderate as compared with those in the year of Tory rule mentioned by him. What he did complain of was that though these estimates included nearly $2,000,000 chargeable to capital account, and only about $650,000 chargeable to ordinary income, his opponents strove to deceive the people, and asserted over and over again that the estimates for the current year were $26,000,000, whereas the grand total was less than $24,000,000. This he rightly characterised as a deliberate misstatement, and the same may be said of the Review's travesty of his utterances.

There is no getting over the fact that in seven years the late Government increased the charge against income nearly $10,000,000, whereas the increase under Reform rule has been only about $2,000,000 in four years, and even then the present Ministry paid off some $3,000,000 of liabilities left by their predecessors in office. It is unfortunate for the defenders of the extravagance of the Macdonald Administration that they have to refer to the bringing of various provinces into the Dominion; for much of the reckless extenditure was through indefensible subsidies to these provinces. The Intercolonial Railway was a very sponge to absorb the revenue of the Dominion, and one of the present friends of the Opposition declared that certain moneys expended on it might as well have been thrown into the sea. The same veracious authority, now stumping against the Finance Minister in Addington told of the gross corruption in connection with the North-West. Among the expenditures too was the money given to Riel to get him and keep him out of the country, though the then Premier in this very town hypocritically and blasphemously cried out on the public platform "Would to God I could catch him!" Perhaps also the less said of the cost of repelling Fenian invasions the better, for the cost, both in money and men might have been averted had not the Acting Minister of Militia been exceptionally incapacitated from attending to his duty. The cost of the Volunteer force was great, but the Active Militia was never so efficient as now; for at present though less money is spent, it is paid out with some degree of care, under the supervision of the first Minister of Militia Canada has ever had who feels the importance of making himself acquainted with the affairs of his department. Truly if proofs are asked of the extravagance of the old Government they can be readily supplied, and in no one case need the MacKenzie administration do other than court comparison of its financial management with that of the man who up to 1872 disgraced the cabinet positions they held.

TORY papers attribute the decrease in population in Cobourg, Port Hope and Lakefield to the want of protective tariff. Is it not just as logical to claim the increase of population in other towns as the result of a revenue tariff. The cause of the decrease must be sought elsewhere than in the mere changeable at the custom houses, and it will probably be discovered in the lack of enterprise or Micawber-like dependence on "something" in the people of these places, or it may be that the appalling properties of the Star, Times and News drive people away.

"SEND HIM ANOTHER $10,000."

When it was stated that a criminal action for libel was about to be entered against John A. Macdonald, as the result of the Pacific Railway scandals, for the misuse of public funds, in connection with the Esquimalt job, Hon. Mr. Mills in reply declared that we grovelled our knees daily on the difficulty of preparing the necessary affidavit of "falsity and malice." Since then we have waited quite serenely for further action in the matter, and probably those of our contemporaries similarly threatened have as calmly rested under the process of criminal prosecution. After weeks of probable anxiety to many of our Tory friends, we now learn that action has at last been taken by Sir John against the Brantford Expositor, damages being laid at $10,000. So you see it is a civil suit after all. It is also reported that a writ has been issued against the Guelph Mercury, like damages being claimed. As yet we have not learned that action has been taken against the Globe, EXAMINER, and other papers said to be included in the list to be prosecuted. As there are a number of them, if the Tory Chieftain succeeds in getting the amount claimed out of each, it will more than make up for the loss of Sir Hugh Allan's acceptances, in paying the election expenses of the party, should the suits come on and the full damages be secured before the polling. And if, as is most likely, these cases be deferred till after the elections, then if ever they come on and are successful, Sir John may secure enough to recompense him for the loss of his position as Premier, his character as a public man, and his title of Right Honorable. We, too, await his demand, "Send me another $10,000."

We did not, as it now avers, accuse the Review of ignorance regarding the Quebec Harbour Commission, but we did say it displayed either folly or knavery, and it turned out to be knavery. Our contemporary now holds that the Federal Government must have had something to do with the letting of the contracts for the Levis works, because these contracts are submitted to the Government for ratification. But the very fact of this submission is the best proof that government did not inspire the action of the Commission: Else why submit that action for ratification? The only possible explanation from the Review's point of view can be, that the ratification is a mere farce, but if such were the case the Conservative members of the commission would have been heard from in complaint long before now. The Review might as well acknowledge its over-zealous indiscretion on behalf of its party at once, and be done of it.

We notice that several of the Tory Protectionist journals are trying to twist an expression of the Globe into an acknowledgement that the Canadian seller pays the duty on wool going into the United States. The comparison of the price of wool in Boston with the price in Toronto, does not prove more than that the Boston buyer is forced to pay more than he would were the duty removed. It is absurd to argue that the abolition of the American duty would raise the price in Toronto to that which is now obtained in Boston. Rather would the Boston price fall to the Toronto figure, particularly as the price in Liverpool is just about the same as that got in Toronto. And this is no doubt what the commercial editor had in his mind when he penned the paragraph which the Tory press is trying to draw comfort from.

We must protest against the Bobcaygeon Independent's taking "Mr. Rosevear Dr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Ross as fair examples of the mental calibre of the representatives of the Midland Counties." It's not fair to men whom the Independent must know to be superior to those named. Was it quite right that the Independent in its choice selection should have left out its own Arthur McQuade? An apology to Arthur will now be in order.

THE CONGRESS.—The peacemakers are still struggling away in their efforts to settle the Eastern Question. Lord Beaconsfield, as might be expected, is the chief draughtsman in sketching out the new map of Europe and Asia; and he seems to be well backed up by Austria and France whose interests, next to those of England, will be most immediately affected by the decisions of the arbitrators.

FENELON FALLS.

BUSINESS.—Of the foundry at Fenelon Falls the Gazette says:—The business is, we verily believe, on the high road to ultimate prosperity, as it is on a sound financial basis, and the reputation of the foundry is added to by every plough or other implement it turns out.

SNOWDON.

BODY FOUND.—The body of the poor young fellow named Bacon, who was missed from home some weeks since, was discovered on Monday last week in the water near to the place on Burnt River where he was supposed to be drowned. He was about sixteen years of age.

CAMPBELLFORD.

WOOLEN MILL CONSUMED.—A fire broke out on Tuesday afternoon in the pickers' room of the Campbellford Woollen Mill. The building, dye house, and machinery were entirely consumed, also the stables of the Queen's Hotel, owned by R. Cookburn. About sixty hands are thrown out of employment. The mill was worked by D. Morrice & Co., of Montreal, who were the owners of the machinery. The building belonged to a joint stock company. The loss is about $40,000. The insurance is not yet known.

SELWYN.

COUNTY TEMPLE.—The County Temple, I.O.G.T., was held in Selwyn on Monday, June 17th. There was a large attendance from Peterborough and other places. In the evening a tea was provided, at which many refreshed the inner man. After tea an entertainment was held in the Lodge Room, Rev. Mr. Roberts, of Indian Village, presiding. The programme consisted of Song in good style by the Indian Choir; Reading by Mr. W. M. Wood; Song by Miss M. McKee; Recitation by Mr. J. J. Metcalf; Song by Mr. H. Friend, Peterborough; Speech by Mr. Wampum; Song by Indian Choir; Reading by Mr. J. D. Graham; Song by Miss Heather, Peterborough; Ventriloquism by Mr. W. Dixon, Peterborough; Song by Indian Choir; Recitation by Mr. J. J. Metcalf; Song by the Indian choir. After this closing. The singing of the Indian Choir, and the recitations by Mr. Metcalfe were excellent.—Com.

LIVER IS KING.—The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the liver such as Sick Headache, Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Regularly sold by J. D. Rogers, & Co., Peterboro. Thirty doses will prove that it is just what you want.

BOBCAYGEON AND LINDSAY RAILWAY.

Grand Meeting at Bobcaygeon.

The following is a report of the proceedings of the railway meeting held in Bobcaygeon on Friday last, 14th instant, which we are indebted to the Independent, the editor of that paper having kindly furnished us with proof sheets of the same. Owing to other business we were unable to be present, but the following very full report we trust will be of interest to our readers:—

A large and influential meeting was held in the Town Hall, Bobcaygeon, on Friday last, the 14th instant, to consider the claims of the Bobcaygeon and Lindsay Railway. The meeting assembled at 3 o'clock, and great interest was taken in the proceedings, for in addition to the promoters of the scheme there were present several gentlemen from the Town of Peterborough, including the Mayor, Mr. Hugel, the President of the Midland Railway, and Mr. Holden, the Manager of the Whitby Railway. Among the numerous gentlemen on the platform were Mr. D. G. Hatton, Police Magistrate of Peterborough, Mr. Toole, Mayor of Peterborough, Dr. Kincaid, Mr. Cox, Mr. Morrow, and Mr. Hopkins, of the same place; Mr. Macdonnel, of Lindsay; Mr. J. R. Campbell, of Port Perry; Mr. Hugel, of Port Hope; Mr. Holden, of Whitby; Mr. Ratten, of Lindsay; Mr. Flood, of the Victoria Warder; Mr. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon; Mr. Cairnduff, of Harvey; Mr. W. B. Read, Treasurer of the Railway Company, Mr. Howson, Secretary of the Company, and Messrs. J. L. Read, Dr. McCamus, J. Petrie, and W. Snowdon, members of the Executive Committee.

Some delay having taken place in the appointment of Chairman, owing to the absence of the Reeves of Verulam and Bobcaygeon, who were at a meeting of the County Council, Mr. W. B. Read was called to the chair.

Mr. READ said that the time had arrived when it was of the utmost importance that they should all join and make a united effort to get a railway to this place, and he did not think that they could have a better line than that which they were now invited to support. There was a time when he and others had wished to obtain railway connection eastward, through Peterborough and to tide water; but it was now too late to look in that direction, and they must take up this one which was the best because the most practicable.

Mr. BOYD, President of the Whitby and Bobcaygeon Extension Railway Company, who was received with cheers, stated that he regretted the absence of the two Reeves upon whom naturally devolved the representation of the people's desires and sentiments. His duty was of a different character. He had simply to place before them the Financial Statement of the Company, and to explain at once the nature of the undertaking, the way in which it was proposed to carry that undertaking to a successful issue, and the position of the Company which had the work in hand. This was an independent Company, being in fact the union of a number of persons interested in promoting the scheme of a railway to Lindsay, who had exerted themselves to obtain a charter from the Legislature forming them into a Company. This charter was of a very liberal character, and gave the promoters of the scheme all the powers which were necessary to carry out their project. The Company thus constituted was obviously too weak of itself to build this railway, and it therefore attached itself to the Whitby and Lindsay Railway Company—a Company which bore an excellent reputation for the faithful performance of its promises, and which was backed by a considerable money power. The financial scheme of the Company, to speak in general terms, was this: they proposed to obtain the necessary capital from four sources, viz.: municipal bonuses, Government subsidy, stock and bonds. The length of the line would probably be about sixteen miles, and its cost $170,000 or $180,000. The bonuses proposed were as follows:—Verulam, $20,000; Bobcaygeon, $20,000; Harvey, $15,000; Dunsford, $4,000, and a bonus from Lindsay, the amount of which was not yet fixed. Altogether, they expected to raise a sum of seventy or eighty thousand dollars by bonus. The Government grant would probably give them $35,000. They would then issue bonds for $5,000 per mile, and these bonds would be endorsed and floated by the Whitby Company. Lastly, they would be able, he thought, to induce some persons interested in the scheme to take stock to the amount of ten or twenty thousand dollars. Allowing for loss on the sale of the debentures and bonds, this would about raise the required capital. It would thus be seen that the whole scheme was dependent on these bonuses being voted, and he really thought they were very small. The sums he had named should be given freely. The money would soon be returned to them. The time had arrived when they must keep pace with the world, or they would be behind in the race. He had been a resident for forty years, and he saw that the time had come when it was absolutely necessary to have a railway. The resources they possessed were varied and extensive. The land was good and the agricultural advantages were great. The contemplated line of railway passed through a country in which there was not a single mile of poor land. This ought to be a rising and progressive country, for not only were its agricultural facilities of the best description, but their forest wealth had yet to be developed to its full extent, and the minerals of the country were as yet almost untouched. In connection with these mineral resources he would point out that phosphates would probably be found to abound, which would be a source of steady and certain wealth. They had numerous other minerals, including iron, silver, lead, and lime, all of which would eventually be valuable, but not until there were railways to give to them the value which otherwise they could not possibly possess. It was for them to develop these resources. It would be determined by the action they would take whether these resources should remain valueless or should at once be brought within the influences of capital and industry. It was for them to decide whether they would set free the springs of commerce, by means of a railway, and thus bring money from abroad to this country in exchange for their native productions, or whether in the future they would be content to live by eating up each other. He did not like to speak for any one else, and was sorry that Mr. Fairbairn and Mr. Rick were not present to speak for the people, but as far as he could explain it they now knew the hopes, the expectations, and the calculations of the Company. He did not think there would be any difficulty in raising the money if the Municipalities were true to themselves and voted these small sums. They knew that they thought of the railway. He was very desirous that the railway should be built, and would do all in his power to support it, and would pay his share of the taxes—a share which was by no means inconsiderable, with both satisfaction and gladness.

The Chairman, read a telegram from Mr. Elliott, a gentleman intimately connected with the excise factory interest, and who is the holder of a large new farm in Harvey, regretting that he could not be present, expressing his entire concurrence in the project, and promising to support the undertaking when his support would be most required.

Mr. HOLDEN on coming forward was received with applause. After a few preliminary remarks, he observed that two years ago he took a toll off the township of Verulam by obtaining a small bonus to the Extension of the Whitby line to Lindsay. At that time it gave him a great deal of trouble and much talking to explain to the people the benefit to be derived by the construction of a railway. He then showed that there was a difference of 10c a bushel on wheat, between Lindsay and Whitby; the millers of the front required the wheat of this neighbourhood to make good flour, and it only required the building of this extension to enable them to obtain the benefit of the difference of 10c a bushel. Now to prove that the suggestion he used at that time were correct, he had only to state that last year (in a two-bushel coarse had been paid to Lindsay that could be obtained in Toronto. Lindsay would not be out bid by Whitby. The Lindsay buyers had of course, lost money, but the farmers had reaped the benefit. The benefit these farmers derived in one season would pay the amount of tax for two years, and it all proceeded from the farmers of this neighbourhood will derive similar advantages from the construction of a railway to Bobcaygeon. This meeting is perhaps hardly the place to point out how the matter has been isolated hard along. All, however, that was required to place it in connection with the whole Railway system of the world was the connection of 16 miles of line to Lindsay. Cars could be seen in Lindsay from Halifax, from the New York Central line, and could be sent without change of gauge, either over the Midland or the Whitby, to California, Halifax, or any other point on the American Continent. The bonuses asked from Bobcaygeon, Verulam, and Harvey, amounting to about $60,000 were very small, indeed he thought them too small, when he compared the large district covered by these municipalities with the little town of Whitby which had given $30,000 in aid of railways. This was a large sum for Whitby, but since the construction of the railway the assessed value of the town had increased wonderfully, the debt had been reduced, and the tax was now scarcely felt. Here was an isolated district with unbounded resources lying useless in the bowels of the earth, and which could only be rendered available by railway connection. To obtain this desirable result a small fund was asked. One of the great benefits of railway connection was the facility afforded different sections of interchanging their special resources. In this section lime abounded. He had been brought up on a farm, and even now had a farm of 60 acres, but the farmers in the front townships were suffering seriously from the absence of lime. He had tried some of the Bobcaygeon lime on his farm and was satisfied with the result. Farms in the front which years ago produced 20, 40, and even 60 bushels an acre, are now only producing some 10 bushels. This was all through the want of lime and he was satisfied this neighbourhood had the capital and enterprise, if it was only given the opportunity of changing the enormous lime quarries into money, and furnishing a great number of men with remunerative employment. He then explained the advantages of quick communication with Toronto, pointed out that on a line being built to Bobcaygeon, the distance could be made in four hours and a half, and a person could go to Toronto and back the same day and have five hours in town. He adverted to the excellent equipment of the Whitby line, and observed that rather than connect with Peterborough and the Midland only, it would be better to connect at Lindsay with both the Midland and Whitby, and have two strings to the bow. The best place to go was where the best market was, where the best price could be obtained for the products of the land, and that place was Toronto the metropolis of Ontario. In the event of the proposed scheme being carried out, the Whitby line would run four trains a day to Bobcaygeon, and perhaps the Midland might also have four trains, and in that case he would ask them to picture to themselves the changes which would be brought about in Bobcaygeon in a few years. Flour mills would be in operation, the water power would be utilized, iron, lead, lime, and all the other natural products of the neighbourhood changed into sources of wealth. The day was not far distant when we should have reciprocity with the United States, and then the lumber trade, which for some years past had been struggling for existence, would return to its prosperous conditions as of yore. He concluded by urging the meeting to vote for the bonuses and to support the Lindsay and Bobcaygeon scheme in every possible manner.

Mr. TOOLE, on being called on, stated that he appeared before the meeting at the instance of a resolution passed at a meeting in Peterborough. He wished to point out that Peterborough had always placed a high value on connection with Bobcaygeon and the back country and still did so. When the Cobourg scheme was brought before them, the town of Peterborough gave a bonus of $60,000 to construct a line to Bobcaygeon, and $20,000 more to extend it to Fenelon. They gave the money willingly, and had hoped to see the line speedily opened, but the Company failed to carry out the scheme, owing to a depression in trade which immediately after affected the whole business of the country. The town was still liable for that bonus, and if the scheme were carried out he thought they would have to pay she money. Another instance of Peterborough's desire to preserve connection with the back was shown in the town voting $5,000 towards the Floating Bridges. The County, in consequence of that vote agreed to keep the bridges in repair, in perpetuity, but the County now repudiated that condition, and the town rather than not keep up connection, had agreed to vote money for repairs. Still another instance was afforded by the readiness with which Peterborough had voted a sum of money to pay for the preliminary expenses in Mr. Boyd's project for utilizing the Trent waters as a canal. It could not, therefore, be justly said that Peterborough had broken faith, or had been reluctant to pay any sums required to maintain connection between the two places. The natural outlet of this section was by way of Peterborough, and it was significant to observe that whilst Peterborough was ready to put its hand in its pocket, Lindsay refused to take any course which involved expense. Lindsay refused to pay any portion of the repair of the floating bridge, though it was altogether in the County of Victoria. He did not wish to speak disrespectfully of Lindsay, but it was clear that she refused to grant the petiton for repairing the bridge. The project he had to bring before them was this:—the Grand Junction Railway was now about to extricate itself from all the difficulties by which it had been surrounded, and in conference with the promoters of that line he had urged upon them to build a line to Omemee, with a branch to Bobcaygeon from Fowlers Corners. This would give Bobcaygeon a splendid railway connection, and would put them on a main line between Midland City and Belleville. This branch from Fowler's Corners was only 13 miles in length, and he begged of the meeting and of the Directors of the Company how submitting By-laws to Verulam and Bobcaygeon, to consider whether it would not be more to their advantage to build a line 13 miles long, giving connection with Peterborough and the east, and all points between Georgian Bay and Belleville, rather than to construct a line of 16 miles with connection with the west, in which direction their traffic and freight did not flow.

Mr. HATTON said that he had not only appeared before them to say a few words in the interests of Peterborough but also as a property holder in Harvey. He had to point out to the meeting that there was really no scheme whatever before them nor any guarantee that after they had voted the bonus they would have any railway at all. They might vote the money and get nothing for it. The railway might be commenced or it might not. The money was to be paid out on hand. Where was the bond? Who was to draw it? The By-law was everything, the Company nothing. They could put their money in the hands of Trustees, and then perhaps have to file a bill in Chancery to get it out again. The law courts were full of such cases. He did not think it was a fair By-law. Every particular should be stated in the By-law, and he did not think this By-law fair to the people who had to give the money. He would now say a word or two on a railway scheme, which he thought was worthy of their attention. He held in his hand a map prepared from actual survey, by Mr. George Reeve, the surveyor. This map showed the line of the projected railway from Peterborough to Bobcaygeon, and it demonstrated that a line of 13 miles would give Bobcaygeon the best possible connection with the railsystem. The Grand Junction Railway was open to Sterling, and was graded to Campbellford and the Company were about to proceed vigorously with the work of construction. The intention was to build the line to Peterborough, and on to Omemee and to unite the Midland line from thence to Wanbashene and Midland City. This would form a grand main line between Georgian Bay and Belleville. It was now proposed to make a branch from Fowler's Corners, which was distant six miles from Peterborough, to Bobcaygeon. The only other Summit, would allow that their branch should be 13 miles in length. This would give the shortest line to Toronto in connection with Belleville, and by this line produce would be nearer to a shipping port by 60 miles than if taken by way of Lindsay and Whitby. They all knew how many miles added to the cost of freight. The quantity of freight going out of Toronto was both to and fro all kinds, and to go east to the seaside and back was a matter of much weight. He could give no more reasons in favour of this scheme than were given from Bobcaygeon. This point was 60 miles nearer by way of Peterborough than by way of Whitby. Which was the cheapest? He admitted that Peterborough had not given the attention to the back country which it ought to have given. But Peterborough now offered Bobcaygeon a better scheme than any which had yet been proposed. They had been told that they had only come to cast cold water on the Lindsay scheme, but this was not the case. If the people of Bobcaygeon would prefer his scheme he could give a guarantee in one week from responsible men that the road would be built. For the Lindsay scheme there was no guarantee whatever, and as to the Whitby Company floating the bonds of an independent Company, why they could not float their own. There was a reasonable probability of the scheme of the Grand Junction being carried into effect, and by the plan he had pointed out Bobcaygeon would touch and make connection with the best and the most important line of railway.

Mr BOYD, in reply said that Mr. Hatton had certainly done one good thing by putting the people on their guard. He (Mr. Boyd) wished them to see, and it was their duty to see, that everything was correct. He urged upon them to place no reliance upon what Mr. Hatton had said, as he believed it was merely done to burk the vote. The figures given by Mr. Hatton were palpably incorrect. As to Fowler's Corners being only 13 miles from Bobcaygeon, that was a transparent misrepresentation. It was nearly twice that distance, as they must know. His sympathies he admitted, were all with Peterborough, he would like to have connection with Peterborough better than with any other place, but the time had gone by. The present scheme to Lindsay was the only sensible scheme offered, and that should be supported. The Belleville road should have been built long ago, it was a good one, but this Peterborough scheme was all fudge. Let them shew the guarantees they speak of, before any reliance is placed in it. Let them build the Grand Junction to Peterborough, and then if they ask Bobcaygeon to help them with their extension, we might assist in getting connection with Peterborough, as by that time we may be in a position to support both lines. He looked upon it as ungenerous of Peterborough to try to influence the present vote. Their scheme was all hypothesis, it was all ifs, it was nothing but a mass of complications of all kinds, in a perfect muddle.

Mr. MACDONNEL said that the scheme of the Lindsay Railway was a Bobcaygeon scheme, not a Lindsay scheme, though Lindsay took a deep interest in its success. Peterborough was always interfering in Lindsays schemes. In every project for railways to Lindsay Peterborough had interfered. Fortunately, Lindsay had always profited by this inteference, and the same would be the case in the instance before the meeting. The Peterborough people were strong at free lunches, and gave in return basswood hams and wooden nutmegs. As to the Grand Junction, Lindsay knew all about that. It had voted it fifty thousand dollars years ago, and it had not yet reached Peterboro', and still less had it reached the celebrated Fowler's Corners. They had bonused the Whitby line and had no cause for regret. That Company had fulfilled all its promises. The Whitby line was an excellent one, and by the means now proposed the people of Bobcaygeon would get a shorter and better line than any other, and besides, this could be got and the other could not.

Mr. HUGEL, on coming forward, was very favourably received. He said that seeing the notice calling the meeting, he thought that it was only due to the people of Verulam, Bobcaygeon, and Harvey, who on a former occasion had voted him bonuses, to come before them and give them certain explanations. It was due to a people who had formerly honored him with their confidence to meet them and explain his position. The plan which had been before them some six years ago, and which they had favoured so kindly, was defeated by the general depression which immediately afterwards set in. That depression had involved his line in difficulties, but those difficulties were now surmounted. The Grand Junction was about to be taken up and would certainly be built without delay, and by means of that line they could obtain through Peterboro' the line which they wanted, which was a line giving the shortest route to a lake port. Mr. Hugel then spoke of the disappointments he had met with in Port Hope by that town not assisting in the Midland extensions He was not there to oppose any railway project, but he was bound to say that Mr. Hatton's figures were correct. From Bobcaygeon to Peterborough by Fowler's Corners would be 19 miles. A competent surveyor had given in his survey and plans, and showed that the line was only 13 miles from Bobcaygeon to Fowler's Corners. He was pleased to say that his line was now within three miles of it terminus at Midland, his company had emerged from all its difficulties, and so sound was its position that if it were necessary he could finance for a million. Mr. Hugel asked Mr. Cox to corroborate his statement as to the sound financial position of his company, and Mr. Cox, as the representative of English bondholders, was understood to endorse Mr. Hugel's statements. He (Mr. Hugel) was not representing Port Hope but Peterborough, and he came there, not to oppose any project whatever, but to offer to their notice a scheme which would give them the best and quickest line for freight. He should not ask them even if they gave him aid, to pay any money until the line was finished and open for traffic. The project of the Grand Junction to Omemee was certain of completion, and if the people of these townships required it he could give them a sure guarantee of an early completion of the branch to Bobcaygeon. If Port Hope, on a former occasion, had given its assistance, the branch to Bobcaygeon, and an extension to the north would have been built. He was sorry to oppose Mr. Holden, for the Lindsay scheme was evidently Mr. Holden's, but he thought it his duty to tell the people that the project of a line from Bobcaygeon to Peterborough, would, almost immediately be placed fairly and squarely before them.

Mr. BOYD paid a passing tribute to Mr. Hugel, as a gentleman of great energy and enterprise, and no blame could be attributed to him, for the failure of the scheme to which Verulam and Harvey had formerly given a bonus. Port Hope and other places had disappointed Mr. Hugel, and they must bear in mind that similar disappointments might again occur. They must endeavour to obtain the shortest and cheapest line to a lake port. Such a line they obtained by way of Whitby.

Mr. J. B. CAMPBELL, then delivered a lengthy address, which want of space prevents us from reporting as fully as perhaps it should be. The address was admirably suited to the intellectual dispersion of the audience, and was much appreciated. We can only give a few points. He tackled Mr. Hatton on the bond question, and observed that no lawyer ever yet drew up a bond that another lawyer could not find fault with. Pointed out that all railway projects had opponents, and there was always some one to say the people were going to be robbed. He was pleased to hear Mr. Hatton acknowledge that Peterborough had been asleep and were at last awakening to the fact that their trade had gone. Some people were frightened at the appearance of the By-laws, but the Statute distinctly says that a certain rate in the dollar shall be mentioned, to be collected during the term of the debentures. The projected railway, although nearly most of them were aware, was then in rear was not entered into. Many farmers now Bonded their railway, many for double the amount of which were to run twenty years, but these debentures were all paid off at the end of the first year. The railway, as proposed, would not increase the value of the property of the ratepayers, but would also increase the value of property in the townships through which it passed. He would like to see the Peterborough people go to work and make the railway themselves, and would be glad to see the Peterborough people go to work and make the railway themselves, and would be glad to see the Peterborough people go to work and make the railway themselves, and would be glad

Fire! Fire!

In consequence of the late fire,

Messrs. McKee & Davidson

will be found in the store known as the Montreal House, almost immediately opposite their old stand where the business will be carried on as heretofore.

BAD TIMES.

People say that times must be very bad, or else S. WHITE must get his goods from people that want money very badly, as he is selling Ribbon for 20 cents per pair, as good as some stores are selling at 40 cents.

GOOD TIMES.

The present times must be pretty good, as S. WHITE'S store is more crowded than usual, which shows that there is a large quantity of ready money circulating through the Town.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 20, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

If you want Summer Clothing go to I. Robinson & Co—they have a lot which they are selling at half price. 21

Young Canadians' L. O. L.—A special meeting of the Young Canadians' Orange Lodge will be held this evening in the O. Y. M., Hall Simcoe street.

Early Peaches.—On Wednesday of last week Messrs. Stone & Bailey received a supply of the first peaches of the season. They had been shipped to them from Georgia.

W. G. Thompson's Sale.—Mr. W. G. Thompson's clearing sale during the past week has been especially well attended—the goods being offered at prices which made ready sales.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stenson & Son.

Facts.—We have it from undoubted authority that the quantity of liquor imported into Peterborough in May, 1878, is less than one-sixth of what was imported in May, 1877. Just think of it! Less than one-sixth!

Cricket Match.—A match at cricket was played last Saturday morning between the "Cherry Barks" and the second eleven of the "Oak Leaves." The game was won by the "Cherry Barks" by one run and six wickets.

A Celebrated Case.—The Union Square Company, billed to give a dramatic entertainment in the Opera House last Monday evening failed to put in an appearance, having disbanded in Toronto. A number of people were disappointed as no intimation of the withdrawal of the entertainment had been announced.

Dominion Day.—The midsummery progress which is being made by the several committees for the celebration of Dominion Day in Peterborough augurs well for the success of the manner, and it is but reasonable to presume that the display and attractions which will be offered to sight seekers will be superior to any thing yet seen in this part of the Province.

Methodist Conference.—The next meeting of the conference of the Methodist Church of Canada will be held in Port Hope. Among the names of the young men who have been admitted into full connection with the Conference, and who were ordained into the church on Sunday last we find that Wm. T. Dyre, of Peterborough; James Wass, Lindsay; Geo. Edwards, and Thos. C. Legate, Cobourg.

Hyman's Hat Store.—Mr. S. Hyman has this season superseded all former efforts in placing before the public a selection of hats of every description not excelled by even city dealers, while the prices will be found much below those of former years. In straw hats—just the thing for hot summer weather—purchasers will find the stock well assorted, and in variety sufficient to suit all tastes and purses. Give "The Hat Store" a call.

To Destroy Caterpillars.—A mode of destroying caterpillars has been discovered by accident. A piece of woollen rag had been blown by the wind into a currant bush, and when taken out was found covered by those leaf-devouring insects. Pieces of woollen cloth were immediately placed on every bush in the garden, and next day the caterpillars had universally taken to them for shelter. In this way thousands were destroyed every morning.

Trick Horse.—During the past week Mr. H. C. Winch has been training his trick horse in the Drill Shed preparatory to the exhibition to be given by him on Dominion Day. Each evening the Shed has been visited by large numbers to witness the performance, which is pronounced to be equal to any exhibitions of a similar nature yet given in this town, not excepting those given by the best trained circus horses. We'd advise all who wish to see a well trained horse to attend the exhibition on the 1st of July.

Liquor Cases in Asphodelsham.—On Monday last Georgo Hickey, Mrs. Scranston and Lewis Glover, appeared before W. Mills, Esq., and H. Bennett, Esq., Justices of the Peace, on a charge of violation of the liquor license law, preferred by Inspector Drain—the two former for selling without license, and the latter for allowing liquor to be drank upon his premises, the defendant holding a shop license. After several witnesses had been examined, judgment was reserved, and the cases belonged till Monday morning.

Temperance Convention.—As a large number of the friends of temperance are desirous of having the new Temperance Act submitted to the electors of the Town and County of Peterborough, it was resolved at a meeting of the County Temple, I. O. G. T., held at Selwyn on Monday last, that a public meeting be held in the Temperance Hall, Peterborough, on Thursday, 27th instant, to discuss the advisability of submitting the Act immediately. Ministers of the Gospel and all friends of temperance are earnestly invited to attend.

Nearly a Fire.—Mr. Wm. Hamilton's foundry narrowly escaped from being consumed by fire on Monday afternoon last. A spark from the shop had by some means or other caught in the roof but happily was noticed before any headway had been gained. The fire pump in connection with the foundry was immediately brought into requisition and the flames extinguished before any material injury had been effected. The new Fire Brigade turned out with commendable alacrity, but fortunately their services were not required.

Bible Christian Stations.—The following are the names of the ministers of the Bible Christian Church stationed in the Victoria and Peterborough District for the ensuing year:—

Little Britain—W. Kenner, J. W. Capson.
Manilla—J. Kemp.
Peterborough and Ashburnham—E. Roberts, F. M. Whitlock.
Lakefield—R. B. Berry.
Preston Falls—J. M. Tredrea.
Lindsay—R. T. Courtice.
Manvers and Cartwright—J. Harris, M. Metherall.

The next meeting of Conference will be held in Little Britain.

Steam Yacht "Tiger."—The favorite little steam yacht Tiger is this season again running between Lakefield, Burleigh and Mount Julian, leaving Lakefield every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, returning in time to connect with evening train going south. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday she is open for charter, and for small pleasure parties of twenty-five and under, it is just what is required to spend a pleasant day in enjoying the beautiful scenery of Clear and Stoney Lakes. In former years the Tiger has won the confidence and good will of travellers and pleasure parties, and we feel confident that the same satisfaction will be given this season, under the mastership of Mr. Lillicrap, who is of all things courteous and obliging to passengers.

Rev. E. B. Harper.—While sorry to lose Rev. Mr. Willoughby, we are pleased to learn that the Rev. E. B. Harper has been appointed to the pastorate of the Cobourg Methodist Church here, and that he has also been appointed President of the Conference. The Gazette, of Belleville, which city Rev. Mr. Harper leaves for Peterborough, says:—

"The appointment of Rev. E. B. Harper as the President of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada, by which a large majority of the ministers and laymen of that body, at present assembled in Conference, have signified their approval, is a graceful and appropriate recognition of the valuable and great services in the Church, in addressing him to the highest post of honor in the gift of the Conference, his brethren put on record in the most honorable manner their high appreciation of his worth in one of the most distinguished positions of that denomination in Canada. Mr. Harper is a clear, logical and forcible in his exposition of gospel doctrine, and brings to bear upon all subjects discussed the fruits of a well-stored intellect. He has read much and reasoned much, and his thought is not characterized by a strength and power of conviction that make them memorable in any congregation where he labors. His many friends in Belleville will rejoice at his promotion, and join heartily with others in wishing him the blessings of a well-spent life.

The Vacant Seats.—The nominations for Councillors to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Messrs. Millar and Robertson—the former in the Fourth Ward and the latter Second Ward—took place on Friday last.

FOR NO. 2 WARD.

Mr. John McClelland was nominated by Mr. James Stevenson, seconded by Mr. D. Perkins; Mr. James L. Hughes was nominated by Mr. Joseph Hinke, and seconded by E. J. R. Ormond; Mr. John Elder was nominated by Mr. D. Haggart, and seconded by Mr. W. Chamberlain.

FOR NO. 4 WARD.

Mr. D. W. Dunbar was nominated by Mr. James Watson, and seconded by Mr. John Armour; Mr. George Hall was nominated by Mr. Robert Sandall, and seconded by Mr. Samuel Griffin; Mr. Alex. Bapple was nominated by Mr. Richard Pearcet, seconded by Mr. W. D. Saylor.

Mr. Hall declined to run, and the contest was keenly contested, resulting at the close of the poll in favor of Mr. Hughes, for the Second Ward, and Mr. Baptie, for the Fourth Ward, the vote being as follows:—

SECOND WARD.

Mr. Hughes	149
Mr. Elder	112
Majority for Mr. Hughes	37

FOURTH WARD.

Mr. Baptie	65
Mr. Dunbar	54
Majority for Mr. Baptie	11

"Grip." Grip got a good one last week. Taking up Tupper's suggestion that Mr. Cartwright should be represented as "General Distress," Grip presents the Finance Minister in military costume, with drawn sword guarding the leaves and flakes, the "sweets of office," the "flesh pot," and other toothsome morsels for which the hungry politician is said to hanker. In front of him, drawn up in line are Sir John, Tupper, the Pharisee, Nicholas Flood Davin, Plumb, John Beverly Robinson, and Mr. W. H. Fraser, all but the latter looking attenuated and miserable, as the result of the "hard times" politically, of the past four or five years. Each one carries a knife or spoon, or knife and fork, and with longing looks they watch an opportunity to attack the good things guarded by General Cartwright. The cartoonist has been very happy in portraying the peculiarities of his subjects. Davin's polished grit, the disordered locks of the Pharisee, and the dreamy poetical expression of the sweet bard of Niagara, are well brought out. The somewhat threatening attitude of J. S. P., his X teeth, with naked knife in hand is explained by the couplet,

"Let us carve
Or we starve."

John B. Robinson's boxing glove and milk jug require no explanation. Neither does the peaceful appearance of Mr. J. H. Fraser, the well paid agent of the Protection League. He can fight it out on that line forever. The wall decorations are equally good. "Hard Times;" Depressed Manufacturers and Politicians;" "Famine! Great Scarcity of Leaves and Fishes;" "Protect the Struggling Politician;" "National Policy," give an accurate illustration of the main motives of the Opposition leaders in sounding their dismal cry of distress from end to end of the Dominion. Everybody should get a copy of Grip. The cartoon is a study.

Personals.—The Fairbairn Family have been playing in Providence, R. I., and Hall River Mass., recently and elicited favourable comments from the leading papers. At the latter place they took part in a benefit entertainment to the manager of the Academy of Music and the following is what the Daily Herald has to say about the singing of the Misses Fairbairn: "Buy my Caller Herrin" was sung in costume, with dishes, by Miss Polly, and from the possessor came of the song was very interesting. Miss Bessie after she had sung Robin Adair was encored, and on her appearance was presented with a large and handsome bouqet of flowers. ..... Mr. A. Hugel, President Midland Railway, passed through here on Friday morning last, on his way to attend the railway meeting at Bobcaygeon ..... Messrs. E. H. Edwards, E. H. D. Hall, G. M. Roger, and Miss Roger, left here on Thursday last for the Paris Exhibition. ..... Mr. Hugh Bertram and Mrs. Peter Bertram left for "Auld Scotia on Thursday last..... Several of our local sports have been on a visit to "Uncle Sam" during the past week, taking advantage of the Y. M. C. A. cheap excursion from Port Hope..... Mr. J. Sharpe, Assistant train-despatcher on the Midland, has received the appointment of despatcher on the Hamilton and North Western Railway. Mr. Sharpe's many friends will be pleased to hear of his advancement. We wish him success .... We are glad to learn that Mr. John Millar, of Otonabee, is recovering, and that he was not as seriously injured as was at first reported ..... Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, have returned from their trip to New Brunswick..... Mr. John Kindred and wife, of Otonabee, leave here today, for a pleasure trip to the isle of Man—Mr. Kindred's native place. He has been absent about thirty-nine years and will no doubt notice many changes which have taken place during that time. We wish them a pleasant journey and a safe return ..... Mr. H. Wade, of Port Hope, one of the directors of the Central Exhibition, has been in town during the last few days.

Taxes For 1878.—As most of our town readers are aware a By-law was passed by the Town Council in February last, providing for the payment of taxes in instalments. By its provisions all taxes of the town shall become payable on the 15th of July—the amount of such taxes being divided into two instalments. Upon the punctual payment of the first instalment an extension of time till the 1st of November will be given for the remaining portion. The following are the principal clauses of the By-law:—

"1. All Taxes shall be due and payable to the Treasurer on the 15th day of July, subject to the following proviso.—That is to say, the amount of each item of taxation shall be subdivided into two parts or instalments in manner hereinafter provided and on punctual payment of the first of such parts or instalments on the said day of July, but not otherwise, an extension of time shall be given for the payment of the second part or instalment to the first day of November next.

"2. A subdivision of each item of taxation shall be made into two parts or instalments, in manner following, that is to say, the first part or instalment which may be paid on the fifteenth day of July shall consist of one half of the amount, both in principal and interest, of all taxes in the subdivision of the said item as to leave a residue without fractional parts of a dollar, and which shall constitute the second part or instalment which may be paid on the first day of November as in the proviso in the preceding clause mentioned.

"3. It shall be the duty of the Town Treasurer to give due public notice for at least 4 weeks previous to the 15th day of July, when said instalment is payable, and it is hereby enacted,—That the payment of any part or instalment of Taxes under this By-law shall not relieve the said Taxes, or any part thereof, from the penalty before the said 15th day of July, and subject to the proviso, that on the punctual payment of the said first part or instalment on the said 15th day of July, but not otherwise, an extension of time will be given, for the payment of the second part or instalment to the 1st day of November, and it will be the duty of the Collector immediately after the said second days, appointed for payment of arrears to collect all taxes by distress or otherwise, under the provisions of the Statute in that behalf, all such Taxes, Rates or instalments of Taxes then due and unascertained, as have not been paid on or before the said several days appointed for payment as aforesaid giving to or for each defaulter three days' notice of the amount of arrears contained shall adopt or diminish the right of the Collector in any case where he may consider it expedient after a proper demand has been made to proceed at any time between the two several days appointed for payment, to levy and said, with the collection of Taxes by distress and sale under the provisions of the Assessment Law relative to Collectors and their duties."

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—On Saturday, the 15th instant, George Hale was charged by Constable McGhee with being drunk and disorderly. He was remanded until Tuesday, 18th instant, when he was fined $5.00.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY.—On Tuesday, 17th instant, John Daly was charged with being drunk and disorderly on the streets, by Constable McGhee, and was fined $4.00, to be paid forthwith.

REMANDED.—On Tuesday morning George Wheeler was further remanded for one week.

DRUNK.—George Campbell, of Douro, whowas committed to jail on Saturday, the 8th instant, on default of a fine of $4.00 and costs, for drunkenness, was further committed on Tuesday, 18th instant, on default of a fine of $4.00 and costs.

ASSAULT.—On Wednesday morning Joshua Cook charged Elizabeth Bellill with assaulting him on the previous day. Defendant admitted striking complainant, but said that it was in self defence, that complainant had been abusing her, and that she had only struck him after he had struck her. Complainant's story was different. Fined $5.00, to be paid forthwith, or in default 21 days. She refused to pay the fine and was committed.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The June Session—Warden's Address and Report Thereon—Tolling a Holiday.

The June Session of the County Council opened in Township afternoon in the Council Chamber in the Court House.

There was present,—John Burnham, Esq., Warden, and Messrs. Chase, Sanderson, Lang, Dinsworth, Miller, Bickford, Burgess, Cassells, Bell, Galloway, Collins, Mahoney, Pearce, Lang, and Hicks.

The minutes of the last day of the last session were read and approved.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

The WARDEN read the following address:—

To the members of the County Council:—

GENTLEMEN,—Among the matters that will come before you at this session, there are some to which I desire especially to refer. I am pleased to be able to inform you that the finances of the county are in a good position, all county rates are fully paid up and there is a considerable balance in the Treasurer's hands, with no notes discounted.

In accordance with the wish of the Council, I took such steps as were necessary to secure the apprehension of the two persons, Hobbs and Morphy, who were concerned in the Chemeba outrage. They were tried and committed at the last session. The expense incurred was very considerable, and being of a special nature and not provided for by the tariff regulating the Administration of Justice, it was not considered advisable to bring the accounts before the Board of Audit, but apply to the Government for a special grant. Application was accordingly made to the Attorney-General, who declined to entertain it out of the usual course. I think it would be desirable to memorialize the Government on the subject.

The By-law passed to bring into operation the Temperance Act of 1864 in the county, has been carried by the Courts, on the ground of insufficiency of notice. I observe the same objection has been raised to the by-laws of other municipalities, and is now being tested in the courts by law. I am of opinion that the insufficiency of the notice was caused by a misapprehension as to the strictness of the law, and that no blame is attributable to any one in the matter.

The Pigeon Creek Bridge having got so much out of repair, and as I had been notified by the contractor for carrying the mail to Bobcaygeon, that he would build the county responsible for any damage that would transpire through neglect to repair, I ordered the County Treasurer to have the bridge repaired. While was amply sufficient funds at the time given to the public. I am informed that the County Council of Victoria have repaired the span of four hundred dollars, between putting the bridge in a thoroughly state of repair. I would recommend that you should give a like amount, provided other municipalities interested make up the balance required.

Since you last met the Town of Peterborough have made application to the Government to obtain a conveyance of the old Burying Ground in the town of Peterborough. As soon as I was aware of the application I communicated with the Government, requesting them to take no action till the claims of the county could be considered. I would suggest that a committee be appointed to confer with the Town Council in regard to this matter, and I have no doubt but that it can be arranged to the satisfaction of all parties.

I have received a petition praying for the dissolution of the union of Dummer and Cavendish, from the ratepayers of the latter township, and asking to be united to the township of Harvey.

The Gaol, as at the last session, is in the presentment, referred to the consideration of the Court House, and a copy of their presentment is now before you. This subject has been referred to in the presentment of former Grand Juries, and in the charges of the Judges presiding at the Courts. It is to be presumed that the grievances complained of are seriously felt by those concerned in the Administration of Justice, and that the complaints made are not made merely as a matter of form, or for the purpose of putting the county to unnecessary expense. I therefore think that the Council should take some action, and make such alterations and improvements as are necessary to fit the building for the purposes for which it is used.

The Toronto and Ottawa Railway Company, request you to pass only two sittings at the time for commencement, and report in the first sitting day of August, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy nine.

Of course there are many other matters that will come before you, and I feel confident that they will receive the careful consideration their nature and importance justifies.

JOHN BURNHAM.
Warden.

June 18th, 1877.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. B. McWilliams, County Master, asking an holiday at the Orangeman, for the use of the Court House Park on the coming 12th of July.

From H. Cahoett, inviting the County Council for a trip to Idyl Wild on Thursday, and stating that they would be joined by the Town and Township Councils.

From W. H. Scott, stating that the Toronto & Ottawa Railway Company request the County Council at its present session to pass a By-law authorizing until the 1st of August next the time within which they are to guarantee $2,000,000 of municipal aid, and also extending until that time the time for the commencement of work in the County of Peterborough, and that an effort would be made this summer to procure the municipal aid necessary towards obtaining the Government aid, and that unless the By-law asked for be passed the By-law of the County will elapse. The County Councils of Perth and Lanark had extended the time.

Moved by Mr. COLLINS, seconded by Mr. GOLBORNE,—That Messrs. Sanderson, Millar, Pearce, Burgess, Bell and the mover and seconder of the Warden's Address.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. BELL, seconded by Mr. COLLINS, That all papers in the hands of the Treasurer or Warden be referred to their respective committees.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. MILLAR, seconded by Mr. GOLBORNE,—That the invitation of Mr. Calcutt for a trip to Idyl Wild on Thursday be accepted.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned for an hour to give the committee time to report on the Warden's Address.

REPORT ON WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

On motion the Committee on the Warden's Address reported as follows:—

That they have much pleasure in complimenting the Warden and Treasurer and county generally upon the unprecedented fact, that the county does not owe a bank a single dollar at the present time, and have a balance on hand.

They would recommend that a committee be appointed by the Warden to prepare a memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council with regard to the expenses incurred in apprehending the criminals in the Chandos outrage, as recommended by him, and that both the Warden and the Reeve of Harvey and Constable Cochrane deserve the thanks of the community at large as well as this Council for their action in this matter.

While regretting that the Dunkin By-law has been quashed through insufficient notice your committee are full convinced that no blame is attached to any member or official of the Council in consequence of insufficient time being allowed for passing the same.

With reference to the closing up of the Pigeon Creek Bridge, your committee are of opinion that the Warden was justified in giving notice of closing the same, and are pleased to learn that the County of Victoria have at last found this bridge to be of sufficient advantage to that County to justify them in making a grant of $400 towards its repair, and recommend that the whole matter be refered to the Road and Bridge Committee.

The committee approve of the action taken by the Warden in reference to the Burial Ground, and request him to appoint a committee to meet the Committee of the Town Council.

They would recommend that the petition of the ratepayers of Cavendish, asking that that township may be disunited from the township of Galway and united with the township of Harvey be referred to the Committee on Petitions with instructions to report on the prayer of the same.

They recommend that the propriety of improving the Court room be referred to the committee on County Property and the Engineer, with instructions to report as soon as possible.

The committee recommended that a By-law be passed extending the time for the commencement of the Toronto & Ottawa Railway till the 1st of August, 1879, according to the request of the Company.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JAMES GOLBORNE, Chairman.

The report was received and adopted.

The WARDEN named Messrs. Collins, Choate, Miller and Moloney a committee to meet with the Town Council in reference to the old Burial Ground.

Moved by Mr. BURGESS, seconded by Mr. PEARCE,—That the petition of John Vansickle and twenty-four others be referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10 a.m.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Information having been given to the inhabitants of this terrestrial globe, which floats like a speck of dust on a monochromatic sunbeam, that the Great Mogul of the trans-Mississippian Continental Confederation will perambulate the streets of Peterborough, attended by a gorgeous retinue of richly-appareiled officers, potentates, hangabouts, dancers, fans and dust, we are inspired by the invincible spirit of the immortal Smith, to tender his advice and these suggestions to his kindness and followers:

ADVICE.—To those many men who purpose disgracing themselves for parade, are in the habit of wearing ill-fitting and unbecoming raiment, an excellent occasion would be a well-fitting and graceful suit of clothes.

SUGGESTION 1ST.—The last described garments are made at Madison & Green's.

SUGGESTION 2ND.—The best refreshment in the heat phase to promote such digestion.

SUGGESTION 3RD.—They are selling at less than their usual figures as the season is far advanced.

SUGGESTION 4TH.—[illegible] order by the [illegible] 21-2

—Belleville transfers for 1877—14 mills on the dollar, for town purposes, and 16 mills for schools.

—He grave kept Green, in the title of a new song, which might be inappropriately sung by Conservatives when treating of the Pacific Scandal and Mr. Macdonald's hard fate.

—An exchange says:—A woman who has lived for some time in Nevada, disguised as a man, was married to another woman last autumn. SHOOTING CASE.

A Man Shot through the Head on Wednesday night, 12th instant, while attempting Housebreaking and Arson.

On Wednesday night, 12th instant, one of those lamentable events which so shock a community occurred in South Monaghan, in the vicinity of the Wallace Point Bridge. A young man named William Mahoney living shot through the head by Martin Henry, caretaker of the Point Bridge. It appears from what we can learn that Mahoney had that day been at an excursion to Idyl Wild, and that on his way home he became the worse of liquor. Some time after landing at the bridge he and a companion, named John Dwyer, started for home, having to pass by the dwelling of Martin Henry, with whom, we are informed, Mahony previously had a quarrel, and against whom he had made several threats. When the two arrived at Henry's, Mahoney aroused the inmates and demanded admittance, stating that he wanted to see Henry. Mrs. Henry ordered him away telling him that her husband was not at home. Being again refused admittance he broke open the door and proceeded to the bedroom, when Henry sprang out of bed and seized a gun, telling Mahoney if he did not at once leave he would shoot him. Mahoney refused to leave and Henry only too fatly executed our informant's threat, by discharging the contents of the gun in his hand, the shot entering the forehead in the vicinity of the right eye. Mahoney expired almost without a struggle, and Dwyer, who had remained outside, hearing the report of the gun took to flight, and was afterwards found sitting at the roadside crying, by some of the neighbors who were repairing to the scene of the tragic deed. He said he had urged Mahoney to refrain from entering the house but without avail, and that when he heard the gun fired he became alarmed for his own safety and ran away. An inquest was held next day by Coroner King, of Bellieboro, when the following verdict was rendered:—

"That the late William Mahoney came to his death at the hands of Martin Henry, and that the said Martin Henry was guilty of manslaughter while acting in self defence."

Henry at once gave himself up and has since been lodged in Cobourg jail to await his trial.

We understand that of late Mahoney, who was a powerful fellow, had become a terror to the neighbourhood. A few weeks previous he had broken into Mr. David Morton's house and committed a most aggravated assault upon that gentleman, and for which offence a warrant had been issued, but the authorities failed to put it into execution—the officer not being able to find him the first time he went after him. This particular night Mr. Morton hearing Mahoney was at the Point, and fearing a repetition of the outrage, had his gun loaded and was prepared to use it in self defence, as Mahoney again threatened to be revenged for some imaginary offence.

Under these circumstances it can scarcely be wondered at that much sympathy is felt for Henry by the community, and it is generally believed he will be liberated.

THE DUNKIN BILL CASES.

The Adjourned Case of Cox re. Huffman—The Posting of the Notices Proven—Another Legal Question Raised—A Further Adjournment.

On Monday morning the adjourned case of Cox re. Huffman, for an infraction of the Dunkin Act By-law, came up again for hearing. Messrs. Scott, Edmison and Smith appeared for the defence, and Mr. Dumble for the prosecution. The following is the main portion of the evidence:—

Mr. DUMBLE said that he purposed offering some further evidence with regard to the publication of the By-law, and called on

Mr. G. B. SPROULE, who being sworn, said he saw copies of the requisition upon the walls of Mr. Taylor's fence and in the archway of the Town Hall block. His attention had been called to them by either the late Mr. Rubidge or Mr. Hudson, who told him on Friday evening that they saw his father's name on a requisition posted up on the walls. He saw the notices the following morning. One of the sheets was pink and the other white. This was on Saturday morning. His brother was buried on the 27th of last September. He was at his father's place on the same day. He had been trying to persuade his father to join the Good Templars, which he did on the following Tuesday—the 2nd of October.

To Mr. Scott.—He had advocated the Temperance cause for over a year. He had assisted at the Temperance meetings. He desired to see the Bill passed. He took down the names of those who voted for and against the Dunkin Bill. He took the names on his own responsibility. This was the first trial that he had attended. He read an account of a trial while in Lindsay at the Reform demonstration. He could not say whether it was the first or second trial. He had heard about a week ago at his father's that the validity of the By-law was questioned upon the posting of the notices. He told his mother last week that he remembered seeing the notices on Saturday morning the 29th. He thought the case was one for exposing liquors. The EXAMINER is taken in the shop where he is employed. He remembered seeing the notices on the fence on Saturday, the 29th of September last, on account of his attention being directed to them by either Mr. Hudson or Mr. Rubidge telling him on the Friday evening, the 28th, that his father's name was on the requisition. He was not at any meeting on Thursday evening, it being the day that his brother was buried. On Sunday, the 30th, he was at his father's, urging him to join the Good Templars. Meetings were being held frequently at that time. He knew that there were requisitions being signed. He seldom read the newspapers unless something particular was brought to his notice. He did not look in the EXAMINER to see the requisition. His father joined Friendship Temple on the 2nd of October. He thought that the date would appear in the books of the Lodge. He was Secretary of the Lodge at that time.

Mr. JOSEPH FORD, sworn. He saw the requisitions on Mr. Alexander's fence, south of the grocery, on the last Saturday of September. It was posted on the fence. He read it. He had been looking for the publication of the notices, and when they were posted he noticed them.

To Mr. Scott.—The requisition was posted in the centre of a large sheet. He saw them on the wall on the last Saturday in September. He looked in the Almanac and saw that it was on the 29th of September last. It was not long after he saw them that he consulted the Almanac for the date. He told his family after he saw it on the fence that it would be about a month before the voting. He knew that all By-laws required to be posted up on the walls about a month before the voting. He knew that this By-law would have to be advertised. He took an active part in the carrying of the Dunkin Bill and attended nearly all of the meetings. He did not belong to any Temperance organization. He was at one time a member of the Sons of Temperance. He left been a total abstainer for over 15 years.

Mr. SCOTT said that he intended to ask for an enlargement of the case to enable him to get the books of the Friendship Temple, so as to make certain whether Mr. Sproule was correct in the dates.

Mr. DUMBLE said that he would oppose any enlargement as there was a superabundance of evidence already.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

GEORGE DAWSON, sworn said. He left the EXAMINER office on Tuesday the 29th of September. He had been working there nearly two years. He returned to the EXAMINER office on the 22nd of October. During the interval he was in town and in the Village of Keene. He went to Keene on Wednesday the 3rd of October. He saw the requisition posted up in town the day before he went to Keene. He saw one in the archway, and one opposite Mr. Cavenagh's. He thought that the bill was a little longer than the Dunkin sheet. The first bill was those being posted up, but they were not dry when he saw them. He remembered the date from the fact that there was a Conservative Demonstration in the Village of Millbrook on the same Tuesday that the bills were posted.

To Mr. Dumble.—He lived at present in Port Hope, Michigan. He came here on his requisition business. He came of his own accord. He had invitations to come. He had received one letter asking him to come. Mr. R. H. Smith wrote the letter. Mr. Smith did not write him asking him to come. The letter that he received was in town. He expected that he could get the letter. He answered the letter. He received a telegram from Mr. Smith in the first place. He did not know whether the telegram was here or not. He had no letters from any person else about the matter. He wrote two letters to Mr. Smith. He did not know what motives Mr. Smith had reference to when he received the first message. He was offered nothing to come and did not expect to get anything. He came of his own accord. He was not told that he would be dealt handsomely with. He left the EXAMINER on Tuesday morning the 26th of September last. He thought that he was in the office the same day. He remembered the day of the Conservative pic-nic in Millbrook from a poster he had seen in the EXAMINER office. He could not always remember the dates on posters. He had not demanded anything from any person for coming here. His fare was $7.60. He intended returning to Port Hope. He saw the bills on Tuesday the 2nd of October. He could not say that he saw any other particular bill on the fence on that day. He remembered this bill after he had received a paper with Mr. Huffman's evidence in it. One of the messages that he received from Mr. Smith stated that he would receive copies of the EXAMINER and Review. He was told that he would have to prove the time of posting the bills. He was certain that he saw two bills on the 2nd of October and they were both wet. It first occured to his mind that the posters were wet when he heard about the case. He did not know how the Anti-Dunkins found out that he knew when the bills were posted. He did not know what notices Mr. Smith referred to in his first message, and telegraphed him to explain more fully what notices he had reference to, which Mr. Smith did. He then wrote that I knew when they were posted. He did not tell Mr. Smith how he knew that the posters were up on the day mentioned. My time expired on the Saturday evening previous to my leaving the EXAMINER office. He asked for his time and was told by Mr. Stratton that it would be given to him in a day or two. Mr. Stratton said he had not time to attend to it just then. He could not say what work he done the last four days he worked in the EXAMINER office on a Saturday night. He remembered seeing him leave. His mother told him that it was on the 22nd of September that his brother left the EXAMINER. We quit work on Saturday at 6 p.m., and every day evening at 6 p.m.

To Mr. SCOTT.—He saw his brother several times in the EXAMINER office after he left, cannot say whether he worked or not.

J. R. STRATTON, re-called, said: He had a conversation with Mr. Reddy, but said nothing as to when the notices were put up.

R. M. REDDY, re-called. Had a conversation with Mr. Stratton. Mr. Stratton said that he hoped that the date of the posting of the notices would be proven.

Mr. CHAS. D. MACDONALD, Town Clerk, sworn said: He had a conversation with Mr. Scott to look after the posting up of the notices. He looked and saw that the notices were put up. He could not tell the date. They were simply after he spoke to Mr. Stratton about them. His thought he would have no difficulty in proving the date of posting. His attention had been drawn to the fact that the 29th had been posted. He applied to Mr. J. R. Stratton to prove the publication of the notices. He remembered Dawson and Mr. Smith coming to his office but could not say what their conversation was. He paid no attention to them.

Mr. JAMES STRATTON, re-called:—He saw the posters on the walls on the 29th of September, the Saturday following the first publication of the By-law in the EXAMINER. He went into the EXAMINER Office on Thursday morning and gave the order for the notices.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution and defence.

Mr. SCOTT then addressed His Honor for over 45 minutes, bearing as strongly as possible on the evidence given.

Mr. DUMBLE followed, and said that he hardly thought it necessary to dwell on the publication of the notices, as it had in his opinion been established by several witnesses.

The POLICE MAGISTRATE held that the By-law was proved so far as the date of the publication of the notices being four weeks before the date fixed for voting.

Mr. SCOTT argued that if the notices were proven he still held that the By-law was not in force in the town of Peterborough, on the grounds that the Inspector of Licenses had not been served until the first of June.

Mr. DUMBLE contended that due notice had been given when the Collector of Inland Revenue had been duly notified, and that the clauses of the Ontario Act referred to by Mr. Scott, did not apply to the cases under the Dunkin Bill where the Dunkin Act had been adopted, previous to the coming into force of the revised statutes.

The Police Magistrate reserved his decision until Thursday morning, at 10 a.m., after which the adjourned cases will come up for hearing.

The Art of Prolonging Life.

People generally desire long life and good health. Sickness and premature death are almost always due to violations of the laws that govern our physical being, and of which the masses are ignorant. If men knew better they would do better; but how can they avoid an evil that they know not of? While efforts are made through the public schools to give each child a so-called common English education, yet the children are permitted to grow up and enter upon the responsible duties of active life, profoundly ignorant of the structure of their own bodies, and the laws of physical being upon which their health and lives depend. They are sent to school and crammed with arithmetic grammar, and geography, by teachers who, in many instances, have never studied physiology and hygiene. They are taught to locate the mountains and trace the rivers of foreign countries, but are never taught to locate the vital organs and glands of their own bodies, or trace the veins, arteries, and nerves, in their various ramifications. They are instructed in the flow of the tides, and the course of the ocean currents and the philosophy of winds and storms; but they have no correct conception of the relative effects upon their health of breathing pure or impure air, nor has their attention ever been called to the importance of keeping their bodies clean and healthy by regular bathing. The criminality of such neglect in teaching becomes apparent when we consider that the masses, ignorantly violating the laws of health, bring upon themselves sickness, suffering, and death, that might otherwise be avoided. In this condition of things we welcome into being any word that is calculated to impart to the masses a knowledge of the structure of their own bodies the laws of health, and the importance of observing those laws. We find Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser to be just such a work. It is physiological and pathological, and the major part of it should be converted into a text-book for the use of common schools. Its careful study will enable the healthy to preserve their health, and the sickly to regain health. Every parent should read it, and as their children become of proper age instruct them in the all-important truths it contains. Were this done much suffering and premature death would be prevented, and many a youth saved from a life of shame and licentiousness. The book contains nearly one thousand pages, is profusely illustrated with colored plates and wood-engravings, and can be had by addressing R. V. Pierce M. For Severe Coughs and Hoarseness.

Philadelphia, Jan. 1, 1876.

Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons:

Gentlemen—Miss B. Burns, of 17th and Coates streets, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered dangerous. She has consulted with several eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. She took one of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of sufferin, humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly,

T. D. McGRATH, M. D., Druggist and Chemist.

SWEET SEVENTEEN.

How light her fairy footsteps fall:
The garden gate she gently clinch,
And wanders by the blossomed wall,
While June makes mirth among the roses.

The burnished braids that deck her head
With careless ribbon loosely hidden,
Her friend Louisa calls them red,
Louisa's brother says they're golden.

Unschooled in the mysteries arts
Of picking all her charms to pieces,
Nor skilled to chain her lover's hearts
With witchery of loves capsicum:

Lips that would scorn the truth to hide.
A laugh that's silvery and hearty,
The angel of the poor, the pride
Of every jolly Christmas-party.

To flirt with poor old Colonel Clarence,
And wring his heart with pitiless haughty,
Between the pauses of the dance—
It's nice—but oh, its very naughty!

Then eastwards when the sun sets down,
For fear mamma should scent the treason!
Poor innocent! condemned to run
The gauntlet of a city season.

She dreams all loves beneath the moon
Are equal parts of truth and honey;
Leave her alone—she'll learn too soon
That love's another name for money.

Where is the nameless grace of old,
The spotless soul the pure compassion?
Alas! is all the virgin gold
Untarnished by the dust of fashion?

And she, a city season's belle,
Of slaves and suitors she'll have plenty;
And marry, if her world goes well,
A rich old widower when she's twenty.

HINTS FOR JUNE WORK.

(From the American Agriculturist.)

CORN.—The present season is, in the country generally, probably the earliest on record. Much corn was planted earlier than usual, and it is necessary to give extra attention to cultivation. Weeds grow rapidly in such a wet season as this, and should be kept down by frequent working. The forward season may cause growth of stalk at the expense of the ear. As a remedy remove the suckers from the root. A handful of superphosphate of lime applied about the hill now will help the earing.

HAYING.—There will be little hay cut in July this year, unless it is a second crop. Even at the North much has been cut already and we must hasten to secure the rest before it is over-ripe. The grass and clover being very succulent, will need careful drying. Curing in the cock will greatly improve the quality.

Curing in the cock will require two or three day's time. The grass or clover cut in the forenoon may be raked up before evening and thrown in the windrows. These may be left until the afternoon of the next day, when they may be thrown into tall cocks, containing about three hundred or four hundred pounds, and left one day and night to sweat. In this condition the hay ferments and heats, and the excess of moisture is driven off. This process ripens the hay and improves it very much. After this curing and a little airing there is no danger of the heating in the mow or stack. To keep the cocks dry Hay Caps will be useful. These are made of a square of heavy sheeting (2 yards), with a strong cord on the edges, and having an eyelet hole at each corner. Tie-s are placed over the cocks and tied down to each corner to pegs driven into the hay. They will turn a steady rain of 24 hours duration, and keep the hay dry.

FODDER CROPS.—A variety of these are better than any single one. Animals love variety and a change of food is healthful and increases the appetite. Besides a number of well-tried fodder crops, we have some promising new ones, oats and peas, field corn, the large kinds of sweet corn, millet, Hungarian grass, and various root crops, furnish a large choice. Of the new fodder crops, pearl millet, golden millet, southern cow-peas, and the large mangels, promise to be worth a trial. The two varieties of millet mentioned have yielded immensely, and as a crop for green or dry fodder, and for cleaning the soil, as well as plowing under for manure, the southern cow-pea has been tried successfully. This pea is to be sown now, as soon as may be.

ROOTS.—Ruta-bagas and white turnips may be sown this month; of the later white Norfolk and "cows-horn" can be grown and pulled for fall feed in time to be followed by fall grain.

WASTE PLACES may be utilized by ploughing and sowing them to some late crop. Every acre and square rod should be made useful in some way; every farm has spots of this kind that could be made profitable, instead of remaining a nursery of weeds.

COWS are now in full flush of milk. As June butter is chosen for packing for winter use, care should be taken to preserve it from all imperfections. This care will be repaid by better quality. Pure water, good feed, and clean management of the milk and cream, are needed to make the best butter.

CELLARS are made damp by inconsiderate methods of ventilation. When a cellar is ventilated in the middle of the day, in an attempt to make it dry, the opposite effect is produced. The hot air is highly charged with moisture, cellar walls and floor are much cooler than the outside atmosphere, and when air is admitted in the day, moisture is deposited as dew on the floor and walls, to the disappointment of the owner. Cellars should therefore be ventilated at night, and kept closely shut up and dark in the day time especially in hot weather.

HORSES.—Fly-time has come, and unless some precautions are taken to rid the horses of their tormentors, they cannot do a full complement of work. We find Buchan's carbolic soap, made into soap-suds with hot water and sponged over the legs and shoulders, and left to dry on the skin, a very good preventive. Cleanliness and darkness in the stables will contribute greatly to the comfort of the horses at this season.

SHEEP.—The ewes and wethers should be tagged and kept free from filth. Many sheep are lost for want of this precaution, by becoming fly-blown. When the maggots have once gained a hold upon a sheep, there is no help for the poor animal; a horrible death—being literally eaten alive by the maggots—is its fate. This can be easily avoided by care.

LAMBS.—Early lambs will now need some extra feed. To wean lambs easily, turn them into a field, with a few dry cows, out of sight of their mothers. The mothers will need close watching, lest their udders suffer from the retention of the milk. Copious milkers should be relieved of the milk every morning.

DIPPING SHEEP AND LAMBS.—At this season, it be advisable to dip the lambs at least, if not the sheep as well, to rid them of the hateful ticks. A very safe and effective cure is Buchan's Crenylic Sheep Dip, which not only kills the ticks, but cures and prevents scab, and greatly helps to prevent the Bycomaggot above referred to.

POULTRY.—Young chicks should be pushed ahead as fast as possible. If possible a good run should be given them. The will do much good in the garden, if the hens can be kept out. A light netting, for separating chicks, dividing runs, or protecting the garden, will be found useful.

SWINE.—A run in the orchard, especially if that is sown to clover, will be very helpful to young pigs. There is a mutual relation between orchards, clover and pigs. The pigs thrive on the clover, and consume all the fallen and wormy fruit; the clover keeps the soil cool, mellow, and moist; and the trees are all the better for the improvement to the soil and the destruction of the insects.

POTATOES.—The potato beetle has appeared in full force again. The mild open winter has not diminished its numbers. There is but one effective remedy—Paris green. It may be applied in mixture with water—a tablespoonful to a pailful of water—sprinkle on the vines with a whisk, or mixed with flour or plaster—one part to 30 or 50—and dusted on the vines.

THE EARL AND THE ACTOR.

Criminal Love of a Countess—A Divorce Suit in an English Court of Justice.

(From the Manchester Examiner and Times of May 18th.)

In the Divorce Court on Saturday, the Right Honorable the Earl of Desart sued for a divorce from his wife, the Countess of Desart, on the ground of adultery with Mr. Charles Sugden, the actor. The accused parties simply answered, and traversed the charges made against them.

Mr. Inderwick, Queen's Counsel, and Mr. Bayford were counsel for the petitioner; Sir Henry James, Queen's Counsel, and Dr. Tristram for the respondent, and Mr. Yardly for the co-respondent. Mr. Bayford, in stating the case, said:—In this case the Right Honorable the Earl of Desart is the petitioner, the Countess is the respondent, and Mr. Charles Sugden is the co-respondent. The petitioner seeks for a dissolution of his marriage on the ground of his wife's adultery with the co-respondent.

Mr. Inderwick—The Earl of Desart, the petitioner in the case, prays for a dissolution of his marriage on the ground of his wife's adultery. His Lordship was married in June, 1871, to Miss Preston, the daughter of a gentleman of position in the County of York, and they lived together till matters came to his lordship's knowledge which brought about a separation. This was in the month of December of last year. One child was born on the 16th of May, 1852, and although their married life was not one of the most happy character, nothing occurred which rendered it necessary for his lordship to institute proceedings till the matters which came to his knowledge immediately preceding his action in this suit. Mr. Charles Sugden, the co-respondent, is a gentleman of position in his profession of an actor, and became acquainted with the Countess of Desart at houses which they both visited. During the season of last year the Earl of Desart had a house in Cadogan Place, and remained there until July or August. Mr. Sugden was a constant visitor at the house, and much in the company of the Countess. The Earl and Countess of Desart went abroad until November, 1877. On the 10th of November they came back to Cadogan Place, and one of the first visitors after their return was Mr. Sugden. His Lordship, seeing him there, suggested to his wife that he did not care about Mr. Sugden being so much at his house. An accident happened to the house in Cadogan Place, and His Lordship removed to Queen street, Mayfair. The Earl of Desart, on the morning of the 28th November, was expecting some proofs from the printer, and took in the letters from the postman, among which he found a letter addressed to "Mrs. Perkins, 11 Queen street, Mayfair." The letter appeared to have another letter enclosed, and His Lordship's suspicions were aroused. He accordingly opened the letter, and found inclosed in it a letter addressed to Lady Desart. This letter he took to his solicitor, who opened it and discovered it was from Mr. Sudgen. Inquires were then instituted, and the result was the institution against his wife. He wrote to Lady Desart, and she replied he had no reason to complain of her conduct, that he was laboring under a misapprehension, and that she hoped, for the sake of their child he would not take proceedings. When he found that communications had been passing by means of letters to Mrs. Perkins, he instituted an investigation, the result of which was the discovery that communications had been passing for some time, and letters of a most amatory description having been written by the co-respondent to Lady Desart. One letter intercepted was to the following effect:—

MY DARLING: I am sorry you have been so sadly. If I could only have been there to have petted and made much of you. We might have been together all day. If it is fine on Thursday we might spend an hour or two at the Aquarium. Let me know if you can come here in the morning. Good night, my darling; God bless you. Your very own, C.

Since these proceedings have been commenced, some two or three other letters have been found, from which it appears that they were communicating in the same way in the autum of 1877, when she was in the country with her husband. There are several letters from the co-respondent of the same kind, addressing her in the same affectionate terms, and making appointments for meeting, but it is unnecessary that I should read them. That being the state of things the question you will have to consider will be whether, having these feelings toward each other, they had the opportunity of gratifying them. The evidence I shall lay before you is that Lady Desart was continually calling on Mr. Sugden, sometimes at the theatre and sometimes at his lodgings. On one occasion, when His Lordship was away on business, she sent the servants away to the Zoological Gardens, and remained alone with Mr. Sugden, who did not leave until 12 o'clock at night. Under these circumstances, you cannot have the slightest doubt as to the intimacy between the parties.

Lord Dysart, said:—I was married in Yorkshire in 1871, in the spring of last year I had a house in Cardogan Place; a stock of chimneys fell down, and I had a house lent me in Queen street, Mayfair; in 1874 I had reason to complain of my wife's conduct, but that was passed over; in, 1877 a woman named Perkins was maid to my wife; I frequently engaged in literary pursuits, in the opening of last year, I was expecting some proofs, and took the letter from the postmen; I had my suspicions, from the handwriting, and opened the letter; I found inside a letter addressed to my wife; I took the letter to my solicitors, and they opened it, Mr. Sugden is an actor, and dined at my house quite frequently; I did not say then there was anything wrong; I afterwards found that a correspondence had been going on between my wife and the co-respondent, I never expected any such thing; I received information from the servants as to what had occurred in my absence; I received information that in my absence Sugden continually visited my wife, that she met him at various theatres, went with him to his lodgings, and there was no doubt they committed adultery one with the other.

Sir Henry James, who appeared for the respondent, stated that he had no questions to put in cross-examination to the noble Lord.

Confirmatory evidence having been given, the jury found a verdict for the petitioner, upon which his Lordship granted a decree nisi, with costs, the custody of the child being left with Lord Desart until further orders.

A LIFE OF TORTURE.

Complete Anchylosis on all the Joints of a Man's Body and Limbs—Twenty-one Years in Bed Without Once Being Removed from it.

(Lockport, N. Y. Journal).

In the year 1860 a lad, then 18 years old, by the name of Jonathan R. Bass, lived with George W. Rogers, of this city, in a house on the ground now occupied by the Lockport Journal building. One evening, while on his way to a pasture field above High Street, for the cows, he was taken with a severe pain in the bottom of his right foot. He supposed at first that a nail in his shoe was hurting him, but upon examination he could find nothing. That night and for a number of days the foot was swollen very badly, and was exceedingly painful, and then got better, but was more or less troublesome after that. In the fall of 1860 he went to Avon four months, but got no better. That winter he attended school at our Union School and in the spring went to Buffalo for a time, meanwhile getting a little worse. For a few months of the following summer, he was able to act as captain of a canal boat, which ran between Buffalo and Rochester; in the fall, however, After that he went to G. W. Eastman's commercial school at Waterville, Oneida County, and in 1864 kept books for Hall & Co., of Buffalo, but continuing to grow worse, had to give up his place, and came to his home in Cambria. In 1864-5 he did a little writing for parties in Lockport, and in 1866 was very badly and suffered very much in the joints of the body and limbs becoming more or less affected by this time. In 1867 he was on an invalid bed, made by Moore & Glass, of this city, from which he has never been removed. He could manage, however, with a good deal of difficulty, to feed himself for eight years after that, since which time he has been fed with a spoon, which is quite a difficult task, as his jaws are firmly set, and nothing thicker than a knife can pass them. Not he eats almost everything that other people do, and is very hearty. Fat pork, fat beef, baked beans, potatoes, and milk are his favorites. Being very much interested in the war, reading everything that came in his reach, which he could do by having it placed on a rack before him, he so injured his eyes that in 1868 he became blind, and has remained so since. He talks without difficulty, is very intelligent and converses freely upon any subject that he has had an opportunity to study up. The writer of this article called upon Mr. Bass a few days since and made a careful examination of his condition, and found every joint complete anchylosed, or grown into solid bone, with the exception of his fingers and toes. The bones of the fingers of the right hand have been nearly absorbed and the flesh remaining is puffy and flaccid. In the left hand not only the bones of the fingers but the bones of the whole hand have undergone this same process of absorption. The finger-nails on this were grown out beyond the ends of the fingers three and one-half inches, giving a weird and inhuman appearance to the hand. The arms are straight, down by his sides and fixed in this condition, and in the middle of the arm and fore-arm measured only five inches in circumference.

The limbs are straight,—with a dislocation of the right hip joint,—but all firm and solid bone, the thigh measuring only eight and one half inches around.

The bones of the toes are absorbed the same as the hands, and the flaccid toes droop and hang down like fringe. The spinal column is also perfectly consolidated, thus rendering the body capable of being lifted by one's hand under his head and neck without yielding or bending the slightest whatever. The muscles are not paralyzed, but their action seems perfectly under his control, as see by the action of the tendons and cords.

The pulse is regular, beating seventy to the minute, strong and full. All the vital organs are sound and in active condition, thus rendering him capable of living many years longer. On the whole, this is probably one of the most remarkable cases on record in this or any other country.

OUTDONE BY CANADA.

Points Wherein the Canadian Show at Paris is Better than Ours.

(Edward King in Boston Journal.)

Our Canadian neighbors occupy quite a large space in the exhibition; and so great is their enterprise that they would willingly have filled six times the room given them, if they could have got it. Canada has perpetrated none of that false economy of which the United States has been culpable in relation to the international show. In almost every department of the palace she is fully represented. She could obtain no place in the machinery gallery, and consequently is weak in that group. But she amply compensates for that by remarkable exhibits in other sections. The Canadian Commission has caused a large globe to be printed on the ticket appended to contributions, and on this globe Canada appears to swallow up the greater portion of North America. This is shrewd and one cannot help admiting that it is rather humiliating to find the United States outdone in shrewdness by her comparatively feeble neighbor. In the Canadian section great attention has been paid to one feature, which is always of prime importance at exhibitions, and which the United States almost entirely neglected on this occasion. I allude to the use of photograpy, for displaying and explaining the resources and peculiarities of a country. A large space has been fitted up with walls, on which hundreds of photographs show the peculiarities of Canada in a very comprehensive manner. A Frenchman or a German can step into this quarter for an hour and come out with such a comprehension of the character and capacity of the country as he could get in no other way save by travel. The Canadian photographs are illustrative, first of the national games. Enormous pictures showing the river opposite Montreal with all the male population engaged in the healthful sport of "curling" on the ice. Each face in the picture is a photograph from a real personage and the effect is charming. Lord and Lady Dufferin are in the foreground. A second series portrays the "Snow Shoe Club," in their picturesque costumes, prepared for one of their astonishing marches up hill and down dale, from village to village, through snows in which were it not for their ingenious shoes they would sink down to suffocation. The third series exhibits the skating carnival at Montreal, with hundreds of the principal ladies and gentleman of Canada in costumes. Beautifully executed pictures show the huts where the hunters camp, the Indians who accompany them, the manner of striking the game, etc. Nothing could be more attractive no way of absorbing information is more striking and effective. Suppose, for instance that the United States had resolved to illustrate its industries and its sports in this manner. Each State would doubtless readily have contribution pictures setting forth its peculiarities and advantages, and we should have had delighted crowds constantly throng ing to study the land of which they have vaguely heard so much. But in this exhibition we have nothing.

RULES FOR BANK CUSTOMERS.

The best rules of the kind, in relation to the instructions to those who do business at banks, that we have seen recently are the following. They will be the means of saving a great deal of time and annoyance—by not following them:

1. If you have any business with a bank put it off until 3 o'clock, or, if possible, a little later, as it looks more business like to rush in when the book is closing.

2. Never put stamps on your notes before you get to the bank, but give the teller two cents, and ask him to lick it and cancel it for you; the teller expects to lick all the stamps and it is a source of disappointment to him when people insist on doing it themselves, and will save him buying his lunch.

3. In depositing money try and get it upside down and wrong end foremost, so that the teller may have a little exercise in straightening it up before counting it.

4. It is best not to take your bank book with you, but call at another time and have it entered. You can thus take two trips to the bank where one would answer.

5. If a check is made payable to your order be careful not to endorse it before handing it the teller, but let him return it to you and wait while you endorse it; this helps to pass the time, and it is a pleasure and relief to the teller.

6. You can generally save time when making a deposit by counting down your money to the teller, as you can nearly always count more speedily and correctly than he can.

7. If you make a deposit of $100 and give a check for $50, it is a good thing to call frequently at the bank and ask how your account stands, as it improves the officers favorably with your business qualifications.

8. Never keep any money when your notes fall due, and then, if they are protested, censure the bank for not giving you notice.

9. Always date your checks ahead; it is a never-failing sign that you keep a good balance in bank; or, if you do not wish it generally known that you are doing a good business, do not deposit your money until about the time you expect your check will be in.

10. In depositing money never make out a deposit ticket. The teller has the blanks in his case for that purpose, and expects to fill them out himself. (It annoys him to have you offer to do it; besides, if others are waiting, it gives them a chance to exercise patience, which is a great virtue.

11. In receiving money from a teller, never lay in advance how you want it, but hand each note separately, and ask him to count it.

A strict observance of the foregoing rules will make your account desirable for any bank, and make you a general favorite with all the bank officers.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,

—FOR—

Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.

The Gum which exudes from Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamic and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Degestive, Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c., should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PTITTSEYE-SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrym Canals, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

The AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. It is used successfully for PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Needles and pins, needles and pins!
When the war's ended, the trouble begins.

Says Turkey: "Our allies don't care now a toss for us,
And therefore we care not who enters the Bosphorus."

Says England: "The ruin of Turkey is loss for us,
And therefore the Czar must not enter the Bosphorus."

Belgium says: "The great Czar is the boss for us,
And therefore we pray he may hasten to cross for us."

Says Austria: "D..n is our hope on the Bosphorus Naught but a congress can furnish a gloss for us."

Says Bismarck: "The Russian on war is the sauce for us,
The banquet is spread on the banks of the Bosphorus."

It seems after all, that nothing but phosphorus
Is a real and genuine rhyme for the Bosphorus.

It matters but little who lifts the latch;
Just open the door and, you strike the match.

THE PRAIRIE REGION OF CANADA.

An examination of the map of North America will show that a great plain stretches north and south between the Gulf of Mexico and the Arctic ocean. This great plain occupies the continent between the Rocky Mountain range on the west and the Apalachian range on the east. It is divided by its river systems into three perfectly distinct drainage basins. One drains to the south into the Gulf of Mexico; another north into sub-Artic waters; and the third east into the Atlantic by the channel of the great River St. Lawrence. Of these three basins that of the St. Lawrence is by far the smallest, and the northern is fully as large as the other two together. The St. Lawrence basin, on the boundary between the United States and Canada, occupies part of both countries; the southern basin is almost wholly in Canada; and the line of contract between the two latter basins is in part approximately coincident with the 49th parallel of latitude—the southern limit of the interior of Canada. It will thus be seen that the great continental plain of North America is divided naturally, as well as artificially, through the centre.

The prairie region, so called, is somewhat triangular in form. One side coincides with the international boundary line, and extends from the 95th to the 113th meridian; another side follows the eastern side of the Rocky Mountains, from the 49th to about the 64th parallel of latitude. The third side, about 1,500 miles in length, skirts a remarkable series of lakes, rivalling in size Lakes Erie and Ontario. These great water-filled depressions lie in a generally straight north-westerly and south-easterly direction. They embrace Great Slave Lake, Lake Arthabasca, Lake Wollaston, Deer Lake, and Lake of the Woods, and they appear to occur geologically on the separating line between a broad band of laurentian or metamorphic rocks and the softer silurian formations. This great triangular-shaped region is estimated to measure about 300,000,000 of acres. Its base, running along the series of lakes mentioned, will probably average less than 1,000 feet above the level of the sea, and its apex, near where the international boundary line enters the Rocky Mountains, will probably be about 4,000 feet above the sea level. The region generally may be described as a great plane sloping from its apex in a north-easterly direction downwards to its base, but the inclination is not uniform and unbroken. Several terraces and well defined escarpments stretching across the country are met with at intervals. A great proportion of the surface is gently rolling, and hill of no great height occur here and there. The rivers of this division of the country flow for a great part of their course in deep eroded channels, frequently of considerable width, and as the superficial formations are for the most part drift or soft rock, the channels which have been furrowed out are but little obstructed by falls or steep rapids. They generally present a uniform descent, and the long stretches of some of the rivers, although the current be swift, are capable of being navigated. A wide expanse of the region to the south of the main Saskatchewan is a prairie, without trees or shrubs of any sort; the treeless prairie passes by easy gradations into copse woodland with prairie intervening. In the north of the Saskatchewan woodland appears in various localities. On Peace River there are extensive prairies; there is, also, an agreeable mixture of woodland and prairie, and this character of country appears to prevail for a considerable distance still further north.

DEPOPULED CONSERVATION.

(From the Bobcaygeon Independent.)

It has been alleged, and probably not without some show of reason, that the tone of this journal has latterly become more favourable to the Reform party than was formerly the case. Upon this we have only one remark to make, and it should be carefully noted by every thoughtful Conservative. This journal is not a party paper, it is as far above the influence of party, and party prejudices, as is the Governor General himself, and it does not pretend to do more than to reflect, with a greater or less degree of truthfulness, the opinions and sentiments of that large and growing class who refuse to surrender their own private judgement to the purposes or demands of either or any of the political parties of the country. The votes of that class will, at the next Dominion election, beyond all doubt give a preponderating influence to the side on which it places itself, and therefore, if this journal, a mere reflection of their opinions, leans more than was formerly the case to the Reform side, the Conservatives should take it as a sure and infallible indication that there is something which requires investigation, modification, or change, on their own side of the dividing political barrier. It does not require any elaborate search to discover the weak place, but we will uncover Conservative friends the trouble and point it out to them ourselves in the clearest and most distinct manner possible. Here it is. The Reform party represented by this journal has ceased to accept the views held by the Conservative leader. They cannot agree with those against the Chinese, they look upon a party, but they [illegible]

The Dominion at the Paris Exposition.

At the Paris Exposition the Dominion Government exhibits a model of its canal improvements. There is a model eighteen feet long of a lock two hundred feet in length, and forty-five feet width, which will admit of fourteen feet of water. A map showing the new telegraphic line to the Rocky Mountains is shown. The geological collection comprises a general review of the coals, and the wonderful phosphates of lime from the Ottawa district. Magnesian limestone, chromic iron, plumbago, albertite, from New Brunswick, are exhibited. There is, too, a large number of photographs of British Columbia, its people, its settlements, its natural scenery, its mining camps and its crops. In the alimentary group are models of all our fishes, birds and game generally. In preserved meat, fish and vegetable we make a good show. The Fraser River and the St. Lawrence salmon are exhibited, and the factory near Sherbrooke, which slaughters seventy head of cattle daily, and packs them into tins for European consumption. Among the specimens lately put into place is a splendid collection from the Steel Company of Canada, Londonderry, Nova Scotia, consisting of the charcoal used in the furnaces, made from Nova Scotia coal; their flux "ankerite," which itself contains 16 per cent. of iron, and splendid specimens of both brown and red hematite, which is obtained close to the coal; then the slag; the various qualities of pig iron obtained, and finally the wrought iron twisted into knots, etc., showing the fracture and elasticity.

THOUGHTFUL TRIFLES.

Great things are not accomplished by idle dream, but by years of patient study.

Judge not from appearance lest you might err in your judgment.

Some of the grandest things which have been achieved were by those whom we thought our inferiors.

Narrow not your mind to your own selfishness, but give it a broad field for your fellow-men to work in.

Study all things of natural in your daily walk through life.

Do as your conscience dictates and you will not go far astray.

Be respectful to all men that you may command respect.

Kind words are better than gold, and the voice of a friend has saved many a man from ruin.

Many kind hearts beat beneath seeming cold exteriors.

Be happy if you can, but do not despise those who are otherwise for you know not their troubles.

PORT HOPE.

THE RATE.—The rate of taxation has been struck at one and a half cents in the dollar. This is a quarter of a cent higher than last year.

IN CAMP.—On Friday last, Durham Field Battery of Artillery, under command of Captain Graham, went into camp here on the Agricultural Park, which makes a magnificent camping ground. The only one drawback is the scarcity of water, that at the park, on account of it being so seldom used, proved impure. The camp composes Capt. Graham, commanding officer; Sen. First Lieut. Wm. McLean; Jun. First Lieut. Dr. Brereton; Second Lieut. Jos. Richardson; Dr. Brent and Vet. Surgeon Hinman, with seventy-four non-commissioned officers and men; four guns, and twenty-eight horses. The horses are of a very superior class, and make a good show. Port Hope Troop of Durham Light Cavalry, under command of Capt. C. H. A. Williams Lt. C. A. Hagerman, and 38 non-commissioned officers and men went into camp at the same place on Tuesday. The men and horses present a fine appearance.—Times.

COBOURG.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev Charles Fish has again been located in Cobourg. As he is a very earnest and faithful worker, and has accomplished a great deal during the past year we have no doubt the coming year will show continued and growing success as the result of his labors.

NEW IMPROVEMENTS.—We are glad to see that the new stores being erected by Mr. Thos. Battell on the corner of King and George Streets, are about completed. We should also add that Mr. Rush is adding another to the many dwellings erected by him, as a beautiful structure is rushing up rapidly on the corner of Seminary and Division streets. There are numbers of other buildings in process of erection, and it would seem that we may expect about $25,000 per annum will be about the average addition to our town real estate by the erection of new buildings. Our annual increase from taxes is nearly if not quite $4000 per annum more than it was in 1873. Unfortunately our expenses have also increased in about the same proportion, while the revenue from our harbor has diminished, so that it is now quite as difficult as formerly if not more difficult to make a rate of 2 cents in the dollar meet our liabilities. —Sentinel.

LINDSAY.

THROWN FROM HIS HORSE.—Last Tuesday morning, Mr. Adam Hedgpeth was, we regret to say, thrown from his horse on Cambridge-st., near Glenelg. The horse stumbled in a hole and Mr. Hedgpeth was thrown to the ground with such violence that he was for some time unconscious. Under the care of Dr. Kennet he is steadily improving.

ANNUAL DRILL.—The local companies of the 45th Batt. will go into camp some day next week for the purpose of putting in their annual drill. WHERE SHALL RE-ADJUSTMENT BEGIN?

Sir A. T. Galt is quoted by the Tory Protectionist journals as condemning the present tariff as an "eminently artificial" one. We quite agree with the shrewd knight; and we believe he will agree with us that there can be no such thing as a 'natural tariff.' Even if there could be, the Tory leader would never admit of it, as he advocates a "scientific and artistic" one, according to a late speech of his in the House of Commons. We also agree with Sir Alexander Galt that there may be such a thing as changing the tariff for the better; but when he or anyone else goes in for change simply for the sake of change, we must declare the idea to be a dangerous one. The Mackenzie government is wrongly represented, as being opposed to any change in the tariff; for since it came into office a very marked change has been made from a general Customs duty of 15 per cent to one of 17½ per cent. And no longer ago than last session a change was made in the malt duty. Where the government has deemed a change beneficial they have made such change, and its action in that respect is open to criticism. It is worthy of remark, that in whatever direction these changes tended, whether they were an increase or a decrease of duties the Opposition opposed them. Thus they complained of the increase from 15 per cent. to a 17½ per cent tariff, as loudly as they now cry for greater protection; and frantic protestations were raised on the increase of the duty on malt, in the same degree of spirit as when it was subsequently reduced again.

Protectionists are further inconsistent when they protest that they do not propose to lay additional burdens on the people. Their whole case rests on the shutting out of importations that in their opinion interfere with native industries. Such interference can only be possible when the articles brought in are cheaper than the native manufacturer is willing to sell them. In short the man who asks protection for his wares, simply asks to be sustained in selling at his own price. If this is not placing an additional burden at once on the purchaser, then we cannot understand the rights of the buyer. To be sure, if outside competition is shut out, encouragement will be given for the establishment of any number of concerns for the protection of the protected article This will soon cause a glut on the market and a consequent fall of prices, till bankruptcy, ruin, and general business panic crushes out all but the richest firms which thus secure a monopoly through the injury of all others. The losses occasioned by such business failures are some more of the burdens the people have to bear under protection. Again, if the duties are removed from all articles that cannot be produced in the country, as some of the protectionists declare to be their theory, where is the customs and revenue to come from, all other articles being burdened with a high protective tariff? Either dutiable articles will or will not be imported. If they are, the heavy duty makes them high priced, and thus places a burden on the people. If they are not imported at all no customs or revenue is obtained, and additional burdens have to be levied on the people in the shape of taxes. If, as the Protectionist says, the tendency of high duties is at sometimes to lower prices of articles protected, (to which we are quite willing to agree,) the importation of dutiable articles will decrease and cease with the cheapening of the corresponding home-hold article. Thus the revenue dies, and either a new re-adjustment of the tariff must take place, or some other plan of raising a revenue must be depended on. The United States Government for instance, has had to impose heavy Inland Revenue charges, and play fantastic tricks with the currency and bonds of the country in order to meet the national requirements.

The Protectionist cries out that he wants "re-adjustment, not increase of taxation." If readjustment is advisable, by all means let us have it. But where are we to begin. The tariff is before us as it stands at present. Let it be pointed out in what particular or particulars the tariff might be increased here and lowered there, so as to secure the necessary revenue with any greater benefit to the country. It is the duty of the Opposition members of Parliament, if they can see such beneficial changes, to advocate them and agitate for them. If the people are to believe these men on their own assertion, they are recreant to their trust as guardians of the public good that they do not at once proceed to point out the advantageous changes that they see might be made in the tariff. That they cannot specify is the best proof that they cannot see.

BONUSES OR PROTECTIVE TARIFFS.

As an attempt has been lately made to represent as inconsistent those who oppose a protective tariff, and who have been favourable to a local bonus to a manufactory or a subsidy to a railway, it may not be amiss to consider the distinction between bonuses and tariffs. It can be readily understood, even from the most abstract view of the case, that arguments in favour of a bonus to a particular enterprise may be accepted when any proposal toward general tariff protection would be totally inadmissable. Indeed the very men who try to show a similarity between the bonus and the tariff, seek to shun particularization in relation to the effects of the protective duties they profess to favour. They do not, be it remembered, denounce bonuses. That, with their proposed discovery of an apology between the bonus and the tariff, would be giving up their whole case. They only argue that all those who have favoured a bonus in any particular case should also hold to the principle of a protective tariff. Yet these very clever sticklers for consistency, while admitting the idea of particular claims for a bonus, will not listen to any argument concerning the effect of a protective tariff on a particular industry. Here is at once a distinction by themselves, viz:—particularity on one side; but only vague generalization on the other.

The bonus, or subsidy, is recognized as right in certain cases by those very governments which are most strongly averse to a protective tariff. The Free Trade government of Britain, is ready to grant subsidies where they are deemed needful; the Reform government of the Dominion, though opposing a Protective tariff recognizes a fitting distinction, and grants bonuses readily in certain cases. For instance, it may be considered for the general good that a new steamboat line should be established; and in such a case it may be perfectly justifiable in a Ministry to offer a bonus to sustain the enterprise for a time. Such assistance is being constantly gi an in Canada to new mail routes, and to lines of railway calculated to open up the country. These things are really looked on as directly beneficial to the people as a whole, and as advantageous to all interests in developing our territory and establishing that ready communication on which the success of all industries largely depends.

The local bonus is extended merely as an encouragment to a certain person or company to commence business in the municipality offering the special inducement. In no case can it be felt by the whole country; but duties discriminating in favour of the manufacturer are levied at the expense of every other class, particularly of the workingmen and farmer. Nor can any tariff long protect the manufacturer to whom it does not secure a monopoly of the trade against all home competition as well as from foreign importation.

The bonus is not intended to foster any one industry at the continuous expense of others. When it is given there is an end to the transaction, and it affects only a comparative few; but the protective tariff is continuous in its interference with the business of every tax-payer in the country. Even an exemption from taxation in a certain popular case is very different from the levying of a greater rate on all others in the land, for something by which they are in no way conveniened or compensated.

In the case of public benefits by a new invention or project a bonus may be justified, but a protective tariff is never defensible on such grounds. The former may be the means of starting an enterprise into self-reliant life; the latter only saps self-reliance by sustained nursing and pampering. There is a chance of a bonus doing good to the country; but the effect of a protective tariff is only injurious, and that continually.

COLLEGE FOR FARMERS.

The late visit of western Grangers to the Model Farm and School of Agriculture at Guelph, marks a new era in Canadian land tillage, being the hearty introduction of the practical with the scientifically experimental in farming. Of course all practical agriculture is to a greater or less extent experimental; but there are experiments born of theory which often lead to a profitable change of practice. It has been the custom in Canada to despise "book farming," and laugh at the application of scientific learning to the cultivation of the soil. It may be that the failures of mere dabblers in experiment to produce as good crops as their wholly unlettered, yet more practically educated neighbor offered some justification for the scorn in which "book farmers" were held. Then, too, the virgin soil almost spontaneously yielded abundantly, and little or no need could be perceived for a study of clays or manures, of frequent breaking or occasional resting of the land, of drainage or irrigation. But as the productive properties of the soil have been exhausted the greater necessity there has been seen for a more intimate knowledge of what was lost and of how, if possible, to restore it. In this way the more working farmer and the more reasoning have been approaching each other, till they have at last met, recognized their shortcomings and defects, and agreed to combine forces for the accomplishment of the great end both have always had in view. The establishment of an Agricultural College in Ontario was a great step; its maintenance in the face of indifference on the one hand and unscrupulous opposition on the other was a grand advance; but the real object was not accomplished till the farmers as a body began to recognize the institution as filling a necessary place, and to express their approval of the work it accomplishes. This was done when a large number of representative farmers from several counties visited the College and farm, interested themselves in its inspection, and a general examination of the way in which it is conducted, made themselves acquainted with its advantages and disadvantages, and assumed their right of expressing approval or disapproval.

It is satisfactory that their verdict was one of entire approval. This may perhaps have been prompted by courtesy on the part of the first visiting delegation, and it need not be looked for on all occasions. Indeed healthy criticism is to be invited; and we hope that the many visits of the kind that will in all liklihood be paid, will not only prove pleasant outings to the guests and hospitable receptions on the part of professors and students, but also occasions of hints that will prove directly advantageous to both the institution and the visitors. While it is desirable that as many of these visits as possible should be paid, it cannot of course be expected that the regular routine of the College should often be broken to such an extent as was the case when the first Grange excursion was so very hospitably received. Indeed, we don't think it would be well, in the interests of either the College or the visiting farmers, that they should assume the relation of hosts and guests. Those connected with the institution will look with far more respect and possible awe on their visitors, and the latter will be able to speak more unreservedly, if both meet entirely independent of the kindlier courtesies of the table Bodies of farmers going as recognized visitors to the Farm can do it much good, but the making of the Agricultural College a mere hostlery, will lower it as a useful institution. We hope when our Peterborough farmers make an excursion to Guelph, they will "do" the Model Farm for an examination, not of its larder, but the learning the College imparts. They will then be ready to pronounce independent judgment, not having their mouths closed by any delicate considerations of courtesy, such as may have restrained an adverse criticism from the first delegation.

There is no necessity to do any more than point out the advantages arising from an established College for farmers. The ordinary educational course at our High Schools and Universities lead young men away from the farm. They get such a training as would certainly make them better farmers; but the acquirements they give are such as tempt them to try their fortunes in spheres calling for the exercise of the knowledge they have gained, and their being comparatively little pointing back to the farm, they naturally prefer other professions. A merchantile course too, seduces young men to go to what they consider the easiest market for their knowledge. A school for the special training of its students in the theory and practice of farming, gives the minds of these students a bent that is sure to lead nearly every one of them to make use of their best attainments in the readiest manner, on the farm. Such a school therefore, must have the effect of keeping some of our best men in the ranks of the agriculturists, thus raising the class both professionally and in influence in the country.

The Cobourg Sentinel has this very appropriate heading to an editorial:—"Protection or Ruin." The words are indeed pretty nearly of the same meaning.

Mr. Turcotte, speaker of the Quebec Legislative assembly has been presented by his constitutents with an influentially signed address, expressing approval of his course during the present session of the Quebec Legislature.

Protectionist papers are talking of the venture of the Wanzer's in establishing sewing machine works at Buffalo as though this move were an abandonment of Canada for the United States as a basis of manufacturing. This however is not the case, for the company has no intention of quitting Hamilton as their head quarters, and merely establish a branch in Buffalo to compete with American makers in their own market. It is certainly a proof of the stability and prosperity of Canadian manufactures, that they can be thus extended by throwing branches into the United States in spite of the Protection that country gives its manufacturers.

An Irish Catholic gentleman in town has shown us a letter from a prominent countryman and co-religionist of the far famed County of Saguenay, Quebec, and requests us to publish the following extract bearing on the political feeling of his countrymen, &c., down there:—

"I am pleased to hear from you that our good Joly Government has your sympathies, and that the great success which Liberal cause has met with will influence favorably Mackenzie's Government.

"I am happy to hear that our clergy in your Province are mostly on the Reform side. Here it is rather otherwise—those on the Reform side are the exceptions. However, our noble Archbishop has counteracted the effect in a great measure, and I hope in time it will be the rule that our clergy will be here, as they are in all other Catholic countries, on the side of Reform and freedom."

We have seen many a queer specimen of logic in Tory journals, but the queerest of any was contained in the local Opposition sheet last week. It actually thought it was proving extravagance on the part of the Mackenzie Government by enumerating certain items of expenditure less in 1876-7 than in 1873-4. Or a reduction in the expenditure of 1876-7 as compared with 1873-4 of $3,268,040 is set off to certain unavoidable and extraordinary items that cannot be fairly charged to the ordinary expenditure of the Government. It would also like to charge again the steel rails laid on the Intercolonial Railway, already charged to another account. Such a critic!

The Manitoba Standard publishes an official statement received from the Dominion Land office in Winnipeg. It shows a gratifying increase in the acreage absorbed by homesteads and pre-emptions as against the corresponding interval in the past year from January to June. The decrease in sales (in which are included military bounty lands), 26,660 acres, is due to the large quantity of scrip and minor claims in the market. The following is the comparative statement referred to;

	1877. Acres.	1878. Acres.	Increase.
Homesteads	32,157	101,289	69,132
Pre-emptions	3,264	94,569	71,305
Forest Tree Culture	650	2,240	1,590
			Decrease.
Sales	72,540	45,880	26,660
Military Bounty Lands	1,115	3,690	1,575

A violent blow has been struck at Constitutional Government by the Reformers of Quebec—according to the Tory papers. Mr. Joly will persist in retaining office though he has only a majority of one—and that one the Speaker of the House. But how Constitutional Government would be benefited by Mr. Joly giving up office to his opponents who have a minority of one, or who, if the Speaker voted with them, wou'd have only the same majority that Mr. Joly now has, they do not explain. It is one of those things that no fellow can understand, except on the ground that it is unconstitutional for the Tories to be out of office.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Yesterday's meeting of the Berlin Congress was an eventful one, as it witnessed the practical solution of the vexed Bulgarian question, only a few matters of detail remaining over for settlement at to-day's session. The solution effected is in great measure due to the French plenipotentiaries, to whom was entrusted the difficult task of so remodelling the Russian amendments rejected by the English representatives on Monday as to make them acceptable to all parties. In this, however, they succeeded. According to the revised proposals submitted by them yesterday and accepted by England, Russia, and Austria, the Porte will have the full right to occupy the line between Bulgaria and Roumelia, upon the understanding that the troops so employed shall consist solely of regulars, and that they shall not be cantoned among the inhabitants, nor stationed in the interior. Complete civil and religious liberty will also be guaranteed to the provinces, and no change will be made in existing commercial legislation affecting them unless by the consent of the Powers shall have been previously obtained. The Russian occupation will be permitted for nine months, after which three months will be allowed for the withdrawl of the troops. The Greek representative at Berlin will immediately be notified of his admission to the Congress on the occasion of the discussion of the Bulgarian question as affecting the antagonistic Greek element. Greece has strong supporters in Italy, France, and Germany, on the subject of an accession of territory but determined resistance by Turkey is anticipated on this point. Among other rumors relative to the doings of the Congress, it is stated that Russia's consent to the limitation of Roumelia so as not to touch the Ægean nor approach Salonica is dependent on the evacuation of Varna and the cession of the entire Quadrilateral to Bulgaria. To the first of these demands the Porte is stated to have expressed its willingness to accede.

Upon the whole, the labours of the Congress have made such progress that the first plenipotentiaries will probably be able to leave Berlin by the middle of July. A Conference of the second plenipotentiaries will then be held for the settlement of matters of detail, and the Congress will meet again in September to ratify the arrangements effected.

THE CONGRESS AND LORD BEACONSFIELD.

The deliberations of the Berlin Congress have now advanced to a stage which justifies the belief that peace will be preserved. There is every reason to believe that the essential points have been agreed upon, leaving for settlement only minor details, many of which separately will no doubt be hotly contested, but even collectively not worth going to war about. England and Austria have at last, it is understood, come to a really workable understanding. Hitherto each Power has considered the other as striving only for its own advantage. Lord Derby said as much of Austria when he resigned; and said it, too, in the bluntest and most undiplomatic manner. Scarcely had the soreness from this utterance of the ex-Foreign Secretary subsided when the world was startled by the news that Russia and England had come to an understanding, leaving Austria out in the cold. Small wonder if the Austrian and British plenipotentiaries as soon as they met at Berlin took to scolding each other; and no wonder that after a hot and frank debate there have been found a substratum of interests which Britain and Austria conjointly and severally are bound to defend to death. With those two Powers agreed Russia must agree also. But so far as the decisions of the Congress have become known there is nothing for the Czar to quarrel about. Among the points which are supposed to be settled it is certain that Montenegro will get her independence and an increase of territory, together with freedom of access to, if not actual possession of, Antivari, the seaport as to the ownership of which Austria is so jealous. Bosnia and the Herzegovina will either go bodily to Austria or will get such a measure of autonomy conferred upon them as will inevitably cause them to gravitate to the Empire. Servia and Roumania will become entirely free from Ottoman suzerainty. Bulgaria will be erected into a feudatory State, or possibly two States, freed from the presence of Turkish troops, and only subject to the Porte in respect of the payment of a fixed tribute. The Grecian frontiers will be rectified in the direction of Thessaly and the Epirus. Russia will take the part of Bassarabia of which she was deprived by the Treaty of Paris, and Roumania will take the Dobrudscha in exchange. Roumelia will get partial administrative autonomy, and will have a Christian Governor. The Balkans will be her northern boundary, with full freedom for the Turks to garrison and fortify them; though the extent to which that may be done is one of the knotty points still remaining to be decided. In Asia, Russia will take Batoum, Ardahan, and Kars, but probably not Bayazid. The passage of the Dardanelles will either remain as at present, open to merchant vessels, but closed against any but Turkish war-vessels or the Straits will be thrown open to war vessels of all nations without restriction. As to money indemnity, Russia will take no territorial security for the sum she will exact; nor will she require the income of the Porte to be pledged in such a manner as to prejudice English creditors or English claimaon the Egyptian tribute. She will simply take her chance of payment, whatever that may be, along with other creditors of the Empire

These terms cannot be said to be excessive remuneration for the terrible losses which the Russians have sustained. Peace is what they once had'n. She was deprived of it when defeated. She is now victorious and claims it back again. It is hard upon Roumania that she should be called upon to lose valuable territory. But, as Russia grimly observes, Russian good will is worth much more than Bessarabia to a country which would make so small a meal as Roumania. And so far as Europe is concerned, the object of the Congress being to prevent the domination of Russia over the small countries wrested from Turkish sway, there could not be a much better way of permanently crippling Russian influence in Roumania than by allowing Russia, from a Roumanian point of view, to steal Bessarabia. As for Russian demands in Asia, the cession of Batoum is grounded on what the Russians call good claims. It would, the say have been ceded to them in 1829 but for the error of a copyist; and they want it very badly, as they have no safe port in the neighborhood. Moreover, they have never been able to take it, though they have tried repeatedly. Hence it ought to belong to them. The cession of Bayazid would imperil the caravan route from Trebisand to Persia, and its possession is therefore a vital point for Turkey. As the place would be of slight value to Russia there is no probability of a rupture on that point.

If finally successful—Congresses are not always, nor often, nor even usually successful—in preventing war, if this ominous Eastern Question that has for a century hung like a pall upon European diplomacy be settled for a few generations, the entire credit of it will be due to Britain and Lord Beaconsfield. From the moment when Britain, abandoning all further reliance on diplomacy, called out her reserves, the interest if not the sympathies of the European Powers began to centre around the country which was still willing to draw her sword in defence of the faith of treaties. When, to show still more that she was in earnest, she called out a contingent of her Indian army, even that great stroke of policy, which in other times would have arrayed all Europe against her, failed to excite an appropriate amount of jealousy. As for the "Asian mystery," his Lordship will have achieved a crowning triumph such as have been given to few who have figured on history's page. He will have conferred upon Europe the possibility of half a century of solid peace; and Europe surely needs that peace. He can come home, go to the country on the triump of his policy, fold his ermine robes around him, put on the dismal sarcasm, which he has been blessed in to be his reward, and retire grandly, theatrically, and characteristical into that lettered ease which he will so thoroughly have earned. At the present moment Lord Beaconsfield doubtless is the most prominent man in the world. The central figure at Berlin, where there are now present at least four of the greatest men of the age, is not the aged and astute Gortschakoff, hero of many diplomatic battles; nor the adroit and temporising Andrassy, the first of Austrian Premiers whose word according to Bismarck, can be relied upon; nor even the blunt, sagacious and resolute Chancellor himself. It is the man without birth, and whose title of nobility dates from yesterday; who belongs to a race from which the lifting of the ban is scarcely become historical; whose audacity and whose superations have been subject to joke; who has succeeded even in face of that terrible obstacle, ridicule; and who is even now hated and feared more than he is respected by the party which has won no victories for many years except under his leadership.

DUTY ON WOOL.

In last week's Examiner we had this paragraph:—

We notice that several of the Tory Protectionist journals are trying to twist an expression of the Globe into an acknowledgement that the Canadian seller pays the duty on wool going into the United States. The comparison of the price of wool in Boston with the price in Toronto, does not prove more than that the Boston buyer is forced to pay more than he would were the duty removed. It is absurd to argue that the abolition of the American duty would raise the price in Toronto to that which is now obtained in Boston. Rather would the Boston price fall to the Toronto figure, particularly as the price in Liverpool is just about the same as that got in Toronto. And this is no doubt what the commercial editor had in his mind when he penned the paragraph which the Tory press is trying to draw comfort from.

We are evidently right in our view, for on the very day the above appeared the Globe had the following reference to the same matter:—

Some of the Opposition organs profess to have found in the following statement taken from our commercial columns a contradiction of the dictum that the importer of an article pays the Customs duty upon it:—

"Based on sales in Boston it would appear that 23c is rather high. Sales of Canadian combing are reported from that market at 38c per pound through a commission house. To get at the value here it is necessary to subtract from this sum the duty of ten cents, the difference in currency one cent, the ad valorem of about two and a half cents, and freight and insurance one cent—or say fourteen cents in all. This would regulate the price here to a shade under 24 cents."

This is not an assertion, even by implication, that the exporter pays the duty on Canadian wool. It would be so if Boston were our only wool market, and if, therefore, the price at Boston regulated the selling price here. As a matter of fact, however, the price is regulated by the demand in Europe as well as America, and as the people of the United States want our wool, they must perforce pay for it what we could get by selling to others and the duty besides. This is conclusively shown by a comparison of the prices current in England, the United States and Canada. When combing wool was 38c per pound in Boston it was 23c in Toronto, and 24c to 26c in England. Nothing more is required to show that the Boston importer pays the duty in question, and not the Canadian exporter.

THE SARNIA LIBEL SUITS.

It will be remembered that during the recent session of Parliament the Premier was summoned to Sarnia to attend a libel suit against the proprietors of the Weekly Canadian, and that the Jury failed to agree on a verdict. The case was to have been continued at next assizes. But finding that they had committed an error, and with a view to stop all further proceedings, the proprietors of the Canadian publish the following letter:—

"SARNIA, June 4, 1878.

"Hon. Alexander Mackenzie:

"SIR,—In our newspaper, the Weekly Canadian, we published two editorials, one of which you read as charging you with having informed Messrs. C. Mackenzie & Co., in advance of the announcement in Parliament, that it was the intention of your Government to propose a duty on iron tubing, and the other containing a charge that you had located the terminus of the Canada Pacific Railway at Fort William, on the Kaministiquia River, instead of at Prince Arthur's Landing, because you were interested in lands at the former place. When we published these articles we believed that the statements were true. Subsequent enquiry has, however, satisfied us beyond any doubt that our information was inaccurate, and that the charges already referred to were untrue. We very much regret their publication, and hereby tender you this apology for the wrong done you.

"R. A. MCVICAR,
"ROBERT MCADAMS."

The Reform Party, and Temperance.

There is a certain app icability to Wes Peterborough in the following from the Prescott Telegraph:—

The Temperance party of this section embraces many of the best citizens, men who are readers and thinkers, and who know only too well that their cause would suffer, if indeed it were not irrevocably lost, by the return to power of Sir John Macdonald. We have before pointed out that the Reform party is the one to which temperance men are indebted for their present admirable temperance laws, and that it is only from that party they can expect further legislation in the matter. The temperance men, not only in this but in other constituencies, are far too sensible not to appreciate this fact, and when the time comes they will turn out, almost to a man, to elect supporters of the Government that has legislated in their interest. The Reform party has made sacrifices, and submitted both in and out of Parliament to the sneers of Tory leaders, in the interests of temperance and we believe the advocates of temperance to be too honorable, too manly, and too just, to in any way assist in securing the defeat of the party to whom they are so largely indebted.

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Even were the Reformers dissatisfied with their own candidate, not one of them; in view of past events, could render the least assistance to the Tory party without stultifying his honor and bringing disgrace on the grand old name of "Reformer."

TORONTO.

Destructive Fire in St. John's Ward—Damages to the Extent of $15,000.

A destructive fire took place on Saturday night in the large brick building on the corner of Elizabeth and Hayter-streets owned by Mr. J. W. Philips, builder. At half-past eleven o'clock flames were seen to shoot out from rear the building, near its centre and in a few minutes the whole of the east wing and the central part as well, were enveloped in flames. The origin of the fire is a mystery to a certain extent.

The Lacrosse Championship.—The second match between the Toronto Lacrosse Club and the Shamrocks of Montreal for the champion flags was played in this city on Saturday, and was won by the home team taking the second, third, and fifth games.

BELLEVILLE.

The directors of the Grand Junction Railway Company state that the road will be completed to Stirling within sixty days.

The County Council of Hastings have fixed the rate of taxation for the current year at half a cent on the dollar for all purposes.

The rate of taxation in Belleville for the current year is 16 mills for municipal, and 4½ mills for school purposes, or a total of 19½ mills for all purposes.

The Brantford Expositor reports a speech that occurred at Mr. Brown's meeting in Caledonia. An elector asked that the "wicked priests" of Rome would vote for any man but himself to give Mr. Brown a majority in the county, as he was going to run against him. Mr. Brown replied that he would not be responsible for the priests, but he would be responsible for himself, and he would not run.

GREAT SALE

OF

DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING,

AT COST PRICE,

Previous to enlarging their present premises is without exception the most popular sale of good at reduced prices in the town.

The disposition on the part of several Houses by loud winded advertisements to convey the idea that they were in a position to give their goods away, has run its course, examination has proved the direct contrary, and disappointment has followed to those who have investigated these facts. We would say positively, we advertise only what we really have to sell. Our goods correspond with our advertisement in every instance. We put forth no bulls, we sell wholesale as well as retail.

This week we were compelled to replenish our stock with some staple lines, which will be sold as follows:—

One hundred and forty pieces Grey Shooting Cottons at 7½, 8 and 9 cents, by the piece only.

Eighty pieces Bleached Cotton, one yard wide (without dressing), 6 and 10 cents.

Two hundred pieces Alsikon Prints at 10cts. per yard.

Forty pieces Oxford Shirtings from 8 cts. upwards. Full lines in Ready-Made Shirts, Hats, Caps, Rubber Goods in our ware room.

A large variety of Glassware, Crockery, Lamps, Carriage Rugs, &c.

will be found in the store known as the Montreal House, almost immediately opposite their old stand where the business will be carried on as heretofore.

BAD TIMES.

People say that times must be very bad, or else 8, WHITE must get his goods from people that want money very badly, as he is selling Shoes for 35 cents per pair, as good as some stores are selling at 60 cents.

GOOD TIMES.

The present times must be pretty good, as 8, WHITE'S store is more crowded than usual, which shows that there is a large quantity of ready money circulating through the Town.

PETERBOROUGH, JUNE 27, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

County Council.—A full report of the County Council proceedings during the last three days of its sitting will be found on our fourth page.

Strawberries.—Maxwell Hall will receive a large consignment of strawberries to-morrow. Parties wishing to buy cheap should call upon him.

Bobcaygeon.—The village of Bobcaygeon by-law for a bonus of $30,000 to the Whitby and Bobcaygeon Railway has been carried unanimously.

Cricket.—A match will be played between Millbrook and Peterborough, on the Ashburnham ground, on Friday, the 28th of June. Admission ten cents. Ladies free.

Base Ball.—A match game of base ball came off last week between the "White Stars" and the "Young Pine Groves," (juvenile clubs) resulting in favor of the "White Stars" by fifteen runs.

Young Men's Literary Association.—A meeting of the Young Men's Literary Association will be held to-morrow evening in the rooms of Carswell Temple. A full attendance is requested.

Remember.—All those who taking part in the Physical procession, are requested to meet at the Old Music Hall on Saturday night, when the Masks will be handed out, and necessary information given as to the procession on Monday.

Groceries.—Messrs. Rush, Elliott & Morrow have on hand a well-assorted stock of groceries, such as will compare with any in the town. The firm are prepared to supply all who desire anything usually kept in a well appointed grocery.

Commerce.—Mr. Robert S. White, commercial editor of the Montreal Gazette, has compiled and published a general review of the commerce of Montreal, also a synopsis of the commerce of Canada for 1877. The phamplet will be found of great service to business men.

Fire.—Early on Sunday morning a fire was discovered in the old untenanted building on George street, between Mr. Wainwright's butcher shop and Byrne & Soule's Marble Works. The Brigade were promptly in attendance, and prevented the spread of the fire to any of the adjacent buildings.

Personals.—Mr. Marvin Knowlton is again ill, and confined to his bed, in London..... Mr. E. Moir, formerly of the Auburn Mills, has been in town during the past week..... Mr. Macpherson, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, has been removed to Barrie, much to the regret of his many friends.

Take Warning.—Mr. A. Crawford is taking steps to punish all those whom he can find breaking the Sabbath day in shooting, fishing, hunting, or other sports, and as Mr. Crawford will have many, who are weekly disturbed by these unlawful acts, to assist him. A word to the wise ought to suffice all to keep out of his way.

Ashburnham Liquor Cases.—These cases came up for final hearing on Monday, when Mrs. Swanston was fined $30 and costs. The case against Lewis Glover was dismissed for want of sufficient evidence. In George Rickey's case, although one witness swore he asked for beer, got it and drank it on the premises on the day charged, the Magistrates dismissed the case without a word of contradictory evidence. Such is law!

Change of Business. Messrs. Farley & Oliver have purchased the estate of John Holmes, and are stocking the branch establishment in this town with full lines of goods in every department, which they advertise will be sold retail at wholesale prices. The business will still continue under the management of Mr. Geo. Keele. Look out for advertisement next week, by which time all lines will be sorted up with the latest and most fashionable goods.

Grangers Pic-Nic.—A pic-nic under the auspices of the Granges, in the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham was held on Tuesday at Idyl Wild. About 700 were present and spent a very pleasant day. The Indian band from Alnwick was present and enlivened the proceedings by selections of music. We learn that it is the intention of the Grangers to hold a grand mammoth pic-nic at Idyl Wild after harvest. We feel certain Mr. Calcutt will render every assistance in his power to make it a success.

The Phonograph.—Read what the people of Brantford think of the Phonograph, an exhibition of which will be given to-night in the Opera House:

"As an exhibition of Edison's Phonograph in the city of Brantford, on the 17th instant, the following resolution was passed: 'Moved by T. H. Stevenson, Esq., Registrar of the County of Brant, seconded by the Revd. S. B. Barker, and resolved,—That this public meeting having witnessed the startling wonders of one of Edison's Phonographs during a public lecture given in this city by Mr. Bunker, whereby were reproduced talking, singing, laughing, whistling, and tunes played upon a brass instrument, have pleasure in recommending such entertainments as the one we have this evening enjoyed, as well worthy the patronage of any community where he may hereafter exhibit this wonder of wonders."

For Cash and Cash Only.—As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere Mr. W. J. Larmour has determined to cut" his credit business and announces that after the 1st of July he will sell for cash and cash only, except to those who have in the past paid their bills promptly. By this change greater inducements and better bargains can be given, as all goods will be purchased for cash at bottom prices and sold at a small advance. By attention to business and studying the wants of the public, and manufacturing a good article, Mr. Larmour has succeeded in establishing a first class trade—not confined to Peterborough and vicinity, but extending to all parts of the Dominion. We speak from experience, when we say he makes a good article and is not afraid of using printers ink to let the public know it.

Dangerous Ten Dollar Counterfeits.—A number of counterfeit one dollar Dominion notes have been put into circulation in Montreal and have been taken by bankers and brokers; as well as merchants. The Witness gives the following description of the spurious notes, by which they may readily be detected as the bills imitated are those which have the red numbers on. The figures are smaller than in the genuine bill, and the paper not so bright. The length is one quarter of an inch shorter than that of the genuine bill, and the color not so bright. The paper is poorer and of a dingy yellow. The impression on the back is very much blurred. The bills are payable in Toronto. The bills it will be remembered are Dominion notes, the banks issuing nothing under $5. The Witness properly suggests that all soiled notes should be taken out of circulation, their places being supplied by fresh ones, whose engraving could at a glance be distinguished, thus rendering the danger of accepting spurious bills much less than it is at present." Some more of the stolen unsigned Consolidated Tens have been placed in circulation. Look out for them.

A Melancholy Accident.—A melancholy and fatal accident occurred on Sunday last, whereby Richard H. White, son of Mr. Samuel White, of this town, came to an untimely and deplorable end. It appears that he and a man named Cushing had gone down the river in a canoe as far as Crawford's Landing, where after remaining for a short time, they started for home but had not proceeded far when the boat capsized throwing both into the river. Cushing caught hold of the boat and reached the shore in safety, but the other after struggling for some time was overcome with exhaustion and sank a short distance from shore. Mr. Crawford who had witnessed the accident, hastened to the rescue, but before he could arrive or give assistance the deceased had found a watery grave. Steps were at once taken to recover the body, and after dragging the river with grappling irons during the afternoon, the body was found in the evening close by where the accident happened. An inquest was held on Monday evening and a verdict of "accidental drowning while sailing on the Otonabee" was rendered. The greatest sympathy is felt for the parents and relatives of the deceased in this their sad bereavement. The funeral took place on Tuesday and was largely attended.

1st of July.—The arrangements for the celebration of Monday next is fast approaching completion. The first part of the day's sport will be the Playing procession, which will begin to move at one o'clock. From the elaborate preparations which are being made, and the satisfactory reports from the several committees to whom have been referred the different parts of the programme, the procession this year promises to out do any former effort. A large number of fancy and rich costumes have been procured in Toronto, Montreal and elsewhere for the knights in armour, the members of the Royal household, and the chief personages and prominent characters, while the burlesque on local events and characters and public bodies and organizations have, we are informed, been arranged to please and amuse without in the least resorting to personalities. Programmes descriptive of the leading features of the procession will be issued at once, and will be for sale, at five cents per copy, at the bookstore and by news boys on the street on Monday morning. The procession will march to the Drill Shed grounds, where the band contest will commence at half-past two o'clock. The prizes for this, amount in the aggregate to $175, and several bands have entered for competition. During the time the band contest is going on, the burlesque sports, open only to physique in costume, will commence. Mr. H. C. Winch's celebrated brick horse "Little Tommy" will perform in the Drill Shed during the afternoon. This horse is pronounced the best trained equine in the Province. A clown will also file an appearance in the ring and assist in creating amusement for the spectators. In the evening a promenade concert will be held in the Drill Shed, at which the successful bands will play, as well as selections by two Physioy Minstrel Troupes, composed of the town's best local talent. The day's celebration will be concluded by a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

Handsome Banners. The following appears in the Orange Sentinel of the 13th inst., in reference to the new banners which Mr. N. T. Lyon, of Toronto, is painting for the "Young Canadians" and the "True Blues" of this town:

"We had the pleasure, the other day, of paying a visit to the studio of Bro. Lyon, in this city, and found him engaged in painting a large number of banners, at different prices, ranging from $50 to $250, and in great variety of styles. We will endeavour to give a short description of each banner, as we consider it a sign of prosperity to see so many of our country lodges purchasing new banners. We think that one of the handsomest is for L. O. L. No. 1316, Peterboro'. The front side is of purple seamless silk. In the centre is a full length portrait of King William III., stating the banks of the Boyne; in one hand he holds his plans and in the other his telescope, contemplating the great battle that followed; in the distance, and on the other side of the river, can be seen the enemy arranging their forces; surrounding this picture is a very handsome frame work and victory wreath, wrought in silver and gold, and surmounted by the Holy Bible, Royal Crown, etc., with royal blue ribbons above and below, on which are inscribed the names of battles, mottoes, 1690, etc., while from the cross pole hangs a very rich and elaborate drapery of orange silk and gold, with the name and number of the lodge. The reverse side is of sky blue seamless silk. In the centre is a figure of Britannia sitting on a rock, with spear in hand, and the Union Jack shield, standing beside her is the British Lion, with the British flags forming a background to the figure. In the distance can be seen vessels under sail. This picture is also surrounded by handsome framework in gold, and below the figure is the Ontario shield, while above and below are displayed ribbons, with the words, "Young Canadian L. O. L. No. 1316, Peterboro'," and surmounted by the Royal Crown, with drapery of blue and gold to match the reverse or front side. The banner will be carried on two poles, and is very richly trimmed with gold lace, bullion fringe, and tassels. We must say that it is one of the handsomest banners we have ever seen, and we congratulate the lodge on the selection they have made."

Among a description of a large number of other flags and banners of less pretentions which Mr. Lyon is also painting, we find the following:

"True Blues, No. 25, Peterboro'. King William open Bible, sword, heart and hand. Scarlet and blue."

Cassitt's New Reaper is all the rage. Farmer's see it before ordering elsewhere. Guaranteed to do first-class work or no sale. 26-1t.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stenson & Son.

LITERARY NOTES.

EHRICH'S FASHION QUARTERLY.—The summer quarterly of this excellent Fashion Magazine has been received, and excels any former number in point of interest. It is especially attractive for the ladies, and will, no doubt, be eagerly sought for by them.

MR. MACKENZIE'S SPEECH TO THE TORONTO WORKING MEN.—We have just received a copy of Mr. Mackenzie's speech to the Toronto working men, issued in pamphlet form. Working men should procure a copy and judge for themselves as to the fallacies raised by the Conservative party.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—We have received the advance sheets of the New Dominion Monthly for July, containing the Witness Fifty Dollar Prize Poem, and the five other poems which received honorable mention. These are illustrated by engravings after designs by Harrington, Bird, R. A., Alfred Sandham, W. Raphael, and J. Weston. The whole occupies twenty-three pages of the magazine. In all, 291 contributions were sent in, of which only 166 could be classified in respect to the place of production, the sex of sender, &c. Of the authors, seventy were ladies and ninety-eight gentlemen. The subjects chosen were very varied. There were 139 odes to Canada, not ballads at all; 26 poems on social subjects as suitable to any other part of the world as to this Dominion; 10 on the the capture of Quebec; 11 on the battle of Queenston Heights and the death of General Brock, and seven on the same subject as those which gained the prize.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR JULY, 1878.—Harper's Magazine for July finds a novel field for the portrayal of character and the description of scenery in the lowlands of Virginia—the old aristocratic "tide-water" region, rich in historic associations, and exceedingly picturesque in its memorial relics of the old time. The opening article of the Number devoted to this subject, and entitled "Some Landmarks of old Virginia," is contributed by Allan C. Redwood, who uses his pencil as effectively as his pen. Of especially handsome and pathetic interest is Mr. Hedrick's paper about Hospital Life in New York, with sixteen bright illustrations by Reinhart, Abbey, and Rogers, effectively representing every phase of hospital life from the coming of the ambulance to the period of convalescence. Perte Crayon contributes one of his characteristically illustrated papers on "Old-time Militia Musters," full of the racy humor belonging to the occasion; "general training-day," the scene being laid in Virginia.

ROSE-BELFORD'S CANADIAN MONTHLY.—The first number of the new national magazine, which being the combined strength of The Canadian Monthly and Belford's Magazine, proves the old adage "in union there is strength," undoubtedly a true maxim in this case. The mechanical appearance far excel any previous effort in Canada. Every particular in connection with the journal denotes care, experience and remarkable good taste. It is a possibly we may proudly hunt of and compare with our neighbour's and our old country parent's more experienced productions of the same class. We honestly, earnestly and heartily recommend our readers to obtain a copy of the first issue of the Rose-Belford's Canadian Monthly. Our patrons will be pleased with us to learn that the new venture will not be delayed, in any sense, as any sent or party. But will be issued, shared and dealers in everything, at all times about by devoting itself to Canada and Canadians, its history or their Highlands.

Wide Awake opened this week consisting of Pain and Penny Dunks, Derrys, Oxford and Union Shootings, Linen and Lustre Coats, White Shirts, Oxford Shoes with Collars, Summer Underclothing, Ladies Gauze in Kid, Silk and Thread. A lot of remnants which ought to be sold at a bargain. W. J. WILLIAM, Leader.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

WEDNESDAY.

The Council resumed. The Warden in the chair, and all the members being present.

The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

The Warden laid before the Council a map of the Pacific Railway, presented by John Bertram, Esq., M. P.

On motion of Mr. Pearce, the thanks of the Council were tendered to Mr. Bertram therefor.

On motion of Mr. Golborne, the Auditors' Report was referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Golborne, a by-law extending the time for commencing work on the Toronto and Ottawa Railway under the County Bonus By-law was introduced, put through its several stages and passed.

In accordance with the report of the Committee on the Warden's Address, the Warden appointed Messrs. Golborne, Birdsall and Bell, a committee to prepare a memorial to the Lieut.-Governor in Council with references to the expenses incurred in securing the arrest of two of the criminals in the Cheadle outrage.

On motion of Mr. Choate, a by-law was introduced and passed repealing all that part of a By-law passed at the January session of the Council for the present year, by which the County Treasurer was instructed to withhold a sufficient amount of road moneys to represent the interest said to be due by the several townships; and making provision for allowing a rebate of interest to those municipalities who may pay the County rates before the 15th of February.

On motion Mr. G. A. Stewart, P.L.S., was heard with reference to placing stone or other monuments on the Base line of Otonabee.

Moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Choate,—That the application of J. B. McWilliams, Esq., for the use of the Court House Park on the 12th of July next for the Orangemen, be referred to the Committee on County Property, and that they report to this Council on the same.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr Dinwoodie, a by-law to raise a sum of money to form part of the County School Fund for the year 1878 was then read a first time.

Moved by Mr. Collins, seconded by Mr. Birdsall,—That the band be allowed to use the Court House Park during the summer, provided the town use every means in their power to protect the trees and shrubs growing therein.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Choate,—That the resolution be referred to the County Property Committee.

The amendment was carried.

On motion of Mr. Birdsall, a by-law confirming by-law No. 63 of the Township of Asphodel, closing up a certain road allowance was read a first, second, and third time and passed.

It is gratifying to see in almost every Township the vast improvement taking place in the matter of school buildings, furniture and apparatus. The buildings erected are in general of brick, large and commodious, and will be adapted to their purpose.

By reference to the table given above under the head of "Certificates to Teachers," it will be seen that during the year 1877 only twelve teachers were conveyed holding Provincial certificates. The others third and interim certificates, and in the majority of cases had no special training as teachers. The scholarship of the teachers is rapidly improved of late, owing chiefly to the superior character of the training to which many of them have been subjected in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. I may remark incidentally that the amount of support which ought to be given to that institution by the County is a subject deserving your consideration.

The School Law makes it compulsory for teachers to attend a model school for two months before they can obtain a third class certificate. At present there is no model school for this county. The discussion which took place in the School Board of the Town, and in the town papers on the model school question give rise to very erroneous opinions as to the cost of equipment and maintenance. Hence the inducement held out by you at your last meeting appears not to have been sufficient to warrant the Trustees of any of the village schools in establishing such an institution. Should no model school be established for this county, and those who intend to teach be compelled to go to a distance for their special training, it will evidently cost more to become a teacher; the supply of teachers at present sufficiently limited, will become more limited still, and salaries will rise in proportion. The general effect, particularly on the back country parts will be most injurious. I would respectfully suggest that you increase your per-centred grant. The County of Victoria gives $400 per annum to its model school, and I can see no reason why Peterborough should not be equally liberal. I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES CODLE BROWN,
P. S. Inspector, Co. of Peterborough.
Peterborough, June 19th, 1878.

In the course of the verbal explanations with which Mr. Brown accompanied the reading of his report, he said there a school in Otonabee and another in Douro had adopted a plan to facilitate the regular attendance of the children during the summer months, which he considered could be followed by other sections with the very greatest advantage to children, parents and teachers, viz : To send the elder children to school from eight o'clock in the morning to eleven o'clock, and the younger to school from two to five o'clock in the afternoon. By the adoption of this plan three whose services were required at home during the summer, had time in the afterpart of the day to do all the work they should be called upon to do without neglecting their studies, in fact they would be found to do more of both than they would if confined to either all work or all school, and such a plan had the additional advantage of securing a fair proportion of the teachers time to the younger children, as well as the older.

On motion of Mr. Pearce, the report was referred to the Committee on Schools.

The Council then adjourned until nine o'clock on Friday morning.

FRIDAY.

Council resumed on Friday morning. The Warden in the chair, all the members present.

The minutes of Thursday session were read and confirmed.

On motion of Mr. Choate, the deputation from the Bible Christian Church allowed to address the Council.

Messrs. Dundas, Stubbington, Stevenson, McClelland and Reveal, deputation appointed by the School Board, then addressed the Council, urging on that body the necessity of giving a grant to the support of the Peterborough High Schools in proportion to the number of pupils attending the School from the county.

Moved by Mr. Choate, seconded by Mr. Long,—That this Council will give its favourable consideration to the request of the deputation from the Board of School Trustees of the town of Peterborough, and will make a liberal grant to the Collegiate Institute the amount of said grant to be fixed by the Finance Committee.—Carried.

WALLACE POINT BRIDGE.

Mr. Dinwoodie, Reeve of Campbellford, addressed the Council in reference to the Council appointing a commission to examine the Wallace Point Bridge with him, he having been appointed commissioner by the united counties of Northumberland and Durham.

VOTE OF THANKS.

Moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Birdsall,—That the thanks of this Council are due to Henry Calcutt, Esq., for the very enjoyable trip given to them on the Golden Eye, in the company with the town and adjoining municipalities Councils and the leading citizens of the town of Peterborough, and trust the enterprise exhibited by him by placing on our inland waters, at a very considerable expense, his popular line of steamers, will continue to receive that support they so well merit, and that the Clerk be requested to send a copy of this resolution to him.—Carried.

On motion the Committee on Equalization of the Assessment were allowed to report.

EQUALIZATION.

The Committee on the equalization of the several assessment rolls of the county beg to report :—

That after having carefully examined the assessment rolls of the several municipalities within the county,—Your Committee recommend that the rate per acre at which each municipality be equalized, be the same as adopted by the Equalization Committee last year, with the exception of the township of Dummer, in which case they recommend $1 per. acre be struck off, making it $23 per. acre.

In reference to the newly incorporated Village of Norwood, for which there is no assessment roll, this being its first year of its incorporation. Your Committee recommend that it be placed at $60,000, according to the assessed schedule showing the several rates at which each municipality assesses itself for county purposes for the year. In making these recommendations, your Committee believe substantial justice is done to all the municipalities.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. B. PEARCE, Chairman, E. C.

Peterborough, June 19th, 1878.

A By-law adopting the report then received its several readings.

The following is the schedule of equalization referred to in the above report :

Municipality.	Per Acre.	Value of Land.	Personalty.	Totals.
Ashburnham	$23	$1,025,185	$216,805	$1,241,990

Otonabee	23	1,252,316	92,084	1,344,400
Smith	23	1,227,961	87,783	1,315,744

A By-law was passed authorising the levying of a sum sufficient for Municipal purposes.

The Council then adjourned to allow the Committees to work.

After dinner the Council resumed, all the members present.

On motion of Mr. Pearce,—The Warden appointed James Millar, Esq., commissioner to accompany the commissioner appointed by the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, to examine the Wallace Point Bridge.

OLD BURYING GROUND.

On motion the committe appointed by the Warden on the Old Burying Ground reported:

The special committee appointed to confer with a committee of the Town Council with reference to the old Burying Ground, beg leave to report. That after carefully considering the position of the same ...at they would recommend that a memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council be passed, asking that a new deed of the old Burying Ground be given to the county and town jointly, such deed to be conditioned; that the present lease of the same ground to the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society, is to be held good for the period which it still has to run, and that after that the said Town of Peterborough shall keep the same enclosed as a public park at its own expense.

JAMES MILLER, Chairman.
Peterborough, June 21st, 1878.

On motion of Mr. Choate, the report was received and adopted.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

On motion of Mr. Millar,—The Committee on Roads and Bridges reported as follows :—

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to report recommending :—

1. That the proprietor of repairing the Pigeon Creek Bridge be referred until more information be obtained in reference to the proportion each municipality is willing to pay towards the repair of the same.

2. That the Reeve of Galway be appointed to act jointly with any person appointed by the Council of Victoria, in repairing the bridge at Kinmount.

3. Your Committee cannot recommend any action being taken in compliance with the petition of W. P. Chase and others of Harvey, or of John Vanatchie and others of Belmont.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES MILLER, Chairman.
Peterborough, June 21st, 1878.

On motion of Mr. Golborne, the report was received and adopted.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE

On motion of Mr. Sanderson the Property Committee submitted the following report :

The Committee on County Property beg leave to report :—

That the caretaker having reported his inability to obtain a sufficient supply of water for use in the Court House buildings, and your committee having examined into the cause find that there is a sufficient quantity of water in the well to keep up the required supply, but that the pump is out of repair, which they recommend be put in proper working order under the supervision of the chairman of the committee.

That in reference to the application of Mr. J. B. McWilliams and others for the use of the Court House Park on the Twelfth Day of July next, and also the application for the use of the Park for Band purposes, your committee have given the matter the most favourable consideration and regret that the condition the young trees are in, and the very great probability that much injury would result from throwing open the grounds to the public, they cannot recommend at present any public use be made of the Park.

That in the matter of the several complaints that have been made in reference to the want of proper accomodation and ventilation in the Court Room, your committee have carefully and fully enquired into the complaints and find that it is necessary to make some provision at once by which proper ventilation may be secured and by which increased accommodation may be afforded, they cannot, however, advise that any temporary repairs the expense of which would afterwards be thrown away—and therefore recommend that in accordance with plans laid before them—Severe attached—the additions and improvements be proceeded with the cost in any case not to exceed four thousand dollars, and that the Warden appoint a committee to have these additions made; and further, that the requirements for the Registry Office be obtained by the chairman of this committee

M. SANDERSON, Chairman.
June 21st, 1878.

On motion of Mr. Bell the report was received and adopted.

MEMORIAL.

A memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor was read a first, second, and third time and passed, applying for the deed of the old Burying Ground, in accordance with the report of the special committee.

ASSESSMENT.

Moved by Mr. Pearce, seconded by Mr. Cowan,—That in future the County Clerk be permitted to return any assessment roll received by him which is incorrectly added up, and the Treasurer to subsequently make, with the view of having such rolls fully prepared for the duties of this Council, as in many of the rolls received, gross errors have been found which causes great inconvenience to the County Clerk.—Carried.

INTEMPT.

Moved by Mr. Birdsall, seconded by Mr. Dinwoodie,—That the Clerk be instructed to have placed on the minutes of this Council the memorandum of interest accrued to county and school rates (of the years, '74, '75, '76, '77,) of the several municipalities in the county of Peterborough, prepared by the County Treasurer, and which he has transmitted by By-law of this Council last session.—Carried.

A By-law appointing,—Messrs. Moloney, Choate, Miller, Sanderson, and the Warden, a building committee to attend to the repairs of the Court House, was read a first, second, and third time, and passed.

SCHOOLS.

On motion the Committee on Schools reported as follows :

The Committee on Schools beg leave to report :—

1. Your Committe would recommend that the amount not expended each township be levied and collected off them respectively, to form an equivalent to the legislative appropriments for school purposes of this county, for the year 1878, viz :—

Asphodel	$200 00
Belmont and Methuen	160 00
Burleigh	150 00
Dummer	200 00
Douro	200 00
Ennismore	200 00
Galway	175 00
Harvey	150 00
Monaghan	200 00
Otonabee	200 00
Smith	200 00

2. That your Committe recommend that the report of Mr. Brown, Public School Inspector, be received.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN MOLONEY, Chairman.

On motion of Mr. Costello, the report was adopted.

A By-law in accordance with the report was read a first, second, and third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Bell the report was received and adopted.

EXAMINATIONS.

Moved by Mr. Costello, seconded by Mr. Lang,—That the Clerk be instructed to provide the newspapers with the Inspector's report of the school examinations of each municipality of the County.—Carried.

NO PAY.

Moved by Mr. Dinwoodie, seconded by Mr. Bell,—That the members of this Council do not receive any pay for yesterday as they were not engaged in county business.—Lost.

REVISED STATUTES.

Moved by Mr. Golborne, seconded by Mr. Bell,—That the County Clerk be instructed to procure an extra copy of the Revised Statutes of Ontario for each municipality.—Carried.

BRIDGES.

The Warden was instructed to attend to the repairs on the Buckhorn and Lakefield Bridges.

PETITIONS.

On motion the Committee on Petitions reported as follows :

The Committee on Petitions beg leave to report :—

That they have examined all the petitions brought to their notice and find them all correct.

That the petition of Mr. P. Chase and 144 others be referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.

That the petition of Dr. Kincaid be referred to the Finance Committee.

That the petition of R. McDonald be referred to the County Property Committee.

That in regard to the petition of Alexander Cochrane and fourteen others, after having fully enquired into the facts stated in above petition, cannot recommend that the union of the Township of Galway and Cavandish be discolved and the latter township be joined to the township of Harvey.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. BIRDSALL, Chairman.

June 21st, 1878.

On motion the report was adopted.

FREE EXCURSION.

An invitation from Messrs Gordon & Shippee, proprietors of the Steamer Cruiser, was read inviting the County Council, Town Council, Ashburnham Council and Lakefield Council for an excursion to Mount Julien, on Friday, the 28th instant.

The Council then adjourned until Saturday at 9 o'clock a.m.

SATURDAY.

The Council met on Saturday. All the members present—the Warden in the chair.

The minutes of previous day was read and adopted.

A GRANT FOR A PLOUGHING MATCH.

A communication was read from John Clegborn, Esq. asking the Council to give a grant for a ploughing match.

Moved by Mr. Birdsall, seconded by Mr. Collins,—That this Council give $100 for a ploughing match for the County, provided each agricultural society give $50, and the prize list be not less than $150, the Treasurer to pay the same to the order of the Ploughing Match Committee.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Choate, seconded by Mr. Costello,—That the grant be $50 on the same conditions.

The amendment was carried.

VOTE OF THANKS.

Moved by Mr. Bell, seconded by Mr. Collins,—That the thanks of this Council be tendered to the proprietors of the Steamer Cruiser, for their kindness in placing their boat at the disposal of this Council on the 28th instant for a trip on the back lakes, but desiring that they should not be disappointed, and considering it improbable that the Council would attend in a body, beg to decline the invitation.—Carried.

FINANCE REPORT.

On motion of Mr. Choate, the Committee on Finance reported as follows :

The Committee on Finance beg leave to report :—

That they congratulate the Council on the highly satisfactory state of Finances of our county as shewn by the Treasurer's account—an improvement in the respects hitherto unprecedented—and trust the steps taken for the collection of county and school rates may greatly tend to the lessening the County Treasurer in such a condition that he will not require Bank accommodation in future.

That it has been shown your committee that the Corporation of Snowdon is yet indebted to this county for former county rates, and which your committee are of opinion should be paid at once. They therefore recommend that the authorities of Snowdon be notified to pay the balance, now long over due, at once, failing which payment the County Treasurer place the debt in the County Solicitor's hand for collection.

In reference to the application of the Board of School Trustees of the Town of Peterborough for a grant to the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, your committee have given the matter their careful consideration and recommend that the grant made at the January session of this Council be supplemented to the extent of $600 in all, and on the same terms.

That this Council having passed a By-law repealing the enactment by which it was made chargeable against each municipality, and Ashburnham having paid interest, your committee recommend that the municipality of Ashburnham be allowed a rebate of two dollars and eighty-seven cents to cover the amount of such interest.

That in the matter of the application of Mr. Hatton for salary for services he is constantly performing for the several Justices of the Peace for the county, your committee cannot recommend the amount prayed for, but do recommend that a salary of one hundred dollars per annum be allowed Mr. Hatton, to commence on the first day of July next, conditional on his taking all cases that come or are offered from any part of the county, and that all fines impossibly him be returned to the County Treasurer.

That in reference to the indebtedness of Asphodel, Burleigh, Ashburnham and Minden, for statutes formerly furnished these municipalities by the County Treasurer, your committee recommend that the Treasurer collect the amounts.

That in the matter of the debenture rates that inasmuch as it appears, that the amount that is previously shall be levied under Debenture By-laws 355 and 373, will produce a sum largely in excess of the amount required, the clerk be instructed to levy such an amount only as will be sufficient to meet this year's sinking fund and interest, and that one-half only of the rate provided under By-law 454 be collected for the reason that only one-half of the debentures authorized to be issued thereunder have been so issued.

Your committee find the total resources of the county for the current year will be about $5,866 and that there will be required for expenditure the sum of $41,833, which will require a rate of two and one-fifteenth of a mill to be levied and collected on the equalized value of the county.

In reference to the application for an increase to the grant to the Norwood High School, your committee have not seen fit to recommend an additional grant of any nature be made on the same terms as the former grant in January.

The Committee recommend the following account to be paid, viz :

H. C. Rogers, postage, &c	$20 12
Bertram & Co., hardware	7 88
J. E. Belcher, "	25 00
" "	25 00
" "	15 00
" "	9 00
J. R. Stratton, printing	69 25
Toke & Co., books, &c	18 00
Hall & Co., plank for Hall's Bridge	7 00
J. Golborne, Queen vs. Hobbs, costs	20 00
Robinson & Co., stationary, &c	5 50
Robertson Independent	1 00
Ormond & Walsh, whiting &c	5 00
Lakefield News, printing	5 75
Toker & Co., printing	46 00
W. H. Robertson, advertising	5 00

That in consideration of the increased duties now required of the Sheriff as Crown Prosecutor, your committee recommend that his salary be increased to one hundred and fifty dollars.

That no municipality of the County having taken advantage of the county grant for piloting in the establishment of a Model School, your committee recommend that the offer be extended to the Town of Peterborough.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. G. CHOATE, Chairman.

June 21st, 1878.

Moved by Mr Choate, seconded by Mr. Pearce,—That the report be received and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Bell, the report was referred back to the committee, when the grant to the Norwood High School was struck out, and the grant to the Collegiate Institute reduced to $200.

Mr. Pearce strongly urged on the Council the advisability of allowing the grant to the Norwood High School to remain.

On motion of Mr. Bell, the report was received and adopted as above amended.

BY-LAWS.

A By-law to provide for the levying of a certain rate for the county, was passed through its several readings.

A By-law providing for the payment of certain accounts and claims against the county of Peterborough, was passed through its several readings.

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Moved by Mr. Bell, seconded by Mr. Miller,—That the Warden appoint a committee to attend to the repairs of the Pigeon Creek Bridge.

The Warden nominated Messrs. Dinwoodie, Costello, and Sanderson, as the committee.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

On motion the Committee on Roads and Bridges presented their second report :

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to present a second report, recommending that this Council appoint a Committee to act with a Committee of the Town Council, to have the Pigeon Creek Bridge substantially repaired in accordance with the report of the Road and Bridge Committee of the County Council of Victoria, provided the Council of the town of Peterborough pay one-half of all expenses connected with the same, over and above the sum paid by the County of Victoria, and provided the County Council of Victoria consent to the bridge being done to the satisfaction of the town and county of Peterborough.

JAMES MILLAR, Chairman.

Peterborough, June 22, 1878.

On motion of Mr. Bell, seconded by Mr. Moloney, the report was adopted.

MEMORIAL.

Moved by Mr. Choate, seconded by Mr. Pearce,—That the Clerk be instructed to prepare a duplicate of the memorial to the Lieutenant-Governor, to be presented to the Legislative Assembly, and forward the same, at the same time,—Carried.

A By-law to appoint the superintending of the repair of the Pigeon Creek Bridge was passed through its several readings.

The Council then separated, the business of the session being completed.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,
—FOR—
Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.
The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.
Its remprkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamac and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.
The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Degestive, Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to Bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c, should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PTITT'SEYE-SALVE.
An Infallee Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrym Gands, Fim, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.
THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether indeced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, com pounded with elaborate care and exactness safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. It is used successfully for Piles. Its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

SPRING FEVER.

I know where summer woods are green,
Where summer shade is dark and deep,
Where treedoge forms a cooling screen,
Where wide-leaved lilies lie asleep,
And where the early blossoms blow.
I know, I know, but cannot go.

I know where laughing waters fall,
Where sapphire summer lakes are spread,
Where merry springs are musical,
And brooks with fountains at the head,
And where the lordly rivers flow.
I know, I know, but cannot go.

I know where birds delight to sing,
Where squirrels chatter at their play,
Where bees sweep by on busy wing,
Where fragrance fills the dying day,
And fireflies sparkle to and fro,
I know, I know, but cannot go.

I know where ocean airs are free,
Where salt waves dash upon the beach,
Where bright sails glisten o'er the sea,
Where rock and sand strange lessons teach,
Rock dark as death, sand white as snow,
I know, I know, but cannot go.

This wilderness of stone and brick
Enfolds me still from day to day;
My soul is sad, my heart is sick,
And yet I cannot slip away
To pleasant places that I know—
I know, I know, but cannot go.

LAKEFIELD.

VILLAGE LOTS.—On Wednesday, Mr. G. A. Stewart, C. E., of Peterborough, surveyed and laid out in village lots the 50 acres, known as the Williams' property, fronting on Park street.

CHEEKY.—A thief stripped the clothesline of Mr. George Truesdale, on Monday evening last.

FOUND AFTER FOUR YEARS.—Mr. G. J. Galvin in cleaning up on Friday last one of his lots on Regent Street, found concealed in some brush a cash box and a screw driver. On scanning the Midland R. R. mark was found on the articles, and it was at once apparent that they belonged to that Company. Some four years ago a cash box, screw driver, and about $3 in money had been stolen from the station here, and on the authorities seeing the articles at once recognized them. Of course the money was gone.

MANITOBA.—R. B. Beatty, of the Cumberland District, North West Territories, and formerly of Lakefield, writes, under date of May 26 as follows: This is my sixth winter in the country, and none of them have I found to severe as those of my former experience in Upper Canada. In fact, each reason seems to be getting milder, and during the past winter the difference was the more marked. I saw mosquitos on the 3rd of March this spring, and all the snow was gone long before that. Horses can winter out here even in the most severe winters, and come in fat in the spring. Hay is plentiful. This is as fine a stock raising and farming country as any one wants; no stones, and nice bluffs of popular and good land.—News.

NORWOOD.

FROM THE FAR WEST.—Mr. Job Humphries, of Asphodel, returned last week from a prospective tour in the settlements both of Canadian and American Territory in the North-west. He gives a most favorable account of the Manitoban country. All kinds of cereals, and vegetables, he says, are in a very forward state, and, as at home, give promise of an abundant yield. On the whole he was pleased with his visit and intends ere long to become a permanent resident of that renowned portion of our Dominion.

TALL WHEAT.—Mr. W. H. Elliot, of Asphodel, brought to our office an excellent sample of fall wheat, measuring 5 feet 6 inches. Who can beat this?

OBITUARY.—On Friday last a sad gloom was cast over this neighborhood by the death of an estimable young girl, Gertrude Vira Thom, second eldest daughter of the Rev. James Thom, of this Village. She had been ill for about two weeks previous to her demise, and the nature of her disease—Cerebro-spinal meningitis, was such as to give but feeble hopes of her recovery. All that fond and loving parents, kind and sympathizing friends, and skilful physicians, could do, was done, but all was of no avail. Death had marked her for its prey, and she slowly, but with true christian resignation, succumbed to the maglignant disease above mentioned.

NORWOOD vs. ASPHODEL AWARD.—After considerable delay, we have received the result of the deliberation of the arbitration convened for the purpose of settling some matters in dispute consequent upon the separation of the Village of Norwood from the Township of Asphodel. The amount awarded to be paid by Norwood to the Township, is $1300, in Village debentures, bearing interest at six per cent due on the 1st of January of each year. The costs of the arbitration, $56, to be defrayed equally by each municipality.—Register.

PORT HOPE.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon last, as the Field Battery of Artillery were returning from drill, and were driving at a very fast rate of speed, one of the men fell off and was run over by one of the guns, severely crushing his ankle.

PAPER MILL.—The Port Hope town council are considering a proposition to aid, by the grant of $2,000, the establishment of a paper factory in that town.

COWS IMPOUNDED.—Fifteen cows found on the street the other day were impounded, and a fine of $2.50 exacted before they were released.

BONUSING MANUFACTURES.—The Times urges the passage of a bonus by-law for $20,000, or so, to be used in sums of $2,000 to $5,000 to aid in establishing manufactures in the town. It says manufactures must be established if the town is to progress or even retain its present position. It says that the fact that it is willing to give bonuses should be advertised.

SECESSION.—The Reeve of Darlington, in compliance with a Requisition signed by a number of ratepayers of that Township, has called a public meeting for the purpose of considering the subject of the withdrawal of the Townships of Darlington and Cartwright from the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, and their annexation to the County of Ontario, and also to discuss the advisability of a separation of "these United Counties." We trust the latter question will be particularly dealt with, and that he proposition of joining the County of Ontario will be found to have but few supporters, as the change would be manifestly to the detriment of the municipalities.—Times.

ACCIDENT IN OTONABEE.

On Friday afternoon, 21st instant, Mr. David Fitzgerald, an old resident of the Township of Otonabee, residing on lot 28, concession 4, was thrown out of his waggon and killed on the spot. From what we can learn of the particulars of the accident, which has been given us by a neighbour of the unfortunate man, it appears that Mr. Fitzgerald and his son John, aged about 16 years, were returning home in a wagon with a span of young colts, when by some cause altogether unknown the animals suddenly took fright and ran away. After running about the breadth of a lot Mr. Fitzgerald was thrown violently out on his head, and a little further on his son was also thrown out; but he escaped without much injury. But sad to relate, the poor boy, on running back to where his father lay, found him dead, having been instantly killed, his forehead being smashed in just between and above the two eyes, and one of his ears nearly torn off. Although the son had got off unhurt on this occasion, he was on the morning of the same day badly injured and came near losing his life, by the same colts having ran off with him while in the village of Keene. His wife died about four years ago, leaving a family of small children, so that the position of the family in this second calamity is one deserving of great sympathy; for although the deceased was in comfortable circumstances, none of the members of the family are old enough to take charge of the farm. Mr. Fitzgerald was 56 years of age, and had lived in Otonabee upwards of 35 years.

LINDSAY.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—On Tuesday morning last a young man named Charles Ward, from Peterboro' attempted to put an end to his existence by swallowing sixty grains of cyanide of potash. Dr. Burrows was immediately summoned, and the proper steps taken. Ward is now progressing rapidly towards recovery, but he had a narrow escape, as he took enough to dose over a hundred men.

YOUNG BRITONS.—the following district officers were elected at the meeting of the District Lodge here last week:—D. M., D. H. Williamson, Omemee; D'p. M. S. Hill, Bobcaygeon; Secretary, R. Henderson, Omemee; Treas., G. F. McDonald, Lindsay; Chaplain, J. Bice, Cameron; Director of Ceremonies, M. Cain, Bobcaygeon; Committee, Jas. Henderson, Lindsay; C. Pocock, Bobcaygeon; R. Bannan, Omemee; D. Kerr, Omemee; B. Briens, Lindsay; I. T. A. Laidley, Omemee; O. T. J. McMullen, Lindsay; Lecturers, F. Irwin, Cameron, and W. H. Wilson, Lindsay.

PERSONAL.—Rev. B. E. Hutton, formerly Eais Methodist Minister here has been transferred to Cobourg. They purpose building a new church there, and Mr. Hutton is the man to do it.

We are pleased to notice that Mr. A. Hudspeth is recovering from the effects of the fall he had last week and is able to be out of his office again.... Mr. T. Jellett's broken arm has mended and he will be able to resume his employment next week.—Post.

MILLBROOK.

FARM SOLD.—Mr. Geo. Foster has bought the Geo. Fair farm, 100 acres, about a mile from this village, for $3,010, being the lowest figure at which real estate has changed hands in Cavan for some time.

POLITICS.—In the political arena very little is doing. Were it not for the weekly political bulletins of our local newspapers we would have almost for gotten that we were in the heat of a political contest in East Durham.

BRIEFLETS.—Sowden & Co. are shipping a sample reaper to Ireland this week. The demand for reapers in this section will, it is expected, exceed the supply. Several of our farmers who went on the excursion to Delaware have bought farms there, and are now about disposing of their homesteads here preparatory to leaving us. We wish them success, but at the same time cannot help thinking that Canadian farmers will find it hard to succeed where Americans have failed. There is some talk among temperance men of having the Scott Temperance Act submitted to the popular vote in the United Counties instead of the Dunkin Act, under which it is almost impossible to obtain a conviction.—Post.

BOBCAYGEON.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A fatal accident nearly occurred in Mr. Bick's shingle mill, on Wednesday. A drag saw is employed to cut the wood into suitable lengths for shingle bolts. This saw lifts up to admit of the timber being adjusted. A man named McGee was placing a piece of timber ready for the saw, when the man who has control of the saw inadvertently dropped it into its place. It fell on the back of Mr. McGee's neck, and of course immediately commenced to saw his head off with alarming vigor and rapidity. Mr. McGee raised a long, loud scream of agony, and the saw was lifted before any more harm was done than the total destruction of a shirt collar and considerable damage to a vest. Another instant and Mr. McGee would have seen his own head drop off into the bolt box.—Independent.

KINMOUNT.

Mr. Myles has completed nearly all his branch line except some three quarters of a mile, but has now been forced to stop altogether through not being able to come to terms with Messrs Green and Trounce respecting the right of way through their lots. There is no present indication that he will be able to do any more until he obtains his charter. It is a great pity in many respects.

There is no one measure in the world that will so successfully relieve pain and cure diseases as the Magnetic Liniment, (nothing like magnetism) used internally and externally. No family should be a moment without it in the house in case of accidents. Large bottles only 25 cts.; full directions for use on each bottle. Go to your druggist and get a bottle—it may be the means of saving your life. Prepared by J. Bovee & Co., Perth. For sale in Peterborough at Dr. Taylor's Drug Store 46-1y

WOMEN AT THE BAT.

Trials and Tribulations of a woman's base ball club.

The only attempt on record of Dunbury trying to organize a female base ball club occurred last week. It was rather an incipient affair, but it demonstrated everything necessary, and that particular answered every purpose. The idea was agitated and carried out by six young ladies. It was merely designed for experiment on which to base future action. The young ladies were at the house of one of their number when the subject was brought up. The premises are capacious, and include quite a piece of turf, hidden from the street by several drooping luxuriant, old fashioned apple trees. The young lady of the house has a brother who is fond of base ball and had the necessary machinery for a game. This was taken out on the turf under the trees. The ladies assembled, and divided themselves into two nines of three each. The first three too the bat and the second three went to the bases—one as catcher, one as pitcher and the other as chaser—or more technically, fielder. The pitchers was a lovely brunnette with eyes full of earnestness. The catcher and batter were blondes with faces aflame with expectations. The pit

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 4, 1878

OUR LOCAL ALLY.

Because we pointed out the absurdity of the Review's puerile attempt to prove extravagance on the part of the Mackenzie administration, by enumerating items that show a less expenditure than that made under the same heads when Sir John was in power, it accuses us of "deliberate falsehood." It was amusing enough in the Review to make itself ridiculous in the first place; but the joke is increased by its obtuseness after the event. Even when blaming us for misrepresentation it makes a fragmentary quotation from our columns, and then prates of "deliberate falsehood." The fact is, it has fairly been caught in the perpetration of a palpable folly; and being angry at our more public exposure, it commits the crowning offence of the fool in crying, "you lie!"

It must have startled the local Tory leaders when they saw reproduced in their party journal a most telling part of Hon. Mr. Mackenzie's speech, wherein he showed that very nearly two million dollars of the expenditure of 1876-7 were called for by fixed charges and by extraordinary and imperative calls; and that a fair deduction of these from the ordinary outlay exhibited an actual saving within the general expenditure of 1873-4. But when the faithful followers of Sir John A. Macdonald in Peterborough saw the party paper go so far as to enumerate some score of the principal items whereon this Reform saving had been effected, they need not be blamed if they showed signs of consternation. Just fancy their feelings when they saw in the Review the following:—

"On turning to a tabulated statement to be found on page 10 of the Public Accounts of 1876-7, we learn that there were spent under the following headings the amount named less in 1876-7 than in the year 1873-4, viz.:—

Subsidies to Provinces	$ 98,997
Civil Government	71,402
Police	45,072
Penitentiaries	14,[illegible]
Legislation	14,063
Geological Survey	2,276
Census	33,134
Marine Hospitals	4,0[illegible]
Militia and Defence	420,825
Public Works	56,178
Light House and Coast Service	5[illegible],19
Dominion Lands	150,000
Dominion Forces, Manitoba	170,250
North-west Territory Organization	12,[illegible]
Boundary Survey, United States	79,[illegible]
Boundary Survey, Ontario	2,420
Military Stores	144 9[illegible]
Customs Refunds	69,[illegible]

Reduction in the expenditure '76-7 as compared with '73-4 ..... $2,8[illegible],000

It will be observed that all of these items are such as a saving might easily, by care and economy, be effected on; and are therefore not at all comparable in character with the class of expenses which Mr. Mackenzie claimed should be deducted from the ordinary expenditure of the year; such items, for instance, as interest on the public debt, N. W. police, foreign exhibitions, sinking fund, administration of justice, military pensions and Indian annuities. If the Tory press can show wherein the outlay in these cases could have been advantageously lessened, let it do so decently, and not make itself ridiculous by attempting a comparison as childish as it is insulting to the intelligence of those whom it is pretended to instruct. That a saving has been effected by the Reform Government on the items so kindly given by the Review is pretty good proof that there was extravagance in these directions when the outlay was greater in the younger years of the country. Indeed many of these very items are those on which were based the complaints of reckless outlay against the Macdonald Administration. It need not be wondered at then, that the hewing ones among the Peterborough Tories were both shamed and disgusted by their tabulation in their local journal. And to make matters the matter was noticed by the EXAMINER. Then the party managers raged, and vented vigorous language on the head of their editor. And he, poor man, can do nothing but sit humbly under the invectives of his party friends, and say nothing beyond a pueerile cry of "deliberate falsehood." Poor, dear dolt that it is, to thus innocently disgust its own party.

PERTINENT POINTS.

If Protection will not raise prices why cannot Canadian manufacturers just as well go on selling without it, particularly when they have the advantage in point of freight charges, and cost of handling, besides the protection of the present revenue tariff? The fact is Protective duties do raise prices until a growing domestic competition forces them down to their natural level again. In the meantime the existing operators grab all they can. Many of those who have been encouraged to draw their money out of safer operations by a hope of sharing in the profits are deceived when the equilibrium of trade is restored, and their fall brings down other innocent victims, and causes general derangement as well. With only a restricted home market, and no chance of saving on trading close for imported commodities, will not the whole saving of the manufacturers to set off the decreasing prices fall on the labourer through curtailment of his wages? Lowering the cost of production is the only way to meet decreased profits on the outset, and the readiest it not the only way under a high tariff is the cutting down of the operatives wages.

THE POINT EXACTLY.

At Themesville, a very few days ago, Hon. Mr. Mills called particular attention to one point, and asked that it should not be overlooked in the discussion of political issues. The advocates of a "National Policy" insist that protection is especially required for our manufacturers, who as a class, are suffering to a greater extent than any other. The statistics of insolvency, however, do not sustain this assertion. They show conclusively that the hard times have not pressed so heavily on the manufacturers as on traders. Taking the year from January 1875, until February, 1876, the liabilities of insolvent manufacturers amounted to $5,271,631, and of merchants and traders, $16,235,479, or more than three times the amount. An examination of the lists of insolvents, published from time to time, will show that this disproportion is even more marked at the present time.

Manufacturers may be suffering more or less from the depression, but if so, they have a peculiar way of showing it. The majority of them live in fine houses and fare sumptuously. Their external appearance does not indicate such a financial stringency as might be expected from reports circulated. Possibly their yearly profits are not so large as they were a few years ago, when dividends of 50 and 75 per cent. were the rule, Now most of them content themselves with announcements of 25 and 30 per cent. gain. This is the point referred to by Mr. Mills, and it is an important one. The class for whom the "National Policy" is intended do not suffer to the extent represented.

ENFORCING THE DUNKIN ACT.—The recent decisions of the Police Magistrate on the well investigated cases before him for infringement of the Dunkin Act should satisfy the local authorities that the law is really valid here, at least so far as they are concerned. All the municipal police have to do in any case of offence against the letter of the law, whether of theft or of illegal liquor selling, is to take the preliminary steps toward the punishment of the offender. And this they are bound to do, unless they shirk their duty, without any consideration of legal technicalities that may arise.

Canada as a Maritime State.

In supplement No. 4 to the annual report of the Department of Marine and Fisheries we have the statistics of Canada as a maritime state. These show that she stands fifth on the list of nations, and that her marine is steadily growing from year to year. The British Empire—including Canada and all the colonies—takes the lead, with a tonnage of 7,677,024. The United States come next, with a tonnage of 2,564,980; then Norway, with a tonnage of 1,291,877; and Italy fourth, with a tonnage of 1,300,425. The total number of vessels on the Register Books of the Dominion on 31st December last was 7,362, measuring 1,310,468 tons. Germany stands sixth—300,000 tons less than Canada, and France seventh, nearly 500,000 tons less. The total number of vessels built in the Dominion last year was 432, and their tonnage capacity 120,928. Estimating their value at $45 per ton gives $5,441,760, and estimating the value of our whole marine at $30 a ton gives $39,-314,040. The statement by Provinces shows the following for the years 1873 and 1877 respectively:—

	1873. Vessels.	Tons.	1877. Vessels.	Tons.
New Brunswick	1,147	277,359	1,133	339,447
Nova Scotia	2,243	468,710	2,261	541,579
Quebec	1,342	214,043	1,951	248,310
Ontario	1,[illegible]	89,121	986	131,761
P. E. Island	290	34,918	342	55,547
British Columbia	30	4,896	43	3,479
Manitoba	...	...	6	346
	5,783	1,073,742	7,322	1,310,468

This shows an increase of 579 in the number of vessels, and of 236,750 tons in the tonnage. The number of new vessels built in the four years since 1873 was 1,828, and their total tonnage 503,597 tons. The position of the Dominion as indicated by these figures is very gratifying, and at the rate the country has been progressing of late years it will very soon take rank as third in the list of the maritime nations of the world.

The great body of supplement No. 4 is taken up with a list of vessels on the Registry books of the Dominion, giving their name, port of registry, rig, when built, dimensions, tonnage and owner. As a matter of interest we may mention that Port Burwell claims 26 vessels, 5,407 tons; Port Dover 21 vessels, 1,444 tons; Port Rowan 9 vessels, 1,156 tons; Port Stanley 5 vessels, 1,149 tons; Chatham 19 vessels, 2,678 tons; Windsor 45 vessels 5,863 tons; Wallaceburg 30 vessels, 2,104 tons; and Sarnia 15 vessels, 4,003 tons.

INJUDICIOUS FRIENDS.

(Ottawa Herald.)

In this country the liberty of the press is as great if not greater in some respects than the liberty of speech, and all possible variations of opinion have the most ample means of propagation. Apart from the daily paper, which is an omnium gatherum, so to speak, there are journals issued in the interest of special callings and professions; then, again, there are secular papers which claim, or are supposed to express authoritatively the views of the great leaders while occupying the position of secular periodicals. Sometimes the idea is impressed upon the public mind that such or such editorial utterances, on certain subjects, are inspired, and these are generally accepted as having the stamp of approval by leaders of opinion. This idea may as often be erroneous as correct; from experience we are inclined to think it is more often erroneous. This reflection has been forced upon us by the comments in certain French Canadian papers on the letter sent by His Holiness the Pope to the Catholic members of the Dominion Government. For a long time past the opinions on these papers have been in the habit of implying, not they gave authoritative expression to the views of the Catholic hierarchy of Quebec and, on the assumption that they were better and more favored sons of the church, they took every opportunity to denounce their political opponents as rebels to the Holy See. The great advantage thus obtained was used with unsparing vigor, therefore it is easy to comprehend the feelings with which these writers must regard the publication of a document which at one blow demolishes their heretofore generally admitted pretensions, and proclaims that the men they have always characterized as enemies of the Catholic faith, are the recipients of the Apostolic Benediction; indicating, also, by the act, that political parties in Canada stand on an equal footing before His Holiness. We rejoice that this fact has at length been authoritatively recognized, so that hereafter neither party, for selfish purposes, shall arrogate the right to speak on behalf of the clergy. This question having been happily set at rest, let us hope forever in Canada, we may remark that the comments on the letter before referred to, savored more of political partizanship than religious zeal, and conveyed the idea that there was more annoyance felt at the loss of a powerful weapon, than gratification at a graceful act of justice having been done to political opponents. Hereafter it will be a mark of wisdom to consider, when party journals denounce the other side on religious grounds, to inquire what is their authority for so doing and not accept their dictation for after all it may be found, as in the past, to proceed from very slight and perhaps unwarranted assumptions.

THE CZAR AND EMPEROR.

Both the Czar and his uncle, the Emperor of Germany, have twice narrowly escaped being shot; but the deadliest and most nearly successful attempt upon the life of the former was of a more insidious kind, and is still known to only a very few persons, even in Russia. There is in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg a small "elevator" consisting of an easy-chair fixed upon a stand, originally constructed for the Czar Nicholas, who was wont to mount in this fashion to his cabinet on the third floor of the palace. On one occasion, after a state dinner, the present Czar, instead of taking his seat in the chair as usual, offered the palace to a lady of rank, who had been a friend of his mother. The countess, flattered by the compliment, took the seat at once but she had not risen many feet when the chain snapped, and down came the chair with a terrific crash, flinging out its occupant upon the floor with a broken limb and other serious injuries. The dismay of the company was extreme, and all were loud in expressing their thankfulness that the Czar himself had so narrowly escaped a catastrophe which, however no one looked upon in any other light than that of a very unfortunate accident. But one of the imperial pages, a shrewd young fellow, who had himself witnessed the catastrophe, had his own thoughts about this "accident" and took the earliest opportunity of inspecting the broken chain, when he at once perceived that it had been sawn half through, close to the staple. The announcement of this discovery fell like a thunderbolt upon the assembled grandees, and not a moment was lost in calling up the palace servants for examination, when it was found that a foreign lackey, who had entered the service some months before, and had up to that time borne an excellent character, had unaccountably disappeared. The affair, however, was hushed up, and to this day many persons who are acquainted with the story, consider the whole occurrence either imaginary or purely accidental—New York Times.

THE BROCKVILLE RACE.

Marlan wins easily by Twelve Boat lengths.

The boat race which took place in Brockville on Monday last, and which for some time past was looked forward to with a great deal of interest resulted in another victory for Hanlan, who won easily by twelve boat lengths. The attendance was very large, numbering from 15,000 to 20,000. All the arrangements had been made in the most satisfactory manner, and at 5.42 a capital start was made.

THE RACE.

Kennedy on the inside was the first to catch the water; Plaisted next, and then Hanlan, followed by the others in a bunch. Momentarily only was the advantage gained by Kennedy and Plaisted for Hanlan with his long, sweeping, easy swing, in two or three strokes had a good lead, and before the quarter mile was reached had at least a couple of lengths the best of all the other competitors, Plaisted being next, and the others, led by Riley and Kennedy, struug out. The race from this point was a hollow thing for Hanlan, who, pulling 30 strokes, and dropping on the home quarter to 27 and 26, rowed as he pleased, and won in the easiest manner possible by at least twelve lengths. At the end of the first mile, opposite Mr. Alexander Allan's boat-house, he was five lengths in the van, which he had increased to seven at his stake boat, turning it at 5.55, thirteen minutes from the start. Kennedy, pulling thirty-four or thirty-five, was the second to turn his stake buoy, being two lengths ahead of Plaisted and McKen, who turned together, closely followed by Riley, Luther, Ten Eyck, and Elliot. McKen, who was handling his sculls in capital style, pressed Plaisted hard until half a mile on his journey on the home stretch, when a large skiff suddenly shot out from underneath the shadow of the thick foliage overhanging the rocky shore and striking his outrigging capsized him in the water, sixty or seventy feet down. Coming to the surface he clung to the boat which caused his disaster, and having righted his shell, rowed the remainder of the course, arriving five minutes after the last man, Luther, who was very much out of condition and rowed a poor race. Plaisted was second, half a length in front of Kennedy, for whom he several times waited, and once actually stopped to speak to. Riley, who dropped behind in the last three or four hundred yards, purposely, it is supposed, to enter for the consolation race to-morrow, was fourth, Ten Eyck fifth, Elliott sixth, and Luther seventh. The time is variously given from 26, 25½ to 38, minutes, the latter being taken on the judge's boat. The race was undoubtedly a slow one, but it is hard in the absence of any official time to give reliable figures. In the foregoing it should have been mentioned that Elliott on the return was fouled twice, once about three quarters of a mile from the finish by a row boat, and again on entering the fourth mile by a tug, the last accident causing his boat to leak and take in a quantity of water. It did not effect his position in the race, however, for he was sixth when the mishap occurred and sixth when he finished.

THE CONTESTANTS.

The ages, heights and weights of the men, and the order in which they passed the winning post:—

Purse of $1,000: $650 to first man, $200 to second, $100 to third, 4 miles with turn.
Edward Hanlan, Toronto, 23, 5 ft. 8½ in., 151 lbs.
F. A. Plaisted, Boston, 26, 5 ft. 11½ in., 155 lbs.
John Kennedy, Portland, Me., 25, 5 ft. 6 in., 150 lbs.
J. H. Riley, Saratoga, 28, 5 ft. 11½ in., 160 lbs.
J. A. Ten Eyck, Peekskill, N. Y., 26, 5 ft. 7 in., 150 lbs.
A. Elliott, Toronto, 30, 5 ft. 9 in., 150 lbs.
Pat Luther, Pittsburg, 32, 5 ft. 11 in., 164 lbs.
Wm. McKen, Toronto, 26, 5 ft. 10½ in., 156 lbs.

Hanlan, it will be noticed, weighed 2 or 3 pounds more in his race with Morris at Pittsburg. He wore his usual costume, a scarlet head round his head, blue sleeveless guernsey and dark blue pants. He rowed his Swaddell & Winship shell, using the same oars with which he pulled to victory on the Allegheny River, those made by Mr. Wharin of Toronto. They are excellent sculls and the champion likes them ever better than his Ayling ones. All the men were distinguished colors and all the Americans except Luther pulled in paper boats made by Waters of Troy, N. Y. Luther used Hanlan's Jewett boat, which fits him to a "T." McKen sat in his new Swaddell & Winship, of which he is very proud, but which he says needs a little adjusting in the rigging, the seat being too far forward and other things a trifle out of gear. Elliott rowed in his recent purchase Hanlan's Westin boat which carried the champion passed the winning buoy first in his race with Wallace Ross. It was not to be seen that it was paper against cedar, four pulling in each.

THE WINNERS.

Of Hanlan, the invincible, and Plaisted it is not necessary to say anything. Kennedy has not been long out of the chrysalis state of amateur. As such he rowed several pair-oar races with Riley when the latter was an amateur also. In one of these, 9th October, 1876, they covered two miles on Greenwood Lake, N. Y., in 12.20½, which ranks as the fastest amateur time, next to the 12.16 made by Yates and Conoboy (then an amateur) at Saratoga, in August, 1876. He graduated as a professional at the Silver Lake regatta last month, rowing second to Plaisted. He is, Pro Plaisted, a Portland Ma., man by birth. He is of slight, but wiry build. He has Plaisted's style exactly, and is generally regarded as the New York sculler's pupil.

A SHOCKING CRIME

A Coloured Barber in Ingersoll Stabs Three Men With a Dirk Knife—The Hue and Cry.

INGERSOLL, July 2, 2 a.m.—There was a fearful outrage committed about 12.40 this morning by a negro named Neil, formerly of London, but working here now as a barber. He called at the McMurray House and was refused admission. He then took a dirk knife out of his pocket and stabbed Mr. McMurray in a most frightful manner. Mr. Capron, the constable, and the McMurray House hostler, while trying to arrest the negro, were also cut in a shocking manner. The town bells are now being rung to arouse the citizens for the purpose of scouring the country for the wretch, and if he is caught it is feared he may be lynched. The negro's house in town has been broken into and searched. He formerly kept a barber shop on King street, London. Mr. McMurray, Mr. Capron, the constable, also the hostler, are seriously injured.

THE TWELFTH IN MONTREAL.

Debate in the Council on Preventive Measures.

MONTREAL, June 28.

At the meeting of the Council this afternoon, Ald. Mercer brought up the all-absorbing question of the preservation of the peace of the city during the second week in July, and asked His Worship the Mayor what he had done to preserve it. The Mayor then replied as follows:—"It seems to me that I cannot with any justice be expected to enter into negotiations or make promises which could be implied as recognizing in any way such a body as the Orangemen, but I may say that I will keep a vigilant eye over any parties who may attempt to cause a disturbance."

Ald. Mercer then replied that he did not know how to speak quietly on this subject, and he did not desire to speak so as to call attention to the matter. As far as his information went he did not expect trouble from people outside the city coming here, but he anticipated much trouble from parties in the city. He spoke, not for the Orangemen nor for anyone else, but in behalf of the citizens. There must be shown some resolution to prevent the threatened disorder. Strong measures taken now would save the city ten times over what it would afterwards cost. He knew the feeling of the citizens on this subject, and they agreed that preparations should be taken in advance, and that these preparations should be so complete that trouble should be prevented on this unfortunate 12th.

The speaker was interrupted several times, Ald. Donovan remarking that he wished to "force the Mayor to show his hand."

Ald. Holland followed in a similar strain to Ald. Mercer, amid a number of interruptions from Ald. Devin. He contended that their citizens had a right to form in procession and go to church, and not to be assailed if they belong to the Orange Order or any other Order, having stated that they would go to church without emblems.

Ald. Mercer called attention to the declaration of the Orangemen that they would march with emblems, and he wanted this known. None of the facts should be suppressed.

Ald. Kennedy said no Catholic would attempt to interfere with a procession simply going to church, but they were two ways of going to church, one with prayer books and the other with 50 or 60 rounds of ball cartridge in their pockets.

Ald. Thibault said the Government at Quebec were hypocrites. Several supporters of the Government, including Messrs. McShane and Nelson, had favoured the measure in Council, and now their voices were silent in the matter. He spoke at considerable length, and was followed by Ald. Stephens, who questioned the advisability of processions nearly all of which gave offence to somebody. Again, if processions were illegal it was the duty of the police to suppress them, but one man or body of men had a right to raise his hand against his fellow and take that life that God only gave and God only should take away. There was an unfortunate state of affairs in this city but, he added, "You, Mr. Mayor, may rest assured that the laws of this country will be observed. If you don't act fearlessly and faithfully there will be found others who will act, and the authority will be taken out of your hands." It was, he said, as well that the sentiments of the people should be known and as they had to be made known it was as fitting he should do it as anyone else. In concluding his speech he added that if the Mayor had sent a squad of policemen to Victoria Square the last 12th of July all this trouble would have been saved. He hoped the question would not again come up in Council, as it was determined apart from the Mayor to prevent disorder. During these remarks, which were delivered with considerable force, the Mayor looked at the worthy Alderman as if stupefied.

Ald. Kennedy said respectable Catholics would join with respectable Protestants to put both Orange and Green off the streets, and the question dropped.

HANGING OUT FALSE LIGHTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—Judging from the way his claims are presented, it appears that the candidature of Mr. Hilliard in West Peterborough arises simply and wholly from the somewhat prominent part he lately took in the temperance agitation in this county. It is not as a politician, a public man, or an influential resident that the Conservatives have brought him out. Indeed it is well known that many of them have expressed their cordial hatred of him, and that too not very long ago. He has scarcely been heard of in politics for years, he has occupied no prominent public position, and has taken no personal part in the work of his party, many members of which did not hesitate to express their distrust of his party leanings. Nor is this greatly to be wondered at after some of the semi-private and public utterances of the man on the temperance question. He has even been known to praise the action of the Reform Government, and by implication, if not more strongly, condemn that of Sir John Macdonald and his party in connection with Temperance legislation. One would therefore suppose that so good a Temperance Reformer as Mr. Hilliard would do all in his power to retain in power a party from whom he hoped to get what he as a temperance man was fighting for, and to keep out a party which he as a temperance man has found cause to mistrust and condemn.

The temperance agitation has declined for a time for the simple reason that the Reform Government has given temperance men all they asked for the present; and so the arduour and zeal of Mr. Hilliard has grown cool. The one atonement being withdrawn, he has sought another and found it in his candidature for parliamentary honours; though he is a candidate likely to be sadly disappointed if he has any serious hopes of success.

He and his party friends thought that he as well as anyone could secure the Conservative support in a Riding where they knew the folly of putting forward a strictly party candidate, and that his efforts as a Dunkin Bill campaigner might be relied on to catch a part of the Reform vote. He is to use his non-party temperance record to place himself in a position as an opponent of the Government that has given all the Dominion Temperance Act never asked for. It was no doubt hard for the local Conservatives to accept such a candidate; but they were forced to swallow the leek, their only hope being in getting part of the Reform Temperance vote.

It is well that the Reformers of West Peterborough should thoroughly understand Mr. Hilliard. As a temperance man he is very inconsistent, for he has shown plainly that so far from being above all things a temperance advocate, he is willing to sacrifice to party purposes the cause in which he professed to be single hearted. Else why does he come out in opposition to an acknowledged temperance Government, and why does he oppose a man who in Parliament has consistently supported temperance legislation? It is vain for Mr. Hilliard to approach Reform electors with studied quiet respecting the leaders of the Ministerial party; to attempt the no-party dodge when he knows Conservatism is despised, or to appeal to Temperance Reformers not as a party candidate, but as a friend of the great social Reform they have at heart. He cannot separate himself from what has been all along the party in opposition to temperance. He is simply the Tory candidate in West Peterborough, the endorser of Sir John A. Macdonald's iniquitous political history, the opponent of Mr. Mackenzie and the best Government the country ever had. As such no Reform elector can do otherwise than vigorously oppose him. Temperance Reformers in particular must in consistency utterly separate themselves from one who has gone from them to the enemy's camp. So Mr. Hilliard will not only suffer defeat at the polls, he will also lose all claim to consistency as a temperance man, and forfeit his claims to respect because of the use he has allowed himself to be put to in a party plot. And the probabilities are, that those who are now making a tool of him will be most forward in future taunts against him and temperance advocates in general as instanced by Mr. George Hilliard. Yours truly,

TOTAL ABSTAINER.

Reminiscences of a Camp Out.

(CONTRIBUTED.)

We have indulged in that romantic relaxation for enervated beings, camping out. Have caught the salmon; have impaled the bass; have trolled for that doughty inhabitant of our inland rivers and lakes, the maskinonge. Have paddled our canoe over miles of water, have in fact, hunted, fished, and enjoyed ourselves thoroughly. We packed our camp, cooking utensils, and sporting gear, and with all the requisite paraphenalia sought our favored camping grounds, which present so many and varied attractions to the wearied citizen seeking rest. Does not the very name breathe a murmur of gentle zephyrs of shady retreats, of sylvan woods, of primitive indulgence in unalloyed pleasure that one must participate in to completely appreciate and enjoy. For those in civilization, far from the busy town with its tumult, traffic, noise and fashion, how delightful it is among the beautiful surroundings to spend a few days, nature on every side, in every hue, shade and aspect, placid lake set in a frame of green woods, and grassy banks; stretching as far as human eye can reach, running in chains like huge mirrors in every shape and form, dropped on mother earth, oftentimes studded with islands, profusely laden with foliage of variegated hues, and fringed with fern and the tall reeds, through which the wind, at night, sings gently a poem of praise and gladness. Boundless stretches of forest where the sun-shine scarcely penetrating the screen of interlacing boughs, sheds a hazy radiance upon a mantle of mossy and leaf-covered couch and hillocks crowned with thousands of tiny fragrant flowers, loading the air with incense, and reminding the weary town worn of the portals of paradise. Wild rapids rushing tumultuously over huge boulders, eddying in whirlpools falling in miniature cascades, crested with foam, glistening, shining, sparkling, as if the enchanted visitor beheld the gyrations of masses of liquid diamonds, emeralds and rubies, that flashed back their myriads of colors and phosphorescent glow to the coquettish sun. Then sinking into quiet and rest calmly rippling among the reeds by the bank, and twisting in zigzag curves between the lichen covered stones and the grassy dells, lined with flowers of golden and purple hue; fit bowers for fairy queens to hold their courts, and elves to sport in moonlit revels, beneath the silver rays of the goddess of night; for Indian maid to noiselessly steal forth to meet her warrior lover and pledge her vows; for weary man to sink in rest, forgetful cares and dream of heaven. Appearing as if nature had made its grandest effort, and produced in triumph a series of rich and artistic stretches of scenery, each of which vied with the other in beauty. You throw to the winds the restraints of every day life, and free from all etiquette wander in the wood, fish in the shady pool, or sail on the bosom of the lake as fancy dictates or caprice leads. We always grow enthusiastic on this subject for it is one of our most favourite pursuits, and we have spent many a happy hour hunting and fishing on our back lakes among scenery unparalled and many an enjoyable evening around the camp-fire, piled high with blazing logs, throwing our shadows in weird fantastic shapes on a background of green, or mirroring them in the sleeping billows of the water; with nought to break the solemn stillness, save the gentle murmur of the waves on the pebbly beach, the wind sighing through the branches ever and anon, the abrupt hoot of the night owl, or the shrill treble of the heron mellowed by the distance, the confused chorus of conversation, as the party discussed some of the day's adventures, or the sound of voices sending a flood of melody to re-echo among the silent rocks and woods and steals from repose many a feathered songster at rest in the virgin solitude. With what an unusual appetite do you hasten to meals; you are voracious and devour anything and everything. The novelty of the cookery adds zest to the entertainment. Fish in every shape and form, potatoes, bread, pork, crackers, cheese, pie and cake, all kinds of edibles disappear with a rapidity that would astonish a city man of fastidious mates, who needs a dozen different spices to force one appetite. The sweetest music borne on the sharp morning air is the breakfast call. After rubbing your eyes, and taking a plunge in the cool water, while the rising sun sheds a golden radience over the lake, you are ready for your meal, and then for pleasure. Your other meal's seem to rival the grandest triumphs of the famed French cuisine, your drinkables appear the fabled nectar of the gods. But all things however good have an end. You return to the busy haunts of men and pursue your avocation with renewed energy. Your brain is clearer, your sense of enjoyment more keen, you seem to have lived over again a portion of your youth, your blood courses more rapidly through your veins leaving a glow of health on your cheek that has long been absent in the sickly town, or in the close confinement of the office. If there is a balm for a tempest tossed mortal wearied by the incessant and harrassing care of worldly strife, it is not to be found in the quiet sedative study of the book of nature, spread on every side! Do not the trees speak, the birds chaun, the silvan echoes, the water open to your enraptured gaze, peaceful peace and quiet, the timid bleating flower nestles peeping from its mossy bed, tell of the care unheeded, even on the most minute objects by the great benefactor above.

The death is announced of Mr. Wallace, Sr., an old settler, and one of the oldest men in Haldimand. Mr. Wallace immigrated to this country from Scotland in 1844, and settled on the homestead in Haldimand. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, and a firm adherent of the Reform party. He was well known and highly respected throughout the county, and at the time of his death had the good old age of 80 years and two months.

D. Tully & Co.

LAKEFIELD POLICE COURT.

Four Parties Convicted for Violation of the Dunkin Act—And one for Violation of the Creelry Act.

On Tuesday last the following cases were disposed of by Messrs. Bell and Sherin, for illegal liquor selling. D. W. Dumble, Esq., appeared for the prosecutor and H. H. Smith, Esq., appeared for the defendants.

Messrs C. Corneth, P. Leahy, F. Berube and F. Petit were each fined $20.00 and costs for selling liquor under the Dunkin Act, and R. Noonay of Selwyn was fined $20.00 and costs for selling liquor without license under the Crooks Act.

DUNKIN IN AURORA.

The Aurora Banner says:—It is now nearly two months since the Dunkin By-law came into operation. It may not have produced that reformation which the advocates of temperance expected in diminishing the sale of liquor, but when it is remembered that its sale is a custom of years, that there are large profits connected with it, and that there has been doubtless an effort made to get men to drink in order to disgust those who supported the by-law, it has produced all that could be expected of it in so short a time. One great thing in its favour is, that it does not legalize the monstrous evil; if a man sells liquor now he does it illegally, and is liable to punishment the same as any other law-breaker. In different parts of the county prosecutions have been tried, but in some instances they have failed for want of evidence. It is surprising how forgetful the majority of witnesses are when called for the prosecution on a liquor case. Men who have good memories, and who would find no difficulty in telling the truth regarding other matters, apparently find it impossible to do so when called as a witness against a man for illegally selling liquor. An example similar to that which Judge Burton made of a witness in the county of Grey, by sending him to the penitentiary for two years for perjury, would have a good effect, and when a clear case comes before Justices of the Peace in trying such cases they should promptly call the attention of the County Attorney to the matter, and see that steps are taken to have such parties punished.

GENERAL.

The British have sufficient guns at home to supply an army of 125,000 men, but the guns are different from those of other European nations. The German's use Krupp's, the French those with steel rings puddled and cast. These are all breech-loaders, as are also those of Russia.

The Mayor of Stratford will get a salary of $200 a year in future.

Of the Guelph-made carriages on exhibition in Paris, one, a park phaeton with patent springs, has been sold there for 1,500 francs. The Canadian parlour organs exhibited there are also attracting attention, some of them made by Bell & Co., of Guelph, and by the Dominion Organ Co., of Bowmanville. Five reapers and two mowers have been ordered in Scotland from Maxwell, of Brantford.

The Gowanstown cheese factory, that was to be "run on strictly conservative principles," is not yet opened. This has from the first been a very unsatisfactory concern.

At a meeting of the Ottawa St. Andrew's Society, on Friday evening, it was decided to have a grand band competition in August, at which $1,000 will be offered, the first prize being one of $500.

John Hewson, of Millbrook, charged with originating the fires at John Gillott's Wm. Might's, John Raper's and A. T. Armstrong's, was found guilty of setting fire to John Gillott's stable, and was sentenced to three years in the penetentiary.

It is announced in England that Sir Joseph Whitworth has invented armour plating impenetrable to any missiles now employed. This armour is composed of "fluid-compressed steel, and is built up in hexagonal sections, each of which is composed of a series of concentric rings round a central circular disc."

A rising of Comanches in the Indian Territory is anticipated in consequence of an attempt by an Arkansas Deputy-Marshal to arrest two of their number. As it was, they attacked the official's party, and a lively fight ensued, in which two Indians were killed. The Indians on the Klamath reservation in Oregon are also threatening trouble, and a panic exists among the settlers in that neighborhood.

A member of the Irish Catholic Union of Montreal positively denies that invitations to the picnic of the Order have been issued to Irishmen in the States.

In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday, in the case of the St. Mary's tragedy, Dr. Ford was admitted to bail in $4,000. Chief Justice Harrison stating that in his opinion no crime was disclosed in the warrant of commitment.

Two Ottawa merchants the other day competed in "marking down" ready made pants. When one had reduced his goods to thirty cents below cost, the other sent agents and bought up the best portion of them. There is nothing like competition in this world to enliven trade. This is equalled by a shrewd wood merchant in Toronto who finding that two or three smaller dealers not well posted were offering a high price on the market, impersonated a farmer and supplied them with all they wanted.

Orders have been issued to reduce the expenditures in the Portsmouth dockyard, and to discharge the new hands recently employed. The autumn manœuvres will also be abandoned this year, retrenchment being the order of the day.

Just one hundred years ago Methodism was first introduced into Canada. Twelve years previous a society had been formed in New York by Barbara Heck and Philip Embury. The Methodist Church of the United States duly celebrated their centenary in 1866, and now it is proposed to hold similar meetings in Canada. We believe a project is on foot, in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, to have a monster centennial gathering at Belleville some time in August or September. Action has already been taken by the several Conferences, and it is quite probable the idea will be carried into practical effect.

The next convention of the Provincial Teachers' Association will be held in the usual place of meeting, the Toronto Model School, commencing on August 13th. Procure tickets of membership to present to the railway station agents when purchasing your tickets, in order to secure reduced rates.

Mr. Rymal in a late speech said, with great force and truth:—"He had noticed that men who failed from want of attention to their affairs always blamed somebody else and grumbled. It was because they were not allowed to put their hands into other people's pockets and take money out of them. The best kind of protection was sound health and minding one's own business."

The Guelph Mercury says:—There is a movement on foot for the purpose of bringing together all the municipal corporations of cities, counties, towns, and villages in the Province, and to proceed to Quebec sometime in July or August next to present addresses on behalf of the various municipalities to Lord Dufferin before taking his final departure from Canada. This grand idea has originated with our townsman, Mr. J. P. MacMillan, who has already commenced with the heads of corporations throughout the Province in order to elicit their views touching the project, and he is daily in receipt of replies, which have been their hearty endorsation to the project.

AN UNDESIRABLE TRUTH.—You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in the household world, it is entirely your own fault and chances only are against you,—your unreasonable prejudices and obstinacy, which has killed thousands. PETERBOROUGH, JULY 4, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

Cricket Match.—A game took place on Wednesday afternoon, June 26th, between the Peterborough and Lakefield Clubs, which was decided on the first innings, Peterborough winning by a score of 72 to 46.

Mud Lake Bridge.—Notice has been given by the County Clerk, that as the south end of the Mud Lake Floating Bridge is about to be removed, traffic thereon will be suspended on and after the eighth day of July.

No Quorum.—There was no quorum sat Tuesday evening at the meeting of the School Board—only five members putting in an appearance. Those present were Messrs. Stevenson, Edwards, Danniston, Leek and Ernst.

Sabbath School Pic-Nic.—The annual picnic in connection with the Baptist Sabbath School, will be held at Idyl Wild, on Tuesday next. The Golden Era leaves the Peterborough wharf at 7 p.m., sharp. An invitation is extended to all.

Fish and Game Protective Society.—A meeting of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Society will be held this evening in the Huffman House. A full attendance is requested as business of importance is to be brought forward.

The Queen's Hotel.—The Queen's Hotel in Port Hope has been bought out by Mr. Robert Cochrane, and we have no doubt that he will succeed in making it profitable. The House is conveniently situated and has always been popular with the travelling public.

Vital Statistics.—During the month of June there were registered with the Town Clerk, Mr. C. D. Macdonald, 10 Births, 7 Marriages, and 6 Deaths, and in the six months of this year, ending 30th June, there were registered, 58 Births, 36 Marriages, and 36 Deaths.

Barty Cleaning.—We have been requested to state that all the principal dry goods merchants in town have agreed to close their respective places of business during the months of July and August at 6 o'clock p.m. sharp, and that the same is to take effect on and after the 4th instant (this evening.)

Strawberry Festival.—A strawberry festival under the auspices of Nassau Temple I.G.G. of, will be held this evening, in the Temperance Hall, Nassau. After the festival an entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations will be given. A very pleasant evening is anticipated.

Liquor Cases.—The several cases before the Police Magistrate for violation of the Dunkin By-law which had been enlarged from previous hearings were yesterday morning withdrawn—the defendants paying the costs. The cases of Croft versus Dumble, for exposure and sale of liquor on the Market square were also withdrawn, the complainant paying the costs.

19th of July.—The anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne will this year be celebrated by the Orangemen of the Town of Peterborough at home, and as invitations have been accepted by the brethren from the districts of Port Hope, Cobourg, Hope, Cavan, Otonabee, Lakefield, and the Orange County of West Northumberland, a very large demonstration may be expected.

Parcel Express.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Isaac Downer has purchased the parcel express business from Mr. E. K. Ostrom, and solicits the patronage of the merchants and business men of the town. Mr. Downer is a young man who we feel confident will give satisfaction to his patrons, and we have no hesitation in recommending him to those who may require his services, as we believe he will be courteous, obliging and attentive to business.

Election of Officers.—On Thursday evening last the following officers of Peterborough Lodge I. O. O. F. were elected, and will be installed this evening :—

Bro. D. Carlisle	N.G.
Bro. R. Lee	P.G.
Bro. R. W. Thompson	V.G.
Bro. W. Gilbert	R.S.
Bro. D. H. Moore	P.S.
Bro. John Sawyers	Treas.
Bro. Dr. Bell	Physician.

Representative to the Grand Lodge, Bro. Luke Fisher, P.G.

Coup's Great Model Show.—The first show under canvass, that is likely to come into Canada, is W. C. Coup's Equescurriculum. Phew —that is a tough one independent of the hot weather. Well, its a conundrum. It is neither a circus nor a menagerie. It is a tent show of an entirely new and unique conception. It is a show fully worthy of Mr. W. C. Coup, who for years past has been a partner, and the brain power, of the P. T. Barnum Shows. The press of the United States are quite unanimous in styling it the most refined organization ever seen under a tent.

Dentistry.—Mr. A. Bonanko, Dental Surgeon of this town, informs us he is making arrangements for monthly professional visits to Lakefield and Norwood, where all parties in those vicinities requiring his services can be accommodated without the inconvenience, trouble and expense of visiting Peterborough. Mr. Bonanko comes to town highly recommended by the leading Dentists in the Province, as to ability and professional skill, and the people of Lakefield and Norwood, we believe, will find him fully competent to treat all cases with which he may be entrusted.

Base Ball.—Two matches were played on the Ashburnham cricket ground in the forenoon of Dominion Day, the first between the second nine of the "Pine Grove" club and the "Evergreens," and between the first nine of the "Pine Grove" and a "Picked Nine" from the 4th Ward clubs in town. The following are the scores in both matches :

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total.
Evergreens	1	2	9	5	6	0	0	0	0	23
2nd Nine Pine Grove	0	1	5	0	3	3	1	1	1	15
Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total.
Pine Grove	3	0	2	0	0	3	2	3	0	13
Picked Nine	1	0	1	1	0	1	0	1	1	6

Concert de Neige Banc.—On Friday evening last an entertainment by the pupils of the Convent de Notre Dame was given in the Opera House to a crowded house. About one hundred and fifty took part in the programme, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, recitations, &c. The pupils were all dressed in white and were arranged on elevated seats on the stage, and presented a very attractive and handsome appearance. All the pieces were well rendered, and the concert also was alike creditable to the pupils and teachers, and were received with much applause.

Interesting to Gas Consumers.—The following paragraph from an exchange will no doubt be of interest to many of our readers :

"A case of interest to gas consumers was tried at a meeting of the Division Court in Brantford the other day. The plaintiff was a citizen of the town, and the defendant was the Gas Company. The former had a meter in his house, and the latter claimed that it registered too much gas, and that he should pay the account according to the quantity of gas consumed as shown by the meter. The plaintiff refused to pay the account, and the Company refused to supply him with gas unless he did so. The case was tried over."

Panorama of Canada.—Messrs. J. Ormond and J. Dales have just secured from an eminent artist, a panorama view of all the principal scenery in Canada, embracing views of the cities of Toronto Ottawa and Quebec, and the magnificent scenery of the Muskoka District, introducing in all over fifty scenes. Some of the views are prominent [illegible] during yachts, steamboats and railway trains in motion as well as other [illegible] really wonderful. In conjunction with the scenery they will introduce the best local talent in Peterborough, in new songs, choruses, &c. They will exhibit in Brotherton's Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, when they will, no doubt, meet with crowded houses. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

Prize Fowl.—Among the list of prize winners at the Horticultural and Poultry Exhibition of the electoral District Society of Toronto, we observe the name of Mr. John McClelland of this town, who took second and third prizes in Light Brahmas, first prize in Buff Cochins, and first prize in Black-red game. We congratulate Mr. McClelland on his good fortune in so successfully competing against choice birds from all parts of the Province. The entries of poultry exceeded by one-third those of last year, and for variety of breed could scarcely be surpassed. This, of course is the best season of the year to test poultry at their best, as at this season most of the birds would be moulting, but still the breed was there. The game fowls were numerous and excellent, and Mr. McClelland can now congratulate himself on taking the first prize in game from the recognized best breeder of game in the Dominion, D. Allan, Esq., of Galt.

Change of Name.—The name of the "Agricultural Mutual" of London has been changed to that of the London Mutual Fire Ins. Co. of Canada. Owing to the recent collapse of the Canada Agricultural and the shaky condition of some of the other "Agriculturals" the name had become distasteful to the public. The change in name does not in any way affect the relations or obligations of the company to the public. This is provided for in the Act, and everything will go on as formerly. Mr. J. A. Hartley is still agent for the company in this county, and is prepared to give the farmers as good rates as any other reliable company doing business. The "London Mutual" commenced its career under the most favourable auspices. The business for the last five months of this year has been the largest since the formation of the company, twenty years ago. Mr. Hartley assures us that all obligations of the company in the future, as in the past, will be promptly settled.

Another Old Resident Gone.—It becomes our duty this week to chronicle the death of Mr. James Davidson, senior, of the Township of Smith, one of the first settlers of the County of Peterborough, who passed away last Thursday morning, at the advanced age of 88 years. Deceased was a native of Kingcase, Strathspey, Inverness-shire, Scotland, and came to this country in the year 1823, and settled in the township of Smith when the County of Peterborough was yet a wilderness. Being industrious and frugal he soon acquired a comfortable home and was among the most prosperous and thriving settlers of the township. In politics he was an earnest and steadfast supporter of the Reform party, and during nearly half a century of a residence in this county took a firm stand for the principles of Reform. By those who knew him, and especially among his more intimate acquaintances and neighbors, he was much respected for his many sterling qualities as a man and citizen. He leaves a family of five sons and two daughters to mourn his loss.

Tenders.—The Street Inspector, Mr. Johnston, requests us to publish the following tenders, the first for the grading of Park street by the job, and the latter for gravelling the road from Mr. Hilliard's Mills to Smith street, by the rod,

GRADING PARK STREET.

Temperance Convention.—A meeting of the friends of Temperance was held in the Hall of Lansdale Temple last Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of considering the advisability of submitting the new Temperance Act to a vote of the people. Mr. Jas. Strachan occupied the chair, and Mr. D. Pentland acted as Secretary. The meeting was well attended; much enthusiasm was manifested; the benefits of the new Act were freely discussed, and all present appeared anxious to have the Scott Act brought into operation in this Town and County at the earliest possible moment.

Moved by Mr. W. C. Nicholl, seconded by Mr. J. Griffin.—That this meeting affirms its confidence and faith in the principle of prohibition as it is found in the new Temperance Act of 1878, and regard it as our duty to take the necessary steps to procure the submission of the said Act by the circulation of petitions, and that meetings be held at Lakefield on Friday, July 5th, at 8 p.m., at Norwood on Saturday, July 6th, at 1 p.m., and at Keene on Tuesday, July 9th, for the purpose of uniting immediate action.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday afternoon, July 13th.

We have been requested to state that a deputation of ministers and others from town, will be at each of the meetings mentioned in the resolution.

Personal.—The members of the Methodist Churches here had a very pleasant meeting on Tuesday evening in the Sunday school rooms of the new church, on the occasion of the departure of Messrs. Willoughby and Watson to their new appointments. Both gentlemen have labored here for three years very acceptably and harmoniously. Mr. Watson goes to Toronto; Mr. Willoughby, the senior pastor, goes to Belleville. Very few ministers have been in Peterborough whose departure has been so universally regretted. Mr. Willoughby is a gentleman of sterling, christian character, and indomitable perseverance in the path of duty, and has won the respect of all the churches. He has left a memorial of his labours here, more enduring than brass. He is a clear, lucid speaker, an excellent manager of church affairs, an earnest christian, and especially endeared to the youth connected with the church in whose interests his labours have been incessant. Mrs. Willoughby is an amiable lady, held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. They have the best wishes of numerous friends here for their usefulness and prosperity in their new sphere—we may also add that the Rev. Mr. Watson is beloved by all who knew him for his christian characteer, earnest labours and genial manners.

Cricket Match.—A Cricket Match took place between the Peterboro' and Millbrook Cricket Clubs, on the grounds of the former on Friday afternoon last, and resulted in a victory for Peterboro' by nine wickets. The following is what the Millbrook correspondent of the Port Hope Times says about the game :—

"The "Pioneer" played a friendly game against Peterboro' on the ground of the latter, on Thursday last. Both sides batted for some eight wickets. You will remember that their match was postponed on account of rain, and it did not look as though the match would have gone conclusion. Our boys went in first and only succeeded in scoring 25 runs, out of which Mr. F. Nesbitt contributed 23, and not one else Peterboro' bowling proving quite too much for the young hands. The home team then took up a score of 83. Rutherford 31, Stanton 18, Rogers 14, and Hammond 12, being the chief contributors. In our second essay, the total reached 34, Mr. K. Nesbitt, again heading the list with 11, including no half than six hits out of the 11 runs, consisted of. Davey bit hard and we for it, but no one else gave much assistance, and the Peterboro' men soon polished off the Lebanon of the 7 as required, with the loss of three wickets. A. Heatherington's bowling was as usual very destructive, taking nearly all the wickets, while Rutherford and Rogers were very deadly for the winning side. During the progress of the game a Peterboro' young lad received a severe blow on a hard bit ball but pluckily refused to leave the field. The occurrence, however, caused such a shock to a lady friend of the youngster that she fainted and had to be carried off the ground."

LITERARY NOTES.

THE FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW,—The May number of this Review, published in Toronto by the Rose-Belford Publishing Company, contains much interesting matter. Mr. Goldwin Smith discusses the question of the "Russian Crisis" from a "Liberal" point of view, chiefly in his opposition to the entry of Russia into Constantinople. Professor Fredrick Harrison gives an account of the proceedings of "The French Workmen's Congress." George Saintsbury, under the head of "An Anniversary" presents a few of the most salient points in the lives of two French poets who have passed away in the month of May, the thoughts of their own time—Voltaire and Hugo. The paper on "The Political Aspirations of Lord Beaconsfield" is extracted from the April number, will be widely read and quoted; we invite our readers to peruse it for themselves. The article on "Canadian Literature" by Professor W. H. Fraser, is a very able one, and we commend it to the careful perusal of all interested in the subject. Mr. Fraser's views are sound and sensible, and have been well thought out and expressed. The remainder of the number is well sustained, and have been well thought out and expressed. The remainder of the number is well sustained, and have been well thought out and expressed. The remainder of the number is well sustained

IN MEMORIAM.

In memoriam of Jennet Weir, wife of Robert Neilson, Esq., Otonbee, who died June 11th, 1878, aged 71 years.

Here she had troubles more
Than most of woman-kind,
Which patiently she bore
With a submissive mind;

And keenly felt for all
Who had family distress;
Was sure on such to call,
Her kindness on them press.

In Christian precepts, true;
In all her actions, kind;
To feel for others—few
Like her she've left behind.

Her soul hath gone on high,
Her body to the ground,
Within the grave to lie
Till Gabriel's trump shall sound.

When all the dead shall come
From their conceal'd abode;
Receive their final doom
Around the Throne of God.

With the angelic choir
She'll join in heavenly song
Her Saviour to adore,
Among the sainted throng.

A FAILURE.

The Stewart Hotel for working women has proved to be a failure. The high prices of board, the demand for references before an inmate could be admitted, and the unusually strict rules and regulations of the institution proved too much for its success.

It failed almost entirely to subserve the object for which it was erected, and has been converted into a caravansary for the accommodation of all classes of people, without distinction of sex. If as announced by the New York Worldon the first opening of the establishment, it was to be conducted entirely on speculation, no alternative but that resorted to was left to its managers, and the public find that they were greatly mistaken in supposing the institution was a public benefice. Had Mr. Stewart lived till the building was completed, it might have been inaugurated under different circumstances; but now the unpleasant truth is forced upon the city of New York, that in the disposition of his vast wealth, nothing has reverted to the city in which he accumulated it, by which his memory might heretofore be surrounded with grateful associations.

In this connection it will be just as well to hear what Judge Hilton—who has the management of the Stewart estate—had to say to a New York reporter:

It is a failure. I'll tell you why. It is very simple and very natural. I believe that you cannot get women to accept any help based on the condition of separation from the other sex; you cannot run a hotel for women successfully, and keep away the men. Women will not be kept from the other sex. I am convinced that they cannot be tempted by any comforts and luxuries to stay or live away from the other sex. You can run a hotel for men exclusively—but for women, you can't. I believe that the majority of women not over fifty years of age entertain some hopes of a union, and a great many over that age, too; and you cannot do anything for them if you make the condition impair their chances in the least.

The Constitutional Question.

The Montreal Witness correspondent writing from Quebec on the debate in the House of Assembly, says:—

"So far, the discussion of what is termed "the constitutional question" has had one advantage; it has clearly shown that many of the new members are possessed of considerable abilities, and that not a few of the younger ones give promise—if spared the vicissitudes of life and politics—of considerable usefulness in the future. Messrs. Racicot, Flynn and C. Langelier, especially, have agreeably surprised their friends by the debating powers they have displayed. Of the Attorney-General, it is only necessary to say that he has more than realized the hopes his friends founded upon him. The strange part of the present discussion, and one which among outsiders occasions much comment, is the ground taken by the talented leader of the Opposition upon which to make his stand. The constitutional question, as it is called, or the right of the Lieutenant-Governor to follow the course he adopted last March towards the late Ministry, had generally been looked upon as settled by the vigorous thumplet of Mr. Todd and the authorities so clearly and forcibly adduced in support of the action of the representative of the Crown; and in the profession, more particularly, had been considered closed when Mr. Kerr admitted the mistake he had made, No one, I fancy, can honestly question the fact that the great majority of the Province is with Mr. Joly, and that, whatever may be the fate of the vote in the House, another appeal to the country would result in his being supported by an overwhelming majority. The Ministry have, of course, suffered serious momentary disappointment through the defection of two members on whose support they were entitled to count—Mr. Magnan, who was returned as a Liberal, and Mr. Caron, who though calling himself an Independent, owes his election to the Liberal vote. The Opposition, through their leader, have declared themselves perfectly satisfied with the programme adopted by the new Ministry, but now, on the constitutional question, claim to divide the house. The impression, in Quebec at all events, is not that the constitutional question is considered by them as being so material, but that there are among Her Majesty's loyal Opposition so many now mixed up with the railway rings, whose personal pecuniary interests are at stake, that the real fight is, after all, reduced to corruption against honesty—plundering wastefulness against economy.

THE DEPRESSION.

(From the Journal of Commerce.)

The Hon. Mr. Mackenzie's recent speech to the working men of Yarmouth has naturally led to a good deal of controversy between the organs of the political parties. It is not our intention at present to enter into the merits of the Protectionist and Free Trade theories but a question has been raised in Mr. Mackenzie's speech which is well worthy of serious consideration and reflection—that question is simply whether Canada is able to pay for the goods which she imports. It is very generally believed that the number of bankruptcies which have occurred since the commencement of the present depression may be considered as affording proof that there has been great overtrading, and that goods have been imported much beyond what the consumers have been able to pay for. Though far from wishing to contend that there have not been excessive imports, we are of opinion that it would be a great mistake to attribute the bankruptcies to this cause alone. If it were possible to obtain reliable information on the subject we are inclined to think that few, if any, of the bankruptcies which have taken place can fairly be attributed to non-payment by the consuming classes of the goods purchased by them. It would be most interesting information for the public if the causes of the various bankruptcies which have taken place could be ascertained by the public. It is hardly possible that these causes are not known to the respective assignees of the estates and probably in most cases to the principal creditors. They are, however, not communicated to the public, and it is not improbable that a good deal of misapprehension prevails on the subject. It is to be feared that one cause is the inadequacy of the capital possessed by retailers generally in Canada. There is no doubt whatever that persons embark in business in Canada with much less means than the same class persons in the United Kingdom. The consequence of the facilities given to persons either without or with very inadequate capital, to embark in business is that there is much greater competition, and, as a result, an oversupply of goods. The principal cause, however, for the bankruptcies which have taken place is the great shrinkage in the value of all kinds of goods, and this has affected both wholesale and retail dealers. In many cases bankruptcies have been caused by individuals being tempted to enter into speculations outside their regular business, notably by purchases of real estate, the shrinkage in which, in many parts of the country, has been greater than in any other description of property. This is a temptation to which traders of a similar class in the United Kingdom are not exposed. We have not noticed the very serious losses which have resulted from the fall in price of all descriptions of lumber, one of our principal articles of export. The remedy for the depression under which we have so long suffered is a strictly conservative policy on the part of our wholesale merchants and of our banks, and this, there is reason to believe has been steadily pursued for a considerable time back. We probably ought to congratulate ourselves, having reference to the state of affairs in the neighbouring republic, that our manufactures have not been developed to a much greater extent. Bad as things are and have been they might have been much worse, and would have been if we had such extensive and various industries as our neighbours have.

The Last Day of the Late Session.

We have received the last number of the Hansard of 1878, and we think it would have been to the credit of the House, if it had not been included at all in the official reports of the deliberations of that body. Here is a sample of it:—

Mr. Smith—I never asked, prayed for, desired, or got a favor from the last Government.

Mr. Tupper—Will the hon. gentleman allow me to tell him a favor he asked for?

Some hon. members—Order.

Dr. Tupper—The hon. gentleman begged of me to implore—

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Tupper—The leader of the Government to make him a privy member of the Privy Council of Canada.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Tupper—That is what he asked for, and he—

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Tupper—Was refused; and it was the want of that position, and that refusal which, to a large extent has placed him where he is to-day.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Smith—The hon. gentleman knows that what he states is wholly untrue, and, driven to his wits end, is now going back to a journey he and I made in 1869, and I give the most positive denial to any assertion made by him, or any other person, that I asked for or obtained any favor from the Government.

The Sergeant-at-Arms: Mr. Speaker, a message from His Excellency the Governor-General.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Smith—I now.

Mr. Speaker—I have very much pleasure in informing the House that it now becomes my duty to receive the messenger.

Mr. Smith—He knows.

Mr. Tupper—Coward, coward, sit down.

Mr. Speaker—I.

Mr. Smith—He knows.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Smith—You are a coward.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Smith—Nay, further, there were two gentlemen, members of this House—

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Smith—The day after that 4th of November—

Mr. Tupper—Cowa d, coward.

Mr. Smith—Who came to me with a proposition to throw over the right hon. gentleman, and the present member for Charlevoix, if I would consent to give up the position I had deemed it my duty to take in the House the evening before, and would support the Government by voting against the hon. member for Lambton.

Some hon. members—Order.

Mr. Tupper—Mean, treacherous coward.

Mr. Smith—Who is the coward? The House will decide—it is yourself.

Mr. Tupper—Coward, treacherous—

Mr. Smith—I could not support them.

Mr. Speaker—Admit the messenger.

Sir John Macdonald—That fellow Smith is the biggest liar I ever met.

And with this elegant and gentlemanly remark towards a fellow member, whose character he had grossly traduced the evening previously, the leader of the Opposition closed the last session of the Third Parliament of the Dominion! Truly the printing of 2,655 pages of Parliamentary debates, at an enormous expense, is here brought to an ignominious conclusion.

A MUTUAL SURPRISE.

A Danbury grocery firm have taken the agency for a hammock. One of the articles they have hung at the front in the shade of their porch. They hung it there as an advertisement, but numerous people have got into it to see how it worked. It hung so low they could easily set in it, and undoubtedly the motion was agreeable and comfortable. But the grocers didn't fancy this performance, especially as the hammock sitters were not hammock buyers. Saturday afternoon they removed the loop to one end from the hook, and fastened it by a bit of twine instead. Shortly after a man came in for two quarts of molasses. It was put up in his pail, and a paper tied over the top as he had forgotten to bring a cover. When he passed out he saw the hammock. His curiosity was aroused at once. The grocers were busy inside so he thought he would investigate on his own hook. With that keen intuition peculiar to a New England man, he saw at a glance that it was something to get into. He knew it was nothing to wear, and was equally sure it could not be arranged for cooking. He sat down in it. Then he swung backward and lifted his feet up. Then the twine fastening gave way. He had the pail of molasses sitting on his lap, and there was a dog sitting under the hammock. Neither the dog nor the molasses expected any thing, any more than the man himself did. It was a terrible surprise to all of them. The man and the dog lost their presence of mind and even the pail lost its head. The molasses went into his lap, and ran down his legs, and swashed up under his vest, and insinuated itself some way in between himself and his clothes. And when he went down he bit the dog with his heel on the back, and the dog was so wild with terror and amazement that it sent up a head-splitting yell and fled madly down the street, having first taken the precaution to bite him on the leg, and to tip over a tier of wooden water pails. When the pails went down a lot of hens were carried over with them, and that started a box of garden seeds mounted on a bar, and they in turn brought away a pile of peck measures whose summit was crowded with a pyramid of canned tomatoes. It was a dreadful shock to the man and nearly paralyzed him with its magnitude but when one article following another came avalanching atop of him, he thought the evil one himself had burst loose; and he just screamed as loud as he could. The molasses was all over him, and the garden seeds had adhered to the molasses, and he looked more like a huge gingerbread stock full of caraways than anything else. In this awful condition he waddled home and swore every step of the way.—Danbury News.

The Detroit Free Press man says that women can pull their own hair without calling for the aid of newspapers. Perhaps they can; but when they want to pull the rear of their dresses, they frequently call in the aid of the press, and make considerable fuss about it, too.—Rochester Herald.

SCIENTIFIC AND USEFUL.

Sponge Cake.—Three eggs, one cupful flour, one cupful sugar, three tablespoonsful milk, one half teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful cream tartar; flavor to taste.

Diseased Ear.—Put a few drops of ammonia and a little water into the dripping pan after taking the meat from it. By the time that dinner is over, the pan will be as easy to wash as a teacup.

Polishing Copper Vessels.—A copper vessel, badly tinned, Miss Severn found in the kitchen, which had never been properly cleaned and was covered with that deadly poison, verdigris. She had it cleaned with vinegar, rotten stone and oil.

Scotch Shortbread.—Rub together into a stiff short paste two pounds of flour, one pound of butter, and six ounces of loaf sugar. Make it into square cakes, about a half-inch thick, pinch them all along the edge at the top, dock over the whole surface of the cake and bake in a moderate oven.

Testing Butter Salt.—A Pennsylvania butter-maker tests his salt by dissolving a little in a glass-tumbler. If the brine formed is clear and free from bitter taste, he pronounces the salt good; if, on the other hand, it presents a milky appearance, leaves any sediment or throws a scum to the surface, he rejects it.

Food for an Invalid.—The following is recommended as a good dish for an invalid: Crumb crackers into a bowl—more or less, according to the size of the crackers. Pour boiling water, sufficient to soak them, over the crumbs. Break a fresh egg, and add quickly, stirring the whole rapidly. The boiling water cooks the egg. Season according to discretion, with salt, pepper, cream, or butter.

Ear-Ache.—The "Journal of Health" gives the following: "There is scarcely any ache to which children are subject, so hard to bear and difficult to cure as the ear-ache. But there is a remedy, never known to fail. Take a bit of cotton batting, put upon it a pinch of black pepper, gather it up and tie it, dip in sweet oil, and insert in the ear. Put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm. It will give immediate relief.

To Keep Meats Fresh.—For years I have preserved beef as fresh and nice as just from the meat shop. Cut in convenient pieces, wash and weigh; in every one hundred pounds take from three and one-half to four pounds salt, two pounds sugar, one-half ounce saltpetre, dissolve in enough water to cover the meat, put in a tight tub that will not leak; after it has been in the brine for two or three weeks take out the meat, wash it, boil the brine, skim it, and put it back again. This receipt is worth many dollars to persons far from market.

Bone Felon.—Of all painful things, can there be any so excruciatingly painful as a bone felon? We know of none that flesh is heir to, and as this malady is quite frequent, and the subject of much earnest consideration, we give the latest receipt for its cure, which is given by that high authority, the Loudon Lancet:—"As soon as the pulsation which indicates the disease is felt, put directly over the spot a fly blister about the size of a thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time, directly under the surface of the blister, may be seen the felon, which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or lancet."

Hints on working Butter.—Do not work too much or too fast. Work slowly until all is thoroughly and evenly absorbed, otherwise the butter will not be of uniform color. Work ing it too fast will destroy the grain, and the butter becomes salvy and lardlike in its texture. Let it stand or put it away in the tray for twenty-four hours. Then work it enough to remove all the buttermilk or surplus brine, so that the butter may become dry or like a piece of cheese. Mould into rolls, and set them away for twenty-four hours, or until they become hard and firm. The cloth should now be put on, so as to cover one end, while the other is left open for the stamp. The cloth should be cut in pieces of exact size and dipped into brine and the butter rolled when the cloth is dripping wet. Butter should never come in contact with the bare hand. When in bulk it can be easily handled with a ladle and a flat paddle.

HORTICULTURE.

Orchard and Nursery.

Grafting is one of the operations that had better be done too late than too early. The proper time is when the swelling of the buds shows vegetation to be active, and it is risky to do it earlier. The most successful grafting of an orchard we ever saw was done while the trees were in full bloom. At this season the bark slips readily, and care is required in sawing off the limbs, not to strip it and make a bad wound. It is better now, to quite cut through the bark with a strong knife all round where the saw is to work. Grafting-wax for use now should have more rosin in it to make it harder, than that applied in cooler weather.

Insects will increase as the supply of food becomes abundant. Eggs of the Tent Caterpillar that have escaped observation will now hatch, and the small caterpillars will commence to feed, making their webs, or "tents" while yet small; these are best seen while the dew is on them, in early morning. Lye, whitewash, purcoleum, and other things have been advised, to be applied with a swab. The quickest, easiest, and surest way is to remove the web, morning or evening, when all are at home, by the hand—gloved or not—and throw it upon the ground and stamp it. Borers in the apple and quince are detected by their saw-dust, and by a depression in the smooth bark, those in the peach and other stone-fruits by an exudation of gum. They must be cut out, or be probed and punched to death by means of a wire. Curculio, on stone-fruits generally, but on the plum particularly, begin work as soon as the fruit is set; jarring the tree, catching the insects on a cloth, and then killing them, is the only remedy. Plant Lice often cover the young shoots; strong soap-suds or tobacco-water will kill them; on low trees the branches may be bent down and dipped; on others the liquid must be finely applied by a syringe or garden-pump.

Young Trees should have the soil kept clean and mellow among them, and, especially if set this spring, should have a mulch before dry weather sets in. A tree properly planted rarely needs stakes, but if any are disposed to grow crooked, it is best to remedy this while they are young, and stake them.

Thinning of Fruit.—Those who practice this, should begin as soon as the crop is fairly set. Others may doubt its value, but no one who grows choice fruits for market can afford to neglect it. The experience of a single season with two trees, side by side, will decide the matter. Let one tree ripen all the fruit that sets, and from the other remove three-fourths of the crop. Keep an account of the cost of thinning, and of the returns from each tree.

The Black Rot is not confined to plum trees, but attacks cherries, and we have seen the same or something very similar on Nectarines. At its worst it is in the form of large black, ragged excrescences; it begins by a small swelling and breaking away of the bark. Cutting off and burning all affected branches is the proper remedy. When the excrescences are not large and few, cutting them out down to sound wood, and washing them would with a solution of chloride of lime has been found useful.

The Blight comes without warning; we only know of it by the death of a branch, several branches, or sometimes of the whole tree. Cutting back to sound wood, if it takes the whole tree, and burning the prunings, is all that can be done.

Onion sauce made with milk is also served with roast mutton.

CONFEDERATION
LIFE ASSOCIATION.

PRESIDENT.—Hon. W. P. HOWLAND, C.B
VICE-PRESIDENTS:
Hon. W. McMASTER and Wm. ELLIOT, Esq.

This Association affords all the benefits of MUTUALITY with the security of a Stock Management.

EXAMPLES OF PROFITS.

Policy No. 1, $10,000 ordinary Life—Prem. $238.20

For 1876—Cash Profits, $74.40, or Bonus, $217.
For 1877—Cash Profits, $90.60, or Bonus, $250.

Policy No. 7, $5,000; Life; Ten payments. Prem. $238.50.

For 1876—Cash Profits, $112.10, or Bonus, $227.
For 1877—Cash Profits, $130.80, or Bonus, $333.

The above exhibits the substantial advantages offered by this Association and the encouragement extended to persons wishing to pay up all the premiums in a limited number of years. For example:—If the profits were divided on the ordinary PERCENTAGE PLAN, giving 31 per cent. as a bonus on the amount assured, the above Policy No. 7 would only have received for 1877 CASH $46.90, instead of $130, or BONUS $5.85, instead of $333.

Cox's General Insurance Agency.
ESTABLISHED 1858.
GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occured during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.
He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Nineteen Millions of Dollars.
THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of Edinburgh established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-three Millions of Dollars.
THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, each of which in nearly one hundred years has paid losses averaging $1,344 per day.
These companies have all passed through the great fires of Chicago, Quebec, Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and the claims of their losses promptly paid without affecting their stability in the least degree.
Rates as low as consistent with absolute security.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM,
—FOR—
Coughs, Colds, Bronchial and all Throat Affections.
The Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree is, without doubt, the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.
Its remarkable power in relieving certain severe forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. In this Syrup (carefully prepared at low temperature), containing a large quantity of the finest picked Gum in complete solution, all the Tonic Expectorant, Balsamac and Anti-Spasmodic effects of the Red Spruce Gum are fully preserved. For sale at all Drug Stores. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.
The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Degestive, Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine has decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c, should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PTITTSEY E-SALVE.
An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrym Canals, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.
The American Eye-Salve is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness—safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. Rheumatism and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the American Eye-Salve. It is used successfully for Piles. Its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," with remaining new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

FOR 1877.
THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND MACHINES SOLD.
No breakages—No vexatious delays in gathering the crops—No Crops Damaged while waiting for repairs—No telegraphing for repairs—No repairs to buy—No express charges to pay. Easily adjusted to all kinds and conditions of grass or grain—A child can manage it—Light in Draft—A Perfect Mower—The best Reaper—The most simple and durable of all Harvesters—The best and cheapest machine in the market.
PURCHASERS ALWAYS ENTIRELY SATISFIED
FOR 1878.
Forty Thousand Machines are being built.
Steel Frames being substituted for Wrought Iron Frames.
Malleable Iron chiefly used in place of Cast Iron.
Only Six Pieces of Cast Iron in Combined Machines.
Weight thereby Reduced Over Three Hundred Pounds,
Single Reapers, or Light Mowers.
The result is that the "Champion" will be the lightest in weight and draft of any machine in the market, at the same time equally as strong and durable, and as free from liability to breakage as those built in 1877. The manufacturers are determined that it shall excel in every particular all other machines offered, regardless of first cost; and have therefore taken the UNPRECEDENTED STEP IN ADVANCE OF ALL THEIR COMPETITORS in the manufacture, of Harvesting Machines.

The Land of our Grand Maple Tree.

(Written for the Examiner.)

Great Britain of rich culture'd scenery may tell
Of meadows embroider'd with emerald pearl bell,
And heather deck'd hills, while Erin's sweet dells
Of beauty luxuriant enchains with its spells;
But to purple rob'd braes, or daisy gemm'd lea,
We yield not the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

True, others may boast a more picturesque clime,
Of cloud canwrapt mountains in grandeur sublime
And balm-scented vales—but none, howe'er fair,
For glory of waters with us can compare:
Our world renown'd Falls humn the proud devotee
Of art, to the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

Smooth glides o'er our lakes in their glitt'ring array
That continuously stretch to the far North away
The fragile canoe of the red Indian brave;
Or steamer that buffets Atlantic's rough wave.
One source—in the crib of the raftsmen we see—
Of wealth in the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

Here mankind can revel in nature's rich stores,
As ample and free as far-reaching her shores.
Tho' unfinish'd her beauty, 'tis freshful and new,
And limitless acres embances the view;
No feeling of serfdom oppresses, as we Look over the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

Tropic lands boast their warblers of plumage more gay,
But ours are the songsters of soul-stirring lay,
That thrill us with joy in the remote morn
As their praises are o'er the dewy breeze borne,
Telling the world in their carrolling glee
Joy reigns in the land of the Grand Maple Tree,

Or when nature is hush'd in declining day's calm,
Soft over the stillness their thanksgiving psalm
Attunes grateful hearts that responsively beat
To join their glad chorus in symphony sweet;
In strain of their solemn devoute jubilee,
Peace broods o'er the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

Fine elegant mansions, where recently stood
The dark tangled forest in prime solitude.
Now stately uprise amid embow'ring trees,
Bespeaking true comfort, refinement and ease,
With industry, taste, and affection we see
"Sweet Home" in the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

The well order'd gardens of earth's fairest flowers
Afford the worn mind relief in spare hours:
The aesthetic regales, instructing with truth,
The man of ripe years or the innocent youth:
Improvement and freedom we everywhere see
Stamp'd on the land of the Grand Maple Tree.

Our beautiful woodlands majesti cally stand
A crown of adornment all over the land.
There filling with fragrance the glimmering bow'rs,
And blooming in secret the modest eyed flow'rs,
Seem whisp'ring in meekness "How happy are we"
That o'er us waves proudly the Grand Maple Tree.

Peterborough, June 29th, 1878. E. B.

NOGEY'S CREEK.

An accident occured last Friday in Mr. Parker Davies shingle mill, which might have been attended with fatal consequences. An emery wheel, driven at too high a speed suddenly burst, and the pieces flew in every direction. Mr. Davies was passing at the time and a piece of the wheel an inch long and nearly half an inch square struck him in the inner corner of the eye and was so firmly embedded that it could not be extracted except with a pair of tongs and the exertion of great strength Some other cuts on the face were not of serious consequence. The eye ball was unhurt. It is satisfactory to hear that under the care of Dr. McCamus, Mr. Davies is rapidly recovering and will not be in any way permanently injured.—Independent.

CARDIFF.

The settlerers in this township are all prospering, and the promise of an abundant harvest is good. At the Beech Bridge settlement there are now ten or a dozen settlers all doing well. Mr. Henry Sipe is one of the most ingenious settlers in the settlement. He has a creek on his lot, and a very pretty little fall of water. This fall he has utilized and it works a saw with which he cuts all his wood, and a belt turns a large grind stone on which all the neighborhood come to grind their axes. He says he shall very soon put up a grist mill.
Mr. George Thompson the manager for Messrs. Irwin & Boyd the lumbermen, has been through here lately. His appearance is always hailed as a good omen. He has now done business here for several years and is much respected.

CAMPBELLFORD.

We have received intimation of three more of our beeming bachelors who are about to enter the matrimonial noose.
Rev. W. H. Walker preached in the open air, on the band stand, Sunday evening.
The Campbellford volunteer company did not go in camp this year.
SURGICAL.—Mr. Flynn, who resides in the neighborhood of Hastings, had on Friday last, a large cancerous mass removed from the left side of the face, together with a part of the bone that had become diseased. The operation was most successfully performed by Drs. Bogart and Byam. We understand the patient is getting on nicely.
A YOUNG BOY, son of Mr. McKeel, of this village, was burnt about the face, last week, while igniting a quantity of gunpowder he was trifling with. The burns are only superficial, skin deep.
PRESENTATION.—On Tuesday evening of last week, Rev. R. E. Land was presented with an address, a Bridle, Saddle, Martingale and Riding Whip, by the members of L. O. L. No. 536. The reverend gentleman expressed his thanks for the donation in the most suitable language, and addressed the Lodge upon the duties of the order.—Herald.

HORWOOD.

WELCOME AND PRESENTATION.—The members of our Concert Band turned out in their new uniform on Thursday evening last to welcome a [illegible] returned and attached Bandsman, Mr. W. H. Mallins, on the occasion of his return home with his bride from their wedding tour. After a few selections from the Band, rendered in their usually pleasing style, the members, after tendering their hearty congratulations to the happy couple, were most hearty entertained. After supper, Mr. John Hamilton read an address, while Mr. John Harper presented to Mr. Mallins a handsome Silver Card receiver and Gold Vase. Mr. Mallins duly acknowledged in appropriate terms.
OBITUARY.—We regret to accord the death of an old and respected resident of the Village of Hastings, Mr. John Green, who died on Friday evening, the 29th June. He was a man of few words, but his promise once given was his bond. He took but little interest in the small talk of the villagers, but ever displayed an intelligent knowledge of what was passing in the world at large. He was a consistent Catholic, and a liberal minded man.
The question whether the Village of Norwood will purchase the Town Hall, from Asphodel for the sum of $1,300 payable in six years without interest is laid over until the next meeting of the Township Council.—Register.

BOBCAYGEON.

FAREWELL SERMON.—On Sunday evening last the Rev. Mr. Jewell preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist Church, in this village. The congregation was very numerous. The Rev. gentleman has for three years exercised a most important influence in this village and its neighbourhood, and those who from their position and experience are best fitted to form a correct opinion as to the progress made by the population in religion and morality have had the conviction forced upon them that Mr. Jewell's labors have been productive of the highest advantage and the happiest results.
DOMINION DAY.—The first of July was observed as a grand holiday, all places of business being closed. Some time ago it had been intimated that the "Kalithumpian Physiogs" would have their annual procession, and in order to witness the grand parade great numbers flocked in from the country around, about noon the steamers Vanderbilt and Ontario arrived with large crowds from Lindsay, Bridgenorth and other places Boat races, saw log and tub races then commenced and created quite an excitment; then came on the foot races, etc., after that the "Physiogs," representing in their procession of nearly half a mile in length the "Grand Prophet of the Order," with his Royal Sacred Standard, the "Crowned Heads of Europe," "Our City Fathers," "A Special Train of the Whitby and Bob. Railway, with a coach for the Peterboro Deputation," "A Broken Down Livery," "Negro Minstrels," "Egyptian Menagerie," "Granger Stores," "The Village Slab Shop," with Mr. Kilposey and family going to the railway ball and the Bobcaygeon brass band bringing up the rear. After night there was a very good display of fire-works.

COBOURG.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday evening as Mrs. Feir, was proceeding down cellar, she missed her footing and fell to the bottom of the steps, striking on her right side, breaking two of her ribs. The sufferer is now progressing favorably.
A WELCOME VISIT.—Miss Logan and Miss Beard, being on their way to Nova Scotia, stopped off here on Wednesday evening of last week and conducted a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The announcement soon spread, and, notwithstanding the warm atmosphere, the hall was filled, showing that the remembrance of their former labor had not been forgotten.
FOUND DROWNED.—On Monday the body of a man was found in the water, near the mouth of the harbor, and was identified as that of Alex. Stevenson, of Cold Springs, who had been missing from his home some nine days previous. An inquest was held and the Jury brought in a verdict of "Accidentally drowned while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.
ROBBERS STILL AT WORK.—Friday night, or early on Saturday morning, a heavy robbery of jewelery was perpetrated in the store of Mr. F. W. Beebe in this town. An entrance was made into the shop through the floor, the thieves going under the building, which is over six feet from the ground, allowing the creek to flow under it; but at this time of the year the creek is nearly dry, giving the thieves a chance to commit their depradations. They stood upon a stump, and, with the assistance of a brace and bit stolen from Mr. Simmon's waggon shop, cut their way through the floor into the store, where they emptied a show case of most of its contents, comprising gold and silver watches, chains, brooches, rings, &c., the total loss of which Mr. Beebe values at $500. The thieves left the brace and bit behind them, but who they are, or their whereabouts, is a mystery.—Star.

HILLBROOK.

DISTINGUISHED UNIVERSITY COURSE.—Mr. Fred. E. Hayter, son of Mr. Hayter of Millbrook, whose University career began by his obtaining a double scholarship when he matriculated into Toronto University from the High School of this town some four years ago, and whose career has been marked by his carrying off the mathematical scholarship during each year of his subsequent course, has just put an appropriate finishing touch to his distinctions by obtaining the gold medal awarded to the best mathematician in the graduating year. This is the highest honor the University can confer. Our town has just reason to be proud of the University honors gained by some of its old High School boys, since we understand Mr. Hayter is the fifth young man from this school who has gained a gold medal from the Provincial University.—Guide.
ENFORCEMENT OF THE DUNKIN ACT.—At Bethany, in the township of Manvers, on June 24, before Messrs. Thomas, Russell and Isaac Preston, J. P.'s, the complaint of Wm. Wright, Inspector of Licenses, several cases for violation of the Act were tried. The first that was called up was Mark Rogers, tavern-keeper, charged with selling spirituous liquors contrary to act and various times. After a good deal of evasion and interruption by 5 lawyers, the offence was established, and he was fined for two offences, $30 each, amounting to $60, and cost only, $3.50. John Rogers was also fined $30 for two offences and costs $3.50. Another tavern-keeper, Mr. Wilson, was fined for two offences, $30 each, amounting to $60, and costs $3.50. Another tavern-keeper, Mr. Wilson's neighbour opened our carefully with [illegible] and succeeded in [illegible] first week in getting an [illegible] down to the bottom of the [illegible] some report around the [illegible] they [illegible] Wilson [illegible] Rogers [illegible] of [illegible] ground sufficiently near the [illegible] to fill [illegible] [illeg

A BONUS DOES NOT INVOLVE PROTECTION.

In pointing out in a late issue the distinction between aid by bonuses or subsidies and protection by a tariff, we took what we considered the most comprehensive view of the whole subject, and believe we succeeded in satisfying our readers of the radical and resultant differences between the two forms of assistance to projected enterprises. It cannot be gainsayed that subsidies have commended themselves to people and Governments that could not accept a protective tariff, and that while bonuses are direct and comparatively narrow and temporary in their effect on trade, a protestive tariff interferes more widely in time and space with all and sundry the industries of the land. We merely wished to show the absurd position assumed by Protectionists, when they claimed, as adherents to their cause, all who may ever have favoured a subsidy or supported a local bonus. This, ourobject, being plain, it is perhaps not wonderful that our comparison of the bonus with aid by tariff, combined with our strong condemnation of the latter, should have induced a representation that we are the champion of, or the apologist for, the bonus system. We believe our record is so clear as to free us from such an imputation, evidently put forward to entangle us in argument. If we have favoured some bonuses strongly we have as uncompromisingly opposed others; and either course has been taken after viewing the cases on their merits, in the light of the public interest. As we have stated that there may be times when Governmental or municipal subsidies can with advantage be granted to new enterprises, so we have also remarked that there are occasions for advantageous changes in the tariff. Each subsidy or bonus like everything else, must be considered on its own merits; and so must each particular change proposed to be effected in the tariff. Will the Protestionist tell us where an increased import duty is advisable? Is it on wheat or flour? Parliament has emphatically decided against such an impost. Is it on coal? Such a duty has also been condemned by the people's representatives. Is it on iron, machinery, cloths, or what? Let us have the thing fairly discussed on its merits, and then we may hope to arrive at an understanding as to where, if in any place, it may be well to re-adjust the present tariff.

In an attempted criticism ("attempted" we say because the effort is marred by distortion,) we are triumphantly asked, can there be no instance in which it would be expedient for a country to tax itself to encourage a certain class of persons to commence business in the country? We unhesitatingly answer "yes," and as an instance we shall simply point to the special efforts made to induce Mennonite immigration. We thought we had formerly conceded the possibility of an expediency arising for a vote of money by the Government for some such plainly advantageous purpose. There are certain other questions asked of us which we shall not here attempt to answer, as we cannot consider they are put with a view of gaining information. He who can cry out, "What is a country but a large municipality?" surely must know that there is anything and everything in the way of distinction between them. He who knows needs not the information; and he who does not see any difference is so ignorant that any explanation must only be thrown away on him.

A further proof of our position is furnished in the conclusion of our "critic" regarding the good effected by the subsidies to the Allan Line of Steamships, when he says "no tariff could have accomplished the same object." Just so; and no tariff can accomplish the object of protection to the country's interests that the Protectionists pretend it can. Another illustration chosen by the Protectionist pleader is just as unfortunate, when he starts out by the allegation, "Every one will admit that it would be a good thing for the Town of Peterborough if another establishment like that of Mr. Peter Hamiltons were in full blast in it." Now we are certain few, if any, will admit anything of the sort; but all will say that under the circumstances it would be a very unfortunate thing. It would be something like a second nose on a man's face. And this is where most of the Protectionists make their mistake. They would induce the establishment of industries that could not hope to live in the midst of the extra competition, and that too in a narrowed market. But the idea of an analogy between a municipal bonus to a local manufactory and an increase of the tariff so as to "protect" that particular manufacture is erroneous to begin with. The main distinctions have been already mentioned, and others will suggest themselves in connection with the case instanced. It may be wrong to tax the ratepayers of a town for the benefit of a particular person or firm; and it certainly is wrong to grant a bonus when public benefits will not plainly outweigh private benefice. But the injustice is evident in any attempt to start a manufactory at the expense of people who know nothing of it; and when the plea of a more even distribution of the tax is put in on the ground that the whole country is benefitted by a Peterborough foundry, the argument is, to say the least of it, very far fetched.

We are also innocently asked if it would not have been practically the same as remitting taxes to the Auburn Factory to the amount of say $1,000 per year, and paying the company a cent a yard on 100,000 yards for the same number of years, by a protective tariff. It would have been very different indeed. As it is the people who benefit by the proximity of the factory agree to forego the receipt of a certain amount to the municipal tax; whereas, in the other case, the contribution would be from those who have no interest whatever in the factory, and many of whom perhaps could ill-afford to pay the extra cent per yard on their purchases.

On the question of protection these local industries mentioned, those most closely connect with them, could speak with some degree of intelligence. We therefore hope to hear from some of the managers, proprietors or workmen connected with the foundary or the woollen mill as to the effect Protection to these concerns would have on the country.

WONDER if the local Tory journal could tell what it means by a "free-trade revenue tariff?" Could it explain what it calls "Municipal Protection?" Or could it construe its phrase, "National Protection" into anything but the defence of the country?

There have been some large arrivals of Russian Mennonites lately, both in Canada and in the States. Those coming over this season are said to be merely the advance guard of larger numbers who will hurry forward before 1880, the year when their exemption from military duty in the Czar's armies will cease.

A FEW MORE POINTS.—The following shows the difference between Free Trade and Protection in their results upon the manufactures of the United States:

American Manufactures Sold Abroad.

From 1825 to 1833, high tariff	34 per cent
From 1834 to 1842, low tariff	26 per cent.
From 1843 to 1846, high tariff	34 per cent.
From 1847 to 1861, low tariff	32 per cent.
From 1862 to 1874, high tariff	41 per cent.

FROM THE MONTREAL "GAZETTE" WHEN SIR JOHN WAS IN POWER,	FROM THE MONTREAL "GAZETTE" WHEN SIR JOHN WAS OUT OF POWER.
Let our wise men run the Dominion ship as near as possible upon heart could for one the Free trade plan, and moment urge the adoption we shall have no fears tion of a principle so for her safety.	"No one having the welfare of Canada at manifestly against the interests of all."

The return of the municipal assessment rolls in all parts of the Province furnishes a basis for calculating the extent of the depression which our Tory friends tell us this country is laboring under owing to the absence of a high tax tariff. We find that almost without exception every municipality shows an increase of wealth and population as compared with last year's returns—the average increase of wealth being in the neighborhood of ten per cent. This does not bear out the Tory idea that the country is languishing.

A special cable announces that the Privy Council have decided the appeal of the Quebec Government against the Queen Insurance Co., arising out of the Quebec stamp act adversely to the Provincial authorities. The consequence will be that the Government will have to reimburse all the insurance companies in the amount of taxes which they have so far paid, which it is estimated with legal expenses, will amount to about $200,000. The companies in their turn will have to make a refund to their policy-holders, and the amount of trouble which will in every way be caused is very great.

SIR JOHN boasts that "he had never practised the style of belittling or defaming his opponents. He never struck below the belt. He had never attacked the private character of his opponents, though he had been treated differently." Yet, in the same speech he grossly attacks the personal character of Mr. MACKENZIE, Mr. ANGLIN and others; and in fact since he commenced his pic-nic deliverances, he has not made a single speech which was not filled with the most coarse and scurrilous abuse of Messrs. CARTWRIGHT, SCOTT, MILLS, HUNTINGTON and others.

AT the Catholic pic-nic at Stratford a gold-headed cane was voted to Mr. Jas. Fisher, the Reform candidate for the Commons by a majority of 566. A "little bird" tells us that this is to be Mr. Fisher's majority in the fall. By the same test—which by the way, our Tory friends have held to be a good one—Mr. Glen beat Mr. Gibbs by 867 and Mr. Mackenzie vanquished Sir John A. Macdonald by 66, at the Sons of England pic nic at Oshawa on Dominion Day. Are these indications of Mr. Glen's coming majority in South Ontario and Mr. Mackenzie's in the new House of Commons? It looks like it.

WHEN the Sarnia Canadian published statements affecting the Premier's position as a Cabinet Minister and his personal honour as well, the rest of the Tory papers were quite ready to reproduce the base slander. When the suit brought against the Canadian terminated in a disagreement of the jury on the defendants' pecuniary plea that they did not mention Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, the Tory press eagerly circulated the statement that the Premier had failed to prove his innocence. But since the proprietors of the Canadian have published a full retraction of the charges, and acknowledged their falsity, we notice that the same Tory papers which formerly aided in circulating the slanders, and which crowed over the disagreement of a jury in the case, have not now the simple manliness and common decency to even mention the fact of the apology made by the original publishers of the falsehoods. Such is Tory journalism in Canada in this year of grace 1878. Verily, it is giving itself great room for improvement in the future.

We had thought that the main contention of the Protectionist was, that the importations of manufactures interfered with their production at home; but the Mail has taken a new craze on the subject. It actually declares that "in countries such as ours protection tariffs increase instead of dimish the volume of dutiable goods." If such really be the case whence comes the protection to manufacturers said to be effected by a high tariff? The absurdity is plainly apparent when we consider the "increased importations" as bringing such a price as not to interfere with the profitable sales of the domestic article, which would therefore be sold at the same, or nearly the same price as the imported commodity to the first cost of which is added the rate of carriage and the high duty charged on its admission to the country. Yet we are to believe that high duties increase the volume of dutiable goods, protect the home producer, and at the same time lower prices, or that the same cause produces contrary effects.

SIR JOHN A MACDONALD, in his speech at the Masonic meeting at Weston on Dominion Day, alluded to Canada in the following terms:—"Thanks to Providence, they were now in the tenth year of "Confederation a prosperous, happy, and contented people, with hope in the future "of the country." Now, if it be true, as no doubt it is, that Canadians are "a prosperous, happy, and contented people," and if this prosperity, happiness, and contentment inspires, as it no doubt does, hope in the future of the country, why are Sir John A. Macdonald and his organs always trying to make people believe they are neither prosperous, happy, nor contented, and that they, except by some great change, must not dare to hope in the future? Everybody knows that Sir John spoke the truth at Weston. We may rejoice that amid the genial surroundings of the occasion he had a "lucid interval," but it is a pity he should go so very wildly astray the rest of the year.

A short time ago in referring to the Review's version of a petty political slander we accused it of either folly or knavery. As is usual with a Tory paper when beaten in an argument it sat up a poor cry condemnatory of hard language, and accused us of foully abusing it. What does our very virtuous contemporary think of the following language of Sir John Macdonald at Parkhill:—

"He had no hope that the present Government would change their policy. If they did they would be either rogues or fools—rogues if they changed their views to keep themselves in power; fools if they adopted a policy contrary to their own principles."

Is not this foul abuse in the same degree as was our reference to the Review? Will that paper not then administer a rebuke and deliver a lecture on polite language to its chieftain, who is sometimes very ready to use even such strong expressions as "I'll slap your d—d chops," "Smith is the d—st liar in the country," to say nothing of his memorable Peterborough utterance and the hypocricy that went with the words, "Would to God I could catch him!" Certainly the Review has its work cut out for it.

AN INTERESTING feature of the late Reform Demonstration at Strathroy was the passing of a resolution, amid great merriment and applause by the large gathering of Highlanders present, endorsing the utterances and policy of the Finance Minister and his colleagues, and repudiating the efforts of Senator MACPHERSON to make a martyr of himself in the name or on behalf of the Highlanders and to the prejudice of the Government. For the benefit of our numerous Highland readers we append the resolution referred to;—

"Tha sinne na Gaidheal, agus clain na Gaidheal, cruinneachte an cuen a cheile air baile Strathruah, air bhuilane bhi ag eisdeachd ris a Mhemeach Cartwright a tobhaiah cuntas al-said na dhuicha, a cuin an geil air laun earbsa na choosa, na philiorshas, na cheir, agus na dhioblollache, mar Mhinistera chruina agus mar an ceudna iadsan a tha Maille ris an' us an nacbdaranachd; agus tha sinne a toraii air guth an aghaidh na 'n agentachdain faione bha agra a tha an rendaineeach Mac a Phearsain fe uichon thodhaiak air na Gaidheal a chreidsin.

The following is a free translation of the above.

Moved by Hector Macfarlane, seconded by Malcolm H. Campbell, That we, the Highlanders and sons of Highlanders assembled at the town of Strathroy, having listened to the Englishman Cartwright's exposition of the financial position of the country, beg to express our full confidence in his ability, wisdom, honesty and industry as a Minister of the Crown, and also in that of his colleagues; and we hereby protest against the silly attempts that have been and are being made by the "predatory" Macpharson for the purpose of prejudicing the Highlanders against them.

Twelfth of July in Montreal.

During the past week an unusual amount of anxiety prevailed throughout the country over the anticipated troubles in Montreal on the 12th of July. The meeting of magistrates last Friday was most disorderly, and considerable intemperate language was used. The proposition to place Sir S. Smythe in control of the city on the 12th was voted down, and a series of resolutions condemning Orange processions and deprecating the custom of calling out the military and entrusting the preservation of the peace of the city in the hands of the Mayor were passed. The Protestant magistrates declaring the meeting had turned into a farce, had left, however, before these resolutions passed, and they immediately prepared a requisition to Colonel Fletcher, in command of the 5th military district, to undertake the preservation of the peace. It was signed by eight or ten of them. They are empowered to take this action under 36 Vic., chap. 56, which also empowers the militia officer to obtain troops from other districts if necessary.

The Mayor on Saturday issued a proclamation forbidding the assemblage or gathering of people on the streets or elsewhere in the City of Montreal on the 12th of July, and the Orangemen believing that it aimed directly at the suppression of their procession, the following proclamation was immediately issued by the Orange County Master of Montreal;

"The Mayor of Montreal having issued a proclamation to the effect that no assemblage or gathering of people shall be allowed in the streets or elsewhere in the City of Montreal on the 12th July, the Orangemen of Montreal and elsewhere are hereby notified to meet on that day in the Orange Hall, St. James' street, and future notice is hereby given that the Orangemen will not in a constitutional manner disturb the peaceable assemblies of the City Magistrates."

We give below an epitome of the most important despatches from Montreal during the past few days.

MONTREAL, July 7.—The proceedings at the meeting of magistrates on Friday have been the one topic of conversation yesterday and to-day, and for the most time all classes appear to realize that a great danger threatens the city. The Catholics French and Irish, are perfectly satisfied with the action of yesterday and the Mayor's proclamation. The Protestants, on the other hand, unanimously condemn both. There is but one opinion among the latter, and that is, that a tremendous mistake was committed by those who called the meeting, as they should have considered beforehand the effect of a division of opinion, with the majority on the Catholic side. Now for the first time we have an open public division of opinion among those in authority, and no one can foresee what will be the result if such side carries out its expressed intention. The Orangemen to-day, obtained the legal opinion of Messrs. Kerr and Carter, as to whether or not under any proclamation of the Mayor an Orange procession could be legally suppressed. It is understood that the opinion of this firm was that the Mayor had no such power. Three French speaking lawyers stated this afternoon that the Mayor had no power to suppress the procession, one remarking that the proclamation, if it had that aim in view, was not worth the paper it was written on. At the City Hall the opinion prevailed among the initiated, that the proclamation of the Mayor was levelled directly at the Orangemen.

"A procession of several thousand men" said one who may justly be supposed not to be an entire stranger to his Worship's views, "will take a long time to form. It cannot very well form elsewhere than on the street or some public place, and while it is being formed it will be liable to be attacked and dispersed under the proclamation by the civic power." To disperse such a procession, it was added that Mayor Beaudry would swear in a large number of special constables and with their assistance clear the streets. Such is the plan which the Mayor has resolved upon.

The Irish Catholics interpret the proclamation of the Mayor to mean that the Orange procession will not be allowed, and they regard his appeal to the citizens to assist him in keeping the peace as addressed to them and as an invitation to prevent the procession. On Friday the Protestants who have taken up the cause of the Orangemen obtained the signatures of six magistrates to a requisition to Col. Fletcher asking that the volunteers be called out on the 12th, the intention being that they shall protect the Orangemen. At the Brigade office yesterday afternoon the information was obtained that the troops, who will be certainly placed under arms in this city on the 12th, are the city volunteers of both the 5th and 6th Military Districts, including the St. Jean Baptist infantry, the A and B Batteries and four battalions from the country around Montreal. The outside troops, it would be inferred from the Colonel's remarks, would be called upon to do the heavy work. There will be flying columns of troops and patrols to disperse crowds which may gather in different parts of the city. A telegram has been sent to the Dominion Government by a number of city magistrates asking that in view of local jealousies and a possible conflict of authority, Sir Selby Smythe might be entrusted with the preservation of the peace of the city. It is an open question which authority will take precedence on the 12th, that of the Mayor or that of the magistrates who have called out the troops; and a good deal of discussion is being indulged in. The Mayor will probably order the police force to disperse the procession, while, on the other hand, the military will be there to protect it. On Friday evening telegrams were sent by leading Orangemen to all the lodges in Ontario and Quebec asking them to join in the procession, but yesterday it was rumoured that the telegrams would be countermanded as they have the assurance that the military will protect them. However, it is generally expected that large numbers of Orangemen will come to the city to take part in the proceedings.

A good deal of uneasiness prevails in regard to the late robbery of twenty-five kegs of blasting powder and it is feared that if trouble occurs it will be used to destroy buildings. A leading citizen stated to-day that he had warned his employes, some of whom were Orangemen, that he would not allow them to absent themselves from business on the 12th.

The mayor is moving in rather a mysterious manner in connection with the arrangements for preserving the peace on the 12th. Without conferring with his brother magistrates, who presented the requisition for the troops, his Worship, accompanied by Mr. B. Devlin, M. P., left by the morning train for Ottawa. His object in going there can only be conjectured. Some say that he is desirous of getting the Government to withold its sanction for calling out the military, and others, that he merely wishes not to be superseded as having control of the troops in the city, as must be the case now, since he was not one of those who signed the requisition. As the law stands the Government has no discretion in the matter, and must leave the military under the direction of the magistrates.

It appears that the Orangemen consented not to play party tunes, only upon the understanding that the civic authorities would protect the procession, and that not having been promised, what tunes will be played along the line of march remains a matter still to be decided on.

There is a feeling of great satisfaction at the announcement that Sir Selby Smyth will command the militia on the 12th. A and B batteries and four battalions from the townships, with the local force, are to assemble on Dominion square, and will be used to protect the Orangemen. It is not now thought that there will be any trouble in the day time at least.

All the guards on the armories will be doubled to-morrow, and the local corps will be considered as a garrison.

To-night, meetings of the Irish and French were held at the St. Jean Baptiste village, St. Henri, and on Chaboilez Square, at each of which several thousand people were present. The meetings were called to arrange to oppose the procession on Friday. To-night there is considerable excitement among the Irish, who all anticipate serious trouble, and assert that the procession will be opposed by 20,000 men. I hear that a very large number of the Irish are coming from Quebec, and many from Ontario and the United States. If reliance can be placed on what the Irish say, there will unquestionably be a general fight, but moderate Protestants think that the presence of the military will dampen the ardour of the Catholics, and induce them to defer their aggressive measures until the evening.

MONTREAL, July 9th.—The following is a correct list of the troops that will arrive here on Thursday, and go into camp in various parts of the city:—11th regiment from Argenteuil, 50th from Hemmingford, 51st from Huntingdon, 53rd from Sherbrooke, 54th from Richmond, and 100 French Canadian militia from Beauharnois. In addition there will be the A and B batteries of artillery from Kingston and Quebec.

Lieut-General Sir Selby Smyth will leave Ottawa to-morrow in order to assume command of the troops.

The camp of the Artillery will be on the Montreal Incrosse grounds, Dominion Square. The rink, drill shed, and old barracks will be utilized for the remainder of the troops. The total strength of the garrison will be between 2,500 and 3,000.

The Orangemen will wear their ordinary regalia, but will abstain altogether from playing party tunes. This has been resolved on by the Committee, and the order will be enforced.

It is reported to-day that, owing to dissatisfaction on the part of the Irish constituents with the course of the Government in not paying more deference to the Mayor's representations, Mr. B. Devlin, M. P., has determined to resign his seat as a supporter of Mr. Mackenzie's party.

ENNISMORE.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The Registration for the Township of Ennismore for the half year ending 30th of June, amounted to the following namely: Births 16, Marriages 10, Deaths 6, showing a fair percentage on 1083 population.

QUERIES.—Was our County Parliament going in a philanthropic spirit of brotherly love at their last meeting, when they voted non-confidence in themselves and the Magistrates of the county, by voting Mr. D. G. Hutton $100 salary for transacting county business? And if right to vote the peoples' money to the Peterborough P. M. why don't they do so for the resident J. P's of the county?—COM.

STONEHOUSE.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—One day this week while Mr. Thomas Howson, son of William Howson, Esq., of Ossambee, was in the act of mixing ammonia with Paris Green for the purpose of sprinkling it upon his potato vines, the ammonia exploded in the bottle, and the contents flew into his face, causing such injuries that it is feared he will lose his eye-sight.—COM.

ANOTHER SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Monday afternoon last, Mr. D. Nelson, jr., of this Township, met with a very serious accident, having his left hand completely cut off by a mowing machine. He had a team of colts attached to the mower, and was about leaving the field for his tea when the horses took fright and ran away, throwing him off in front of the Mower. Raising his hand to partially save himself when the maching was passing over him it came in contact with the knives and was completely severed from the arm close to the wrist joint. Drs. Millar and Harrison were immediately called in and amputated the arm about four inches above the wrist. He is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

LARK BALL.

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL PIC-NIC was held here on the 6th instant. Early in the forenoon parties from a distance began to arrive. At ten a large number had assembled on Victoria Summit, and it was evident that each had come bent upon enjoyment; nor were any disappointed. Having done justice, as a party under such circumstances alone can, to the good things provided, pleasure seekers set out to enjoy themselves, some to swing, some to play baseball, etc. At 3 P. M. all assembled to witness the races. Messrs. Wood & Paisley acted as judges. The following is the list of the prize winners: Boy's race from 9 to 13, 6 entries, 1st Harry Reid, 2nd F. W. H. Wood. Boy's race from 5 to 9, 5 entries, 1st Lennie Hall, 2nd John Bateson. Girl's Race from 5 to 9, 5 entries, 1st Tilly Nicholls, 2nd Ettie Reid. Girl's race from 9 to 13, 3 entries, Lucind Hatton, 2nd Regina Hatton. There was also a men's race, in which several young men took part. Tea being now announced, all gathered round the tables; and, as there was more than enough for all, it was indeed a pleasing sight to see how the good things disappeared; some of our town friends here won renown. Throughout the day among the melody of sounds was heard that of singing, which had a very pleasant effect. Before parting a vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. McMartin, Miss Britton, the teacher, and Mrs. Hall, of Buckhorn, to whom was due the enjoyment of the day. All departed for their several homes fully pleased with the day's sport.—COM.

The Temperance Sampson and the Tory Delilah.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

In answer to my letter of last week, the Review accuses me of making "an attack upon Mr. Hilliard." Such is not the case. Of Mr. Hilliard personally I said not a word; but contended myself with discussing not the man but his measures, and the measures of those who are hanging him out as a false light. The Review is the first to depart from its own motto of "Measures not Men," and to allude to the personality of Mr. Hilliard. It even goes so far as to complain that certain persons, its political opponents, do not "consider the personal views of the candidates themselves, but the important point was which political party they supported." I have been in the habit of thinking the personal views of a candidate, politically, are included in a consideration of his party allegiance, and that the confining of the contest to one between the political principles advocated by the parties the candidates respectively represent, is the very best way to avoid those personal criminations and re-criminations that so mar and disgrace the greater number of election contests in Canada, as elsewhere.

Is not the anxiety shown by the Review to place Mr. Hilliard's temperance views before his party candidature a proof of the necessity of my warning against false lights being hung out. My only complaint has been that Mr. Hilliard is paraded as an independent temperance candidate, while he is really the straight party candidate of those who have made themselves conspicuous in opposing temperance legislation in the Houses of Parliament, in the press, and at the polls. Thus has he suffered himself to be made the tool of a party that had not the slightest hope of success in West Peterborough without some such trick as this; and herein lies his inconsistency and probable paralysis as a temperance worker for the future. It is not likely that those who have caught him in the party political trap, will suffer him quietly to go again into opposition to them when another temperance campaign arises. They sunk their feelings for him; and will demand a suppression of him in return. I have already stated that Mr. Hilliard was not the spontaneous choice of his party from a purely political point of view. With his comparatively barren record it could not have been the case. My proof comes from an authoritative source when I read in the Review that Mr. Hilliard's firm adherence to his temperance views "was calculated to alienate from him the sympathies of a portion of his supporters." That is just the view I took of his candidature in my former letter, only I must confess the Review writer with his trained pen has been able to put it more concisely and pointedly. He tells us that though the sympathies of certain Conservatives are alienated from Mr. Hilliard, yet they support him. I tried to get at that very point last week; but in my clumsy way of writing, not being a great journalist, I probably was unable to make it clear. Now at least the public is made clearly aware that Mr. Hillard is tolerated as a candidate by a certain portion of his party, in the hope that what is obnoxious to them may be the means of catching a few Reform votes. "In vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird."

I have to thank the Review for so ably assisting me to enlighten the public and Mr. Hilliard himself on the latter's true position as a candidate. I feel pretty certain that now Mr. Hilliard, (for whom as a fellow-labourer in the temperance cause I, though an opponent politically, have no small degree of consideration) fully understands the equivocal position he occupies, he can only wish himself well out of it, and once more untrammeled in the prosecution of the glorious warfare he has waged in entire sympathy with.

LINDSAY.

SUICIDE OF A FORMER RESIDENT OF LINDSAY.—Many of our town readers will remember Montague Mann, who left town some three or four years ago to join the Mounted Police in Manitoba when they were first organized. Having previously served several years in the British army he easily obtained a commission, but shortly afterwards left the force and was appointed steward of the Manitoba Provincial Penitentiary. On the 20th ult. he committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. A few minutes before committing the deed he appeared to be in his usual health and spirits. There was nothing found to afford a clue for his committing suicide. Everything connected with his office was found in perfect order. He was at all times sober and industrious and did his duty well. He leaves a wife and three children—the unfortunate widow being a niece of the wife of the Rev. Dr. Newton, of this town. His sad death will be heard of with regret as he was much esteemed by those who were acquainted with him.

OF

DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING,

AT COST PRICE.

Previous to enlarging their present premises in without exception the most popular sale of good at reduced prices in the town.

The disposition on the part of several Houses by long winded advertisements to convey the idea that they were in a position to give their goods away, has run its course, examination has proved the direct contrary and disappointment has followed to those who have investigated these facts. We would say positively, we advertise only what we really have to sell. Our goods correspond with our advertisement in every instance. We put forth no bait, we sell wholesale as well as retail.

This week we were compelled to replenish our stock with some staple lines, which will be sold as follows:—

One hundred pieces Atlantic Prints at Ninepence per yard.

Two hundred pieces Atlantic Prints at Ninepence per yard.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 11, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

Base Ball.—A match game of base ball was played on Tuesday afternoon, between the "White Stars" and "Fern Leaf" clubs, (Juvenile) resulting in the defeat of the "Fern Leafs,' by ten runs.

Early Closing.—We are requested to state that on and after Monday next, and continuing till the 1st of September, the different dry good stores in town will close at seven o'clock p. m., Saturdays excepted.

Tall Wheat.—We were shown the other day by Mr. E. Kerr, of South Monaghan, samples of spring wheat grown this season upon his farm, the straw of which measured five feet seven and a half inches in height.

Personal.—Mr. Lewis B. Stewart, son of Mr. Geo. A. Stewart, P. L. S., has just passed his primary examinations before the Board of Examiners of Provincial Land Surveyors, Toronto, in a most creditable manner.

Excursion to Stoney Lake.—An excursion and pic-nic to Stoney Lake, under the auspices of Carnwell Lodge No. 611, I. O. G. T., will take place on Tuesday, 23rd of July. For particulars see posters which will be issued shortly.

"Take the Same."—It takes a clerk of broad judgment and liberal views, and a calm, stateslike control of his features, to know how to give a citizen the right kind of syrup in his soda water when the citizen's wife says she will "take the same as her husband."

Promoted.—At a late meeting of the Fire Brigade, Mr. R. B. Hamilton, was elected Lieutenant of the Hose Company, in the stead of Mr. Jas. Kerr resigned. We believe Mr. Hamilton will make an efficient officer, and we congratulate him upon his promotion.

Farewell Sermon.—The Rev. Mr. Willoughby preached his farewell sermon in the George Street Church on Sunday evening last. The attendance was large, notwithstanding the warmth of the weather, and the final discourse was listened to with much attention.

Canada on Canvas.—The panorama of Canada shown by Messrs. Ormond & Dolan in the Opera House last evening was well attended. The scenery is highly spoken of and the whole entertainment appreciated by those attending. They exhibit again to-night, when no doubt they will be greeted with a full house.

Gospel Hymnal.—We are informed that Mr. Francis Murphy, the great temperance apostle, has arranged with Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co., of New York, to publish his new Gospel Temperance Hymnal. It will be specially adapted for use in the gospel temperance cause, revival, praise and prayer meetings. The publication may be expected at an early date.

For Absent Friends.—We are continually receiving orders for the EXAMINER to be sent to Michigan, California, Manitoba and other points, and those who receive it look upon its weekly budget of local news as a letter from home We suggest to others who have friends away from home, that they pursue a similar course, and thus keep them informed of matters here more fully than is possible by correspondence.

Portraits.—We take the following paragraph from the Review :—

In the windows of Messrs. Wilson & Davis's bookstore may now be seen two specimens of Mr. Workman's skill as a portrait painter One is a likeness of the late Mrs. Campbell, wife of the Rev. Isaac Campbell, and daughter of Mr. James Stratton. The resemblance is excellent and the painting surpasses any we have seen before from Mr. Workman's well-known pencil. The other portrait unmistakably represents the youngest daughter of Mrs. Egerton Perry.

Intermediate Examinations.—The intermediate examinations in connection with the Peterborough Collegiate Institute are being held this week. There are 97 candidates—all pupils from the Institute. The entrance examinations were concluded yesterday. These were 83 candidates, several of whom were from rural and village schools. As soon as the result is known, we will give the names and schools of the successful candidates.

Style and Speed.—Mr. W. J. Larmour has always enjoyed the reputation of manufacturing an article in boots and shoes that cannot be surpassed by even city dealers. He is now adding speed in manufacture to the many other good qualities of his work. Last week he informs us he took a measure for a pair of sewed shoes at noon and had them finished and seat home by six o'clock the same evening—the work, not including fitting, being done by one man. Such prompt filling of orders are not, we believe, often found in the rules of order in a shoe shop.

Nassau Temple.—A very pleasant evening was spent at Nassau on Thursday last at the strawberry festival, under the auspices of Nassau Temple. After the strawberries had been liberally partaken of, a number of choice selections of reading, recitations, and singing, were admirably rendered by the several performers. Mr. Stratton occupied the chair. Quite a number from town were present The pleasure of the evening will be remembered for some time by those who were present, especially by one who enjoyed a drive there and a walk home.

The Power of Cash, says an American paper, was never greater in merchantile communities than at the present time. Cash trade is sedulously sought after, and cash customers are at a premium in every branch of business. All the various commercial interests are uniting as far as possible to discard as a fallacy the old theory which has seemed to recognize credit as the inherent right of a buyer; and the opinion is becoming very prevalent that it should only be granted upon compliance by the buyers with better provisions than heretofore for the protection of creditors.

A Warning to Business Men.—The Gutherie Register makes the following admonitory announcement :—" Merchants and others should be careful about furnishing goods, &c., to members of a family other than responsible head, given public notice that he will not hold himself liable for debts contracted in his name by any person without his written order. A last case was decided in the Division Court here on Tuesday, [illegible] was given against the claimant. Such cases are of rare occurrence, yet business men should not disregard notices which are published in the premises, as they are resorted to as the last and only means of obtaining real or fancied extravagances.

A Grumpy Customer.—Mr. Thompson, lately, under power of a landlord's warrant, sold the stock of David Wheeler. In some of the utensils sold was conveyed there was some liquor, and Mr. Croft laid information against Mr. Dumble for violating the Dunkin Act, but when the day for trial came, Mr. Croft wisely paid the costs and withdrew his case. A few days after W. H. Bowman laid information against Mr. Dumble for the very same act—and this came to trial yesterday, before the Police Magistrate—Mr. John Green, appearing for complainant. The case was dismissed with costs, and then ended this farce, commenced merely to annoy Mr. Dumble. But they had to pay for their amusement.

12th of July.—Arrangements are being satisfactorily completed for a grand celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne in Peterborough to-morrow. Arches are being erected and other means taken to beautify the town. So far as we have been able to learn the following are the arrangements for the day. The Peterborough brethren will assemble at the Orange Hall at 7 o'clock a.m., for the transaction of business, after which they will repair to the Drill Shed Grounds, where they will be met by the members of the Lakefield and Otonabee Districts at ten o'clock, after which they will proceed to the Midland Station and steamboat wharfs to receive the visiting brethren. A procession will then be formed and marching through some of the principal streets to the Drill Shed Grounds, where they will separate for dinner, assembling again at two o'clock, when addresses will be delivered by a number of reverend gentlemen and prominent members of the order.

Cole's Circus, Museum and Menagerie. This famous and popular show is coming this way, and will exhibit at Peterborough during the summer. The show is very highly spoken of, and in addition to all other attractions, they have the two largest people in the world, rejoicing in the names of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bates. The gentleman stands eight feet (lacking one-half inch) in his stocking soles, and his wife the same height. They were weighed together the other day, it may be mentioned, and turned the scales at a little over half a ton. Both came of a hardy stock, while the lady represents the Province of Nova Scotia. Some years ago they made a tour of England, where they created a great sensation, appearing, by command, before Her Majesty. The Royal lady, we understand, expressed herself vastly pleased with the novel spectacle. In fact, her appreciation took a very solid form, and Mr. Bates now treasures in his possession a magnificent gold watch, set with diamonds, also a chain, the gift of Queen Victoria. Mr. Cole is certainly to be congratulated on his good fortune in securing the double attraction, itself a show worth double the fee they charge for admission to the whole entertainment.

Uniforms for the Band.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Dominion Day Celebration held last Friday evening, the Treasurer reported a balance on hand of over $300, after paying all accounts. In arranging for the disposal of this amount the following resolution was carried unanimously :—

Moved by F. J. JAMESON, seconded by A. MCNEIL.—That in view of the financial success of the Dominion Day Celebration, and the services of the Fire Brigade Band in furthering the same, be it therefore resolved that this Committee appropriate the sum of two hundred dollars towards the purchase of a new uniform for the Band, the uniform to become the property of the Brigade, provided the members thereof waive their right to the payment of any sum which may be due them for services on that day, and that a committee of three be appointed from this committee to consult with a like number from the Band in reference to the selection of a suitable uniform.

We are informed that this sum is to be further supplemented in order that a first class uniform may be procured—one worthy of the Band, and a credit both to the Brigade and the town. Since writing the above we learn that as many of our citizens have expressed a desire to witness the performance of Mr. H. C. Winch's trick horse "Little Tommy," being unable to do so on Dominion Day on account of the crowd, that gentleman has kindly offered to give a repetition of the performance at an early day, for the benefit of the band uniform fund. In connection with this the local Vaudeville Troupe, and the best amateur talent of the town have also consented to assist in the evenings entertainment. The date of which will soon be announced, when we feel sure the citizens will patronize most liberally so laudable an object.

Press an Oppressor.—The Lakefield News a most determined enemy to the Dunkin Bill, has been compelled by force of circumstances to admit that the Bill has greatly diminished drunkenness in Lakefield. The News says :—

Ever body learns by experience. And an experience lesson has been given in this village this week on this question. The various men who kept hotels before the date for the enforcement of the Act have been convicted of infringing its provisions. The fines have been made light, because of the uncertainty which surrounded the carrying out of the Act in the County and Town. And in this the Magistrates acted wisely, for now the matter is legally settled we think there will be no further trouble.

While writing on this subject, we must, in the performance of our duty, admit that from a temperance standpoint, the Act has greatly diminished drunkenness in Lakefield. We did not always hold this opinion, but from the evidence of one of the accused himself, it has been forced upon us. He states deliberately, when on oath, that the passage of the Dunkin Act has diminished his sales very materially. Where he would sell under the Crooks' Act a barrel of beer in five days, he says that it would now take three months to dispose of a like quantity, even if it was called ginger ale on draft. These are pertinent facts, and will doubtless materially assist the temperance people.

Mr BENTLEY, sworn, said :— . . . . . When I had license, if used to take about five days to empty a barrel of beer, but it would take three months now.

Thus out of their own mouths do we find evidence that not one fifteenth of the liquor is sold under the Dunkin Bill that was sold under License, or in other words about seven per cent is now sold according to Mr. Bentley's evidence, of what formerly was sold. Hence about 93 per cent. is cut off. Does this not afford abundant evidence that the Temperance Act of 1864 is a success in Lakefield, and the same may be said of Peterborough.

Hamilton's Agricultural Works.—The other day when passing Mr. Peter Hamilton's Agricultural Works we noticed the workmen fitting up a number of implements. Upon enquiry we learned that he was preparing to ship by Calcutt's line of steamers to Hayswood, twenty-five of his new Midland Harvester Reapers, to fill orders received during the past week in the County of Northumberland. The Midland Harvester is a new machine and is taking the lead this season. It is a light draught reaper, simple in construction, easily managed, and has more speed and power for cutting heavy grain than any other light reaper in the market. He is also turning out a large number of hay rakes and mowers, the best implement of the kind manufactured by him. He is at present engaged in building several threshing machines similar to those which he has been manufacturing during the past three or four years, one of which took the first prize at the Central Exhibition last fall in Lindsay. These machines have invariably proved themselves equal if not superior to any other machine in the Province. In fact all Mr. Hamilton's implements are gaining a Provincial reputation and are holding their place against those of older manufacturers throughout the Dominion. Farmers in this section requiring implements this harvest should consult their own convenience in purchasing from a local manufacturer, as should breakages occur and repairs be required it would be an undoubted advantage both in paying of time and otherwise, to be able to procure them at home instead of ordering them from a foreign manufacturer. Mr. Hamilton employs at present between seventy-five and eighty hands, and has since last season made extensive additions to his work shops, which now cover an acre of ground, and which he contemplates still further extending to meet the requirements of his rapidly growing trade. This is only one of the many manufacturing institutions in our country which is flourishing without the assistance of Sir John A. Macdonald's "National Protective Policy," and Mr. Hamilton assures us he requires no further protection to enable him to compete successfully against American manufacturers.

TRADE NOTICES.

If you want Summer Clothing go to I. Robinson & Co—they have a lot which they are selling at half price. tf

Farmers wanting the best Goderich Salt, should not fail to give Rush, Elliott & Morrow a trial—only $1.10 per barrel.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Benson & Son.

If You Want an excellent tea, go to Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

Garden Tools.—These in need of garden tools and field implements should not fail to call at McKee & Davidson's, where a large assortment is always on hand, at prices to suit the times.

Sweeping reductions in groceries at Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

Carpetting Warerooms.—Madden & Green, Merchant Tailors, are selling their light and medium weight Tweeds at less than their usual prices, for two weeks only, to make room for their new Fall Stock, which will be found posted in new warerooms into Peterborough. 26-tf

A MELANCHOLY EVENT.

Mr. F. J. B. Beckett Found Dead in His Rooms on Sunday Morning.—A Sad End of a Once Promising Young Man —He takes a Dose of Morphine, While Under the Influence of Liquor, to Procure Sleep.—Another Victim of Strong Drink.

On Sunday morning last Mr. F. J. B. Beckett, Veterinary Surgeon of this town, came to an untimely death through the effects of an over dose of morphine, it is supposed to quiet his nerves and induce sleep. A post mortem examination of deceased ensued in Peterborough, and commenced the practice of Veterinary Surgeon and succeeded in a short time in working up a good business, and was looked upon as a young man of promise. Being of a very affable and genial disposition he soon made many friends, but like many another of a similar character he was soon led a way by the fascinations of the social glass, and what, at first, was merely the occasional glass, soon formed the appetite for habitual drunkenness, and paved the way for a life of dissipation into which he was rapidly falling. Owing to some fifth accumulating in the vicinity of the rooms which he occupied in Bradbourns' block, and for which he was held accountable. Mr. Bradburn, on Wednesday or Thursday last, caused a distress warrant to be issued against him for the recovery of back rent. While the bailiff was performing his duty of making the effects deceased became exasperated (being at the time under the influence of drink), and made an assault upon him. For this he was brought before the Police Magistrate and committed to stand his trial, but was subsequently admitted to bail in the sum of six hundred dollars. Evidently after this he became aware of his position and recovering somewhat from his partial delirium, became despondent in spirits. About six o'clock on Sunday morning he procured twelve ounces of brandy and two drachms of sulphate of morphia from Mr. Lane's drug store. At the inquest it was not stated whether he had drank all the brandy or not, but from the evidence it appears that at about eleven o'clock he said he was going to have a sleep and asked to be awakened at half past eleven in time for dinner. Evidently on laying down he drank a solution of the morphia, and when Mr. Lytle, who was in charge of the rooms, returned he found him in a dying condition. Doctor Kincaid was at once called in, but without avail, as by that time life was extinct. A jury was empanelled, and after viewing the body adjourned till the next morning at six o'clock, when the following evidence was taken :

THE INQUEST.

THOMAS LYTLE, of the Town of Peterborough, labourer, sworn, said :—I was put in possession of the premises of the deceased by William Cummings, who had seized his effects on a landlord's warrant. I took possession on Saturday about eight o'clock p.m. The deceased was in his own room then under the influence of liquor. He ordered Mr. Cummings out, but did not use any violence. After Mr. Cummings left deceased lay down on the lounge but did not sleep to my knowledge. I was there all night except about an hour. I saw deceased drink several times during the night. He appeared stupid in the morning, but could talk sensible enough when spoken to, and could walk with ease. He left the room about six o'clock a.m., but don't know how long he was out. Could not have been more than an hour. I was asleep when he was out, and he awoke me when he came in and asked me what time Young left. He then lay down on the bed till about nine o'clock a.m., when he got up and sat on the lounge and called a boy whom he saw on the street with a pail and asked him if it was milk he had. The boy said no, and that he was looking for John Bailey. Deceased said go over the stairs the back way. The deceased went with the boy into Bailey's, as he said that he wanted a quart of cider. He got the cider, came up and gave me and my brother-in-law a glass, and went to bed again. This would be about nine o'clock a.m. He lay about half an hour and then got up at my request to keep me company. He talked to me till about eleven o'clock a.m. He was talking about his trouble with Mr. Cummings and his landlord, and his horses. Deceased appeared very down-hearted about his affairs. He did not threaten any body, but asked me to see Mr. Bradburn and enquire if he would take ten dollars per month and hold the goods till he would pay all up. This was about eleven o'clock, and he said he would lay down as he was not strong. He told me to waken him at half-past eleven to go to his dinner, if he would be asleep. I tried to waken him about twenty minutes to twelve. I called him twice, and there was no answer. I then caught hold of him and shook him and I thought he was dead. I then went after Mr. R. Wainwright. I noticed no motion in the deceased after I shook him up. I did not see the deceased take any medicine, but I heard glasses rattling but did not see him swallow any medicine. He said ten hundred dollars of honest money would pay his debts during the conversation we had. He said people owed him over eight hundred dollars, but did not mention any names. He said nothing about his books.

ROBERT WAINWRIGHT, sworn said :—I was acquainted with the deceased. Saw him last alive on Dominion Day. I saw nothing of him after until Thomas Lytle came for me yesterday morning to say that he was dying. I went to his rooms and tried to rouse him up but could not do so. I then went for Dr. Kincaid.

TIMOTHY CAVANAGH, sworn said :—I was acquainted with the deceased. He boarded at my house. He was at his meals on Monday last, and I did not see anything wrong with him. He appeared to act as usual. One could tell that he was drinking, but he could walk and talk sensible enough. He did not drink anything in my place. He only came there for his meals. He did not owe me much.

FREEMAN LAWS, Chemist and Druggist, sworn, said:—I was acquainted with the deceased. He frequently came into my shop to purchase drugs. I remember him coming into my shop yesterday morning about six o'clock. He asked for sulphate of Morphia and the price and he told me to give him two drachms. He then asked me the dose, and how to make it into solution. He then asked me if I had any good brandy, and asked for a sample, as I told him I had two qualities. After tasting it he told me to give him a pint of the best. He told me he had an urgent case in the country and he preferred the brandy to the alcohol. I gave him twelve ounces of brandy as that was all the flask would hold, and that was all I was disposed to sell him. He got up and felt in his pockets and said he had no money; spoke of the hardness of the times and said he would pay me on Monday. After I heard of his death I came to the rooms of the deceased and looked at him. I also looked for the Morphia. I found it and weighed it and it was short thirty-eight grains of the quantity I gave him. The dose of Morphia is from one quarter to one eighth of a grain. Deceased has purchased liquor and Morphia from me before under a prescription from himself. Deceased appeared quite sensible and sober when he was in my shop at six o'clock on Sunday morning.

WILLIAM CUMMINGS, sworn, said :—He had made a seizure upon his effects for Mr. Bradburn, on the 6th inst. Have been in possession since. I thought deceased appeared sober as usual. Had some trouble with him when I made the seizure. He took a hatchet to me. In consequence of this I had him arrested. I did not see him drink anything. The amount of the judgment I held against him was $63.00 and costs. He did not dispute the judgement. He did not say anything to me about his affairs.

CHARLES LEFRANC, sworn, said :—Deceased had an office rented from me. Has been a tenant of mine two years at a rental of ten dollars per quarter. Has not paid anything this last nine months. He had not been attending to his office Friday and Saturday. I saw him on Friday night at 8 o'clock, when he appeared to be all right. I did not see him again till Sunday morning about ten o'clock. He appeared to be about as usual. He kept his books in the office with the exception of the ledger, which he used to take to his rooms. He told me he had made a present of a gold watch to some young friend. The watch before last he told me he had thirteen, seven and eight hundred dollars worth of good debts on his books. He was pretty heavily in debt. He said if he could get his accounts he would be able to pay his debts. I held a mortgage against his horses, harness, &c., for between five and six hundred dollars. He owed me about that sum.

WILLIAM MCDOALD, sworn, said :—He was intimately acquainted with deceased. I saw him last alive on Friday night. He appeared sober but could tell he had been drinking. He seemed to be depressed in spirits and complained of garden who had poisoned his dog and had it in the back yard. He told me he had made a present of a gold watch to a young lady. He told me her name. He showed me a present he had received from the young lady in return. Have heard him say at times when he was in low spirits, after drinking, that if he had a revolver he would shoot himself. He told me he had no use for life when he had lost his wife. Deceased was a member of the Masonic Order when he drank to excess, but suspended when he drank to excess, but suspended when he drank to excess, but suspended

THE TWO ROSES.

Two roses once in my garden grew;
The one was brilliant and rich of hue;
Proud of her beauty and perfume rare,
She spread her sweets to each passing air;
The other, timid and chaste of mind,
Shrank from the kiss of the fickle wind;
Proud in the pride of her virtue meek,
She veiled the blush on her modest cheek.

Dazed with the glare of her gaudy bloom,
Drank with the breath of her rich perfume,
I tended the one with ceaseless care;
I marked the growth of each beauty rare,
And dreamed that all on some future day
Would own the power of her peerless sway.

At length my flower that I loved the best,
I sought to take and wear on my breast,
That vein from her parent stem to part,
She might rest awhile on my loving heart.
But flowrs was the lure of her witching spell,
As fettering to earth her petals fell,
Her heart was rotten and dead at the core—
And I knew that my foolish dream was o'er.

I saw how far the full blown blaze
That had charmed my senses and won my praise
And I thought at last of the timid flower
Which had pined unheeded for cooling shower,
But drought unslaked had her life-spring dried;
So, fading and faded, she drooped and died.

I saw too now, with wakening eyes,
How near I had been to my longed for prize;
One-half of the care I had spent in vain—
Care that had brought me but grief and pain—
If spent on the rose that had pined away,
Would have reared a flower so chastely gay,
That the joy of its countless charms untold
My care had repaid a thousand fold.

Ah! how oft in the toil and strife,
The chances and changes which we call life,
By slight and neglect in time of need,
We kill the flower, and we rear the weed;
Then we see it, and know too late,
We blame not ourselves, but curse our fate,
For no solace have we on which to lean,
We know what we long for might have been.

Rules of a Successful Farmer.

The succesful life of Mr. Jacob Strawn, the prince of American farmers, is attributed to the close observation of the following maxims originated by himself:

Make your fences high and strong, so they will keep cattle and pigs out. If you have brush, make you lots strong and secure and keep the hogs out from the corn.

Be sure to get hands to bed by seven o'clock; they will rise early by force of circumstances.

Pay a hand, if he is a poor hand, all you promise, and if he is a good one pay him a little more; it will encourage him to do still better.

Always feed your hands as well as you feed yourselves, for the laboring men are the bone and sinew of the land, and ought to be well treated.

I am satisfied that getting up early, industry and regular habits are the best medicine prescribed for health.

When rainy, bad weather comes, so you can't work out of doors, cut, split and pile your wood, make your racks and fix your fences or gates.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Counterfeit Coin in the United States.

Counterfeit coin is very plentiful at present in the United States and it is indeed asserted by U. S. treasury experts that not less than two million dollars in counterfeit silver and gold is now in circulation in the United States, and that the total is constantly increasing. The Scientific American gives a very clear account of the numerous devices resorted to by rogues to debase the coin, from the absolutely spurious up through all the finer gradations of clipping; filing, splitting and sweating. The people of the United States may look also for large amounts of counterfeit notes coming back from abroad, now that the Paris exhibition is in full blast, and German immigrants are reaching New York in large numbers. Counterfeit notes, amounting in the aggregate to over twelve thousand dollars were palmed off at the port of Hamburg upon German immigrants who recently arrived at New York. What makes the matter still more serious is the infrequency with which arrests of counterfeiters are made in spite of the apparent boldness with which they carry on their operations, and the multitude of agents engaged in what is called in their expressive slang, "shoving the queer." The want of familiarity on the part of the public with the new coins soon to be brought into general use with the resumption of specie payments, offers a fresh opportunity for counterfeiting or debasing it. With two branches of the same rascally business carried on simultaneously and actively—that or coun terfeiting bank notes on the one hand and of coin on the other—the vigilance of the public in the United States will be taxed to the uttermost.

Marriage of a Woman to a Woman.

The Tuscarora, Nev., Times Review says:—Mataney Hughes was married in September last to a person who was known as Samuel M. Pollard. Her relatives opposed the marriage, and she eloped and was married without their knowledge, and a short time after their marriage Pollard confessed to her that she was a woman; that she had trouble with her relatives in the East; had lost her property, and assumed the disguise of a man for the reason that avenues for making money would be open to her in that character which would be closed to her as a woman. Pollard has never given her any particular reason for doing her this great wrong, but it is believed to have been actuated by a foolish pride in appearing in the character of a married man. The victim was ashamed to acknowledge that she had been so imposed upon, and shrank from admitting the truth. Pollard without actually threatening her life, repeatedly intimating that it would be bad for her if she exposed her, and so she kept silent until a fortnight ago, when her aunt got an intimation of the fact and questioned her closely, and she related to her the whole story. The victim says that the woman's real name is Sarah M. Pollard, and her trunk is filled with feminine apparel. A complaint was filed by J. O. Howerton, accusing Pollard of perjury in swearing when she took out the marriage license that she was a male.

WHAT THE ANIMALS EAT.

The feeding of animals in a great menagerie is always carefully done, because their lives depend on the adaptability of their food. The Philadelphia Times says that the dainties of the tasters in the Zoological Garden are two chimpanzees. They breakfast on weak tea, with plenty of milk and sugar and bread spread with honey. They lunch at 10 o'clock on bananas and oranges, dine at 3 on rice and tapioca, served with sugar and sherry, and sup at seven on rice and milk. The seals are less troublesome to feed, but more expensive, for five of them eat daily eighty pounds of fresh fish. Formerly the lions, tigers and other carnivora were costly, but of late they have been fed on horse meat, which is very cheap. The buffaloes, deer, and elephants live now on grass in the grounds. The rhinoceros is the greediest of the lot; but it is quantity that he craves, without much regard to quality. He will eat fifty pounds of hay every day, and a bushel of potatoes is to him like a plate of strawberries to a hungry man. His food costs $10 a week, which is as much as that of an elephant. The giraffe has to be fed carefully, because he has no regard for his long narrow throat, and starts one mouthful down before the one before it has reached his stomach, thus choaking himself. Common monkeys eat nearly everything that is offered, so do the ostriches and cassowaries, but some of the insectivorous have to be patiently trained to. The mouse is the hardest to please and misses the twigs of his native woods.

LEGAL TRICKS.

Extreme explicitness would seem to be required when trafficking with Frenchmen. In 1870, a lady purchased £300 worth of jewellery in Paris, the jeweller giving her a written promise to exchange the articles if not approved. She wore them for half-a-dozen years, and then intimated to the astonished man her desire to change them for others of newer style. He naturally demurred, arguing as his advocate urged before the civil tribunal, that it was unreasonable that he should be called upon to accept at the price originally paid for them, trinkets that had been used constantly for six years. The court nevertheless decided that the agreement did not define the period during which the exchange might be made, and he must do his customers bidding. This might be law; equity it certainly was not. A case of a very similar kind has lately been decided in London against Mr. Streeter, the well-known jeweller, who, having promised to take back a diamond ring if not approved of, was obliged to do so, though his customer had retained it for three years.

Sharp practice is not always so successful. A gentleman took railway tickets for himself, his servants, and his horses. After the p ssengers were seated, it was found expedient to divide the train, the gentleman being in the first part. When the second train was about to start, the cry was "tickets, please." The servants having none, they and the horses were turned out of their places and left behind. The gentleman sued the company. The latter brought forward their by-law setting forth that no passenger would be allowed to enter a carriage without having first obtained a ticket, to be produced on demand. The court very properly over-ruled the plea, deciding that by delivering the tickets to the master, and not as the servants severally, the company had contracted with him personally, and could not justify their failure to carry out the contract they had made.

Food Staples in the United Kingdom.

We have lately seen some interesting statistics pertaining to the production and consumption of food staples in the United Kingdom, which were recently submitted to the British Social Science Association by Mr. James Caird, a high authority in these matters. It appears that while the population of the British Isles has increased 2,800,000 in ten years, there has also been an increase of wealth and civilization, and a demand for more and better food in proportion to the population. But the acreage devoted to wheat, the largest and best food product, has fallen off one-fifth in twenty years. The potato crop is becoming more and more precarious, and prices are higher. The flocks and herds are no more numerous to-day than they were ten years ago. As the changes mentioned are continuous the inference is irresistible that Great Britain must, more and more, become dependent upon foreign countries for food. In the eight years ended with 1860 the average annual consumption of wheat in Great Britain was 311 pounds for each person. In the succeeding eight years ending with 1868, it had risen to 335 pounds. It is now 343 pounds. The home supply decreases, the individual consumption increases, and so also does the number of consumers. The result is shown in the vast increase in the sum paid annually for grain. The average value of corn and flour imported by Great Britain in the three years ended with 1867 was less than 31 millions sterling. The average of the three years ended with 1876 was more than 51 millions. The amount is certain to increase, but the importation of meat must grow also. In the last quarter century the growth of the importations of meat and daily produce has been four-fold in quantity, and last year amounted in value to 35 millions sterling. One half this increase has taken place since 1870, and the tendency to still larger amounts is stronger now than ever before, although business is very dull and bad.

The Practical Politician's Perquisites.

The Hon. William Macdougall announced himself years ago as a practical politician. He takes part in political contests pretty much as he takes a brief, when he gets one—he has his reward. Let them read the following list of the Hon. William's perquisites since Confederation:

Statement of expenditure incurred since 1st July, 1867, and paid to Hon. William Macdougall, C. B., simply for his own services:

The pleasant recollections of $7,193 a year for six years very naturally make william years for the restoration to power of those patriotic politicians by whose favor he was enabled thus to lustily fatten at the public crib. There need not be the least doubt that although he has called Sir John a traitor to his Queen and country, Mr. Macdougall is perfectly honest and sincere in his desire to see the Chieftain restored to power and himself to plenty.—Ottawa Free Press.

A Master Stroke of Diplomacy.

Count Schouvaloff, the Russian plenipotentiary, at a recent session of the Congress, introduced a very important question, and one, too, which seems to have made a deep impression upon several members of that distinguished body, viz., the employment of Indian troops in European warfare. The master-stroke of Lord Beaconsfield in bringing an Indian contingent to Malta to take part in the Russo Turkish war, if it were necessary for England to take a hand in the dispute, seems to have sunk deep in the Russian heart, and for aught anybody knows to the contrary may have had a wonderful effect in causing the Czar to back down and consent to accept only a tithe of what he at first demanded from Turkey as the price of peace. The Count asked the Congress to consider this very important question without passion, because in his opinion the very existence of European civilization was threatened by the employment of Asiatics in European warfare. He saw the danger of employing Hindoos, well equipped and led by British officers, the way in which Lord Beaconsfield had proposed, and he hoped a special Congress would be called for the purpose of considering this question, Lord Beaconsfield treated the question very lightly, while at the same time he must have been delighted at the result upon the Russian Ambassador. By this admission the Russians have admitted the horrendous military power of England, as prominently brought forward a few days ago by General Wolseley, when he said that the British recruiting ground in India was larger than that of all Europe combined. The Russians have not been unobserving of this fact, and have taken the first opportunity of trying to limit British power in this direction, but this will be a difficult matter, because Britain will never yield an inch on this question. Just as we were going to press we learned from Constantinople that the Porte had agreed to Austria's occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, on condition of the duration, limit, and strength of the army occupation being specified. It may be taken for granted that the Congress has settled the most important questions before it, and that its labours will soon be brought to a satisfactory close.

Daring Robbery in Toronto in Broad Daylight.

The Vault of the Receiver-General's Office Relieved of $13,600—The Thieves Escape.

One of the most daring robberies that was perhaps ever planned in this city was on Thursday last perpetrated in broad daylight. The scene of the operation was the office of the Assistant Receiver General on Toronto street, the amount stolen $13,630. The desk or counter of the savings bank accountant is to the left of the main entrance from Toronto street, that of the teller immediately to the right. The office of Mr. Alex. Fraser, the Assistant Receiver General is situated behind or west of the teller's counter, and nearly opposite the vault, in which the cash and notes are kept. To the west of the vault is a door leading into a hall from which egress is obtained to the lane to the south of the building. Near the vault and facing the Toronto street entrance, is a table at which the messenger sits, so that it will be seen that the place is apparently well protected. It often happens that depositors at the savings bank branch, when making a deposit or withdrawal, bring friends with them, who may be totally unknown to the officials. With this explanation the following account of the robbery will be better understood.

About half-past twelve o'clock yesterday afternoon, the messenger having left to take his dinner, Mr. Fraser, while in his office, noticed a man standing near the counter of the teller. Mr. Fraser, on going to see what was wanted, found two men talking together, the individual he had first observed being one of them. He was not able to catch anything of the conversation, and he accordingly stepped near them to hear what was their business. One of the men turned towards him, and said, "We shall be back again soon," upon which both left the office. Mr. Fraser returned to his office, and resumed his work. The messenger shortly after came in, and was sent out again on some business to one of the public banks, and was away probably half an hour. In the meantime the two men returned, but this time they walked straight into Mr. Fraser's office and asked for that gentleman. They then enquired whether Mr. Fraser owned certain property, and stated they had been referred to him by Mr. Coffin, the Receiver-General at Ottawa, for information as to the title, while they were engaging his attention, a third man entered the place, and took a position with his back to the counter of bee!ette, at the same time opening a newspaper and spreading it out before his face. It is supposed that the object of this manœuvre was to prevent the teller from seeing the vault. Mr. Fraser managed to get rid of his visitors after a few minutes conversation, and the three men left the building together. Nothing further occurred to excite comment until three o'clock when the teller came to balance the accounts, when the astounding discovery was made that the sum of $13,600 had been abstracted from the safe. About ten thousand dollars in two dollar bills had been taken out of the treasury for the purposes of the teller, and had been left in the vault.

SNAKES IN A FIRE.

A Curious and Thrilling Spectacle.

(From the Quincy, Ill., Whig, June 28.)

A curious and thrilling spectacle was witnessed Sunday evening by persons who were early at the scene of the burning of McDade's ice house on the bay. It was caused by the escape of probably hundreds of snakes, which seemed to wiggle and crawl and bound directly out of the flames, and to then run for the bay, creating a continuous splash, splash, splash, as one after another of the reptiles went headlong into the water. The whole country for a mile around was as light as day. The snakes seemed to come rom every nook and corner of the building, and, writhing in agony from the intense heat, instinctively made directly for the bay, and maimed and burned, as many of them undoubtedly were, they plunged in promiscuously, the larger ones—some of them of tremendous size—throwing great volumes of water high into the air. The watchman at one of the other ice-houses says that when he first saw the flames they enveloped nearly the entire building. He ran to the door and attempted to enter, but was driven back by the fire and smoke. Nothing whatever could be done to save the ice-house. It had no doubt been set on fire by tramps, several of whom were subsequently found lying near the ruins, fast asleep. One of these very graphically describes the rush of snake s from the burning building, which was a sight as terrible as it was wonderful. Out of the doorway, through the roof, in the midst of dense volumes of smoke, they came by scores; large snakes and small, of almost every species known to this latitude, their eyes extended and their forked tongues darting defiance at the blaze, they actually raced through the air for a place of safety. They hissed with madness, and pounded the earth with their tails in fury, and seemed to screech in the agony they experienced in coming through the fire. The number of them appeared to be endless until the whole structure was so fully consumed that no more could escape from it, if any there were. Great rattlesnakes, blow snakes, moccasins, garter snakes, water snakes of every possible description and age, were huddled and hustled together as they came forth apparently borne by the flames. The creeping things were horrible to behold. No one dared attempt to kill them after they had passed successfully through such a furnace. Wild with rage and teeming venom into the fire, which seemed to only increase in volume, they coiled upon the ground with arched necks ready to strike the foe that approached them. Some of them even seemed to stand upon the edge of the ice-house as if bidding defiance to the devouring element, and to lick up the flames with their tongues, before giving up what had been their home.

It is declared upon good authority that some of these reptiles were ten feet in length with bodies of enormous size, which made large swaths on the earth where they crawled; and as to their number no one could give a more accurate idea than that there were hundreds. One of the largest, of a bright green and gold colour, which was rendered beautifully brilliant by the fire light, appeared through the side of the house, which was in full blaze, bearing in its mouth two of its young; and scales fell from its body like hailstones as it hurried away, uttering tones of torture as it proceeded. Some of the snakes took refuge in a large pile of lumber near the ice-house, underneath which several dead carcases were found when the lumber was removed to a place of safety. The house was built with three boards, by which a vacant space was made in the siding, creating an air chamber; and it is supposed that the snakes had taken possession of this for a home. The tramps who endeavoured to stay in the ice-house on Sunday night probably discovered some of the snakes, and attempted to smoke them out, but effort resulted in the destruction of the building.

WOOLLEN INDUSTRIES.

The Effects of National Policyism in the States.

In addition to the furniture matter, the National Policyists are now devoting some attention to wool and woolen industries. It is claimed that because Canadian wool is taxed at the Sandy-hooter, it is therefore the Canadian wool-grower who has to pay that duty before he sells his wool in the States market.

The conclusion is clearly wrong. It is true that Canadian wool commands considerably higher prices in the States than in Canada, but it is the States purchaser who pays that price, not the Canadian seller. The price in Canada is the fair market price, the natural one, the price in the States is an artificial one arbitrarily created by the tariff. It is true that that tariff does raise the price that the States sheep raisers obtain for their wool, but as we shall see the whole country has to pay enormously for that protection. The tax that helps them on the one hand is visited on them with increased weight in another form. Like the National Policy proposed for Canada it is a tax that harasses their industries, and burdens their people.

But first, let us say that, in spite of the enormous tax the States has on raw wool, we in Canada have still the advantage of that article. Here are the figures of our imports and exports in raw wool last year:

Wool.	Pounds.	Value.
Imported from the States.....	2,548,345	$262,211
Exports to the States.....	2,377,139	245,972

That is to say, that while we must them over a million less pounds of wool than they did us, our farmers received within a fraction of the same amount for the lesser amount than the States farmers did for the greater amount.

Then as to the taxes the States woollen manufacturers have to pay on their imports of raw wool from foreign parts. We have before us the official customs returns of the States for 1876. They show that the effect of this tax was as follows:

The States manufacturers imported of foreign wool.....27,564,000 pounds.
They paid for this imported raw wool.....$7,605,000
They paid as customs tax on this raw wool.....$2,045,000

Thus the price of their raw material was raised by their national policy system 33⅓ per cent., that is they had to pay a third more than the actual worth of the wool in order to obtain it. The price of home-grown wool went up in proportion, so that both in imported wool and home-grown wool the States woollen manufacturers were heavily burdened in the purchase of raw material—just as Canadian national policyists desire to burden Hamilton manufacturers in the matters of the raw material, coal.

Well, what has been the effect of this national policy on the woollen industry in the States? The first effect is that in spite of an enormous duty on manufactured woollen goods the States has to import them to a very large extent. The duty on the raw materia) is so heavy that the States woollen manufacturers are quite incompetent to control their own market. The result is that the States had to import of foreign made woollen goods during the years named as follows:

The States imported of foreign made woollen goods in 1876.....$32,000,000
The States imported of foreign made woollen goods in 1877.....25,700,000

We only have the full customs returns for 1876, and they give this startling exhibit—that not only had the States consumers to purchase $32,000,000 of foreign made woolens that year, but they had to pay $21,000,000 in the shape of customs taxes upon them. Here are the figures in round numbers:

Foreign manufactured woollen goods imported by the States in 1876....$32,000,000
Taxes paid on them at the customs house.....21,000,000
$53,000,000

In that statement we find the effect of taxing raw material like wool. The farmers get a higher price for their raw wool, but it is more than taken out of them afterwards by the enormous price they have to pay for the taxed manufactured article. The figures show that while some ot them get a third more for their raw wool, they have to pay two-thirds more for the manufactured article.

The tax on the raw wool thus prevents the States' manufacturers from supplying even their home market, as in spite of the enormous tariff on manufactured woollens, those articles still find their way from foreign markets into the States—the consumers having to pay the tax. But the effect on the power of the States' woollen manufacturers is still more startling. England takes its wool in free, and here is a comparison of the difference in the export of the woollen manufactured goods of the two countries:

Exports of woollen and worsted manufactures by England, 1876.....$36,000,000
Exports of woollen and worsted manufactures by the States, 1877.....291,000

Could anything more thoroughly show the ruinous effects on the industry of taxing raw material than do these figures? Could anything more clearly show than they do the disasterous results to industries of the National Policy system?

Why even Canada—in proportion to its population—does better in its exports of woollen manufactures than the States, just as we have shown it does better in its exports of raw wool. Here are the figures:

States exports of woollen manufactures..$291,000
Canadian " " " 56,000

The States has 11 times our population, yet it only exports about five times as much woollen manufactures as we do. Did it do as much as we do in proportion to population it would have exported $620,000 instead of $291,000. Comparing its figures with those of England and Canada our national policied neighbourers is infinitely behind England and seriously behind Canada.

The result of the National Policy, with regard to woollen industries, is that it gives some farmers a third more for their raw wool and taxes all of them twothirds more for their woollen manufactures; it prevents woollen manufacturers from even supplying their own home market; and it absolutely kills anything in the shape of an export trade in woollen manufactures. The comparison between the exports of England and the States in this article makes the latter country appear absurdly ridiculous—as absolute baby in manufacturing power as compared with the former.—Hamilton Times.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine has decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c., should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy is pint bottles $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Cox's General Insurance Agency.
ESTABLISHED 1858.
GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occurred during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.
He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Nineteen Millions of Dollars.
THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of [illegible] established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-three Millions of Dollars.
THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, and which, or nearly one hundred years has paid losses averaging [illegible] per day.
These companies have all passed through the great fires of Chicago, Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and [illegible] promptly paid without offering them as [illegible].
Rates as low as consistent with absolute security.

CONFEDERATION LIFE ASSOCIATION.
PRESIDENT.—HON. W. P. HOWLAND, C.B
VICE-PRESIDENTS:
HON. W. McMASTER and WM. ELLIOT, Esq.
This Association affords all the benefits of MUTUALITY with the security of a Stock Management.
EXAMPLES OF PROFITS.
Policy No. 1, $10,000 ordinary Life—Prem. $239.30
For 1876—CASH Profits, $74.60, or Bonus, $617.
For 1877—CASH Profits, $90.60, or Bonus, $836.
Policy No. 7, $5,000; Life; Ten payments. Prem. $250.40.
For 1876—CASH Profits, $112.10, or Bonus, $997.
For 1877—CASH Profits, $140.06, or Bonus, $1293.
The above exhibits the substantial advantages offered by this Association and the encouragement extended to persons wishing to pay up all the premiums in a limited number of years. For example:—If the profits were divided on the ordinary PERCENTAGE PLAN, giving 2½ per cent. as a bonus on the amount assured, the above Policy No. 7 would only have received for 1877 CASH $90.06, instead of $139, or BONUS $125, instead of $833.

There are on the premises a good Log House, Log Barns, Log Stables, and all necessary Outbuildings; also, an excellent Fruit-bearing Orchard, of about 3 acres. The Farm is well watered, and in a good state of cultivation. 80 acres are cleared, without stumps, and the remainder is soft wood. There is a good School House almost adjoining the Farm. This is one of the best Farms in the Township. For further particulars apply on the premises to DANIEL McCANNAN. 13-12ins

THE OLD CANOE.

Where the rocks are gray and the shore is steep,
And the waters below look dark and deep;
Where the rugged pine, in its lonely pride,
Leans gloomily o'er the moonlit tide;
Where the reeds and rushes the long and rank,
And the weeds grow thick as the winding bank
Where the shadow is heavy the whole day through—
There lies at its moorings the old canoe.

The useless paddles are idly dipped,
Like a sea-bird's wings that the storm has lopped,
And crossed the railing, one o'er one,
Like the folded hands, when the work is done;
While busily back and forth between,
The spider stretches her silvery screen;
And the solemn owl, with his wierd "too-hoo,"
Settles down on the side of the old canoe.

The worm hath sunk in the damp wave,
Rots slowly away in its living grave,
And the green moss creeps o'er its dull decay,
Hiding its mouldering dust away;
Like the hand that plants o'er the tomb a flower,
Or the ivy that mantles the falling tower;
While many a blossom of loveliest hue
Springs up o'r the stern of the old canoe.

The currentless waters are cold and still,
But the light wind plays with the boat at will;
And lazily, in and out again,
It floats the length of the rusty chain,
Like the weary march of the hands of time,
That meet and part at the noon-tide chime;
And there's more in a hand, at each turning seen,
By the dripping bow of the old canoe.

Oh, many a time, with a careless hand,
We have pushed it away from the pebbly strand,
And paddled it down where the stream runs quick;
Where the whirls are wide and the eddies are thick;
And laughed as we leaned o'er the rocking side,
And looked below in the broken tide,
To see that the faces and boats were two
That were mirrored back from the old canoe.

But now, as in fancy, o'er the crumbling side,
I look below in the sluggish tide;
The face that I see there is graver grown,
And the laugh that I hear has a sobrer tone;
And the hands that lent to the light skiff wings,
Have grown familiar with sterner things;
But I love to think of the hours that sped
As we rested where the whirls their white spray shed,
Ere the blossom waved, or the green grass grew
O'er the smouldering stern of the old canoe.

YOUNG MEN'S REFORM CLUB.—At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Reform Club on Monday evening last, the half-yearly election of officers took place. The attendance was large and an interest manifested by the young men which was most gratifying to note and which augurs well for the continued prosperity of the club. The officers elected were:—President, Wm. McDonnell, jr; First Vice President, Thos. Stewart; Second Vice-President, Alex. Reid; Secretary, A. F. Tresoutt; Treasurer, John Payne; Librarians, H. M. Barke, George Bigelow, R. McDougall, J. Watson, jr., and A. H. Clarke. An address was delivered by the President-elect which was received with much applause by the members. The half-yearly report showed a large increase in the membership and a good financial basis. Long may the club show such signs of prosperity.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.—The departure from the town of Mr. C. S. Rankin, law student in the office of Mr. Adam Hudspeth, to enter the office of Messrs. Mulock & Campbell, Toronto was the occasion of a gathering of about thirty of his friends round the festive board at the Osborne House on Friday evening last.

SENTENCED.—Charles Cash, who was tried before His Honor Judge Dean last week and convicted, received sentence on Saturday to three years in the Penitentiary. He was conveyed to Kingston on Monday by Mr. McArthur. Cash is a young man between 18 and 20 years of age.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. Coulter leaves town in a few days for Kansas, where his parents now reside, and where he will take up his permanent residence. The removal is partly caused by continued ill health. He will be missed by many warm friends—and in fact every person with whom he came in contact—his manner being courteous and kindly. Lindsay cannot well afford to lose such promising young men.

LINDSAY RAILWAY.—The adoption of the Verulam and Dunsford by-laws in aid of the Lindsay and Bobcaygeon Railways shows the strong desire entertained for railway accommodation in the sections named. The Harvey by-law will in all probability be carried, and then our Bobcaygeon correspondent intimates Lindsay will be asked to contribute. —Post

PORT HOPE.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—On the evening of the 4th inst, a young lad named Robert O'Brien, son of Mr. J. O'Brien Carriage maker, was accidentally drowned in Beemish's Millpond, while in bathing with some other boys.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening during a rehearsal of "Esther," a portion of the seats which had been erected for Mr. Youmans' entertainment on Dominion Day, fell, precipitating a large number of the ladies a distance of five or six feet. Many of them were considerably bruised, but none seriously.

PRESENTATION.—On Thursday evening last, the 3th instant, W. Bro. Rev. Chas. W. Paterson, W. M. of Hope Lodge, No. 114, F. & A. M., was made the recipient of an address, and a magnificent Past Master's Jewel, on the occasion of his leaving Port Hope, for his home in Anrora.

A LITTLE SCAMP.—On Monday last, a little boy who might have been seen for some time past going around the streets and selling papers, familiarly known among the lads as "Coggy" Archer, was brought before the Police Mgistrate on the charge of attempting to drown alittle son of Mr. Burt, grain buyer, by pushing him into Helm's mill pond, on the 30th ult. last month. It appears from the evidence that some people heard cries of distress issuing from the pond, and on going there found young Burt struggling in the water near the water-works flume, a very dangerous spot, where it is from six to ten feet deep. He was nearly exhausted, and was holding to a log with one hand, the current gradually drawing him into the flume, when his rescuer arrived and took him out. Upon being interrogated, he said that "Coggy" Archer had pushed him into the water. When Coggy was wanted, he was found missing, although the constables kept a sharp look out for him, until Sunday last when he was nabbed. After hearing the evidence, the Police Magistrate thought it sufficient to warrant him in sending the case down for trial, which he intends doing.

ASPHODEL

The Municipal Council of Asphodel met in Norwood on the 26th ult. All members present. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. David Burges applied for a reduction of his assessment. It was moved by James Stephenson, seconded by Denis Hurley, that Mr. Burges' assessment on twenty acres be reduced to $12 per acre—$240; but as the Court of Revision is passed, and the Roll revised, that he get an abatement on his tax for the difference between the above sum and $325, the amount of his assessment on the roll. Carried. Moved by J. Stephenson seconded by W. Thompson, that Jas. Bryce be paid $25 for work on the line between lots 5 and 6 in the 2nd concession, to be paid when in funds.—Carried. A by-law, No. 78, appropriating the sum of $977, for repairs of Roads and Bridges in the township of Asphodel, received its three readings. The Reeve laid before the Council the award of the Arbitrators appointed to settle all differences existing between Asphodel and Norwood caused by the separation of the latter from the Township, awarding Norwood to pay Asphodel $1,300 in six years, with interest at 9 per cent, which was accepted and fyled. A by-law, to levy and collect 5½ mills on the dollar, for County and Township purposes, received its several readings. A deputation from the Village Council of Norwood waited on the Asphodel Council when in session, and offered to the Council the use of the Town Hall for a term of six years from the first of January last, for the interest on the amount due by the Village under the award, and with the privilege of renewing the lease for a further term of ten years at the same rate, said hall to be used for all Township or municipal purposes; the Village Council further offering to furnish fuel, &c. Or the Village Council of Norwood offer to relinquish their claim to the Town Hall and grounds, for amount of the award and interest, and to lease from the Township of Asphodel on the above conditions. Moved by Thos. Rorke, seconded by D. Hurley, that the above offer of the Village of Norwood be received and laid over for future consideration.—Carried. A deputation consisting of Michael Mullins, Wm McCarthy, T. Murphy, and W. E. Roxborough, appeared before Council asking assistance in straightening the Road from the west leading into the Village through lot 16 in the 8th concession. Left over for further consideration. Council adjourned.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Mr. Briggs, our school teacher was presented with an address, an ink stand and a set of jewelry on his resigning his position to seek more active employment.

NEW SIDEWALKS.—By the recent legislative action on the part of our Council, several new sidewalks have sprung into existance, giving appearance to the streets, and convenience to pedestrians.

DROWNED.—Two daughters of Mr. F. Vandervoort, aged 12 and 24 years, were drowned in the neighborhood of Stirling, last week. The youngest of the two victims went into a creek to bathe, about two miles distant from Stirling, got into a hole beyond her depth and sank. Her elder sister went to her assistance, but the drowning girl clung to her so tenaciously that neither were able to escape, and both met a watery grave.

TO RISE FROM ITS ASHES.—Preliminary arrangements for the construction of the woollen factory in this village, have been entered into, and the work will be pushed onward immediately. As far as is known at present the building is to be of the same dimensions, stocked with the same quantity of machinery, run on as large a scale, and will employ the same number of hands as formerly.—Herald.

HARWOOD.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—On Monday evening July 1st, Miss Fanny Waite, who has so faithfully performed the duties of organist since St. John's church was opened here, was presented on behalf of the church with the following address:—

To Miss FANNY WAITE,

We the Churchwardens of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, desiring on behalf of the Rev. Incumbent and congregation, at this juncture when to our deep regret our regular services must, for a time at least, cease, to testify our appreciation of your own worth, and the kind and faithful labours you have so willingly bestowed, as organist since our church was opened, beg you will be pleased to accept the accompanying slight token of our esteem and regard and the hearty thanks we would render you.

In conclusion we would express our best and most heartfelt wishes for your future welfare and happiness, hoping you may long be spared to join and assist the service of song to Him to whom our hearts and lives are due and His church delights to give praise and worship.

CHAS. P. THOMPSON,
JAMES DIXON,
Churchwardens

Mr. Thompson then presented the young lady with a handsome writing desk of maple, polished and inlaid with pearl, &c., all furnished; and with the initials "F. W." engraved on the cover. He also presented Miss Waite with an exquisite bouquet of flowers, and a silver frosted bouquet holder which had been prepared for her, for the temporary assistance given her sister during her absence. Mr. Waite who was present acknowledged the presentations in suitable terms and regretting the departure of the pastor.—Com.

COBOURG.

TAXES is the great question. Our town finances have now arrived at an alarming crisis. To commence with, we have a deficiency from last year of $1,000, and apart from this, a rate of two cents in the dollar will not produce sufficient income to meet the lowest estimates by over $4,000. To impose a tax of 3½ cents on the dollar would be to vote the town into utter bankruptcy. This is the glorious result of our Representative Institutions, or rather the result of the Representative System, when put in force before the people are educated to a proper performance of their constitutional duties. Our Cricket Club have distinguished themselves lately. They paid a visit to our American cousins, and succeeded in defeating the

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 18, 1878

A MILLER WHO WOULD GRIND THE POOR.

In a late issue of the Port Hope Times appeared a letter, evidently from a miller, advocating a duty on flour. The gist of his argument lay in the calculation that 541,635 barrels of imported flour consumed in the Dominion in a year at 60 cents expense in the preparation of each barrel, represented $324,981, which he declared "should be expended in Canada, but prevented by the free import of American flour, this is a direct loss to Canada." Now we take issue against all three of these assertions, and contend that it cannot be proved that the money should be expended in Canada, that such expenditure is prevented by the free import of American flour, or that it is a direct loss to Canada. Money in Canada, and everywhere else for that matter, represents labour, the only true basis of value, and no one should be called on to expend it for less labour in return when more can be got for it. That is to say, everyone has a right to get the labour of others represented by a barrel of flour for as light an expenditure of his labour (money) as possible. If flour can be offered as good and as cheaply at adjacent Canadian as at distant American mills the Canadian buyer will naturally save the cost of carriage, and in the same way Canadians will prefer flour easily procurable from American mills to that more difficult of delivery to them by Canadian manufacturers. Nor should they be deprived of their right, convenience and saving in this particular. Aside from such regulating circumstances nothing can prevent the manufacture in Canada of all the flour needed for consumption in the country, for as the protectionist miller himself remarks, "Canadian millers are quite able to manufacture all the flour required, without the consumer having to pay more than the market price, which market price is governed by wheat, and the price of wheat by Liverpool." Why then need the Canadian miller fear American competition? The whole trouble seems to lie in the complaint that "Canadian millers under the present trade regulations cannot control the flour trade of Canada." But why should they to the disadvantage of all other citizens? The selfish miller in making his calculation of "direct loss to Canada" by imported flour, forgets that though he and his coopers, teamsters, &c., do not get the money he covets, it goes to vessel men, train hands, dock and warehouse labourers, teamsters elsewhere, and thus tends to promote the labour of the country. Nor does he follow his research far enough to explain that the flour imported from the United States cost only $5.40 a barrel, while that sent back brought $5.60, thus showing a clear gain of 20 cents per barrel, a full third of the 60 cents of "direct loss" calculated by him. He is in complete error simply when he says of the 126,675 barrels sent to England, "this is almost entirely of the choicest brands," for it was valued at $683,769 or about $5.30 per barrel, ten cents less than the returned American flour which is said to ruin the Canadian miller by competition with his make. There are also other errors in the Port Hope man's figures, but they are immaterial to the argument, farther than that they show he is not as careful as he might be in his statements.

There is another point of the question which Protectionist millers would do well to consider. A duty on flour would be manifestly unjust without also imposing a duty on wheat. What then would the millers of Canada lose on the 4,589,651 bushels of this grain imported during the same term to which the Port Hope Times correspondent refers? It was bought at $1.06 per bushel, and what was exported of it brought $1.17, while native wheat sent out averaged about 1.14½ per bushel. This would make a loss of 8½ cents per bushel to the miller on wheat for grinding, and at the same time a profitable trade in wheat, producing a gain of 11 cents per bushel, would be destroyed. This is where a considerable part of the "direct loss to Canada" would come in.

In connection with the same subject the Port Hope Guide asks:—

"If 25 cents a barrel protection on flour was a good thing in 1870, why did Sir John A. Macdonald's government take it off in 1871? If Sir John took it off in 1871, because it, as he said, was an oppressive tax on a section of the people, why does he want to put it on now? Would it not be just as oppressive now as it was in 1870?"

Certainly it would, and a tax on food is so infamous in the sight of the enlightened Anglo-Saxon mind, that we must do Sir John Macdonald the justice of thinking that he does not really desire any such thing now any more than he did in 1871. His present Protectionist talk is only so much "fiapdoodle."

THE TORIES AND THE TORONTO "TRIBUNE."

The Conservatives have in some mysterious way (how they do not explain) got hold of a letter written by Hon. S. C. Wood to Rev. Father Stafford of Lindsay, making a very reasonable request to that popular priest. The desire was that the Reverend gentleman should send the names of a number of his parishioners to whom it would be advisable to send copies of a Reform paper, for which copies Mr. Wood explained he intended himself to pay in advance. We are credibly informed that the whole of the letter has not been published in the Tory journals in which it has appeared, that it has not been made public with the consent of the recipient, or the person who wrote it; and that therefore it must have been dishonestly obtained, as it has been dishonestly used. The time of its appearance in the Mail and the Lindsay Warder shows that there must have been communication on the subject between these two offices. Either the Warder was posted from the Mail office, or the Mail from the Warder office, or both. It would seem indeed, that the "scandal" was hatched by the regularly assembled United Empire Club, conclave, and that the members of that delectable body determined to make the most of property stolen from a minister of the Gospel. What that use has been we shall see.

It is asserted that the paper in the interest of which Mr. Wood wrote has been subsidized by public money, and the letter is printed to, as a foundation for the falsehood. The journal referred to, is the Toronto Tribune, was started by a prominent Reformer, and Roman Catholic, Mr. Thomas McCrossom, to supply a want felt by Reformers of that religious denomination when the Irish Canadian went over to the Tory interest. Since its foundation the Tribune has been conducted with marked ability, and with credit to its promoter, as also to its editor, Mr. Robertson, an experienced newspaper man, and a lucid and forcible, and withal temperate writer. To originate and carry on such a paper required not only great executive power, but also much money, and as the venture was directly in the interest of the Reform party, it was but natural that prominent Reformers should take an interest in it. This they did in a substantial way by subscribing several hundred dollars each to its funds. A few months ago it was found expedient to further sustain the Tribune and increase its circulation. This was done by many prominent Reformers paying for a number of copies of the paper to be sent to persons who had not formerly received it, and it was in explanation of this scheme that Mr. Wood wrote Father Stafford, and asked him to supply the names of some twenty five persons in North Emily and Ops to whom the Tribune might be sent. There was no attempt at suspicious secrecy in the matter. The priest was applied to for names of his parishioners, and the purpose for which they were wanted explained to him. It was the business, so far as the letter is concerned of Mr. Wood and Father Stafford. The former, along with others gave of his money to the support of a Reform paper, and there is nothing to show against the plain presumption that public money was given to the Tribune, as is attempted to be made out by the Tories. The paper evidently seems a trouble to them, hence their attack upon it. They have in this instance however, only succeeded in giving it a first class advertisement.

THE TWELFTH IN MONTREAL.

The actions of the Mayor of Montreal, before and during the 12th July, 1878, are likely to prove important matters of history in this Dominion. We are averse to the bringing in and perpetuation here of old world feuds; and can see no necessity in ordinary cases of such parades as distinguish the Irish parties of "Orange" and "Green". But when it appears that one party would put the other down by force and curtail their liberties so far as to make them a secondary or inferior class in the community, the question at once dissolves into one of mighty and momentous principle. Whatever may be said of the bad taste or folly of the Orangemen of Montreal making a demonstration in the face of the averse opinion of a majority in that city, it is certain the mere act on their part cannot justify the suppression of their intention by brute force. It is not to be wondered at that a man possessed of the small mind Mayor Beaudry formerly proved himself to possess, should be influenced by those who could show him his popularity in Montreal would be preserved by hostility to the Orange order. All along he plainly sought to purchase popularity by efforts at the prevention of the Orange procession. Naturally enough this strong opposition made the Orangemen more determined to go on with their march. Mayor Beaudry even committed the folly of ignoring the troops sent to preserve the peace of the city, evidently fearing that they might in some way ensure the liberty of the Orangemen to walk through the Streets—all they desired to do. The Mayor thought the troops would preserve the small body of pedestrians from the violence of the mob, his desire being to treat the intending processionists as the mob. As a last resort therefore his advisers had him fall back on an old statute, long fallen into disuse, for the suppression of seditious assemblages, and make a pretended application of it to the Orange Association. The absurdity of classing that Society with seditious bodies is apparent from the simple fact that their oath is the oath of allegiance to the Empire of Great Britain, and they are, if anything more than another, loyal to the Queen and constitution. Indeed fealty to the Crown is the very foundation of the organization, and in that is comprehended the opposition of Orangemen to the Roman Catholic religion, on the belief (whether right or wrong we cannot here discuss) that placing the Pope of Rome above the Sovereign of Great Britain must involve disloyalty to the rule of the latter. To persons removed from the scene, and hence able to look dispassionately upon the whole matter, the forcibly prevention of the Orange procession, the arrest of certain prominent men in connection with it are looked on as outrages upon that liberty of the subject so highly prized by all good citizens of Britain and her colonies. The sympathy of the Canadian public therefore goes with the outraged, and popular condemnation is visited on the head of Mayor Beaudry and those who acted with him, who will find that their temporary triumph will prove in the end a dire defeat for themselves.

THE ISLAND OF CYPRUS.

As England has acquired possession of this important Island, which is really the key to Asia Minor and Palestine, many of our readers will be desirous to know more about it than is usually to be found in our common geographies.

It is situated in about 35 North Latitude and between 31 and 34 East Longitude; is 140 miles long by 50 miles in extreme breadth, but in the eastern part is no more than 5 miles broad. Its area is computed at 3,000 square miles. Two mountain ranges intersect it. The soil is very fertile, but under Turkish mis-rule it is not well cultivated. Not more than one-twentieth part of the island is said to be under tillage. The population is computed at 100,000, consisting of Greeks and Turks in the proportion of two to one.

The Island was famous in connection with Grecian history and mythology, as it was the chief seat of the worship of Venus. The Cypriote or Cypreas women are said to be beautiful and noted for their tact or winning ways. The history of the Island embraces a varied and instructive panorama of action. It belonged in succession to Persia, Egypt, the Romans, Greeks, and the Saracens: Richard Cœur de Lion conquered it and gave it to the Lusignan family, who held it till the sixteenth century. The Turks wrested it from them in 1570, and except for a short time it has been held by that power until the present day. It is about sixty miles from the Coast of Syria, in Asia Minor. The possession of it makes England Queen of the Mediterranean, and prepares her for taking a prominent part in affairs connected with Asia Minor and the East.

It is scarcely an argument in favor of Protection for Canadian taxationists to assure us that many of the factories in the United States are run on British capital. In that case the profits go to Britain instead of remaining in the Protected country. The question too naturally arises, "How does it come that Britain, ruined by Free Trade can control the manufactories of the Protectionists paradise?" These Tory editors verily delight in parodoxes, puzzling even to themselves.

Pretty good proof is given of the purely political purpose of the Tory journals in advocating Protection, when we find one of them last week arguing in favor of an increased duty on tea, though it but a few weeks ago spoke for increased duties on other commodities that tea might not be taxed. The editorial control of such paper a must surely be in incompetent hands, or in those of one who presumes on the ignorance and credulity of his readers. One Tory paper would tax coal, while another Tory journal in a neighbouring town declares Sir John A. Macdonald would not be such a fool; and worse still, the same paper within a few weeks contradicts itself with respect to a duty on tea. Buncombe, all of it!

"The bulk of the imported articles we can profitably make for ourselves are brought from the United States" Tory paper.

If, as is sought to be said there are articles imported from the United States which can more profitably be made in Canada, why not enumerate them. It would be a good thing to point out to capitalists, (who it is to be inferred are not shrewd enough to see for themselves) how they might invest their money so as to secure a large return. It is a great wonder too that some of these far-seeing Tory journalists, do not themselves go into enterprises that seem to them so profitable. But we never hear of one of them, even so much as trying to form a joint stock company, to make in Canada any of those articles which they say might so profitably be made here, rather than be imported from the United States.

Forced to admit the advantageous terms on which the workingman can obtain the necessaries of life in Canada, Protectionists remark that many persons are unable to pay were low prices, and they even go so far as to declare that "the workingman is deprived of the employment by which he might earn wages to purchase." These detractors of the country they live in, belittle Canada in the interest of a tariff for the Dominion such as that in force in the United States. But take the precentage of unemployed labor in this Canada of ours and compare it with the percentage of unemployed labour in the protected United States, and see where their meek sympathy for the unemployed lands them. The facts are that while in Canada all who are able and willing to work can find something to do, in the United States hundreds of men having the knowledge, strength and will to labour, cannot get work to do, and even those who do get employment at low wages find it difficult to keep soul and body together, owing to the inordinate prices they have to pay for what they must buy. There the purchasing power of labor is weakened in two ways. First, by over competition, and secondly by the quantity necessary to be expended in the procuring of any commodity. It is not Chinese labour so much as a Chinese trade policy that ruins the prospects of the workingmen in the United States.

We last week published a statement showing that during terms of high import duties a greater percentage of American manufactures were sold abroad than under a low tariff. The local protectionist paper gleefully accepts it as a proof that the United States have always exported most under a high tariff. But it proves something more than this. The fact that during the high tariff period from 1816 to 1837 there was exported 24 per cent. of the manufactures of the country, establishes the other fact that only 66 per cent. of the goods made were sold at home; while from 1834 to 1842, a low tariff period, but 26 per cent was exported, and consequently 74 per cent of the entire product found home purchasers. Again from 1843 to 1846, under a high tariff 84 per cent. was exported and only 16 per cent. sold at home; from 1847 to 1861 under a low tariff, 33 per cent found foreign, and 66 per cent home buyers; and from 1862 to 1874 with a renewal of a high tariff, 41 per cent was sent abroad and but 59 per cent of the entire product was bought within the country. Do these figures prove the pet Protectionist theory that a high tariff will create and preserve a home market? The per centage of the whole of the goods manufactured in the United States and bought at home, has always decreased when a high tariff was in force. This effectually disposes of the declaration that protection duties would enable the Canadian product to be consumed within the country; and proves that an opposite effect is produced, And if Canadian manufacturers could only sell a less percentage of their goods at home under a higher tariff, where could they sell the residue? Not to the United States surely could the Protectionists hope to turn for a market; and they could not hope to compete with the cheaper labour and better facilities of Great Britain. They would find it very difficult and very discouraging to be forced to seek a trade with countries whose trade they had practically rejected by the imposition of prohibitive import duties.

Attempted Murder near Napanee.

On Saturday afternoon a Young Briton named Kelly was shot near Napanee by a Catholic named White, while the latter was riding in a cart driven by Kelly. White is still at large, though the country has been scoured by the people of Napanee and Millpoint.

A later despatch says:—It is reported here that White shot another man named Robert Harvey on Monday afternoon while the latter was trying to arrest him. Harvey keeps a small tavern on the boundary between the counties of Hastings and Lennox. The shot took effect in his breast. The would-be murderer is still at large, but by the latest information they have him surrounded in the woods, and escape is almost impossible. He is well armed and will defend himself.

Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The report of the Directors of the Bank of Commerce was issued to the shareholders in Montreal on the 4th inst., preparatory to the annual meeting to be held in Toronto on the 9th inst. It shows the balance at the credit of profit and loss on June 30th, 1877, to be $67,401; the profits of the year ending June 29th, 1878, after deducting charges of management and making provision for all bad and doubtful debts pertaining to the year's operations are $541,550. There has been paid in dividends (8 per cent for the year) $480,000; transferred to reserve for rebate of interest on current discounts, $10,000; reserved for accrued interest on deposit receipts, $35,383. The balance left at the credit of profit and loss is $82,567. The Directors congratulate themselves that, notwithstanding the continued depression, they have been able to pay an 8 per cent. dividend on the twelve month's profit, and transfer $15,166 to the credit of profit and loss; but as a decided set off to this is the fact that during the year $350,000 has been appropriated for bad and doubtful debts, and $150,000 has been placed to the credit of the Contingent fund, making a total of $500,000. The report declares, however, that a portion of these obligations may yet be recovered.

MONTREAL.

Monday July 15.—Peace and quiet have again been restored in Montreal, though the party feeling has been greatly embittered, embracing even those who had previously held aloof from the strife between Orange and Green. The troops have been disbanded and sent home out not without one encounter with a mob occurring. As the Eastern Townships contigent was going home by train on Saturday night it was assailed with a volley of stones by a mob collected at the Tanneries Junction and the men, after expostulating, replied by discharging their rifles, wounding at least two of their assailants. Intense excitment prevailed throughout the Orange settlement at Point St. Charles on the same evening owing to a threatened attack by Griffintown members of the Irish Catholic Union. Fortunately the danger was averted. Fresh accounts of high-handed proceedings on the part of Mayor Beaudry's special constables continue to pour in.

Matters in Montreal are gradually settling down again to their normal condition but brutal attacks on Orangemen and volunteers are still common. In Griffintown especially a reign of terror seems to exist by all accounts. The truth of the attack on the volunteers at the Tanneries Junction on Saturday night has not yet been reached, the versions differing according to the various sources from which they come. The question of a public demonstration on the occasion of the dedication of the Hackett memorial has been left to the decision of the Orangemen of Ontario and Quebec (outside of Montreal). Should the decision be in the affirmative the celebration would be held before the end of the present week.

CONGRESS CLOSED.

London, July 14.—It is said that Gortschakoff and Beaconsfield have drawn up a basis for a future Anglo-Russian understanding.

Bismarck, in a speech closing the Congress, on Saturday, declared he did not hesitate to affirm that this Congress deserved well of Europe. The plenipotentiaries would have the consciousness of having, as far as possible, restored and assured peace. He entertained a firm hope that the European understanding would remain durable, and that the cordial relations established among the plenipotentiaries would consolidate the good relations between their Governments. Bismarck incidentally remarked his health was such that he had scarcely hoped to preside over the Congress until its conclusion. Andrassy started for Vienna on Saturday, and Beaconsfield left to-day.

THE TREATY.

The treaty of Berlin, the text of which is published to-day, forbids the election of any member of the reigning dynasties and great powers as Prince of Bulgaria. The stipulation made, that if the Russian or Turkish members of the commission appointed by the Congress to provide for the provisional organization of Bulgaria shall disagree with the majority of the commission, then a fresh conference shall be held at Constantinople which conference shall decide all points of difference. The fortifications of the Danube to be raised, but the navigation of the river by war ships is forbidden. If Turkey and Greece are unable to agree respecting the rectification of the frontier, then the powers are to act as mediators, and settle all the matters in dispute between them. The treaty also provides that Bulgaria and other principalities shall bear a proportionate share of the Turkish debts.

LORD SALISBURY KNOWS WHAT WAS GAINED IN THE CONGRESS.

London, July 16.—An official despatch from the Marquis of Salisbury to the Ministers who remained in London, dated Berlin, the 13th, is published. Lord Salisbury says the modifications obtained at the Congress are very large and effect almost all the articles of the treaty; they have recovered a large territory for the Sultan, and tend to assure the stability and independence of Turkey. The despatch combats the allegation that the Government had abandoned the policy indicated in Salisbury's circular of April 1st. For this purpose it compares, point, by point, the policy indicated by the circular with the decisions adopted by the Congress. The comparison shows that the object of British policy, namely, the prevention of Russia preponderance, has been substantially attained. Lord Salisbury especially points to the fact that the pecuniary indemnity has been altogether excluded from the Treaty of Berlin. The result of the declaration made by the Russians in Congress that they would neither claim territory in lieu of indemnity nor prejudice the claims of other creditors is that the payment of the indemnity is postponed to an indefinitely remote period.

Lord Salisbury concludes "whether use will be made of this probably last opportunity obtained for Turkey by the interposition of the powers, and particularly by England, depends on the sincerity with which the Turkish statesmen now address themselves to the duties of good Government and reform."

OUR RAILWAY PROJECTS.

(From the Belleville Intelligencer July 10)

We are not in a position to give answer to the numerous questions asked in reference to the probable construction of one or either of our Railways. The position of matters as they now stand, so far as we can learn is simply this. Some time since, a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bellevills and North Hastings Railway Company was held, when among other business transacted, a By-law was passed empowering Messrs. Pardee, Wood and Foster, to proceed with the construction of the Road, by giving them full power to do whatever was necessary in the way of raising money on the securities of the Company, or by letting the work out by tender. The latter course was, we suppose, decided upon, from the fact that tenders were asked for by advertisements published in the public journals, etc. In response to these advertisements, one or two gentlemen passed over the line of the road with a view to tendering, one of them stating that he was prepared to finish the road, and wait until the job was completed for his pay—provided, we have no doubt, his terms were accepted. We understand that some three or four tenders were sent in, but that they have not yet been opened. Why, we know not, unless the rumour be true that the negotiations have been going on, by which Mr. Parties expects to sell out his whole interest in Canada to Mr. Bickford, of Toronto, and Messrs. Alex. Brown, Thos. Kelso, and Alex. Sutherland, of Belleville. If this rumor be correct, a firm or company, consisting of these gentlemen, will be a strong one, which cannot have any intention in entering into so large a speculation other than to proceed at once to the earning of the bonuses by completing both Roads, particularly the Belleville and North Hastings Road, at as early day as possible. We come to this conclusion for the reason that the Road must be completed by the Fall, or the Madoc bonus lapses; and from what we know of the feeling of the people in that Township, it will be somewhat difficult to secure the re-passing of a similar By-law.

Why these negotiations should prevent the opening of the tenders and the giving out of the contract, we do not know. These gentlemen, whose names we have given, may succeed in purchasing the whole of the interest of Mr. Pardee in the Belleville & North Hastings and Grand Junction Railways—and in the mining lands; still we we are at a loss to know how that can affect the Company or the Committee appointed to proceed with the construction of the road unless the tenders for the completion of the railway exceed the assets at the disposal of the Company; they simply take Mr. Pardee's position so far as it affects his interests in the properties; that, however, does not make them members of the Board until some other steps be taken—hence the necessity of immediate action, if the road is to be completed this fall.

It is true that injunctions have been obtained in Chancery to restrain the selling of certain interests which Messrs. Pardee and Lloyd have in these Roads, etc., but we are informed that does not effect the Company, as a Company, in any way but is simply a matter relating to the private interests of those gentlemen. We hope in a few days to be enabled to inform our readers that arrangements have been made which will result in the pushing on of the work to completion at an early day.

NORWOOD.

The 12th of July.—The battle of the Boyne was duly celebrated in this village. Thirteen Lodges with music and banners assembled. They were addressed by the Episcopal and Methodist Ministers, and by Messrs. J. P. Brown, W. W. Armstrong, A. Anderson, and W. Sargent. The day passed of quietly and orderly.

School Matters.—The Teachers of the high school have resigned. Mr. Moore intends going to the Western States where he is offered much higher remuneration for his labours. Some other changes are spoken of, but nothing definite determined on.—Com.

CAMPBELLFORD.

The Campbellford Herald says:—The immediate renewal of work on the Grand Truk Junction Railway, so as to have its early completion to this point, is again spoken of, with better prospects than ever before. It is said that a new arrangement has been made by the Company, whereby the entire interest of Mr. Pardee has been bought up by the other stockholders. We care not by whom it is built, or how it is accomplished, it is the railway we want, and only hope our present expectations may have a speedy foundation in fact.

CHANDOS.

There has been one thousand dollars expended by the Ontario Government on the roads in the Municipality of Burleigh this year to a good advantage. Mr. Brown, of Burleigh, expended a portion on the government road in the Township of Burleigh, and has done as much work this year for $350 as was done last year for one thousand. Mr. Patrick Scott laid out a portion on the road past Tallen's Creek, leading to the Township of Wallington, east of Chandos. Mr. Wm. Wilson, expended to good advantage the portion given him, on the Wellington road east, of Apsley. The settlers are well pleased with the way the money has been divided and the men have received their dollar a day and eat their own bread, no matter to whom they may have been indebted.—Com.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Grange Hall.—The new Hall, Eathon Grange, a very neat structure erected on Mr. J. J. Bresly's farm, having been completed, it was decided to open it with a social ball, on Tuesday evening, the 9th instant. Quite a number from town having kindly received an invitation, availed themselves of the opportunity to be present. Dancing commenced at 9.30 o'clock p.m, and was continued until 12, when supper was announced. After ample justice had been done to the spread provided by the ladies, the merry party tripped the light fantastic toe until three o'clock, when the company dispersed, well satisfied with the first ball held at Eathon Grange. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. J. J. Bresly, the Secretary, owing to whose indefatigable exertions the affair was such a success.—Com.

An Undeniable Truth.—You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is only one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Three doses will relieve you. Sold by J. D. Tully & Co.

Liver is King.—The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system—as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the symptoms resulting as a result from an unhealthy action of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottle to try, 10 cents. For sale by J. D. Tully, & Co., Peterboro. Those doubting will prove that it is just what you want.

"Flowers and their Associations."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Again before this long geological required their present development, objects in place of words were the means by which thoughts were conveyed, the different objects being symbols of the different individuals and their qualities.

These emblems are now almost entirely confined to the vegetable kingdom. The expression by their means of our thoughts is called the "Language of Flowers." These lovely blossoms of earth are entwined among and linked to all the finer sympathies of our nature. Their produce comprehends almost everything that relates to the beauty, harmony and elegance of the universe; everything that can refresh the minds, gratify the fancy or draw forth the ardent powers of affection.

They present human nature in different aspects from that which, it ordinarily assumes; they reveal the various sources of action which, without their aid, might have passed unobserved, and which, though of a less vigorous constitution, frequently exert almost as powerful an influence on many departments of human life.

Many of us have in our possession the dried and withered forms of what were once blooming and fragrant flowers. The aromatic excellence and brilliant harmony of color have long since passed away. But we still look upon them with fond recollections of their former beauty, and memory points in glowing or saddening tints the attendant associations of their youthful vigor. 'Tis such circumstances as these that give the charm to this delightful pursuit. When we observe in youthful minds an innate inclination to the beautiful and grand, the future of these, if not invested with material prosperity, still bears a manifestation of reality. But the budding mind, unimbued with the lofty sentiments of imaginative beauty, and not inclined to admiration of the unreal, evinces a want of Nature's finest sensibility—a deficiency totally unbefitting the intellectual Universe of Man. A cultivated taste increases all the tender and humane emotions by giving them healthful exercise, and tends to calm the more violent and fiercer passions. A love for the beautiful is indeed the finest sentiment which we associate with manly and womanly excellence. The prosecution of this soothes the minds after its toils and labours of abstract study; elevates us above the fondness for sensuality, and prepares us for the employment of virtue.

Do Not be Deceived.

The experience of many during the present season in buying Boots and Shoes has taught them that an imitation skin can be made to resemble the genuine article so closely that unexperienced buyer can be easily deceived.

WORTHLESS GOODS,

but good imitations of genuine goods, are plenty in the market. My own manufacture of Boots and Shoes can be relied upon, and I can demonstrate to any person who may visit my store that my prices are the lowest at which it is practicable to sell a genuine thing.

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 18, 1878

LOCAL NEWS.

Inaugural Sermons.—The Rev. Messrs. E. B. Harper and F. H. Wallace, preached their inaugural sermons in the Methodist Churches on Sunday last.

Chambers' Block.—This property was offered for sale on Tuesday last, but was withdrawn, only $7,400 being offered for it. $16,000 was refused for the same property four years ago.

Baby Lost.—The person who took the doll from the Ch-shaw-Wa baby show wagon in the Physique procession on Dominion Day, will please report it to this office immediately, as he is known spells.

Fish and Game Society.—There will be a special meeting of this society at the Huffman House this evening at 8 p.m., Some matters of importance will be laid before the members, and a full attendance is requested.

Tea Drinkers will save money by purchasing their supplies from W. J. Wallace, Lakefield. He is selling choice new Blacks, Japans and Young Hysons at very close prices. Salt at $1.10 per barrel. 26-4ins

Teachers Examinations.—The summer examinations for Third Class Teachers in the County of Peterborough is being held this week in the Collegiate Institute. There are 72 applicants in all—43 ladies and 29 gents.

For Paris.—Messrs. Robert Davidson, H. LeBrun, Jas. Dolan and N. Lepinate left town on Monday morning for the World's Exposition at Paris. We wish them a pleasant journey and a safe return.

Restocked S. S. Pic-Nic.—The annual picnic of the Methodist Sunday School was held in Dixon's Grove on Tuesday afternoon last. A large number was present, and a very pleasant time spent in games, sports and social intercourse.

Bruntum.—Through an error of the compositor we announced last week that the "dry goods stores" would close each evening (Saturdays excepted,) from the 15th instant till the 1st of September, as agreed o'clock, when it should have been the "drug" stores—the dry goods stores already closing at six o'clock.

The Pulpit.—The pulpit of St. Pauls' Church was occupied on Sunday morning last by the Rev. Mr. Roberts, Bible Christian, and in the evening by the Rev. Mr. Talty, Presbyterian. On Sabbath next the Rev. T. Fotheringham, M. A., of Norwood, will occupy this pulpit both morning and evening.

Who are the Lucky Parties?—The following advertisement appeared in the Mail last week:—"Eleven million dollars left to the heirs of Arthur Orser, in Holland. All concerned must attend a meeting held in Brighton, Ont., July 24th, 1878. Wm. Orser, Corresponding Secretary, Keene P. O., Rice Lake."

Collection for the Chinese.—A collection was taken up in the St. Pauls' Presbyterian church a few Sundays ago in aid of the famishing Chinese, the sum of $180 being realized. Would it not be well for the other churches to obey the scripture injunction to, "go yp and do likewise."

Taxes for 1878.—The taxes for 1878 fell due on Monday last, and those who paid one-half of them are until the first of November to pay the balance. It is to be hoped the Collector will see that those who have not availed themselves of the privilege of making two payments are compelled to pay the whole promptly at the expiration of the time prescribed by the By-law, as otherwise it will be anything but just to those who have come forward and paid their first instalment.

Excursion to Burleigh Falls.—The pic-nic and excursion of the season is advertised to take place next Tuesday under the auspices of Carewell Lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 411, to Burleigh Falls by Midland Railway and Steamer Cruiser. A very pleasant time is expected, and those wishing to enjoy a sail through the beautiful scenery of the Sandaweasel of our back lakes should avail themselves of this opportunity. Meals can be procured on board the boat or at the Burleigh Falls Hotel by those who do not provide baskets.

Haying.—The last week or so has been splendid haying weather and full justice has been done to it. On every country road the smell of new mown hay tempts the traveller to stay and inspire so much fragrance as would enable him at any time to close his eyes and think himself "over the hills and far away." Some farmers say that the old meadows are light, but all agree in reporting a good crop in new meadows. The timely showers of last month did a great deal for the hay crop. The yield is most gratifying and will be above the average.

The Haslan-Courtney Match.—The Haslan-Courtney boat race is augmented to take place between the last of September and the 20th of October. There is a possibility of its being held on Rice Lake, as Courtney refuses to row except on a land-locked lake. The Managing Committee of the Haslan Club will visit Rice Lake, Lake Scugog, and Kempenfeldt Bay after their return from St. John, to see which of those courses offers the best advantages, pecuniarily and otherwise. We hope our local admirers of this sport will endeavour to secure the race for Rice Lake.

Canada on Canvas.—Ormond and Dolan's Panorama of Canada and Variety Company gave two entertainments last week in the Opera House. The beauties of Canadian scenery were excellently depicted, and were varied, from those of city architecture to that of the natural scenery of Muskoka and the North West territory. The entertainment was enlivened throughout by singing, dancing, &c. Altogether the programme was a very creditable one and should secure favor from all who wish to spend a pleasant and instructive evening.

Y. M. L. C. A.—A meeting of the Young Mens' Liberal Conservative Association of the town of Peterborough, was held in their rooms on Monday evening last. Some new members were added to the list. After the regular business, a debate took place on the following subject: "Is it desirable that the Insolvent Act in force in the Dominion should be repealed." The affirmative was taken by Mr. H. B. Weller and Mr. Stevenson, and the negative by Mr. R. W. Thompson and Mr. Speight-rider. The chairman after summing up, left the question to the meeting, which was given in favour of the affirmative.

Drowning Accident.—It is our painful duty to again chronicle this week another fatal drowning accident. Last Friday night about nine o'clock, a man named William Starr, while bathing in the Otonabee Lake was seized with cramps, and before assistance could arrive had met a watery grave. A search was at once commenced for the body which was found next morning at three o'clock. Deceased was 27 years of age, and had resided in Peterborough about three years, being a native of Warwickshire, England. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss.

A New Hose Tower.—At the last meeting of the Town Council the question of erecting a hose tower for the purpose of properly hanging the hose was again agitated by the thought of a communication from the Chief Engineer recommending its construction. As the matter has been referred to the Fire Committee, it is to be hoped they will give it their careful consideration and report accordingly. There can be no question as to the necessity of such a structure, as the saving to the hose in a few months would pay for the outlay, fully repay its cost, the rubber lining especially, losing the tenacity and properties when dried and laid away, which is the present unpleasant experience.

The "Liberal" is the name of a new spelling sheet for public favour. It is published in Richmond Hill, County of York, and as his name implies, in the interest of Reform principles, is a supporter of the Mackenzie and Mowat Governments. It commences its career under favorable circumstances, being successor to a Conservative paper that had to give way to the advanced ideas of present times. The Liberal is neatly printed, contains a fair share of reading matter, and promises to be an excellent family paper. Mr. Mann has our best wishes for his success in his new undertaking.

Polytechnic.—A grand popular entertainment will be given in Bradburn's Hall on the evenings of Saturday and Monday next, 20th and 22nd instant, by the Polytechnic Company, under the management of Mr. J. Irwin. From the many flattering notices and testimonials given by the press and leading citizens of Belleville we clip the following:

The Polytechnic Company's entertainments are given on a scale never before attempted in this country, and conducted, in a happy manner pleasing amusement with useful instruction. Such phenomena as [illegible] mentalism, ventriloquism, the sea wr[illegible]ation, [illegible] nerve heroics, &c., &c., are represented so vividly and with such accuracy as to be not only very instructive but really astonishing. The astronomical discourse are marvels of beauty, and will do more than a month of ordinary teaching to give students a correct idea of mathematical or astronomical geography.

Accident.—While the workmen were engaged last Thursday in building the large double arch at the corners of Hunter and Water street, one of them—Mr. Cole Barrett—fell from the centre of it to the ground, a distance of about twenty or twenty-five feet, sustaining severe injuries. He was removed to Cavanagh's hotel and attended by Drs. Fife, Kinsted, and Barrett. For several hours he remained in an insensible condition and congestion of the brain was feared, but by the next morning had recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home, where we are glad to state he is recovering favorably.

Ice Water.—The custom of taking ice-water cannot but prove unfavorable to the health, especially when one has low vital power, with insufficient power of the stomach to toast, and restore the degree of heat actually demanded that digestion may proceed naturally. Digestion is arrested as soon as the temperature of the stomach falls below about 98° Fahr. and when cold drinks are taken by the weak, at least, some considerable time must elapse before it is restored. Cold drinks also excite and inflame the throat, causing an artificial thirst and bowel derangements, inflamation of the stomach, and still worse ailments.

Toronto and Ottawa Railway.—Says the Perth Expositor, of the 4th instant:—On Saturday last, Mr. Scott, of Peterborough, President of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, was in town and met a number of our citizens with reference to a renewed attempt to push through the portion of the road between Ottawa and Peterborough. It is proposed to have the Ottawa and Carleton house by-laws submitted this fall, and in the event of their carrying an early commencement of the road may be looked for. The surveys, which have been completed from Peterborough to Sandbolt Lake will be shortly continued to Ottawa. Mr. Scott reports that the route between Peterborough and Ottawa has been found to be one of the best in Ontario for railway purposes.

The Manitoulin Survey.—In the Manitoulin Recorder, of the 6th of July, we find the following mention of J. W. Fitzgerald, Esq., and party, of this town, who have left on 5 surveying expedition:

The Northern Queen arrived here this evening, having on board Mr. Fitzgerald, and a large party of surveyors, who will proceed at once with the survey of Barrie and Cockburn Islands, and the western portion of this Island. Mr. Fitzgerald informs us that he will use his best endeavours to accommodate the settlers on Barrie Island in the matter of running lines, and we trust that his efforts will be fully appreciated by the settlers themselves. Mr. Fitzgerald proposes first surveying the Indian Reserve at Shishiwoning, after which he will proceed to Barrie and Cockburn Islands, and finally survey the western portion of the main Island. We trust they will have a pleasant time, and that both they and the settlers will have cause to rejoice over their arrival and mourn at their departure.

Attachment to Newspapers.—The strong attachment of subscribers to well conducted newspapers is fully confirmed by publishers "Stop my paper," words of dread to beginners in handicraft, has their terror often a power has been established for a term of years. So long as a paper pursues a just, honorable and judicious course, meeting the wants of its customers in all respects, the ties of friendship between the subscribers and the paper are as hard to break by an outside third party as the link of affection between the Brethern of Peterboro', which binds old friends in business or social life. Occasional defects and errors in newspapers are overlooked by those who have become attached to it, through years. They sometimes become dissatisfied with it on account of something which has slipped into its columns, and may stop taking it; but the absence of the familiar sheet at their homes and offices for a few weeks becomes an insupportable privation, and they hasten to take it again, and possibly apologize for having it stopped. No friendship on earth is more constant than that contracted by the reader for a journal which makes an honest and earnest effort to merit its continued support. Hence a conscientiously conducted paper becomes a favorite in the family.

Camping Out.—The season has now arrived when camping out on some of the many points and islands in our back lakes is most patronized by citizens in quest of health or recreation. We desire at this time to repeat our warnings of last summer to all campers out, to be very careful of fire, not for their own immediate comfort or safety only, but to protect our woodlands from the ravages of the flames. Camp fires are often left burning after parties have left, and it is no exaggeration to say that millions of dollars worth of timber has been destroyed in this country by just such neglect and carelessness. With a view to check this evil a large section of Ontario has been made a "Fire District," in which certain regulations apply which it will be well to bear in mind. Whoever lights a fire between April 1st and November 1st for cooking or other purposes, must carefully remove all leaves, dead wood, or other matter within a radius of ten feet, and also see that the same is carefully put out before leaving the ground. This "Fire District" includes Harvey, Burleigh, Methuen, Galway, Snowdon, Lutterworth and the townships back of those. A fine of $20 or 3 months in gaol is the punishment for the infraction of the law. We ask all camping out to remember this and use judgment and care in building camp fires, it can interfere in no way with their freedom, and we hope they will refrain from endangering public property and destroying valuable timber limits.

Personal.—Col. Haultain has gone to the sea side for to spend the summer months..... Rev. E. F. Torrance, pastor, St. Pauls' Presbyterian Church, has been given leave of absence for five weeks, and has left for the sea side..... We trust that the Rev. Gentleman will return with renewed health..... Mr. George Monroe, has purchased the property on the Midland Street known as the "Piper Mill property," and will proceed at an early day to erect a grinding mill and make other improvements..... We clip the following from the Brantford Courier of Saturday:—Miss Charlotte Strickland, daughter of Ogh Robert Strickland, of Lakefield, has been in this city attending the Bishops' meeting and will remain over Sunday, she will speak at the Tabernacle (to-morrow) Sunday evening at seven o'clock. Her great success in drawing and holding large audiences in the Hall, especially built by the people of Lakefield, for her use her create a desire on the part of many to hear her..... The Belleville Ontario (18th) says:—Rev. E. B. Harper and family left for Peterborough last evening, where they are about to take up their home. They were accompanied to the train by a large number of friends and well-wishers, who escaped to feel that they were indeed severing ties that had been of the warmest nature. May they find as warm friends in their new home as they leave behind them..... Among the list of those who have registered their names in London England during the past week, we observe that of Mr. E. H. D. Hall, G. M. Rogse and R. B. Edwards of this town..... Rev. John King, L. L. D. formerly Principal of the Peterborough High School, has been in town during the past week. He is at present assisting the Rev. Rural Dean Allen, of Millbrook, in his ministerial labors. We are glad to see him looking so well.

Bentonville.—The following has been issued by the New York board of health, and it is quite appropriate to this region:

"Bentonville is caused by excessive heat, and especially if the weather is damp." It is more apt to occur on the second day of a heated term than on the first. Loss of sleep, worry, excitement, over indulgence in [illegible] drinks, chamber [illegible] and impure air predispose to attack. HERO HANLAN.

Peerless monarch of the oar:
Sound his praise o'er lake and shore;
Ne'er was seen his like before,
Our immortal Hanlan.

Sound his triumphs far and wide:
He is our Canadian pride;
Long may he with us abide,
Our Toronto Hanlan.

Modest, as he is before us
He has beat the mighty Morris—
Let us circulate the chorus—
"Long live Champion Hanlan."

Float the banners high above him,
Let us show him how we love him;
Hug the hero while we have him,
Our own peerless Hanlan.

THE TWELFTH OF JULY IN MONTREAL.

The Orange Society Declared to be Illegal The Responsibility Left With The Mayor Who Arrests Several of the Orange Leaders and Prohibits the Procession Intense Excitement in the City Several Wounded but no one Killed.

MONTREAL, July 11.—The most important fact in connection with the Orange question has been the publication of the opinion of four of our most eminent lawyers, declaring the Orange Association an illegal body. The St. Patrick's Society addressed a letter to Messrs. S. Bethune, Q. C.; T. M. Ritchie, Q. C.; Ed. Carter, Q. C.; some of whom are Protestants, asking an opinion on the legality of the Orange body, and last night received a reply giving it as their decided opinion that within the meaning of the sixth section of chapter ten of the Consolidated Statutes of Lower Canada, 1861, the organization is illegal and that consequently any meeting of the Society either in a building, on the streets, or in any place in the Province is unlawful. This opinion was subsequently confirmed by Mr. W. H. Kerr, Q.C., and adopted by Alderman Clendinneng, who thought that in view of it the procession should be abandoned. Pressure was brought to bear on the Orangemen to induce them not to walk in the face of the law, and a threat from the Mayor that if they attempted to assemble, THEY WOULD ALL BE ARRESTED, but it was to no purpose, and last evening a proclamation was issued to the members of the Order to assemble at nine o'clock this morning at the Orange Hall. Mayor Beaudry several times during the day, while declining to enter into details as to what course he would pursue, asserted that he would carry out his original proclamation. That is, he will swear in special constables, and with them and posse a of police prevent the procession taking place. The danger is, however, that the roughs of Montreal, aided by some of their own class from the city of Quebec, will prove impossible of restraint, and that they will attack the processionists, in which case a terrible scene of violence and bloodshed may be looked for. A meeting of magistrates was held last night to decide upon the course to be pursued, but broke up without coming to any decision. It is said even to be doubtful if three of them will act together to direct Sir Selby Smyth, who declares that he knows his duty and will be guided by the instructions of the magistrates at whose request the military were called out. The troops will all be placed in advantageous positions for preserving order, and there is yet a faint hope that a conflict of authorities may be averted, and the precautions taken prove equal to the occasion.

Previous to leaving Quebec for Montreal, several hundred roughs raided on the hardware stores, and carried off all the revolvers and ammunition they could lay their hands on. They will, however, probably find themselves checkmated on arriving at their destination, for Sir Selby Smyth has avowed his intention of enforcing the Blake Act, and stopping both steamer and train, and having a thorough search made before the passengers are disembarked.

THE MAGISTRATES SHIRK THE RESPONSIBILITY.

12 30 P.M.—The meeting of Magistrates has broken up without coming to any decision upon the question of affording protection to the Orangemen, and it is now doubtful if three of them will act together to direct Sir Selby Smyth. They are inclined to allow the Mayor to take the responsibility and stop the procession if he wishes.

THE MUSTER.

MONTREAL, July 12th.—The Orangemen began to muster in their Hall at seven o'clock arrayed in their full regalia, some of them wearing orange lilies. Large numbers of men, evidently hostile to the Orangemen, are congregated in front of the Orange Hall, and occasionally menace those wearing the orange and blue. Once or twice stones were cast through the windows of the Hall, but beyond this no interference of any consequence was here made. Several individual cases of attacks upon Orangemen are, however, reported. One man, whose name has not been learned, while walking along Chenneville street, wearing an orange lily in his button-hole, was attacked by half a dozen roughs, and severely wounded about the face. He fled down to St. James street covered with blood. Among the Orangemen the greatest enthusiasm prevails. On the arrival of Grand Master Grant at the Orange Hall at 8.30 he was loudly cheered by a group of his brethren surrounding the entrance. Their ranks are considerably thinned on account of a large number serving with the city volunteers, and many others who are compelled to remain at work under the penalty of being discharged. Many of them are employed in the Grand Trunk service at Point St. Charles, which owing to the large number of Orangemen it contains has acquired the title of Little Derry.

AN ASSAULT UPON A BANDSMAN.

A member of the Prince of Wales' Rifles Band, named Sharp, while proceeding to his rendezvous this morning was attacked for some unexplained reason by one of the special constables with his batton. He offered no retaliation, but reported the occurrence to Colonel Bond.

SEARCH FOR FIRE ARMS.

The rumour regarding a large body of men coming here from Quebec appears to have been an exaggeration. One hundred special constables met the Quebec boat when she landed this morning, and made a thorough search of the men on board, without finding any firearms; and made no arrests. There were not more than 75 persons on board. This morning on the arrival of the Grand Trunk Railway train from the west another body of special constables searched all those on the train, but only made one arrest, the party taken having firearms on his person. Very few Orangemen have arrived. While writing a fire alarm has called out the brigade to a fire in the direction of Griffintown, which adds to the excitement.

Everything having the most remote resemblance to the colour of orange is to-day a sufficient pretext for suspicious looks, offensive language, or an assault. The proprietor of a cigar store, whose window was almost broken a couple of days ago because it was shaded by a yellow blind, has been obliged to have the offensive shade removed. Last night the gardens of Alderman Clendinneng, Mr. Harrison Stephens, and Rev. Mr. Norman were stripped of their orange lilies.

AT THE ORANGE HALL.

In front of the Orange Hall a large space is kept clear. The regular police, in a serried body, are posted on the opposite side of the street, directly in front of the entrance, and the special constables in two detachments, four deep, occupy the ground immediately east of the entrance. Several of the windows at the back of the Orange Hall, on Fortification lane, have been broken by a large number of youths and men, who were allowed to congregate there. With this exception no serious mishap has yet occurred, though everybody is in suspense, momentarily expecting a disturbance. The Orangemen are remaining close within their Hall, the Mayor this morning having issued orders to the police to arrest any who ventured to appear on the streets.

ORANGEMEN ARRESTED.

About half an hour ago Mr. David Grant and Mr. F. Hamilton, the two marshals on horseback, partly dressed in their regalia, ventured to make their appearance before the Orange Hall, when they were suddenly arrested by order of the Mayor and the magistrates associated with him. Five other Orangemen, whose names have not yet transpired, except that of Thomas Ingram, were taken into custody at the same time. The whole affair was so quietly and dexterously performed that no disturbance was created, and they were conveyed to the Central Police Station and the lock-up adjoining the Police Court almost before anybody was aware of the occurrence. The Mayor has given further orders that, by virtue of his proclamation, all Orangemen the moment they venture to emerge from their Hall shall be arrested, and the police will undoubtedly act in accordance with his instructions. It is said bail will not to-day be accepted for the men arrested, for fear their liberation might lead to the very riots which by their arrest are sought to be avoided. The only colour now visible is an orange and blue flag projecting from the doorway of the Orange Hall.

INTERVIEW WITH THE MAYOR.

Mayor Beaudry has occupied a seat all morning on St. James street, directly opposite the Orange Hall, where he can conveniently direct the movements of the constabulary. He appears to be satisfied and pleased that his plans are being so successfully worked out, and is resolved to continue to proceed as heretofore. In conversation with your reporter about noon his Worship stated he was confident if the Orangemen ventured to form into procession very serious consequences would ensue, and his only object was to prevent bloodshed. He remarked that it was necessary to observe moderation in regard to such matters. With regard to the Orangmen who have been arrested, he stated that the object was to make their trial a test case to settle once for all the question of the legality of the Orange Association and procession. He expressed the hope that the excitement would quiet down speedily this afternoon, and said that it was intended as soon as the fear of disturbance to-day was removed to liberate the incarcerated Orangemen on bail.

THE DISMISSED ORANGEMEN.

The Orange Hall continues in a state of siege at the hands of the civil forces. The inmates are beginning to feel the need of food and some endeavours have been made with imperfect success to convey some refreshments inside. Telegrams have been sent by the Orangemen to their brethern in Toronto, Kingston, and Ottawa, explaining the situation, and replies have been received from Kingston stating that 4,000 men are ready to leave when wanted, from Ottawa that three thousand are prepared to come at once, and from other places to the same effect.

THE PLACE D'ARMES CLEARED.

The Orangemen having communicated their situation to Gen. Selby Smyth, who has sent an officer to Mayor Beaudry to request him to allow the Orangemen to peaceably go home without molestation. His Worship expressed his willingness to act on that suggestion, but the Orangemen refused to leave the hall while the special constables remained on the street through which they had to pass. The Mayor then ordered the special constable to move further on St. James street, and they retired to a position a few feet east of the entrance of the Orange Hall. At the same time his Worship mounted an elevated place, and addressed the mob, urging everybody on the street to leave, and the military stationed on the Place d'Armes, acting in accordance with his request, defiled across the street, and forced the crowd back to beyond the western entrance to the square. In the meantime the Orangemen considered the proposition made to them, but steadily adhearedto their refusal to leave the hall unless the special constables were removed further away. The latter, however, still occupy the same place.

INCIDENTS.

A few additional Orangemen have arrived in town this morning. About fifty from Granby and Cowansville marched in double file down St. James street with the intention of entering the Orange Hall, but the crowd forced them back, and they departed.

A rumour was on the streets this morning that fifty fire army were found by some of the volunteers at the Union Hall, where the Irish Societies held their meetings last night, and removed to the Crystal Palace.

At the Bonaventure depot, on the arrival of the Quebec train, the police found three small packages marked "self explosive revolvers," supposed to contain dynamite. About an hour ago an Orangeman, while driving along Craig street, was attacked by a desperate mob. He ran into a grocery store, and was chased, caught, and so badly beaten that it is doubtful if he can possibly recover. His eyes are almost gouged out by his brutal assailants.

ACCEPTING PROTECTION.

6 p.m.—The long suspense of the day has at last been relieved. About 5.30 p.m. the Mayor granted the protection of the regular police to enable the Orangemen, who had been penned up in their Hall during the entire day, to go home. Up to that time they had been afraid to accept the Mayor's proffered protection. Sir Selby Smyth stated to your reporter a few moments ago that under those circumstances he had offered Mayor Beaudry the troops to escort the Orangemen home if he would request them to do so. His Worship, however, refused to ask for the troops. The General further stated that the military were just about to be marched to their several quarters for the night.

The Orangemen having accepted the protection of the regular police a large number of cabs were engaged, and one by one took about half a dozen Orangemen at a time from the hall. As each cab made its way through the dense throng on St. James street cheer after cheer rent the air, some being the cheers of sympathy, but others those of triumph, either real or imaginary. A large proportion of the crowd, however, greeted them with hoots, yells, and execrations, in which it is painful to say no small number of the special constables joined. In about an hour, and before six o'clock, all the Orangemen had been removed from their hall, and safely ran the gauntlet of the menacing thousands through whom they passed.

THE TROOPS.

Scarcely had the intensified excitement which this occurrence caused become modified than a fresh circumstance rose to renew it. The last cab carrying away the Orangemen had arrived at about Victoria Square when the great body of the military which had been stationed on Dominion Square appeared coming down Beaver Hall Hill on their way to the Champ de Mars. The staff officers mounted rode in front, followed by a battery of artillery, a troop of cavalry, and half a dozen battalions of infantry, most of the last named with fixed bayonets. The line of military stretched from Dorchester street through Beaver Hall Hill, Redegonda and St. James streets, all the distance to the Court House. As the troops passed along they were heartily cheered by the crowds on the streets and in the windows of the buildings, but a few rowdies could not restrain their feelings, and actually groaned at the troops as they passed. One man near the Post Office, slightly more demonstrative than the rest, made use of expressions like, "Ah, you sons of b——s," and "Down, you monkey." On arriving on the Champ de Mars the different battalions marched off to their respective quarters for the night.

THE SPECIAL CONSTABLES.

Immediately after the military had passed through the St. James street the special constables, who had been stationed all day near the Orange Hall, marched to the Central Station, where a large number of them were disbanded and disarmed, the service for which they were brought into existence having been performed. The appearance and conduct of these men were the subject of a good deal of criticism to-day. From seven o'clock this morning, when one of them struck a volunteer because he was whistling a party tune, till they were dismissed from duty, the great majority of them have shown themselves to be animated by one purpose, to terrify the Orangemen, and that purpose has carried some to extremes which judgment and justice could not approve. They have certainly endeavoured to keep the peace, but only in one direction. While keeping the Orangemen within narrow bounds—even attempting to lay hands on them when their interference was uncalled for—they have overlooked an amount of license on the part of those hostile to the Orangemen that bordered on offence against the law. It was impossible to approach them without perceiving that they were much excited, and that they sometimes preserved a calm exterior with difficulty. They scrutinised everybody with marked suspicion, and on the slightest pretext were delighted to exercise the authority they had obtained for a day. Perhaps the most extreme instance of the arbitrary conduct of the special constables was this afternoon, when they rescued a prisoner whom detective Cling Marr had arrested in the scuffle. The detective was badly injured about the head. He afterwards declared he could count out one hundred gaolebirds among the five hundred. It was a common, though bitter expression in the mouths of many people to-day mob-law prevailed in Montreal—that, as one man put it, liberty had gone to sleep. The rumour was that the Irishmen here sent a telegram this afternoon to New York, saying with candid self congratulation that the Irish ruled Montreal, and that the military had to "cave in," but as all sorts of rumours are flying about this may be taken with a grain of salt.

SUSPECTED DERELICTION OF DUTY BY THE SPECIAL CONSTABLES.

An ominous affair occurred as the Quebec boat left the wharf to take home the passengers that were searched by the Mayor's special constables this morning. It will be remembered that those constables said that no arms were found on them, and therefore no arrests were made, but on their departure, when the boat had just left the wharf, those same parties who had been searched produced a large number of fire-arms and fired off volley after volley, to the number of about 150 shots, thus proving that the special constables had not done their duty, or these ruffians had obtained the arms in the city after their arrival.

BRAWLS AND ASSAULTS.

Numberless brawls and attacks are reported to have taken place during the day, most of them being of a trivial character. Occasionally a discussion on the street about the legality and right of the Orange Order led to a pugilistic encounter, and even women attacked each other.

THE INJURED YOUNG BRITON.

The Young Briton who was so badly injured on Craig street is named Robert Gilbert, and is a member of Hackett Lodge. On being taken to the Orange Hall the wounds in his head were dressed by a surgeon, and no dangerous consequences are likely to ensue.

M. Knox, secretary of a Young Briton Lodge, barely escaped attack from the crowd in Fortification Lane while leaving the hall with a bunch of lillies in his hand. Mr. Horne, another Orangeman, being chased up St. Lawrence street, was obliged to take refuge in a shop, and a gentleman whose name was not obtained was chased into the St. Lawrence Hall.

About ten o'clock this morning two Orangemen, one with a blue band on his hat, and the other with his regalia under his coat, made their way through the crowd at the corner of James street and St. Lambert's Hill towards the Hall, when they were observed by some special constables, who, leaving the ranks, rushed after them. One of the Orangemen was struck on the head, but they reached the entrance safely, and the man who had been struck turned and triumphantly raised his hat.

11 p.m.—Quietness continues to reign in the streets, and no disturbance has yet been reported. The Young Britons of Point St. Charles are holding high carnival in that place by marching about after their band. Several posses of police are patrolling the same neighbourhood to preserve the peace.

The Orangemen who were arrested to-day were liberated on bail this evening. Ald. Childs and a couple of other gentlemen acting as their securities. The bail was nominal.

1 a.m.—The city continues in a state of serenity: the streets bear their ordinary midnight aspect, only a few straggling pedestrians besides the police patrols being visible. Contrary to expectation, the Orange Hall has not been attacked since the Orangemen left it at six o'clock. No police report quiet in all parts of the city. No disturbance has taken place at Point St. Charles or at the Wellington Bridge. Ten prisoners in all are locked up at the Central Station, four being charged with carrying firearms. A Frenchman is accused of inciting a crowd on the Place d'Arms and three men of throwing stones at a crowd.

The preliminary examination before a magistrate of the Orangemen who were arrested to-day will not, it is expected, take place before next week. Three Orangemen at least are known to have suffered severe injuries, viz., Robt. Hurst, John Gilbert, and Gilmour. The first named is in the English Hospital with a bandaged eye and sore head, and the other two are at their homes. Gilmour, it is said, was attacked in a cab which he had obtained for the removal of some of his brethren from the Orange Hall, and was so badly beaten by three of the Mayor's special constables that his condition is regarded as somewhat precarious. Notwithstanding all the excitement and lawlessness, however, fortunately no lives on either side have been lost.

An Irish Breach of Promise Case.

The Dublin correspondent of the London Times sends it the following account of a breach of promise case which excites considerable interest in the Irish capital:

"A breach of promise case was heard today before Baron Fitzgerald and a jury. The plaintiff is a Miss Moor, 22 years of age, the daughter of a shop-keeper in Larne, County Antrim. The defendant is Major Duncan McNeill, of the Madras Army Corps. The The plaintiff, a dress-maker's apprentice, was employed at the house of Mrs. McNeill, defendant's mother, and while there defendant came home on furlough and fell in love with her. She refused to have anything to say to him on account of the disparity of their positions, but he persuaded her father to send her to England for three years to be educated, and that she might acquire an English accent to suit her to become the defendant's wife, defendant agreeing to pay £100 a year for her support. She travelled on the Continent also, and during the time received letters from the defendant. Some of these were read and caused great amusement in court. They were most affectionate in their terms. A few months after she went to England the defendant began to grow cool, and ultimately forsook her and married another person, Miss Guthrie, of Forfar. The plaintiff deposed that the defendant swore on a Bible to be true to her and to marry her. He gave her a ring with the motto, 'Wait and trust,' and said he hoped he would soon be giving her another ring. The defendant is 40 years of age, an belongs to one of the best families in Ireland. He is at present in India. Damages are laid at £1,000. The case has not concluded."

An Important Decision.

A decision given by Judge Wells, of Chatham, in an appeal from a fence-viewers' award, is of some importance to farmers generally. Briefly stated, the case was as follows.—A farmer in Dover desiring to drain his land, claimed that the water should follow its natural course through the farm of his neighbour. The neighbor resisted on the ground that other outlets were afforded, and that as he was heavily taxed for the construction of drains to carry off the water above him, it would be unfair to allow the claim set up. The fence viewers of the division were called in, and they decided in favour of the first party referred to, staking out the course in which, in their opinion, the water should be taken. No. 2 appealed from this decision first, on the ground that the fence-viewers had no power to make an award, their successors in office having been appointed, though not sworn into office, at the time the award was made; and secondly, that the decision was not a fair one. The case was argued before the Judge on Tuesday, and he sustained the appeal, deciding that the fence-viewers term of office had expired on the appointment of their successors, although the new officials had not been sworn into office. The point is an important one, and should be noted by the municipal officers generally.—Chatham Banner.

HANLAN vs. ROSS.

The St. John, N. B., News says:—"A correspondent condemns in strong language the course of Ross' backers in making a race between Wallace and Hanlan to be rowed here He claims that their course will rob poor people who will bet on Ross, who he says, has proved himself unable to row one side of Hanlan.' The News has more than once explained the position of Ross' backers. They make the race only for the purpose of satisfying Ross as to which is the better oarsman. They ask no one to bet a dollar on Ross against Hanlan. Ross' own opinion is that he will have no difficulty in showing the people of St. John that he was not beaten on his own merits at Toronto, and that he will win a magnificent victory over Hanlan on the 25th of July.

USEFUL RECIPES.

CURRANT JELLY.—You must put the currants in a stone jar and set them in an iron pot, with water sufficient to reach the top of the jar without its running in while boiling. After they are done, mash and strain the juice from them. Add one pound of white sugar to a pint of juice, but first put the sugar into the kettle with a little water, and let it boil to a very thick syrup; then add the juice, and let the whole boil very rapidly and with out stirring for twenty minutes.

TOMATO CATSUP (very fine).—One gallon o tomato juice, two pounds of sugar, seven table-spoonfuls of salt; four table-spoonfuls of black pepper, a little horse-radish, six onions chopped into the very smallest pieces. Pound the spices. Boil well for about two hours, being very careful to stir from time to time, that it may not stick to the bottom of the kettle and burn. Just before taking off, add one quart of good sharp vinegar. Bottle, cork tightly, and keep in a cool place.

BLACKBERRY SYRUP.—To two quarts of blackberry juice add half an ounce of cinnamon, half an ounce nutmeg, half an ounce of allspice, and a quarter of an ounce of powdered cloves. Boil these together, so as to compound the spices with the juice of the berries and to preserve it. While hot, add a pint of best French brandy. Sweeten with loaf sugar to suit the taste. Three pounds will probably be right for this quantity. Bottle it, and exclude the air. Excellent in cases of summer complaint. Give to an adult a tablespoonful at intervals of three or four hours, if necessary. To a child give a tea-spoonful three times a day, or oftener if desirable.

TO PICKLE PEACHES.—To fourteen pounds of peaches, peeled, put three pounds of brown sugar, three tea-spoonfuls of cinnamon, three tea-spoonfuls of powdered cloves, to one quart of strong cider vinegar. Let the vinegar, sugar, and spices boil a very little while; then put in your peachs, and let them scald enough to stick a straw through them with ease. Take them out, put them in an earthen jar, seeing that the vinegar covers them well, which must be poured over the packed peaches. Place a cover lightly over them the first day; the second pour off the vinegar, heat it to the boiling-point, and return it hot to the fruit. Repeat this process until the peaches are fit for use. Four or five times are generally enough to cure them. Cover up tightly then. Watch from time to time, and if the slightest fermentation occurs, scald the fruit once more skimming off the juice any scum that rises to the surface. These pickles generally, however, keep admirably; the main point to secure this being the seeing that the fruit is freshly gathered and sound. The black Georgia peach is a good variety to select for this purpose, or the large white Heath peach.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human ace.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and, which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, stiff very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long seated Consumption.

PTITT'S EYE-SALVE.

A n Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Canals, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. Rheumatic and Old Chronic Sores, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. It is used successfully for Piles. It its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. PTITT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Out on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

LIFE IS DREARY.

Hush, I cannot bear to see thee
Stretch thy tiny hands in vain;
Dear, I have no bread to give thee,
Nothing child, to ease thy pain!
When God sent thee first to bless me,
Proud and thankful, too, was I;
Now, my darling, I, thy mother,
Almost long to see thee die.
Hear my darling, thou art weary,
God is good, but life is dreary.

I have watched thy beauty fading,
And thy strength sink day by day,
Soon I know, will vanish ever
Even from thy little life's play.
Thine sunken eye, thy father reckless,
Hope has left both him and me;
We could suffer all, my baby,
Had we but a crust for thee.

Better thou should perish early,
Starve so soon, my darling one,
Than in hopeless sin and sorrow
Unholy live as I have done.
Better that thy angel spirit
With my love, and peace were flown,
Than thy heart grow cold and careless,
Reckless, hopeless, like my own.

I am wasted, dear, with hunger,
And my brain is all oppress't;
I have scarcely strength to press thee,
Wan and feeble to my breast.
Patience baby, God will help us.
Death will come to thee and me,
He will take us to His heaven,
Where no want or pain can be.

BRIGHTON.

The Brighton Ensign is responsible for the following:—The following is an illustration of the queer things that sometimes happens on railroads. A yearling calf belonging to Mr. Doolittle was caught up on the cow-catcher on the morning express going west and carried into the Grafton station, a distance of over three miles, without sustaining the least injury. As the calf had no through ticket the engineer put it off at this station, when it walked leisurely away, none the worse for it-will ride and rough treatment.

BELLEVILLE.

A Belleville firm have shipped from Boston, since the 8th of May, to Great Britain, 3,398 cattle, 617 sheep, and 2,111 hogs, the total value of which was very nearly $500,000. To feed these animals on the passage it required 306 tons of hay and 200 tons of grain, and the services of 130 men were required as attendants, whilst for tie ropes the expense was $442.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.—Mr. James C. Rush, one of the oldest residents of Ameliasburg, died lately, aged 83 years and 6 months. Mr. Rush, who was a veteran of the war of 1812-14, leaves a large number of descendants. He was a man who was very much respected.

NORWOOD.

PERSONAL.—We have been shown a letter received from Mr. William Wigmore, son of Mr. D. Wigmore, of Dummer, who is now in Manitoba, in which he states that he has arrived at his place of settlement, the Little Saskatchewan Valley, and is highly pleased with his location. Since his arrival there he has been busy making the necessary purchases to commence farming "on his own book," and appears to be quite sanguine of success, at any rate as successful as those in his vicinity who have preceded him. Land, he says, is being taken up very fast, and he and his comrade, Mr. James Hamilton, are also purchasing additional sections of land near their own locations. We are glad to hear of the good prospects of our friends, and sincerely hope they may realise their brightest anticipations.—Register.

LINDSAY.

LAW PARTNERSHIP.—We understand that Mr. John A. Barron, of Fenelon Falls, has entered into partnership with Mr. Hudspeth, and will remove to this town in a few weeks.

CHILD DROWNED.—A little deaf and dumb boy aged two years and six months, a son of Mr. Wingrove on Sussex-st., was accidentally drowned in a tub of water on Tuesday afternoon last. Between three and four o'clock the mother left the child beside a tub of water in charge of an elder brother, about four years old, whilst she went up stairs. On returning she asked the elder boy where his brother was and he replied that "he is gone" and on enquiring whither, the youngster said "into the tub." The mother turned to the tub and there found the little fellow with life extinct. It seems that some of his playthings had got into the tub and in his endeavours to get them out he fell in.—Post.

PORT HOPE.

PRESENTATION.—On the occasion of his departure for Picton, Rev. Mr. Donald, Presbyterian minister, was presented by his congregation with a handsome and costly silver service of eight pieces, suitably inscribed, together with a highly complimentary address.

FIRST PAYMENT TO MR. MYLES.—A meeting of the Board of Harbor Commissioners was held in the Council Chamber last Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of handing over to Mr. Myles the first instalment of five thousand dollars, the Engineer's certificate having been presented to the effect that Mr. Myles had expended the specified sum on the road agreed upon before the first payment would be due. As it had come in the knowledge of the Board that certain parties were endeavouring to obstruct Mr. Myles in his enterprise in order to divert the iron ore trade into other channels, they unanimously expressed themselves that Mr. Myles be held to his original agreement, and that he be notified to that effect.—Times.

LAKEFIELD.

DEFT IN A HUMAN NOSE.—One day last week Dr. Armour had a case of an unusual nature. A little boy, aged about five years, son of Mr. Marchand, the Engineer of the steamer Cruiser, while playing fell on his face, and a large piece of delf ran up one of his nostrils, where it remained firmly embedded. The physician extracted the extraneous substance and the boy is doing well.

THE camping out season has opened, and Stony Lake resembles a military bivouac.

LAKEFIELD.—Monday, at 10 a.m. the adjourned Quarter sessions met. Then Dowsley for calling Bryan to Lefroy, and Mrs. Flesher, for calling the lodger icating beverage without having governmental authority so to do, were tried at Lakefield, before Justices of the Peace Hall, Sherin and R. A. Strickland, and in the former case judgment was reserved until the 1st of August, and in the latter defendant was fined $30.00, and $8.60 costs.—News.

BOBCAYGEON.

POISONED.—An unfortunate occurrence took place in the family of Mr. J. C. Robinson, of South Verulam, a day or two since. All the family, nine in number, were suddenly taken with strong symptoms of poisoning. The effects were most painful. Dr. Bonnell was at once sent for. It was found that the poisoning had been produced from drinking milk from a cow whose udder had been poisoned by some insect or animal, perhaps a hornet, but the general impression was that the udder had been stung by a cynocephalus. The family are all recovering.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A Frenchman, named Jos. Lasart, who usually worked for Mr. Boyd, and who had been around the village for many years, came to his death very suddenly on Tuesday. On Sunday he became delirious, on Monday he smashed all the furniture in his bed-room at Nixon's Hotel, and on Tuesday he was taken into custody and sent to Lindsay. The same evening he died in Lindsay goal. Independant.

MILLBROOK.

THE DUNKIN ACT is still persistently asserting its existence, and convictions are now becoming "thick as leaves in Vallambrosa." One out of anumber of other convictions has been appealed from on the ground of a somewhat singular irregularity in the summons, which was dated June 30th, while the infraction upon which the conviction was obtained was sworn to have occurred on the 1st of July.

HARVEST OPERATIONS are now the all-engrossing subject, and a general feeling of peace and good will would appear to be the predominant sentiment among the agricultural community. Rust has made its appearance upon one or two of the low-lying farms, but no danger is anticipated as the "steel rails" are nearly all used up.

BRIEFLETS.—Burglars are still practicing their nefarious calling in this section. Several houses were broken into last week, but without any "loot" being got. From their "tracks" the burglars are evidently amateurs——The potato bugs are now in the hey-day of their prosperity, and were it not for an odd application of Paris green, would in all probability be the most contented of the various living forms that go to make our list of animal nature up——In politics everything is quiet. The "National Policy" nag in this section has been ridden to death, and the jaded old thing is now turned out on the roads to die.

CAMPBELLFORD.

FROG EXPORTATION is thus spoken of by the Campbellford Herald:—One of a number of places engaged in this tariffic is down at Chisholm's Rapids, and extends along the Trent to Percy Boom, five miles from here. The frogs at these places are very numerous, as is evinced by their never ceasing nightly concerts, each throat giving forth a part in the orchestral strain as loud as the low bellowing of a bull; and to the midnight traveller it is almost hideous. These creatures inhabit the low marshy localities about the river, and grow to an extraordinary size, some of them, known as the gosling frog, so named from their attributed power to kill a gosling, being as large as ten or a dozen of the ordinary sized ones. Only the hind quarters of this amphibious race are eaten, and they are said to be possessed of the flavour of a chicken. The yare caught by means of small nets, which the catchers manipulate with considerable dexterity, and sometimes capture a large number at one 'haul." They are shipped and sold at the rate of one cent a piece, and though the price seems small, yet a very profitable business is done, One man at Chisholm's Rapids lately captured, we are told, eleven hundred in one day. Others again, they tell us, catch from two to four hundred per day. We might add that these men are "rushing" matters this season, for they fear a 17½ per cent duty as trade increases.

FENELON FALLS.

On Sunday morning, 7th inst., while a number of lads were bathing near Wager's landing, on the west side of Sturgeon Lake, and about four miles from Fenelon Falls, they found in the water the body of Mr. Andrew Miller, who lived in a small house near Hall's hill, on the Lindsay road, about a mile from the lake shore. On the previous Thursday he was seen in the village by several persons, and sometime towards night started for his home, which however, he never reached alive, though he must have accomplished the greater part of the journey in safety, as he was drowned very near where he was in the habit of mooring his boat. As he was occasionally somewhat unsteady in his habits, and followed fishing amongst other occupations for a living, his wife was not alarmed by his three days absence, and there was no suspicion that anything had befallen him until his body was found. Dr. Bryans, coroner, decided that there was no necessity for holding an inquest. Deceased was a little over forty years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.

REAL BROWN BREAD.

An interesting article in Nature discusses the respective merits as a diet of white bread, brown bread and whole meal bread. After pointing that more nitrogen is contained in the low weight wheat than in the high weight, he says:—We shall find it impossible to make by means of leaven or yeast, a light spongy loaf from whole wheat finely ground, the so-called erosion of the bran inducing chemical changes which result in a sour, clammy, dense product. Brown whole wheat meal is best made into bread by the unfermented portions of the same flour. Fine flour, on the other hand, yields a bread which is light enough before mastication, but which when masticated, presents a marked tendency to become penetrated by the gastric and intestinal juices, and which are a frequent cause of constipation. Whole meal bread cannot be obtained with this distinct; indeed it acts mechanically as a laxative, and by means of its excellent cellulose texture is hurried rather too quickly along the digestive tract, so that the full virtue of each of its nutrients as are really soluble becomes in part lost. Yet there is no doubt that for many persons, especially those who have passed middle age and are engaged in sedentary occupations, whole wheaten meal in the form of bread, biscuits, stones, &c., forms an invaluable diet.

What the Marshal of New York Says:

The following indorsement will be of interest to many who have not yet tested those essential aids to the full development of the speed of a trotter—BENTON'S SPEED ACCELERATORS—the price of which has been reduced to $3 per pair or $5 for two pairs:

OFFICE OF PATRICK DAILY, City Marshal, New York, June 11, 1878.

WILBUR C. BENTON, Esq., Brownstown, Indiana.—Dear Sir:—I have given your SPEED ACCELERATORS a thorough test, single, double, attached them to the reins, to the saddle, overdraw and check-rein. In my judgment they are the most excellent things ever invented to produce speed and comfort for horses.

Horsemen and humanitarians have for years sought to invent attachments for horses' mouths, the former looking principally to speed, the latter seeking relief for the horse from the strain of checks and bits on the mouth. The ACCELERATORS accomplish both, of they remove the permanent strain of checks and bits from the mouth and head of the horse by imparting the proper elasticity, which the horse feels immediately and improves at once in style and speed. Owners of horses, whether trotters, roadsters, coach or business horses, should use them. Any horseman who gives your ACCELERATORS a trial will not only indorse what I say, but recommend them to every one owning horses.

Hoping you will succeed in establishing what I firmly believe to be the best thing ever devised for horses, is the wish of one thoroughly convinced of their usefulness.

Yours truly,
PATRICK DAILY, City Marshal.

LET THEM ALONE.

Never rob one of the good opinion of himself. It is the most cruel thing you can do. Moreover, it is by no means doing as you would be done by. Crush a woman's self-esteem and you make her cross-grained and snappish. Do the same to a man, and you make him morose. You may mean to create a sweet, humble creature, but you will never do it. The people who think best of themselves are apt to be best. Women grow pretty believing they are so, and fine qualities often crop out after one has been told one has them. It only gratifies a momentary spite to force your own unfavourable opinion of him deep into another's mind. It never did do any good. Ah! if this world full of ugly people, and awkard people, of silly people, and vain people, knew their own deficiencies, what a sitting in sack cloth and ashes we would have! The greatest of all things that a man can have is a satisfactory indentity. If that which he calls pleases him it is well with him; otherwise he is perfectly wretched. Let your fellow beings alone; hold no truthful mirrors before their eyes unless with a pure intention to uproot sin. So may a mirror never without a flaw be prepared for you. In those things we cannot help, may we ever be blind to our own shortcoming. We are neither ugly nor awkard, nor uninteresting to ourselves, if we do not know it. A fool may have the wisdom of Solomon in his own conceit. Let him be, and the path to the grave will be the easier for him to tread, you will be no worse, he no better. Leave every man as much self-esteem as his conscience will allow him to cherish. It may be a pleasure to enlighten folks as to their faults of mind and person, but it is certainly not a duty.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The Campbellford village Council has decided to exempt the firemen from one day's statute labour. The men asked for two days.

A Barrie girl went all the way to British Columbia to marry the man she loved.

The rate of taxation in Toronto this year will be 25½ mills on the dollar, an increase of 6 mills over last year.

In Port Hope six shop and fourteen tavern licenses have been granted this year.

William Ritchie, late of the township of Carden, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in the house of Malcolm McArthur, his son-in-law, Beaverton.

More machinery is being put into the Galt Saw Works. The Grit Government is the cause.

Last Saturday Mr. Myles received from Port Hope the first instalment ($5,000) of the bonus voted to aid him in his iron mining enterprise.

Windsor, with a population of 7,000, has a debt of $24,000. The taxes amount to two cents on the dollar.

A. P. Howland, nephew of Hon. W. P. Howland, Toronto, was drowned in the bay on Wednesday morning while swimming.

Two Barrie volunteers have been up before the Mayor for refusing to attend drill.

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others as you love to be treated your self.

Mayor Beaudry is now talked of as a candidate for Montreal West. He would poll a very large Catholic vote. Benjamin Lyman, of Lyman, Clare & Co., announces himself a Protectionist candidate for the same division.

LOVE POETRY.

"I do not believe," says Landor, "that the best writers of love poetry ever loved." We would like to ask why loving should incapacitate one for inditing love poetry, or why the genius for writing should unfit one for the vocation of loving. Are the mute, inglorious Miltons the only lovers? Did not Petrarch love when he wrote his sonnets? or Burns, when he confessed:

"The sweetest hour that e'er I spent
Was ay the hour I thought I kent"

That then I learn to change my note for lovers' or Keats, when he wrote of Isabel and Lorenzo:

"He asked her to wed, and she granted it
And on the morrow the two were married it"

or Spenser, when he sang:

"Sweet is my love that likes not without measure
But bounds her passion with an equal mean" or Ben Jonson, when he assured us that:

"The thing that which the rest doth crave most
And beauty of a woman's worth doth vaunt
I would not change for what I want"

or he who swore:

"I could not love thee, dear, so much Loved I not honour more"

or that poor who swore:

"Oh! my love's like a red, red rose
That's newly sprung in June"

If these singers never loved, then it is most excellent shamming most extraordinary poetic license; if they had no experience of the emotion, how did they discover the secret of expressing it? By what lucky accident did they trip upon the best exponents of it? Who taught them the language of the heart, when they had not mastered the alphabet? How could they give voice to thoughts that had never blossomed in their souls? Had they only seen the passion through another's eyes, could they have spoken so intimately of it? Would they have deemed it worth while to embalm in verse a sentiment alien to their personality? And why should the sweet pre-eminence of loving be accorded only to those who have locked their lips upon the theme, and have not enriched the world by a single poetic utterance? Is it because the sentiment is too delicate for such familiar handling, that he who loves in possessed by his passion, that it would be profanation to advertise it in rhyme and metre for the edifying of the crowd? Are levish protestations suspicious merely, and must he who spends in words lack in deeds? Because Corydon does not celebrate his devotion to Philis in verse, does it follow that his love is mere enduring, more real and immortal, than his who spills a little from his overflowing cup of happiness into the hearts of the multitude? Harper's Bazaar.

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 25, 1878.

MR. HILLIARD'S MISTAKES OR MIS-STATEMENTS.

We have been handed a card issued by Mr. George Hilliard whereby he solicits vo. s at the ensuing election in West Peterborough for the House of Commons. On one side of it he briefly states his "views" on what he calls "the chief issues of the contest." As an address to the electors from a candidate appealing for their votes, it is the weakest and most blundering we have ever seen, and we have seen a few weak and blundering addresses too. The Reform candidate so far from being alarmed at its distribution among the electors, may well hail it with delight, for when people have read it over and hold it in their hands to consider its misstatements, or mistakes, they will not fail to be convinced of the folly and assurance of him who issued it. With the purpose of helping to increase Mr. Bertram's majority we therefore give Mr. Hilliard's "views" in full. He says:

"I strongly protest against the way in which the affairs of the Dominion have been managed during the past four years. Prior to that time our country was prosperous, but to-day it is next door to Bankruptcy. The public revenue, notwithstanding increased taxation, has been diminishing, while the ordinary expenditure has been largely increased, thus foreshadowing ruin to all; and I believe we cannot hope for renewed prosperity except under a system of strict economy and wise retrenchment. I am also strongly of opinion that we can never become a self-reliant and prosperous people until we do to a large extent our own manufacturing, and that we cannot have manufactures without protection. So long as the manufacturers and producers of other communities are allowed to send their products into Canada at a nominal tax, so long will our products languish. The Americans will not give us reciprocity of trade, we should therefore insist on a reciprocity of tariffs, and so prevent the one-sided competition to which our Farmers and Manufacturers are at present exposed. How can we compete with a people who not only place a high duty upon our products, but actually put a duty on the money they pay for those products? There must be an error in allowing the people of the States to compete with our Farmers and Manufacturers, while they have a Chinese wall through which we cannot penetrate."

Mr. Hilliard cannot complain that we here misrepresent him, for we give his own words, and all of them. Let us now see how he has either designedly or unwittingly, allowed gross and palpable falsehoods to go forth over his name. In the first place he is made to "protest against the way in which the affairs of the Dominion have been managed during the past four years." He protests against the way in which Canada, in spite of the great commercial depression has been led through the crisis, and stands to-day the best country in the world in point of comfort and commercial stability. He protests against the floating of new loans at low interest to pay off old ones bearing much higher rates. He protests that the insane promise of the late Government regarding the building of the Pacific Railway should have been brought into something like reasonable bounds. He protests, in short, against the careful and business-like management that has made the present Government the very opposite of its reckless and extravagant predecessor.

His first directly false declaration is that "our country is next door to Bankruptcy." So satisfied is he that he spells it with a big "B," too! Is not this would-be legislator aware that Canada's credit to-day stands higher than it ever did? It was sadly injured by the deep disgrace of the Pacific Scandal, but thanks to the management during the last four years, (against which Mr. George Hilliard protests,) it has more than recovered. And does this man who assumes such airs in the protesting line really think to get the votes of any elector in a country against which he utters so vile and unpatriotic a slander? Does he think detraction of the Dominion a passport to its parliament? It would almost appear so.

He further states that during the past four years "the public revenue, notwithstanding increased taxation, has been diminishing." He must surely mean the last four fiscal years for which returns have been published. Well, in 1872-3, just prior to these four years, the total revenue from all sources amounted to $30,813,469.45, and in the last year for which we have returns it stood at $23,059,276.11. Does this look like a decrease during the four years? It is true the chief increase was in the first two years of the four, and that the last half of the term shows a falling off from the larger sums; but that is far from being a decrease during the four years. It is hardly comforting to Mr. Hilliard's protectionist views, either that he has to acknowledge that this diminution took place under an addition of 2½ per cent to the general tariff rate, or, as he puts it, "notwithstanding increased taxation."

The next mendacious, or mistaken statement of Mr. Hilliard is, that during the past four years "the ordinary expenditure has been largely increased." To disprove this it is only necessary to give the ordinary expenditure since 1872-3. In that year it was $7,062,033.36; in the next, $8,324,076.17; next, $7,582,690.04; next, 6,869,774,11; and in the last for which we have records, $6,855,676.13. Mr. Hilliard doesn't appear to know what increase or decrease means, or he has been most egregiously "stuffed" by some body. But a candidate for Parliament should know what he is publishing, else the people will at once decide that he is not fit for the position to which he aspires.

Mr. Hilliard's "opinion" that we cannot become self reliant and prosperous till we do to a large extent our own manufacturing, and that we cannot have manufactures without protection, is really rich in absurdities. He evidently forgets that we now do to a large extent our own manufacturing, in spite of his "strong opinion." His reference to our becoming a self reliant and prosperous people implies the insinuation that Canada is not now self reliant, nor her people prosperous. Can it be that Mr. Hilliard's "self reliance" means severance of the tie with Great Britain? That is certainly the easiest construction under the circumstances. As to his doubt of the country's prosperity, we shall simply quote from an authority Mr. Hilliard will religiously respect. Sir John Macdonald, at Weston, on Dominion Day, told his hearers that "thanks to Providence, they were now in the tenth year of Confederation, a prosperous, happy and contented people." The declaration that we can never have manufactures without protection, is best answered by the fact that we now have manufactures of very respectable extent, and of considerable enterprise and prosperity. How does Mr. Hilliard reconcile his theory with this fact, and also with the existence of so many, so large, and so successful manufactories in Free Trade England?

But having no further space this week to devote to Mr. Hilliard's peculiar "views," we shall leave them for the present, with the promise that we will in a future issue show up the protectionist nonsense with which his address concludes.

EXTRACTING SUNBEAMS FROM CUCUMBERS.

Most of our readers have doubtless heard of the brilliant occupation of "extracting sunbeams from cucumbers." An enterprise of somewhat similar character, was attempted by the Review last week, in its lately favorite task of decrying Canada and puffing the United States. It tried to draw American comfort from a comparison of the trade volumes of Canada and the United States, which only however, show to the advantage of Canada. For though the comparison is based on a year admittedly "the most extraordinary on record as far as the United States is concerned," the ordinary trade of Canada proves to be larger in proportion to population. We quote from the Review's quotation:—

"The population of Canada is in round figures about one-eleventh of that of the United States, and if we imported in the same ratio, the aggregate imports would be under forty millions. They were, exclusive of coin, about 97 millions, and this is about the average for a period of ten years."

And again:—

"Let us now consider the exports. Taking, as before, one-eleventh as the fair proportion, our exports should be under sixty-four millions. They were fully 75 millions, exclusive of coin, and this is about the average for ten years. It must be borne in mind that the current year, of which we have returns for eleven months, allowance having been made for June on the same basis as May, is one pronounced by the Bulletin to be the most extraordinary on record."

The Review is certainly welcome to all the comfort its mental strabismus can give it in its desire to laud Yankee trade from the facts here set down. They plainly show that Canada's percentage of trade according to population, beat that of the Americans, as that fast people would say "hollow" even in their most extraordinary year on record. Hurrah for Canada!"

MALIGN INFLUENCES.

In a late article reviewing the prospects of Free Trade throughout the civilized world, the London Times expressed a conviction that, if the malign influence of bad trade were once removed, commercial opinion, which is at present disposed to resort to any discredited and abandoned oracle for relief, would resume a healthy condition and be purged of its foolish fancies. It cited Canada as one of the countries where such malign influence is at work, and referred to Sir John Macdonald's endeavour "to turn to "account the prevailing depression of "commerce and manufactures." Speaking of the movement in the United States, which has found a certain amount of expression in Mr. Wood's Tariff Bill, the Times remarks upon the anomaly of their seeking relief from commercial depression by lowering the tariff, while other countries are being urged to seek relief from the same evil by imposing a Protective Tariff. It says:—

"These citizens incline towards free "trade for much the same reasons that "some Frenchmen and Germans incline "towards protection. Times have been "bad—very bad—in the States for now "more than four years; and this experience has been suffered in spite of an "elaborate and wide-spreading system of "protection. Nothing is more natural "than that men should turn to free trade "in the hope of finding relief from ills "that protection has clearly not averted."

[Referring to the hackneyed argument that protection is in the interest of the working man, the Times says]:—

"How can any system benefit a work-"ing man which throws difficulties in "the way of producing the commodities "that supply his wants? Every article "the citizen of the United States consumes is produced at a greater cost than "it would be under an open commerce "with other nations, with the single ap-"parent exception of food. And this is "not a real exception. The agricultural-"ist must, of course, supply himself out "of the produce of his own labour; and "since the commodities he buys are more "costly than they need be, the commodi-"ties he gives in exchange are not put "upon the market upon such easy terms "as they might be. Protection is an "elaborate system designed to increase "the difficulty of supplying human "wants, under the notion that in this "way the producer will be better off. "But he, too, suffers like his fellow-"citizens by a curtailment in the real "reward of his industry."

[The Times advises the United States, in the interest of its citizens, to adopt the principle of a revenue tariff. It says]:—

"If the citizens of the United States "should awaken to a sense of the im-"policy of the tariff under which they "have laboured so long, and should re-"solve to levy no taxes for the future, "except for revenue purposes, there "would be such a start of trade between "the United Kingdom and the United "States, and such a development of in-"dustry in each country, as would more "than match the past. It is not too "much to say that a burden would at "once be lifted from the two nations."

Sir John has now definitely decided upon a general tariff of 35 per cent. At a recent speech in London he said:—"Though I advocated a reciprocity of tariffs, he did not mean that he would adopt the American tariff in its entirety, but thought a general tariff of 35 per cent. would serve to meet the requirements of Canada."

The Local Legislature of Quebec was prorogued on Saturday last.

The Belleville Intelligencer has an article on the Wood-Stafford plundered letter, and heads it "The way Protestant Grits subsidize a Catholic Organ." This is not very surprising in the journalistic mouthpiece of Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, if the people could only forget the inconsistencies of his Orange position and his political record in defence of the clerical scandals at elections in the Province of Quebec. The Catholic paper referred to as "subsidized" by Protestants is at least respectable, and above an attempt to trade on mere bigotry, which is more, we fear, than can be said of the Belleville Intelligencer.

Mr. Thomas White, of the Montreal Gazette, and now a strong Protectionist, —(for political purposes,) in 1873 was a thorough Free Trader, as both he and his master are to-day, at heart. Then, he advocated the low tariff, and, in the Dominion Board of Trade, opposed an increase of the 15 per cent tariff. And this is what he said:—"A fifteen per cent. tariff means more than fifteen per cent. protection to manufactures. There is the cost of transport of goods from the other side of the water, which amounts on an average to at least five per cent., so that there is now a protection equal to twenty per cent. That ought to be sufficient for any industry suited to the country; and as to others, it would be unwise to attempt it to sustain them, by fiscal props."

Will some of the prominent protectionists—or even the petty ones answer the following leading questions:—

1. If Canada produces more grain than is required for home consumption, will the purchasing of Yankee grain by a Canadian, either for his own use or for export be an injury to Canada?

2. If Canada produces an insufficient quantity for home consumption, will the purchasing of Yankee grain by a Canadian, either for his own use or for export be an injury to Canada?

3. If the Canadian grain crop should prove such a failure that no farmer in the country has a bushel to sell, would the purchasing of Yankee grain by a Canadian, either for his own use or for export be an injury to Canada?

Among the many silly complaints of the Tory press is one that the Mackenzie Government does not at once stop the storing of goods in bond at New York by American merchants, their subsequent sale by sample in Canada, and their shipment through without any other duty than the Canadian tariff charges. Now all the Canadian Government can do in such a case is to collect the duty at the frontier. This is done, and the Dominion loses nothing. It is the American Government that is defrauded by its own subjects, who are tempted to act thus by the excessive import duties charged them by Uncle Sam. It may be said that they not only smuggle goods; but that they also get the Government to store them. All the Canadian Government can do in such a case is to call the attention of the United States authorities to what is going on. This has already been done; and that the practice has not been effectually stamped out is only a proof of the incapacity of the American Government, so admired and praised just now by Canadian Tories. A higher Canadian duty on these goods would scarcely induce the sharp American operator to pay their duty more readily than they do now; and it would prove anything but an advantage to our own importers. The best way to stop the fraud is to lower, or remove, the American duty.

THE FARMER AND PROTECTION.

From a little pamphlet addressed to the Farmers of Canada, from leading articles in the Canadian Granger newspaper, we take the following extracts, as the views of one who has made a special study of the interests of the farming community:—

"It has always appeared to us that if one class of the community was less in need of what is called "protection" than any other, that was the farming class. The farmer is the great producer of the first necessaries of life; he is, therefore, in the most secure position of any class of the community. If he prudently varies his crops and products, they can never all fail together, except, perhaps in the case of a plague of grasshoppers, or some other general calamity, and then he must suffer with the rest of the community. But under such circumstances, if he happened to be protected by an import duty on agricultural products, he would very soon wish it removed. In the nature of things the farmer cannot be competed with at home by others at a distance. No one carries coal to Newcastle, nor will water run up hill. But if a farmer, or a number of farmers, should attempt to cultivate very poor land, so that they could not produce as cheaply as their neighbors, that would be no reason that the food produced in the whole country should be raised in price for their especial benefit, as that would place all other producers at a disadvantage, and would re-act upon themselves by the increase of the prices of other commodities. All the farmer requires is to be let alone. He is protected by his position, and all interference with his interest will be productive of evil, as it is in all other cases. The farmer, like all other individuals in the world is benefitted by plenty, but the efforts of the protectionists, if successful, would produce scarcity all around, which, in turn, would induce a slackness in the demand for labor, because it destroys capital by rendering labor less productive. Free Trade is best for all countries, whether manufacturing or agricultural. Let us take a slight review of the trade in the Dominion. In referring to the imports and exports for the last two years 1874-5, we find we have imported about ten millions of bushels of Indian corn, and exported half that quantity. Of barley, at the same time, we have exported nearly ten millions of bushels, and imported none. Of wheat we have imported thirteen millions of bushels, and exported eleven. Of flour imported nine hundred thousand barrels, and exported eight hundred thousand barrels. Thus of the superior grains, barring out other farm products, we export nearly twice as much as we import, and what does this teach us? Simply that it would be impossible to benefit the Canadian farmer by a tax on grain, because prices could not be generally raised under such circumstances, as one-third of our farm products would still have to seek a foreign market, and that would regulate prices. If the tax had any influence at all it would prevent reciprocal trade. It would injure the growing of barley and the importers of indian corn, and would cut off the profit at present arising from that trade. We would have to produce all the Indian corn we required, at a disadvantage, and cease to grow barley for export. We should have to grow more wheat, which, no doubt, would have a tendency to decrease prices and profits, as we should have so much more to force into the European markets. It is sheer folly to suppose that the interests of a community, or even a class, can be promoted at the expense of another class, or of another community. In the event of a scarcity, or a fair, which is much the same thing, all will eventually suffer alike. In extensive countries, in spite of the rapidness of trade, it is often found that while in one place they are importing a certain commodity, they are at some other part, perhaps at the opposite extremity of the country, exporting the same kind of commodity. And why is this? Simply because there is a demand for the commodity in one place, and a facility in obtaining it, and in the other the circumstances are reversed, and the cost of carriage to equalize the deficiency would be more than the duty on importation."

"There can be no doubt, whatever may be said to the contrary, that an extensive manufacturing system is an extensive evil, because it produces vice and misery, as well as wealth. If it were natural that population should congregate together in large cities by millions, and produce were luxuries instead of necessaries, it would be foolish to complain; but such large centres of population are an unnatural growth, and show an unhealthy state of the body politic, which at least ought not to be encouraged."

"One thing we may say, however, that what is called a protective tariff will be found to act differently under different circumstances. At the time of the enactment of the tariff of the United States they were exporters of gold, to the amount of fifty or sixty millions a year, consequently the usual price paid for their imports was higher than that of their exports. Therefore the reflux of coin required from other countries to bring up the price of imports, so that the importer could pay the duty without loss, was very small. The difference, however, in the two years, 1861 and 1862, from the usual exports, was 110 millions of dollars."

"Should our import duties be increased as the manufacturers wish, we should have to import gold, unless the paper currency was simultaneously, or previously, increased sufficiently to bring the prices of foreign goods up, so that the duty could be paid with the usual profit. Then the same quantity, allowing for a slight decrease caused by the increased price, would be imported as before."

"The manufacturers know very well that this could not benefit the farmer, while he is an exporter of grain and other produce. Why not, if they are honest, give him a bounty on the export of all kinds of agricultural produce, and place him at once, upon an equal footing with himself? But this is not their purpose. It is on the principle of throwing a tub to the whole that the manufacturers advocate import duties on agricultural produce. They advocate a duty on the import, as well as a bounty on the production of iron. In this they are consistent as protectionists, but still, in the light of present experience, their whole programme is absurd. It puts one in mind of the old "Anti-Corn Law Catechism," the frontispiece of which represents a cage of monkeys at feeding time. A trough is represented in front of the cage, and the food, all of one kind, being poured into it, but no monkey seems to be content with the food set before him. Each is reaching over to that of his neighbor, while his neighbor is equally intent on stealing that of some other monkey. But this, though approaching it, is not quite a correct representation of the protective system, as each monkey would have an equal chance of stealing as much as his neighbor, which certainly is the case in trade under the protective system, and there must be a general decrease of profits. Therefore no country can gain as much by a forced system of production as they could by using their own facilities and exchanging with other nations. It is no doubt very pleasant to have one's interests protected especially when the protection is to be shared and enjoyed by the whole community. But the difficulty in respect to trade is, that such a thing is impossible. Each party to an exchange must obtain an equal value, but the profit on each side will depend on the wages and taxes, or in other words, the expenses to be incurred before the commodity reaches the consumer. If by a tax you take away the profit on one side, the trade will cease; but if the trade should continue in spite of the tax, the consumer will have to pay the tax as well as all other costs and profits."

"The idea that one country can tax another by imposing a tax on imports, is too absurd to be entertained by reasonable people, the country can do more than tax itself. It may destroy profit by destroying trade, but like Samson in the house of the Philistines, they must share in the destruction."

"Protection must always unbalance trade and production. First, by tending to induce an unnecessary increase of certain kinds of commodities, and secondly, as these commodities are increased in price, and are not the first necessaries of life, their consumption is to that extent prevented, and with other causes of like tendancy such as an undue increase of money, will finally bring on what is called a commercial crisis. But notwithstanding the manufacturers have come forward as instructors of the Government and the public, it seems possible that they may prove very unsafe guides for the agricultural and commercial part of the community."

"No country can be so secure of an even and continuous prosperity as the one that produces more of the first necessaries of life than the inhabitants require to consume. Canada, therefore, ought not to give any undue encouragement to the production of manufactures, as she has no peculiar facilities for such purpose. Ontario is already scarce of fuel, and will shortly be dependent on the United States for most of that important constituent of profitable manufacturers, and even at present, it costs double the price it can be procured for in the manufacturing districts of England, and wages are said to be lower there also. Therefore profitable competition would seem to be impossible. The great manufacturing strife of the world has commenced, and we have seen already some of its evil effects, but those countries must finally succeed in the race, who, while acting upon the principles of free trade, have the greatest material facilities and the cheapest labor. Canada had better stand from under and cultivate her land, and make use of what other facilities of production she may naturally possess, and let her manufacturers take care of themselves. The people will be much happier, and more generally prosperous. This will certainly be preferable to the programme of the monkeys, in neglecting the food that was before them, and trying to reach that which did not belong to them."

THE QUEBEC LEGISLATURE.

THE PROROGATION.

The prorogation of the first session of the fourth Parliament of the Province of Quebec, took place on Saturday, the Lieut.-Governor dismissing the members with the following speech:—

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:
"Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

"I have been deeply gratified by the legislative measures which you have passed during the session, and particularly by that which, insuring this Province a reduction in the general expenses, looks to a re-establishment of an equilibrium between our income and our expenditure.

"You have proved by your important deliberations the value which you attach to the benefits of the constitutional system under which we are governed; a system which confers upon the people of this Province the inalienable right of being consulted on all matters connected with their interests.

"Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

"I thank you for the liberality with which you have voted the supplies, and I shall take care that they are wisely expended with a view to the greatest advantage of the people of this Province.

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I beg of you to accept the good wishes which I offer for your welfare and for the general prosperity of this Province; prosperity which can only be secured by the respect of all for constituted authority, and by the maintenance of peace and order of which you are the chief guardians."

The Speaker of the Legislative Council then said:

"Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:
"Gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

"It is his Excellency the Lieut.-Governor's will and pleasure that this Provincial Parliament be prorogued until To-day, the twenty-seventh day of August next, to be here held, and the Provincial Parliament is accordingly prorogued until Tuesday, the 27th day of August."

WHO PAYS THE DUTY?

From the Journal of Commerce.

Leading statesmen and journalists seem to be much exercised at present as to the proper answer to the questions with which we have headed this article. It is contended, on the one hand, that the duty imposed on goods entering a country must necessarily fall on the consumer of those goods, while on the other hand, it is as vehemently affirmed that in many cases the duty really falls on the foreign exporter. With regard to certain articles of consumption in a country, viz., such as either cannot be produced at all, or at such cost as to render their production practically impossible, it seems to be admitted that the duty is paid by the consumer. Tea is a fair specimen of this class of articles, and as it is one of very general consumption in the present day, it seems as fair an article as any other on which to impose a revenue duty. As an illustration of the effect of protective duties, that on horses has been cited as an instance in which the duty falls on the exporter. It is contended that, as the price of horses in the United States is much higher than in Canada, the duty in the United States falls on the Canadian exporter. This, however is a fallacy. If there were no duties whatever on horses, either in Canada or the United States, the price would clearly be regulated by the ordinary rule of supply and demand, and would fluctuate accordingly. The fact that Canada raises horses more than sufficient to supply her own market, and that, notwithstanding the duty, she nevertheless exports them, proves that if there were no duty she would probably export more of them, but even on the supposition that the supply was the same, there can be little doubt that the effect of a removal of the duty would be a reduction of the price. Of course the price might be so reduced that it would be unprofitable to raise horses at all, but it is highly improbable that for an article in such general demand any such result would follow. The Canadian farmer is probably on the whole, in a position to go into the market on more advantageous terms than the American competitor, because he pays less for articles of general consumption. We may, however, assume that they are on nearly an equal footing as to the raising of horses. On this assumption it must be clear that the effect of the duty in the United States is to protect the American farmer and enable him to get a better price for his horses than he would do if there were no duty at all. The probability is that if there were no duty in the United States the price of horses would be much less than at present, because, if Canadians are willing to sell at prices which enable the foreign importers to pay the American duty, they would be equally ready to do so if there were no duties. It is clear that, as a rule, no articles will be exported from one country to another for sale unless it is advantageous to the exporter to sell them. We do not refer, of course, to losses owing to a sudden fall in the market or to mistaken speculation, but to sales in the ordinary way. In the case of our Canadian farmers, if we are not mistaken they make their sales of horses to a great extent at home. American horse dealers come to Canada and buy up horses for export, and of course have to pay what the farmer considers a remunerative price. The theory on the subject is that the effect of strictly protective duties is to raise the price of the protected article by the amount of the duty. It was contended by many, when the question of the repeal of the Corn Laws was under consideration, that the foreigners paid the duty, but that doctrine has long been exploded, and there can be no doubt that the effect of the repeal has been to reduce considerably the price of breadstuffs, although there have been occasions in times of scarcity when prices have fluctuated very considerably. Those who advocate protective duties claim as the effect would be to encourage home industry by raising prices, a theory which is quite inconsistent with that to which we have called attention, and which nevertheless has been propounded by more than one of the Protectionist journals. It must not be imagined that we mean to deny that the absolution of the duty on horses in the United States would be of material benefit to Canadian farmers. The population of the United States being so much larger than that of Canada, it seems probable that the demand would be sufficient to prevent so large a reduction of price as the full amount of the duty. With perfect free trade the prices would fluctuate according to the supply and demand, but that is would be what it is, while the present duty is exacted, would be contrary to all experience.

A CATHOLIC VIEW OF AN ORANGE WALK.

The following letter appeared last week in the Toronto Tribune:—

To the Editor of the Tribune:

SIR,—The annual insult was celebrated here with the usual pomp and show of imaginary greatness. There were captains, masters and directors, marshals, and field marshals of the empire of insanity, and as I stood a silent spectator looking at the crowd, many strange thoughts flashed through my mind, partly in pity and partly in disgust. Pity for the simple and ignorant, for they were the predominant party, and disgust at the enlightened who would "sow the whirl wind" for the attainment of their own sordid aims. There I saw the man with drawn sword, while beside him was another tramping through the dirt and dust with the open bible carried on a little board with strings suspended round his neck, the sword was, I suppose to protect the bible just as if any one wanted to destroy it. There was the magistrate, sworn as the Queen's representative to preserve the peace, doing just exactly what he well knew was calculated to arouse the bitterest feelings of strife in the minds of those to whom the uncalled for insult is annually given. And there was the minister of the Gospel—thank God, there was only one in this crowd—whose mission is a mission of peace, flaunting his Orange rag in the face of his neighbour. Just as if the entire support sustenance and welfare of Protestantism depended upon the gaudy display of a few hundred July tramps insulting their fellow citizens, who are equally bound to support "the powers that be." The support of the British constitution. Orangemen will tell you, in the sum total of their aim. Very well, we are all bound to that, and if signs of disloyalty crop out in some isolated instances who more than the Orangemen is to blame for it? Why not let by-gones be by-gones and not be annually rendering feelings of strife which are wholly unnecessary towards the maintenance of what they pretend to uphold? Why, it is just like one man licking another, and after thrashing him and taking all he possessed, following him across the seas where such bitterness should be unknown, and telling him once a year, "here fellow-citizen we have been living on amicable terms for the last twelve months, but this is the anniversary of the day upon which I licked you before; look here are the weapons and I can lick you again." Such a man would be held up to public scorn, and yet the two things are just as much alike as two beans. If it is a day's pleasure they want, there are plenty of other days, Dominion Day, the Queen's Birthday, St. George's Day, the St. Andrew's Day, St. Patrick's Day, &c. Ought not those days suffice?

It is quiet patent to all that there is something vicious at the bottom of Orangeism. Orangemen want to parade their superior loyalty, and claim exclusive privileges, and make the Catholic as disloyal as they can.

LOCAL NEWS.

Private Reservation.—Quite a number of private excursions have been held lately both down the river and up the lakes.

Personal.—Mr. J. O. Madison and Mrs. Madison leave this week for Virginia, to spend their summer holidays. We wish them a pleasant time.

Postponement.—Owing to sickness, the entertainments announced by the Polytechnic Company on Saturday and Monday evenings were postponed indefinitely.

Autumn Chancery Sittings.—The autumn sittings of the Court of Chancery at Peterborough will commence on the 28th of October; in Lindsay on the 31st of October.

Fall Show.—The tenth annual exhibition of the East Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society, will be held in the village of Keene, on Thursday and Friday, the 10th and 11th of October.

New Post Offices.—On the 1st of July the following new post offices were opened in this district. "Bookang," Stanhope, Joseph Beaty, postmaster, "Peterson's Corners," Minden, Jas. Joy, postmaster.

Blown Down.—During the gale on Sunday afternoon a large popular tree in front of the City Laundry, on Simcoe street, was blown down. The telegraph wires were considerably damaged by its fall.

General Exhibition.—The Central Exhibition will be held at Cobourg on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 1st, 2nd and 3rd. A copy of the prize list can be obtained on application at this office.

Canada.—The Winnipeg Free Press of the 9th of July, contains the following:—

A Canoe, built by Mr. W. English, of Peterborough, Ont., for Mr. Lucas, of the C. P. R., was brought in by the Dakota this morning. It is a model craft, and will doubtless astonish the natives.

Parlor Social.—We have been requested to state that a Parlor Social in aid of the funds of Friendship Temple, will be held at the residence of Mr. Joseph Buller, on Wednesday evening next, commencing at eight o'clock. Admission ten cents.

Court House Improvements.—Tenders will be received up to Tuesday, the 6th of August, for the proposed alterations and additions to the Court House. The plans and specifications can be seen at the office of J. E. Belcher, County Engineer.

Enlarged.—The Lakefield News comes to us this week enlarged to an eight page paper, or in all, — words, twice its former size. It contains a very large amount of reading matter—six of its pages being known by printers as "patent," that is, printed away from home.

Broom Corn.—We were shown yesterday morning a fine specimen of broom corn, grown by Mr. John Cosley. The stalk measured four feet in height. Mr. Cosley has about an acre under cultivation and expects it to be a paying crop, although its tillage is generally considered to be unprofitable in this section of the country.

Lodge of Instruction.—R. W. Bro. E. Hopkins, D. D. G. M., will hold a District Lodge of Instruction in the Masonic Hall, Peterborough, on Tuesday and Wednesday, 30th and 31st inst., when M. W. Bro. W. H. Waller, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada, will be present. A large gathering is expected from all parts of the District.

Pic-Nic at Idyl-Wild.—The Roman Catholics of Cobourg are to have a mammoth pic-nic at Idyl-Wild, on Tuesday, 30th of July, when the Peterborough and Cobourg Base Ball Clubs will play a match game. The steamer Golden Rule will run from Peterborough, and the Whistle-Wing from Hastings. Return ticketsgood for two days 50 cents.

School Board.—A special meeting of the School Board was called for Tuesday evening, but as there was no business of a very urgent nature to be transacted, a sufficient number of the members to constitute a quorum did not put in an appearance, consequently there was no meeting. Messrs. Stevenson, Cox, Kincaid, Stoneman, Errett and Menzies, being the members present.

The Rice Lakes.—During the past few weeks quiet a number of our business men and citizens have been camping down the river and at the back lakes, where they have gone to enjoy their holidays and escape the heat, and we guess going to say, avoid being dunned for their half-yearly accounts.) The huckleberries are reported a failure this season, owing to the late frosts, but the fishing is excellent.

Look Out.—The Port Hope Times of this week says:—We learn by the daily papers that detective Smith, of London, has recently fined several merchants throughout the country for selling Paris Green. It is contrary to law for anyone but duly registered druggists to sell this article, and if anyone in these parts, in ignorance of the law bearing on this point, has been selling it, they should stop it at once, for no one knows when a detective might make his business to pay the place a visit. We suppose the next move will be to prevent the hardware merchants from selling white-lead. One is just as poisonous as the other, and both are used by painters.

Help in Harvesting.—There is a cry from all parts of the country for help to gather in the ripening crops. The continued hot weather has brought on a simultaneous ripeness of the various grains, and the farmers are hard pressed to find means for gathering the abundant produce of their fields. If the unemployed who hang around the cities and towns would go into the country and assist the farmers in their harvest operations they would be doing a service not only to themselves but to the nation. As for tramps, it is no charity to give me to their begging appeals while the ripening crops are crying out for labor. There is no excuse for idleness at a time like this.

Municipal Elections.—The following is a list of the candidates at the Collegiate Institute, who passed provisionally. Seven other names have been submitted to the Central Board for approval, but no answer has been received yet.

The Correspondence between Mr. Mackenzie and Mayor Beaudry on the Peace Measures. The Premier Defines the Position—The Mayor's Theories.

MONTREAL, July 16.—The following is the correspondence between the Premier and the Mayor in relation to the preservation of the peace on the 12th of July.—

"OFFICE OF THE MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS, CANADA.

"OTTAWA, June 19, 1878.

"DEAR SIR,—I feel very great anxiety about the maintenance of the peace in Montreal on the occasion of the Orange Celebration in that city on the 12th prox., and would be glad to know what measures you propose to adopt to secure the preservation of order on that day. Of course I am quite aware that the maintenance of order is in the hands of the local authorities, but I am desirous of aiding, as far as the law permits the Federal Government to do so, and perhaps you will not seriously object to my expressing my opinion to you personally as to what I think it would be advisable to do. I have observed lately a communication in the public newspapers from the authorities of the Orange Society in Montreal, which states that if you would guarantee their protection on their march through a portion of the city to church, none of the organisation referred to would go out of the city for assistance. It is to be regretted that any portion of the community should feel it desirable to have party processions, and of course I would much prefer in this if the parties interested felt disposed to dispense with their processions. They, however, are disposed to claim the right which all persons possesses of appearing in this way in the public streets, and I cannot help thinking that it would be a wise course for the authorities of the city to let it be understood that in the exercise of such they will be protected. I had communication with some representatives of the Orange body when lately in Toronto, and I pressed upon them the advisability of their remaining at home instead of going to Montreal on the 12th July. I feel quite certain that if you felt at liberty to adopt the course I have indicated, you would have no stranger in your city on that day, and the intensity of the public interest which centres upon the possible events of the day would be relaxed, and the proceedings would be looked upon as the ordinary proceedings which often take place on such occasions in other localities. In any case, I will be glad to hear from you at your earliest convenience if you are disposed to consider my representations or advice.

"Yours faithfully,

(Signed), "A. MACKENZIE.

"His Worship Mayor BEAUDRY, Montreal."

"MONTREAL, 21st June, 1878.

"DEAR SIR,—Your letter dated the 18th inst., reached me only this morning on my return from Quebec, where I had to attend the Legislative Council. This will explain the delay in answering it. In view of the imminent danger which seems to threaten our city, I cannot conceal my satisfaction at hearing of your desire to aid as far as the law permits the Federal Government to do so in the maintenance of order; and allow me to add that your suggestions are received by me with all the respect and consideration they deserve. I shall therefore avail myself of this opportunity to submit to your kind attention a few observations. The local authorities have the necessary power to preserve the peace within the limits of the city and amongst its own citizens, but the real danger comes evidently from the large number of persons who declare their intention of coming from other Provinces into Montreal to impose upon a large portion of its citizens a demonstration which is most distasteful to them. Last year thousands of men fully armed invaded our city, and this year the newspapers of a neighbouring Province have intimated that we shall be again visited by a much larger number. In such an emergency, I would ask, have we not a right to be protected by the Federal Government against attacks coming from outside, not only of our city, but of our Province? If we judge by our experience of last year, these men will certainly come all armed in violation of the Federal Act promulgated during last session. Whose duty is it to see that the law is that respect be rigorously enforced? I would humbly submit that this is not a mere municipal affair and that it is incumbent upon the Federal authorities to take all the necessary measures to prevent a violation of the law. Now, dear sir, allow me to offer a few remarks on the desirability of protecting with all the power vested in the municipal authorities the Orange Association in the intended demonstration. If, as they pretend, they form a legal society like any other that is in the habit of walking in the streets, of course they are entitled to the fullest protection; but if they have not the same character, if on the contrary they are prohibited by a positive statute, then what would be the justification of magistrates or justices of the peace or other officials who would undertake to countenance their proceedings? In connection with this question, be kind enough to allow me to refer to the following statutes, 2nd Vic., 2nd chap., 8, 36, Consolidated Statutes L. C., chap., 10, 29 Vic., chap., 46. The first statute above mentioned is based nearly word for word on the Imperial Statute 39, George III., chap. 79. I am advised that in section 6 of 2nd Vic. 2, chap. 8, several of the distinctive features constituting "an illegal combination or confederacy" are applicable to the Orange Association. Should that interpretation be the correct one, what do you think I ought to do? Did I not fear to trespass upon your kindness, I would respectfully suggest that the opinion of the law officers of the Dominion be solicited on the statutes quoted. Thus the pretensions of the parties could be settled, and the present difficulty greatly lessened. In conclusion allow me assure you of my determination to do my duty within the limits of the law, and that I will receive with gratitude and very sincere thanks any observations you may please address to me in answer to the above.

"I have the honour to be, sir'

"Your most obedient servant,

"J. L. BEAUDRY, "Mayor.

"Office of the Minister of Public Works, Canada."

"OTTAWA, July 2, 1878.

"DEAR SIR,—Your letter of the 21st June, in reply to mine of the 18th, respecting the anticipated proceedings on the 12th July, was received during my absence from Ottawa. I now propose to refer to one or two points which you mention in your letter as having given you some trouble. You state that the local authorities have the necessary power to preserve the peace within the limits of the city, and amongst its own citizens, but the real danger comes evidently from the large number of persons who declare their intention of coming from other Provinces into Montreal to impose upon a large portion of its citizens a demonstration which is most distasteful to them, and you ask if in such an emergency you have not a right to be protected by the Federal Government against attacks coming from the outside. In reply, I have to say that it makes no difference whatever in regard to the legal or moral obligations imposed upon the local or Provincial authorities if there should be any rioting, where the rioters may come from, as the magistrates of another Province cannot follow their citizens into the Province of Quebec, and the Federal Government have no power whatever under the law to interfere with the execution of the law, in Provincial, relating to the peace. In this connection you refer to the Act of last session, entitled an Act for the Better Prevention of Crimes of Violence in Certain Parts of Canada; but you will observe by reading this Act that it confers no power whatever upon the Federal Government, though in any district which is proclaimed under the Act by the Federal Government, extensive powers are confery d upon the magistrates, constables, and peace officers, for the disarming of any parties, and the summary dealing with offenders against the provisions of the act. As you are aware the City of Montreal and the County of Hochelaga were sometime ago proclaimed under this Act, and therefore the legal authorities are entrusted with all the powers which that Act confers. The next matter to which you refer is the legal existence of the Orange Association, and you state you are advised that the Act, 2nd Vic., chap. 8, sec. 6, and the Consolidated Statutes of Lower Canada, chap. 10, and 29 Vic., chap. 46, should be construed as showing that the Orange Association is an illegal combination or confederacy, you ask me, should that interpretation be a correct one—what I think you ought to do. You suggest that the opinion of the law officers of the Dominion be solicited on the statutes quoted. With regard to this I have to state that the law officers of the Dominion have no right to give advice to the Provincial authorities. That rests with the Attorney-General of the Province interested. But I do not think it is material whether your interpretation of the statutes in question be the correct one or not. Even in the event of the Orange Association being, as you designate it, an illegal confederacy, that would in no way relieve you as Mayor or the magistrates and peace officers of the city from the protecting them individually as citizens. Individuals who happen to belong to the association in question have the same right to assemble together for the purpose of walking in public in procession that any other parties have. This would not interfere with any prosecution instituted by the local authorities for belonging to an illegal combination and the imposition of any penalty, provided by such Acts. Their general rights as citizens remain, however, intact; and it is the absolute right of every citizen to walk the public streets, and this may be exercised by them individually or together, and the mere fact that every person in a collection of persons walking together happens to belong to an illegal association, or to several illegal associations, does not render unlawful his act of walking the public streets alone or in company, and there is no Act that I am aware of prohibiting such processional walking. I cannot help, therefore, urging you with all the energy I possess to lose no time in making the most vigorous preparations in your power for maintaining the public peace. I feel confident that if you, yourself, and the other magistrates combined, intimate in some way to the public that parties in the exercise of their rights will be protected, you will have no irruption from a distance, and you have the power under the Act to require all parties coming by trains to the city some days before the 12th, to be searched and disarmed, as well as to disarm all parties in the city itself, who are likely to cause trouble. If it is known that such vigorous steps will be taken by yourself and the magistracy of the city, I have no doubt you will get over the occasion without any difficulty. I have also to ask that you should consider what force may be necessary, and make a requisition either upon the Lieut-General in command at Ottawa, or upon the Deputy Adjutant-General, as you deem best, at as early a day as possible, and I will see that the troops immediately in the pay of the Dominion, as well as some other volunteer regiments, are available for the preservation of the peace.

"I am,

"Your obedient servant,

(Signed), "A. MACKENZIE.

To His Worship Mayor BEAUDRY, Montreal.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Failures for the First Half of 1878.

According to the semi-annual circular of R. G. Dun & Co's Mercantile Agency, the failures for the first six months of the present year show an enormous increase. The public mind has in some measure become prepared for this revelation by the frequency with which these misfortunes have been chronicled by the press, but it remains for the Agency to put into shape the final results of the period under review, and to draw from the compilation such inferences as appear to be warranted by the facts presented. This has been done in the usual exhaustive manner, and we condense the following from the elaborate document before us. For the purposes of comparison we group together the following statement, which will illustrate at a glance the significance of the figures for the past six months:

First six months in	No. of Failures.	Amount of Liabilities.	Average Liabilities.
1875	3,663	$ 76,884,209	$21,367
1876	4,020	108,415,429	23,595
1877	4,749	99,808,171	20,974
1878	5,925	130,834,705	22,080

The failures for the half year just closed are thus shown to be in number over 25 per cent. greater than in 1877, while the liabilities indicate a percentage of increase still greater.

These figures are of very grave import, if taken as an indication of the state of trade, for according to the agency, never before in an equal period, in the history of the country, have business misfortunes been so numerous or aggregating an amount of loss by bad debts so great. But before accepting these statistics as a true test of the present condition of business, the circular before us urges some considerations in mitigation of the unfavourable conclusion which would otherwise be inevitable. These considerations are briefly enopsised as consisting of an unusually open winter, retarding sales, deliveries of produce, and collections; the discussions in and out of the Congress of financial measures, and the necessary condition of uncertainty that resulted; the possibility of important changes in the tariff; the postponement of the date of the repeal of the Bankrupt Law, and finally, the steady decline in prices of merchandise, and the general abrokage of values, which, it is said, have been more apparent in the past six months than ever before, especially whenever it became necessary to realise. In relation to these points, which are set out at length, the circular says:

"We have thus briefly endeavored to enumerate five leading considerations, which, combined with others always existing, have had a prevailing influence in the past six months toward increasing the figures of failures given above. When it is considered that there are now over 700,000 persons and firms reported in active business by this Agency, and that of this vast army only a limited number possess a surplus sufficient to withstand such a lengthened period of depression, disappointment and loss, as it has been the fate of the country to undergo, it need not be considered as a measure of great disaster that additional circumstances unfavorable should swell the failure list to the extent above recorded. That these circumstances were only temporary in their duration, and that certain of them may have a tendency to lessen the number of failures hereafter, are points in favor of the future: and therefore, however discouraging the figures above presented may at first appear, it would be unfair to regard them as an index to the real or permanent condition of the country."

The following paragraph still further sets forth the state of the case, and appears to contain a good deal of sound sense:

"That there are still too many in business in proportion to its volume and its profitableness there is no denying, and that failures are likely to occur while this condition lasts is equally certain; but this does not alter the great fact that the country is rapidly recovering itself, and that by the success of agricultural operations great bodies of producers over vast sections of the country are materially increasing their purchasing power. It is true that in numerous manufacturing centres depression still reigns, and no revival is hoped for so long as the capacity to produce so temporarily exceeds the probable demand. That this view has become a settled conviction in many minds, even among the operatives themselves, is a hopeful sign, for the necessity will then become apparent, when a numerous class should adapt themselves to other industries; and, the fact that at Government House, Sir John must have visited Rideau Hall once a day for three hundred days of the year. He wonder that Mr. Blake found the business of the Department of Justice in such a disgraceful state of backwardness and confusion, if Sir John spent his whole time, as he intimates, in shadowing the Governor-General! We have no doubt that his official communication, as Premier, with the Crown's representative, is quite as constant on Mr. Mackenzie's part, as on that of his predecessor, yet Mr. Mackenzie's departmental cab-hire for the two years of 1875-76 and 1876-77 were only $62.75. The fact is, Sir John's able "explanation" is rank humbug. The alleged "cab-hire" was simple extravagance, the details of which he knows very well would not stand investigation—it would turn out to be too much like the "sundries" item, a certain class of groceries accounts. And how about the postage account, the telegraph account, and the travelling expenses account? In Sir John's last year his travelling expenses cost the public $1,218.13, and those of Mr. Blake only $31.35. Similarly compared, his telegraphic account was $4,371.88 against $389 for Mr. Blake; his postage cost $498.37, and Mr. Blake's only $125.77; while the correspondence of the Department under Mr. Blake was treble what it was in Sir John Macdonald's last year. As to the subject of salary, Sir John Macdonald himself passed the statute by which Mr. Mackenzie found his salary regulated on assuming office. But just think of what an opportunity the ex-Premier lost of "protecting the struggling industries of the country," by stimulating the calves of his legs and the boot and shoe trade, in not accepting the alternative of "footing it" to Rideau Hall three hundred days in the year.

CANADA'S MARINE.

The comparative tables contained in the supplemental report of the Department of Marine and Fisheries show that Canada stands fifth among the maritime nations of the world, and that her vessels are steadily increasing in number from year to year. The British empire of course comes first on the list, with a tonnage of 7,677,024. The United States comes next, with 2,564,980; then Norway, with 1,391,877 and Italy, with 1,360,425; then Canada, with 1,310,468 tons. Germany has 300,000 tons less than Canada, and France nearly 500,000 tons less. Last year there were 432 vessels, with a tonnage of 120,928, built in Canada, which, estimated at $45 per ton, gives their value at $5,441,760, and estimating the value of our whole marine at $30 a ton, gives $39,314,040. A statement is given by provinces of the vessels and tonnage on the registry books of the Dominion from 1873 to 1877. We extract the following figures:—

	1873. Vessels.	Tons.	1877. Vessels.	Tons
New Brunswick	1,147	277,850	1,133	329,447
Nova Scotia	2,803	449,701	2,981	641,579
Quebec	1,842	214,043	1,951	248,399
Ontario	891	86,127	980	121,761
P. E. Island	289	38,918	342	55,547
British Columbia	30	4,065	43	3,479
Manitoba			6	516
	6,783	1,073,718	7,362	1,310,468

There is thus an increase of 579 vessels and 236,750 tons. There were 1828 new vessels built since 1873, with a tonnage of 593,597. Our marine is thus seen to be in a most prosperous condition, and should it continue to progress as it has done; of which there seems every prospect, Canada will soon rank second only to Great Britain and the United States as a maritime power.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

It is satisfactory to learn, as we do from an Ottawa paper, that the lumber interest in that section is reviving. Several of the largest mills have again commenced running on full time, and it is likely that all will shortly resume operations. The general trade of the capital, too, is improving. Business houses that have stood idle for years have been rented, while the stringency that formed such a marked feature of the money market of late years, shows cheerful indications of relaxation. The importance of the lumber trade to Canada, and how seriously a depression in that article affects the country, may be judged from the following figures:—

PRODUCTS OF THE CANADIAN FOREST EXPORTED TO THE STATES.

1872-3	$13,004,271
1873-4	9,871,749
1874-5	6,504,736
1875-6	4,973,354
1876-7	4,798,594

This falling off of nearly nine millions of dollars in one industry alone, taken in connection with deficient harvests for several years, accounts in a great measure for the depression in Canada. With a reviving trade in lumber and a prospect of a splendid harvest it looks as if good times were in store for us once more.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Stamps even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL Lowell, Mass.

ELECTRICITY.

Thomas' Eclesiair Electric Oil—Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold—Pain Cannot stay where it is used.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity has took off eight years standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contractions, of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One tea-spoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles that it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied, often and bowed up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and aches, and wounds of every description as soon as there.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

POLITICAL PIC-NIC SEASON.

Sir John A Macdonald opened the political pic-nic season by a demonstration at Parkhill. The following extract from a report of his speech deserves attention as the utterance of the heaven-born statesman. After perusing it, Reformers may feel thankful that none of their leaders lay claim to the splendid abilities of the chieftain:—

"He referred to his visits to various portions of the Province, and where-ever he had gone, no matter what the political complexion of his audience was, he had always received the kindest consideration of those who had come to listen to him. The people had heard a great deal of the faults of his person. No doubt they expected to see him, horns, hoofs and all. He was nothing to boast of in looks. Like an old horse, he was a rum un to look at but a rare un to go. (Loud laughter.) He told a story of two old ladies who were discussing his personal appearance at a picnic—one of whom said, "Isn't he a darling?" and the other said, "Troth I have come nine miles to see him and bedad I left a better looking man at home." (Great laughter.) He called their attention to the prosperity that prevailed at the time he held office, that law and order were everywhere observed, and contentment covered the land. How different it is now. He read from his own speech in Peterborough in 1872, showing how great the prosperity was at that time. When he stated among other things that farmers got good prices, mechanics were well remunerated and industries flourished, under his rule, while the weevil came with the Grits. (Laughter and applause.) He claimed that he was almost a prophet, for though the weevil did not come, the Colorado bug did. (Laughter.) There were good crops now, but it was because the Grits were going out. The clerk of the weather was a good Conservative, and he was directing the weather so as to favor the growing crops knowing that a Conservative Government was going to get the benefit of them.

Sir John's Cab-Hire Explanation.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

This is ingenious; but, it has a certain element of thinness about it. The fact of the matter is that, according to the Public Accounts, Sir John's cab hire was not $62.75, but $1,062.50 in one year, as against $14.30 under Mr. Blake's rule. Sir John's "communication with Rideau Hall" must have been "constant," indeed. Allowing $3.25 cents per trip to Government House, Sir John must have visited Rideau Hall once a day for three hundred days of the year. He wonder that Mr. Blake found the business of the Department of Justice in such a disgraceful state of backwardness and confusion, if Sir John spent his whole time, as he intimates, in shadowing the Governor-General! We have no doubt that his official communication, as Premier, with the Crown's representative, is quite as constant on Mr. Mackenzie's part, as on that of his predecessor, yet Mr. Mackenzie's departmental cab-hire for the two years of 1875-76 and 1876-77 were only $62.75. The fact is, Sir John's able "explanation" is rank humbug. The alleged "cab-hire" was simple extravagance, the details of which he knows very well would not stand investigation—it would turn out to be too much like the "sundries" item, a certain class of groceries accounts. And how about the postage account, the telegraph account, and the travelling expenses account? In Sir John's last year his travelling expenses cost the public $1,218.13, and those of Mr. Blake only $31.35. Similarly compared, his telegraphic account was $4,371.88 against $389 for Mr. Blake; his postage cost $498.37, and Mr. Blake's only $125.77; while the correspondence of the Department under Mr. Blake was treble what it was in Sir John Macdonald's last year. As to the subject of salary, Sir John Macdonald himself passed the statute by which Mr. Mackenzie found his salary regulated on assuming office. But just think of what an opportunity the ex-Premier lost of "protecting the struggling industries of the country," by stimulating the calves of his legs and the boot and shoe trade, in not accepting the alternative of "footing it" to Rideau Hall three hundred days in the year.

ESTABLISHED 1858.

GEO. A. COX would respectfully intimate to the insuring public of Peterborough and Vicinity that for over 19 years he has been doing a successful and steadily increasing Insurance business; the many losses that have occured during that time have EVERY ONE been promptly and honorably paid, and NOT A SINGLE CLAIM CONTESTED.

He still continues to solicit business for such old and reliable companies as THE ROYAL OF LIVERPOOL established in 1845. Assets over Ninteen Millions of Dollars.

THE NORTH BRITISH & MERCANTILE, of Edinburgh established in 1809, with accumulations of Twenty-three Millions of Dollars.

THE PHŒNIX OF LONDON, established in 1782, and which or nearly one hundred years has paid losses averaging $1,344 per day.

These companies have all passed through the great fires of Quebec, Chicag Boston, New York, Portland and St. John, and the enormous l sses were a promptly paid without affecting their stability in the least degree.

"Don't Bite off More than You can Chew."

Among the phrases that I've heard
While plodding on my humble way,
There's none that has so deeply stirred
My sense of humor, as they say,
Than one that hath an humble source,
Yet gives a lesson quaint but true
And strikes the mind with strenuous force:
"Don't bite off more than you can chew."

If you have pacifistic skill,
And wish some fellow's face to mar
'Tis always best to wait until
You've smoked at least one mild cigar;
And while you're smoking just reflect
That possibly he may whip you—
This maxim always recollect,
"Don't bite off more than you can chew."

When starting out in life, my friend,
And wish in business to engage,
Be cautious or you'll surely end
A failure on life's active stage.
Remember that it takes some brains
To be an Astor or a Drew;
No doubt to prominence attains—
"Don't bite off more than you can chew."

When looking 'round you for a wife,
Don't be "roped in" by some vain flirt
Who'd let you plod along through life
Without a button on your shirt.
In marriage if you go it blind
And bitch yourself to flirt or shrew,
Believe me, you will only find
You've "bit off more than you can chew."

When the author of these lines sat down
And wrote the heading big and clear,
He thought he'd do the thing up brown;
And spread his name both far and near,
But after an hour of weary toil,
He drops his pencil, feeling blue,
And sighs, "I waste the midnight oil"—
I've "bit off more than I can chew."

DUMMER.

LEAVING.—Dummer is about to lose one of its leading and useful men, in the person of Thos. G. Choate, Esq., Reeve, who is leaving for Peterborough where he intends leasing the Caisnie Temperance house, now conducted by Mr. J. Moloney. We wish him success.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning of last week, the residence of Mr. R. Robson, on the boundary line, was totally consumed by fire. The fire occurred about 4. a.m., when all the inmates were asleep. All of the household furniture was consumed, and the family were compelled to leave the house in their night clothing.

INDIAN RIVER.

LIQUOR CASE.—On Saturday afternoon last Inspector Drain arraigned Martin Guerin, temperance hotel keeper of Indian River, before Magistrates John Breckenridge and J. B. Pearce, for selling liquor on 3rd of July without license. After hearing the evidence, the magistrates deemed the charge sustained, and fined defendant $20, with costs amounting to $6.80.

FIRE.—On Wednesday of last week, about noon, Smith's hotel and Mr. Fox's grocery, at Indian River, were destroyed by fire. The outbuildings on the premises of both parties were also consumed and both are heavy losers, there being but few present to assist in saving property. The fire originated in the stables of Mr. Smith, caused by a spark from a burning fallow it its vicinity.

COBOURG.

In May last the crew of the yacht Star, of Cobourg, in a condition of great peril, were gallantly rescued by Mr. Robert Reddick, a lighthouse keeper. The gentlemen comprising the crew of the yacht represented the matter to the Department of Marine, and have received the following letter:—

OTTAWA, 22nd July, 1878.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to inform you that this Department has had under consideration the circumstances connected with your rescue on the 20th May last, by Mr. Robert Reddick, lighthouse keeper at Gull Rock, and it has been decided to award him a gold watch in recognition of his humane and gallant exertions on the occasion referred to, and on several previous occasions when he was instrumental in saving human life.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
WM. SMITH.
Deputy Minister of Marine, &c.

NORWOOD.

OUR SCHOOL.—There have been forty applications received in answer to an advertisement for a Head-Master for the Norwood High School.

BUSH FIRES.—A splendid field of Rye belonging to Mr. H. Fhistlethwait, an enterprising farmer of Asphodel caught fire from a bush fire burning in its vicinity, and a number of sheaves were destroyed, and also consumed a quantity of fencing. Last week he also suffered from a bush fire in Dummer, which consumed a fine lot of cedars. The loss on the cedars is estimated at about $1400. Rather a severe loss these hard times.

SAD ACCIDENT.—We regret to state that the Rev. E. Soward, Episcopal Minister of this village, met with a very serious accident on Sunday last. As he was leaving Westwood, a bolt got dislodged from the shafts of hisbuggy when the horse became unmanageable. The Rev. gentlemen was thrown out of the buggy, when he was several times kicked in the chest by the horse, breaking two of his ribs, one of which unfortunately pierced one of his lungs. Under the care of Dr. Ford the Rev. gentleman is recovering.—Register.

HINDEN.

Business is very dull, but that must be expected during the Present season, when all the farmers are busy harvesting the harvest crops which has even rewarded their labours.

A Railway meeting was held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday last. There was a good attendance and the subject was well discussed. The object was to secure the extension of the Nipissing Railroad to Minden. A deputation consisting of our solid men are to go to the front at an early date. There appears to be a reasonable hope that means will be found to extend the line from Cobocoank to this place. The Nipissing Company looked upon the project with considerable favour.

The Board of Examiners for the County of Haliburton duly met on Monday week, when twelve candidates presented themselves for Third Class Certificates, viz., seven ladies and five gentlemen. We give the names of the successful candidates. The new demand for a knowledge of Algebra, Euclid, and English literature materially interfered with their prospects. Eight of the aspirants have prepared themselves for the test in the before named subjects. Two under Mr. Leith, of Haliburton School, two under Mr. W. Ullman, of S. S. No. 2, Minden, one in England, one in Lindsay High School, and two in Norland. The following are the successful candidates: T. T. Grimmitt, S. E. Erskine, J. D. Reid, Caroline Andersone Mary Bevis, and for one year, Misses M. McIntosh, F. Hutchison, A. Hut and M. Ritchey.

LAKEFIELD.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—A feeling of genuine sympathy and sorrow overspread the village last Monday morning, when the intelligence reached here that Mr. Henry Heath had been drowned, accidentally, in Lake Katchewanoonkah. Monday was a very rough, windy day and the waves on the lake, from its shallowness, were short, cippy ones, and rendered navigation in a canoe very dangerous. The spot where the sad occurrence transpired is just about 150 yards from Mr. Grieve's boathouse, about two miles from the village. At once a crowd of sympathetic villagers proceeded to the scene and after a few hours search, discovered the body not far from where the accident took place. It was at once brought home. From the evidence it will be seen that Mr. Heath was once standing on solid ground after the upsetting of his canoe, and that he was a good swimmer. He must either have fainted or have been taken with cramps, as there was no outcry whatever from him. The deceased gentleman was noted for his quiet, inoffensive habits, and his sterling uprightness. He came to this country about five years ago from England, and at once settled in Lakefield, getting employment with the Strickland firm as engineer. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his sudden and unexpected end. One only is married, the rest being young children. They have the sincere sympathy of the community in their great bereavement.—News

CAMPBELLFORD.

A Notorious Burglar Committed to Cobourg Jail.

Late on Sunday night, or early on Monday morning, the store of W. S. Mills, in this village, was broken into, and five pair of boots stolen. At the same time, the burglar, a young woman entered Mr. R. Waller's harness shop, but failed in handling any money. Upon the matter becoming known, Mr. Mills, and Mr. Hopkins, set off on Tuesday for her arrest. The residence of her sister, a married woman, who resides near Meyersburg, was one place they entered, but she stoutly denied any knowledge of the matter. Upon being promised, however, after a good deal of persuasion that the affair should not come to law, the woman delivered up four pair of the boots, the fifth pair having been in the possession of the culprit. On Wednesday they again went in search of the girl, and captured her at a Mr. Keith's a few miles from Hastings where she had hired, and from whom she stole $4. Not far from this place, on her way thither, she entered a farm house while the occupants were in the fields, and stole a pair of boots, a dress, an over and under-skirt, a vest and other articles. On Tuesday night she was ejected from a store in Hastings, into which she had broken, and was carrying off a quantity of goods. Two recent robberies, one at Castleton, and the other at Warkworth, are now both believed to have been committed by this same individual. She was brought to this village for the night, and sent to Cobourg this (Thursday) morning. The girl who is known by the name of Tilly Reynolds, is a most licentious creature, and has lived a life of infamy and shame for some time past.—Herald

LINDSAY.

Young Burglars at Work—An Organized Gang—Some Arrests Made.

For some weeks past several residences have been entered and small sums of money and various articles taken, and the circumstances in each case have warranted the suspicion that a gang of young thieves and burglars have been at work. The residence of Rev. Mr. Hastie in particular has been favoured with their attentions, and the total amount of money stolen made quite a large sum. These burglaries were at first of a mysterious character, and no trace could be found; but the thieves getting bolder and less careful, paved the way to detection and the capture of some of them. Rev. Mr. Anderson's house was entered on Sunday, 14th inst., during church service, and a small sum of money (about $8) abstracted. We do not give details of all the robberies, because it would not at present be in the interests of justice so do so. A lad name Cottingham has been arrested on charge of entering Mr. Hastie's house, and there is strong evidence against him. A most serious matter in this connection is the fact that a regularly organized gang exists in the North Ward—and perhaps in other wards—for the purpose of stealing on every favourable opportunity. The children of some very respectable families are believed to have been enticed into the gang. Some of these boys are under ten years of age, and are, of course, simply tools in the hands of the larger boys, who by the help of the little fellows can effect robberies where experienced burglars would not succeed. There are two or three "black sheep" mainly responsible for this distressing state of affairs.

THE STURGEON HOTEL.—One result of the recent "thermal wave" has been a considerable influx of people from Toronto and other places seeking shelter from the heat in the shady oak grove and enjoying the breezes from the lake. This is one of the coolest and most delightful resorts in the Province and is steadily increasing in popular favour.

EMILY WHO!—A good story is told in Omemee which fully illustrates Sir John A. Macdonald's propensity for joke-making. It was during the time the Mounted Police were being organized for the Northwest that a prominent gentleman of Omemee applied for a commission in the force, but not having received a favorable reply he enlisted the influence of the late Mr. Dormer, who then represented the riding, while on the cars coming from Port Hope. Mr. Momee promised to do all he could to secure the position for his friend, and on arriving at Omemee station he got off the train and telegraphed Sir John to this effect: "Secure commission in Mounted Police for——— and you will please Emily and do me good." The following reply was afterwards received: "Emily who?" And Mr. Dormer had to explain that it was a township and not a lady.

CRICKET.—OMEMEE v. LINDSAY.—The return match between the Juniors of the above was played on the school grounds here, on Saturday last before quite a large number of spectators Lindsay winning the toss went in and were soon disposed of for 33 runs. Omemee in their first venture, owing to the excellent bowling of Jewett, only led their opponents by one run. In Lindsay's second innings 31 runs were captured, leaving Omemee 31 to make to win. This they succeeded in doing after a very exciting struggle, with one wicket to go down.

COMMITTED.—The unfortunate woman, Mrs. Burk, mentioned in last week's issue as being unsound in her mind, and having attempted to strangle her child, has been committed to goal for safe keeping.—Post.

BOBCAYGEON.

HEAVY GRAIN.—The Harvest has commenced and the farmers are all cutting their wheat. No doubt we shall hear some big stories of productive fields and heavy yields of grain.

FISHING.—Our many visitors pronounce the fishing this year to be excellent.

VISITORS.—The Holiday season is rapidly seting in. All the Hotels are busy engaged entertaining their guests.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—Yes, Its quite time, we admit it. The report that we kicked a man out of this office is correct, and we expect to be summoned in due course before Geo. Bick, Esq., and S. Crabtree, Esq., two of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace. We don't care, we would do it again under the same circumstances. The thermometer was at 93 deg. in the shade, and outside ranged over 100 deg., and he came in and wanted us to take cord-wood in payment of his subscription. We kicked him into the street, and will any intelligent man say we did wrong? Cordwood indeed! and the thermometer at 93 degrees!

THE RAILWAY.—On Monday last, Mr. Hicks, Reeve of Harvey, and Mr. Cairnduff, Mr. J. Oliver, Mr. G. Oliver, and some others, met at Mr. Boyd's office to arrage respecting the conditions to be imposed in the Bond given by the Railway Company to the Municipality of Harvey. The matter was arranged in a very friendly manner. A ferry is to run regularly to Scott's Mills, calling at Nogoy's Creek and Tait's Bay, and a free wharf, storehouse and lumber yard is to be located on Pigeon Lake. On Wednesday a deputation consisting of Mr. Campbell, Mr. Howson, Dr.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 1, 1878.

MR. HILLIARD'S "OPINIONS."

We promised last week to deal further with that portion of Mr. Hilliard's card to the electors, in which he promulgates his "views" on protection. He says :—

"I am strongly of opinion that we can never become a self-reliant or prosperous people until we do to a large extent our own manufacturing, and that we cannot have manufactures without protection."

In spite of Mr. Hilliard's opinion, Canadians are a self-reliant people, in all except their dependence on Great Britain. Does Mr. Hilliard mean to find fault with that connection? If Canadians as a people are in any other way exceptionally dependent, it would be well that they should know it. We, therefore, as a Canadian call upon Mr. Hilliard to explain the nature of the dire discovery his transcendent genius has made. He should at once tell the poor, blind Canadians how dependent they are on others. He need not plead that

"Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise" for that will not clear the mystery, or make less oppressive the declaration of the oracle ;—to wit : Mr. George Hilliard. He it is who has said that Canadians are not a self-reliant and prosperous people ; and he it is who must maintain his assertion or be considered that worst of all contemptible creatures—the man who slanders and reviles his country, while he brazenly seeks honorable preferment from his fellow citizens. He must surely think no intelligence and patriotism exists in the minds and hearts of the West Peterborough electorats. He cannot, however, think less of them than they must now think of him. He is of "opinion" further that we do not do to a large extent our own manufacturing. We have the testimony before us of one of the most prominent manufacturers that ninety-eight per cent. of all agricultural machinery consumed in the Dominion is made here. Much the same may be said of sewing machines, furniture, and organs, while a very considerable portion of our boots and shoes, woollen goods, and even cottons, besides other necessaries such as hats, stockings, &c., are made within the country This effectually disposes of Mr. Hilliard's dictum that "we cannot have manufactures without protection," unless indeed he double on himself so far as to admit that we have now incidental protection under our 17½ per cent. tariff. If this be his refuge, what further increase of duties does he want?

Mr. Hilliard's next oracular utterance is couched in the following words :—

"So long as the manufacturers and producers of other countries are allowed to send their products into Canada at a nominal tax, so long will our products languish."

Here the hypothesis is again a false one and unpatriotic withal. Our products do not languish. On the contrary we have the most abundant harvest known for many years. The products of the country, whether from the field, the forest, the water, the mine or the factory, are turning out in a perfectly satisfactory way to all except the Protectionist candidate for defeat at the next general election. This genius would not allow the products of other countries to come into Canada at any nominal tax. From this we infer that he regards the present tariff as a merely nominal tax, and not satisfactory. But if the products of other countries be shut out by a high tax where is our trade to come from? If we do not take in exchange such foreign products as we can better buy than make, we not only lose on the extra cost of home manufacture, but we also cut away the market for our products. The manufacturers and producers of other countries will not send us what we do not demand, or what can be more advantageously produced here, as Canadians are not likely to send abroad for what they do not want, or for such things as they can get as good and as cheap without the trouble and cost of importation.

Mr. Hilliard becomes more definite in one part of his next sentence, though the purpose expressed in it is only another tilt at a phantom. He says :—

"The Americans will not give us reciprocity in trade : we should therefore insist on a reciprocity of tariffs, and so prevent the one-sided competition to which our farmers and manufacturers are at present exposed."

Now, there cannot logically be such a thing as one-sided competition ; for the moment one-sidedness is reached that moment competition ends. The competition granted, one-sidedness must be out of the question. Our farmers certainly can hold their own against those of the United States, heavily burdened as the latter are by Protection, which not only taxes them heavily on all they buy, but also cuts off their profits by lowering the demand for their produce, because foreign trade is discouraged. As for our manufacturers, they manage to hold their own remarkably well as compared with those of the United States. The proportion of failures in the manufacturing line in the latter country have been vastly greater than those in Canada. An example of the wherefore is to be seen in the iron smelting business. In consequence of the protection offered it vast sums were sunk in buying iron mines and erecting blast furnaces. So many plunged into the business that it was overdone. The result was that, on the 31st of December last, of the 716 iron furnaces in the United States, only 270 were in blast, 446 being closed. The productive capacity of the blast furnaces now in the country is about 4,000,000 tons, sufficient to supply the wants of the country for the next ten years. Speaking more generally we may say that very few manufacturing establishments in the United States are paying dividends, and a large proportion of them are standing idle. This means ruined proprietors and stockholders, and also idle and suffering workmen. In strong contrast are the manufacturing establishments throughout Canada, almost without exception fully employed and in the great number of instances paying handsome profits. If adoption of the United States tariff could produce the condition of affairs prevailing in that country, no patriotic Canadian can wish for reciprocity of tariffs on the basis proposed by Mr. Hilliard. The only thing that would benefit Canadians would be free or easier access to the American people as customers, and this cannot be effected by any duty we put on, but must be brought about by the people of the United States freeing themselves from the strangulation policy that shuts them out from the greatest trade benefits.

But is not Mr. Hilliard at cross-purposes with the leader of his party on this question? While the Tory candidate for West Peterborough would insist on the adoption of the very high tariff of the United States, Sir John Macdonald declared that he has never proposed an increase of the tariff. Of course Mr. Hilliard thought his card fell entirely within the Opposition plan. But even his most faithful followers can't depend on on Sir John, and now one of them in West Peterborough finds that he issued his card a few days too soon. Of course Sir John is to blame, but Mr. Hilliard must never say so.

To Mr. Billiard's conundrum as to how we can compete with a people who place a high duty upon our products we can simply answer "just as we do now," and as to his reference to a duty on the money they pay for those products, we can readily believe that he does not know himself what he was trying to get at. Indeed we defy either himself or any of his friends to show how the internal financial affairs of the United States can affect the sale of Canadian products in the world's markets.

We can in conclusion assure Mr. Hilliard that there is no error whatever in allowing the people of the United States to compete with our people, for we could not prevent such competition if we would. But there is a grave error in the people of the United States having what Mr. Hilliard calls "a Chinese wall" around them ; and to prevent the introduction of a like error in Canada Mr. Hilliard and candidates of his peculiar "views" must be rejected at the polls.

THE TRADE OF ENGLAND AND HER COLONIES.

When the Conservatives of Canada began their party agitation in favour of protective duties, they seem to have ignored a great many phases of the question ; and among them was that of their opposition to Imperial interests. They had always prided themselves on being superlatively loyal to the Empire ; yet this boast did not prevent them adopting in their party platform a plank plainly in opposition to Imperial interests. If, as the Canadian protectionists tell us, Great Britain through her Free Trade policy is losing much of the trade of other Protectionist countries, there is all the more reason why she should desire to maintain close commercial relationship with her Colonies. And if, as the Protectionists considers, all trade is a more retaliation between different nations, it is surely fair that those colonies of Great Britain which rest on her for defence and political existence, should help the mother country in the struggle, and be one with her in commercial sentiment. No matter what disguise may be used to hide it from view, the fact still remains prominent, that the great bond of union between Great Britain and her colonies, and the foundation for closer consolidation of the Empire in the future, is the oneness of sentiment pervading all its parts. And as it is not on wars, diplomacy or treaties, but on commerce, that Imperial stability ultimately rests, it is plainly of the first importance that, especially in matters of trade, there must exist a mutual trust and help between the mother land and her colonial children. Whatever tends to destroy the unity of feeling on so essential a matter, clearly weakens the bonds that bind the various parts of the Empire together. That any such action toward disruption should begin in a colony is madness materially, ingratitude mentally, and the depth of baseness however considered. Rather should we draw our communications closer, so as to give British producers a better idea of what we want ; for the chief fault of many lines of British goods is their unsuitableness to our market. Thus, in spite of its cheapness we must reject a great deal of British hardware, for dearer and in some respects inferior American work, just because the latter in pattern and finish is what Canadians want.

The higher the Canadian tariff the greater disadvantage is Britain placed in as regards our market ; for in addition to the duties, ocean freights and insurance militate in favor of the neighboring United States. All these charges have the effect of lessening the chances of the ventures, and therefore discouraging trade enterprise between Canada and Britain. Probably for that reason our trade with the United States since the increase of our tariff from 15 to 17½ per cent. has exceeded our trade with Great Britain, which formerly was in excess of our American trade. This, so far from being an argument for further protection, is rather a reason why the import duties should be lowered, if possible.

It is just like Canadian protection'st logic, to attempt to turn the force of this argument of Imperial stability, by exaggerating the falling off of imports from Great Britain ; as though their exports were the only consideration of the British traders. So far is this from being the case that the profit on a return cargo is often the inducement to send cheap goods into Canada, in spite of charges of carriage, etc ; and these cheap goods are clearly more in demand under a low than a high tariff. But those who try to show that our commerce with Great Britain has fallen off since 1873 by counting imports from that country alone, forget to state that not from that direction only has importation decreased ; but in the aggregate. So we see that the falling off of our import trade from England was only part of the great and general curtailment of imports brought about by the stringency of the times. Our exports to Britain have within this time increased nearly three millions, while those to the United States have fallen off over sixteen millions ; and if we tie the Protectionists to their own fallacy concerning the "balance of trade," they must on their own showing admit that our trade with Great Britain in 1877 gained us the difference between $41,567,469, and $39,572,239, while that with the United States took from us the difference between $25,775,245 and $51,312,699 ! Thus do the absurdities of Protectionists involve them when they try to explain away some plain fact, like the desirability of having unity of commercial interests between Britain and Canada.

The Dunkin Bill Judgment.

In last week's Review appeared a letter finding fault with the Dunkin judgments of the Police Magistrate—in fact trying to "bulldoze" that gentleman, and at the same time to make a little political capital. The complaint comprised a statement that the Police Magistrate's judgment was merely the opinion of the Provincial Premier, and an insinuation that the independence of the Bench was interfered with. Even if it were true, which it is not, that Mr. Hatton's judgment only repeated Mr. Mowat's opinion, that could not weaken the judgment unless it could be shown that it was weak in itself. Mr. Hatton, the same as any other occupant of the Bench, has a perfect right to consult with whom he pleases on legal questions involved in any case he may have before him. That is nobody's business but his own ; as he alone is responsible for whatever judgment he delivers. The attack on the Police Magistrate, and over his shoulders on the Attorney-General is altogether unreasonable. The following letter is Mr. Hatton's reply in Saturday's Times, to "Observer" in last week's Review :—

"DUNKIN JUDGMENTS."

To the Editor of the Times :

SIR,—My attention has been called to a letter in to-days Review headed "Dunkin judgments," and signed "Observer." I should not trouble you with a reply thereto but for the fact that it contains statements that are untrue and calculated to mislead. As to those I say (1) the judgment delivered by me as to the validity of the by-law was not the mere opinion of the Attorney General of Ontario, nor was it but a transcript in substance of Mr. Mowat's views, as the opinion was not written by Mr. Mowat. Before delivering judgment I submitted certain matters to counsel in Toronto that I might have the best opinion as to my course in the matter. I felt the responsibility of my position very much, and did not wish to act hastily. As to the independence of such a course it is well known that the judges of the highest court in England and Canada, consult with each other, and with parties competent to aid them in coming to a correct conclusion while considering their judgments. (2.) The Attorney General of Ontario had nothing whatever to do with the legislation of the Dunkin Act, or the Scott Act, as the temperance acts are familiarly called, it is unfair and ought to be beneath any gentleman to seek to make political capital out of such a matter. I suppose the writer thought I would allow the letter to go unanswered, and that some persons would believe the suggestions, which are calculated to raise a prejudice against Mr. Mowat. My only reason for replying at all is to deny the truth of the suggestion. I may say I am prepared to show "Observer," or Mr. Scott, or any other person the case submitted by me to counsel, and the reply received.

I am, yours, D. G. HATTON,
P. L. Magistrate.

The following is the correspondence referred to in Mr. Hatton's letter :—

PETERBOROUGH, June 17th, 1878.

THE HON. O. MOWAT,
Attorney General, Ontario, Toronto.

SIR,—I beg to submit a matter now under consideration by me, as Police Magistrate of Peterborough, for your opinion if I may ask it under the circumstances, and it is not inconsistent with my duty ; and if you can either in your official position or otherwise advise me. Aaron Cox, License Inspector for the West Riding of Peterborough, lodged an information before me, against Allan Huffman, of this town, charging him with exposing intoxicating liquors for sale, contrary to the provisions of the Dunkin Act of 1864—which the informant alleges is in force in this town, after investigating the case I have found as matters of fact.

(1.) That defendant did on the twenty-seventh day of May, expose intoxicating liquors for sale.

(2.) That the by-law was carried by a majority of the duly qualified electors.

(3.) That due notice of the publication of the submission of the by-law had been given.

The counsel for defendant, (Huffman), then submitted that notice of the by-law had not been given in proper time to the proper officer. On this point it is admitted that notice was given to the Collector of Inland Revenue on the fifth day of December last. But owing to informality in the proofs of the proceedings, the Clerk of the Municipal Council was not entitled to, and did not give the certificate provided by the Act, which under the Act is final and conclusive. It is admitted that notice was not given to the Inspector of Licenses for the West Riding of Peterborough, until on or about the first day of June, instant. The counsel for the defendant submits that notice to the Collector of Inland Revenue is not such a notice as is contemplated by the law as it now stands ; and he cites the Revised Statutes of Ontario, chap., 182, sec. 8. On the other hand, the counsel for the prosecutor contends that the provision in that section being contrary to the provisions of the Act of 1864 in toto, and that the embodiment of the Act of 1864, as it is in the Revised Statutes of Ontario, is a new enactment of the Ontario Legislature, and as such cannot be taken to control the Statute of 1864.

The by-law was submitted to the ratepayers on the 27th of September last, and the voting took place on the 28th of October last.

Will you be kind enough to let me know whether in your opinion the notification to the Collector of Inland Revenue was a sufficient compliance with the Act to bring it into force on the 1st of May of this year, or whether it was necessary to give the notice to the License Inspector : and if in consequence of the notice not being given to him till 1st of June instant, the Act does not go into force until the 1st of May now next.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. G. HATTON.

TORONTO, June 20th, 1878.

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge yours of 17th instant, to the Attorney General, asking his opinion with reference to certain points arising in a case before you under the Dunkin Act. Ordinarily the Attorney General declines to advise Magistrates on cases pending before them, as, apart from other reasons, it is impossible for this department to assume the burden of advising the Magistracy of the country.

And this duty is imposed by Statute upon the County Attorney for the different counties. However, in view of the exceptional character of the questions before you, I beg to say that in the case of Re. Lake v. Binkely, reported in 40 U. C. Report, page 102) the Court while holding that it was not necessary to deliver a copy of the by-law to the Collector of Inland Revenue, also held that it was not requisite to deliver one to the issuer of Licenses.

The Revised Statutes, cap., 182 was not, it is true, in force at the time of this decision ; but without expressing any opinion as to how far this Statute is within the competence of the Legislature of Ontario to point upon which subsequent decisions have cast considerable doubt, I may point out to you that this Statute does not assume to make the communication of the by-law a condition precedent to its going into effect, as was formerly the case under 27 and 28 vic., cap., 18 sec., 8.

Section 10 of the Revised Statutes states in express terms, that the by-law shall come into force upon the 1st day of May, next after the final passing thereof. I may say, that if the certificate to which you refer as having deficient is that mentioned in, 27 and 28 vic., cap., 18, sec. 16 ; it would not be improper to grant an adjournment for the purpose of making good the defect, if this is practicable.

Your obedient servant,
J. G. SCOTT.

D. G. HATTON, Esq.,
Police Magistrate, Peterborough.

THE HANLAN-ROSS RACE.

By telegrams received as we go to press we learn that this long-looked for race which had been postponed from day to day came off yesterday afternoon. The race commenced at 4.50, and when a mile and a quarter out Ross fell out of his boat—Hanlan being at the time two boat lengths ahead. After this occurred Hanlan rowed over the remainder of the course at his leisure.

"An old Testotaller" writes a letter to the Montreal Witness in which he says : "The trial of liquor-sellers in Peterboro, has impressed me more than ever of the folly of seeking to enforce an obnoxious law on an unwilling people." Here is a plain case of the man convinced against his will, being of the same opinion still ; for whereas this letter writer is impressed more than ever, of the folly of trying to enforce the law, most people are impressed with the folly of those who break it in the face of almost certain punishment. These are the "unwilling people" to whom the law is indeed "obnoxious," and the same may be said of all law-breakers "An old Testotaller" is too considerate for evil-doers.

Lord Dufferin will leave Canada the 28th of September. He will be succeeded by the Marquis of Lorne.

The Amers, the two Manitoulin Island murderers, in gaol at Sault Ste. Marie, have been sentenced to be hung on the 12th of September.

According to the Review's declaration, that "it is not our interest to buy from those who won't buy from us," all except a very few of those who buy the Review are acting against their own interest.

Mr. Tarcotte received such an unmistakably hearty reception from the citizens of Three Rivers, on Saturday night, that the veriest doubter must admit that his course receives the fullest endorsement by his constituents.

If Sir John Macdonald is at perfect liberty to go to England to be sworn in as one of Her Majesty's Privy Councillors, has he not been disrespectful in not long ago presenting himself before the Queen for that purpose? That he doesn't go is the best proof that he is not wanted since the Pacific Scandal expose, and Sir John's falsehood in connection with it, to the Queen's representative.

Mr. Dyke, the Canadian Government agent at Liverpool, reports that 5,211 head of cattle, 401 horses, 3,318 sheep, and 838 pigs have been brought to Great Britain by the Canadian steamship lines during the six months ending June 28th. In consequence of the available space in these steamships being secured until September, 2,761 head of Canadian cattle, 963 sheep, and 386 horses have been conveyed by steamers sailing from Boston and New York, also 38 head of cattle and 203 pigs by sailing vessels from Montreal, making a tote of 8,016 cattle, 4,281 sheep, 1,041 pigs, and 707 horses. The imports from Canada in the year 1876 were 2,767 cattle, 2,607 sheep and 332 horses, but no pigs ; and in 1877, 7,412 cattle, 6,325 sheep, and 373 pigs.

It is exceedingly amusing to see those journals which during the Dunkin campaign opposed legislation which they declared arbitrarily interfered with the liberty of the subject, now agitating for legal restrictions on trade that will interfere with the personal right of the subject to buy what he wants wherever he pleases. The advocates of the Prohibition of the liquor traffic were able eloquently and successfully to justify legal action for the common good ; but those who would by law interfere with all trade, in necessary and harmless articles, cannot do this. Only those will benefit by Protection who can prevent others from buying elsewhere than from them. This is the very essence of selfishness and tyranny.

In the language of the United Empire Club swell, how "doocedly clevah" the Review is ! It takes the Globe's remark that the Toronto Tribune "never received the encouragement Mr. Wood's letter referred to" as an accusation of lying against Mr. Wood. The "encouragement" was in prospective, in a proposition to pay for a number of copies in advance. We have the Tribune's statement that no such plan ever ripened, and hence the Globe's remark. But the "doocedly clevah" Review pretends to think the Globe means to deny the contributions of Reformers when Mr. McCrossen took hold of the Tribune. And this is what the "party of gentlemen" consider high-class journalism, in the interests of statesmanship—save the mark ! The Review should be careful how it uses the word "liar" in the same sentence in which it says "the people had been charged $4,000 for this liberal distribution of Mr. Cartwright's electioneering documents," for sensible men of both parties will perceive that the epithet can be properly applied to the writer of such reckless charges. The paper that indulges in those outbursts of partizan falsehood soon loses all character and all influence with the people, simply because they learn not to believe it.

DUNKIN BILL JUDGMENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—In the Review of the 26th instant, there appeared a letter over the signature of "observer" making an unfair attack on the Police Magistrate, Mr. Hatton. The writer of the article commences with the words, it is rumoured &c. Now I consider the writer of the article from the position he occupies—should have refrained from making an attack upon any officer on mere rumour, and more especially upon one who has been the means to a great extent of placing him in the position he at present occupies. Then "observer", or Mr. Scott, attempts to deceive the people by stating that Mr. Mowat could not be expected to give an unbiased opinion upon his own Legislation, when he well knows that the Dunkin Act is a Dominion Act, not a Provincial Act, and that the Attorney general has no more to do with it, than he has. "Observer" also says "this opens up for consideration a matter of the greatest importance etc." Now, Mr. Editor, I believe and it is the opinion of a large number of Mr. Scott's supporters, who are not blind partizans that his action in connection with the Dunkin Act, opens up for consideration a matter of the greatest importance viz :—Whether Mr. Scott should be allowed to misrepresent a constituency that has given unmistakeably proof of being in favor of Temperance. Does Mr. Scott consider that the Conservative Party in this Riding cannot exist without the 15 or 20 liquor dealers? If he does he is greatly deceived. and I assure him he has brought a blush to the cheek of many of his supporters by placing himself at the disposal of the "Whisky Ring." Mr. Scott, (whom I have no doubt is the writer of the article signed "Observer") should pause and consider well the course he is pursuing ! Does he not realize that the eyes of many of our young men are fixed upon one who occupies such a prominent position, and that his actions may decide their future life. Then why should he throw all his talent into the wrong channel, and endeavour to keep the bar rooms open, after the decided opinion expressed by the people of this town at the polls? Would it not be more manly of him to come out on the side of right, and justice and endeavour to remove this curse from our land. Surely he can see instances every day of young men who have bright prospects before them, brought to ruin by the custom of treating which he is using all his energy to maintain. Let him look at the wretched home of the once happy couple. Let him look at the mourning wives and mothers over husbands and sons that have filled the drunkard's grave, and consider the pain his actions may cause others in the future. The temperance cause is on the balance in this town, and if he will only give his support to it in a few short months drunkenness will be unknown, and he will receive the blessings of many a heart-broken wife and mother. But should he still refuse to assist the cause, on his own shoulders rests the responsibility of losing the support of many of his former friends, for we cannot run the risk of sacrificing our cause for a little political advantage. Too much praise cannot be given Mr. Hatton for his independent action on the cases that have been disposed of by him in this connection.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 1, 1878.

LOCAL NEWS.

Appealed.—Messrs. Roddy and Purser have appealed from the decisions given by the Police Magistrate in their cases for infraction of the Temperance Act.

The Fountain Head.—Gentlemen would save time and many inconveniences if they go to the fountain head of perfection and leave their orders with W. J. Larmour.

Lacrosse Club.—A meeting of those interested in the formation of a Lacrosse Club will be held this evening in the Commercial House, at eight o'clock. A large attendance is requested.

St. Paul's Church.—The pulpit of St. Paul's Church was filled last Sunday by the Rev. W. C. Wendell. Rev. Mr. Cameron, of Millbrook, will officiate next Sunday, morning and evening.

Excursions To-day.—Two excursions have been announced for to-day—one to Cobourg by the Steamer Arlington and Cobourg Railway, and the other to Sturgeon Point Hotel by Midland Railway and steamer.

New Tavern License.—Mr. M. Guerin, of the "Traveller's Home," Indian River, has taken out a tavern license for the remainder of the year. Mr. John Holmes has also taken out a license for a tavern at Mount Julien for six months.

St. George's Society Pic-Nic.—The members of the Peterborough St. George's Society and their friends will hold a pic-nic next Tuesday at Idyl Wild. One of Mr. Calcutt's steamers has been chartered to convey excursionists to the pic-nic grounds.

The Market.—Farmers are too busy just now in garnering their crops to think about bringing anything to the market. The consequence is a dull week, and there will probably be no material improvement until the husbandman has finished his work.

Special Prize.—We have been requested to announce that Mr. Wm. Fitzpatrick, of Trenton, has kindly donated an "Excelsior Horse Fork" for hay, grain or manure, value $10, as a special prize at the East Riding Exhibition for the best collection of seed grains.

Be Humane.—Take a handful of walnut leaves, steep them for twenty-four hours in rain water, and apply with a loose brush over your horse provided you have one—and you will have the pleasure of seeing the animal in comfort, as far as flies are concerned.

Open Installation.—The installation of the officers elect of Carswell Lodge I.O.G.T., for the ensuing quarter will be held this evening in Carswell Hall, corner of George and Simcoe streets, and will be open to the public. The ceremony will commence at 8 o'clock. All are invited.

Entertainment.—The musical and dramatic entertainment in connection with Carswell Lodge will be held on Thursday evening, 8th instant, instead of Friday the 9th, on account of the Band entertainment in the Drill Shed on Friday evening. The programme promises to be an attractive one.

Junior Matriculation.—We are pleased to note that Mr. A. E. Dixon and Mr. J. H. Burnham have successfully passed the Matriculation examination for entrance into the University of Toronto, the former taking honors in Mathematics and English. We congratulate our young friends on their success.

Fall Assizes.—Mr. Justice Gwynne will preside at the Assizes. The following are the dates: Cobourg, Tuesday, September 10th; Whitby, Thursday September 12th; Peterborough, Wednesday, October 16th Lindsay, Tuesday, October 22nd; Brampton, Thursday, October 31st.

Mount Julien and Burleigh.—The Thursday excursions to Mount Julien and Burleigh Falls are being liberally patronized by the public as the season advances. Last Thursday quite a large party availed themselves of the pleasures of the trip and spent a very pleasant day, returning on the evening train.

Firemen's Visit.—Chief Engineer Mitchell received a letter yesterday from the Cobourg Firemen, inviting the members of the Peterborough Fire Brigade to visit them on Thursday, 15th August, and to remain over so as to attend a Ball in Victoria Hall the same night. The invitation is to be submitted to a meeting of the Brigade, when we feel certain it will be accepted.

Vennor's Predictions.—Mr. Vennor writes from Buckingham:—"The cold turn of the 9th of July, predicted by me several weeks ago, will probably occur between the 29th and 31, and I still look for frost, August will be terribly hot and sultry up to about the 16th or 20th, when singularly cold, fall-like weather will set in, with high winds and heavy showers. The season in its general behavior corresponds strikingly to that of 1876."

Boating Club Regatta.—The annual regatta of the Peterborough Boating Club will be held this year on Tuesday, 27th of August. The course chosen this season is on the river below the Locks, and the races will chiefly be confined to rowing—there being only two canoe races on the programme. The club have purchased five new sculls for the occasion from a Toronto builder. As several entries have already been made a good days sport may be fairly anticipated.

Vote of Thanks.—At the last meeting of Carswell Lodge No. 911, I.O.G.T., the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

Moved by J. H. Coad, seconded by John Thompson.—"And in view of the very courteous treatment received from the proprietors, captain and band hands of the Steamer Ovaltor on the occasion of the late excursion of this Lodge to Burleigh Falls, by it resolved that the hearty thanks of the members are due and are hereby tendered to Messrs. Gordon & Thompson, Captain Stamper and the employees on the boat for their civility, obligingness, and gentlemanly conduct towards those taking part in the excursion.

Band Entertainment.—The entertainment for the benefit of the Fire Brigade Band uniform fund as announced in these columns last week, has been definitely settled for Friday evening, 9th instant, in the Drill Shed, when the Band will appear in their new dress. The whole outfit is a very handsome one and we feel certain the citizens will respond liberally in aiding the committee who have so generously undertaken the task of providing the Band with a uniform of which the citizens as well as the members of the band may well feel proud. The evening's programme will, we are informed, be a very attractive one, and no doubt will draw a large audience. Further particulars next week.

With Compliments.—The following letter was lately received by Mr. C. D. Macdonald, Town Clerk. It speaks for itself:

MILLBROOK, July 16th, 1878.

C. D. Macdonald, Town Clerk, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed find the sum of two dollars ($2.00) being the amount of fine inflicted on Robert McGill for being overcome by the effect of "Dumbie on Ice" on the Glorious Twelfth. He also sends his compliments to the Bank, the Lord High Panler and the Hebrew Giant, together with the assurance that you will not get another opportunity to mulct him of a like sum. He was a stranger and they took him in.

A CAVAN BLAZER.

P. S.—"Warburtons Bitters" is the order of day in Millbrook. C. B.

Springless Trusses.—As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere G. W. Hotchkin, of Albion, N. Y., maker of the celebrated "Hotchkin Springless Truss and Abdominal Supporter" will this week pay another visit to Peterborough, and is billed for the Caisse House on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th instant. From the large number of testimonials furnished Mr. Hotchkin by parties whom he has cured we would advise those suffering from rupture or hernia to pay him a visit. The Rochester Democrat says:

"This Truss is constructed on a different principle from former inventions, and the ease with which it is worn and the practical benefits which results from its use, are facts which are cheerfully testified to by all who have worn it. An important feature of this Truss is that it is constructed without a spring—the chief objection which has been urged against other trusses, on account of the pain frequently occasioned by wearing them."

Excursion to Toronto.—We learn by telegram that the Midland and Grand Trunk Railways have completed arrangements for a cheap excursion to Toronto, on the 12th instant, and posters containing full information will be issued in a few days. A grand demonstration by the Orange Young Britons and 'Prentice Boys will be held that day in Toronto, when representatives from all parts of the province will be present and take part in the proceedings. The members of Victoria Lodge, O.Y.B's of this town have signified their intention of being present, and will be accompanied by the Fire Brigade Band. As the fare will be exceedingly low—only $1.50—no doubt a large number of citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the Capital of the Province. Mr. Thomas Menzies is agent for both railways, and all parties wishing to purchase tickets would do well to secure them from him, and save annoyance and trouble elsewhere.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Rev. Mr. Bell and family are staying at the Mr. Julien Hotel.

Among the Canadians registered at the Paris Exhibition, in the first week of July, was Mr. Sandford Fleming.

The Rev. Mr. Clark, of Lakefield, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday last, in the absence of the Pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Mussen, formerly of Lakefield, has been appointed to the Mission of Port Huron, by the Bishop of Toronto.

The Rev. W. Donald, for so many years favorably known as a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Port Hope, has accepted a call to Picton, N. S.

Mr. M. A. James, late Principal of the Baltimore, Ont., Public School, has purchased the Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, and assumes control on the 1st instant.

On Tuesday evening last, Captain R. Crawford, formerly of the steamer Norseman, was married to Miss Martha L. Hickey, daughter of the esteemed agent of the G. T. R., Port Hope.

BRIEF MENTIONS.

—To the young ladies:—Dress neatly at all times.

The latest chapeau for the back waters is a SUN-bonnet.

—The question as to the proper way to eat green corn has been revived.

—A New York bank president says that only one business man out of seven can tell a counterfeit bill from a good one.

—Don't tell a man you sweat. It is vulgar. Inform him that you are being deprived of the saline and oleaginous fluids of your material substance through the egestories of your pelucid cuticle, with a possible condensation of moisture upon the superficial exterior.

—Let a young gentleman and young lady try the following scientific experiment:—A galvanic battery is set in motion, and while he takes one handle in one of his hands, she takes the other in one of hers. Then let them softly kiss each other. This brings out all the fireworks there are in two moving souls.

POLICE COURT,

R. PURSER was fined $20.00 and $4.20 costs on the 25th instant, for Breach of Temperance Act, to be paid August 5th, or in default 30 days in gaol.

M. HALPIN, JOSEPH BRAULT, EDWARD PHELAN AND JOHN SULLIVAN,—Nolle Prose qui entered in these cases for Breach of Temperance Act, defendants paying the cost.

COX VS. BRAULT.—This case which had been adjourned from 23rd instant, was dismissed with costs.

ARMAULT.—On the 26th instant Wm. Trawith was fined $2.00 and $4.75 costs for assaulting Michael Walsh.

BLASPHEMOUS LANGUAGE.—On the 25th inst. Hattie Lash was fined $2.00 and $4.25 costs for using obscene and blasphemous language on the streets.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met in special session on Monday evening last. Present.—His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Cahill, McBain, Smith, Boyde, Hughes, Yelland, Rutherford, and Dennis.

The MAYOR explained the reason of calling the meeting. He said a communication from the Mayor of Guelph relative to the presenting of an address to His Excellency the Governor-General. He thought it was but courteous to take some action upon it, and had called a meeting of the Council as a committee last Thursday, but as there was no quorum they had agreed to call a meeting for this evening and if they thought well they might also take up general business.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed after it had been understood that general business would be proceeded with.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From J. P. Macmillan, Mayor of Guelph, asking the Council to send a deputation to Quebec to present an address to Lord Dufferin previous to his departure from Canada.—Received.

From Robert Boyce, asking that the Treasurer be instructed to pay him $20 being the balance of his salary as Assessor for 1878.—Referred to Finance Committee.

From William Mills, stating that he was assessed twice for his property south of Simcoe and east of Water. In one case he was rated at $600 and the other at $800. He asked the Council to consider the matter.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Board of Roman Catholic School Trustees, asking that the town Treasurer be instructed to hand over such sums of the Separate School rate as have been collected by him, and also to make monthly returns in future of what may be collected.—Referred to Finance Committee.

From R. P. Boucher and others, asking for a reconsideration of the petition asking for a sidewalk on the west side of Water street, between Murray and London streets.—Referred to the Street Inspector for reconsideration.

The MAYOR asked what disposition they were going to make of Mr. Macmillan's letter in reference to the Gov-General.

Councillor SMITH had no doubt that every one approved of the object, but thought this corporation could not afford to entail the expense.

PETITIONS.

From R. A. Morrow, offering to take out the material from the drain on Park and Chamberlain street, at his own expense, under the supervision of the Street Inspector.—Granted.

From E. C. Hill, asking to be allowed to take out a Bill Posters' License.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From E. J. Toker and others, asking that steps be taken to prevent public bathing in the river in the evening as the same was becoming a nuisance.

From Rev. Vincent Clement, asking that the Widow Starr's taxes be remitted.

From Maxwell Hall and others, asking that a sidewalk be laid on the east side of Reid street, between Charlotte and King.

From Patrick Rudkins, asking to have his assessment rectified, there being $20 more charged on the roll than on the schedule.

From F. J. Austin, McKee & Davidson, and Charles Butler, asking that they be relieved from the payment of taxes on the stores destroyed by fire on the corner of George and Hunter street, except for the two months during which they occupied the buildings.—Referred to Court of Revision.

From Patrick Costello, asking to be relieved from the payment of statute labor tax, he having paid it to the Municipality of Douro.—Referred to Finance Committee.

From Stephen Payne, asking that he be relieved from the payment of taxes on the lot occupied by John McClure, that gentleman having already paid them.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

TORONTO AND OTTAWA RAILWAY.

Moved by Councillor SMITH, seconded by Councillor DENNE,—That a committee be appointed to wait upon the Directors of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, for the purpose of ascertaining the position and prospects of the Company, with instructions to report to the Committee at its next meeting—such Committee to consist of Messrs. Denne, Hughes, McBain, and Rutherford, and that the first named be Chairman of the Committee.—Carried.

LAW EXPENSES.

Moved by Councillor HUGHES, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That in future no law expenses be incurred by officials of the town, unless by order of this Council.—Carried

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, Chairman of the Special Committee on repairs of Pigeon Creek Bridge reported, stating that with the Warden of the County he had on Saturday opened the tenders, but found they all exceeded the appropriations made by the Town and County of Peterborough and the County of Victoria. He recommended the Council increasing the appropriation so that the bridge might be built as it would be of great benefit to the trade of the town. The County were bound to give a sum equal to what was given by the town.

Mr. J. E. BELCHER, County Engineer, was also heard in the matter. He said the lowest tender was that of Mr. Joseph Trennum's, at $1,480. The others ranged as high as $1,740.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor WALLACE,—That on account of the great loss which will be caused by the stopping of Pigeon Creek Bridge to this town, be it therefore resolved that this Corporation act jointly with the County Council in carrying out the proposed improvements.

After some discussion Councillor SMITH suggested that the matter be left over till next meeting of Council in order to give members more time for consideration.

Councillor CAHILL also thought it well to lay it over till next meeting.

The resolution was then put in as a notice of motion.

MR. THOMPSON'S STOREHOUSE.

Moved by Councillor BAPTIE, seconded by Councillor DENNE.—That Mr. Alex. Thompson be allowed to erect his storehouse on the foot of King street instead of Sharbrooke street as petitioned for, owing to there not being room on the said street.—Carried.

SIDEWALK ON BETHUNE STREET.

Councillor MCBAIN then submitted his resolution of which he had given notice of motion at the last meeting, namely, that a sidewalk be laid down from Charlotte to Simcoe street on the east side of Bethune.

Councillor RUTHERFORD strongly opposed the work. The Inspector had voted against it and he thought the Council should not interfere. He wondered at Councillor Smith and McBain who had introduced a resolution referring all these matters to the Street Inspector, now wanting to take the matter out of his hands after he had reported against it.

Mr. BRAYN asked to be heard and complained that the sidewalk would injure his property.

Councillor SMITH said it gave him unbounded pleasure to hear Councillor Rutherford advocating economy, but he wondered at the cool impudence of the man who could dictate to members of this Council about economy in street expenditure after the reckless expenditure he had made a few years ago.

Councillor HUGHES did not wish to do anything to injure Mr. Brayn's property, but thought a sidewalk was much needed on this block, as from the frequency of his passing that locality he knew many people travelled it.

Councillor CAHILL also favored the building of a sidewalk.

The motion on being submitted was declared carried.

Councillor RUTHERFORD demanded the yeas and nays, which were as follows.

YEAS.—Councillors Cahill, McBain, Smith, Hughes, Denne and Boyde.

NAYS.—Councillors Yelland and Rutherford.

Moved by Councillor RUTHERFORD, seconded by Councillor YELLAND,—That the petition of Donnelly, asking for a sidewalk on the west side of Water street from Murray to London be granted.

Councillor DENNE raised a point of order and it was left over as a notice of motion.

The Council then separated.

Business for Ladies

Our attention has been called to a new article for the use of ladies, the invention of which has rendered an everlasting blessing to every lady. We refer to the Queen City skirt supporter for supporting heavy skirts, the most desirable and fashionable article ever introduced for the relief of women, many of whom have suffered years of intense bodily anguish and misery by carrying the weight of a number of heavy skirts constantly dragging them down. Pertaining to support and comfort it is unequalled by any. Every physician who are interested in the health of their lady patients are recommending it to all their young friends. It is the only skirt supporter that can be worn comfortably through hot weather. A child can carry as many skirts on it as a woman can by the use of this article. Every lady should have one. Sold at the great wholesale and retail millinery and dressmaking establishment of Mrs. Dunbar, 274 Yonge street, Toronto. Call and see it in operation. Send a self-addressed envelope for testimony, with at once to the Queen City Skirt Supporter Company 197 Church street, Church corner of Gerrard, Toronto. 20-6m.

MANITOULIN SURVEY.

We have much pleasure in publishing from the Manitoulin Enterprise of the 13th instant a letter on behalf of the settlers on Barrie Island, at present being surveyed by our townsman, Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, under instructions from the Dominion Government.

It appears the land on the Island is of great fertility, and that for some time past a large number of settlers have taken up claims and made considerable improvements thereon. Representations to this effect having been made to the Government it was at once decided to meet the views of the pioneers by ordering the survey, and so secure to each claimant his holding and avoid future contention and trouble in the settlement.

On the appointment of our townsman to the duty we congratulate the Government and himself, and we feel assured from Mr. Fitzgerald's ability and large experience, that no effort on his part will be spared to satisfy the just expectations of the settlers, and perform his duty to the Government:—

To the Editor of the Enterprise:

SIR,—I was pleased to read in your excellent paper, the other day, the announcement that a large staff of surveyors had arrived by the "Northern Queen" at Gore Bay, en route to survey, among other townships, Barrie Island. The news afforded great satisfaction to the numerous settlers on the Island, many of whom have made large clearings during the past and present years, and would have done more had they been certain of their whereabouts on the lots, &c. Much, however, as has been our gratification on reading the news referred to, it has been increased by the circumstance that the survey of the Island is now in progress, and will shortly be completed from end to end. Mr. Fitzgerald, the gentleman entrusted with the important and necessary surveys mentioned in the Enterprise, arrived with his staff here on the 8th instant. His first step was to call together all the available settlers, and to explain to them his desire of meeting, as far as possible, their views in regard to securing to each man the improvements he had made on his lot. In this laudable effort I am glad to say Mr. Fitzgerald has succeeded beyond our expectation, every man feeling satisfied with the result. Of the affability and courtesy of Mr. Fitzgerald and his surveyors, it is impossible to speak too highly, and if their abilities as surveyors may be judged by the character and care so far shown in the execution of this survey, as well as in the progress made on it, the Government at Ottawa, to which we are all thankful, have no cause to regret the appointment they have made in respect to these surveys.

On behalf of the settlers who assembled to meet Mr. Fitzgerald,

I remain, yours truly,
R. BOYTER.

TRADE NOTICES.

14 Pounds of good sugar for $1.00 at Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

Below Zero.—Notwithstanding the recent hot wave, W. J. Larmour is selling his summer stock of boots and shoes at prices below zero.

If You Want an excellent tea, go to Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stenson & Son.

Sweeping reductions in groceries at Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

Something Unusual.—Madison & Green, Merchant Tailors, are selling their light and medium weight Tweeds at less than their usual prices, for two weeks only, to make room for their new Fall Stock, which will be found second to none ever brought into Peterborough. 28-2t

12 Pounds of bright sugar for $1.00 at Rush, Elliott & Morrow's.

Boots that are Boots.—Mr. W. J. Larmour has now on view in his shop window a pair of Porpoise Balmorals made for a gentleman in Bowmanville, which are objects of much attraction on account of the extensive soles attached to them. The boots weigh five pounds three ounces, the soles being one inch thick and five inches wide. Mr. Larmour is becoming very popular as a manufacturer of boots and shoes.

OUR GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

The Marquis of Lorne to be Lord Dufferin's Successor.

The announcement has been made this week that Lord Beaconsfield has selected the Marquis of Lorne to succeed Lord Dufferin as Governor-General of Canada, and that the Marquis has accepted the same.

The Marquis comes of most distinguished parentage on both sides, his father being the Right Honourable George John Douglas Campbell, the present Duke of Argyle, and his mother Lady Elizabeth Georgina Sutherland Leveson-Gower, eldest daughter of the Duke of Sutherland. His own name is John George Edward Henry Douglass Sutherland Campbell. He was born on the 6th of August 1845, and is therefore between two and three years older than the Princess Louise, who was born on the 18th of March 1848. He was educated at Eton, St. Andrew's and Trinity College, Cambridge. He has held since 1866 several high and honourable positions in connection with the volunteer militia, and in 1868 he was returned to the House of Commons for Argyleshire. While a member of that body he acted as private secretary to his father while the latter was Secretary of of State for India. He has been for some time past a member of the House of Lords, but was never taken an active part in the proceedings of that venerable and dignified assembly.

In January, 1866, the Marquis started with a companion on a tour through part of America, and he published an excellent account of his travels and observations in a book entitled, not very appropriately, "A Trip to the Tropics." The tour included a brief visit to Hayti and Cuba, and a longer sojourn in Jamaica, where the excitement caused by the cruelties of Governor Eyre had not yet subsided. He did not visit the Western States at all, his attention being taken up chiefly with the effect produced by the then recent civil war. He passed through Canada on his return, but spent very little time in the country which he is about to revisit as its Governor-General. Almost the only places he notices in his work are Niagara, Toronto, Kingston, and Ottawa, so that he has practically the whole wide Dominion before him as a field of study and observation. With matured powers, and visiting it under such altered circumstances, it may be taken for granted that he will take a deep and abiding interest in everything connected with it—the physical features of the country as well as its political institutions, and the social character of the people. His Lordship's later literary ventures embrace only his comparatively well-know poem, "Guido and Lita: a Tale of the Riviera," and his more recent "Metrical Version of the Psalms." The poem was on its appearance favourably received by the critics and the general public, and now that its author is about to become so closely connected with Canada, both it and his later work will soon become better known to the public here.

His marriage with Her Royal Highness Princess Louise Caroline Alberta, Duchess of Saxony and daughter of the Queen, took place on the 21st of March, 1871. She is the fourth daughter and the sixth child of the Royal Family, and is reputed to be both clever and accomplished, taking as much practical interest in art as her husband does in literature. As "Lady of Lorne" and the wife of a lineal descendant of the "MacCallum More," she has now a proprietary interest in many of the western islands of Scotland as well as a large tract on the mainland.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It ought to open the eyes of Ontario "Protectionists" to find the allies of Sir John A. Macdonald in the Maritime Provinces violently decrying that he is a Protectionist at all!

The Peterborough Review wants to know, amont the contributions of Ontario Ministers to assist the Tribune, what the Post would think of Grand Master Bowell subscribing $100 to the support of the Irish Canadian on condition that it (the I. C.) should help the Tory party in general and Mr. Bowell in North Hastings in particular. Since the Review is so thoughtlessly kind as to place Bro. Bowell and Bro. Boyle in juxtaposition in this suggestive way, we would like to hear how much Bro. Bowell contributed to that fund of ten thousand, alleged to have been paid over by the H. U. Club or their agents to induce Bro. Boyle to sport their livery; or was Bro. Bowell's part confined to a general recommendation to Orange Lodges to take the Irish Canadian and help to make up the loss occasioned by the refusal of many Catholics to take the paper after it had gone over to the Tory service! That this was done by Orangemen and is now being done, is a matter of notoriety. However, that is their business, more than ours; but the spectacle of Tory Orangemen waving the "glorious, pious and immortal" standard with one hand, and with the other forking out funds to the man whom their "Guiderius" arbitrarily put in goal is debatable to say the least.—Lindsay Post.

IT WON'T WASH.

From the Bobcaygeon Indepy endent.

A lively little hand-bill has been extensively circulated through this district during the past week, in which the farmers are enjoined to vote only for a Parliamentary candidate pledged to give them 'Protection' by placing an import tax on American grain. The hand-bill urges that American grain should be taxed, the effect of which would be to compel Canadian distillers to use Canadian barley instead of American corn, to make Canadian lumbermen use home grown oats in place of the maize of the Western States, and to give a higher value to Canadian wheat. This sounds very nice, until it is investigated; it looks to be a sound and reliable article; but a few moment's close examination reveals the unpleasant fact that—'it won't wash.' The reason is plain. Canada produces more grain than she can consume. She exports many millions of bushels to England. The price of grain in Canada is consequently determined by the price of grain in Liverpool. If to the Liverpool market rate be added the cost of freight and commissions, then you have the value of grain in Canada. How, then, can any tax on the importation into Canada of American grain affect the price of Canada's grain? The thing is absurd. The 'Protection to Farmers' argument sounds very nice, but clearly 'it won't wash,' for both America and Canada take their produce to Liverpool, and both are influenced by exactly the same market rates. No. It won't wash.

We have the richest beds of iron ore in the world, and above these beds is an untouched forest of the finest wood, ready to convert the ore into the purest charcoal iron. We are only waiting the word of the legislator to start furnaces which will employ hundreds of workmen, and which will keep in this country the money we now send to England for iron. The one word to be pronounced to confer this blessing on the land is—Protection. Give us a fifty per cent import duty on the foreign article and we can supply the whole Dominion with all the iron it needs. That is what the Protectionists say respecting iron, and it has a pleasant sound about it, and calls up pictures of hundreds of stalwart men, receiving big wages every Saturday night, who work by roaring furnaces and in the dark hours of night run sparkling streams of liquid metal into the devious channels of the moulded sand. It leaves, too, a vague but agreeable impression of large sums of our own hardly earned gold reposing happily in Canadian purses which otherwise would be gilding salons in England or contributing to Old World prosperity. Hurrah, then, for Protection! Let us have the fifty per cent duty and make our own iron! Yes. This is all very fine, only, you see,—only "it won't wash." The fifty per cent duty has to be paid by the people, and the pound of nails which costs six cents when made of English iron would cost nine cents when made of Canadian iron. Nay, it would cost twelve cents, for a protective duty not only raises the price of the protected article by the amount of the duty itself, but the price is also greatly enhanced by the extinction of all healthy competition. The idea as to gold being kept at home which now goes to England is equally delusive. When Canada sends her food to England she is paid for it in manufactures. This is quite clear, for England produces no gold herself, and has to buy everything from abroad, including the gold she uses, by the sale of manufactures. Therefore, if Canada reduces her consumption of English manufactures, England's capacity to buy Canada's food is reduced in a corresponding ratio, and thus the pleasant picture of our hardly earned gold reposing happily in our own purses, instead of being hurried on to England, is changed into a sad spectacle of Canadian food lying unsaleable in Canadian barns, or otherwise being disposed of at ruinously low rates. England can raise iron cheap, Canada can raise food cheap. Let each follow its natural capabilities, and exchange their productions. To compel, by the legislation of the Protectionist, England to raise food and Canada to raise iron, would be both foolish and wicked, and would be equally injurious to both. Thus we see that the Protectionist argument about "encouraging home industry," though to the inexperienced eye a catching and attractive argument, is one of those which "won't wash," and it is only accepted by the selfish, the interested, the prejudiced or the ignorant.

Finally, all Protectionist doctrines, however specious and plausible they may be, when carefully examined will invariably be found to belong to that large and deceptive class which beguile only the unwary, cheat only the inexperienced. They are, in fact, a delusion and a snare, and Anglo Saxon common-sense fittingly describes Protection in the homely but expressive phrase, "All very fine—but it won't wash."

FIVE CHILDREN AT ONE BIRTH.—The Baltimore American of the 20th instant says:—"The most remarkable birth ever known in the history of accouchement occurred at or near Salesville, Ohio, on last Monday night. Mrs. McCormick gave birth to five healthy children, four boys and one girl. The medical works have but few instances of such wonderful births and when they do occur the children have scarcely been known to live. In this case the mother and children, in the common language on such occasions, are "doing well." The community there is excited, and the famous father is the hero of all the country round about. His home is already an object of pilgrimage for the old women of the region. Two births of four children have occurred within the last fifteen years near this region."

BIRTHS.

MOORE.—At Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 28th instant, the wife of Mr. D. H. Moore, of a son.

NEWTON.—On the 23rd instant, in Harvey, the wife of Mr John Newton, of a son.

MARRIED.

DUNBAR—GARLICK.—On the 28th instant, at the Methodist Parsonage, Bobcaygeon, by the Rev. J. Smiley, M. A., Mr. John Dunbar, of Bridgenorth, to Miss Sarah Garlick, of Bobcaygeon.

JOHNSON—MOON.—On the 30th instant, at the Baptist Parsonage, Bobcaygeon, by the Rev. George Burns, Mr. John Johnson, of Verulam, to Miss Susan Ellen Moon, of the same place.

DIED.

MCCONKEY.—At the residence of her son, Christopher Leary, Esq., on Sunday, the 28th instant, Jane McConkey, relict of the late John Leary, of Haldimand, aged 83 years. Deceased was a native of the County Monaghan, Ireland, and came to this country in 1821.

LESON.—At Nassau Mills, on Sunday, 28th July, Mary Louisa, third daughter of Mr. Wm. Leeson, aged two years.

ARMSTONG.—In Cavan, on Saturday, July 20th, Mary, relict of the late Arthur Armstrong, aged 70 years.

PETERBOROUGH MARKET.

Corrected Weekly by Mr. W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer.

On the street Saturday receipts of wheat about seven loads, price advanced and was firm at 92 to 93 cents for spring; the small quantity coming in is not sufficient for millers grinding; no fall wheat offering, would bring about $1. During the week almost nothing doing, prices still unchanged. On the market butter very scarce, good demands, quality is generally poor. Eggs plentiful. Oats wanted, will bring 36 to 37 cents, few offering. Potatoes still hold up their price, selling at $1 per bushel. Lamb sells from 6 to 8 cents, quick sale.

CLOVER.

BY MARIE LE BARON.

Out of my chamber's gloom,
Into the clover bloom
Thou, little blossom, hast borne me to-day:
Over an ocean wide,
Mostly glorified,
Drifting, in memory, to childhood away.

Wavelets of red and white,
Chasing the winds in flight,
Send up a spray of perfume on the air;
And, over crest of these
Murmur the drowsy bees,
Sucking the sweets from the honey cups fair.

Softly the billows break
Where flowering hedges make
Long syrian shores of bright emerald glow;
And, like a fleet afloat—
Each winged fly a boat—
Over the field insects ceaselessly go.

Into this flower wave,
Humbly my soul to lave,
Spring I with joy, as in glad days of yore;
Purified; as a child
Simple, and undefiled,
Ocean of God, O baptise me once more!

Out of pure heart of thine
Breathe up a prayer divine;
Let soul of my past plead in heaven for me.
O beautiful clover,
Bloom over and over;
I know thou wilt billow a heavenly sea.

Glimpses of the Political Career of Sir John A. Macdonald.

(By a Liberal in the St. John Globe.)

Every reader of the Globe is aware of the corrupt bargain between Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Hugh Allan, by which the latter contributed $360,000 to aid in carrying the elections of 1872. But comparatively few persons in New Brunswick are aware of another transaction between Allan and John A. which occurred eighteen years ago. In September, 1854, the Hincks administration had come to grief. One day John A., denounced Hincks as steeped to the lips in corruption. The next day they were members of the same Government! And John A., was Attorney-General and leading spirit of it. It was a coalition, one of a series of the worst kind of Governments. The Macdonald-Hincks coalition, undertook the construction of

THE CHATS CANAL.

They gave the contract as his price to A. P. Macdonald, long a Tory member of the Canadian Assembly, and who sat in the Commons since the Union as a supporter of Sir John Macdonald, while his sons had contracts on the Intercolonial Railway. The canal was to be only three and a half miles long, but though only a short work in this sense it has taken a long time to construct it. The Chats canal is not finished yet; and it never will be! It was to cost $1,070,000. The place was and is still a wilderness, as every visitor to the picturesque locality knows. There was not and is not any settlement, and no land for that matter, the place being merely a barren rock. It belonged to Hugh Allan. No private buyer would give fifty dollars for it then or now. But the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald gave fifty thousand dollars for the right of way through it! There was no valuation made. There was simply an order for the payment of the sum I have named to Hugh Allan!

Mr. A. P. Macdonald entered upon his contract, and for a time blew Hugh Allan's rock into the air at a tremendous rate. Then the work was stopped and finally abandoned. Did the contractor suffer? No. Honest John Henry said in 1874 that Sir John had been faithful to him in his wood contracts. And A. P. Macdonald had years before found him just as faithful in rock as he was in wood. In a word, they lumped it, at $480,000. I don't know exactly how they got at it, but it may have been that Macdonald the Premier and Macdonald the contractor concluded that $40,000 a month for each month in the year would be about the right thing.

It will be remembered that in a number of matters Mr. Mackenzie was blamed for the department. He should have known more than the Engineer forsooth. In the Chats canal business the Macdonald Government declined to act on the advice of Mr. Clarke, their engineer of the Department of Public Works. This gentleman reported that the right place for the canal was about half a mile to the left of where it was located, that it would then be only one-sixth of a mile in length (or one-twentieth the distance where they commenced to build it), and that it could be built for half a million dollars.

ACTING ON THE ADVICE OF THE ENGINEER OF

So they spent the half million and $30,000 to boot. Hugh Allan received $50,000 and gave no value. Macdonald, the contractor, received $480,000 and gave no value, while Canada paid the $530,000, and has nothing to show for it but a right of way and a few hundred feet of dry rock cutting, which can never be of use.

Astronomers tell us of an 18 years cycle. Keep your almanac 18 years and it is good again, the rising and setting of the sun and moon are the same. So in politics. There was an occultation between John A., and Hugh Allan in 1854, and in 1872, just 18 years after, we find them closeted together again to arrange the great charter sale!

It was no longer John A. and Hugh Allan. It was

SIR JOHN AND SIR HUGH.

The former had dazzled the leaders of three or four Provinces in being his tame followers. Some of them have thrown to the wind their political principles, professed for years in order to blindly follow a man. And some of these are still tame followers of the same leader, whose power is shattered beyond repair, still dazzled with the brightness of the setting sun. Allan had been aided by the Tory Government with enormous subsides for carrying mails and emigrants, while the Grand Trunk, then run as a Government engine (on the whole 1,300 miles of which the Liberal "Globe" was not allowed to be sold) brought to its wharves at Montreal and Portland the freightage of half a continent for transatlantic carriage. He had grown rich to a princely degree.

It was about a little canal in 1854 It was about a big railroad now. Then three miles of canal; now three thousand miles of railroad! Then a bit of rock, now 50 millions of acres of land! Then $50,000; now thirty millions! How things have grown.

AGRICULTERAL EDECATION.

Of all arts the two which are immeasurably great above all others are agriculture and cookery—that by which a thousand millions of men are kept in life and that on which depends their physical and moral well being; for a man's mind cannot be healthy without a healthy body, nor can he serve God as he should unless he can digest his dinner efficiently. A country's health consists in the abundance and excellence of its produce. Every additional acre under successful cultivation—still more, every additional blade and stalk that grows on the land that is cultivated—makes the country so much richer. No arts are held in such contempt the world over as cookery and agriculture, and in no country are they more fatally disregarded than in Canada. Canada is essentially an agricultural country, and yet when she discovers that under her soil are laid up enough phosphates to renovate the worn-out farms of whole provinces, she ignorantly exports this mineral wealth to countries where the farmers are educated, and know what their land needs. One of the most astonishing calculations, could it possibly be made, would be that which would represent the loss to Canada resulting from the ignorance of her farmers with regard to the properties of the soil on which they work, and the requirements of the crops they would raise. The prairie farmer of the West, or the man that drives the steam thresher over his thousand acre lot of new wheat land in Queensland, can afford to ignore the science of agriculture, as the land up itself produces more grain than he can sow and reap, but the time comes in the history of any country when the farmers must work scientifically, or consent to see the country dearest to them become poor and their sons move off to where they, like their fathers, can work without thinking. The agricultural production of England was in 1840 calculated by an authority to have doubled since 1780, and as that was a time of agricultural revival, we may suppose that the increase has been in equal proportion since, making possibly an increase in a fully occupied country of between three and four fold in a century; nor has England reached the limit of her productive powers. This improvement is due not to greater diligence but to greater knowledge—the introduction of a new rotation of crops, of drainage, improved implements, mineral manures, etc. France has improved in agricultural methods faster than French Canada, and England than English Canada, although the latter are more inventive people, having to deal with more expensive labour, have decidedly the advantage of their old country competitors. If we wait till taught by dire necessity, we may, like the Chinese discover and bring into practice almost every thing that helps the soil to produce, but if all wish to rise above circumstances and grow rich, we must apply ourselves to learn. Europe is full of agricultural schools and colleges. Most of the educated men who come here from Sweden, Finland, Pomerania and other Old World countries are agricultural adepts and agricultural enthusiasts. There a man studies agriculture as he would study law. A landed gentleman now considers a thorough agricultural course as part of his necessary education. Two systems are possible in Canada, and both of them will, we hope, soon be very popular. One is that which prevails at our provincial agricultural schools with model farms attached. For a young farmer to pass through the school at Guelph costs him a little more than his time. He has of course, to pay his fees, and for his board, but his labour on the farm is fully valued and he may cover most, if not all, of his expenses in this way. The other plan is the establishment of agricultural courses in connection with universities and colleges of general learning, where the general tuition would be ready provided. In this Province, where men must work very hard all summer, and can to some extent hibernate in winter, that would appear to be the practical course for many. Farmers should so educate their sons, even though it should involve keeping their hired help the year round—a better system anyway than trusting to accident and engaging tramps. There was at one time a course of agriculture at McGill College, and we have no doubt that in connection with the School of Applied Science of that University such a course would be revived if there were any demand for it. The difficulty is that our farmers have not realised that they are labouring under any deficiency, and have consequently no desire to learn, holding all who would teach in contempt.—Montreal Witness.

PARRICIDE AND SUICIDE.

A Son Kills his Father, Attempts to kill his Sister, and Hangs Himself.

JARVIS, ONT., July 24.—A horrible double tragedy occurred early this morning, near the village of Rockford, about five miles west from here, in the County of Norfolk. George Smith, a farmer, and James Smith, his eldest son, a young man about twenty-one years of age, went from the house between two and three o'clock this morning to attend to their farm duties. They had been absent but a short time when the young man returned to the house, and called on the rest of the family to get up. He then went to the bedroom occupied by his two sisters, young women, and attacked one with a wooden pump handle, which he brought in with him, cutting frightful gashes on her head, and badly hurting her arms, which she put up to shield herself with. He then struck the other sister a few blows, and she fell or threw herself on the floor, near the door, exclaiming that he had killed her, probably thinking he had done so, he turned his attention to a young brother, who fled to the kitchen, and picking up a brass kettle, threw it at James. The young brother got possession of a pistol and held the murderer at bay, telling him he would shoot him if he came near him. James then left the house, and for some time it was supposed he had fled, but he has since been found in the barn, hanging by the neck, dead. The old man was found behind the barn, dead, with his skull smashed in. The inference is that he had been killed by his son, before the attack was made on the rest of his family. His body had been dragged some distance towards the straw stack, the murderer probably contemplating hiding the body or burning it in the straw stack. The girl first attacked is dangerously hurt, her injuries having caused her to vomit blood. There had been a quarrel about sums of money which James had stolen from the old man on different occasions, and he had stolen money to go to the Odd Fellows' excursion to Hamilton, which comes off to-day, and his father had discovered this. The pump handle had been sawn off by James on purpose to accomplish his murderous intention.

A later and more explicit account of the Rockford tragedy is that young Smith went to his sister's room some time in the night and stole the key of his father's money box from a string of keys which were around the oldest girl's body. He stole the money and put the key back in the bed, and upon the girl turning over in the bed shortly afterwards felt the key which awakened her, and suspecting what had been done, as they had expected he would attempt the theft. She then got up and told her father something was wrong, as the string of the keys had been cut from her body. Her father then got up, and went to the son's room and accused him of taking the money. They both then came down stairs and had some words, the old man threatening to have him arrested if he did not give up the money. The father then procured a halter, and started for the field to get a horse to go to Simcoe, saying he would put a stop to this kind of work. The son followed him up a lane back of the barn, and there murdered him with a club about two feet six inches long, which he had prepared the evening before from an old pump handle, and which the girls saw him cutting not knowing for what purpose. It was round to the end not square, as before stated. His subsequent actions are correctly detailed in the first report. The old man was forty-nine years of age, and highly respected. It is thought the eldest girl will recover. The mother only died about one year ago. She was the second wife, but left only one child, a boy. The rest now living—two girls and a boy—are children of the first wife. James was to have been married to-day.

A Woman of Seventy Wins in a Breach of Promise Case.

(From the Manchester Examiner of June 9.)

Mr. Justice Denman has had the monotony of his business at Winchester assizes relieved by a breach of promise case which, even at a time when such actions are as plentiful as blackberries, and as varied as human tastes, may claim the merit of conspicuous novelty. A giddy child of 70 years was the plaintiff, and a gay lad of just one year older the defendant. They knew one another in the dim long ago, and, though the matter-of-fact pleadings only speak of friendship in that remote past, we imagine that their friendship must then have ripened into the "love that is more than love," for the tender flame burned brightly, it seems, after the lapse of 55 years. The gentle maiden became "another's," and for more than half a lifetime Mr. and Mrs. Lacy—for that is the plaintiff's name—travelled happily, or unhappily, as the case may have been, through the vale of life. In the course of time, and in the processes of nature Mrs. Lacy's husband was taken away, and she was left a widow with a fountain of sentiment still bubbling in her bosom. She pined for sweet companionship, and just a year after her widowhood began sighed after Mr. Frankalein, the friend of her childhood—for the first time for sixty years! They met in church, which may have been an augury or an omen; the old attachment seems to have been restored on the instant, and the interesting old creatures plighted their troth, or, in the language of the law courts, the septuagenarian male promised to marry the septuagenarian female. There was no doubt about the engagement or the promise. The plaintiff insisted that the defendant "named the happy day" for the 11th of last September. The defendant admitted that he had put up the banns and taken lodgings for their future home, but denied that he had committed himself to so imprudent a measure as the selection of the date. The defendant, indeed, seems to have been a fickle fellow, a thorough trifler with the affections of the amorous old lady. He said he was ill, to which she replied that he was well enough to walk to the doctor's, so, of course he was well enough to fulfil his pledge. The marriage, however, did not take place, and Mrs. Lacy, following the fashion, at once put the affair into the hands of her solicitors. The inconstant Frankelein, then, it is true, offered to keep his word, but his affianced was not going to risk another disappointment. She told him that she would not have him "if he came with his hair covered with diamonds," and so went on with the action. She went into the witness box, we are told, "in widow's weeds and false front," explaining that the former was a tribute to the "dear departed," and the latter "was made necessary because her hair had fallen off through the heartless conduct of the defendant." Her weeds, or her false front, or her piteous story, seem to have had an effect upon the jury, for they awarded the old lady £10, which is probably more than a husband would be worth to a woman of 70, and not more than a flirt of 71 ought to pay for his inconsistency. Mr. Herschell could not have had a better case if he had ordered it on purpose. That two persons who have reached second infancy, and may be said to have a leg each in the grave, should come into court on such a suit, and that the woman should actually get damages, is really a finer burlesque of breach of promise of marriage proceedings than even Mr. Gilbert's "Trial by Jury."

THE HOUSEHOLD.

TO MAKE SHELL FRAMES.—Shell frames are made thus: The outside of the frame is made of pine, to suit the size of your picture. Have ready a quantity of small shells, such as are found on the banks of a river or creek. Spread putty on your rough frame, and arrange your shells in even rows while the putty is soft. Press the shells down a little. After the frame is covered set away to dry. When dry, give two coats of Damar varnish, using a medium sized paint brush. To clean the shells you should place them in weak lye over night in a tub; the next morning rub well with a broom or brush, rinsing in clear water several times. This improves them very much.

TO MAKE TURKISH MATS.—The materials necessary are tapestry, Brussels and coarse wrapping twine. Cut the carpet crosswise in strips of two and a half or three inches wide, and ravel out the wool threads. Be careful not to separate the clusters. Set up knitting on large steel needles; take up one stitch of knitting; put one of the carpet threads on the needle, too; then put thread around the needle and knit both through the one stitch; repeat this to end of row, then knit back plain, third row same as first; knit as many and as long strips which, sewed together, will make mat of size required; then line and finish with fringes or not.

BROILED HAM AND EGGS.—Cut the ham in thin slices, take off the rind, wash the slices in cold water and lay them on the gridiron over quick coals. Turn frequently, and they will soon be broiled. Take them up on a platter (previously warmed), butter and pepper the ham. Have ready on the fire a pan of boiling water from the teakettle; break into it as many eggs as you require for the meal, and, when the "white" is done, dip out each egg carefully with a spoon, so as to keep it it whole, and set it on one of the slices of ham. After all are arranged, sprinkle pepper over each egg and serve.

FRIED RICE.—A new dish is coming into favor. Rice is partly ground, cooked by steam for two or three hours and allowed to get cold. It is then cut into thin slices and dipped in egg and cracker dust, like an oyster for frying. It is fried brown and served hot. It is less costly than fried potatoes, more palatable, and decidedly more nutritious.

TO DARKEN THE HAIR.—There is nothing that will be a permanent or healthful dye for the hair. Hair dyes are more injurious than good. Oak bark soaked in water makes a good, harmless wash. It is not injurious, and by applying about once a week colors the hair to a dark shade. At first use ottener.

New and Old World Protection.

(From the Toronto Mail.)

When the English farmers were threatened with the repeal of the Corn Laws, ruin, they believed, stared them in the face. While the measure was in progress, and its ultimate beneficial results not yet fully developed, the most gloomy forebodings infected the whole agricultural community. The days of cheap wheat had come, and the farmer had begun to lose; the days of manufacturing prosperity had not come, nor had the resulting demand for other farm produce, by which he was largely to gain. A writer of the period, visiting a market town, hears a farmer say of his rent: "This is paid; thank God; this is paid: but where, or when, or how I shall pay the rest, I know not; sold all to pay at Lady Day; not another bushel left. What is to be done at Michaelmas I know not. Peel, they tell me, is out of all possibility of helping us; they say our members be as bad as him; the Lord help us at Michaelmas.

These gloomy anticipations were not fulfilled. The certainty of cheap food, the uninterrupted entry of such raw material as was unprocurable at home, and the assistance given to foreign trade by the repeal of naval restrictions, gave an immense impetus to British manufacturing operations. Factories, mills, workshops, multiplied in all directions, and the benefits of the home market, thus secured to the British farmer, were enormous. Distant lands could send grain, and such food as the operations of transport would not injure, but of the more bulky articles, and of those the wealthier and better paying classes chiefly used, he had the monopoly still and many more customers than before. Thus, as Mr. Mackenzie stated in his Toronto speech, "a much higher price is now got for almost everything except the cereals, twice as much is now paid for a horse, rents are nearly doubled, and immense benefits have accrued to the proprietors of land and their tenants."

Thus, what was called Free Trade in Britain operated principally in giving cheap food to the workers directly to the encouragement of manufactures. Manufactures prospered in consequence, and how the farmers prospered in consequence, all know.

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.

A few days since in a speech at Parkhill, Sir John Macdonald illustrated his usual argument in favor of the Yankee tariff, in a practical manner, by alleged transactions which he said had occurred in the County of Simcoe. His happy illustration was, however, speedily knocked into a cocked hat, as the saying is, by the following brief, but effective, letter, which explains itself:—

"I notice in the report of Sir John Macdonald's speech at Parkhill, on the 3rd inst., as given in the Mail of yesterday, a reference to the importation of oats from the United States, in which the speaker uses the words, 'They had seen how a single sleigh-load, brought in by Mr. H. H. Cook, the great free trader, for his lumbermen and shantymen, brought down the price in the County of Simcoe.' I take it for granted that Sir John refers to me, and have to say in reply that in all of his statements on other personal matters are on a par with this, no redress can be placed in them. I have never imported a bushel of oats or other cereals from the United States or any other country, nor have I, to my knowledge, ever used in my lumbering operations any oats imported into Canada. It is unfortunate that the great Conservative Chieftain so continually neglects the observance of the Commandment which forbids the bearing of false witness.

"I remain, yours respectfully,

"H. H. COOK.

"Toronto, July 6, 1878."

This is a happy illustration of Sir John's ready powers of invention, and his perfect indifference to the truth or otherwise of what he says, when engaged in the work of humbugging a meeting. Just as at Bury he advocated a "reciprocity tariff," at Cobourg "a slightly increased tariff," and in the western peninsula only "a readjustment of the tariff," so he adjusts his arguments and his facts to the ear of his present audience. If all his other statements at Parkhill are on a par with that on the oats question, the electors of that village must have been greatly enlightened.

AN OBNOXIOUS PRACTICE.

Clerks in our shops often make a very serious mistake by overmuch praise of the goods they exhibit. Any sensible person wishes to examine articles before purchasing, and is disgusted when a voluble clerk keeps up an incessant strain concerning the excellence beauty, cheapness, etc., of what is simply his duty to show with courtesy, explaining what may not be obvious, and giving such information as may be desired.

"The very best fabric ever made," concluded a clerk the other day, after much puffing of his goods. "I am selling it to you at less than the actual cost of manufacturing."

The lady at the counter turned away, saying, "I will not take the goods. I have no wish to pay less than the cost of manufacture, and no merchant can afford to do business on such terms."

Of course there are cases where goods are purchased by merchants under such circumstances that they can afford to sell at less than the manufacturing cost. And stating this fact is very well. But the persistent, incessant commendation of goods, combined with a disagreeable air of insisting on a purchase, is very obnoxious to all refined people.

TASTE IN DRESSING.

Whatever taste your dressmaker, man or woman, may have, there are little touches which should come from one's self, and which give originality. Women should be educated to a higher sense of color and form. Even an ugly woman should be taught that it is her duty to make her ugliness as little disagreeable as possible. A lady of rank once said: "If I were ever so poor, and had to sew my own gowns and make them of serge or dimity, I would cut them so that Gigorgione or Gainsborough, were they living, might look at me with complacency, or at all events without a shudder. It is not half so much a question of material as it is of taste." Women are reproached with thinking too much about dress, but the real truth is, they do not think enough about it in the right way. It is the duty of every woman to make herself as full of grace as she can. All cannot be lovely, but none need be entirely unlovely.

JOY AMONG THE CHILDREN.

COPELAND'S SWEET CASTOR OIL, equally suitable for children and adults. Endorsed by over 600 doctors in Canada. The difficulty of administering nauseous medicines and the desirability of having them pleasant to the taste, induced T. Copeland to undertake researches, which resulted in the discovery of a Sweet Castor Oil, perfectly palatable, of the same strength and medical qualities as the ordinary Castor Oil; and while equally safe and harmless yet acting with more certainty, and producing neither nausea nor griping. Some children say it is honey; others call it syrup—they all say they like it. One parent says—"My children drink it like water;" another—"We had to hide the bottle or they would have finished it right off;" another—"My little girl has taken it twice without any trouble, and does not know what it is, though she hates the ordinary Castor Oil, and we never could get her to take it without a fight;" yet another—"I wish you success of your SWEET CASTOR OIL; it is a splendid thing—sure to take the place of all common oil."

The extraordinary demand for this improvement of a staple household medicine has brought fraudulent imitations into the market, but the public can guard themselves against substitutes (which unprincipled parties are attempting to sell on the reputation of this article) by seeing that the name, COPELAND'S SWEET CASTOR OIL, is on both wrapper and direction label.

The undersigned having purchased Messrs. T. Copeland & Co's interest in the above preparation, are now manufacturing it from the original recipe.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy is an Indian vegetable compound composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicine-plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is so constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Degestive, Organs, Nervous System, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, and being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine has decided benefit in all, and a permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivaled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to Bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c, should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

PTITT'S SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachryn Canals, Pim, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented the public with the assurance of its efficient as a curative of the most diseases of the eye acute or chronic inflamation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, when weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effective remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, com pounded with elaborate care and exactness-safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, lessening the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of minerals and eye-washes. RHEUMATIC and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. It is used successfully for PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

"I wish to ask the court," said a fastious lawyer, who had been called to the witness stand to testify as an expert, "if I am compelled to come into this case, in which I have no interest, and give a legal opinion for nothing?" "Yes, yes, certainly," replied the mild-mannered Judge; "give it for what it is worth."

The Conservative Workin' Man.

Has ye'er room water rin up the hill?
Or a drunkard prefer a nip to a gill?
I can show you a greater absurdity still—
A Conservative workin' man!

Who cares to the whip o'high-handed rule,
An' stoops to be used on a Tory tool,
Syne shouts'd us gin he was a born fool?
The Conservative workin' man!

Who hates book readin' an' writin' o' letters,
The penny post an' the penny papers,
An' grunts to the kirk wi' the Bible tapers?
The Conservative workin' man!

Who hates the cheap American meat,
An' the big loads made frae the Russian wheat?
For the anti-corn law he taken fussy a greet—
The Conservative workin' man!

Who abhors the ballot an' secret votin',
An' sighs for the rows an' the bashin, an' plottin?
When a week-lang drink an' a bribe could be gotten?
The Conservative workin' man!

Gin the Tories always had their way
What kind o'times should we hae the day!
Let the shadow o'Baird oot linsty sky—
Conservative workin' man!

Nae politics spoken abeen the breath,
Nae public meetin' was ane frae skaith,
To ask for reform brought prison an' death—
Conservative workin' man!

We ne'er got ought they could keep us frae,
The Liberals hae gi'en us a' we hae.
The Tories can only taxes hy
On Conservative workin' men!

The tyrant's rule is the Tory game,
As it was before, it is still the same,
A manly man wad spurn the name—
"A Conservative workin' man!"

When self-dependence is ance impaired,
The feckless worm micht weel be scared
To mount the gallows to please the Laird—
The Conservative workin' man!

HARVEY.

A by-law for $15,000 in favour of the Whitby and Bobcaygeon extension railway, was voted on in the Township of Harvey yesterday, and resulted in a tie. The Township Clerk gave the casting vote to-day in favour of the by-law, and declared the by-law carried. This is the fourth bonus that has been carried in favour of this road.

KEENE.

It has been decided to hold a Sabbath School Convention of the County of Peterborough, in Keene, on Tuesday and Wednesday the 17th and 18th of September, next, at 2 p.m. Messrs. Fotheringham, Andrews, McCulloch, and Mr. Geo. Read, were appointed a committee to draw up a programme of proceedings.—COM.

LINDSAY.

BANK CHANGES.—Mr. A. McDonell, of the Ontario Bank here, has been removed to the Port Hope agency. His place in the Lindsay branch has been filled by Mr. T. Dean. Mr. Reeves, of the Bank of Montreal, will also leave town this week for another agency. He goes to Quebec city, where he was stationed some time ago. He will have no successor for the present.

PLENTY OF WORK.—Between the harvest fields and the Victoria Railway extension there is plenty of work for all the men out of employment in this section. The farmers complain that they cannot get all the help they require, and the same difficulty is experienced by the Victoria Railway authorities, who are ready to place twice the number of men on the works if they can be secured. This is a strong evidence of the return of better times.

LETTER FROM FATHER STAFFORD.—SIR,—Herewith is a copy of a letter which I have addressed to the Editor of the Worder for this week's issue. Please publish and oblige, Yours.
M. STAFFORD, Pt.
Lindsay, July 31st, 1878.

(To the Editor of the Worder.)

SIR,—In your issue of the 11th July is published what appears to be the whole, but is, in reality, only a portion, of a private letter from the Hon. Mr. Wood to me. Please allow me to say in reference to this matter,—

Firstly.—That the Hon. Mr. Wood's letter to me was in reply to a letter from me to him.

Secondly.—That letter was marked private. It was intended to remain private, personal and strictly confidential.

Thirdly.—That letter was taken from my house, I know not how, when, or by whom, and a part of it was made public to you, without my knowledge or consent;—that is, you published a private letter which was stolen from me.

Fourthly.—I have not given the Hon. Mr. Wood any names of persons in Ops or Emily to whom any newspaper might be sent. And, I may add, as a matter of fact, in reference to the Hon. Mr. Wood's visits to my house, which have been made a subject of newspaper comment, that he has done me the honor to pay me only one visit on a Sunday, to my knowledge, in ten years.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obed't servant,
M. STAFFORD, Pt.
Lindsay, July 31st, 1878.

NORWOOD.

THE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION.—The following candidates for entrance were successful in passing the local Board at the recent examination:—Harry P. Leader, Norwood school; Susie Campbell, School S. No. 3, Dummer; Reuben Beavis, School S. No. 5, Asphodel; Thomas Ryan, School S. No. 6, Asphodel; Jas. H. Stephenson, School S. No. 6, Dummer.

OUR TEACHERS.—The following are the successful applicants to fill the vacancies in the Norwood High and Public Schools: Mr. H. B. Houghton, of Toronto, Head Master, at a salary of $800. Mr. W. Troy, of Brantford, assistant teacher of the High School, salary, $400, and Miss M. Ross, of Whitby, as teacher in the Public School, at a salary of $350. These teachers have been highly recommended.

OUR SCHOOL.—The report of the Principal of the Norwood High and Public School, for the past half year, speaks well for that institution.

THE NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—We are glad to note this week the forward state of the new Church now being erected in this Village for the use of the Presbyterian congregation. This body has outgrown their present quarters, and the construction of a new building on a larger scale was determined on some time ago. Work on it was commenced early in the spring, the foundation being laid with imposing Masonic ceremonies, which we fully described at the time. The whole contract was let to the Messrs. Harpers' of this village; the stone work being built by Mr. Weddell, of Peterborough; while Mr. D. Carlisle, also of that town, had the contract for the brick work. Mr. Carlisle has put up all the principal buildings which have been erected in this county town for several years past, and his reputation as a builder is a sufficient guarantee of the finished and substantial character of the workmanship of the building now in course of erection. The new church is 84 x 44, 150,000 brick from Mr. Curtis' yard being used in the construction. In front of the north west corner rises a tower of 60 feet, to be surmounted by a spire giving an additional height of 48 feet. The ceiling of the edifice has an altitude of forty feet, which will give the interior a commodious and elegant appearance. Underneath is the basement, to be used for Sabbath School purposes, the height of the room being about 12 feet. The body of the church will accomodate an audience of over five hundred persons. The cost is placed at $6,000, and when completed we are sure the sacred edifice will be well worth the sum expended on it. The Messrs. Harper will push the work on rapidly to completion, the last brick having been laid on Tuesday last. The Church will be ready for the performance of divine worship by the month of October next. We must congratulate our Presbyterian friends on the possession of such a handsome church, while the village is indebted to them for such a fine addition to its buildings. The site, on a gentle slope, is very pleasant and suitable one, and we believe we are safe in saying that no village in Ontario possesses a church that can vie with that which the Presbyterians of Norwood will soon occupy.—Register.

Chaff to Catch Foolish Birds.

The U.K. Club Circular about Barley and Malt.

(From the Toronto Globe.)

Under the clap-trap heading: "Business First—Politics Afterwards," a circular, compiled evidently at the Tory headquarters, has been distributed among the electors of some of the rural constituencies, adjuring them to send no one to Parliament who will not pledge himself "to right the wrongs of the farmer." We have received one of these of course, unauthenticated—productions from Welland, another from East Northumberland, and gather that the inference to be drawn from the statements therein set forth is, that it is essential the two gentlemen respectively representing the Conservative interests as candidates in these Ridings should be elected if the growth of barley is to be continued in Canada. The first statement made is the following:—

"The tax on malt was 36 cents a bushel, and under this the malsters could be the farmer's best customer. In the session of 1876-7 this impost was doubled, with the consequent effect of lessening the manufacture of malt in Canada by 782,145 pounds in six months."

As we have said, the circular in which this statement appears is unauthenticated. It does not bear even the printer's name. The latest report of the Inland Revenue Department is up to June 30, 1877, or about three months only after the change in the malt duty:—The production of malt varies with the season, and the circular does not state in what period of six months the diminution occurred. As the extra duty only represents some 2½c to 3c per gallon of beer, it is inconceivable that any considerable diminution of consumption, and consequently of the demand for malt, should have arisen from the cause assigned. On the other hand, we have in the Inland Revenue return for the year 1876-7 the following remarks by the Chief Commissioner:

"The above (tabular) statement shows that quantity of malt manufactured during the past fiscal year is less than the average of the four previous years by 2,978,041 pounds, and less than the quantity manufactured in 1875-6 by 13,641,087 pounds, while the quantity taken (out of bond) for consumption was 3,880,059 pounds below the average, and 1,814,896 less than was taken in 1875-6. These figures show that there has been a steady decline in the quantity of malt used during the past five years."

This would indicate to any reasonable person that the decline referred to, if it occurred, was incidental to causes in operation before the change of duty. But after all as affecting the consumption of barley, what would the alleged decrease amount to? In 1867 we manufactured in Canada of malt 39,235,298 lbs., and reduced the quantity in warehouse by about 1,200,000 lbs. The quantity taken out of bond for home consumption was 28,878,951 lbs., and we exported 11,577,814 lbs. Even had we still manufactured less malt in a given period as alleged, it would not follow that the actual demand has decreased; while it is evident that any such quantity as that stated can have no influence at all as a factor in our calculations of the effect of the additional duty, one way or other, on the demand for barley.

The next statement regarding malt is as follows:

"Last session the Government repealed the Customs duty of thirteen cents on every bushel of imported malt. The United States, against whom nothing is charged for their corn, exact fifteen cents on every bushel of barley sent to the States by Canada, and twenty cents on every bushel of malt. The Canadian farmer thus suffers a double injury: His grain is heavily taxed by the American Government, whilst the grain of the United States, coming here free, creates a formidable and hurtful competition in our own markets."

The compiler of this dishonest document evidently regards those to whom it is addressed as grossly ignorant of current events. His recklessness, too, is shown by the quotation of thirteen cents as the duty repealed. That is about the amount of the American duty on malt at the present time. The whole Canadian customs duty on malt was repealed, representing some eighty cents per bushel, it being on the other hand provided that any malt imported should go into bond and be chargeable with the same excise duty as home manufactured malt. This change, as we recently showed, was made on the petition of the Canadian malsters themselves, and was supported by Sir John A. Macdonald, Dr. Tupper, Mr. T. N. Gibbs, and in fact by every member of the House of Commons on either side. The circular proceeds as follows:—

"The Legislatures of the United States, ever alive to the leading interests of its own country, purpose now to institute a specific duty of 25 cents per bushel on all malt coming in to the States.

The Legislature of the United States is not now even in session. An attempt, as we showed the other day, will be easily made by the friends of the United States, on the strength of our customs duty on malt having been raised in 1876-7, to induce Congress to increase the American import duty on malt. This was not successful, the timely repeal of the Canadian duty as aforesaid having destroyed the force of the plea set up at Washington. The circular proceeds as follows:—

"Three cargoes of Canadian barley, sent to the States last fall, were brought back here unsold at the opening of navigation. Canadians, therefore, will have to be prepared to consume their own barley, and to offset this the farmer and brewer should be rid of the disadvantages to which they are now subjected. A small duty on American corn would more than compensate for the restoration of the original duty—36 cents: instead of 72 cents, as now levied, on malt."

It is evident that, quite independent of the duty or of the surplus crop of barley on either side, the consum

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 8, 1878.

MR. HILLIARD AND HIS HAND-ORGAN.

The Review cannot deny our plain and easily-examined declaration that "Canada stands to-day the best country in the world in point of comfort and commercial stability." It can only querously complain that "the people are not all in the enjoyment of comfortable berths or contracts." Verily, nay! The days of enjoyment and comfort from berths and contracts went out with the late Tory Government. Under the Mackenzie administration the occupants of berths are expected to do their work or step down and out for those who will fulfil the duties, and contractors have not a chance of comfort as in the old days, when a tender was looked on as a merely nominal party reward. Now contracts have to be fulfilled. But what a very Tory idea it is of the Review that all the people should enjoy comfortable berths or contracts. Would the Review really have everyone a government official or contractor, so that there would be none of the "unfortunates" it speaks of! That Mr. Hilliard represents the "unfortunates" is quite true, and on polling day it will be found that his followers will have fairly earned the title, in having lost their votes.

But the Hilliard hand-organ declares that "low wages (mark the emphasis) does (sic) not mean comfort or commercial stability." Well, nobody that we ever heard of ever laid down the dictum that low wages did or could bear any such absurd meaning. But it seems that the bloated and unfeeling Custom House officers and contractors, (how the Review writer must envy them,) better their commercial stability as they pay less for a day's work. It is not said that the Custom's officer or government contractor, should pay more than others for day's wages. That would be rash; for may it not be that the Tories will return to power before the end of the century, or anyway during the twentieth? A Tory, you see doesn't like to pay any more than he can help for a day's wages, and indeed the whole party just now advocates a policy that would bear very heavily on those who work by the day, both as to the amount and purchasing power of their wages. For Protection can only benefit manufacturers in giving them higher prices, or in their giving lower wages. It is remarkable that any increase in price got by an employer for his wares does not produce a spontaneous increase of the wages given his hands; but when the prices fall (as through competition in a market narrowed by protection they must after a time,) the decrease is very promptly made up by cutting down the men's wages.

But we are informed by the paper supporting him that Mr. Hilliard says "the country is next door to bankruptcy" because he represents the "unfortunates." We had thought so all along, but now we are further assured by his own particular editor that the cause of his outcry and false panic hallo is in the fact of his representing the "unfortunates" who sigh for party preferment, and Custom House offices and fat contracts, such as were going in the "good old times" when Sir John A. dealt out sundry tempting gifts, to make more tempting his promises. If he were not a representative man in the hands of the "unfortunates," Mr. Hilliard would not be so supremely silly, of his own accord, to make so untruthful and so unpatriotic an assertion that "the country is next door to bankruptcy," or that Canadians are not a self-reliant people. But according to the Review, Mr. Hilliard says "a country whose imports continue year after year to exceed (dreadful!) its exports must be on the high road to bankruptcy, unless the "breaks" are put on somehow." If Mr. Hilliard does say this (remember we have only the Review's statement for it) he must include Great Britain in his list of countries "on the high road to bankruptcy with a big "B" for the imports of that great and glorious kingdom exceed the exports "year after year" to the extent of one hundred millions of pounds sterling, and so far from their being any necessity for putting on the "breaks" this excess of imports has gone on increasing from year to year. Mr. Hilliard had better go to England, show British statesmen the madness of their course, establish his "views" at St. James, and save the empire from impending ruin! Were the men sincere this would be the plainly loyal course, instead of his display of admiration for American institutions.

Even supposing the Government could be blamed for a decrease of revenue in depressed times that would not justify the attempt of Mr. Hilliard and his journalistic second, (if not prompter) in their declaration of a decreased revenue during the term referred to by them, when according to the Review's own choice of figures there was an increase from $24,-205,092 in 1873-4 to $24,648,715 in 1874-5. The only way in which we can account for this inelsoding of a year of increase in a period during which an increase is claimed, is on the theory that wrong statements have become so habitual as to be unavoidable. The only purpose can be to prevent if possible attention being drawn to the fact that the decrease of revenue has actually occurred since greater protection has been given by a general increase of 2½ per cent in the tariff. The question thus naturally arises, "If that increase diminished the revenue, would not further protection cause a still further decrease of revenue?"

As regards the ordinary annual expenditure, and the Review's boast of maintaining that it has increased, we would simply ask that journal if it regards an increase of the ordinary expenditure by a government as per se wrong? If so how can it justify the enormous increase made by the late government between Confederation and the Pacific Scandal rout of Tory Ministers? And when the Review boasts of maintaining its position by official figures, it will do well to remember a former reference to official documents that proved very unfortunate for its contention, as proving its falsehood by the evidence itself called up, and in this case, as in the former, we are ready to accept its own terms, and defy it to establish its present contention without gross garbling of figures, of which it has already proved itself capable.

In conclusion we would remind the Review that those to whom it refers in hackneyed language as "the real bone and sinew of the country," have also brains which place them beyond its petty purpose of pleasing them with buncombe.

THE REFORM AND CATHOLIC TRIBUNE AGAIN.

As the Review doesn't like the plain truth in good round Saxon, we will, just out of consideration for its very tender feeling, (for itself,) refrain from applying the word "liar" to it. But as flat assertions can only be met by a flat denial, we must state in contradiction of the Review that neither the EXAMINER nor the Globe disputed Treasurer Wood's statements with regard to precuniary aid to the Toronto Tribune. The Globe and the EXAMINER did not call in question the assertion of Mr. Wood that certain prominent Reformers granted sums of money to the Tribune, when that paper came into the hands of a life-long and trusted Reformer, in the person of Mr. Thomas McCrossen. Have the Tory journals anything to say against the gentleman, other than that he is a Reformer and a Roman Catholic? His conduct of the Tribune has been able, in the interests of Reform, and utterly subversive of Tory hopes in connection with the Irish Canadian. Any Reform money that went to the Tribune was from the private funds of the donors, which is in very strong contrast to the putting of public moneys into newspaper concerns by the Tories. We must further contradict the Review's assertion that the Tribune's denial of having received the subscriptions spoken of in the Wood-Stafford letter was not "partial". It was plain, explicit and complete, as any one may see who takes the trouble to read it. We must further deny the Review's declaration that "we have it on Mr. Wood's authority that the Reform Governments subsidized to the extent of several thousand dollars a journal which was falsely represented as the independent organ of the Irish Catholic." Mr. Wood never said it, nor is it true that the "Reform Governments" granted any subsidy, as Tory Governments probably would have done, judging from their past record, and to hide it up by false entries in the Public Accounts. Neither was the Tribune falsely represented as the independent organ of the Irish Catholics. It is the independent organ of the Irish Catholics, inasmuch as it gives forth the independent views of its publisher. Neither he nor any one else, ever represented it as that thing called "a journal independent of all political parties," for from the time it came into his hands it has given forth no uncertain sound for Reform. It will be seen from this that the Review is a shining exponent of the duties of truth—negatively.

If the Tory papers mean to object to politicians granting aid to newspapers published in the interest of their particular party, let them do so distinctly, and condemn what they consider a wrong, wherever and by whatever party perpetrated. But when they base their objection mainly on a Protestant aiding a Roman Catholic publisher and on the Roman Catholic publisher, accepting Protestant money, they are plainly trying to arouse sectaran prejudice for a base purpose of their own. The insinuation in this is that the Catholicity of the publisher of the Tribune is not to be relied on, because his venture has been assisted by Protestants. Who made them or anyone of their readers, judges of another's religious faith and morals? They go too far when they attempt to catch Roman Catholic votes with such clumsy bait. There is also in such an objection a covert complaint against the purity of the Protestantism that can see any good thing in a Roman Catholic paper, or in that which can in any way help the enterprise of a Roman Catholic fellow-citizen and political comrade. Such a monstrous feeling as that encouraged by these Protestant keepers of other men's consciences would make not only our politics, but our business and social relations as well, hinge entirely on the question of creed, and promote such bitter animosities as those lately enacted at Montreal, and deplored by all parties, creeds and classes in the Dominion. Out upon such reckless demagogusism!

AGAIN the Review utters the whine that the EXAMINER has been scurrilous. Let us see how. On the 26th ult., the Review had the following sentence :—

"The Globe may try to make out the Provincial Treasurer a liar, but we cannot believe it."

In the same issue it had the declaration that "the people had been charged $4,000 for the liberal distribution of Mr. Cartwright's electioneering documents," upon which we pointed out the rendiness with which its own term of "liar" might be applied to itself. Being struck with the force of the remark it now whines about "scurrility." Poor dear!

MR. SCOTT AND THOSE DUNKIN JUDGMENTS.

The Tory attempt to bulldoze the Police Magistrate has not only failed of its intention, but has proved a very potent to hoist the engineers who originated it. No one could fail to see the Tory tone and purpose of the letter signed "Observer" published in the Review, Mr. Scott's special organ, which letter has caused all the trouble. From the very friendly relationship existing between Mr. Scott and the Review, it is but natural to suppose that journal would not publish a letter making such mean references to cases in which Mr. Scott was deeply interested, without consulting that gentleman. Thus the very publication gave strong presumptive evidence that if Mr. Scott did not write the offensive letter, he at least knew something of it.

While we are ready to accept Mr. Scott's express declaration that he is "in no way responsible for the letter referred to," we still cannot but think he was a consenting party to its publication. If he was, he was foolishly jealous, and if not, his organ was foolishly jealous. We maintain that there were grounds for connecting Mr. Scott with the 'Observer' letter, as was done very plainly by our correspondent 'Liberal Conservative,' and almost as plainly by "Fair Play" in last week's Review. We further hold that these grounds of suspicion against Mr. Scott were, and are, much stronger than anything on which he has to found his imputation that the letter of "Liberal Conservative" was produced in the EXAMINER Office. Here his language, in spite of its ambiguity (Mr. Scott is often ambiguous) evidently is intended to convey the idea that the letter we published was our own. We should like to hear from him the "strong internal indications" on which he bases his imputation. We have always treated Mr. Scott, personally and politically, with the courtesy due a gentleman of his position, and therefore can see no reason beyond partisan rancour, political or on the liquor question, or both, why he should desire a quarrel with the EXAMINER. But be the cause of his tilt what it may, we shall not hesitate to withstand the assault, and if necessary deal blow for blow. "Liberal Conservative," can of course answer for himself. He knows best how to reply to one of the representatives of his own party, and how to interpret his former references to his M.P.P. We will say, however, that Mr. Scott appears to protest too much when he apologises by an excuse for acting in the liquor cases, and with somewhat unprofessional fervour dwells on his acting for his clients. No one it seems to us, has blamed him for doing his best (and it wasn't very much after all,) for his clients, and if we read "Liberal Conservative's" letter aright, the burden of its complaint was against Mr. Scott "placing himself at the disposal of the "Whiskey Ring," and against his general sympathy, outside his professional work, with the liquor interest. As to Mr. Scott's ever-clever reference to the farmer who grows barley to be used in making whiskey, and the newspaper proprietor who admits advertisements of places of business where liquor is sold, we shall simply take him on his own ground. He says they are equally blameable with himself, and holding himself blameless, we must then consider them blameless. This being the case why did he refer to them? He will see that he has again fallen into the very fault by which he was at the moment rebuking another.

One remarkable feature of Mr. Scott's letter, probably the strangest of all in that very queer epistle, is his total avoidance of any reference to the strictures of "Observer" against the Police Magistrate. He takes care to deny that Mr. Hatton was largely instrumental in placing him in his present position, and in stating that Mr. Hatton even refrained from using his vote and influence, but on the main point at issue, the charges against Mr. Hatton's, he is significantly silent. This looks something like a mute endorsation by Mr. Scott, over his own name of the "Observer" charges against the Police Magistrate. This at least will be the popular interpretation of the fact that Mr. Scott should write so long a letter, make such direct references to Mr. Hatton, and not say for that gentleman one word of exoneration from ungenerous reflections on judgements delivered on cases conducted on one side by Mr. Scott. Indeed that is the only way in which Mr. Scott's name ever got mixed up in the discussion. Had he left out of his letter some of its weak erotism and tell-tale protestations, and given the Police Magistrate a deserving word or two as to the propriety of the questioned judgements, his would have been a better letter in every way. Mr. Scott plainly had it in his power to do a neat thing, and has deliberately omitted the opportunity afforded him.

AT CROSS PURPOSES.

"The assertion that Sir John Macdonald or the advocates of a national policy for Canada wish to increase taxation is simply a deliberate and wilful falsehood."—Review.

Thus the very sensitive and self-considerate journal that complains of an adaptation of its own language to its own ease, speaks of its political opponents. And in this declaration it gives another proof of its very proper claim to be described by the little word of four letters, always offensive, but so very different as used by it or to it. Thus we shall proceed to prove.

The advocates of a "national policy" we are told, don't wish an increase of taxation, yet this sentence appears in Mr. Hilliard's lately issued card :—

"So long as the manufacturers and producers of other countries are allowed to send their products into Canada at a nominal tax, so long will our people seem languish."

The advocates of a "national policy" don't wish, they now say, an increase of taxation. But Mr. Hilliard says :—

"The Americans will not give us reciprocity in trade; we should therefore insist on a reciprocity of tariffs."

Would not the adoption of the American tariff be an increase of taxation?

Oh, dear no! The "national policy" advocates don't wish an increase of taxation! Mr. Hilliard must then have been penning rubbish and twaddle when he wrote :—

"There must be an error in allowing the people of the States to compete with our Farmers and Manufacturers, while they have a Chinese wall through which we cannot penetrate."

Perhaps he was merely perpetrating a joke? Or it may have only been an error in typography or grammar?

Possibly Mr. Hilliard or his journal will explain where the "deliberate and wilful falsehood comes in?

It is not long since our local contemporary went almost wild over the announcement that members of the Ontario Government had subscribed to the Tribune for certain persons in Eastern constituencies, and especially because Hon. S. C. Wood had written to Rev. Father Stafford on the subject of distributing a few copies of that paper in the vicinity of Lindsay. The Evening Post (Catholic) says of it; "We suppose there is nothing absolutely wrong in gentlemen paying for their choice. There is, indeed, something not over nice looking about it, but the Conservatives need not talk about it for they would do the same themselves—if they had the opportunity."

The Review would induce its readers to believe that the London Advertiser "had not the hardihood to persist in its statement," that Sir John Macdonald at Strathroy advocated a 35 per. cent tariff, in spite of the hardihood of the Review, the London Advertiser reporter does persist in the correctness of his report on that occasion, and expects to be believed naturally enough too, in preference to the man who said "Would to God I could catch him," after having helped Reil out of the country; who lied to Lord Dufferin about the Huntington charges; and who now, in spite of his many utterances condemnatory of "the present low duties," has the audacity to declare he "never proposed an increase of the tariff."!

MR. HILLIARD in his card says :—"I will be unable to make a personal canvass of the electors." Isn't this another of the "deliberate and wilful" things spoken of by the Review? Time will tell.

THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

Award of the Commissioners.

On Saturday last the Boundary Commission concluded its sittings at Ottawa. The award is as follows :

"To all whom these presents shall come, the undersigned having been appointed by the Governments of Canada and Ontario as arbitrators to determine the northerly and westerly boundary of the Province of Ontario, do hereby determine and decide that the following are and shall be such boundaries, that is to say :—Commencing at a point on the southern shore of the Hudson Bay, commonly called James' Bay, where a line produced due north from the head of Lake Temiscamingue would strike the said south shore, thence along the said south shore westerly to the mouth of Albany river, thence up the middle of the said Albany river and of the lakes thereon to the source of the said river at the head of Lake St. Joseph, thence by the nearest line to the easterly end of Lac Seul, being the head waters of English River, thence westerly through the middle of Lac Seul and the said English River to a point where the same will be intersected by a true meridional line drawn northerly from the international monument placed to mark the most north-westerly angle of the Lake of the Woods by the recent boundary commission, and thence due south, following the said meridional line to the said international monument, thence southerly and easterly, following upon the international boundary line between the British possessions and the United States of America into Lake Superior. But if a true meridional line drawn northerly from the said international boundary at the said most north-westerly angle of the Lake of the Woods, shall be found to pass to the west of where the English river empties into the Winnipeg river, then and in such case the northerly boundary of Ontario shall continue down the middle of the said English river to where the same empties into the Winnipeg river, and shall continue thence on a line drawn due west from the confluence of the said English river with the said Winnipeg river until the same will intersect the meridian above described, and thence due south, following the said meridional line to the said international monument, thence southerly and easterly, following upon the international boundary line between the British possessions and the United States of America into Lake Superior.

R. C. Separate School Teachers' Convention.

The R. C. Separate School Teachers' Convention, held at Hamilton last week, was very successful. This was the first Convention of the body. Papers and addresses were given by the Rev. Wm. Brennan chairman, Messrs. T. O'Hagan, C. Donovan, G. S. Girorer, and Miss Walsh. Authority was given the Board of Management to establish a journal devoted to Separate School interests. The most important report was that of the Committee on Separate School Laws. It was adopted as follows :

That as all Protestant ratepayers are specifacto supporters of Common Schools, so all Catholic ratepayers should be ipso facto supporters of Separate Schools. Because, as religion alone demands a Separate School system, so religion alone should determine the question of Separate School supporters,

That there should be Model Schools for the exclusive training of Separate School teachers, as there are Model Schools for the training of Common School teachers. This follows as a consequence of existing legislation.

That it is but a matter of common justice that needy Separate Schools be supplied with assistance, for the same reason that Common Schools not self-supporters are aided from the Provincial funds.

That no deduction be made from the salaries of Separate School teachers for the vacation that follows the expiration of each school term. This is but agreeable to the spirit of the Common School law.

That all Separate School Boards in the Province should receive copies of official reports, changes in the law, &c, in order that they may be equally informed with their confreres of the Common Schools, who are constantly supplied with the above-mentioned materials.

That there should be printed catalogues of prizes for Separate Schools kept in the department; and supplied to Separate School Boards on demand.

T. O'Hagan, Trenton, was elected President of the Association, P. Smith, Dundas, Secretary, and J. McEntee, Peterboro' Treasurer.

SCANDAL AT QUEBEC.

The Disgraceful Doings of a Fashionable Tradesman's Son.

QUEBEC, Aug. 3.—The case of the Queen v. Celina Gosselin, charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, promises to bring to light some interesting facts as to the kind of a life led by some of our leading men. The origin of the prosecution is told in the following story :—For some time the son of a well-to-do tradesman has been a regular visitor to the establishment and has managed to keep his mistress in a style altogether beyond his means. Recently he paid the keeper of the house five hundred dollars, in which sum there was a cheque for $100 requiring his father's countersignature. Madame Gagnon, the woman in question, next day visited the tradesman's premises and related to him the story of the son's life, at the same time presenting the cheque for endorsation. The irate father could hardly believe the tale and accused Madame of having stolen the cheque and a quantity of valuable jewellery belonging to the young man's mother and sisters, which she acknowledged the son had presented to her at various times. The parents placed the matter in the hands of a detective, who also visited Madame Gagnon's house, and, notwithstanding her statement that she had not stolen the various articles of jewellery but that she had received them as presents, he took them away and restored them to the parents. Madame Gagnon at once took out actions against the detective and the parents of the young man; charging them with having entered her premises illegally and with stealing property which she had legally acquired. The detective in turn now takes proceedings against her for keeping a house of ill-fame, and to prove his charges has summoned as witnesses about a hundred of our young bloods and a number of members of the Local Legislature, each in said even higher personages, whose no one would suspect of visiting such places. The trial, which is fixed for Tuesday, causes much scandal in high circles and most of the witnesses, it is said, have left town for the seaside.

DEATH OF THE PAPAL ALBEGATE.

Brief Sketch of His Public Career.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 4.

The Papal Ablegate is dead. His complaint was congestion of the lungs. The remains go to Ireland. His age was forty-five. Mgr. Conroy was born in Dundalk, county of Louth, Ireland, on the 1st January, 1833; was ordained priest by his Eminence Cardinal Patrizi, in St. John's Laterau, Rome, on the 6th of June, 1857; was consecrated Bishop of Ardagh and Clonmacnoise by his Eminence Cardinal Cullen, in St. Michael's Cathedral, Longford, Ireland, on the 11th April, 1871; and was appointed Apostolic Delegate to Canada on the 10th April, 1877.

The Temperance Candidate.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR.—When Mr. George Hilliard was announced as the Conservative Candidate for West Peterborough with a great blast of the Conservative trumpet, he was declared also to be the Temperance Candidate, and the votes of Temperance men were solicited for him as the apostle of Temperance to Ottawa. At that time the hollow mockery of his assuming to be a temperance man and an ally or supporter of Sir John Macdonald, whose antics in the House of Assembly had just then been exposed was, pointed out. His address, however, has at last come to light, as given on a card lately issued to the electors of the Riding and published in the EXAMINER, and to the astonishment of not a few of us temperance men, there is not the slightest reference to temperance principles in the whole address. This has led me to ask what induced him thus to temporise with this great question and its numerous supporters among the Conservative electors of this Riding? Has he changed his views? And if so why? And if he has not why has he forgotten to make the faintest mention of it, when appealing to the electors for their support and votes to send him to Ottawa to Legislate for them on this subject should it again come up for amendments or repeal? Has he bartered his principles? Or has he found that taverns and tavern keepers are potent during election contests, and is it for these or similar reasons he has ignored his former protestations and thus passed over in silence one of the greatest questions of the present day? Is he trying to serve two masters, in thus quietly taking sides with the Licensed Victuallers, while secretly professing to encourage the Temperance friends to carry out the law? The Licensed Victuallers may have succeeded in shewing him their former power in placing Mr. Scott where he is. They may have succeeded in satisfying him that they are prepared to elect him in the same way, and by the same means, but will temperance men be satisfied with having a temperance representative elected in that way?

Another question also arises. Could Mr. Hilliard be the author of an address in which this important subject is so completely ignored? Or is he the creature of some more wily trickster who put the words in his mouth, or rather on his card, without consulting him, and compels him to sip the vinegar for party purposes? If this is the case he is to be pitied, for while as a private citizen he might permit this, as a representative man of an intelligent constituency he must be able to free himself from party or personal influences, when great moral questions are at stake, and unless he can do so at the commencement of his political career, when can he be expected to be able to do so? Mr. Hilliard is a very amiable gentleman, but this bartering of his principles causes many of his friends to fear that already bad company is producing its legitimate fruit, and leading him to practice deceptive and cunning ways. The attempt to serve the whisky ring and the temperance people will prove more than he is able to perform, and his dissimulation will be sure to lead to his political ruin. In his address he is party first, party last and party only, and hence his abandonment of his temperance principles. He is evidently the creature of a more designing wire-puller, and as this latter is the advocate and abettor of the whisky interests and intemperance, how can Mr. Hilliard expect or hope to get the vote of us temperance men? In thus placing himself in the hands of cunning but unprincipled partizans, Mr. Hilliard has to a large extent sacrificed his respectability and consistent character, and must not blame many consistent temperance men if they fail to support him, because in doing so they believe they would be supporting the enemies of the progress of temperance principles, and thus retard the very work they have been endeavoring to foster and promote.

Thanking you for space

CONSISTENCY.

EXCURSION TO DELAWARE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR.—Perhaps you would like to hear from the excursion that left Port Hope on the 4th inst. for the city of Dover, in the State of Delaware. Some sixty odd in number, we left Port Hope with a pleasant day before us, on the safe and commodious Steamer Norseman, and had a pleasant journey across the lake to Charlotte. At that point, through the thoughtfulness and care of the Western Passenger Agent of the Northern Central Railway, Mr Samuel L. Seymour we found a Northern Central Coach waiting for us, to take us through to Dover, without change. At Rochester Mr. Seymour joined the train, and gave his personal attention to the care and comfort of the excursionists, going through to Dover with the party, to see that nothing went wrong. I do not propose to give an extended description of the route, that being so well known in Canada, so many Canadians having taken this popular route to the Centennial Exhibition, in 1876. The scenery is simply magnificent, and the farmers in the party united in praise of the farms en route, which appeared at intervals amidst the hills, rivers, and dales that border the route.

The Coach we had was first-class in every respect, riding as easy as Pullman's celebrated coaches.

At Dover we were met by the Land Agent, Mr. J. F. Mancha, and he at once commenced fulfilling his promises to the letter, giving us a ride of some 15 miles on the first day of our arrival. We passed through different roads going and coming from Dover and by a number of farms lately settled by Canadians, and all were warm in praise of the magnificent appearance of these farms, especially those of the brothers Thomas, of Brooklin, Ont. These farms were abundant proof that large crops can be grown of any grain fruit, etc., or would be valuable for grazing. The land is a sandy loam, just rolling enough to drain naturally, and easily cultivated, plowing continuing all winter, with but few days when the frost will prevent it.

In conclusion, let me say to all desirous of changing their locality, visit Dover before settling elsewhere, send to J. F. Mancha, Real Estate Agent, Dover Del., for one of his pamphlets descriptive of the country, which he will send "free" on application, and send to Mr. Seymour for a time table and other information as to the route; visit Dover, and be satisfied.

DORCAYCEON.

During a severe thunder storm which passed over here on Sunday the 4th inst. a barn of Wm. Kobs, two miles from here, was struck by lightning. The barn, driving-shed, and stables were burned, as well as most of his crop. Loss over $3,000. Insured in the [illegible] London, for $1,200.

DUMMER.

SEVERE BY LIGHTNING.—On Thursday afternoon last the driving house and shed of Mr. Warren Taylor of this township were struck by lightning and totally consumed by fire together with all the farm implements. Through the exertions of his neighbors who came to his assistance his dwelling and other buildings were saved. Loss about $1,000. No insurance.—COM.

SMITH.

On Friday morning, about 1 a.m., the barns owned by Mr. A. Fitzgerald, Lot No. 27, in the 6th Concession of Smith, were totally destroyed by fire, together with the contents, consisting of 25 loads of hay, 14 acres of fall wheat and 5 acres of barley, 1 mower, 1 broadcast seeder, 1 horse rake, 2 new wagons, one new cart, weighing scales, fanning mill, horse fork, together with all the harness and other articles that are generally housed around a farm. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for, but must have been the work of an incendiary. Insured in the London Mutual for $750. The loss is estimated at $1,500.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 8, 1878.

LOCAL NEWS.

Dentistry.—Mr. A. Bosanko, Dentist, of this town, will be at Brennan's Hotel, Norwood, on the 20th instant, when all parties requiring his services can consult him.

Fishing Permits.—We are requested by Mr. George Cochrane, Fishery Inspector, to state that permits are not necessary for parties wishing to fish in Stony Lake.

Lindsay and Bobcaygeon R. R.—Steps have been taken to quash the Harvey house bylaw, on the grounds of bogus votes and other illegal acts in carrying it.

Personal.—Miss Martha C. Hunt, of this town, has been successful in securing a 1st Provincial Certificate at the recent examinations held at the Normal School Toronto.

Removal.—Mr. T. Fitzgerald has removed his carriage works from Brock street to his new and commodious shops on the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets near the station.

Fall Show.—The annual exhibition of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society will be held in the Town of Peterborough on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 8th and 9th

Sabbath Desecration.—A North Monaghan farmer, residing a short distance from the town, was busily engaged drawing in grain last Sunday afternoon, contrary to the fourth commandment.

Pigeon Creek Bridge.—As will be seen by a report of the Town Council proceedings in another column, that body on Monday evening last voted a further sum of $140 to secure the repairs of Pigeon Creek Bridge.

Police Court.—Nothing of any importance has transpired during the week in the Police Court, with the exception of a few drunks, which were summarily disposed of. Eight dollars being the amount realised.

The Provincial Exhibition.—We have received a copy of the prize list for the thirty-third Provincial Exhibition to be held this year in Toronto, commencing September 23rd. The prospects of a successful exhibition are good.

Another Temperance Hotel.—Mr. George McComb has lately refitted the premises formerly occupied by Mr. Stewart, as the Ontario Hotel, and has opened up the same as a Temperance House. There are good yards and stabling in connection.

Vital Statistics.—The registrations for the town of Peterborough for the month of July are as follows:—Births, 16; Marriages, 4; Deaths, 9. It is evident that these returns are more nearly accurate than formerly, though even yet they are probably not quite complete.

Entertainment To-Night.—Remember the entertainment in Carswell Hall to-night, under the auspices of Carswell Temple. The programme consists of singing, readings, recitations &c., to conclude with the parlor drama of "The Stumbling Block," or how the Deacon gave up his wine.

New Ticket Agency.—As will be seen by advertisement in another column Mr. Geo. A. Cox has opened a new Ticket Agency in connection with his other business, and is now prepared to issue tickets from Peterborough to all parts of Canada, United States and Great Britain at lowest rates.

Bible Christian S. S. Pic-Nic.—A pic-nic and excursion to Rice Lake in connection with the Ashburnham Bible Christian Sunday School will take place next Tuesday, 13th instant, on the steamer Arlington. The boat leaves the Peterborough wharf at 7 a.m., calling at Ashburnham at 7.30 and Locks at 7.45.

St. Georges' Society Pic-Nic.—Notwithstanding the unfavourable state of the weather on Tuesday morning, which rather militated against the success of the pic-nic and excursion to Idyl Wild, under the auspices of the St. Georges' Society. We are informed that quite a large number were present, and spent a very pleasant day.

Who Can He Be?—The last New York World to hand has the following among its "Notes and Comments":—"A well dressed Canadian gentleman, aged about thirty, stout, five feet seven inches high, with dark hair and whiskers, was found dead in his bed at an inn in Paddington, London, on the 31st. Letters written at Toronto signed "Florence," and addressed to C. H. Woodward, Lindsay, Ont. were found in his pocket." He is believed to be C. H. Woodward, formerly of Lindsay.

Vote of Thanks.—At a meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade held on Tuesday evening, the following resolution was carried unanimously:—

Moved by Geo. A. Mitchell, seconded by A. Mervat,—That in view of the fact that a Committee of Citizens were appointed to act in connection with the Fire Brigade Committee, to make arrangements for celebrating Dominion Day—and owing to their disinterested efforts and valuable assistance, the Dominion Day Celebration was a success, financially and otherwise. Resolved,—That this Brigade tender their sincere thanks to the Citizens Committee.

School Law and Regulations.—Through the kindness of the Minister of Education we have received the compendium of acts and regulations respecting the public, separate and high schools of the Province. It gives in compact form all the acts relating to schools, the regulation of the education department, and memorands and opinions of the Minister of Education, and will be very useful to all those connected in any way with our school system. The compendium is authorized by the legislature and is an authority on the subject.

Fire Alarm.—A chimney in one of the wooden houses on George street south of the market, caught fire on Sunday afternoon last, and the fire alarm was sounded. The Brigade promptly turned out but their services were not required as the fire was speedily extinguished. On the same afternoon the planking on the iron bridge caught fire, supposed to be from a cigar stump carelessly thrown down by some one passing. The fire was put out by some boys who were close at hand before any damage worth mentioning occurred.

The Provincial Exhibition.—The Provincial Exhibition of the Agricultural and Arts Association of Ontario, will be held in the city of Toronto this year, commencing on the 23rd of September, and continuing till the 28th. $16,000 are offered in premiums. Intending exhibitors should send lists of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, agricultural implements, or indoor Saturday, August 24th. Grain, field roots, and other farm products, machinery other than agricultural implements, and manufactures generally, Saturday, August 31st. Horticultural products, ladies' work, the fine arts, &c., Saturday, September 7th.

Friendship Temple.—The following members were Installed Officers of Friendship Temple, No. 148, for the ensuing quarter, on Tuesday evening, August 6th, by Bro. Freeland, Temple Deputy:—

Bro. T. Gilleple	W. C. T.
Bro. J. Adams	P. W. C.

Obituary.—It becomes our painful duty to note the death of John King, L. L. D., at the residence of his son, Dr. King, Smithboro, on the 31st of July, at the age of 64 years. Mr. King was a native of Ireland, and graduated at Trinity College, Dublin. He was Principal of the High School, Peterborough, for four years, in which position he was popular, and highly esteemed. For some time previous to his decease he had been engaged in missionary work for the Episcopal Church. About two weeks ago he paid a visit here when he looked hale and hearty, appearing likely to live many years His sudden death took many of his friends by surprise. His remains were interred in the Cavan burying ground. He leaves only one son to survive him, in whom bereavement we tender our sincere sympathy.

Lindsay Matters.—Notwithstanding all the facilities for trade and commerce which Lindsay boasts of through her several railroads and steamboat lines, she is unable to furnish a market for the consumption of the produce of her market gardeners—one of those gentlemen having to pay semi-weekly visits to Peterboro' to dispose of his vegetables! It is needless to say he finds a ready market here for all he can supply, the products of our local gardeners being unable to meet the demand. Peterborough is fast becoming the centre of trade from all the surrounding country towns and villages, and while Lindsay journalists may take comfort in sarcastically referring to her trade they cannot well repudiate the axiom that "facts are stubborn things," and it will take something more than newspaper effusions to alter the opinions of those who visit the markets of both towns.

Elegant Furniture.—This week we had the pleasure of a visit to the furniture warerooms of Messrs. Hesbeck & McKee, on the corner of George and Brock streets. They have now on view a very fine display of elegant furniture in all the latest American styles—manufactured by themselves after photographs and designs obtained from leading wholesale houses in New York, Boston, Rochester and other American cities. In sideboards, centre and extension tables, parlor and bedroom suites, couches, sofas, &c., they have the largest and choicest stock ever shown in Peterborough. Although we repeatedly hear the cry that the market for Canadian made furniture is being slaughtered by Yankee manufacturers, Messrs. Hesbeck & McKee assure us they need no protection, and do not fear the 'bug bear "American manufactures," but are prepared to sell the same articles cheaper than they can be laid down here by either Canadian or American wholesale houses. During the month of August they announce a cheap cash sale, when genuine bargains in furniture are promised. Parties requiring suites not in stock can choose from photos and have them manufactured at less than factory prices.

Cricket Match.—A friendly game of Cricket was played last Friday between the Peterborough and Millbrook Clubs at the latter place, which was easily won by our team with one innings and 31 runs to spare. The batting of Kirkcaldy and Johnston for the Millbrook team, and Rutherford, Stratton and Montgomery for the home eleven, was exceptionally good. The following is the score:—

The Band Entertainment.—We would again remind our readers of the entertainment in the Drill Shed to-morrow evening in aid of the funds for the Band uniform. The programmee is certainly very varied and will, no doubt, be a most interesting one. A troupe of twenty Indians in native costume will skirmish through the streets in the evening after which they will repair to the Drill Shed to take part in the entertainment. The members of the Brigade headed by the Band,—in their new uniform—will march from the Engine House to the Drill Shed at 7.30 p.m. Seats have been erected in the shed capable of accommodating 1,000 people, so that the inconvenience heretofore experienced at entertainments in that place through lack of proper and suitable seats will be avoided. The following is the programme of the evening:—

PART FIRST.

Selection ..... "Rose D'Amour" ..... Steger
By Fire Brigade Band.

Indian War whoop and Dance by 20 Indians in Costume.

H. C. Wimb's performing horse "Little Tommy" with new tricks, and a new Clown has been engaged from a distance to amuse the audience with his funny sayings and humorous antics.

Selection ..... "Ernani" ..... Verdi.
By Fire Brigade Band.

PART SECOND.

Overture ... "Calif de Bagdad" ... Boildieu.
By Musical Society.

Statute Clog ..... W. Clark.
Song and Banjo Solo ..... F. Clark.
Dutch Specialties ..... Jim. Ormond.
Character Song ..... Amateur.
Grand Tumbling Scene over five Horses, in which eight acrobats will engage.

A Grand Ball will be given in Bradburn's Hall, commencing at 10.30 p.m. Full string band in attendance. Tickets to Drill Shed 25 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents. Gentlemen's Ticket to the Ball 50 cents. Ladies free.

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL.

Accounts—New Fire Engine—Impounding Cattle.

The Council met on Monday evening last. Present,—John Burnham, Esq., Reeve, and Councillors Rogers and Wand.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

ACCOUNTS.

On motion of Councillor Wand, seconded by Councillor Rogers,—The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

FIRE ENGINE.

On motion Councillor Rogers was instructed to visit Almonte and inspect the engine there offered for sale, and if found suitable to secure it.

IMPOUNDING.

Moved by councillor Wand, seconded by Councillor Rogers,—That the Overseer of Roads and Bridges make special efforts to impound all geese, pigs, cows, and horses, found running at large.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

TRADE NOTICES.

If you want Summer Clothing go to I. Robinson & Co—they have a lot which they are selling at half price. 31

Below Zero.—Notwithstanding the recent hot wave, W. J. Larmour is selling his summer stock of Hats and Caps at prices fully as low.

An Advantage.—It is a great advantage to have a large stock to select from, particularly in Boots and Shoes. That advantage can be had by purchasing from R. Stephen & Son.

Remember Warnock.—Madison & Gwyn, Merchant Tailors, are selling their light and medium weight Tweeds at less than their usual prices, for two weeks only, to make room for cigar stump carelessly thrown down by some one passing. The fire was put out by some boys who were close at hand before any damage worth mentioning occurred.

A Lady

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, Bible House, New York City. 14y

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

How the Day will be Spent—Attractions for Pleasure Seekers.

In compliance with a very numerously signed petition, the Mayor has issued his proclamation naming court Tuesday next, 13th instant, as a Civic holiday in the Town of Peterborough, and business will be generally suspended for the day. Excursions and pic-nics are in order, and from the many attractions offered to pleasure seekers and those wishing a day's recreation, we cannot help thinking the town will be literally vacated for the day.

EXCURSION TO TORONTO.

Through the exertions of Mr. Thos. Menzies, Grand Trunk Agent in this town, and the officials of the Midland Railway, a cheap excursion to Toronto has been arranged, and tickets good for four days will be issued for the very low fare of $2.25. Being the anniversary of the "Relief of Derry," a monster demonstration by the Orange Young Britons and Prentice Boys of the City of Toronto will be held that day in Toronto, at which members of both societies from all parts of the Province will take part. The O. Y. B's of this town, accompanied by the Fire Brigade Band, will take part in the procession. Monday is also the civic holiday in Toronto, and a variety of amusements and entertainments have been provided in the city for the occasion. A through train will leave the Peterborough station at 6.15 on Monday morning, arriving in Toronto at 11.57; returning will leave the Union Station at six o'clock p.m. and arrive home at eleven. Tickets will also be good to return by any regular train up to, and including August 16th, on that parties wishing to remain in Toronto to do business or attend the boat races at Barrie can have an opportunity of doing so. In connection with this excursion tickets from Peterborough to Niagara Falls and return will be issued for two dollars and fifty cents. To avoid confusion tickets should be secured before the day of excursion, and may be purchased from Mr. Thos. Menzies, G. A. Carr, or at the Midland Railway Office.

THE ODDFELLOW'S EXCURSION.

The members of Peterborough Lodge I.O.O.F., have secured the favorite Steamer Golden Rod for the day and will hold their third annual picnic at Idyl-Wild, which is now becoming the most popular pic-nic ground in this locality. From the success which has attended the picnics and excursions of this Society in former years, and from the arrangements which the Committee of Management are making for Monday, we have no hesitation in saying that should the weather be favorable a most enjoyable and pleasant time may be expected. The boat will leave the wharf at 7.30 a.m., and the Locks at 8.30, returning at a reasonable hour in the evening. A scow will be attached and music provided for dancing. Those not wishing the trouble of carrying baskets can have meals on board the boat or at Idyl Wild Hotel. Return tickets 50 cents. Children half fare.

YOUNG IRISHMEN'S PIC-NIC.

The annual pic-nic under the auspices of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of this town will also be held on the same day in Wallis' Grove, where cash prizes will be competed for in games and athletic sports. A spacious platform will also be erected for dancing, which will commence at ten o'clock. Sports will commence at 2 p.m. Carriages will be in attendance at the market square from 9 a.m. to convey parties to the pic-nic grounds. In addition to the games published in the programme a match game of base ball will take place.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last Monday evening in the Council Chamber. Present—His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Cahill, McBain, Smith, Rutherford, Douglas, Denne and Hughes.

Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Street Inspector reporting as follows:—

1st. Thos. Beavis, asking to have Townsend street graded as he wants to build. If Mr. Beavis is going to build, the street should be graded. I think about $20 would do it.

2nd. Maxwell Hall and others, asking for a sidewalk on Reid street from Charlotte street to King street, and on King street from Reid to Mr. W. Waddells. The sidewalk I think is required as it would be a great convenience to the people going to and from the Charlotte street church, but I am afraid to recommend it for fear that I might not be able to get it laid down.

3rd. R. P. Boucher, asking for a sidewalk on Water street—east side, I have no reason to change the report I made before, but if the Council see fit to order it I will have one laid down.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEORGE JOHNSTON, Inspector of Streets.

The report was received.

PETITIONS.

From Robert N. Roddy, asking that the name against the hotel destroyed by fire last spring be cancelled or a reduction of the same be made.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

ACCOUNTS.

Toker & Co	$ 1 25
R. S. Palmer	11 25
J. A. Delaney & Sons	5 00
Toker & Co	7 15
J. R. Stratton	2 25
J. R. Stratton	2 40

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee with the exception of R. S. Palmer's which was ordered to be paid.

Councillor Hughes entered and took his seat.

FIRE, WATER AND GAS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Councillor Denne read and submitted the following report from the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

The Committee having considered the question of the hose tower behind the present engine house, and find from J. E. Bolsher the cost to do what is necessary is more than we can recommend.

Your Committee recommend that the Town Commissioners be asked to take the present engine house and allow us its fair value—we could build an engine house with hose tower to a much better advantage, and that the Clerk forward this report to the Commissioners.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. PATERSON, Jr., Chairman.

The report was received and adopted.

TORONTO AND OTTAWA R. R.

Councillor Denne, Chairman of the Special Committee appointed to wait upon the Directors of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway Company and ascertain the position and prospects of the Company, report as follows:

That from the various books and vouchers of the Company all of which were readily placed at the disposal of your committee, it appears,

1. That besides the $16,000 deposit on stock subscribed by Mr. Fowler and allowed to him on account of his expenses previous to the formation of the Company there have been received by the Company the following sums of money, viz.:

Cash paid on account of stock by Messrs. Scott, Dunble, Toole, Boulton, Clarion, and Glen	$9756 22
Cash from Town of Peterborough	1000 00
Proceeds of stock sold to Messrs. Aikins, Howland & Smith, of Toronto	2025 00
Refund from the Whitby County By-law—balance of deposit of $700	32 19
Total	$12813 41

2. We have carefully examined the account exhibiting the Company's expenditure during each period, and the vouchers in respect of the same and find the cash payments to have amounted to the sum of $9681.19

3. We further find that the present liabilities of the Company amount to the sum of $3514, of which the sum of $1454 is represented by acceptances of the President of the Company now maturing.

4. We are of opinion the expenditure above reported on, no part of which has been paid in, or received by any member of the Company irrespective of services or otherwise than for actual cash disbursements, has been carefully and judiciously made.

5. We further find that upwards of 140 miles of the proposed road have been surveyed and located by engineering parties in charge of Messrs. Stewart and Murdoch respectively, and that over $700,000 of municipal aid has been voted to the Company and now stands good.

6. You Committee is informed that the Corporation of the Town of Perth proposed granting to the Company $100 to push it to completion, same, however, to be paid by the Company on account of the undersigned by way of an advance on the bonus of $75,000 heretofore voted by them, and that their by-law authorizing such cash advance is to be voted upon by the ratepayers on the 30th of the present month.

7. As to the prospects of the Company we are informed by the Directors that it is in contemplation by them to endeavor during the present season to complete the bonus and contract and then make application to the Government for aid.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ROBERT DENNE, Chairman.

In moving the reception of the report the office Patrick put the Directors and Mr. Scott had given the Committee every information and placed all necessary and vouchers before them, when they had spent $600 over the $1000 given by the town.

Councillor Rutherford seconded the motion and said the explanations and vouchers had all been placed before the Committee. A feeling existed among some in the town that the $1000 voted to the Company by the town was misapplied; in fact he, himself, had felt that the Council had not done right, but he was now disclosed of any such idea. The fact that Perth—a town of 3000 inhabitants were given as much clearly showed that the road was a necessity. The expenditure on the road for surveys &c., was surprisingly low—far less than any other railroad he knew of.

The Mayor thought it must be gratifying to Mr. Scott and the other Directors of the Company to have such a report read, especially as those were charges being made that the Company were misapplying the money.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor Cahill submitted the following report from the Finance Committee which was on motion adopted.

To the Mayor and Town Council of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—The Finance Committee beg leave to recommend the payment of the following accounts:

Scott & Edwards	$138 25
Wm. Roberts	10 00
Wm. Roberts	9 00
Wm. Roberts	1 25
Lewis Spry	2 50
J. E. Bolsher	5 00
E. Bottam	10 00
W. H. Robertson & Co	5 00
Special Constables	2 00
Donaldson Bros & Hall	12 00
George Stothem	1 73
Henry Best	4 25
George Tighe	2 10
R. S. Palmer	6 00
E. G. Hill	10 00
A. Comstock	23 00
Peterborough Gas Company	25 00
R. Pearce	19 20
Bertram & Co	6 00
McKee & Davidson	25 21

Your Committee find that Mr. William Mills has been assessed twice for the same property, and recommend that taxes be collected from him on one assessment only, namely, $600.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL, Chairman.

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

The following resolution of which Councillor Rutherford gave notice at the last meeting was then submitted.

Moved by Councillor Rutherford, seconded by Councillor Yelland,—That on account of the great loss which will be caused by the stopping of Pigeon Creek Bridge to this town, be it therefore resolved that this Corporation act jointly with the County Council in carrying out the proposed improvements.

Councillor Rutherford said since last meeting of Council he had made enquiries and found that this bridge would be of great importance to the lumber men besides the merchants and other business men. The town should not lose sight of the benefits to be derived from keeping open such channels of trade with the back country.
